More Boys To Be Enrolled In NYA Project in Ranger

Between 20 and 25 additional boys will be enrolled in the Ranger NYA project, according to present plans, and another 20 or 25 will be enrolled by Sept. 1 to increase the personnel of the project to approximately 125.

At present there is room for more boys in the wood shop and in the radio shop, while the metal shop project and the airplane mechanics training shop have about a full quota of enrollees.

Boys on the projects at present are divided between the four shops, with the metal shop having the largest enrollment, with 36, the airplane mechanics ranking second with 25, the radio shop third with 12 and only nine taking the woodwork training.

Tentative plans call for converting the recreation building into the NYA boys' barracks into an other barracks building, and building of a new recreation building 40 by 60 feet. One barracks building is now under construction and is nearing completion and still another is to be built to care for the additional boys to be enrolled.

The residence being remodeled for C. R. Squires, project supervisor, is nearing completion and it is expected that it will be occupied by Aug. 15.

Local Rotarians Have Visitors

Eastland Rotarians met in regular weekly session Monday. The meeting was presided over by J. W. Ligon, vice-president, in the absence of President W. P. Leslie. Jack Murhead, in charge of the program for that date, was absent and no program was rendered.

Jim Horton will have charge of the program for next week's meeting.

Cattle Population Of Texas Drops As Sheep On Increase

AUSTIN, Texas—The Texas range is witnessing a hardpressed cattle industry, a leveled-off production of hogs, large gains in milk cows, and a phenomenal increase in sheep.

This picture of the State's livestock industry comes from a 20-year survey just published by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Since 1920 more than a million head of cattle have vanished—at least the 1940 head of 6,677,000 head is that much smaller than the one of 1920, though there have been wide fluctuations from one year to the next during the last two decades.

Low point of the twenty years was in 1928, when there were only 5,950,000 head of cattle in the State. The peak was reached in 1934 with 8,410,000 head.

It is possible, declares Dr. F. A. Buechel, the Bureau's livestock expert, that the decline in cattle since 1937 is simply a "dip that may curve upward again in the next few years."

Cattle marketings for the last fifteen years have ranged between 1,819,775 head in 1932 and 2,917,109 in 1939. Average annual marketings for the 15-year period were estimated at 2,298,509.

Dairy cattle, however, have been on a steady upgrade with only two years of retardation—both slight in effect—1925 and 1935. The number of milk cows has increased from 930,000 head in 1920 to 1,443,000 head in 1940.

The swine industry for the last two decades has experienced a succession of surges and recessions, with the number declining from 2,580,000 head in 1920 to 2,293,000 in 1940. The droves increased almost a hundred thousand head in 1921, but the following year started a slump that carried them to only 1,460,000 head in 1926. Improvement in 1927 and 1928 was followed by another decline for several years. By 1933 the number had risen to 2,260,000 head, dropping almost immediately to a new low of 1,399,000 in 1935. Since then gains have been fairly regular. Average annual marketings of hogs has been 1,401,527 head.

Sheep-raising, however, is apparently the "white hope" of the livestock industry in Texas—with flocks tripling in the last two decades. From 3,360,000 head in 1920, these animals have increased to 10,069,000 head in 1940. The only halt in this upswing was in 1935 and 1936 when the number dropped nearly a million head from 1934 and totaled only a little over 7,000,000 head.

Sheep marketings, too, have shown a relatively steady increase—from 680,439 head in 1925 to 3,023,794 head in 1938 and 2,634,095 in 1939. Low points were in 1930 and 1935, both followed by large gains the next year. Average marketings for the 15-year period were 1,529,206 head.

Destruction of Economics Structure Is Stressed Before Ginner's of the West Texas Area by WTCC Secretary

ABILENE, Aug. 8.—The West Texas Ginner's Association, holding annual convention in Abilene Thursday, heard D. A. Bandoen describe the "disruption and destruction of an economic and social structure for a proud, cultured and thriving people" residing in an area twice as large as pre-war Germany. "I refer not," he said, "to ruthless and selfish destruction of many nations and empires, but to the disruption and destruction of the agricultural economy of West Texas, Texas and the Southwest."

Bandoen is manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He is an acknowledged authority on economic causes and consequences. His address to the area's ginner's on their problems, the plight of Texas cotton farmers and the cotton industry, was broadcast over a radio network.

While endorsing the broad agricultural objectives of the federal government, including crop regulation and control as a basic policy in striving for parity for farm products, the WTCC executive vigorously attacked the regulations under which the cotton program is administered. He charged that the allotment formulas set up by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration are grossly unfair to West Texas and to Texas. Regulations applied to the act, he contended, have violated the will and intent of Congress until—so far as Texas is concerned—the annual reduction of cotton acreage is approaching 10,000,000 acres; a $96,000,000 per year planting and harvesting payroll has vanished; and the annual income from cotton has fallen 65 per cent—all within the past decade.

This has come about, Bandoen said, under laws whose purposes are good and desirable, but whose application is bad. The practices of inequitable allotments to Texas were started, he said, under the old Bankhead act in 1933, and have been continued under the original and amended Triple-A from 1935 on. He said that under these practices states of the old South have been allowed virtually "normal production"—in some cases actually exceeding the production of uncontrolled years prior to regulation—while Texas has been cut and cut, until for 1940, its allotment is 223,500 acres under 1939, by which he said, "this state must bear 47 per cent of the nation's cotton reduction while producing only 31 1-2 per cent of its cotton."

"Now," said Bandoen, "what does this all add up to? It adds up to Texas, when judged by a ten-year average production, producing less and less of the nation's cotton, while other states are producing more and more. They say that the New Orleans AAA administrator governs our cotton allotment in accordance with the same rules as applied to the old South. We say the conditions between the old South and the Southwest are wholly different. They have small farm units, we have large. They can fertilize, we cannot. They have normal and consistent moisture which we do not have. For reasons such as the above, and in order to secure an administration conforming with our conditions, we think it would be helpful to have a separate administrator of the AAA for the Southwest. In this way we might secure administration conforming more to our conditions, and when nature penalizes us with a couple of dry years and low yields, we might be able to prevent the bureaucrats from again penalizing us with reduced cotton allotments.

"All that Texas and West Texas seek," said Bandoen in conclusion, "is an allotment plan that will make our losses and benefits, whatever they be, proportionate with the other fellow's, and that will put an end to the shifting of cotton production from the low cost production states to the high cost production states. We ask all ginner's, farmers, ranchers, oil men, merchants and bankers to join with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, whose policies I have enunciated, in demanding a cotton allotment plan which, in sales of cotton, will result in Texas producing its fair share of the national quota."

THEFT RING OF WIDE SCOPE IS BROKEN UP

District Attorney Earl Conner, Jr., of Eastland, and Eastland County Sheriff Loss Woods and his men, working together, have broken into what appears to be an inter-state and possible an international ring of thieves that have been stealing mercury from gas meters over this section.

Sixteen indictments for theft of mercury, mostly from the Phillips Petroleum Company and Lone Star Gas Company meters, were returned by the Eastland county grand jury which adjourned late Friday. Of these indictments 11 persons have been arrested and are either being held in jail or have been freed on bond.

According to the sheriff's office there was a large number of men going about over the country breaking into gas meters, extracting the mercury and selling it to a "fence" who paid them seventy cents a pound for it. The "fence" then sold it at $2.60 wholesale, making a net profit of $1.90 per pound.

Due to the fact that mercury is very valuable for use in making high explosives there was a ready market for it. Also there is no way to identify one pound of it from another after it has been removed from its container, and it has been a hard matter to run down and catch the parties guilty of stealing it.

A man and his wife, officers believe were the "fence" handling the stolen mercury. They were located in Electra, Texas, but so far have made good their escape.

HISTORIC MILL GRINDS AWAY

DENTON, Md.—A 270-year-old mill which produced meal for General Washington's army still is in use today. According to tradition, old Murray's Mill near Denton is 270 years old, and meal from the building was sent to the Continental Army at Valley Forge.

36 BILLS ARE RETURNED BY GRAND JURY

The Eastland County Grand Jury which recessed Friday after having been in session 14 days, made the following report to Judge Geo. L. Davenport:

Grand Jury Report: 91st District Court, June Term, A. D. 1940

August 2, 1940

State of Texas
County of Eastland
To the Honorable George L. Davenport, Judge of said court:

We, the Grand Jury for the 91st District Court for the June term 1940, desire to submit our final report.

During the June term of the 91st District Court we have been in session fourteen days, during which time we have examined 143 witnesses. As a result of our examinations and investigations we have returned 36 indictments. The grand jury has made a thorough investigation of all matters which have been brought to our attention by the citizens and the officers. We have endeavored to dispose of all matters under consideration to the best of our ability and in keeping with the court's charge and in compliance with our laws.

We wish to commend Loss Woods and the other officers and all citizens who have assisted the grand jury for their faithful attendance and efficient service during their term and we wish to express our appreciation to the police departments of the various towns in the county for their cooperation with the county officers and for their active interest in behalf of their respective communities in the enforcement of the law. We wish to especially thank the District Attorney, Earl Conner, Jr., for his untiring efforts and assistance in making independent investigations for us in other counties which have made it possible for us to more readily discharge our duties, and which has meant considerable saving to Eastland County in witness fees.

We suggest to all citizens of Eastland county that they cooperate with their officers actively by reporting law violations in order that the violators might be more quickly apprehended and punished. We are exceedingly glad to report that there are fewer violations of the statute making it a crime to drive upon a highway while under the influence of intoxicating liquor at this time, so far as our investigation reveals, than at any time during the past two years, and if all citizens would take it upon themselves to report violations of this nature to the officers, we feel sure that this particular violation would decrease.

An inspection of the jail house reveals that Mr. Ross Crossley is maintaining it in an efficient manner and that the prisoners are being properly cared for and are receiving medical attention when needed.

Having completed our investigations pertaining to all matters where possible to do so at this time, we respectfully request that we be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) J. H. Mitchell, Foreman
(Signed) Jack Agnew, Sec.

Sgt. Patrick Mossley, in charge of the United States Army recruiting service, stationed at Eastland, announced Saturday that he would be in Ranger one day each week to interview those who might want to enlist in the army.

Sgt. Hossley stated that he would be at the Ranger Post Office each Tuesday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., and could be contacted there by anyone desiring information about army training.

Changes Are Urged In the School Law

AUSTIN, Aug. 8.—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's committee to recommend school law improvements, today suggested that the state superintendent be appointed for six years by the board of education and be paid $6,000 to $10,000 a year.

RUSSELL OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN WITH A PROMISE OF SERVICE

Farm Income In June Was Higher Than During '39

AUSTIN, Texas—Texas farmers took in more cash during June than they did in June, 1939, University of Texas business records show.

An index of agricultural cash income for the State, computed by the University Bureau of Business Research, stood at 95.5, or more than six points above that for June of last year.

A decline of seven points occurred from the May index, however.

Despite a shortage of $3,000,000 for the first half of the year Dr. F. A. Buechel, bureau assistant director and statistician, estimates that farmers will receive at least as much cash for their products during 1940 as they did in 1939.

He bases his forecast on the belief that livestock marketings will pick up during the next six months and that the quality of livestock marketed will be improved by the generally good range and crop conditions throughout most of the State at this time.

Total income for the State for the first half of 1940 was $131,788,000, as compared with $134,569,000 for the first six months of 1939.

Lambert Decides Not To Run and Thanks Supporters

L. J. Lambert, who ran second in the three-man race for commissioner of Precinct 1, announced today that he would not be a candidate in the second primary election. In issuing his statement Lambert thanked the voters of the first precinct for their support in the first primary. His statement follows:

"To the Voters of Commissioners' Precinct No. 1, Eastland, Texas.

"After mature deliberation and consultation with true friends, I have concluded to withdraw from the race as a candidate for Commissioner of this Precinct.

"The present commissioner, Henry Davenport, received a plurality of the votes cast in the July primary, which indicates that the people of this precinct are reasonably satisfied with his services and perhaps want to continue him in office for another two years. To wage an effective campaign through the second primary would require my friends to withstand the August heat and devote their time and energy in my behalf. I am most grateful to those loyal friends and supporters who have urged me to continue the fight, but I feel that to do so, would be exacting more from them than would be fair and just, and I am, therefore, instructing the County Chairman not to place my name on the official ballot for the second primary, with the assurance to my friends that I will be a candidate for the Commissioner of this precinct two years from now.

"I shall ever be indebted to those who have given me their support and encouragement, and in withdrawing from this race, I wish to publicly express my highest appreciation for the conduct of my worthy opponents in the campaign preceding the first primary.

"Sincerely yours,

MASONS TO MEET

The Eastland Chapter of Royal Arch Masons will meet Friday night, August 9, for work in Most Excellent Master and Royal Arch degrees. The meeting will begin at 8:30 at Masonic Temple. All members are requested to be present.

Stressing his motto, "Not Politics But Service," Sam Russell of Stephenville, candidate for congress from the 17th district, formally opened his run-off campaign for that office in an address at Breckenridge Wednesday night.

Speaking from the east steps of Stephens county's magnificent courthouse, Russell seemed much inspired by the cheering thousands of men, women and children—the crowd was estimated at more than 5,000 and said to have been as large as any to which Governor O'Daniel spoke to there—that crowded the spacious lawn and overflowed into the streets on either side.

Hal Collins of Mineral Wells, a life-long friend of Russell, introduced him as a man he had known since childhood and one that he knew was capable, honest and sincere. "My friends I want you to vote for Sam Russell and I assure you that if you do you will never see the day that you will regret that you sent him to represent you in congress," Collins said.

"I'll never vote for any fantastic pension plan such as the noted Townsend $200 per month scheme which I know is impossible just in order that I might lead some old folks into voting for me or for any other reason," Russell declared evidencing some feeling in the matter. "My opponent in the campaign, who was the only member of the Texas Delegation in congress to vote for the Townsend plan, admits that he knew it was impossible but he did nothing about it except to vote for it. Had I been your representative in congress I would not only not have voted for it but I would have done something else, I would have made a fight against it," he declared.

Russell said he was in favor of paying the aged needy assistance just as we voted in 1935. "If you will have your legislature to provide the necessary funds for this purpose it will be paid, for the Federal government will pay their part as stipulated in the measure which is all they can legally pay unless the Federal constitution is amended and most of you old folks will have passed on to your reward in the other world before this can happen," he said.

In speaking of pensions Russell declared his opposition to the paying of large pensions to past presidents' widows, widows of congressmen, senators and retired federal judges. He also voiced the belief that more economy should be practiced in government and pledged his efforts in that direction.

On the matter of taxation, which he declared was of vital interest to every one, the speaker said that he was in favor of the lowest tax rate possible for the operation of the government; that taxes should be equal and uniform and that if they were those most able to pay would and should pay the most.

On home ownership Russell took the view that the government should encourage and assist in the buying of homes. This, he said, could be done without loss to the government.

Without assuming to parade his virtues or mix religion with political matters, Russell said that he had lived his lifetime in Erath county where he had served 21 years, first as county attorney, then as district attorney and now as district judge and that if any one desired to know anything about him they could go to those who knew him best and ask.

"I am in favor of morality and its influence, and whenever a moral question comes before the congress, I shall always vote on the moral side. I believe it is the safest protection for the boys and girls and the home, state and nation," Russell said.

The speaker also spoke at some length on the subject of home ownership.

Outstanding C. of C. Official Is To Speak In Eastland

Building the Hemisphere

There is a lot of talk about the Western Hemisphere these days, especially with an emergency conference of its foreign ministers in session at Havana.

Nearly all this talk is concerned, and properly so, with specific things that can be done to improve the prospects of the western national-political tie-ups, economic co-operation, military co-ordination.

But we would do well to keep one eye on the other forces which, without benefit of ballyhoo, are gradually building a greater civilization, throughout the Western Hemisphere, linking it together as one great unified area.

Canada, for instance, will never be the same after this war, no matter what its outcome. To help defend Britain, it is building vast industries where there were no industries before. The present program is designed to make Canada entirely independent of any outside source for weapons and munitions of war.

This means that Canada after the war will be in a far better position to maintain independence, should it wish to do so, or find it necessary to do so, than it was after the last war. It means that a vast area of North America is better able to defend itself than ever before.

Meanwhile Royal Dutch Shell moves bodily out of The Hague, and holds its first meeting in Curacao, Netherlands West Indies. Other companies with European headquarters from which American resources were exploited are expected to follow suit.

Brazil is building a great steel industry and her own naval vessels. She is improving her railroads. A second trans-Andean railroad between Bolivia and Brazil is projected. Peru is opening a road system from the Pacific coast over to Andes into the Amazon hinterland.

Even while diplomats struggle with formalities, great forces are at work transferring centers of gravity from Europe to America. It is here, despite the frantic efforts of parts of Europe to produce through militarism the semblance of dynamics, that really vital dynamics are at work.

A college tennis star has studied four years for the diplomatic service. In deference to the anti-appeasement trend, he will avoid the word "Love."

Getting to Sleep on a Warm Summer Night

I GIVE YOU TEXAS . . .

By BOYCE HOUSE

Have you ever seen a billion dollars walking? Well, I have, I have (paraphrasing the sentimental song of a few seasons ago about a walking and talking dream). This billion dollars, of course, talked—because we all know that money talks.

The billion dollars in breeches was Harry Sinclair, probably the most important individual in the domain of oil in all the world and certainly the most picturesque personality in petroleum.

set of the lips, the forward thrust of the head, the piercing glance. "Power", that's the word for Sinclair. Here is a man who is accustomed to accomplishing anything that he sets out to do; a man who brushes aside obstacles or smashes through them, as need be.

Yet the tycoon has his lighter side. When a news photographer (slower than the others) had failed to flare his light bulb for a shot of Sinclair taking the oath, the oil man remained standing with upraised hand; then, there was a twinkle in the depths of those dark eyes and, lowering his right hand, he raised his left hand and turned with impassive face to the cameraman.

It was difficult to imagine this man of destiny needing sleep, having bodily aches and finding it necessary to eat just as ordinary mortals do; and one wondered if he ever finds time, or has the inclination, to stroll through twilight woods and listen to the liquid notes of a mocking bird or gaze at an evening star as the foot of a slim, crescent moon and make a wish. But, after all, what is there for a man with a thousand million dollars to wish for?

Not only among the oldest jokes but about the worst of the crop: "This is a wonder watch; you look at it and wonder what time it is. Loan me a cigaret; now let me have a match—I'll furnish the habit. These and Gopher matches you try to strike one and then you "go fer" another.

"I am in favor of an amendment to our farm program, in order to bring about the results intended whereby the small farmers and the tenants can be protected and kept off the relief rolls by securing for them a home and a place to make their own living," he declared.

"When I am elected your congressman, I pledge to you that I shall do everything in my power to keep our country at peace with the world and I believe in preparedness as one of the best means of securing peace for our country and people," Russell said.

Early in his address Russell stated that he had never engaged in mud-slinging nor personalities and that he would not do so, that if he could not win the race on his merits he would just have to lose it; that if he had nothing better to offer the voters than the demerits of his opponent, if he has any, "then I am offering you nothing and you would be no better off than you are."

The Crazy Gang, noted radio and stage stars of Mineral Wells, put on a splendid program following Judge Russell's address.

Judge Russell will speak at Eastland Monday night. The Crazy Gang will also be on the program.

Pellagra Rate In State Not High, but Creates Concern

AUSTIN, Texas.—Pellagra, while not a communicable disease, is of concern to the State Health Department since the Texas pellagra mortality over the last five years shows an annual rate of 69, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Pellagra is a dietary deficiency disease caused by insufficiency of the proper foods. The disease infects a person slowly and may not be recognized until the victim begins to have a sore mouth, stomach trouble, and reddening and scaling of the skin. When these symptoms appear, the disease has been present for some time," Dr. Cox pointed out.

Corp. John Arnett Buried Thursday

Funeral services for John L. Arnett, 24, of Ranger, a corporal in Company I, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guard, who was killed in a truck accident while on maneuvers with his company, were conducted Thursday afternoon from the First Baptist Church of Ranger, with interment in Evergreen Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. David M. Phillips, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. G. Alfred Brown, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Ranger. Funeral arrangements were by Killingsworth's.

Surviving relatives include his widow, Mrs. Lillian Arnett, one small daughter, Dolores Jean; his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Ricker, Ranger; his father, Isaac Arnett, Picher, Oklahoma, and three sisters, Mrs. L. W. Pancake, Pioneer; Mrs. Lewis Warren, Austin, and Miss Alta Louise Arnett, Ranger.

Active pall bearers for the services were Dick Fox, Chick Brown, Harry W. Ewert, Leroy Thomas, Glenn Stallings and Owen Jones.

son has been infected with pellagra, the harder it is to cure, so one should be on the lookout for the early symptoms, such as nervousness, indigestion and burning of the feet and hands. In its late stages, pellagra may be so severe as to affect the mind.

Pellagra is not contagious. If a person maintains the right dietary and is not otherwise diseased, he is in no danger even if he lives with a pellagra patient.

The prevention of pellagra is easier than its cure. Simplest rules of prevention is careful attention to the diet at all times. To make sure that your daily quota of foods includes pellagra-preventive vitamins, it should include plenty of milk, some fresh meat, and as many fresh vegetables as possible. Tomatoes, whole wheat products, salmon, and brewer's yeast are particularly valuable for their pellagra-preventive qualities.

Having provided the essentials in your dietary, you should by all means consult your family physician when you need specialized assistance in diet corrections or procedures.

Morton Valley 4-H Girls See Bedroom Member Improved

A recent meeting of the Morton Valley 4-H Club girls was held in the home of the club secretary, Jo Jane Nix.

After the members arrived, Jo Jane showed them her bedroom. She showed the things she had fixed that improved the appearance of her room. They were a perfectly made bed, a vanity stool she had covered with the help of Doris Wheat, two scarves, and the closet in which she had added one shelf.

She showed the members two pillows she and her mother had made. Her pillow protectors were made. Her spring cover covered the entire springs as well as the mattress cover covered the entire mattress. She also had a mattress pad. Her bed was made very neatly, with a clean, neat bed spread on it. Her bedroom was arranged very neatly and attractively. She is candlewicking a bedspread which she plans to have finished by the time of the Eastland County Fair.

After the members had seen her bedroom and chickens, games were played. Prizes were given to the winners. Doris Wheat gave a very interesting report on her trip to A. & M. Short Course at College Station.

A short tap dance was given by two small visitors, Dorothy and Verna Wheat. Singing and piano soloing was carried on until the meeting adjourned between 4:30 and 5:00 p. m.

Members present were Doris Wheat, Vera Garden, Wanda Faye Jones, Marjorie Neal Pounds, Jo Jane Nix and Doris Mae Harbin.

GARRETT BEGINS HIS RUNOFF CAMPAIGN IN EASTLAND ON MONDAY

Congressman Clyde L. Garrett flew by airplane from Washington to address a rally of his home-town people at Eastland Monday night on the lawn of the Eastland county court house. An audience estimated at from 1250 to 2500 was present to hear the Congressman officially open his campaign for re-election.

"In these troubled and perilous times, your Congress must be composed of men versed in the ways of immediate action—something that can only be done if your Congressmen are experienced and qualified. This is no time for beginners or amateurs," declared Congressman Garrett.

Hon. Virgil Seaberry, Eastland attorney, introduced the speaker to the audience, mentioning the high praise given the Congressman on the floor of the House for untiring labors for National Defense. Specifically mentioning the praise of Congressman Carl Vinson, Chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, Representative Buel Snyder, Chairman of the Military Affairs Sub-Committee on Appropriations in the War Department, and Representative Charles H. Leavy, Member of the Appropriations Committee, Seaberry added the praise of Eastland county and Texas workers in the field of national security and defense.

Referring scornfully to what he called "whispering campaigns" and "foolish charges," Congressman Garrett attacked statements he charged had been made against his character and declared that "my opponents have told you that Congressman Garrett has done nothing," and then outlined his record on the floor of Congress. Mentioning specifically his work on the national defense program, his actions in behalf of the farmers, which he said saved some $17,000,000 to Texas rural families; his bill in Congress to return

$20,000,000 to the cotton farmers; his work for the WPA, REA, CCC, and NYA, and asked, "Does that sound like I have done nothing?"

Barely waiting to catch his breath, Congressman Garrett arrived in Eastland Monday afternoon and opened his campaign Monday night. His address to the rally he declared was unprepared.

C. J. O'Connor, service officer of the American Legion and Breckenridge attorney, introduced a radio transcription of a speech Congressman Garrett made from the floor of the House of Representatives on national defense. The speech, carried in its entirety over the radio, was frequently interrupted by applause. The radio audience responded with telegrams addressed from Stephenville, Dublin, Johnsonville, De Leon, Hamilton, Hico, Lampkin and Comanche praising the Congressman's stand on national defense.

Present were the Eastland High School band and the Bradshaw band of Bradshaw in south Taylor county. The Bradshaw band volunteered its services and headed a store of Garrett supporters from Taylor county.

Delegations from Sweetwater, Roseco, Blackwell, Rotan, Roby, Hamlin, McCaulley, Leuders, Stamford, Anson, Abilene, Bradshaw, Ovalo, Lawn Trent, Tye, McNeil Albany, Moran, Breckenridge Caddo, Palo Pinto, Grady Pickwick, Brad, Metcalf Gap, Crystal Falls, Gordon, Mingus, Strawn, Stephenville, Johnsonville, Hico, Hamilton, Comanche De Leon, Dublin, Gorman, Cisco, Ranger, Rising Star, Baird Clyde, Cross Plains Putnam, Belle Plains, Oplin, Carbon, Desdemona and Mineral Wells were present.

Following the rally, county chairmen of the twelve counties "Garrett-for-Congress" clubs and their precinct chairmen met in an organization meeting at the Com-nelice theatre. Virgil Seaberry presided.

Speaking for the "forks of the creek boys," L. E. Breburg of Johnsonville in Erath county, rallied on the volunteer workers to familiarize themselves with Congressman Garrett's record in Congress and "put an end to this whispering that Clyde Garrett hasn't done anything."

Chairman of the Jones county "Garrett-for-Congress club" introduced 15 delegates from that county and stated that Jones county would go "70 per cent or better for Garrett."

Speaking as a volunteer worker, Roy Kendrick of Oplin in Bell county, predicted that Calahan county would go "two to one" for Congressman Garrett. Recalling that only some 200 votes were necessary to give Clyde Garrett a majority over all his opponents in the last election in Stephens county, the Stephens county chairman pledged "those other 200 votes and many more."

Ocie Hunt of Bradshaw in Taylor county and a volunteer worker in the Taylor county "Garrett-for-Congress" club declared that Congressman Garrett's record was such that Taylor county would return Garrett with a greater vote than he received in 1936.

Ben Smith from Sweetwater spoke for the Nolan county delegation. He stated that Nolan county had always given Clyde Garrett "the best part of the vote" and mentioned that Garrett carried Nolan county by 77% in 1936. "This vote will be small beside the vote he gets on Aug. 24,"

Carl Springer, Eastland attorney, spoke briefly and declared that Clyde Garrett should be returned to Congress in order that our national defense program might be carried out.

The organization meeting recessed in order that the county chairmen might meet in caucus with their local county workers and discuss plans.

Then the meeting convened once more, Russell Whitley, chairman of the Palo Pinto "Garrett-for-Congress" club, announced that his club was ready for action.

Congressman Garrett announced that he would conduct a vigorous and extensive campaign in every county in the district.

CHALLENGED and Kayak II hooking up in the Hollywood Gold Cup stressed the difference in training methods. Louis Schaefer has twice taken Challenged out of winter quarters.

Tom Smith, who handles Kayak II, kept Seabiscuit in steady training over a three-year stretch. There was an animal built for work. Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons raced him 22 times as a 2-year-old.

Silent Tom Smith believes in fast moves. His method, more strenuous, usually finds the runner ready for the first rattle. Jim Fitzsimmons is another great hand at getting a horse's "belly on the ground."

Louie Schaefer prescribes slow moves. Outside of a speed blow-out, he requires his horses to bear down only in actual contests. One race puts a thoroughbred in tighter condition, according to the Schaefer formula.

BUT the one race left Challenged not quite fit for the 1939 Kentucky Derby. He appeared sharp for The Preakness a week later, but the old man who watches over him told me just before the Arlington Classic of last July that the colt had been babied too much.

Again this year, Challenged seemed a trifle backward in the Massachusetts Handicap, which he tackled with not much more under his belt than the one match race with Many Stings.

While some horsemen labor a lifetime in search of a champion, Schaefer, who rode against the Sandies, McAtoses and Factors, "made" one for William L. Brann almost immediately. The Idaho youngster turned trainer no farther back than 1935.

It took Smith a long time to catch up with success, but once he collared it he applied a stranglehold and tossed it for a fall.

THE House that Seabiscuit Built entered the game less than seven years ago, when Charles S. Howard, the San Francisco automobile man, campaigned a small string at Agua Caliente under Buster Millerick's direction. Seabiscuit sent it skyward. South American purchases lent additional strength for the audacious escapades of this stable.

Howard, who hasn't been worse than third in turf winnings in four years, now has 50 horses in training and Seabiscuit in the stud.

Charley Howard also has Tom Smith, who appears to be able to trot out a major horse whenever the notion suits.

Trade School To Aid In Defense

By United Press
PITTSBURGH.—In an effort to increase the supply of skilled labor for industries engaged in the national defense program, arrangements have been made for Pittsburgh's unemployed men to return to school to learn or relearn skilled trades in which there are labor shortages.

Beginning July 1, the city's trade schools opened intensive courses in machine shop practice, foundry work, welding, electric added to the curriculum.

Students are selected by the interview method, with special emphasis put upon their fitness for the courses.

A re-training program, for men who have had skills but have lost them through long lay-offs, has been conducted since last November at the trade schools. The courses have been sandwiched between regular day school and evening classes.

The new program, however, will give the men an opportunity to work in the school shops all day, and, in addition, will attempt to train inexperienced men.

The project is being conducted under terms of the Woodside act, passed by the Pennsylvania State legislature a year ago. The law stipulates that the state will pay salaries of all teachers required by the program.

An important objective of the work school project is to reduce the relief rolls. Relief clients who take part in the classes will get credit as being on the state work relief program, although they will be studying instead of working out their relief grants on projects.

It may be possible, according to George P. Mills, executive director of the Allegheny County Board of Assistance, that the cooperating agencies may recommend likely applicants for positions in private industry declared open by various firms, and may even be able to "virtually guarantee" a student a job on completion of the course.

Approximately half of those taking the abbreviated retraining courses during the winter season have found jobs, it was announced.

Close State Races Are Expected In Second Primary Election August 24

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Tex.—Two close state races are expected in the run-off Democratic primary election this month. The Democratic candidate for railroad commissioner will be Pierce P. Brooks of Dallas, or Olin Culberson of Edna, former head of the gas utilities division of the railroad commission.

Justice James P. Alexander of the Waco court of appeals and Hal Lattimore of Fort Worth, son of the late Justice O. S. Lattimore of the state court of criminal appeals, will contest in the other state-wide race for the chief justiceship of the state supreme court.

No wide margin separated the leaders in the first Democratic primary election and the large field of defeated contestants indicate that both races will be exciting.

Tarleton Students Begin Flight Exams

STEPHENVILLE, Aug. 8.—Fifteen John Tarleton students will next week begin flight examinations for their private pilot licenses through the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Twelve more boys will take their flight examinations the following week, and the entire 27 will take ground school examinations next week.

At the same time, John Tarleton College is receiving applications for C. A. A. training for the 1940-41 long session. With an application before C. A. A. authorities for permission to train 60 pilots, facilities for expanding the program are being developed. Three new training ships are being added to the three already in use at Tarleton, and construction on a federally-approved Class II airport is being begun this week.

While plans for expanding the C. A. A. program are made, C. A. A. pilots who were licensed last spring are getting advanced flight training at various Texas airports. Two of the 20 pilots licensed at Tarleton last spring are now training at Big Spring, one is at Love Field, and three more are completing advanced work toward the commercial pilot's license, with instructor's rating, at the Tarleton airport.

BOUNTY PUT ON RAGWEED

MARBLEHEAD, Mass. — Encouraged by a 1-2 cent increase over last year, children are collecting ragweed at a cent a pound as part of this town's third annual ragweed extermination campaign.

however, was not a complete victory for opponents of additional natural resource taxes. In his first statement after the election, the governor declared for additional natural resource and business taxes to retire the state general revenue deficit and to finance state activities other than the social security program.

Thompson's vote and that of the governor were strikingly similar to their votes in the campaign of two years ago. Votes for Ma Ferguson and for Jerry Sadler were surprisingly small as gauged by forecasts. Sadler had entered the race with the statement that he did so because he did not believe any of the other candidates could beat O'Daniel. None did, but some of them outran Sadler.

The "if" boys already are speculating on what the result would have been had Former Gov. Dan Moody answered "yes" instead of "no" when friends filed his name and requested him to run. They speculate whether Moody would merely have drawn votes that went to candidates other than the governor, or if he would have cut down the vote that was cast for O'Daniel.

A&M Prepared to Train Young Men In Defense Trades

COLLEGE STATION, Texas—If it is chemicals or massive steel shells that a boy wants to learn about in preparing himself for the defense of his country, Texas A. & M. College, the largest all male military school in the United States, stands ready with ranking army officers as teachers, and some of the latest equipment as training material, to aid him.

The college offers basic and advanced military courses in Infantry, Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, Cavalry, Signal Corps, Chemical Warfare Service, and Engineers Corps branches of the army. In addition the college has a recognized C.A.A. course in aviation and is adding Aeronautical Engineering to its curriculum.

Requirement for entry into the Chemical Warfare Service is that the student must take chemical engineering course, and requirement for the Signal Corps is an electrical engineering course.

During the coming school year the army will have contracts with approximately 1000 juniors and seniors who will be compensated by the government. Upon graduation and completion of the advanced military course they will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Officers Reserve Corps. The reserves constitute the first line of defense back of the regular army, and many of the reserves voluntarily go into the regular army as officers.

Dallas Policeman Is Tied To His Job

DALLAS, Tex.—One Dallas policeman found himself tied to his job.

In the early morning just before dawn the officer drove his squad car behind a garage to watch for a thief reported to be walking that direction.

Sleep overcame the officer and he was found by fellow-workers who came by in another car. The man was snoring loudly, his feet propped up on the steering wheel. One of the officers in the second squad car quietly reached in and tied the sleepers shoe laces to the wheel. Then he got back in his car and turned on the siren.

When the dozing officer awoke with a start, he jerked his feet down and officers were reluctant to give quotes of what the man said.

The sleeper had a lot of imitators among his fellow officers when he returned to the police locker room at the end of the detail.

Time Buffets An Old "Bo" King

SAN FRANCISCO.—Another throne may be tottering—that of King Jeff Davis of the hobo empire.

King Jeff has ruled the Hoboes of America for years, but now an opposition faction is trying to dethrone him, according to Sam Hecht, West Coast editor of the publication, Hobo News. The fight probably will come to a showdown during the 'hobo annual convention in Britt, Ia.

The king's rival is Ben Benson, according to editor Hecht, who is a little sketchy about Benson's background and admits that his New York managers do not keep him very well informed on how the movement is progressing, but he is sure that if the revolution does not succeed this year, it is bound to succeed eventually.

Old Timers Opposed "Most of the old timers, the boys who are wise to conditions, have no further use for King Jeff," Hecht declared.

"Under his rule, the roads have become full of youngsters and 'Rosevelt Recession Bums,' that are a disgrace to self-respecting hoboes. You meet an entirely different class on the highways nowadays. The old time hobo used to be the old time pioneer, the soldier of fortune, and he helped build up this country, but now—tsk, tsk.

"So we hoboes are going into politics to improve conditions. Anyway, it's unconstitutional to a king like Jeff Davis.

Build-Up Needed "Of course, I don't know if we can pull it off this year. There isn't anyone on the coast well enough developed to run. Our men must have a good record in the labor movement, and we are not going to have any Tom, Dick and Harry.

"To date, the only candidate is Benson, and his campaign is being managed by a group of hoboes in New York, but we will have to wait till they get down to Britt, Ia., to see just how things are shaping up and to make sure that he really has the stuff."

It seems that the precise date for the convention cannot be set because a certain latitude must be allowed to permit the delegates to arrive. Their arrival, in turn depends upon various means of transportation at their disposal. Bit Hecht explained that freight trains, highways and hitch-hiking facilities of the country are expected to be called upon to their fullest extent to get delegates to Iowa "some time" in August.

Questioning him one morning, Blood learned the motorist was a locomotive engineer who "couldn't get over the habit of driving with one hand and with my head stuck out of the window to watch the tracks."

Operations To Start NW. of Ranger

Harry F. Mitchell and Raymond Pierce of Weatherford, who are to drill an oil test northwest of Ranger, were in Ranger today making preparations for drilling operations, which they expect to start Monday.

Most of the tools and equipment have already arrived, and have been taken to the lease, Mitchell reported today, and the remainder will be on hand in time to start operations Monday.

The two have a 1,500 acre lease, on which they plan to drill at least 10 wells, they stated Saturday.

Prison Reform Is Urged In Quebec

MONTREAL.—Establishment of a domestic relations court and an adult probation system in the province of Quebec, is being sought by the Prisoners' Aid and Welfare Association of Montreal.

The association also has approached the provincial government with a proposal to eliminate jails and substitute farms and adult reform schools for them.

Elephants, in prehistoric times, had four tusks. This, of course, was before the day of the piano.

Holdup Gets Pennies Bandits Call It Off

BOSTON.—Two bandits jumped into 35-year-old Paul Farrell's auto while he halted at a traffic light and at gunpoint demanded his money.

Farrell produced a few pennies. "Never mind," said one of the men. "There isn't enough for a holiday. We'll get out."

Gross Receipts Tax Studied by City

FORT WORTH, Tex.—A gross receipts tax on this city's four main utilities companies is being studied by city authorities as a possible source of revenue to meet increased municipal expenses after Oct. 1.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company now pays a two per cent gross receipts tax to the city. This year the tax amounted to $36,600. Placing such a levy on the gas, electric power and transit companies would raise an estimated $100,000 more.

Spokesmen for the utility companies said that a two per cent gross receipts tax probably would have to be passed on to the consumer.

Another method proposed for meeting the budget increase for the next fiscal year calls for a return of part of the state gasoline tax to cities.

Soil Expert Says Phosphate Needed

Phosphate is the main thing lacking in Eastland County soil according to M. K. Thornton, Extension Agricultural Chemist, who spent two days in the county in July, speaking to peanut growers at Gorman on the 22nd, and making a tour of soil building demonstrations with County Agent Cook on the 23rd.

Thornton explained that our virgin soils were lacking in phosphorus and that the amount of nitrogen in the virgin soils was limited. Phosphorus can be added only in the form of fertilizer but nitrogen can be added by planting inoculated legumes such as cowpeas, soybeans, vetch and peanuts. However, when feed crops and cotton are planted on land where no legumes have recently been grown and turned under, it is necessary to add both nitrogen and phosphorus to the soil.

Thornton also pointed out that peanuts, cowpeas, soybeans, and other legumes at soil depleting crops if the seed are not inoculated before planting as they take nitrogen out of the soil instead of adding it to the soil.

In line with Thornton's information on Eastland County soil building, nine farmers and ranchers of the county are cooperating with the County Agent in demonstrating soil building by turning two consecutive crops of legumes that have been fertilized with superphosphate. These demonstrators are A. W. Armstrong, T. E. Castleberry, I. S. Echols, F. E. Harrell, J. D. Inabnet, F. M. Spurlen, Robert Tucker, Ed Townsend, and George P. Fee.

An inspection recently of I. S. Echols' soil building demonstration which consists of 42 acres of cowpeas, 30 acres fertilized with 100 pounds of 45 per cent superphosphate per acre and 12 acres left unfertilized for a check plot, showed that the fertilized peas are making twice as much vine and peas and offering more resistance to the dry weather. The fertilized peas were still green and bearing while the check plot was turning yellow and through bearing until it rains.

Echols will follow the peas with a winter crop of vetch.

Fox Family Has Reunion Friday With 150 Present

The Fox family's annual reunion held on the W. U. Fox farm a few miles from here Friday, Aug. 2, was attended by 150 people, who gathered under the large brush arbor especially built for the purpose.

The business session was held in the morning and the following were elected as officers: J. W. Greathouse, Eastland, president; Mrs. Bud Fox, secretary-treasurer.

The following committees were appointed: Water and refreshment, P. O. Woods, George Fox, Tommie Lee Fox; Grounds committee, Jim Fox, Arnie Fox; Program committee, Jessie Fox and Johnnie Russell.

After thanks were offered by Seth Fox, a bountiful lunch was spread on the large household table.

The afternoon program was delightfully rendered and was in reality a variety program ranging from religious songs to old fashioned breakdowns on guitars, violins, harmonicas. Several readings were also given.

Many reported it the best program yet rendered and much credit for this program goes to Jessie Fox and Johnnie Russell.

The younger crowd enjoyed a game of playground ball while the older people remembered the good old days.

Former Eastland Resident Buried

Guy Hudspeth, 54, employee of the Gulf Production company at Iraan, in Pecos county, was buried in the Eastland cemetery Sunday afternoon following funeral services Sunday morning at Iraan where he died Saturday at 3 p. m.

The deceased is survived by his widow and three children, Mrs. Barney Tyson of Breckenridge, Guy Jr., and Elizabeth Hudspeth of Iraan. Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. J. M. Wheat and a nephew, B. F. Wheat.

A number of Gulf Production company employees and a large number of friends accompanied the body to Eastland where it was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lambert until time for interment.

Drunkard's Are To Stay In Church

HUDSON, Ill.—A young artist whose weakness was a craving for alcoholic drinks, has left a memorial on the walls of a little country church which looks more like a schoolhouse than a place of reverence, in the form of a Biblical painting.

The painting, a copy of the immortal picture, "The Last Supper," was done, old-timers said, by a youth who gave his name as George M. Swain, about 19, from Peoria, 26 years ago. They said he seemed to be able to work best while in the grip of drink.

W. S. Vandegraft, chapel custodian for the past 10 years, recalls the incidents leading up to Swain's painting. He said that Swain, visiting friends nearby, sauntered by the church one day and saw several church members erecting hitching posts which are still in use.

"Say," he said to one of the men, "if you'll get me a pair of overalls, buy me the paint and give me something to drink, I'll paint a picture for you in the church."

A collection was taken up, $17 was raised, the drinks and paint were bought, and Swain, Vandegraft said, went to work with a Sunday school card bearing a copy of "The Last Supper" as his model.

"It took a week and the painting was done," said Vandegraft. "I saw that young fellow up on the scaffold painting that picture when he was so intoxicated he could hardly stand there. It didn't hurt his painting ability a bit."

Two years later, Swain died, but his work still gleams on the chapel wall after 26 years. Women in the community recently raised funds to clear the painting of dust and grime and to redecorate the chapel interior and church chairs.

The church, built 36 years ago, is located on a hill top at the south end of Lake Bloomington. It is a one-story, white frame building and is known as the Hinthorne chapel. Undenominational, the chapel has an average attendance of less than a score each Sunday.

A Rochester wife complains that her husband ate razor blades just to make her nervous. Well, one must do something with them.

The other junior team practice daily from 5 to 6, under the direction of Mr. Jack R. Woods, at South Ward School.

The Senior Boys team is in charge of Mr. Henry B. Daniels, who coaches them every afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 on the Junior High School grounds. All team directors are assisted by Mr. Curtis McCleskey, the traveling Sports Director.

Warns Turkey Growers To Watch For Cholera

Eastland County turkey growers are being warned by the County Agent that dry, hot summer weather, stagnant water, and lack of proper feed make a combination which is a set-up for turkey troubles, especially cholera.

Turkeys suffering with cholera lose weight rapidly, almost refuse to range and eat, act feverish, and drink lots of water. A post-mortem examination shows sections of the intestines to be reddish and inflamed appearing.

The quick, sure remedy is to vaccinate with a cholera-typhoid mixed bacteria, provide clean, cool water, and feed plenty of any good growing mash.

Man In Overcoat On Blistering Day Must Have Burned

LUBBOCK, Texas—The heat is doing peculiar things these days. Harry Leach, acting recorder, answered the telephone, laid down the receiver, wiped his forehead and turned to Aubrey Gavver, identification expert.

"Aubrey, it must be the heat. Better have someone get out on . . . street. A bird's walking around in an overcoat."

Fawyer, fanning himself with a newspaper, hit the hot dusty road but failed to find anyone answering the description. He came back. "Maybe the guy burned up. I couldn't find him," he reported.
