MORE, BETTER PRODUCTS POSSIBLE THROUGH USE OF ADS, STUDY REVEALS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The billions of dollars in advertising budgets of distilled spirits, tobacco, clothing, food and other products have been streamlined to an insignificant fraction of a cent so that the cost is next to nothing to the ultimate consumer.

Trade associations and advertising agencies recently have been making extensive surveys on advertising costs as they relate to the consumer and their studies reveal that a penny would have to be shaved into a hundred thousand parts before a salesperson would be able to drop the part representing the advertising cost per unit of purchase into the buyer's hand.

A famous beverage offers one of the best examples of low cost of advertising in that only 1,576-100,000th part of your penny goes into the cost of keeping the name of the product before the American people.

In the case of a famous brand of soap advertised in virtually every newspaper and magazine in the country the consumer pays only 35-1,000th part of a cent for advertising.

Large bakers of the very best advertising bread are making mass advertising possible through advertising, yet the cost of a loaf of bread for advertising is less than the wrapper in which it is packaged.

One of the large companies famous for its cookies, crackers and biscuits, reports its advertising cost to the consumer to be less than one-tenth of a cent on a ten-cent package.

FINISH DEAL FOR PURCHASE OF PIPE ORGAN

Rev. J. I. Cartledge, pastor of the First Baptist church at Eastland, announced Monday that a deal has been completed for the purchase of a pipe organ for the church.

B. E. Garner, Ranger resident manager of the theatre company, acted as its agent in the sale. Originally costing $7,000, said Rev. Cartledge, the organ was only used for six months at the theatre until talking pictures ended its regular use. However, the organ at special occasions had been used.

The Eastland church has entered into contract with a Dallas man for the removal and installation of the organ within two weeks.

Mrs. D. L. Kinnaird, member of church who has had experience with organ playing, will serve as church organist.

GARRETT TELLS OF DEFENSE NEED OF U. S.

ABILENE, Nov. 5.—A vigorous stand for stronger national defenses was voiced by Congressman Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland in an address before the Abilene chapter of reserve officers at the Wooten hotel Friday night.

Garrett was principal speaker at a dinner attended by local reserve army officers, National Guard leaders, naval reserve officers and visiting army dignitaries.

Declaring that America's vast resources "are now becoming the prey of unscrupulous nations," Garrett asserted that the United States "must be strong enough that an invader would think twice about attacking."

"We need a two ocean navy, strong enough to hold up an invader until an army could be massed for the protection of that coast," he said. "We need mobile coast defense units and many forts which will dominate sectors of the coast until an army can be mobilized. We need a strong enough regular army that it can meet the first shock of such an invasion and have the reserves in officers and trained men to keep the supply of recruits flowing until the invader is beaten off."

Granting that American people crave peace and seek good will of the nations of the world, Garrett countered that "in our striving for peace by every honorable means we are not so foolish as to close our eyes to present day realities."

Tully has been incapacitated for a part of the season with a knee injury, but is rapidly recovering. In the meantime, Gene Hodge, Honey Grove, Tully's co-captain is being brought back from end, where he shines as the greatest end in the Lone Star Conference, to work in the backfield.

Racial Origins Must Be Forgotten in America

If Americans were shocked and saddened by the dissection of Czechoslovakia, they ought to be almighty careful not to let the principle on which that dissection was based become established in their own land.

The principle is simple. It is that the ties of "race" are both permanent and all-important; that a man is, for all time, what his ancestors were, no matter where he may go or what he may do, and that no right of society or claim of economics can prevail against that racial tie.

That is about as dangerous a piece of dynamite as could well be introduced into American life. For if there is one spot on earth where the whole structure of society rests on the exact opposite of that theory, the United States is it.

So it is extremely discouraging to read of the little brush which Gov. Lehman of New York has been having with the Ukrainians of that state.

The Ukrainian-American Democratic Club recently bolted the state ticket—on the ground that although the Ukrainians cast 125,000 votes in New York elections, only five persons of Ukrainian extraction hold political office.

Now it is no great jump from that position of the Sudeten Germans in Mr. Benes' Czechoslovakia. The original complaint of the Sudetens—that they were not given state offices in proportion to their strength—is almost precisely like this complaint. And although it is a little hard to imagine Messrs. Hitler and Chamberlain hot-footing it across the Atlantic to see that the downtrodden Ukrainians get justice from brutal Uncle Sam, the parallel is an ominous thing just the same.

That insistence on the importance of racial origins wrecked Czechoslovakia. It could wreck America just as neatly, if it were carried far enough. And before it is carried any farther, all who believe that the unity of the nation is worth saving ought to express themselves in unmistakable terms.

We have in America people from every nation on earth. The only possible way for us even to come close to order and progress is to insist that our diverse racial origins are of no importance whatever. They may have a sentimental meaning, to be sure—but absolutely nothing beyond that.

That is a lesson that we thought we had learned a century ago. Apparently it needs to be learned again. For this emphasis on the importance of race is the subtlest and most dangerous thing that could possibly arise in American life. Unless it is stamped out we are in for the worst kind of trouble.

The Political Program Will Be Followed Immediately by a Song-and-Dance Act

Fifteen States In Campaign to Sell The Surplus Cotton

STONEVILLE, Mass.—The first movement in the history of agriculture in which the growers and first handlers of cotton have united to increase the consumption of American cotton and cotton seed will be launched when the delegates of 15 cotton producing states meet in Memphis, Tennessee, November 21, to organize a National Cotton Council.

The Council will unite the various associations of growers, ginners, warehousemen, cotton merchants, and cotton seed crushers. The objectives of the organization, as outlined by Oscar Johnston, Scott, Mississippi, former director of the U. S. Cotton Pool and prime instigator in the movement for unity, are to increase the consumption of American cotton and cotton seed products through development of world markets, expansion of U. S. markets through advertising and sales efforts, research for new uses, legislation to encourage consumption, coordination of efforts of all cotton interests on above objectives; and such other programs as those in which the five primary groups are in agreement.

"Only increased consumption of cotton will permanently insure the cotton farmers income and his buying power," Mr. Johnston declared in commenting on the purpose of the Council. "The approach to the problem of absorbing cotton surpluses to date has been production control, coupled with direct subsidy to producers. The cotton interests have made no organized efforts to sell their product.

"The voice of cotton is as soft as its lint and as low as its price. We must give cotton a Magna Vox with the man power and money power to make itself heard." During the past two months state cotton Councils have been organized in fifteen cotton producing states from Virginia to California, looking toward final consolidation into the national organization to be formed at Memphis.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO US?

WORLD DOMINATED MORE THAN EVER BY FORCE IN 20 YEARS SINCE ARMISTICE

BY WILLIS THORNTON, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

TWENTY years ago a weary, bloody world was staggering to the close of four years of World War.

People were told it was the end of an era, the beginning of a Brave New World.

And it was the end of an era. But the new era that began then was not the world envisioned by the muddy, bloody men in the trenches.

Three million victims of 20 wars rot in their graves since the War to End War!

The League of Nations, which was to bring a new world order of reason and peace, drifts like a leaky and abandoned ship. Democracy is on the defensive in a world which was never less safe for it.

Everywhere the haunting fear of insecurity sends men swarming after strange causes, economic and political. Children born since 1918 have never known, may never know, the independence of Americans who used to say "Shucks! I can get a job anywhere!"

Force has become the prime criterion, and might makes right in international affairs. In personal affairs, the idea that the end justifies the means is more and more generally accepted.

IF THE DEAD COULD LIVE—NEVERTHELESS, in the 20 years since "Cease Firing" sounded across Flanders fields, a new world has arisen. Every country in the world would already seem a strange land to a man who died in that war, if he could come back and see it.

In 20 years, the population of nearly every country in the world has increased by millions. What to do with surplus population is the acute problem of every government. The United States alone has 130,000,000 people to contrast to the war-time 100,000,000.

But while population has been increasing, the world itself has been shrunk by man's inventive genius.

One can pick up the telephone and talk to a person on board a ship in mid-ocean, or to a friend in Europe.

Transcontinental and trans-oceanic airplane service has reduced journeys that formerly took weeks, to days. From New York to Rio is a mere five-day flight. San Francisco to Hong Kong can be made in eight days. London to Darwin, Australia, in the same time.

Whole new industries have arisen. As industrial factors, these things did not exist before 1918: radio receivers, electric refrigerators, airplanes, color and candid cameras, talkies, house insulation, plastics, electric razors, rayon, home movies, air conditioning apparatus, photoelectric eyes, auto trailers, cellophane, zippers, electric clocks, shatter-proof and polaroid glass, thousands of new metal alloys and chemical products, light diesel engines, soy beans and their industrial products, quick-frozen foods.

WOMEN'S INFLUENCE GROWS

WOMEN have come into their own during that 20-year period. Before the World War, a woman earning her living at anything but teaching school was almost a curiosity. Today there are nearly 11,000,000 women wage-earners in the United States, more than one woman in five. And they vote. Before the war they

There are more old people, fewer young people. Before the World War there were about 4,000,000 Americans over 65 years old. In 1936 there were 7,500,000, and by 1960 it is expected there will be 15,000,000.

Great strides made in public health and disease prevention are partly responsible. Despite depression years, the people are healthier this year than at any time in history. Unless an unforeseen epidemic comes, 1938 will see the lowest death rate ever known, below the 1937 rate which was only 11 for every 1,000 persons.

Influenza, pneumonia, auto-traffic deaths and the social diseases are being successfully attacked.

The rush of people from farms to the cities has practically reversed itself in the United States. By 1935, for instance, 2,600,000 more people were farmers than in 1930. The growth of great cities formerly taken as inevitable, has been checked. Faster transportation is causing cities to spread out and spill over into suburbs and rural sections.

The era of the skyscrapers came to its peak, and many believe it has passed.

WAR SCARS REMAINED BUT more important, the country has "grown up" mentally. People are brigat and hard instead of mellow and sentimental. This course is traced by the transit from the Hesitation Waltz to the Shag, from May Irwin to Dwight Fiske, from "Way Down East" to "It Happened One Night," from Romberg to Gershwin, from Puck to Ballyhoo, from O. Henry to Ernest Hemingway.

The war left spiritual scars unhealed long after the physical wounds had knit. A great moral letdown swept across the world in the United States it became apparent in the scandals of the Harding administration. It was seen in 10 years of prohibition and the violent corruption and cynical law avoidance. The racket era sprung from this root. It was seen in the Ku Klux Klan's bid for a secret, unofficial, terroristic government. It flowered in the lax financial morals of the boom era. And its fruit was harvested in the increasingly bitter class conflicts that came with the depression.

The day before Woodrow Wilson was to go before Congress in 1917 and ask that it declare a state of war with Germany, he talked long and earnestly with Frank Cobb, editorial writer for the New York World.

In the agony of his decision, Wilson said these words, reported later by Cobb:

"Once lead this people into war and they'll forget there ever was such a thing as tolerance. To fight, you must be brutal and ruthless, and the spirit of ruthless brutality will enter into the very fiber of our national life, infecting Congress, the courts, the policeman of the beat, the man in the street."

The thing Wilson foresaw even as he made his decision for war has happened, not only to his own country, but to the world.

Interest Reported In Handcraft Class Of W.P.A. Project

Eastland children are showing much interest in the instructive handcraft classes being conducted on the WPA recreation playground. Many useful things are being made, including wooden beads, decorated with a burning needle, wall plaques, etc.

These activities are under the direction of Mrs. Mattie O. Taylor, special director in arts and crafts. These classes meet each Monday and Wednesday at the city clubhouse at 3:30 and each Tuesday and Thursday at south ward playground at 3 p. m.

In the talent club meeting at city park clubhouse Tuesday, at 4 p. m., the making of rhythm band instruments will be started. At the club meeting at south ward Monday at 3:30 p. m., practice on a playlet will be started.

Story telling hour is conducted each Friday at 4 p. m. at the city park clubhouse, under the direction of WPA directors and volunteer guest directors.

The playground football teams played a matched game at south ward ground Wednesday at 4 p. m. These teams have only recently started playing tackle football and much enthusiasm is being displayed. In Wednesday's game the south ward team met the team of west ward, resulting in a score of 16 to 0 in favor of west ward. West ward will play Hodges Park junior team at Ranger on Tuesday at 4 p. m., at the Ranger city park softball ground.

Saturday fill be regular play day on city park and colored playgrounds. A special hour by hour program will be conducted at city park, which the children will be sure to enjoy. A special tenoet game is scheduled at the colored playground on Thursday at 4:30 p. m.

All playgrounds except the colored playground will be closed on Friday, Nov. 11, to observe Armistice day.—Reporter.

COATSVILLE, Pa.—Sisie, the pet dog of Cora Schroder, 48, was buried with her in the same coffin in accordance with her last request.

Miss Schroder committed suicide and caused the dog's death with chloroform. In a note to her brother, she asked that the terrier be wrapped in a blanket and placed in her coffin.

Mexican Forecasts On Expropriation Of Oil Exaggerated

By United Press
MEXICO CITY.—Friends and enemies of Mexico in the United States both seem to have overdone considerably their forecasts of what is going to happen south of the Rio Grande.

Ever since the expropriation of the foreign oil companies on March 18, 1938, government officials at Washington and the American reading public have been bombarded with predictions of chaos and disaster which may overtake Mexico unless the United States does something about it.

Both the closest friends and strongest enemies of the government of General Lazaro Cardenas have been predicting trouble. This sounds paradoxical, but it is perfectly logical—it is another manifestation of the old axiom that "extremes meet."

Naturally, each side wants President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull to handle the problem in a different way. The friends of Mexico, organized into various societies and associations, for months have been harping on the idea that Mexico is on the verge of becoming a "second Spain." They have frequently asked the state department to do something to help Cardenas, with a loan if necessary, or else the United States may face the historical responsibility of seeing the country plunged into such a state of affairs that what happened in Spain will look tame. Every time that Mr. Hull writes a strong note to General Eduardo Hay, Mexican secretary of state, these societies send telegrams to Washington, lamenting that the United States is about to undermine the stability of the Cardenas regime.

Mexico's adversaries, instead of portraying a Fascist menace, predict there will be trouble and chaos due to the establishment of a "bolshievis" government on the southern border of the United States. Some even contend that Mexico today is already "redder" than the Soviet Union under Josef Stalin.

There is no doubt that Mexico has been moving consistently to the left in the past three years. With the same dogged determination that characterized Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler in achieving his announced aims, Cardenas has proceeded to accomplish the campaign promises he made in 1934 and the provisions of the "Six Year Plan." Nothing so far has been able to swerve him from his course. The demands of Hull have met with not only rhetorical but with actual negative replies. When Mr. Hull asked Cardenas to cease expropriating American property, Cardenas ordered the agrarian departments to take some more land away from American individuals and land companies.

Nobody denies that Mexico is going through very serious social, financial and economic difficulties. The depression's roots go back to 1936, and were intensified in 1937 when there were big crop failures. The monetary reserves of the Bank of Mexico steadily declined during 1937, while the government's overdraft with the bank increased. The peso had been weakened long before March 18, 1938, but it was good politics for Mexico to cease pegging it to the dollar that night, and then blame the "rebellious foreign oil companies" for having caused it to fall from 3.60 to around 5.00 to the dollar.

Ever since then, the enemies of Mexico have been proclaiming the danger of a complete business collapse, which would be followed by the ascendancy of a Red regime. The prophets of chaos cannot fathom the "mystery" of how it is that the peso has not crashed to its silver point (around 6.50 to the dollar) and how it is that the government still finds it possible to pay punctually the wages of

Well In Northeast Part of County Is Estimated Making 50 Barrels Oil

Commanding attention with its estimated production of 50 barrels daily in an area absent of many projects in recent years was James C. Ellis No. 2 Scott and Gentry, in the northeast corner of Eastland County 11 miles southwest of Strawn.

Ellis, of Owensboro, Ky., who took over the well which was started March 10, 1936, by R. H. Murray, planned an 80-foot shot to stimulate production in the sandy lime, 2,069-3,117 feet. Total depth was 3,120 feet. Location is in the Popejoy survey.

Another area getting attention this week was near Putnam, Callahan County, because of the estimated production of 35 barrels daily of the Warren and Kleiner No. 1 Dr. F. E. Clark, section 304-SPRR, from depth of approximately 735 feet. It was shut-down, presumably for a test soon. The same operators have staked a location 300 feet west of the discovery, location of which was on the E. H. Williams land, section 17-D&DA.

In Palo Pinto county A. & C. Drilling company abandoned No. 1 Holt, section 1783-TE&L, three miles south of Grafton, at total depth of 4,250 feet in shells and broken lime. A show of oil with two bailers of water in sandy lime was obtained at 4,030 feet. A show of gas was recorded at 3,700 feet as was another at 2,050 feet.

Two new activities for Coleman County were reported. One was the Brammon and Murray No. 1 J. C. Dibrell, J. W. Hicks survey No. 265, 11 miles northeast of Coleman, which will be deepened to what was reported as 3,250 feet.

Other new activity for the county was H. Walter McGee No. 1 Mrs. Susan McDermitt, section 183-A, Rathes, four miles northwest of Burkett, 450 feet from the east line and 300 feet from the south line in the southeast quarter of the section. It will be drilled to 700 feet.

Rush Oil Company staked location for No. 15 E. G. Houser, a 250-foot project, 1,950 feet from the west line and 150 feet from the south line of the lease, three miles southwest of Sipe Springs.

DEDA survey, Comanche County. St. Mary's Oil and Gas Company picked location for No. 1 L. W. McDonald estate, section 60-2, J. Carrier, three miles south of Bangs, 390 feet from the east line and 50 feet from the south line of the lease, Brown county.

To be acidized with 1,000 gallons in the lime 555-565 feet was George Christie No. 5 Kilgore Bros., McClure survey, also in Brown county. Total depth was 565 feet.

In Eastland county J. F. Baker shot with 120 quarts No. 3 Mulloy, Ahrenbeck survey in a lime formation, 2,055-3,005 feet. Result was awaited.

PROGRAM AT OIL MEETING IS OUTLINED

ABILENE, Nov. 5.—Program for the seventh annual convention of the West-Central Texas Oil & Gas Association to be held in Abilene Dec. 10, has been announced here by J. C. Hunter, president.

Ready For Winter Campaign Started By Federal Body

Plans for launching the FHA "Ready for Winter" campaign in the nation for a period of 60 days are being developed by the Federal Housing Administration, according to R. E. Sikes of Eastland, FHA representative.

"The purpose of this campaign is to improve business condition in general and provide continued employment for the building craftsmen and other labor during fall and winter months, as well as to take care of needed repairs in modernization in both residential and business properties," said Sikes.

Adequate funds are available for financing repairs as well as new construction for persons eligible and responsible persons with sufficient incomes to repay the obligation as it is due, said Sikes. He emphasized that all loans made under the FHA program are by private lending institutions with the FHA acting as an insurance agency, guaranteeing the repayment of the loans and protecting the lending institution against loss.

"Under the property improvement credit plan as provided by title 1 of the national housing act," explained Sikes, "qualified borrowers may obtain from $100 to $10,000 with which to improve any type of property—home, farm or business."

"The funds are borrowed from private lending institutions at a maximum interest rate of 5 per cent discount and may be repaid in monthly, quarterly, or semi-annual payments, over a period of from one to five years."

The FHA representative stated that this repair program under Title 1 should not be confused with the FHA insured mortgage plan covering new construction of residential property through 90 per cent loans for a term of 25 years with a maximum interest rate of 5 per cent figured on the outstanding monthly balances for any community, which desires to put on the campaign. FHA will cooperate and assist.

George I. Lane, rural supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, and Hugh F. Barnhart, assistant county agent, Saturday assisted three 4-H club boys in selecting three head of cattle for use in 4-H demonstrations.

The cattle were purchased from R. F. Cox of Rising Star.

Boys receiving the cattle, two cows and one bull, were Finis Austin and Truman Williams.

NOTHING DOWN AND GOAL TO GO!

If we may paraphrase a little from foot ball parlance the caption above about expresses the tenant's position on the home ownership gridiron.

Since our announcement last week that one might purchase a home without being required to make a down payment, we have had numerous calls asking about the plan. One tenant bought immediately, and several others have contracts to buy.

Under this plan of purchase we have 38 nice homes remaining unsold. We expect to dispose of all these properties by the first of the year. If you are in a position to buy, and really want a home, this plan should appeal to you.

Check over the list we advertised last week, and add the following: 502-504-506 South Daugherty, 811 West Valley, 101 Lens, 714 West Main, 512 S. Connellee, 1396 South Seaman, 1208 West Plummer.

As a matter of fact, Mexico is a country which is accustomed to depression. It has a low standard of living, and can weather financial storms which would send the United States to the gutter in no time.

As far as Mexico being in line to become a "second Spain", is concerned, that is a far-fetched analogy. Spain in 1936 was suffering from the after-effects of the Asturias revolt of 1934; it was a country divided into two distinct bands: "Popular Front" and "Catholic Action"—Phalanx-military coalition.

The revolt came after the elections of 1936. Spain had a dozen generals to lead a revolt; here in Mexico there is nobody at present, and the best proof of this is the miserable fiasco of the San Luis Potosi incident of General Saturnino Cedillo in May, 1938.

Today in Mexico a half-dozen or more generals hope to reach the presidency by the constitutional method of election. As long as they think they have a chance of being the official candidate for the July, 1940 elections, they will play ball with Cardenas. Once the candidate has been chosen, then those who were left out may begin to look around to see what can be done. Most of Mexico's revolutions have been started because the man in power chose an unpopular candidate to succeed him; and it is axiomatic that the danger of a revolt increases as the electoral period approaches. So far, Mexico's presidential campaign is still a long way off, and if the country is lucky enough to have a popular man chosen, it may see a peaceful transmission of power from President Cardenas to his successor on Nov. 30, 1940.

BY THE
GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come:

The Congress of the United States of America having enacted Public Law No. 501, which was approved on May 13, 1938, making "November 11 of each year" a National Legal Holiday, "dedicated to the cause of world peace," such being a public holiday hereafter "in the same manner as New Year's, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, and Christmas"; and

The American Legion—an organization composed of American citizens who received an honorable discharge from the armed forces of the United States of America engaged in the world War which terminated soon after the signing of the Armistice between this Country and our Allies, and the Allies of the German Empire which became effective November 11, 1918—has called upon its membership of approximately one million in 11,458 communities in the United States and abroad to cause to be set aside the week of November 4-11, 1938, as in commemoration of the enactment of said law, the signing of the Armistice and the 20th anniversary of The American Legion, during which week its members are requested to arrange "Home Products Dinners" in their respective communities, featuring products of the State, inviting all World War Veterans to join and other citizens to participate, thus calling attention to the varied resources of our State in agriculture, stock raising, and the like, and at the same time focus the attention of the American Nation upon:

The "Peace Through Preparedness" crusade of The American Legion "For Enduring Peace";

The observance of National Education Week, which The American Legion has sponsored jointly with the National Education Association since 1921 for the purpose of raising the educational standards of our native-born, approximately two million of which become of voting age each year, and assisting the foreign-born to better assume their duties of citizenship; the necessity for eternal vigilance if our Country is to be saved from the onslaught of subversive groups;

The militant campaign for aid to dependent children;

The child welfare, public health, highway safety, unemployment and youth activity program designed to minimize juvenile delinquency;

Twenty years of unrelenting effort in behalf of rehabilitating the disabled, adequate care of the widows, orphans and other dependents of those brave men and women who paid the supreme sacrifice;

And varied community service activities in time of disaster and other emergencies.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JAMES V. ALLRED, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and proclaim November 4-11, 1938, as

AMERICAN LEGION WEEK IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be impressed hereon at Austin, this 29th day of October, A. D. 1938.

JAMES V. ALLRED,
Governor of Texas.

EDWARD CLARK,

HERE AND THERE

BY CECIL BARHAM

A moving and human picture of small town America, seldom before equalled on the screen, is given in the new Bob Burns film, "The Arkansas Traveler." For his portrayal of that colorful American figure, the fighting editor of the country newspaper, Burns deserves to take his place alongside of the greatest interpreters of native characters, including even the incomparable Will Rogers. Although at all times Bob Burns, he is also always the home-town countryman . . . when he rides the rails with his brother hobo, edits a local newspaper to help a lady in distress, promotes a romance between two uncertain young lovers and cleans politics in the face of powerful opposition . . . Put this picture on your must see list, for regardless of the type of pictures you usually like, you'll go for this one.

Eastland has an organization that everyone in Eastland county should be proud of and that is the Eastland Little Theatre. I have talked to several people who attended the August presentation of the "Valliant" and who had seen this same play presented by the Little theatres in Pecos, Amarillo and Wichita Falls and they say that the Eastland performance was far superior to these. The Little Theatre is a Public organization and the membership open to any one who desires to join and I think that we should show our appreciation of what they are doing for Eastland by attending the forthcoming offering of Alice Gerstenberg's one act comedy, "The Pot Boiler" which will be presented in connection with the screen attraction, "Campus Confessions" at the Connellee Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday night, November 16th and 17th. "The Pot Boiler" is being directed by Virginia Weaver, who majored in Dramatic Arts in one of the large Eastern colleges. The admission will only be 25c for the lower floor, 15c for the balcony and 10c for children, all in all, you couldn't get a better evening's entertainment anywhere for this price. Tickets are now on sale and you may get them from any member of the Little Theatre or at the Lyric box office.

TODAY'S NEWS OF HOLLYWOOD: "Love Bites" is the new title selected for the Joan Blondell-Pat O'Brien co-starring picture formerly known as "Unfit for Print." Motion picture audiences will hear the singing voice of James Cagney for the first time in "Oklahoma" in which he is now working. Glenda Farrell, Mayor of North Hollywood, is en route to the coast from New York to assume her new municipal post, runner ups in the election were Bing Crosby and Lewis Stone. Thirty boys clubs in key cities throughout the country will be hosts of Warner Bros. at a special screening of "Angels with Dirty Faces," the latest James Cagney-Pat O'Brien starring picture. Paul Muni will have spent 250 hours in the make-up chair before a camera turns on "Juarez." Martha Raye will go blond for her next picture . . . Anna May Wong is swelling the Chinese Relief fund by selling autographed photos . . . Jack Benny has a grudge against the Marxists who wrote the screen play of "Artists and Models Abroad." His complaint is he doesn't get to kiss Joan Bennett. Shirley Temple is slated for "Susannah of the South." . . . Remember "Daughter of Frankenstein" well? We're making "The Son of Frankenstein" now and it will be an early release.

As a result of the nation-wide reaction to the recent broadcast of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" by the Mercury Theatre of the Air, Universal has released, "Mars Attacks the World," starring Larry (Buster) Crabbe. Simultaneously, United Artists is re-issuing "Things to Come," a picture of the destruction of the world. Arrangements are being made to show both pictures in Eastland in the near future.

Present plans jell, the Lyric will show the current horror sensation "Frankenstein" and "Dracula" in a midnight show Thanksgiving Eve.

So long, I'll be seeing you around the theatres during the week.

Smuggled Liquor Is Found To Be Tea
By United Press
PASO, Tex.—The next time you see a man offered "tea" by a stranger they will take care to see they aren't sold real tea. Men dressed in muddy and wet boots entered a station, carrying a large trunk, and offered to sell the operators part of a "load of liquor" they said they had carried across the Rio Grande. They were willing to discuss it at a big sacrifice to the operators and their recovery and arrest.

Stamps. Satisfied with the guarantees, they bought a quantity of the liquor, then directed the smugglers to other customers—friends of the filling station men who also would be delighted to buy at such bargain prices.

Later in the day they took down the bottles for a nip. All of them contained real tea.

A Japanese ceremonial in which the horses killed in the war in China were honored by Japanese troops looks like so much horse pray.

March of Time Releases First Maginot Line Film

Cecil Barham, manager of the Lyric theatre, announced today that "Inside the Maginot Line," new exclusive feature of the March of Time, will be shown here on Tuesday and Wednesday. This film, the first ever obtained of France's secret east boundary defenses, portrays the mammoth extent and scale of this gigantic 125-mile line of concrete and steel, which stretches all the way from Belgium to Switzerland, has to date cost France $2,000,000,000. It shows not only the above-ground gun turrets, tank traps and barbed wire entanglements which make up the "Line," but in addition affords U. S. motion picture audiences their first opportunity to see the great underground forts—veritable subterranean cities occupying many square miles—which form the backbone defenses of the line.

THEY'RE ALL ON NICKELS

Although over half a million buffalo hides were shipped east of Dodge City around 1872, Warner Brothers had to try 40 places before they could assemble a dozen hides for use in "Dodge City."

Had to Find Out Where She Lived

Priscilla Lane didn't know where she lived when she returned to Hollywood from Lexington, Va., and the premiere of "Brother Rat."

She sent a wire to sister Rosemary, care of the Warner Brothers studio.

"Where do we live stop old house or new?"

Priscilla's predicament was occasioned by the fact that the Lane family was to move to a new home before she left. She hadn't been told, however, whether the change had been made while she was away.

Pythias Benefit Is Pronounced As Successful Event

The party and program sponsored by the Knight of Pythias and Pythian Sisters last Monday night in Eastland has been pronounced a success by all who attended.

A pageant based on Armistice Day was presented by the sisters. Mrs. Les Dorsey, Mrs. F. C. Williamson, Mrs. Tom Lovelace and Mrs. Claud Strickland represented the Confederate veterans, the World War veterans, Red Cross nurses and naval veterans groups. Miss Katrina Lovelace, effectively dressed as Columbia, presented the United States flag and led the pledge of allegiance.

Womanless wedding presented by a group of the knights brought the house down with laughter. It was presented under the direction of Mrs. W. T. Young.

Dr. R. C. Ferguson sang, "I Don't Love You Truly" with a most comical parody on the words of the song.

"The marryin' parson," Tom Lovelace, was the first to enter from the anteroom. He wore a tall silk hat, and carried a mail order catalog.

The flower "girls," Guy Robinson and A. W. Wright, were dressed as the "gold dust twins." They carried market baskets filled with bread wrappers and cabbage leaves to throw in the path of the bridal party.

The maids of honor, R. H. Ferris and Cecil Lotief, paraded their matronly fashions, causing the audience to roar with mirth at their mining steps and evasive walk.

The ring bearer, Frank Williamson, wore long hose, a short print dress and a bright red hat.

The bride, Fay Earnest, was dressed in a long white evening dress with a train and wore a cap veil. Many of the onlookers asked "Who is the girl?" She entered dragging the groom, Cecil Hibbert, on her arm.

Last in the procession was the father, Les Dorsey, dressed as a backwoodsman and carrying a double-barrel shotgun "so the groom would not lose his courage."

Music for the "wedding" and for the pageant was furnished by Mrs. Will Tucker at the piano.

R. C. Kinnard, county chairman, made a short talk on the Red Cross between the two acts.

Bridge, "42", and chinker checkers were played during the evening. High scores were won by Leon Bourland and Arthur Wright.

Prizes for ticket sales were won by Mrs. Dorsey, who sold the most tickets. Mrs. Strickland and Mrs. Lovelace tied for second place. Over two hundred tickets were sold. More than 125 persons were present.

Before the program, a delicious plate of refreshments was served. Tiny American flags were placed on each plate as favors. Coffee was donated by Frank Gullion, local representative of the Jewel Tea company. Other members of the organization donated the entire meal.

The hall was decorated with red, white and blue streamers in keeping with the Armistice day theme. The affair was a success because of the fine cooperation displayed by those who participated in making the arrangements.

Methodist Church Pastor Is Attending Meeting at Waco

A record believed by many as one of the best in the church's history will be reported by Rev. P. W. Walker, pastor of the First Methodist church, at the Central Texas Conference meeting current at Waco.

In the past year 75 new members of the church were gained, bringing membership to 643. A total of $8,469 was raised during the church year and all salaries and obligations were paid in full.

There will be no church service at the church Sunday, but Sunday school will be held.

Workers Told No Work In Arizona

Persons should not go to Arizona with the belief they may obtain work in the cotton fields of that state, according to notices received by J. Syd Lowry, manager of the Texas State Employment Service at Eastland.

Lowry has been advised that sufficient help is already available in Arizona for the picking of the cotton crop.

Play Due Nov. 16, 17 Popular

"The Pot Boilers," the one-act play to be given by the Eastland Little Theatre Nov. 16 and 17 at the Conneeche theatre, has been presented in many of the outstanding theatres of the nation. Its first production was at the Player's Workshop in Chicago in 1916 and subsequently has been presented in the theatre workshop of New York, the Maitland theatre in San Francisco and the Hollywood Community theatre. One of the most unusual performances of the piece was one participated in by cantonments of the U. S. A. in a trench in France.

The play has been published by Stewart and Kidd company in a volume of "Fifty Contemporary One-Act Plays" of the World.

Denton Woman Is Heard at Meeting Of Civic League

"Principles in Flower Arrangement" was the topic discussed by Miss Willie I. Birdge of Denton, guest speaker at the monthly meeting of Civic League and Garden Club Wednesday afternoon. Miss Birdge, introduced by Mrs. W. S. Adamson, in her discussion stated that four things should be remembered in properly arranging bouquets: composition, balance, unity and focus.

In composition, Miss Birdge stated, the height of the flower should be one and one-half times higher than container or if low container, one and one-half times the width. She further stated that the apex of highest point of arrangement should be directly above the center of base to make perfect balance.

Use unity in the arrangement; avoid clashing colors and also the use of exotic flowers or foliage with simple garden flowers. The container should harmonize in design and shape, and should not be over decorated.

Create a center of interest, Miss Birdge advised, just above the container and avoid crowding and the use of foliage in excess.

Miss Birdge illustrated her instructive lecture with different arrangement of flowers, and concluded her talk on the types of arrangement: line, which is called the Japanese or Modern; mass, called French Empire; Victorian Colonial, and line and mass, called Conservative Modern.

Mrs. Frank Jones called attention to the flower show held in the old Higginbotham building on West Main, and extended an invitation to all to attend.

Mrs. E. E. Layton presided at the opening session of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. James Horton, president, who arrived for the closing half of the program. There were 54 members and guests present for the lecture.
