Enforcing Liquor Laws Now Up to County Officials

By United Press
 AUSTIN, Texas. — Burden of enforcing the new Texas liquor law, effective Sept. 1, is put squarely up to local district and county attorneys. The state liquor control board is given broader powers of seizure, refusal of permits and issuance of regulations. Enforcement additions, however, must be filed by local officials. The income from fines will go to the county treasuries.

Inspectors of the board will make investigations and reports. The board will circulate model forms of complaints, search warrants and other legal instruments.

Chief changes in the new law provide:

Uniform closing for beer saloons and package stores. On Aug. 23 package stores were closed because of the state election from Saturday until Tuesday. Beer parlors were legally open Monday.

Package stores within two miles of cities will pay the same fee as those within city limits. Permit fees were raised and the minimum will be $125 instead of $50.

The liquor board can regulate liquor labeling and advertising and fix standards of purity.

Search warrants will authorize a hunt for liquor. Confiscation of contraband by liquor men will be lawful.

More important than the law

Newest Additions to Business Houses Here

Above are the recently completed Tip Top Cafe and the Brown-Naylor Oil Corporation service station in the 500 block of West Main St. M. A. Naylor of Breckenridge and R. M. Brown of Fort Worth, head the Brown-Naylor corporation which also operates stations at Fort Worth, Breckenridge and Abilene. Cosden Gas and oil products from the Big Spring refinery are featured. Cosden is available in high acetane, lubricated or liquid gas. Also handled by the station are Fisk tires. In addition to the tires and Cosden Gas, "A West Texas Gas for West Texans." Washing and greasing jobs are a specialty. Operated by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Overbey, the Tip Top cafe also employs R. Lee Robbins and Marie Knight.

changes is an increased appropriation, $969,870 for the next year. Part of it may be used by agents to buy liquor as a basis for prosecutions.

Beer and liquor sales places must be separate, but this does not prohibit a liquor or beer dealer leasing separate parts of the same building to a dealer in the other beverage. The same person cannot sell both beer and liquor.

The new law furnishes a yardstick for determining if beer may be sold on Sunday in food establishments. It must be shown that more food than beer is sold.

Confiscated liquors, seized in connection with a violation of the beverage law, will be sold at public auction by the sheriff of the county where the liquor is seized. The state liquor board, however, plans to establish a central warehouse, bind confiscated liquor and resell it. This will prevent sale at sacrifice prices.

Beer licenses formerly issued by counties will be issued by the liquor board. City or county officials may protest issuance of a permit and may start cancellation proceedings.

Albanian Pays a Tribute to U. S. for Her Peace Activity

JACKSON, Miss.—The United States' effort to promote public health and cultural activities in other countries constitutes a "peaceful note" which strikes Joseph Hysen Alii, 29-year-old native of Albania, as the surest means of world happiness.

Alii, who is in Mississippi studying public health methods, will return to Albania in the fall to assume the directorship of the epidemiological division of the state laboratory. His study, which has taken him into many parts of the United States, is sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation in co-operation with the Albanian government.

It is this "cooperative work" which is creating the soundest basis for peace, Alii feels.

"Such work naturally necessitates an interchange of ideas and establishes understanding among people inherently different," he pointed out.

Alii is a naturalized United States citizen. He worked his way through high school in Jamestown, N. Y. and through the University of Michigan. Last year he served as a laboratory assistant at Michigan, where he holds a doctor's degree in public health.

Game Preserve For Possum Kingdom Area Suggested

By United Press
 MINERAL WELLS. — W. T. Krummens of the United States Biological Survey in Washington has suggested the possibility of creating huge game and wild life refuges in the Possum Kingdom Dam area of Palo Pinto county.

Krummens said he was interested in working out plans for preserves in the wild country which borders the lake made by the Possum Kingdom Dam.

He suggested the possibility of damming small creeks and draws to provide a constant water level for wild fowl. The uplands would be stocked with deer, wild turkeys and other game.

Krummens said his interest was aroused by the series of Brazos river dams which have created a chain of lakes lying directly in the flight line of migratory birds.

Bottling Firm Is Producing Product On Fair Evenings

Visitors to the Eastland County Fair beginning today will have an opportunity to see the Texas Coca-Cola Bottling company in operation each evening between 7 and 10 o'clock by going to the location on East Commerce street.

Gander Herds Sheep For One Farmer

By United Press
 MIDDLETOWN, Ohio. — John the gander has been G. P. Brown's self-appointed guardian, herder, bellwether and keeper of the sheep for more than four years.

Brown sold his geese four years ago, but when the purchaser had departed Brown found the gander sheepishly hiding among the sheep.

Grateful for their protection, John took charge of the flock. When other barnyard fowl are fed, John is found eating with the sheep. Stray dogs and other suspicious circumstances send the old gray bird honking and waddling for the stable with "his flock" close behind. When grazing is in progress, John stands sentinel at a little distance. With the approach of darkness he stands at the stable door "coaxing" the sheep inside. After being sure all are accounted for, John roosts with them.

Former Eastland Resident Is Dead

Fred Rose, 27, formerly of Eastland, died recently of a throat infection and was buried at Los Angeles, Calif., friends were advised Saturday.

Rose formerly was a creamery worker at Eastland, about seven years ago moving to Fort Worth for the same type of work, it was stated. From Fort Worth he moved to Los Angeles for employment at a creamery, it was stated.

Brown said that in the four years the gander has been keeper-of-the-sheep, none of his charges has stepped on or otherwise injured him.

"I'm going to let him alone as long as he's satisfied," Brown said, "because he's the best watchman and shepherd in Miami Valley."

Negro's Name is Not A Gag, It's a Name

DALLAS, Texas.—They brought Edward Jaybird Ellison, 22, negro, to jail for investigation.

"What was that middle name now?" asked jailer Mae Patterson.

"Jaybird," the prisoner said.

"That's not a middle name, it's a gag," the jailer challenged.

The prisoner insisted his name was Jaybird.

"Take him away," ordered Patterson, "and change that docket to read 'jailbird' instead. I'm tired of people trying to put things over on me."

Immensity of Oil Business Is Shown In a Huge Report

By United Press
 AUSTIN. — Immensity of the oil industry in Texas graphically and statistically is shown in a report of the accounting and statistical department of the oil and gas division of the State Railroad Commission, just recently off the press.

The report covers the calendar year 1936. One table occupies 109 pages of the ordinary novel size. In it there is given the oil production and removal from leases by months and by fields. It is arranged alphabetically, beginning with the Albercas field in Webb-Jim Hogg county and ending with the Zoboroski field in Guntadale county.

Another table reveals that there were 3,027 producers, 129 refiners, 16 treating plants, and 214 pipe line companies, storers and handlers making reports to the commission. One of the reporting producers had leases in 73 fields.

The reports cover an average of 12,922 producing leases with 2,915,338 acres. There were 64,100 producing wells reported. Indicated production was 419,053,944 barrels for the year.

HOME AGAIN . . .

. . . And what a nice time we had! Perhaps, some of us did not get farther than Cisco or Ranger on our vacation, but the trip was refreshing and self-satisfying, and we are back now, ready for another year's work.

. . . But did you return to your own home or a rented house? There's quite a difference!

. . . We have been preaching home ownership to Eastland folks for a long time. Many have bought, others keep putting it off. Reason prompts us to guess that we are headed for a season of higher rents, fewer bargains, and property selling for more than it was ever worth. . . . Attend the Eastland County Fair all this week and buy a home from us next week.

Warmakers Try New Brand of Whitewash

In the progressive world treaties on war, the most elusive chapter for the backhome observer is the one entitled "Propaganda." During the world conflict, the United States was flooded with tales of babies pitched on bayonets, of mothers beaten, forced into slavery or otherwise awfully abused; of cathedrals and libraries wantonly destroyed.
When those stories—often told in pictures—were exposed, after the peace treaties, as fakes, American indignation knew no bounds. Never again would the nation play fall guy for such greswome leg-pulling.
Then came Italy's invasion of Ethiopia, the Rebel "crusade" in Spain and the Japanese push in north China. And the public relations counsel of the general staff's began writing revisions and addenda to that chapter on propaganda. They took off the rough edges, changed to a smoother, more soothing pace, perfectly designed to take in the very people who once protested loudly against any more "atrocities stories."

Mussolini pioneered the new style of wartime misrepresentation in depicting that his Ethiopian war was to liberate the slaves and illiterates writhing under Haile Selassie's heel. But the crowning work was the Rome reception arranged for little groups of traitorous Ethiopian chiefs. Their brotherly welcome into the Empire was a masterpiece of subtle propaganda.

Both sides in the Spanish civil war have followed Il Duce's lead. Best trick of the Rebels is to issue dispatches describing mercy dole for women and children in besieged and captive towns. Allowed to seep out in government communiques are stories of air bombing or shelling withheld from helpless communities. Pictures have been released to emphasize this spirit of overbearing kindness, this tender compassion of steely men-at-arms.

Not to be outdone, the Japanese now are wooing world sympathy with the same finesse. What a thrill of deep understanding is conveyed by a photograph of a bent and aged Chinaman offering a Japanese invader a cup of hot tea! What deathless sentiment is imparted by a view of innocent Chinese children fraternizing with grizzled Japanese veterans (who have children back home).

Thus has the new propaganda come into being. Knowing as well as anyone that war can not be supported by any stretch of reason, the militarists have gone in for home-spun, heart-throb scenarios to win sympathy abroad.

RULES UNDER PROGRAM HURT MANY, CLAIM

Resolutions petitioning State Administrator H. P. Drought for return of more liberal regulations in the sponsorship of Works Progress Administration projects were approved Monday afternoon at an Eastland conference attended by 90 political subdivision officials from over West Texas.

Attending the conference were the sponsors of projects, city and county commissioners, school board members, other officials, district and state officers of the WPA and Congressman Clyde L. Garrett.

Congressman Garrett, who arranged the meeting after describing to Administrator Drought the unemployment and apparent trend for increase because of stringent regulations recently promulgated which handicapped political subdivisions in sponsoring jobs because of added financial responsibility and near-depleted treasuries.

Congressman Garrett, who presided at the session in 88th district courtroom, described the situation as alarming.

Testimony heard at the meeting, the state and district WPA officials stated, will be presented the state administrator for study.

"I feel like something will be accomplished," declared Major Karl Wallace, district 7 WPA director from Fort Worth. Declaring that his statement was not official, Major Wallace asked if the public wasn't getting in a habit of looking too much toward Washington (for assistance). He admitted that the "shape" of Eastland county was undoubtedly the worst of all described as to the unemployment of workers.

Alton Bell of Crowell, personal representative of Drought, stated "rigid" regulations were undoubtedly brought about by a lower amount of money for the program and the necessity to curtail and apportion available funds.
Also speaking was R. W. Colglazier of San Antonio, assistant state director of the division of operation of the WPA.
Believed by many as the most concise talk in description of the condition of counties, schools and cities because of the newer WPA rules and other asserted difficulties was that of E. O. Francisco, Taylor county judge.
The engineer asserted his county commissioners and officials believe in curtailing unnecessary expense and that roads already constructed through the WPA in his county have been of a high standard. He recited an instance in which Taylor county spent several thousand dollars on a project originally contracted to the WPA.
Criticized was that officials have arranged for out-of-county truck contractors on jobs in Taylor county.
"Why don't you let your field men exercise good judgment?" he demanded to what he described as the agency's demand for "unnecessary" technical data.
At the same time the WPA was praised for its many benefits.
Copy of the resolutions arranged by a committee headed by Homer T. Bouldin, Shackelford county judge, is as follows:
"Honorable H. P. Drought, State Director, WPA.,
San Antonio, Texas.
We, County, City, and School Officials of WPA District No. 7, joined by Representatives in the 17th Congressional District of Texas and neighboring counties and cities of said Congressional District No. 17, assembled in session at Eastland, Texas, on this 13th day of September, 1937, do hereby respectfully request and partition the Works Progress Administration for regulations and the enactment of rules whereby it will be possible for political subdivisions of the State of Texas to operate its projects as it has heretofore done; We respectfully represent that under the present rules and regulations it is impossible to operate relief projects for the following reasons:
"1. That under the present rules and regulations, the Works Progress Administration, it is impossible for the sponsors to continue the WPA projects, in order for the sponsors to continue the WPA projects, we recommend that the following rules and regulations be invoked by the Works Progress Administration:
A. That the sponsors total contribution required for any WPA project be reduced to a maximum of 20 per cent of the total cost of the project. And that the truck drivers be paid from the labor account of the WPA and that only the truck rental be charged against equipment rental.
"2. And that no WPA employee be removed, and particularly those above 40 years of age, or physically handicapped be removed from WPA payrolls for those reasons unless it has been ascertained by the local investigator that said employee has some means of support.
"3. We further recommend that the obligation of the WPA in entering into a contract with the sponsor be carried out according to the original agreement without subsequent changes of rules and regulations which places a greater burden upon the sponsor than the agreement provided.
"4. We further recommend that the red tape of the WPA projects be eliminated by placing the re-

Female of the Species As Thieving as Male
HOUSTON, Texas—A Livingston, Texas, man headed for home $70 poorer, and with the knowledge that women hitch-hikers are not to be trusted sometimes.
The man asked police to look for a woman with a boyish bob, who, he said, took $70 from his pocket while he slept in a car on a Houston street while his male traveling companion was inside a cafe. They had given the woman a ride to Houston.

You Can't Advertise Today and Quit Tomorrow

You're Not Talking to a Mass Meeting . . . You're Talking to a Parade!

BRUCE BARTON

Ceaseless hammering on the same spot helps win prize fights . . . it is the essence of advertising success. Not until enough individuals in the same neighborhood have been sufficiently saturated with a certain slogan, say, to cause them to react on one another does advertising become a social phenomenon.

The modern business man realizes that his best customers wear out at a rate of nearly 3 per cent a year. Advertising - made prospects disappear far faster. Casual impressions, however, favorable, dry like dew in the heat of competition.

"Cumulative" effects of advertising come not from one advertisement paving the way for another. This is negligible, to say the least. Cumulative effect, on the contrary, comes from salvaging as customers half-finished prospects.

Each advertiser is in much the same plight. If he quits successful, he loses money. If he quits unsuccessful, he tosses away an equity in public recognition far more valuable than the money: So many thousand partly manufactured customers. The second group are spending as little money as they can and still keep their names before the public. They believe themselves wise spenders because they spend so very cautiously—or perhaps reluctantly is a better word . . . THE BALD TRUTH IS THAT THESE RELUCTANT SPENDERS ARE, AS A CLASS, THE REAL OVER-SPENDERS IN ADVERTISING!

Pierce New Head For 9:49 Bible Class of Church

Frank Pierce, new president, will have charge of the meeting of the 9:49 Bible class Sunday when it convenes for the weekly session at the First Methodist church.

Other new officers of the class are Walter Gray, vice president; A. L. Agate, secretary-treasurer; and A. E. Herring, E. R. Trimble and Mrs. Tom J. Haley, members of the music committee.

The class, organized in 1930, has had 15 presidents including Pierce. Elections are conducted semi-annually. The constitution and by-laws of the class provides that no president shall succeed himself.

J. E. Hickman, member of the state supreme court commission of appeals at Austin, the organizer of the class is expected to address the group Sunday. All men are welcome to attend, it was stated, regardless of their church affiliation, belief or activity.

Figuring On Crop Acreage Nears End

Calculation of crop acreage on the 725 Eastland county farms which are participating in the 1937 farm program will be completed in the county agent's office this week and the resulting information will be sent to all the farm operators.

Blank forms will also be mailed the operators so that those wishing to receive additional credit in the program for turning under cowpeas or green sudan or sorghum may make a report of their practices, using two neighbors as witnesses.

The county agent has been advised that a quota of cotton, peanuts and general acreages will be given the county as soon as authorization is received from Washington, D. C. The sum of all of the base acreages claimed by the 725 farms under work sheets will be adjusted to comply with the quota.

Carbon Farmer to Plant Registered Brand of Sorghum

Howard Gilbert of Carbon is planning to plant registered grain sorghum seed next year and bag the heads to keep the seed pure for planting.

Gilbert planted registered seed this year but the supply of seed was obtained too late to justify bagging the heads for purity.

County Agent Elmo V. Cook is encouraging a few farmers who have clean land to secure several ounces of registered milo, hegari, kafir, sunnec and fetterita seed with a view of producing a supply of pure seed for sale to Eastland county farmers.

$2,000 Compromise Okehed by Tribunal

Ninety-first district court has approved a compromise agreement by which Mrs. Marguerite Welch will obtain $2,000 from the Texas Fire and Casualty Underwriters.

The case was an appeal from a ruling of the Industrial Accident Board of Texas June 24.

Ben Welch, husband of the defendant, died from an automobile injury early this year at Eastland. He was an employe of W. J. Murray and others whose insurance carrier was the Texas Fire and Casualty Underwriters.

One-third of the $2,000 goes to her attorney.

CORN CROP WILL BE READY FOR HUSKERS

MARSHALL, Mo.—The annual corn husking championship, that rural chore which recently has become a national show with radio hookups, publicity, hot dog stands and thousands of spectators, will be held here Nov. 3 and 4.

There also will be a "corn queen" to reign over the two-day show and make the rotogravure pages, but the central interest will remain the 200 acre farm that the husking champions of the corn states will tear apart when they shoot for the title held by Carl Carlsson of Audubon, Iowa.

Big Stand Ready

J. C. Patterson, secretary of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce, said the pickers will have 80 bushel corn to work on.

"We've had some lean corn crops in Missouri the last few drought years, but it is different now," he said. "We have selected 10 farms as possible theatres for the big show. Later we will pick the one with the best stand. We need 200 acres, 40 of which will be used by the contestants."

There will be 18 entries from the nine corn states. Each will be the champion and runner-up of his state.

Elmer Carlson, brother of the present champion, holds the record for most corn picked in the 80 minutes allotted for the work. He scored 41 52-100 bushels when he won the title two years ago. He did not defend it last year.

Patterson and Mayor James W. Sparks said they expected 100,000 persons would attend the two-day show.

"We look for 25,000 to 35,000 automobiles," Mayor Sparks said. "State police already are working on traffic plans and traffic officers from the cities probably will be called in to help. There will be 50 pop and food stands on the farm. The contest, itself, is free, however."

Issue of Funding Bonds Is Ordered

Commissioners court, it was announced Thursday, has authorized the issuance of Eastland county funding bonds, series 1937, in the amount of $29,500 in lieu of, and in exchange for a like amount of legally issued time warrants of the county outstanding against the road and bridge fund of the county.

The funding bonds will bear 5 per cent interest annually.

Maiming Is Charged Against Ranger Man

J. A. Adams, Ranger negro, was indicted this week by the district court grand jury upon a charge of maiming, Deputy Sheriff Tug Underwood reported Thursday.

Adams, it is alleged, inflicted injuries upon his wife which caused loss of sight of one eye.

Adams was in county jail on Thursday, it was stated.
