COURT RULES CITIES MUST PAY GAS TAX

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—The Texas supreme court has held that municipalities must pay the four cents a gallon tax levied on gasoline the same as private purchasers. In another decision it was held that Houston Belt & Terminal Railway company is liable for additional franchise tax, which it had contested on the ground that it was a non-profit organization formed by railroads entering Houston to facilitate handling of traffic.

The gasoline tax decision held the city of El Paso liable for the tax on 70,579 gallons of gasoline purchased in New Mexico and used in municipal vehicles. The case was considered a test one for both cities and county and is estimated to involve a million dollars in gasoline tax for the state at large.

Today's ruling in an opinion by Judge Richard Critz held that the gasoline tax is not an ad valorem tax, an income tax or an occupation tax from which the city would be exempt, but an "indirect excise tax." The tax is on first sale inside the state but the statute defines "first sale" also to include use.

One of El Paso's defenses had been that the gasoline was purchased outside the state. Judge Critz said: "To hold that a city can purchase motor fuel outside the state and escape the user tax would be to hold that the legislature has deliberately enacted a law which would for all practical purposes prevent dealers within the state from selling motor fuel to cities and government agencies. We do not believe that the statutes evidence such an intent."

The opinion also held that restriction of the use to city streets did not exempt the user from the tax because city streets are part of the public highways.

The gasoline tax ruling of the supreme court affirms that of a Travis county district court and overrules the third court of civil appeals, which had held cities were exempt from the gasoline tax because they were not specifically named among those subject to the tax.

Stephenville Man Heads Eastland Democratic Group

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—With the campaign for "a million Texas votes for Roosevelt in 1940" well underway, the Texas democrats have launched their statewide finance drive to assist the nationwide fight to return the president to office on Nov. 5, Myron G. Blalock, Texas Roosevelt campaign manager has announced from headquarters at Austin.

C. O. McMillan of Stephenville has been named by Blalock as chairman of the Eastland county finance committee and is in charge of collecting local contributions for the Roosevelt drive. Democrats here have been urged to contact the county democratic finance chairman.

Funds collected in Texas, Blalock stressed, will be used by the National Roosevelt Campaign committee in the doubtful states to combat the vast financial backing of the opposition. Every Texas democrat, he said, is to be offered an opportunity to make a contribution, no matter how large or small, to the Roosevelt cause.

Those who wish to contribute may either give the help to the county finance chairman or mail it to Democratic Campaign headquarters at Austin, Blalock said. An official souvenir receipt will acknowledge every contribution reaching Austin, and a second receipt will be mailed the donor from Washington headquarters, he added.

There is no doubt Texas will go overwhelmingly for Roosevelt November 5, but as the banner state of American democracy, Texas must also help the fight financially in borderline states. As usual we must depend on the people themselves to combat the almost unlimited financial backing Eastern capital is giving the republican nominee," Blalock stated.

The "Opera House" Is Becoming Extinct Over This State

AUSTIN, Texas.—The "opera house," once the gathering place in Texas for amusements, commencement exercises, political conventions and prize fights, is becoming extinct.

Many of the old opera houses still exist as buildings but they have been remodeled and turned to other uses.

Passing of the opera house in Texas began with the advent of the vaudeville houses and the movies. Some were turned into picture houses and still furnish a stage for the one night road shows that tour the west. City auditoriums now get the grand operas and the bigger stage shows.

Many of the old opera houses no longer are devoted to any type of entertainment. Some have been remodeled into stores or office buildings. Some house industries. Over a few the lyre and the mask remain as reminders of earlier days. "Opera house" is found lettered on the front of many a present-day Texas mercantile building in smaller Texas towns.

Famous among the old playhouses, the Hancock opera house in Austin still entertains as a second-run picture show. On its board the great of the stage appeared from 25 to 50 years ago—sometimes to dodge missiles from the exuberant State university students who always filled the gallery. Its predecessor, a stately old stone opera house with carved front, is used by a printing establishment.

Greenwall's Fort Worth opera house gave way to the Byers opera house in the flush days of cattle and oil development. Both were superseded by vaudeville houses, and now by movie palaces.

San Antonio's oldest playhouse became the Casino club and later a storehouse for supplies of the city water department. Its successor as an opera house passed through similar stages of club occupancy and conversion to mercantile uses.

Burlesque houses where the cowboys could drink while they applauded the show disappeared ahead of the opera house. Galveston, Houston, El Paso, all have seen their passing.

Nearly every city school now has its own auditorium for commencement exercises. Auditoriums or stadiums take the athletic events once seen in the opera houses.

Big opera companies still draw crowds on tour but they are not heard in opera houses.

One with the opera house is another long favored Texas entertainment—the minstrel show.

Saved From Nazis by American Pal

NAZI OFFICERS IN RUMANIA AS CIVILIANS

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 10.—(Passed by Censor)—Fifteen German officers wearing civilian clothes were reported to have checked in at one hotel today and informants said that numerous German aviation officers were in the city.

Reports from Galatz, on the Danube at the edge of Russian-occupied Bessarabia, said that many trucks, marked with swastikas, were in the streets and that the drivers were in mufti so it was not learned whether they were German soldiers or civil authorities supervising the evacuation of Germans from Bessarabia.

It was learned that the British legation had advised all Britons connected with the Rumanian oil industry to leave the country.

(At Stockholm, Sweden, the newspaper Tydingen said in a Berlin dispatch that German and Italian troops soon would press on from Rumania to Irak's oil fields and that Turkey was rushing military preparations to oppose such a move. Other Swedish newspapers stressed the importance of the presence in Berlin of M. Magriano, Bulgarian minister of agriculture and reportedly a close friend of King Boris. Some newspapers predicted that Bulgaria's claims against Greece would be pushed as soon as Magriano returned to Sofia.)

The Rumanian government last night replied to Great Britain's strong note asking for "elucidation" of the German military activity in Rumania. Sources close to the British legation said the reply gave "certain assurances of a general nature." Other sources said Rumania's note had stressed a determination to cooperate with the axis powers, with whom the country now was indisputably bound.

The note was forwarded immediately to London. Britain was said to have inquired whether the German activities signified either an occupation or a fictitious occupation of Rumania, and it was believed that Rumania's reply would determine whether Britain maintained diplomatic relations with Rumania.

The arrival at Constanza yesterday of 8,500 tons of Russian oil allayed some of the apprehension here over Russia's attitude toward the sending of German experts to "train the Rumanian army." It is only a two-day trip by slow tanker from Russian oil ports to Constanza and it was assumed that the shipment had left Russia after the coming of German forces here was disclosed. Hence the arrival of the oil was taken as a gesture of good will by Russia.

RUMANIA NOW IS PREPARING FOR AIR RAID

Air raid shelters were hastily constructed today in Bucharest as diplomats speculated on the possibility of an axis drive southward against Turkey.

British-Rumanian relations were broken and the British citizens were warned to return to their homeland as German officers appeared to take charge of the Rumanian army and to protect the oil fields. Reports from Russia said that Sebastopol was blacked out last night.

Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy reviewed troops at Padua, but failed to make his expected declaration of future axis plans.

German raiders over Britain concentrated on railroads, the usual target immediately preceding an invasion attempt, besides heavily bombing London. London's famous St. Paul's Cathedral, one of the oldest religious structures in Great Britain, was hit and damaged by a German bomb and 35 persons died when a bomb hit their air raid shelter.

The British said their bombers continued big scale attacks and that during daylight raids over Holland saw friendly waves from many of the Dutch residents.

Japan's foreign minister reiterated the axis alliance is a "peace pact" and expressed hope that the United States will avoid the "awful catastrophe of war."

Colonel Batista was inaugurated as president of Cuba and expressed the hope that the Americas will be united for a common defense.

Camera Club Doing Such Good Work It Creates a Problem

The Ranger Camera Club members are showing a decided improvement in their work, a new display of prints made by the members of the club indicates. This display is in the lobby of the Gholson Hotel, near the entrance.

Subject of the latest efforts of the club is children, the prints on display showing good subject matter and excellent photography.

One of the chief troubles of the club members now, one member stated today, is in selecting the best prints as prize winners. The competition has become so close, he pointed out, since so much improvement in the work has been noticed, that selecting first prize winners over second and third places has created quite a problem.

The prints on display represent the best work done by club members in their most recent competition.

Sleeping Sickness In Horses Moves Further To South

COLLEGE STATION.—Sleeping sickness in horses and mules which has been found in North Texas is now making its way South and has made its appearance in the vicinity of Brazos county, Dr. A. A. Lerner, head of the department of veterinary medicine and surgery at Texas A. & M. College said Friday.

"We have had approximately 20 cases of the disease recently and they all came from nearby Edge, Kurien, Normange and Madisonville," he said. "We do not keep the animals in the hospital here but simply give them treatment and prescribe the nursing to be followed at home."

He explained that while the disease is infectious it is not contagious and can be prevented by inoculation done by a veterinarian. After the animal takes the disease early treatment may save it but in many cases it dies due to delayed treatment, he added, in advising preventive treatment.

"The animal may stand up alone for five or six days with the disease and still be cured but once it gets down the chance of recovery is very small," he explained.

Dr. H. M. Lanham Is Buried in Waco

WACO, Oct. 10.—Funeral services were held today for Dr. H. M. Lanham, 66, brother of Fort Worth Congressman Fritz Lanham, and a son of the late Gov. W. T. Lanham.

Dr. Lanham died in a government hospital at Biloxi, Miss., Monday. He had lived here since 1906 after spending his boyhood in Weatherford.

Farmers Planting Vetch For Soil

Several Eastland county farmers are making plans to sow hairy vetch on cropland as soon as it rains, for the purpose of building up their soil. The vetch will also serve as a cover crop to prevent soil blowing during the winter and spring months.

Idaz Echols of Staff community is sowing 30 acres on land that was plowed to cowpeas. He fertilized the cowpeas with superphosphate fertilizer. Robert Tucker of Gorman plans to sow 20 acres of vetch. Small acreages are being sowed for seed plots by J. D. Inabnet of Pioneer, A. W. Armstrong of Rising Star and R. L. Williams of Gorman. A. A. Hyatt of Gorman has already sowed some vetch in his pecan orchard.

Hairy vetch is sowed or planted in rows in well prepared land after the first fall rains at the rate of about 20 pounds per acre. The seed should be inoculated before planting and planted at a depth of about two inches.

State Highway Information Oct. 8 Through Oct. 14

Interest In W.P.A. Night Recreation Center Is Shown

The community as a whole has shown its interest and cooperation by turning out in massive numbers to attend the Eastland W.P.A. Recreation Center each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 8:00 to 10:00, those in charge say.

The Tuesday evening program was opened by Earl Francis leading the entire group in the Pledge of Allegiance and "God Bless America."

Peanut Disease Control Being Closely Studied

E. A. Miller, A. & M. College Extension Agronomist, has been requested to cooperate with peanut growers of Eastland County and the county agent in making a study of "Southern Blight," the peanut disease that has been taking a heavy toll of peanuts for the last several years. County Agent Elmo V. Cook advised Miller early this week that more than seventy-five percent of the peanuts in some fields have rotted off the vines because of the blight and that the disease has become more intense and extensive in the county for the last five years.

Cook advised that he is expecting Miller and other specialists to arrive in the county some time during the next two weeks to study the disease in the fields and to make recommendations for controlling it next year.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Hardin Neal, Lillian Eastland, Jack Blackwell, J. B. Ferris, G. T. Williams, J. H. Wallace, G. C. Love, L. E. Wallace and the hostess, Mrs. Hinman.

Pioneer Farmer Near Completion Fertilizer Test

J. D. Inabnet, who farms near Pioneer in Eastland County, has completed a series of fertilizer experiments on his land when he harvests his peanut crop. In order to determine what commercial fertilizer is best adapted to his land and the maximum quantities it is profitable to use, Mr. Inabnet used different fertilizers in varying amounts on separate blocks of peanuts. He intends to check the yields and fertilizer returns when he threshes the peanuts.

Mr. Inabnet has built up his farm from a badly eroded, worn out piece of land to a profitable farm by terracing, planting at least half of the cropland to peas to be turned under green and using commercial fertilizers in the land. During the last two years he has cooperated with the county agent in demonstrating soil building by fertilizing legumes with phosphate fertilizers, then turning under the legumes while they are still green.

County Service Board Members Meet; Organize

County Agent Says Treat Grain Seed for Planting

Treating of wheat, oats and barley seed before planting is being recommended by Elmo V. Cook, county agent who reminds Eastland county farmers that it costs less than three cents per bushel to treat seed and the expense and effort are repaid many times in increased yield of grain.

The standard treatment recommended for small grains is Ceresan, a powdered chemical which is mixed with the grain at the rate of one half ounce of the chemical per bushel of seed. The chemical can be done in a tight container by placing both in the container and agitating the contents or in a tight floor by turning the seed several times with a shovel after the Ceresan is dusted on the seed.

The county agent estimates that the yield of oats in Eastland county would be increased at least four bushels per acre with seed treatment, meaning an increase of twenty thousand bushels per year at a cost for Ceresan of less than $300. The increase in yield of wheat in the county would probably be at least ten thousand bushels if all the seed were treated before planting. The probable expense would be about $200.

Gorman, Eastland Play Scoreless Game At Eastland

Eastland and Gorman, 12 A teams, battled to a scoreless tie in a conference game on Welch Field in Eastland Friday afternoon. The game, formerly scheduled to be played at Gorman, was transferred to Eastland on account of work that was in progress on the Gorman field.

O'Neal, acting quarterback, Hart, acting captain, and Bagley were the outstanding players for the Mavericks.

Gorman made only one feature play, an end run netting 55 yards.

The only scoring threat during the game came when Eastland held the ball on the Parther's one foot line, first down and goal to go, as the half ended.

The second half of the game was played in a seesaw manner with no goal line stands made.

Eastland made 12 first downs to Gorman's 3. Rae, Fawn Nell, Hadley Jr., Marvin and Dixie Lou Barlow; James and Celeste Cheshire of Amarillo; Clyde Jr., Bettye Lou, Claudia Maxine and Jimmy Dan Cheshire, all of Cisco.

Society Killer Is Regarding Electric Chair With Stoicism

By United Press
McALESTER, Okla.—Only the hope that Gov. Leon Phillips will change his mind about clemency stands between Roger Cunningham, society slayer, and the electric chair in which he is scheduled to die Nov. 15.

If he walks the "last mile" from his iron-gray cell in death row at McAlester state prison, one of the most sensational murder cases in Oklahoma history will be closed.

The 34-year-old son of a former prominent Oklahoma City physician first was questioned, then arrested when his socialite wife, Eudora, disappeared in March, 1939. At midnight on March 26, his alibi riddled by days of investigation, he confessed that he strangled her and buried her body in a sewage ditch. The body was exhumed three hours later by police and sheriff's deputies, using a rough map sketched by the slayer.

Cunningham never tried to discredit the confession, but he pleaded insanity in his district court trial as a mitigating factor. The jury, qualified for the death sentence, was unmoved. Only one

Lessening the Economic Hangover

After more than a year of war, indications are that basic American economy has been only slightly disturbed. The stock market has not behaved hysterically. Food prices, rents, clothing and other commodity costs have not shot up to unhealthy boom peaks. There is no general profiteering.

The billions of dollars of defense appropriations have not yet shown up in the economic picture. There are, of course, certain to have their effects. It is impossible to spend that much money without having something to show for it besides boats and guns and armies. The money is bound to trickle down through to the average man. But there will also be a larger national debt and higher taxes.

But all of this is necessary. None of it is produced artificially. There is no panic—no rush to get in on the ground floor of "something good."

A recent survey of food prices generally throughout the United States reflected an increase of less than 5 per cent after the first year of war. Prices were about the same as they were a year ago, but were about 7 per cent higher than just before the beginning of World War II. The small increase reflects a normal fluctuation, caused by greater demand, rather than any speculative activity as a result of the war.

At the same time, wages have gone up. The Investors' Syndicate of Minneapolis has reported that wage earners are receiving about 15 per cent more than they were two months ago and salary workers about 7 per cent more.

Not all of the payroll increase can be ascribed to defense. Most of the defense program, after all, has not even been put into operation. Many economists believe that much of the industrial gain can be chalked up to normal changes, unrelated to the war.

The sane and orderly manner in which business has so far met and balanced the inevitable effects of a major war are encouraging. It's a pretty large order to keep an economic system running smoothly in one country when the rest of the world has forgotten all the rules.

As long as American business can continue to do the things that must be done without losing its head and basking in bloody profits, this country has less to fear from a post-war depression. The job is to build—build as fast as possible—but on solid rock.

Brazil is table set for Nazi banquet, says headline. But many a table has collapsed under too much food.

Vichy government admits De Gaulle has Africa boiling. Taking the play away from the sun, as it were.

Eastland Woman's Son Writes From Far Away Japan

Joe J. Mickle, Jr., son of Mrs. J. J. Mickle, Sr., of Eastland, and who is an officer and a teacher in Kurosci Gakuin University, Nishinomiya, Japan, a school founded jointly by the Southern Methodist and Canadian Methodist churches, has resigned his position as bursar of the school but is still a member of the teaching staff, according to information written members of his family.

Mickle and his wife have been in Japan in Missionary work for almost 20 years. They have two daughters, one about 17 and the other 15 years of age, that were born in that country, and have never felt that there was any occasion for them to give up their work and return to this country, although friends and relatives, since the present war scare has been brewing, have urged them to do so.

Mickle told his brother, Omar Mickle of Eastland, recently that he gave up his position as bursar in the school to a native Japanese, and that schools operated by foreign religious denominations other than the Methodist, had been instructed by government officials to replace their foreign officers and teachers with Japanese and that these instructions had been complied with. He stated also that it was highly probable that the same instructions would be given Methodist missionaries at no far distant future.

Mr. Mickle, in letters to his folks, hints at evidences suggesting that Japan may be approaching warlike hostilities with any and all countries not allied with Hitler. He is of the opinion, it seems, that the government of Japan has come to the conclusion that Germany is going to win the present war with England.

Bonded Warehouse For Peanuts Is To Open Monday

Eastland is to have a bonded warehouse for the storage of peanuts. H. J. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, announces. E. C. Satterwhite, Mr. Tanner said, will be in charge and it will be open and ready for business Monday, Oct. 14th.

The warehouse will be located in the building next door west of the Panhandle Filling Station on West Commerce street. Five hundred tons of peanuts are expected to be handled through the Eastland house during the present season.

The Weiners were winners of a nationwide contest conducted by Chevrolet to locate No. 1,000,000. As guests of Chevrolet, the Michigan couple drove to New York, arriving at the Fair with more than 110,000 miles on their '29 car, which Weiner had purchased as a used car, at a price of $25. Mr. E. C. (left), general manager of Chevrolet, presented the new 1940 Special De Luxe model to the Weiners. Chevrolet production of a million units this year maintains a sales record of a million a year average, with the 1,500,000 1940 car following No. 960,000 by exactly one month. The well-traveled 1929 model was returned to Detroit where it will be placed on display.

UNCLE SAM'S SELECTIVE SERVICE

Registration—Who Is Affected
 1. Q—Who must register on October 16 under the selective service program?
 A—Every male citizen of the United States and every male alien who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, must register unless he is specifically exempted by law, provided he has reached his 21st birthday and has not passed his 36th birthday.

2. Q—What classes are exempted from the registration?
 A—The Selective Service Law provides that the only classes exempt from registration are members of the armed forces of the United States, the National Guard, the reserve corps, the coast guard, the coast and geodetic survey, the public health service, and cadets and midshipmen at national military academies. The staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in the United States are also exempt.

3. Q—Suppose a registrant is absent from his home voting box on registration day. What procedure does he follow?
 A—Many registrants, such as college students, traveling men, and business men, will be away from their homes on registration day. They must go to the nearest polling place on that day and register. Their registration card will then be forwarded to the proper place.

4. Q—Suppose a registrant is sick on registration day. What should he do?
 A—He may deputize some person to get a registration blank for him and to assist him in filling it out. In some cases the person will be too sick to permit registration, so he will be allowed to register later on presentation of a doctor's certificate explaining the reasons for his non-registration.

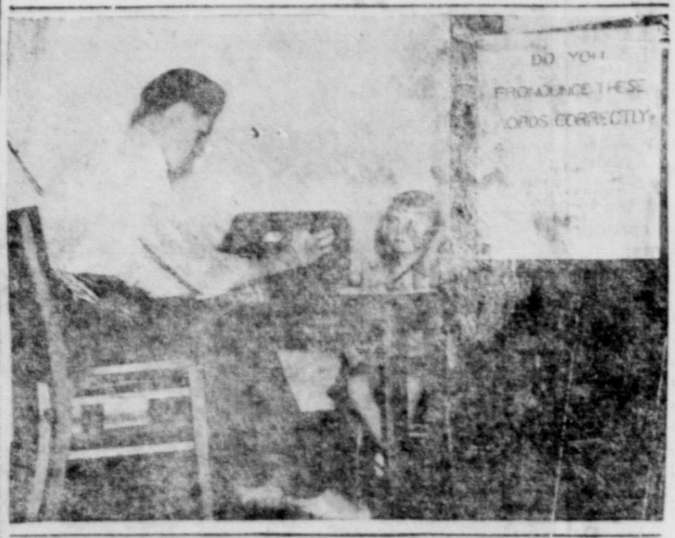

5. Q—Suppose a man is married on registration day. What procedure should he follow?
 A—Yes. All persons between the ages of 21 and 36, regardless of physical handicaps or conditions of dependency, must register on Wednesday, October 16.

6. Q—Can a man register late without being penalized?
 A—Only if he can produce sufficient evidence to justify his failure to register on the national registration day.

7. Q—What is the penalty for the failure to register?
 A—A heavy fine and prison sentence is provided for failure to register. Registration officials will make up a list of those failing to register, and this will be turned over to law enforcement officials who will round up the truants.

Registration—Actual Procedure
 1. Q—What, exactly, will the registrant have to do on October 16?
 A—He will report to his local polling place between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Wednesday, October 16, 1940, to answer questions on a registration form which will be asked by the registration officials.

NTSTC Reading Lab Checks Eyes, Ears Of Backward Children

DENTON, Texas—So outstanding has been the work in the reading laboratories of the North Texas State Teachers College that a special report on the laboratories and the work of NYA workers employed in them has been made to the Washington office by state National Youth Administration officials.

In the pictures is shown some of the work done in the reading laboratories of the Denton Teachers College in the testing of hearing and sight of the several hundred school children who have come to the laboratories.

Miss Nellie Griffiths, director of the NTSTC reading laboratories, is in charge of the experiments, which were reported in an illustrated report to Washington by J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator.

Shown in the upper picture is an NYA college work student using the audiometer to check hearing loss, and in the lower picture, the worker tests a curly-headed young reader with the telebinoculars, checking visual efficiency, reading readiness, and types of reading errors.

5. Will the registrant swear to his answers?

School Board Has Interesting Meet On Mon. Morning

The Board of Education for the Eastland Independent school met Monday morning for the transacting of such business as was on hand at the time.

One of the matters passed on was the Treasurer's Annual Report. This was approved and a copy ordered forwarded to Austin where it will be placed on file with the State Department of Education.

The budget for 1940-41 was inspected by the board and was ordered kept on file in the secretary's office where it may be inspected by any tax-paying resident of the district.

On the morning of Oct. 19 the Board will again meet at which time the budget will be approved. It was decided at Monday's meeting that the holidays to be observed by the school this year would be as follows: Thanksgiving on Nov. 21 and 22, inclusive. This date was selected because the Teachers' institute is being held in Fort Worth at that time and many of the local teachers desire to attend.

stating that in appreciation of the honor conferred upon the Domain of Texas by the election of Hon. John Lee Smith as Supreme Vice Chancellor, there will be held three gatherings of Pythians as follows:

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

AID-TO-BRITAIN PRESSURE GROUPS ADVOCATE SALE OF ONLY UNUSED "FLYING FORTRESSES"

By BRUCE CATTON
 NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Contrary to what you may have heard, nobody in particular is trying to get the U. S. government to give Great Britain the 50-odd "flying fortresses" now in the service of the army air corps.

What is being attempted — especially by the William Allen White committee — is to make available to Britain the flying fortresses which are now under construction for the U. S. army. The understanding is that about a dozen of these giant bombers are now ready for delivery, with approximately 70 more due to be finished by Jan. 1. The White committee hopes that the administration can be persuaded to release the manufacturers so that these planes may be sent to Britain; it isn't agitating for delivery of planes now in service, nor is it asking that the famous bomb sight be turned over.

Importance of these huge bombers to Britain is that they would make intensive bombing of Berlin and other German cities much easier, because of their long range and great carrying capacity.

Files of the Social Security Board have some odd bits of evidence on the reasons why men get fired from their jobs.

Under the law, a discharged worker is entitled to unemployment compensation unless he is fired for his own misconduct. Files of the board are full of hearings before the various state appeal boards, in which divers ex-workers have sought to show that they were fired through no fault of their own.

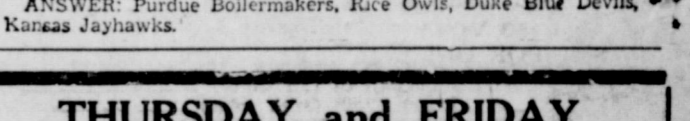

Prize case, perhaps, is that of a hotel elevator operator who got let out for giving a fellow employe the "hot foot." He was held not guilty of misconduct; his ex-boss, incidentally, backed his plea.

Less lucky was a warehouse employe who called his boss a lot of bad names over the phone while talking to a fellow employe; boss was listening in. The Texas appeal board held this was misconduct.

BECAUSE somebody made a mistake in arithmetic, the U. S. Housing Authority has $100,000,000 which it doesn't know whether it can use.

Under the original act, USHA could lend $800,000,000 on housing, making loans up to 90 per cent of the cost of any project; it could also grant an outright subsidy not exceeding 3 1/2 per cent of the total cost of a project.

Man Who Outdid Jonah Will Be On Program Oct. 11

Jonah may have been swallowed by a whale, but John Clements, 75-year old fisherman of Dorchester, Massachusetts, knows what it feels like to be scooped up by a whale, boat and all, and carried out to sea. He will tell the story of his unusual experience when he appears on the Ripley Believe It Or Not show next Friday night, October 11. The show will be broadcast from the Boston Garden before an expected audience of 18,000 people attending the New England Foods Exposition and will go over the CBS national network.

A Boston lad, John Saviskas, who picked up an iron bar and engaged in a battle with a bear to save his brother's life, will also appear, as will his brother. The odd story of how the reading of a comic strip and a subsequent dream led to the discovery of buried treasure in a burned-down house will be told in person by Fred Rother, of Methuen, Massachusetts. The show, which falls on the eve of Columbus Day, will present three little known Believe It Or Not stories about Columbus, the story of how he almost missed going to sea at all, the influence of a poem on his life, and why he refused to have the new land he had discovered named after him, instead of Amerigo Vespucci. Also appearing on the program will be B. A. Rolfe and his orchestra and the lovely Southern singer, Linda Lee.

C. E. (Earnest) Laffoon, employe at the County Tax Assessor's office, is celebrating his 68th birthday today. "I started to school in Eastland 60 years ago this fall," Laffoon said, "and have been around here ever since." He stated that while it didn't seem such a long time to him since he first came to Eastland, there were a lot of people who were here when he arrived who have passed on, some of them to other fields of activity and still others who have died. Laffoon is enjoying good health, is very active and looks much younger than his actual age.

R. G. HILL IS FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOTEL

R. G. Hill, about 50, an employe of the United States Department of Agriculture, was found dead in his room at the Connellee Hotel in Eastland about 12:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Dressed in night clothing the body was found by hotel employes lying on the floor by the side of the bed and near a stand for the telephone. The telephone was on the floor beside the body.

Employes of the hotel told Justice of the Peace E. E. Woods, who with District attorney Earl Conner, conducted an investigation, that a call had come to the desk from Hill's room asking for a doctor and that a doctor had been summoned.

Drs. F. T. Isbell and J. H. Caton, Justice Woods stated, were at the elevator waiting to go upstairs when he arrived at the hotel after having been summoned by hotel employes.

Justice Woods said that his investigation disclosed no evidence of violence on the body and that his verdict would be that the deceased died of natural causes.

Among the dead man's effects the coroner found several dollars worth of travelers' cheques and a letter from Silver Springs, Maryland, addressed to R. G. Hill, care Southwestern Peanut Growers Association. The letter signed "Willie" was addressed to "Dear Dad," and the writer expressed the hope that he would soon be coming home. "Peanuts are not so important now as they were a month ago when you started," the writer said. References was made to "Mom" and said, "It is too bad you can't see your flowers; they are perfect." In closing the writer admonished "dear dad" to take care of himself and again expressed the hope that she would see him again soon.

L. P. McGarrey of Fort Worth, who with Hill and other employes of the U. S. Agricultural department, registered at the Connellee hotel about ten days ago and had been working in the surrounding territory, said that he was with Hill at Gorman Friday and that he last saw him just before he retired Friday night at which time he appeared well and feeling good. He said he had at no time heard Hill say anything about not feeling well.

The Hamner Undertaking company, on instructions from Hill's immediate superiors in the U. S. Agricultural department, shipped the remains Saturday afternoon to Silver Springs, Maryland.

The Best Team Won—

There is not much argument over the outcome of the World Series, and very few disappointed fans. The breaks and streaks of luck, if any, were about evenly distributed between two very fine teams and the verdict was in doubt until the last ball was thrown. About the only comment we hear is, that the best team won.

And so it is with the game we call Life. There may be a few exceptions to the general rule now and then, but the man who builds for himself the proper foundation, trains himself according to the rules, and plays the game fairly and honestly, will finally win. The same rule might also apply to nations!

Let's forget, we still have a few homes left which we would like to sell this week. There is nothing to compare with being on the Home Ownership team—it always wins!
