Royal Arch Chapter Meeting Is Tonight

Degrees will be given three candidates tonight at a meeting of the Eastland Royal Arch chapter at the Masonic temple, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The old system, after a hundred years, had become obsolete. Handling of 10 to 40 different ledgers was often necessary to post payments made by one individual landowner.

Revision of bookkeeping methods, accomplished under the supervision of Land Commissioner Wm. H. (Bill) McDonald, has reduced the number of individual land account ledgers from 150 to 66.

Form of the ledgers was changed to allow for accessibility and convenience.

As antiquated as an 1833 Easter hat, the old system slowed up the work of the office to such an extent that posting of individual ledger accounts lagged months behind the paying period.

Posting time has been reduced 40 per cent by the new system.

The advent of oil and resulting development of school lands doubled the work of the land office. Complete records of lease rental and bonus accounts are now kept up to date, however, through the use of modern accounting methods.

Filing of instruments and correspondence has been modernized, with the result that an hour's time a day for each stenographer is saved.

HUGE WHISKEY HAUL MADE BY RANGER POLICE

A bent automobile license plate and a little too much speed landed Murel Thompson, 21, of Coleman in the Ranger City jail and 1,792 half pints of whiskey and wine in the vault of the Ranger City Hall.

Thompson was booked for investigation and no charges had been filed.

Early Thursday morning patrolmen Pounds and Boyd were driving on Harwell Avenue in East Ranger when a car passed them, making considerable speed. The officers noticed that the license plate on the rear had been bent so the first three numbers could not be read. They decided to investigate and when they blew their siren the car speeded up, instead of stopping.

The car was overtaken on a hill within the city limits of Ranger when the heavily-loaded car slowed down and was forced to the side of the roadway.

The two officers questioned the driver, they said today, and at first he refused to give his name or his destination. Packages, neatly wrapped in brown paper,

Thompson admitted, on being questioned further, that the packages contained whiskey. Pounds said this morning, and he was locked up in the city jail on an investigation charge. City employees helped unload the packages and store them in a vault. E. T. Eubanks and O. G. Lanier, who checked the packages, stated that their check showed there were 1,536 half pints, 56 pints and 36

Teacher Group Is Urged to Support U. S. School Bill

Eastland county school teachers and executives have been asked by the Texas State Teachers' Association to support the Harrison-Fletcher bill, Senate Bill No. 419, now before Congress, it was announced Thursday.

The teachers were asked to contact congressmen and senators, urging favorable action.

The bill proposes to lessen inequalities of opportunity for elementary and secondary education "among and within states." It assertedly would provide federal aid for all types of current operating and maintenance expenses of public elementary and secondary schools, including school library service, nursery schools, services for handicapped children, educational and vocational guidance, vocational education, rehabilitation.

Some of the quart-size packages were labeled "Wine" in pencil.

One of the smaller packages, which was opened, contained six half-pints of Mattingly and Moore whiskey, 90-proof.

A check of automobile license numbers showed that the car had been registered in Coleman county, Eubanks stated.

Bonds Are Posted By Two Defendants

Deputy Sheriff Tug Underwood reported Thursday that two persons — J. M. Needham, charged with driving drunk, and Abel Cavazas, charged with burglary — have posted appearance bonds.

Needham's bond was $500, and Cavazas' $750.

No Style, No Class, No Work

At a time when people are stirred up over vast, world-shaking issues, it is somehow comforting to read about the strike of the seamen on the French liner Champlain.

These sturdy mariners rose up in protest—or, possibly, sat down—at Le Havre, because their employers had given them the wrong kind of uniforms. Their working clothes, they said, were the wrong shade of blue, and did not have stars on the sleeves.

No there have been strikes, disputes, squabbles and set-backs enough, in recent years. Heaven knows; some of these have involved seamen, protesting against the sailor's age-old lot of cramped quarters, hard work and bad food.

Here we get no hackneyed complaint of moldy salt beef, stuffy fo'c'sles or brutal first mates; no recital of the dangers of gale, reef and shipwreck. Instead, it is something much simpler. The sailor's inalienable right to look picturesque has been infringed. Hence: trouble.

Perhaps all of this isn't quite as mirthful as it may seem. For there are plenty of callings on this earth in which that right to look romantic and colorful is one of the principal incentives.

Who can doubt that the cowboy sticks to his job at least partly because of the figure which it permits him to cut? He may discard his flaring chaps for dingy overalls, he may leave his six-gun to rust on a shelf in the bunk house, he may even give up the traditional bandana at the throat; nevertheless, he remains a person of infinite color and appeal, and he knows it—and that very fact has undoubtedly saved ranch bosses many a dollar in wages.

That the same thing is true of soldiers, of course, is self-evident. In piping times of peace, when enlistments lag, an army's first step is to devise gayer and trimmer uniforms. Soldiering is dull, monotonous work and the discipline is hard; what cares the recruit, if he can look the part of a natty, square-shouldered young hero?

Perhaps Robert Burns was only partly right; perhaps we do have a good share of that faculty of seeing ourselves as others see us.

We may get the picture out of focus pretty often, but we do remain conscious of the way we look in other people's eyes, and it means a lot to us.

Persuade a man that he looks like a fine fellow and a gay adventurer and he will take on almost any job and put up with almost anything. A blue uniform and stars on the sleeve can make up for a lot.

Otters have appeared off the coast of California, and the state is forbidding hunters to shoot them, because it doesn't think they otter.

A Cornell professor states that fish do not hear. Oh, to be a fish, now that swing is here.

Toads Again Needed For Annual Affair

Came Saturday to the Chamber of Commerce at Eastland an annual request for horned toads.

The request, for 100 horned toads, came from Technological high school at Atlanta, Ga., which annually stages a horned toad race by its Horned Toad club. Functions of the club each year include horned toad dance.

H. J. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, is an honorary member of the club which was formed in 1928.

WITH OIL IN HOLE, LONE STAR'S PARMER IS SHUT-IN AT 3,981

Attention this week-end was centered northwest of Cisco as Lone Star Gas company shut-in its No. 2 Van Farmer, 1,321-foot north offset to the Hickok Producing and Development company discovery test, after 1,000 feet of oil rose in the hole following drilling 57 feet of Ellenburger lime.

In section 477, SPRR survey, Eastland county, the Lone Star No. 2 Van Farmer had been drilled to total depth of 3,981 feet. Orders were awaited on the project which it is apparent will be a producer.

Hickok No. 1 Grover S. Cleveland (D), section 45.7 SPRR survey, one-half mile northeast of the discovery well in the same area, was drilling ahead at depth of 3,235 feet.

Across the county line, in Stephens county, work also progressed on two Ellenburger tries projected by the Lone Star.

The No. 1 Dance is in the southwest quarter of the J. Koehler survey, abstract No. 9.

Orders were awaited on another Stephens county well, Browning and Murray No. 1 Ross Elliott, A. S. Johnson survey, four miles northwest of Crystal Falls, shutdown at 2,000 feet.

From Cisco came an unconfirmed report of interest to observers. There it was reported that Phillips Petroleum company was paying rentals on its leases in the Seranton vicinity, Callahan and Eastland county, where it recently found a duster in a deep try.

The report continued and stated that it was unconfirmed but the firm was reputed to have on its planning book the drilling of two 1,700-foot wells and a 5,000-foot try.

In Eastland county, about a mile and one-fourth from Eastland west, Dorothy Oil company had rig up for a rank wildcat, depth planned undecided. It is the No. 1 Mrs. J. L. Johnson, 1,000 feet from the south line and 1,080 feet from the west line of the east half of the southeast quarter, section 29, block 4, H&TC survey.

Progressed to 60 feet was the W. J. Dobbs No. 1 Greer, two and a half miles south of Carbon, Eastland county, on its way to an announced depth of 3,500 feet.

for No. 1 E. A. Allen, five miles east of Cross Cut, Juan Delgado survey, a 1,150-foot test.

Other location was Hightower Oil and Refining company No. 3 Thrifty, 550 feet from the north and 150 feet from the west lines of the J. W. B. Allen survey. Depth proposed was not announced.

Sixty-seven barrels daily was expected from Ed Selvidge No. 1 J. M. Perry, mile east of Thrifty, from pay topped at 1,277 feet and bottomed at total depth of 1,339 feet. The oil tested at 41.7 gravity and was to be brought by pump to the surface. Location is in the J. G. Rhea survey.

Collie Decides Not To Make a Race

'Spud' Vote Pa By County

Eastland county voted least the Irish potato growers aren't interested in the potato poll.

None had voted Friday in the national poll of commercial growers.

County Agent Cook interest in Irish potato for sale is sporadic in the county.

The vote was to the Irish potato growers' advantage of an order by state of agriculture regulation sale of Irish potatoes in interstate commerce, and for prohibition of the cull potatoes and grades, size and quality.

Cheap Electricity NOW CHEAPER Than Ever!

RESIDENTIAL ELECTRIC RATES 40% LOWER THAN IN 1929

Another Reduction in electric service rates to Eastland residential and commercial customers becomes effective June 1. This is the fourth reduction since 1929, and cuts the price of electricity for the average residential and commercial customer 40 per cent below the 1929 level.

The Texas Electric Service Company always has followed a policy of reducing the price of electricity as rapidly as conditions warrant, and the record of rate reductions over the last 9 years shows graphically how electric rates have been consistently reduced, even during the depression. This latest reduction, which makes CHEAP electricity still CHEAPER, comes at a time when other living costs are generally higher.

REDUCTION IN ELECTRIC RATE ANNOUNCED

Reduction in electric rates for residential and commercial customers in Eastland was announced Thursday by J. E. Lewis, manager of Texas Electric Company. Lewis stated that new rates for residential customers in Eastland have been filed with the public utility commission, and will become effective June 1.

"Our record of reducing electric rates in Eastland goes back to 1919 when the local light plant was purchased by the predecessor of the Texas Electric Service Company," Lewis said. "At that time, Eastland received electricity from a small local light plant, and residential customers paid 26 cents a kilowatt-hour for electricity with a minimum bill of $2.60 a month. This rate was reduced as soon as our company bought the plant. Now Eastland receives a far better power supply from a modern high-voltage power transmission system, with power lines entering the city from both the north and south, giving our city two-way protection against interruptions, plus the ample power supply of a large electric system. "Since 1929 we have made four reductions in electric rates to residential and commercial customers, totaling approximately 40 per cent to the average customer, and a greater reduction to those cus-

OK GIVEN FOR PAVING AT EASTLAND

Mayor C. W. Hoffmann announced Thursday at Eastland that approval has been given for a city-wide Works Progress Administration project providing for paving of streets.

Property owners may avail themselves of the paving if they will pay 70 cents for each running foot, which will cover the curbing and paving, it was explained.

Initial paving under the project is expected to start within 45 days following the completion of the widening of West Main street.

Property owners who wish to participate in the paving project were asked to contact City Secretary M. F. Kelly. No specific sum for the project was given.

Homeowners who use more than the average amount of electricity will see the new rates now in effect give a saving to all residential customers. The saving to commercial customers will be variable, depending on kilowatt-hour consumption, and previous kilowatt or billing demand.

"In addition to the saving to our customers, the new rates are simpler than previous rate formulas. For residential customers, the flat charge based on the number of rooms in a home has been discontinued, and all customers will receive 8 kilowatt-hours with the minimum payment of $1.00. For the next 50 kilowatt-hours the price is 5 cents a kwh, and then drops to 4 cents for the next 50 kwh, 3 cents for the next 50 kwh and 2 cents per kwh for all additional electricity used during the month.

"Commercial rates," continued Lewis, "also are simpler with a uniform rate for all commercial customers whose maximum demand is no more than 4 kw. This means that about 90 per cent of the commercial users of electricity will have no demand charge. The rate is similar to the residential rate, and for the $1.00 minimum, customers receive 8 kilowatt-hours. The top step of the rate is 5 cents per kwh. The next step is 4 cents per kwh. Above 508 kwh used per month a 2 1-2 cent rate is reached. To those who use a large amount of electricity per month, a 1 1-2 cent rate is available.

"This rate will be very attractive to those who have a desire to install commercial refrigeration and small air conditioning equipment. Our representative will call on these customers and explain the application of these new rates.

"The new residential rate will be equally attractive to those who desire to install summer cooling equipment in their homes," concluded Lewis.

Ranger Man Heads Delegation to The Methodist Session

It was not until late Wednesday afternoon that the Cisco district conference of the Methodist church, in session at the First Methodist church in Ranger, completed balloting for lay delegates to the annual conference. It had required six ballots to elect the eleven delegates and four alternates, due to the large number of people receiving votes.

A. J. Ratliff, chairman of the board of stewards of the Ranger church, heads the delegation, by virtue of the fact that he received the largest number of votes on the first ballot cast.

The delegation is as follows: A. J. Ratliff, Ranger; Mrs. Edward Sneed, Dublin; Mrs. W. J. Oxford, Stephenville; J. E. Walker, Gorman; B. E. McGlamery, Eastland; J. R. Banes, Breckenridge; Mrs. J. B. HOME IS WHERE THERE HEAPS O' LIVIN'

Mr. A. Guest expressed this thought in one of his noted poems. He is one of the great home owners of America. The poem was inspired and written in his own home in Detroit.

A rented house may be all right for many purposes, but it is no home. The poet spoke of it most often lacking in the house owned by one else.

Let us help you begin to live by owning one of these homes now: 301 E. Ammerman; 300 South Oaklawn (Hillcrest); 802 West Moss; 300 South Seaman, 310 Hillcrest.

PHOTO-FLASHES

THE FARMER TAKES A WIFE—Unicville, Conn.—John Joseph Lorencik, 22-year-old farmer, and his bride-to-be, Henrietta Wilhelmna Pieper, 70 years old, a practical nurse, happily pose for their picture. "They said she was too old for me to marry, that I ought to find someone nearer my age," Lorencik said. "Well, I know lots of that kind of girls, and what would I have? Someone who has me out all night until 3 in the morning, running around."

FASHIONS IN HATS—(1) A pill box of silk-like straw to match the red velvet geraniums set on a circle of black patent leather. (2) Purple kid makes this tremendous sailor unusual, and the purple veil makes the wearer alluringly beautiful. (3) A diminutive hat of black stitched silk done in the 1880 manner, and trimmed with a pink camellia.

STILL SERVING 'EM—Johnny Allen, Cleveland Indian mound artist and former Yankee, swats the soft ball at St. Petersburg, Fla., before leaving for training camp.

BOY GENIUS BEATS MOZART'S RECORD—New York City—Jimmy Colton, whose intelligence quota is rated only six points below that of Albert Einstein, claims the distinction of being the world's youngest composer. Mozart wrote his first musical composition at the age of four, whereas Jimmy directed his first musical composition on his third birthday.

8 MONTHS TO LIVE—FOUR IN JAIL—Chicago, Ill.—Harry Turner, 49 years old, was told by doctors that an incurable disease would leave him but 8 months to live. On Feb. 1 he was sentenced to jail for stealing bonds from his sister. Here he shows Warden Frank Sain when his sentence expires.

A THING OF BEAUTY—Joan Fontaine, popular movie actress, is also a talented toe and ballet dancer, as she gracefully illustrates.

TRAVELED 2,000,000 MILES—AROUND ATLANTA—Atlanta, Ga.—J. A. Oliver of Atlanta, now 70, a veteran switch engine engineer, hung up that record when he recently retired after fifty years of shunting passenger trains back and forth in the terminal yards here. He averaged 100 miles a day on a shift from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

FLYING PUP—Hamilton Field, Calif.—Teddy is just four months old, and flying with the Seventh Bombardment Group has already accumulated 102 hours of flying time.

UNUSUAL AMBITION—A North London boy, whose ambition is to become a keeper at the London Zoo, starts early practice by having a 25-foot python coiled around him.

BETTER BABIES' BETTER BABIES—Twenty-five years ago these young mothers, then infants, received awards from the newly established Better Babies Bureau of the Woman's Home Companion. Checking up after a quarter century, the magazine's editors find that these former better babies are among many who now have better babies of their own. Left to right they are Mrs. Richard Meissner of Racine, Wis.; Mrs. Albert Holt of Duluth, Minn.; and Mrs. Florence Reed of Ozone Park, N. Y. The editors cite these as living examples of improvements brought about by food and drug and similar legislation, as well as improved health knowledge.

Rambling With The Rambler

BY WAYNE WALLACE

If England was in the saddle she would be just as arrogant as are some of our other foreign powers. Yet even as conditions are, England is foremost and above all interested in England. The most recent proof of this is her present entanglement with Mexico. Since the seizure of the oil properties that involved both Great Britain and this country, by the Mexican government, England has assumed a strong attitude in demanding reparation for this act. On April 8, she sent a note to Mexico declaring the expropriation of "denial of justice" and demanding that such property be immediately returned to her. This first note being rejected she sent another expressing much the same sentiment but it was also ignored. In her third note she asked for money as compensation, instead of the property previously demanded. So far Mexico has not complied. Now in all justice we must admit that England is within her rights in demanding that Mexico make some sort of restitution for the property seized. Without doubt her oil companies leased or bought these oil lands before developing them. That they assumed considerable financial risks in putting down wells should be apparent to anyone who has ever had any connections with the oil fields. The expenses entailed in this kind of work runs into thousands of dollars. If the oil companies were taking advantage of the people by paying them small wages, then Mexico would be justified in making laws to protect them but for her to take such property without making a reasonable refund is nothing short of stealing. America should demand as much.

It is not for this, however, that we censure England. Our grievance lies in the fact that Britain has acted much the same way with regard to this country. For the past five years she has defaulted on the lawfully contracted war debt that she owes us. Why is it then that she is so insistent in demanding from another what she refuses to do herself?

England on December 15, of last year owed the United States $994,486,367.05, her installment amounting to $122,670,765.05. If this amount was paid it would go a long way in helping rescue this country from the present depression. In contrast to this debt, England requires only a first installment of about $88,103 in our money at the present rate of the peso. From this vast difference it would seem that England would do well to pay her own debts before raising such a fuss about another country. While no amount of wrongs will make a right, nevertheless it would seem that Britain is getting a little of her own medicine.

With regard to the expropriation itself, it is very doubtful that it will turn out to Mexico's advantage. While it must be admitted that there are always two sides to any given question; still it remains a fact that, what might appear of benefit for the time being may eventually prove disastrous. Such a seizure of property from foreigners as this one by the Cardenas regime should offer a very serious obstacle to outsiders in risking capital in developing or establishing industries in countries other than their own. If there are no laws to safeguard their investments than it is foolhardy to take such a chance.

A second consideration is the fact that such a policy is often the means of fermenting ill will between nations. Diplomatic relations are severed and the aggressive nation stands to have her products boycotted by the one offended. Most of which has already happened with regard to England and Mexico.

Now such a procedure might prove advantageous if a country could isolate itself completely from its neighbors, otherwise the answer is, "no." Difficult entangling alliances could be avoided and self sustaining industries could be developed from within, which would greatly reduce any outside interference. Adhering to a neutrality attitude and respect to all foreign nations, war would threaten only through aggression. However, since the world is not run that way other countries, if at all possible.

To sum up the situation we find that Mexico is having difficulty in finding a market for her surplus oil, that the value of her money is decreasing and that foreign nations are becoming less friendly towards her. Mexico is on a spot and upon the solution of this problem depends the present government of President Lazaro Cardenas.

Odds and ends: Mussolini and Hitler want peace at any cost; a big piece of the world... Playing war games is apt to magnify its sufferings since no blood is spilled... Appealing to the League of Nations may be a waste of time but is still one way of keeping in the news... Life is a trailer is just a drag from one place to another... Halie Selassie is a King without a country... The backbone of any nation is its youth but a weak head can easily be the means of destroying the strongest backbone.

arrangement and in that the Pine Ridge Follies personnel had an off day in their nation-wide tour of theatres we are able to secure stage entertainment which ordinarily would not be possible for this section," commented Aylesworth.

Advance reports indicate "Pine Ridge Follies" is receiving enthusiastic response to their program, it was added. In Texas the "Pine Ridge Follies" is playing one-week stands at theatres in Fort Worth, San Antonio, Dallas, Houston and Galveston.

A cast of 20 is in the troupe, known well to radio audiences, and Lum and Abner's Pine Ridge Band is featured. Ezra Buzzington is the leader of the band.

The variety entertainment consumes one hour and is slated to begin at 2 o'clock, 7 o'clock and 9 o'clock. Booked as screen entertainment in conjunction the program is "Scandal Street" featuring Lew Ayres.
