A. J. Williams Is New Manager of Dairy Products Co.

Announcement is made today of the change of management of the Eastland Dairy Products Company. A. J. Williams, formerly with Swift & Company at Chickasha, Okla., has taken over the management of the firm.

Mr. Williams states that the company will base all products manufactured by the creamery on the highest quality possible with modern machinery and equipment. All flavors of ice cream is made with fresh eggs, sweet cream and pure pasteurized milk and is handled in the strictest sanitary manner. Mr. Williams adds that this method of ice cream manufacture makes it rich and smooth and most palatable and healthful.

Mr. Williams says: "Our whipping cream, coffee cream and milk is pasteurized to 145 degrees Fahrenheit, which eliminates all harmful bacteria before it reaches this temperature on the pasteurized milk we test for high acidity and butterfat. The state law calls for 3.8 per cent milk and our pasteurized milk runs 4.2 per cent in fat. Every kind of second; J. H. Clemmer, Ranger, third.

Kid ponies — Bob Ray Franklin, Ranger, first; J. H. Parrish, Ranger, second.

Draft horses — Thornton Cooper, Ranger, first; R. H. Hodges, Ranger, second.

Many of the animals shown were superior to those shown at the State Fair, Dallas, in similar classes, according to Roy W. Snyder of the extension service, who judged.

In addition to the show a demonstration in gentling and breaking a horse was given by Snyder. He also made a talk on the importance of horse and mule raisers cooperating with county agricultural agents, the Texas Horse and Mule association and other cooperating agencies in improving the quality of the work stock on farms and ranches.

sanitary precaution is used to handle all milk we handle, therefore our milk when it is distributed to the customer in any form is healthful and safe for the tiniest baby.

"In the fall of the year and in the spring cows run on pastures eating weeds causing raw milk to have an off flavor. Pasteurizing it takes this out, therefore when you use pasteurized milk you have a good rich flavored milk the year around. On all of our equipment that we use for pasteurizing milk we use a strong solution of washing powder in hot water. After this we have B. K. bactericide solution to kill any living germ if there should be any.

"Gold Medal butter is manufactured from cream bought from Eastland county farmers and dairy men. We buy sweet cream, sweet milk, sour cream and fresh eggs from farmers in the surrounding territory amounting to more than $700 a week which we feel helps support our city and county. We can increase the amount to more than double by the support of our city."

"We are glad to help our town. We will run free tests on cows for acidity and butter fat. We want to help Eastland county to grow in the dairy industry. We will give our hearty support to help the town grow and in doing it make our business grow with it. Our slogan is, "If you are satisfied with our product, tell others, if not tell us."

The Eastland Dairy Products company represents a payroll for Eastland and any payroll within our borders deserves the full support of the people and the only way that improvements can be made in products manufactured is to get the full cooperation of the business interests and letting their demands for valued products be known to the manufacturer.

LIVING SOIL DISCUSSED BY E. V. COOK

...our sandy land... blowing and washing in... and Spring by the use... cover crop is one of the... forward steps our East... County farmers can take in... is the belief of County... Cook who is pointing out... individuals in the County... either been using this... for years or who plan to... now.

Italian rye grass can... at least on land where... have been harvested without... preparation and a... harrowing used to cover the... shallow. Abruzzi rye can be... the same method used... the Italian rye. 20 to 30... of either seed per acre are... . A small acreage of the... should be harvested when... mature for a seed supply... year. The remainder... be turned under green to... the land.

...the legumes such as hairy... vetch, southern giant bur... and Austrian winter peas... be fertilized with super... fertilizer, at least 100 pounds per acre as they will not make satisfactory growth otherwise on sandy soil that has been cropped very long, when they are turned under in the Spring the phosphate as well as the nitrogen are returned to the soil and there is no fertilizer lost. This system just amounts to adding the phosphate several months ahead of the cash crop (usually peanuts) and getting back both phosphate and nitrogen plant food.

Unless seed are to be saved, plant about 20 pounds of vetch seed per acre mixed with rye or other small grain. It pays to inoculate the seed at planting time. The cost of the inoculant is about 25 cents per bushel of seed.

Southern giant bur clover is recommended for Eastland county because the seed cost are less than other legumes per acre seeded, the seed can be saved and at the same time the plant growth can be turned under, and it will reseed itself if given a reasonable opportunity. The seed, in the bur, should be mixed with as much well rotted barnyard manure as is available and scattered by hand in the shallow furrow left where peanuts are plowed up. If the middles are furrowed just before the seed matures the ripe bur will roll into the furrow where they can be swept into piles and saved. There will even then be enough seed left to reseed the land. Southern giant bur clover matured early enough to be turned under before Spring planting time.

Austrian winter peas have not proved as successful in Eastland county as was expected probably because the land was not fertilized and the seed were not always inoculated. They should be planted in much the same manner as summer cowpeas except at least twice as many pounds per acre should be planted.

W. B. Starr of Dan Horn community has been protecting sandy land subject to blowing for several years by planting rye just after harvesting peanuts.

Dallas Jobe of Gorman protected about 40 acres of orchard last year by planting a mixture of vetch and small grain. He harvested sufficient seed from the mixture to sow most of the 100 acres he plans to protect this winter and next Spring.

Good growths of hairy vetch were reported last year by Edgar C. Ward, Ranger, George Bennett,

HOLLYWOOD SECOND ONLY TO WASHINGTON AS NEWS SOURCE

By RED KANN
 Editor-in-Chief, BOXOFFICE
 Somebody gives a party in Hollywood. Carole Lombard decides to attend, using a white ambulance as her means of transportation because the guest of honor the day before had been discharged from a local hospital. Sounds like a local party, doesn't it?

A star, surfeited with idolatry, gets an idea it's "different" to run a tennis match with balls and evening draw the order of the afternoon. However, it's still something of a free country.

Two producers get into a business argument at their country club in the hills, make passes at each other. What of it?

There is this of it. Across the nation, under the Atlantic and through the air, out goes the word by special correspondent and press association for limitless millions to read and, perhaps, to wonder, but to read nevertheless.

Hollywood Is News
 For Hollywood which is, of course, synonymous in the public mind with motion pictures, is news and a very substantial segment of those who go to the movies want to know, not something about Hollywood, but all about it. So today in California there are 264 correspondents, accredited to a world press whose job it is to report the Lombards and the white ambulances, the tired star and the formal tennis matches, the quarrelsome producers and their tiff. This is their job and they do it to a tune of an estimated 100,000 words a day, including Sundays, by wire and by mail and radio.

They also do it in terms of chit-chat, in terms of pertinent facts about films in the making, in terms of appraisals of films that are made. They oftentimes throw javelins, some pleasantly and some of them unpleasantly sharp.

It has not been always so with motion pictures and the press. When films were very young, they carried with them no publication impact. Newspapers at large regarded filmatic efforts as a novelty, certain to give way in their dubious hold on the public when the next temporary attraction happened along.

But, while the industry had its flushes and its ebbs, the conclusion of the patient more repeatedly than ever before in its history life began to be reported and diagnosed by the press. A vast audience, always curious, some times genuinely interested, was ultimately able to stand inside the very life of the firm center through devouring the information furnished them by newspapers and magazines. Today the wings of the films haven't a chance to step out of circulation for even a solitary minute of the day.

Quite a Strain
 This becomes quite a strain, this job of being everybody's business. But, taking it by and large, the institution of the movies began to reveal its mettle substantially and so well that it no longer required to be an apologist for its general department.

An inspection of available facts demonstrates this. The Will Hays organization, clearing house of industry information, has had its statisticians busy. They have been gathering and analyzing what this searching examination by the nation's press has had to say about the films. Good, bad or indifferent, this is what they have concluded: of 8,025 clippings analyzed in 1936, the complimentary percentage was 58.2 per cent and 31.3 per cent was definitely and adversely critical. Subjects discussed included activities of the Hays office, comment on industry affairs at large, block booking and related subjects.

More than half of the 55.8 per cent grouping dealt with the quality of the producer. And of this classification, 66.1 per cent was complimentary, 10.4 per cent neutral and 23.5 per cent adverse.

Clippings Increase
 Of the total clippings so cross-sectionalized, 1,551 appeared in eastern newspaper, 790 were from central and southern papers, 239 from western papers and 232 from the Pacific Coast area.

In 1927, the first six months reflected significant gains. An analysis of comment in 1,907 editorials, feature columns and news items reveals 63.7 per cent favorable comment. Incomplete figures for the final half of last year show proportionate advances.

Someone with a statistical bent has estimated that more Hollywood dateline stories are published in the nation's press than any other with the exception of Washington. This might not hold up under a thorough analysis. Certain it is, on the other hand, that Hollywood would rank well up in front in any such competition.

Position Assured
 The celluloid institution, therefore, is pretty husky now. It has a fine pair of lungs, although still underdeveloped, a stronger constitution and a life being lived with much less reproach. Its importance in the social fabric of the nation is definite, assured, significant. It has less and less to apologize for and, with a proper display of humility might properly and proudly rest on its achievements.

What happens in and to motion pictures is news these days and will continue to be so in increasing measure. What it does and how gratifyingly or otherwise it does it, is copy.

Motion pictures, young in years, are growing up. Not perhaps as rapidly as some desire, but growing up beyond all doubt with its workers realizing more and more their responsibility to their industry, as indicated by the current nation-wide industry

Your Hollywood Correspondent Reports . . .
 Gail Patrick is sandwiching in a trip to Little Rock, Ark., before taking that long-promised New Year trip after completion of "Disbarred." In Little Rock she will be guest of honor at the opening of "The Arkansas Traveler," Bob Burns' latest starring picture. Bob couldn't make the trip because of his radio program. Shirley Ross and her new husband, Ken Dolan, plan to spend the Christmas holidays in Bermuda, if Claudette Colbert did such a rave about the performance Gertrude Lawrence did in "Susan and God" that everyone on the "Zaza" set attended. There will be no singing for Gladys Swarthout in "Ambush," her current picture. She gets a chance to do some real as-dramatic acting with Lloyd No-land. Dorothy Lamour is off for a few days' vacation in Northern California while scenes for "St. Louis Blues" are being shot around her. Edward Everett Horton is back in Hollywood for the preview of "Paris Honeymoon," following a European trip, and brought a Yorkshire terrier with him. The pup's name is Pudding.

Mary Carlisle is trying to decide whether to buy a new house or lease an apartment for the winter months. The lease is up on her present place in November. Olympia Bradna taking driving lessons so she won't need a chauffeur to drive the Packard her parents gave her for an eighteenth birthday gift. When Anna May Wong answers the phone on the "King of Chinatown" set, instead of saying "hello" she says "Chinatown."

The Louise Campbell-Horace MacMahon nuptials will be delayed about another month because of an important picture assignment.

MasMahon is just starting. Originally they had planned to be married as soon as Louise completed "Men With Wings."

School days inflict themselves even on Hollywood. Bobby Jordan and Bernard Punsky are receiving a complete high school course at the Warner lot. . . . Fellow "Ender" Billy Halop will enter Los Angeles Junior College soon as "Unfit to Print" is finished. . . . Bonita Granville is taking French, Spanish and music for a special teacher. . . . Six-year-old Janet Chapman is in the fourth grade of Warners' Little Schoolhouse. . . . Even Norma Scott Powell, scion of the Blondell-Dick Powell family, has been enrolled in nursery school against his expressed ideas on the subject.

CLYDE THOMPSON OF THRILL-KILLING FAME CONTINUES RAMPAGE

CROCKETT, Tex., Oct. 20.—Clyde Thompson, 27-year-old convict, who once "kicked" and "just to see them kick," and since has killed three more fellow prisoners at Eastland farm today, in a reign of terror.

The authority said that Thompson has cowed three eye witnesses to his latest killing that they refused to testify against him, although their appearance before a grand jury had resulted in the "thrill killer's" indictment. That condition was believed to be motivated District Attorney Fickett today when he pleaded successfully, to obtain indefinite postponement of Thompson's trial, which was to have begun tomorrow.

The other 27 prisoners in the dormitory with Thompson said he paces the floor like a tiger and they are deathly afraid of him," one official said.

Thompson committed his first murders in Eastland county when he was 19. Since then prison officials have had constant trouble with him. Three of his killings have occurred behind prison bars.

Eight years ago he killed Lucien and Leon Shook near Cisco, and was sentenced to die in the electric chair. This was reduced to life imprisonment and finally commuted to 15 years.

For killing a fellow convict, Thompson was sentenced to 99 years.

The latest slaying was July 27 when Thompson stabbed to death Robert Massey, 37-year-old incorrigible convict.

'It's the Breaks' for Stardom, Too—Time Toyed With Fate of Many

A few hours frequently have been the difference between success and failure for more than one now famous picture star.

Norma Shearer, after three weeks of struggle for a career in New York, with film jobs alarmingly scarce, had almost given up hope of finding a permanent place in the movies, when she suddenly received a ticket to Hollywood and a contract.

Clark Gable, three times re-tuffed by Hollywood, was called to a conference by Hunt Stromberg just three hours before he intended boarding a train for the East. Stromberg convinced Gable that the film capital held a future for him.

Myrna Loy thought her future assured when she was cast as the Madonna in "Ben Hur." Next day she learned that the part had been given to another player. Fortune reversed for her after years of disappointment, when she was teamed with William Powell in "The Thin Man," and won lasting fame as the "perfect screen wife!"

Spencer Tracy refused to accept the edict that he was "through" only a few years ago. Then came "San Francisco" to start him on a phenomenal rise to popularity. Robert Taylor applied for enrollment in a medical college, despairing of a screen future, when he appeared in a short entitled, "Crime Doesn't Pay," which put him under the spotlight.

Luise Rainer, the only feminine star to win two Academy awards, often wept during her first six months in Hollywood, because her imperfect knowledge of English kept her from getting roles. Gary Cooper was actually on a train headed for home intending to quit show business forever, when a producer recalled him. It pays not to shake off the dust of Hollywood too swiftly. Sometimes success may come by virtue of grimly "sticking it out!"

Athletes at Nebraska Grade Over Average

By United Press
LINCOLN, Nebr. — A popular belief that athletes are not outstanding in the classroom is not borne out in a study made of the scholarship of University of Nebraska varsity players by Dean T. J. Thompson.

He found that more than half of the Husker athletes last year ranked above the university scholastic average of 77 per cent. His survey did not include men participating in tennis and golf.

A majority were partially self-supporting and several earned their entire expenses.

NO ESCAPE FROM ROBBERY
By United Press
BERKELEY, Calif.— Edwin L. Ledger, liquor store proprietor, positive that a man who entered his store intended to rob him, went to the door and out onto the street to look for help, but as no one was in sight he returned to the store and submitted to the robbing.

HOLLYWOOD STARS—On The Cook's Day Out

JAMES CAGNEY—he of the fist cuffs and the flying grapefruit—can be quite domestic when the idea strikes him. When he and 'Bill'—Mrs. Cagney to you—put out from their summer home on Martha's Vineyard for a cruise on their good ship 'Martha', he has been known to assign himself to 'kitchen police' and to retire to the galley to prepare, with ominous gravity, what is known to his pals as his piece de resistance. Here's how he does it:

JIM'S IRISH STEW
2 pounds lamb suitable for stewing
8 medium-sized potatoes
6 small onions
1 small carrot

Put the meat into convenient size for stewing. Remove some of the fat and put into a saucepan with the water which should be almost at boiling point. Add the onions peeled and cut into thin slices, also the carrot scraped and sliced. Cool very gently—the water should only simmer, for hard boiling would toughen the meat—and at the end of an hour add the potatoes, peeled and cut in thin pieces. Season to taste with salt and pepper and continue to cook till the potatoes are tender. Serve altogether on one dish.

BOB BURNS HAS STARRING ROLE IN NEW PICTURE

ARKANSAS HUMORIST FINDS STARDOM ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE

About three degrees left of the moon you will see a slightly wobbly, odd looking new star. Its name is Bob Burns. Although Burns has been established for more than two years as a film and radio personality, he is being given movie stardom for the first time in Paramount's "The Arkansas Traveler."

And not only is stelar rating given Bob, but he has cast aside his bawzooka and comedy gags to burgeon as a full-fledged character actor, still a man of the people, but believable and real.

"Folks are asking me how it feels to be a movie star since I started this picture," Bob commented. "Well, I hate to disappoint them, but I don't feel no different.

"In fact, I can't get it pounded into my head that I am a star. All I know is I got a darned good job. So good I can't believe it will last. That's why I've bought myself five acres out in San Fernando. It's the best potato raising land I've ever seen, so I'm not worried about what I'm going to do when the movie star job is done."

Bob is ready to settle down, he says. He has hopped in all of the 48 states, and while it was fun, he wants to do all of his future hobnobbing in front of the camera.

That is exactly what he is doing in "The Arkansas Traveler." He is playing the part of a hobo painter who drops off a freight

JANE WITHERS HAS 278 PETS IN HOME ZOO

CALLS EACH ONE BY NAME, AND FEW DO NOT ANSWER

Jane Withers' personal menagerie now adds up to 278 pets—and all answer to names except the tropical fish.

The little 20th Century-Fox star is proud of the fact that all her pets have congenial and appropriate homes—a knotty pine chicken house for the chickens, turkeys and guinea hens; special dog houses and runways and awnings for shade for the dogs; down feathered, covered-wagon beds for the cats; indoor and outdoor cages for her birds; the latest type of hutch for the rabbits, special ponds for the baby alligators and the tropical fish and a cactus garden home for the turtles.

Here's the latest revised list of her pets and their names:

- Four dogs—Rex, police; Lord Redfield, Jr., champion Irish setter; Shadow, a Scottie; Susie-Q, a Pekinese puppy.
- Two horses—Red Fox, chestnut scree; Bingo, buckskin pony.
- Four doves—Eenie, Meenie, Minnie and Moe.
- Six pheasants—Randy, Bandy, Sandy, Candy, Tandy and Andy.
- Two rabbits—Charlie McCarthy and Dopey.
- One parrot—Senorita.

"That you're not kissing properly," Green declared.

"I guess Frances and I know how to kiss. We've been married for nearly three years!" Lief retorts.

"And I've been directing kissing scenes for 25 years," Green says. Whereupon Al Green showed Mr. Erickson how to kiss Mrs. Erickson.

- One white canary—Eenie.
- Four cats—Angolino, Snow White, Smoky and Midnight.
- Three turtles—Ranger, Maude, and Marchie.
- Six guinea hens—Alice, Claire, Una, Patsy, Martha and Betsy.
- One rooster—Charlie.
- Four baby ducks—Tyrone Power, Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Jack Haley.
- Thirteen Mallory ducks.
- Fourteen baby chickens.
- Twenty-four white Leghorns.
- One hundred and eighty-seven tropical fish.

The big mystery to Director Joseph Santley, who directed Jane's newest 20th Century-Fox picture, "Always In Trouble," was where Jane found the time to pet her pets. Jane's hours between the scenes of the film, were spent in the studio classroom, but nevertheless no one has a more loyal group of pets.

They all answer to name when Jane calls, but she usually doesn't have to because they all flock around as soon as she nears their respective homes. A visitor in the Withers home declared that when this happens it looks like the big simoon scene in "Suez."
