that reminds me...

Thomas Paine once said "That in which every man is interested is every man's duty to support; and any burden that falls equally on all men, and from which every man is to receive equal benefit is consistent with the most perfect ideas of liberty."

Which brings us right down to brass tacks to our own dear and most precious community in which all of us are striving to maintain and make it progressive and profitable... EASTLAND.

About $12,000 of the 1938 city taxes remain unpaid. Now whether this is due just to indifference, don't give a darn or pure negligence on the part of those who have not paid is a problem in which we are not particularly concerned to ferret out by piece meal or personalities...

Now for the dark side of it. After July 1st all taxes that have not been paid become delinquent and immediately there is slapped on your tax bill an extra penalty and interest which keeps accumulating until you do pay or your property is sued on for taxes...

Now who wants their property all messed up with suits and all those things which makes it costly and expensive if you have a chance to sell your property. It makes it almost impossible to secure a loan for improving it. It makes it almost out of the question to put it up for security on a loan at the very time when possibly a business proposition comes your way in which only a little money will put it over and start you on the road to success...

Frankly no man can truthfully say that he owns the roof over his head even if the property is in his name if he hasn't taken the precaution to see that his taxes have been paid which go for the protection of the very property that he lays claim to.

It takes about $45,000 a year to run the city of Eastland. If all those who own property within the city limits of Eastland would pay up there would never be any need for tax worries nor for the city to be run on a fair and impartial basis and after all the city's affairs belong to the citizens. Members of the City Commission are placed there by you to run it for you and they are doing a wonderful job of it.

There is a matter of informational importance to every tax payer and that is that all taxes collected that are outstanding prior to the year 1937 must be placed in the bond retirement fund, and shall be used for the purchase of outstanding bonds. That's the agreement that the city has with the bond holders. When this agreement was recently made the city commissioners saved the taxpayers several hundred thousand dollars that was knocked off by the bondholders.

Here is a summary of just how the tax payments and delinquencies work: You are permitted, under the City Ordinance, to pay as much as one-half of your taxes at any time before December 1, 1938, and then the balance will not become due until April 1, 1939, and delinquent if not paid before July 1, 1939.

RELIEF HEADS CONFER ABOUT NEW PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Administration relief executives conferred with President Roosevelt today and asked his aid in speeding up congressional action on the 1940 relief appropriation...

Those who met with the president were Administrator Aubrey Williams of the NYA and F. C. Herrington of the WPA. They pointed out that, while the house is debating the relief supply bill with the expectation of passing it this week, the measure still must go through the senate and receive final approval by July 1. Some white house officials characterize the action "very nasty" because delay might leave the relief organizations without funds to provide for persons on their rolls.

They noted there are no funds to meet payrolls after June 30 if congress fails to complete action by that date.

However, when Rep. Paris Smith of Bay City asked the house to concur in senate amendments, the members voted 64 to 56 to order the bill printed in the journal and to defer action until Monday.

Rep. Abe Mays of Atlanta, who made the motion to postpone, said the senate had substituted a new bill. Smith said that it has followed the house bill, with the addition of provisions that manufacturer-retailer contracts must be renewed every two years, and that manufacturers must name their state agencies for legal service.

Members of the Morton Valley Home Demonstration Club served the luncheon at a meeting of the Eastland Lions Club and Morton Valley men Tuesday at Morton Valley.

Proceeds will be used to send extension service club delegates to short courses during July at College Station. Eastland Lions present included R. V. Galloway, W. B. Harris, T. C. Williams, J. O. Earnest, Clyde Grissom, W. Q. Verner, C. H. O'Brien, R. S. Searls, L. R. Burnside, F. M. Kenny, Tilman Stubbfield, Wayne Jackson, E. H. Jones, Dr. W. S. Poe, D. L. Kinnaid, Earl Williams, Claude Strickland, George Harper, Rev. J. I. Cartledge.

Morton Valley men present: R. W. Gordon, Ted May, Nonnie A. Smith, N. E. Jensen, R. P. Sneed, J. W. Harrison, John Nix and Lewis Smith.

The Constitution, the Court, and the People

People's feeling toward the U. S. Supreme Court, and toward the Constitution as interpreted by that court, are apt to be governed by how the most recent decision agrees with their own inner convictions.

When the decision agrees with our own opinions, we very with Shylock, " 'Tis very true: O wise and upright judge!" But when it does not, we mutter of usurpation and tyranny.

It is hard to see how the majority decision in the Hague case can meet anything but general approval, for the right of every man to have his say, the right of all men to meet together to hear each other have it, is familiar and dear to men who do not pretend any law learning.

Stripped of legal verbiage, the issue here is simple: Mayor Hague said, no one can hold a public meeting in Jersey City unless my chief of police says so; I am the law. But the Supreme Court says, no. Local mayors, local ordinances may not nullify the general right of free speech and free assembly. Few who are not lawyers will find much merit in Justice McReynolds' curious contention that "the essential rights of the municipality to control its own parks and streets" is paramount above the general and vital right of the people of the United States freely to discuss their affairs.

In this case, the Supreme Court has again vindicated its position as the true and ultimate shield of the rights of the people. In a republic governed under a written constitution that is the function of a Supreme Court. Disputes as to the meaning of any written instrument must arise. To see that they are settled in a way that protects the guaranteed rights of laborer and landlord, craftsman and capitalist, tramp and tycoon—that is the court's function, and that is the function it has again vindicated.

The differing approach of even the majority in this case was interesting, however. Justices Roberts and Black turned to the 14th amendment, securing to citizens of the United States certain privileges and immunities. Justices Stone and Reed returned directly to the "due process clause" of the fifth amendment: Chief Justice Hughes touched both. But the interesting point is this:

Justices Roberts and Black noted that "natural persons, and they alone, are entitled to the privileges and immunities which Section 1 of the 14th amendment secures for citizens of the United States." And Justices Stone and Reed noted that "... the liberty guaranteed by the due process clause is the liberty of natural, not artificial, persons."

Yet there is a whole body of decisions in favor of corporations in which successful appeal has been made to one or another of those clauses.

Is the Hague decision a forerunner of future decisions which will take the layman's position that the civil liberties of the constitution are the liberties of men, but not necessarily those of inanimate and mechanical corporations? If so, the Hague decision, vitally important in its own right, may be more important still in its implications.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

It is rumored around Austin that Senator Joe Hill may run for the United States Senate next year. He is a ready debater, a natural-born fighter, dynamic campaigner and he would have to be reckoned with.

We're a little behind with the "oldest joke" contest, so here are several entries:

An Irish immigrant was asked as he stepped off a boat in New York, "Are you a Democrat or a Republican?" He answered, "I dunno but I'm agin the government."

A 90-year old mountaineer, with long whiskers, was sitting in the doorway of his cabin when a stranger inquired, "Have you lived here all your life?" He replied, "Not yet."

And of course you remember the one about the farmer visiting a big city for the first time. He was so impressed by the trucks and automobiles whizzing through the streets that he wrote a postcard to the folks back home, "They sure are behind in their hauling here."

Puebla, Mexico, was the scene of the victory of 2,000 Mexicans over 6,000 Frenchmen on Cinco de Mayo and it also recently was the Waterloo of Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth, past International Lions' president who led a pilgrimage of Lions into Mexico. Famous as an orator and conventionalist, Hyer met his downfall ironically enough, at the hands of a street vendor.

A group of the Americans were sitting in Puebla's dreamy central park and Hyer was in the midst of a monologue when a native silently displayed a serape. "No," said Hyer, and attempted to resume his discourse but the street salesman held his ground. "No, no, señor," Hyer exclaimed but still the Mexican stood there years later and will commemorate

'I Want You to Know That I'm Tough!'

Vletas' Career Similar To Those Of Many Grecians

The life of George D. Vletas, 55, who died Saturday at Abilene after a residence there of 25 years is similar to that of many Greeks in this section of West Texas.

Mr. Vletas was born in Greece, came to America and grew up to be a successful American businessman.

He was a first cousin of S. Vletas of Eastland. Two of the pallbearers for the funeral Monday were of Eastland. They were Mike Andrews and Ernest Halkias.

Mr. Vletas was born in Sparta, Greece, September 26, 1883. When 18 years old he came to America with his family and they settled in New York. In 1914 he went to Abilene.

For almost the entire 25 years of his residence Vletas had been in the confectionary and cafe business. At the time of his death he was owner and operator of the Palace of Sweets in Abilene.

Mr. Vletas was a member of the Greek Orthodox Church, a member of the Blue Lodge, Royal Arch Mason, and a member of the Knights Templars at Abilene and of the Shriners in Fort Worth. He also was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Survivors are his wife, two sons, James and Pete, and a daughter, Helen, all of Abilene. Also surviving are three brothers, Nick of Abilene and two in Greece, his mother, who lives in Greece, and three sisters, Mrs. Pete D. Booth of Abilene, and two in Greece.

Funeral was at the Heavenly Rest Episcopal Church in Abilene with the Rev. Sakelarios of Dallas and the Rev. Theodosios of San Angelo, both of the Orthodox Greek Church, officiating. The Rev. Willis P. Gerhart, rector of the Episcopal Church in Abilene, assisted. Burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery at Abilene, beside the grave of a son, John, who died in 1927. Burial was under the auspices of the Abilene Masonic Lodge.

Other pallbearers were Gus Kallas of Lubbock, Bill Michalatos of San Angelo, Pete Karr of San Angelo and George Tthanas of Sweetwater.

January 1, 1939, your taxes become subject to penalty and under Article 7336 of the Revised Civil Statutes, the following penalty shall be payable thereon, to-wit: During the month of February one per cent (1%); during the month of March, two per cent (2%); April, three per cent (3%); May, four per cent (4%); June, five per cent (5%); and on and after the first day of July, eight per cent (8%). All taxes become finally delinquent if not paid before the first day of July, 1939, and bear interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of their delinquency.

All this sums up to one thing for the best interest of all. Go to the city hall today... or as soon as possible before July 1st, and pay your 1938 taxes. It's like going to church... you feel better and above all you have the security of knowing that you have done your part in protecting your own property which should be as dear as life to you.

The City of Eastland doesn't owe you a thing because you are the City of Eastland, and here's another story that should make you proud of being a citizen of Eastland and doubly proud of the opportunity to support it by paying your taxes in full.

During the past four years there has been spent in the city limits of Eastland, which includes streets, recreation and payrolls, etc., the sum of $388,000 which has not cost the taxpayers of Eastland a thin dime and yet has enhanced the value of every foot of property owned by Eastland citizens to their own individual advantage.

Now folks, between now and July first how about going up and pay your 1938 taxes in full and walk out with a precious receipt in your hand that gives you the feeling of real liberty and independence.

And finally we agree with Abbott Lawrence that "No laws, however liberal, will release us from our self imposed taxes."

Many are able to meet all vegetable requirements for the entire year with fresh, stored, or canned vegetables supplied by their gardens. According to FSA's home supervisors, gardens are planned to supply a good supply of fresh vegetables during the summer months and enough additional on the homemaker may can for later use. In addition, potatoes, carrots, cabbage, beets, rutabagas and turnips are stored for use later.

WOODSMEN GO WEST — The westward shift of the lumber industry is reflected in a Forest Service compilation of mill production from 1890 to 1935. Over the period the East has supplied more than 4-5 of the American lumber, 3-4 of which was softwoods and 1-4 hardwoods. Now, however, nearly half of the lumber is cut from the western softwoods, which include Douglas fir, ponderosa pine, white pines, hemlock, spruce, and redwood. The central region has supplied more than 40 per cent of the hardwoods. The cut from 1900 to 1935 was more than half the cut for the previous century, but the mill value for the 1/2 years was considerably greater than half of the 38 billion dollars which was the total estimated mill value of the cut for the 135 years.

250 FROM OVER THIRTY TOWNS ATTEND FOURTH HANKINS SCHOOL MEET

Exes of "H. N. C."—Hankins Normal College, a school that no longer exists—gathered Monday at Bass Lake near Gorman for their fourth annual reunion, elected officers and decided to meet again in June, 1941, at Gorman.

It was the first reunion of the ex-students in four years. Thirty-one Texas cities were represented by 250 persons present.

Cyrus B. Frost of Eastland, president, presided. He and Mrs. Martha Nell Sutton, Gorman, secretary, both were re-elected by acclamation.

Speakers without exception paid tribute to founders of the school, J. F. and J. H. Hankins, now of Lubbock, who were present.

The private school was operated at Gorman from 1895 until 1913 and graduates numbered 2,100 in its history. Speakers stated in their talks held in the skating rink at Bass Lake, secured for the day for the affair, that Hankins was one school where worthwhile youths could always obtain an education if the desire was great enough, even though finances could not be raised immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Hankins, who were also members of the faculty, attended.

Horace Trout, Glen Rose publisher, paid tribute to the teachings of the school founders and operators. He said their teachings included the expression of free thought.

Trout declared that the field of education, like the pulpit, the press and other agencies, has a broad field in which to serve. He said newspapers, the church and educators should be dedicated to policies which will guarantee the preservation of our present form of government.

Other speakers included: Ed S. Pritchard, Sr., of Fort Worth, former Eastland County judge; Dan Powers, Lubbock High School principal; Irving Warren, school superintendent at Miles; Jim Carter, Mercedes; Robert Farmer, Stephenville; the Hankins, now farmers and businessmen; Mrs. Nell Hankins; Ben Grant, Breckenridge, and Frost.

Warren in his address compared educational methods of today and in the years the Hankins school was operated. He said the Hankins were "educational giants, years ahead of their time."

The school operators, continued Warren, taught straight-thinking, tolerance and right living.

Messages from ex-students from over the nation who were unable to attend were read. Included among these was one from Clyde Garrett, representative in congress at Washington.

Bud Warren of Spur led singing. Rev. Earl Lightfoot of Mineral Wells led memorial services for ex-students who have died since the last reunion.

Dr. E. W. Kimble of Gorman, only ex-trustee of the school living, was present.

Both the lighter and serious sides of school life were recalled in speeches and in conversation.

Among those from the distant points attending were Deolia Moats and Jim Moats of Houston.

Towns represented were Lipan, Tahoka, Winters, Lubbock, Eastland, Gorman, Dickens, Melki, Ranger, Rising Star, Breckenridge, San Antonio, Pleasanton, Miles, De Leon, Carbon, Stephenville, Stamford, Lorenzo, Eolian, Brownwood, Quitaque, Glen Rose, Houston, Mercury, Mineral Wells, Milford, Fort Worth, Wellington, Moody and Dallas.

Transcript of a case heard in the 11th Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland is being prepared for transmittal to the U. S. Supreme Court at Washington, according to Dan Childress, clerk.

Clerk Childress stated that this is the third time in 12 years that records have been sent to the highest court in the nation from the appellate court at Eastland.

The case is titled International Great Northern Railroad Company and others vs. Mary M. Lucas and others. The case had its beginning in Cherokee county and Lucas and others, plaintiffs, recovered $26,000 in the case which involved personal injuries.

The railroad appealed to the court of civil appeals at Texarkana. By order of the Supreme Court of Texas the case was ordered transferred Jan. 1, 1938, to the Eastland appellate court.

The Eastland court affirmed the case Dec. 16, 1938, and the railroad appealed to the Supreme Court of Texas Feb. 16, 1939. The Supreme Court of Texas refused a writ of error. Then the appeal to the U. S. high court was taken.

The transcript, to be sent this week, involves 500 typewritten pages.

Eastland To Na

Semi-annual is celebrated at a meeting at 8 o'clock announced. Paul Nunn, Barron, V. J.

Here is where your electricity comes from. Manufactured in modern, efficient power plants your electricity is transmitted over a vast network of wires carried on thousands of poles . . . through sub-stations and transformers . . . into your home to heat your electric iron, light your home or do other useful jobs.

Every step in the process of making and delivering electricity is guided by highly trained, expert workers. Many million dollars worth of modern equipment is operated and maintained by many people who are kept constantly at work . . . many thousands of dollars are spent each week for wages . . . so that other customers receive good electric service!

Good Electric Service Doesn't Just Happen

I. E. LEWIS, Manager

'THE BEAR WENT OVER THE MOUNTAIN...'

You remember why, don't you? Certainly. It was "to see what he could see."

And it's for just this same beautifully simple reason that thousands of knowing people run through the advertisements in their daily newspaper.

For, it seems, civilized men and women are seldom satisfied with their lot. In this ever-producing age they have an insatiable appetite for something new which may make life brighter. That something may be an electric razor, or new summer clothes . . . a good book, or a ride in a streamlined train.

So they turn the newspaper pages to see what they can see. There they're able to find what it is, why it is, where it is, and how much it is. And the advertisements say, "Come and get it!"

Dr. Bob Gray Tells Texas Experiment In Public Schools

First in the nation to launch such a far-flung project, Texas is in the midst of a classroom revision program that has no precedent in educational annals, Dr. Bob Gray, University of Texas education professor, said today at Austin.

Dr. Gray is a brother of Mrs. E. C. Satterwhite, Mrs. R. B. Braly and Mrs. May Harrison of Eastland.

In cooperation with the research committee, Division of Superintendence, Texas State Teachers Association, The University of Texas has set up a program in the public schools of the state to learn just what is wrong with classroom instruction and what to do about it.

In line with this plan, a three-day conference on "The Improvement of Classroom Instruction" is being held this week at the university.

ALEX FAMBRO TRIAL RELAYED UNTIL SEPT. 18

BAIRD, June 14.—Alex Fambro, 53, under indictment on a charge of murdering Dave Wargley, Stephens county ranchman, last November 16, will face trial for the third time, at Abilene, Judge Milburn S. Long set the date for September 18 in granting a continuance to Fambro, whose second trial had begun here Monday.

The defendant was tried in Breckenridge last November. The jury disagreed. The case was transferred to Callahan county. Monday a jury was secured, and when court opened Tuesday morning, it was to discover that the state's principal witness, J. W. Cooper, had become seriously ill in the night and had been taken to an Eastland hospital.

Court recessed until Tuesday afternoon, when Judge Long called in the jury and stated inability to go ahead because of the illness of Cooper. Witnesses were informed of continuance and transfer to Taylor county and told they would not be given further notice to appear.

Cooper was the only eye witness to the tragedy. Monday he was among those sworn. Cooper's condition was reported better Wednesday morning at Eastland.

Dr. Gould said today that while he could see fairly well with his new eyes, with the aid of special glasses, he was having to "learn" to see all over again, and it would probably be four or five years before his sight was fully restored.

Senators Don't Know Hoyle or the Bible

AUSTIN, Texas.—Senators displayed their unfamiliarity with the Bible and with Hoyle when they engaged in debate on a road bond assumption bill this week.

Sen. G. H. Nelson of Lubbock was arguing that if county commissioners' courts were limited to expending state aid to pay off road bonds, warrants and debts, market prices of the securities would be inflated. If the commissioners were given the option to pay debts or build new roads he said they would be like a stud poker player.

They would have five cards showing and one in the hole," Nelson said.

Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston was prompt with a correction. A little later Sen. Gordon Burns of Huntsville hinted that Nelson's legislative career did not lack inconsistencies.

"He who is not guilty should cast the first stone," retorted Nelson.

Burns decided Nelson was lacking in familiarity with the Bible also and corrected him. "He who is without sin," is the quotation Burns informed the Lubbock senator.

Germany Accused Of Hearing Fraud By A Commission

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The German-American Mixed Claims Commission, charging the German government with commission of fraud, today ruled in favor of American claims for approximately $50,000,000 damages, growing out of the wartime Black Tom and Kingsland disasters.

Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, the impartial umpire of the three-man international tribunal, said that evidence convinced him that a German agent before the commission had presented fraudulent evidence which led to the commission's previous decisions rejecting the American claims.

It was believed to be the first time that an international tribunal had found a major power guilty of fraud.

Last Texas Bank Robbery Believed To Be Solved Now

AUSTIN, June 15.—Public safety department officials announced today that fingerprints of the man who robbed the bank at Thorndale on April 18, coincided with those of Ralph Gresham, 20, captured in Wharton County after the Peoples State Bank at Hallettsville was robbed yesterday.

The Thorndale robbery is the only one of six in Texas this year that remained unsolved. No charges have been filed in connection with it.

State police left here today for Hallettsville to question Gresham concerning the Thorndale robbery.

Gresham was captured only a few hours after the Peoples State Bank was robbed yesterday of $1,200. Officers traced the license number of the automobile he drove and chief deputy Buck Flournoy of Wharton County, was waiting at Boling, Gresham's home, when he arrived.

Flournoy recovered the bank loot from the back seat of Gresham's automobile.

To Help Pick Miss Eastland

Recognized as one of the most brilliant dance directors in the United States, Miss Lauretta Jefferson will be in Eastland today to serve as one of the judges in the contest at the Connellee Theatre at 5 p. m. when "Miss Eastland" will be chosen. Even if "Miss Eastland" is not crowned as Texas Sweetheart, she will be offered a place in the cast of Casa Manana at an attractive salary—an opportunity for any ambitious for a stage or screen career.

Miss Jefferson is serving for the fourth season as Casa Manana dance director, coming down from New York where she has been serving in that capacity with the Diamond Horse and the Aquacade, big Manhattan successes of Billy Rose.

Lou Wolfson, executive director of Casa Manana, will be the other judge of the contest here.

Germany Accused Of Hearing Fraud By A Commission

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The German-American Mixed Claims Commission, charging the German government with commission of fraud, today ruled in favor of American claims for approximately $50,000,000 damages, growing out of the wartime Black Tom and Kingsland disasters.

Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, the impartial umpire of the three-man international tribunal, said that evidence convinced him that a German agent before the commission had presented fraudulent evidence which led to the commission's previous decisions rejecting the American claims.

It was believed to be the first time that an international tribunal had found a major power guilty of fraud.

Anyway It Is Figured, the Consumer Pays the Bill

Out of the monthly income and the family budget so much of each dollar is required for housing. Next to food and water, as necessities, shelter takes second place. The shelter cost ranges all the way from 15 to 25%, and is naturally high because the labor and material which go into houses are high, and the tax burden on real estate is the highest cost of all.

Some folks rent rather than buy, but they pay the costs just the same, with all the extras added. In addition to paying all the costs the renter never has much to show for his rent receipts. Later on, when the job is gone, or old age overtakes him, he discovers his mistake, but the eleventh hour is too late.
