Ducal Dream?

In such days as these, Duke Edward of Windsor is probably not the only one who sighs for a faraway island retreat where he can lie lazily and watch the long rollers swish in from the South Pacific.

But he is one of the few who are in a position to get it. The Duke has just bought a plantation of several hundred acres atop Diamond Head overlooking Honolulu, Hawaii. It is supposed to be adapted to the raising of the macadamia nut whose kernel has a crisp tangy flavor and whose cultivation is being fostered in the islands.

Next winter it is expected that the Duke will go to Hawaii to inspect his property and with his Duchess visit Hawaii for the first time.

For those who have thought romantically of the Duke and his American Duchess as today's Great Lovers, this furnishes the opportunity of a final chapter: the world well lost, they turn at last to their own little South Sea paradise, to become Lotophagi, Lotus-Eaters filled with a dreamy contentment and complete forgetfulness of home. Lotus, with macadamia for dessert!

U. S. Educators Alive to Their Responsibility

In our democratic country we have always placed our faith in education.

Politically we trust public opinion, and so we have relied on education to insure that public opinion shall be informed and sound. Economically we have depended on individualism, and so we have charged education with producing better individuals. Socially we rely on gradual and enlightened progress, and so we have placed our faith in universal education to develop minds that shall have social vision.

No other country in the world has ever placed such faith in education. In no other country is every fourth person a full-time student in school or college. In no other country is there an army of more than a million teachers such as our own.

In recent years, however, there has been a great deal of earnest self-examination by American educators. They have been asking one another, "Exactly what is the job we should be doing with all this vast plant?" And "Are we doing it?"

There are several reasons for such questioning. First, since the American economic machine broke down in 1932, it is evident that the education of those who permitted such a collapse might be at fault. And second, a new kind of "education" has arisen in a large part of the world, aimed at "conditioning" students to accept a prescribed body of belief, rather than to become truth-seekers on their own account. Both these new phenomena have led educators to search deeply into the aims and methods of American education.

Most recent of these searchings is a series of articles on the general challenge of democracy to education which make up a whole number of the current Survey Graphic magazine, and in which prominent educators set forth their ideas of the job to be done.

Schools are everyday's business in America, and so it is fitting that everybody give them some thought. Certain it is, as the Survey points out, that when people who have had the benefit of the best education we can devise fall victims of crackpot orators, one-shot economic panaceas, and catch-penny propaganda, it is time to consider whether education has really done the job.

The best evidence of the vitality of American education is this very self-searching on the part of educators. It is only when an educational system, like any system, begins to believe that all has been accomplished, all learned, all perfected, that decay is evident. As long as American educators continue to discuss with their present ardor "What's wrong with education?" there is always hope that education will be kept abreast of modern needs.

Never before was this need more critical. There are threats today to the very basis of what we know as the democratic way of life—the individual and his development as the core of society. It is reassuring to see educators consciously attacking the problem and accepting their responsibility.

Rumor has it that Stalin signed the new Nazi-Red pact after hearing a phonograph record. This establishes that Joseph's finger movement is in top form, but, prompted by a swing disc, can he cut a rug?

The world's fair, we read, will close its first year with a substantial sum of cash in the bank. Prosperity, it seems, hasn't been around the corner, but rather in the World of Tomorrow.

Wisconsin reports a surplus of cranberries. One more reason why we can use a double Thanksgiving this year.

London reports that several Nazi chieftains have large sums salted away in case things go a bit awry. Thus we find racketeering, as introduced by American movies, spreads to the realm of dictators.

A resident of rural Connecticut reports hearing a whistling cow. A distant relative, no doubt, of the pink elephant and the lavender alligator.

Harvey Sees Bright Chevrolet Future With New Models

O. E. Harvey, local Chevrolet dealer, in an interview today looked forward to a bright future with the showing of the new 1940 Chevrolet at the Harvey Chevrolet Company on Saturday, October 14th.

Harvey commented upon the economic importance of the automobile industry, of which Chevrolet is an important part, according to the 1931 report of the United States Government Census for Manufacturers, which shows the following ranking of the five largest industries in the United States in volume of production.

The importance of the automobile industry may be further realized by a brief comparison of the transportation it furnishes with that of the steam railways. Someone has said that the steam railways are the arteries of our nation. If that is true, automobile transportation is the network of capillaries that distributes the life blood of commerce to every cranny and nook reached by man.

Important as are the great systems of railways, their capacity for transportation is limited by immovable ribbons of steel. They can serve only the communities through which they pass. The population living at a distance from railways must depend upon some other means of transportation to bring to their doors the things needed to sustain life and develop the soil.

Harvey continued by informing us that again Chevrolet will do its part in adding to man's transportation facilities by giving the public a new and improved model which will be on display Saturday, October 14.

March On Austin By Pensioners Will Start October 16th

AUSTIN, Tex.—Marching on the capitol as a means to effect legislation will be tried again Oct. 16 by advocates of an old age pension tax.

"Zephyr" Davis, son of the son of the famous "Cyclone" Davis of earlier Texas days will lead the marchers, who plan to assemble their main army at Dallas Oct. 16. Past marches on the capitol have been futile. Most publicized was really a motorcade. It was a trip of irate Rio Grande Valley citizens to protest against a threatened House decision in an election contest over the Lower Valley's representative.

So terrifying were the reports of the angry move on the capitol that Sergeant at Arms Joe White strapped on a six-shooter, closed both sets of doors to the House, and prepared to meet force with force, if necessary.

There was no outbreak, however. Former Rep. Ray Holder of Lancaster, met the delegation on behalf of Speaker W. S. Barron and arranged for a committee to be heard. This satisfied the "marchers."

Relief applicants have staged several marches on Austin, usually starting at San Antonio. An oil field special train once was run to Austin to support demands of one faction of the industry.

Legion Official Tells of Program For Coming Year

Program for the American Legion the coming year was discussed by W. F. Myers of El Paso, commander of the fifth division of the legion in Texas, at a special meeting of the Eastland post Monday night at the Harrison building.

The division Myers heads, one of the five in Texas, is the largest in the state and covers a 675-square mile territory. He had just returned from a state meeting of legion officials at Austin and was beginning a series of official visits to posts in districts 16, 17 and 21. He will attend meetings of posts in districts 18 and 19, others in his division, next spring.

Myers' schedule for his visits at this time is as follows: (for this week) Sweetwater, Tuesday; San Angelo, Wednesday; Coleman, Thursday; Breckenridge Saturday and Sunday; (next week) Midland, Monday; Crane, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Pecos. At Breckenridge he will attend a district 17 convention and at Crane take part in a dedication of a legion hut.

The American Legion hopes to increase its membership this year in Texas from 27,000 to 30,000, Myers said in discussing the program for the year.

Community service should play an important part in activities of posts, he said. "The American Legion has been receiving help for 20 years and we hope to help our communities for the next 20," the visitor declared.

Another point in this year's program is for the assistance of small lodges by larger lodges.

Speaking of changes in veteran's hospital laws, Myers complimented the work of J. F. Mitchell, service officer of the Eastland post. He praised the Eastland lodge on its gain in members and the work of Commander Henry Pullman. The Eastland post now has nearly 150 members.

The speaker also asserted that the U. S. last year adopted 92 per cent of the American Legion's defense recommendations. He also said that in the last four years the American Legion has spent $1,000,000 in assisting in getting evidence on Un-American activities in this country. The Dies committee received part of this sum.

Following his regular talk, Myers answered questions of members of the post on veteran's activities. The meeting was called unexpectedly. Sixteen attended.

Many have stated, it was declared, that the new Ford is undoubtedly the greatest built by the Ford company, both in its appearance and performing qualities.

Peanut Purchase Total 80 Tons, But Rain Slows Market

J. F. Moseley, in charge of the Ranger peanut warehouse for the Southwestern Peanut Growers association, stated today that rains the past two days had slowed up receipt of peanuts, but that a large number had been received the last four days of last week.

The warehouse in Ranger was opened on Wednesday, and growers began marketing their peanuts immediately. On Tuesday a total of 80 tons had been received, a big part of which had been graded No. 1, and which brings the highest price. Comparatively few of the peanuts graded as low as No. 3.

Rains Monday and Tuesday slowed down receipts, it was stated.

ed, because growers were unwilling to take a chance on getting their peanuts wet.

ONE INCOME THAT'S INCREASED MIGHTILY SINCE 1932!

TEXAS' INCOME FROM BEER TAXES IN 1938
$2,132,891.90

IN 1932 (last year before repeal) BEER'S TAXES WERE PRACTICALLY NOTHING!

*Data from Liquor Control Board, includes beer license fees and estimate (not official) of mixed license fees.

BEER helps even those who do not drink it! To the tune of a million dollars a day nation-wide, beer tax revenue reaches back into every community, to help pay for relief, for public works, for education... and to lift a burden that would otherwise rest directly on the taxpayers.

For us? Brewers of America realize this depends on keeping beer retailing as wholesome as beer itself. They want to help public officials in every possible way. They cannot enforce laws. But they can—and will—cooperate!

May we send you a booklet telling of their unusual self-regulation program? Address: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

scene, the luncheon marking the opening session of the Civic League and Garden Club was acclaimed as an outstanding event in the new club year.

Held in the lower assembly room of the First Methodist church, the affair was presided over by Mrs. H. H. Durham. Invocation was given by Mrs. W. P. Leslie with the welcome address made by Mrs. E. E. Layton, president.

Greetings were brought from the State Federation by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, who cancelled a luncheon engagement in Graham in order to be present. Mrs. Perkins presented the Club with a lovely huge bouquet of gladioli at the close of her brief talk.

Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger, president of Sixth District, brought greetings from the district.

Mrs. Will Lake of Fort Worth, Federation of Garden Clubs, was introduced as guest speaker. The subject of her talk was on Garden clubs and she gave an interesting discussion of her recent trip to the Eastern and Northern states in the interest of garden clubs. She urged every one to use the native plants to make an artistic setting in the yards and gardens in Texas. She announced the Fall Flower Show to be held in Dallas on Oct. 13 to 15.

A musical program in keeping with the theme was presented by Mrs. Victor Ginn, singing the vocal selection, "In Old Madrid" by Trotter, and "Have You Ever Been To Texas in the Spring" by Marsh. A Spanish Orchestra played old Spanish and Mexican favorites during the luncheon hour.

The luncheon tables were laid in white with the Spanish theme carried in the decorations. Figurines were placed along the centering with Spanish scenes as background and interspersed with Mexican Cacti in colorful Mexican pottery. Tiny straw baskets of Mexican native flowers, and the originally designed programs marked the places.

The room was a scene of exotic beauty with Mexican tapestry, Spanish sombreros, Mexican pottery and tropical plants used throughout in the decorations. A display table, placed at the entrance, was laid in a Spanish cloth with a centering of Mexican blown glass and fall garden flowers used. Mrs. W. P. Leslie and Mrs. Jack Frost had charge of this table.

A menu of Mexican dishes was served with cocktails of tomato aspic served to the guest as they entered. A three course luncheon of Ascado De Res Salca Espanola; Batabelles in Mantiquilla; Estole Cecido, Frijoles; Tortillan; Pan. Tehelardo; Euslado De Pena; Prelines, was served to approximately 125 guests registered from Brownwood, Fort Worth, Goldthwaite, Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge and Eastland.

Mrs. Art Johnson, with the assistance of Mrs. F. M. Kenny, and Mrs. Dan Childress, had charge of the decoration. Mrs. T. P. Johnson had charge of ticket sales and Mrs. Frank Castleberry was general chairman for the affair.
