Bitter Fighting Raging Near La Haye

INVASION GIVES LONDON BACK TO LONDONERS

LONDON (UP)—For the first time since the American "invasion" of Britain over two years ago, English is being widely spoken on Piccadilly.

Restaurants and theater owners report a 50 per cent decrease in business since the Yanks left Trafalgar Square for Normandy. London, which has been the Paris of this war for Americans, belongs once again to the Londoners.

The English population, emerging from obscurity, finds there is once more room in theaters and taxicabs.

Six Red Cross clubs here, formerly jammed with GI's sleeping on sofas are closed down.

Rainbow Corner, the most popular, still is open, but it is almost empty.

"For the first time since I've worked here, you can get a glimpse of the lobby floor," Miss Marguerite Tickle, Carmel, Cal., Red Cross worker, told the United Press.

Paradoxically, she reports a greater than ever demand for free theater tickets.

The boys are afraid they'll be called away any minute and want to see the sights," she said.

The manager of Merrygold, popular shooting gallery said that his business had fallen off 50 per cent since D day.

The maitre d'hôtel in a Piccadilly restaurant pointed regretfully to his half-empty dining room and said, "We need those Americans."

Hotels are still well booked, but the American clientele is largely air force personnel.

"They come in tired and unshaven now, but they still come on leave," said the room clerk at a hotel on Park Lane.

"It's the snowballs," as the white helmeted American military policemen are nicknamed, are lonesome.

"It sure is quiet now," Cpl. Gordon Augsburrer of Perne, Ind. observed. "I only have half as many problems these days as I used to."

The Yank occupation of Grosvenor Square gave rise to a parody of a well known song—"An Englishman spoke in Grosvenor Square." Today it is possible to walk through Grosvenor Square and see two Englishmen for every American.

Three Eastland Girls Injured Saturday Night

Three Eastland girls were seriously injured in a collision Saturday night and three Eastland boys received slight injuries in the same accident.

According to reports the group composed of Misses Jeanne Crossley, Rosa Anne Richter and Beth Rhineman and Charles Baskoe, Dick Brogdon and Eugene Stiffler, were enroute to Breckenridge to some kind of entertainment when the collision occurred.

All were taken to a Breckenridge hospital for treatment, the boys being later released and the girls being removed to other hospitals, Miss Richter to the Baylor Hospital in Dallas and Misses Crossley and Rhineman to the Payne Hospital in Eastland.

Miss Richter received an injured back, a broken pelvis, fractured ribs that both bones of the leg broken below the knee. It was stated Wednesday that she had been given several blood transfusions since entering the Dallas hospital.

Miss Crossley sustained a broken pelvis, two fractured ribs and numerous cuts and bruises and Miss Rhineman also received a broken pelvis and numerous cuts and bruises. Eugene Stiffler received some fractured ribs but was able to be released from the hospital.

The three young ladies and Dick Brogdon were all May graduates of Eastland high school.

Glenn Branton, above son of Mrs. Garland Branton, Eastland County Treasurer, and one of Eastland county's younger boys serving overseas, thinks of family, home and country.

(Editor's Note—It is against the policies of this paper to publish political or commercial matter or comments in news items, but we are violating this policy in the case of this young boy and would do the same for anyone else under similar circumstances.)

Dear People Of Eastland County: I am one of Eastland County's younger boys who is trying to help get this war over. The way things are looking to me it seems as if this war will be over by the first of the year. I am located on Coronado Island. I am in the amphibious forces. We land the Marines and Soldiers on the Beach heads. All of these boys are doing a swell job, even if a lot of us may have to sacrifice our lives for our country. If it is God's Will for me to get killed or wounded in this war, I believe that I am prepared to give my life or any part of my body.

I want to thank you for what you have done for my family. You remember my Dad when he was running for County Treasurer. I guess a lot of you know me because I was along with my Dad when he was making his campaign. Yes, you also remembered my mother when she announced before. I appreciate it very much. I wish to ask you another favor. I would appreciate it a lot for you good friends of mine and my family to elect my mother for another term.

When this war is over I plan on doing my best to take care of what is left of my family. I may still be a little young to carry on for them. I am 17 years old but since I have been in the Navy I have become equal to a man of 21. I also plan on getting a little more education when I get out so I guess that will help a lot. Well, I must close and "hit the sack". I am thinking of you all, and wondering when I will get to see all those swell places in that swell country of ours. Maybe it won't be too long till all of our boys and girls and loved ones will be home.

Your Friend,
Glenn Branton,
Son of Mrs. Garland Branton

Wince Graham, Jr. Graduates As A Pharmacists Mate

CAMP PENDLETON, OCEANSIDE, CALIF. July 5—Pharmacist's Mate Third Class Wince Graham, Jr., son of Wince Graham, Sr., Route 2, Eastland, has been graduated from the Training Command Field Medical School for hospital corpsmen.

Pharmacist's Mate Third Class Graham, born April 28, 1925 at Pyote, Texas, was graduated in 1943 from Morton Valley, Texas High school, where he was captain of the basketball team for two years. He was employed by the Arab Gasoline Corporation, Eastland, before enlisting in the Navy Sept. 25, 1943.

His wife resides in San Diego, Calif.

NAZIS CHARGED BY BRITON

LONDON—The British Minister of Information—Brendan Bracken—charges that the Nazis are setting up "public slaughter houses" where thousands of European Jews are being put to death.

DISTRESS

Today, July 5, 1944, the City of Eastland is $27,500 behind in its Series E quota and the Fifth War Loan Drive officially closes Saturday, July 8, 1944 at noon. If every patriotic citizen in Eastland will do his duty this deficit can be easily wiped out before noon Saturday. The total Series E quota for this city is $73,250.

The Series E Bond is the most popular of all Government issues that has been offered to the public during World War No. 2. It matures in ten years and for every three dollars put in you receive four dollars in return. This is the equivalent of about three per cent straight interest. No other issue bears this high rate of interest. Should you need your money that you have put in these bonds, you can cash them sixty days after date of purchase. These bonds are in denomination of $25.00 to $1,000 and any one person may purchase during the calendar year 1944 up to $5,000 maturity value which would be $3,750 cost price. Each member of the family may own and hold the full amount.

Many citizens have not bought bonds yet in this drive and many citizens who have purchased we feel sure are able to increase their purchases manyfold. The bonds are a good investment. They are safe and it is patriotic to buy them. All day yesterday, July 4th, the morning papers tell us that our soldiers in Normandy, from dawn until dark, advanced under the most concentrated artillery fire ever recorded in the history of war. Many of them gave their lives that we may be free, in order to perpetuate here the American way of life! As good citizens let us wipe this deficit out before noon Saturday, demonstrating our Love and Helpfulness to those who survive, will continue to fight on, and as a MEMORIAL to our dead on the far flung fighting front: throughout the world.

V. T. Seaberry, Chairman
City of Eastland
Cyrus B. Frost,
Eastland County Chairman.

Clever Trick Catches Forger

HAUSTON, Texas (UP)—The resourcefulness of Mr. Unick manager of the City Liquor and Beer Delivery Co., resulted in the arrest of one of the cleverest forgers in the country.

Th resourcefulness comes in Unick's insistence that all strangers who cash checks at his store place their thumb print on the back of the check.

When a check for $87 "bounced," Unick took it and the print to the identification section at police headquarters.

The man who cashed the check was traced through his previous record and within three days was taken into custody.

Restriction On WAC Enlistment Has Been Lifted

DALLAS, July 2—Enlistment in the Women's Army Corps is now possible for women with children under 14 years, even though the recruits have not been relieved by formal court order of custody of the children for 18 months past, according to Capt. Eve O. Dallas, the Dallas WAC recruiting officer of the Dallas WAC recruiting district.

Under regulations approved by the Secretary of War last month, she said, women may now enlist by providing affidavits that they have been divested of the care of their child or children for 18 months. One affidavit, from the person who has custody of the children, must agree to continue to support them. The prospective recruit must also make an affidavit explaining when the child was transferred from her custody and the reason therefore.

Japs Admit Loss Of Ships, Planes

SAN FRANCISCO—A Japanese Imperial Headquarters communique admits the loss of five Nipponese ships and 30 planes during the American carrier task force raids on the Bonin and Volcano Islands early this week.

Allied Planes Hit Japanese With Rockets

DOVER, N. J. (UP)—Japanese in the China-Burma-India war theatre have a new worry—the "flying bazooka," an Army Ordnance rocket, which is being used by Allied dive bombers with deadly effect, Col. W. E. Larned, Picatinny Arsenal commandant, revealed.

A recent combat report from the Far East related how eight planes loaded with rockets and bombs screamed into 400 mile an hour dives, shot their rockets into enemy installations, then pulled out and joined in a strafing pattern. Allied ground troops, who were in a "hot spot" according to the report, had a chance to retreat due to the rocket runs. They reported that the flying bazookas did tremendous damage.

Stationary targets, such as warehouses, are "sitting ducks" for the flying bazookas and airplanes can pick them off one by one. One pilot in six tries set five Japanese warehouses afire.

Moving targets, such as locomotives and enemy aircraft, however, require a different technique and pilots usually let go with all rockets at once, almost guaranteeing a hit. So far, six enemy locomotives in the Chinese-Burma-India area have been destroyed, Col Larned said.

Although at first rockets and bombs could not be carried at the same time, rocket launchers now can be attached easily to wings, leaving the bomb racks intact.

Aleutian Bases Get A New One: Real Dust Storm

AN ADVANCED ALEUTIAN BASE (UP)—The oldtimers around here used to congratulate themselves on having survived every thing in the weather man's book—wind, snow, ice, rain, and fog. But when the Aleutians came up with dust storms the old timers thought they'd had more than enough.

What we've had along the island chain in the way of dust storms would make the refugees from the Oklahoma dust bowl feel right at home. There was enough real estate in the air 24 hours a day to build a new island chain. The Army Engineers have been engaged for two years here in one of the largest dirt moving operations ever carried out anywhere, but the recent Willwaws are showing them some new tricks.

The engineers took the tough island sod off and moved mountains to make room for military installations, and with the sod off and the sand and volcanic ash exposed, the wild Aleutian winds started in where the engineers quit. The troops here, finding sand in their food, their beds, their equipment and their clothes, have come up with a new theory as to how these battle-scarred islands originally were formed.

They are convinced now that they blew in from Siberia. Some of these bases, among the most powerful in the Pacific, unquestionably will be maintained in strength in peacetime, and already commanders are realizing that unless the dust problem is licked they will not be popular stations. They are wondering what sort of vegetation can be planted to bind the soil and prevent it from blowing.

"I'll bet you," said a transport pilot "that the week after Japan folds up, they'll put us to work flying in something that never was flown before—grass seed and fertilizer."

Eastland Man Is Killed In Action In France

Charles De Los Santos, son of Mrs. Angelita De Los Santos of Eastland, and who was with the United States forces in France, was killed in action on June 11, according to information received on July 4, by his mother.

De Los Santos is survived also by his wife and six brothers, all in the military forces, and one of which, Earnest, is a prisoner of the Germans.

THREE TOWNS TAKEN; GROUND GAINED ON MT. ABOVE LA HAYE

American fighting men are swarming around by-passed La Haye Du Puits, at the base of the Cherbourg Peninsula in France, but they haven't yet succeeded in capturing that German stronghold. Our troops took outlying villages on each side of it today and are locked in bitter fighting with the Germans between the town and its rail station, 500 yards to the north.

Glatigny, four miles to the west, Seorman, nearby and La Butte, six and a half miles east of La Haye, all were captured in today's fighting. The Americans also gained ground on the Mt. Caestre heights overlooking La Haye.

Canadian forces at the village of Carpiquet in the Caen area are reported to have knocked out 10 German tanks in repulsing enemy counter attacks. The fight continues without decisive change.

One thousand American heavy bombers struck at the enemy over a widespread area today. The heavyweights pounded targets in northwestern Germany, airfields in France and robot bomb platforms on the Pas De Calais area.

The Germans say Russia has opened a massive new offensive in southern Poland. A Nazi high command announcement says fighting has blazed up all along a 125-mile front between Kovel and the upper Dneestr River.

American troops in Italy have advanced two miles to within 20 miles of the Pisa-Florence highway.

Many Families Benefit From FHA Housing Program

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—The FHA has provided housing quarters for 57,750 families since the start of its program in 1934, according to R. E. Sheppard, district director.

To make this possible, it was necessary to have $88,750,000 advanced by private lending institutions and insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

The Dallas office has played a vital role in the production of housing for war workers during the emergency, and the peace-time job will be to stimulate the production of sound, attractive homes for a broad-scale market through the insured market system, Sheppard said.

County Singers To Meet Sunday At Desdemona

The third quarterly meeting of the Eastland County singing convention will meet at 10:00 o'clock Sunday morning, July 9, in the High School auditorium at Desdemona for an all day session. There will be dinner for everyone.

A. E. LeClaire of Eastland, president of the convention, stated that a large crowd including singers from as far distant as Dallas and Abilene, was expected.

YMCA To Have Novelty Class

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—An "opportunity class" will be offered at the YMCA building for the benefit of persons who have not received elementary education.

The idea was conceived after a report from selective service and wartime employment examinations which revealed an astonishing amount of illiteracy in the United States, a spokesman for the local Social Relations Committee said. The classes will be held three times a week with volunteer, competent teachers instructing.

Halmahera Island Seen as Philippine Springboard | War Department Denies Rohl-Richardson Report

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Once American forces secure the main points of the Mariana Islands, watch for a quick drive into the Philippine area.

All indications point to the possibility that forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur or Adm. Chester Nimitz, or both, simultaneously, may be hammering through the Philippine defenses this summer or autumn.

With air and submarine bases in the Marianas, Nimitz could virtually cut all Japanese supply lines to the Philippines and East Indies.

MacArthur should be able to resume his march back to the Philippines as soon as he clears the Japs out of Biak and surrounding islands in the New Guinea area.

MacArthur's next offensive may be into Halmahera Island, which would provide an excellent jumping-off place for a strike into the southern Philippines.

HANS WILHELM ROHL, German-born contractor, whose firm of Hawaiian constructors failed to complete aircraft warning stations just prior to Pearl Harbor, received a setback from the war department recently.

Rohl claimed a so-called "Richardson report"—allegedly prepared after investigation by Lieut. Gen. Robert C. Richardson—completely exonerated him of blame in delaying the warning set-up which, if completed, might have prevented or greatly reduced the Pearl Harbor damage.

However, the House military affairs committee was informed, by the war department, General Richardson never made such a report. The House report held Rohl and Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., Army engineer, jointly responsible for the delayed warning system.

IF GERMAN resistance should end in September, it is highly doubtful that unemployment compensation or surplus property legislation will be on the statute books, despite pleas of Bernard M. Baruch for speedy action on vital post-war measures.

Congress scheduled its "convention" recess without acting on the human-side of demobilization. Only the war contracts termination legislation got through both houses.

Another hurdle in the way of a post-war unemployment compensation bill is the opposition of the states to any interference by the federal government with state unemployment compensation systems.

DESPITE reports of a Democratic party rebellion over retention of Vice President Henry A. Wallace for another term, President Roosevelt is understood to be urging party politicians to go down the line for Wallace's renomination at Chicago next month.

The president's reasoning is reported to be as follows: Wallace has faithfully supported administration policies, even in the face of some White House criticism. Other party followers, such as Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, are best-suited in their present posts rather than as vice presidential candidates.

Washington observers also recalled that Mr. Roosevelt commented in connection with the vice president's trip to China that Wallace would return in time for the Democratic convention July 19.

HOUSEWIVES, attention!

Look for resumption of the output of washing machines and electric refrigerators before the year is out. And housewives also can expect some aluminum pots, pans and gadgets to replace their worn-out kitchen equipment soon.

The Office of Civilian Requirements of WPB has got these three items high on its list of needed products. Kitchen equipment is slated for production just as soon as plants can be found to make it without impeding the war effort.

Contracts for about half the 2,000,000 electric iron quota for 1944 already have been let.

Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.—James 4:8.

To Much Optimism

(FROM THE DALLAS NEWS)

Almost since the beginning of the war, we have had with us the issue of whether public optimism or public pessimism should be encouraged for the purpose of maintaining public morale. The direct answer to that is that the public ought to be given the facts in the belief that the American public will best sustain its morale in the light of the truth. And it will. It always has.

It is true, however, the public sometimes lets its optimism, though seldom its pessimism, drag its anchor facts out of position. In these instances, there needs to be a reanchoring. That is what President Roosevelt is trying to do in his announcement in Friday morning's paper that top military commanders warn that "there is still tough going ahead."

Americans are congenitally turned toward optimism. They have a history and a tradition and even a current environment, notwithstanding depression and war, that encourages optimism. From the very beginning of our entry into this war, which on the basis of comparative military strength looked rather hopeless for our side, there has never been the slightest doubt in the minds of the American public that we would win the war. And our optimists have been right in that.

But what is needful in the way of preaching to the public is that by being overoptimistic we can prolong the war and that prolonging the war will take the lives of just that many more of our fighting men. We should put down as our war slogan: "There is tough going ahead." We can fit this in with our irresistible impulse to be optimistic by assuring ourselves that recognition of hard facts is the quickest way out from under the war clouds.

Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas is the only woman in the U. S. Senate. In the August 8 primary four men will oppose her.

It is predicted that the lumber shortage this fall will be the greatest yet experienced. WPB estimates that demands will exceed the supply by a billion board feet.

Britain expects to spend $37,000,000 in India during the next 15 years to double agriculture production.

Plans for the production of civilian automobiles are expected to be announced in July or August. The first cars will be similar to the 1942 models.

The War Food Administration is planning on asking turkey producers for 50,000,000 pounds of turkey for the armed forces this year.

The Dionne family have, since the birth of the quints, amassed a fortune of $1,000,000 with an annual income of $40,000 from contracts. A nineteen room house across the street from the old Dionne home has been built at a cost of $20,000 with furnishings costing $12,000.

WHEN U. S. SUPERFORTRESSES reached their targets over Yawata in Japan, the code name "Betty," flashed three times, signalled the beginning of the raid. County Kitchens Become Tin Mines For War Items

Women of Eastland county can "mine" tin sufficient for 102 Flying Fortress this year.

These figures were compiled by J. A. Stewart, vice-president of the American Can Company, on the basis of canned foods consumed by civilians in the county during 1943. On the basis of last year's consumption, civilians will open approximately 2,457,936 cans of food this year, he said. According to a table recently issued by Washington, 24,000 cans provide tin sufficient for one Flying Fortress.

Meanwhile, the armed forces consumed approximately three billion cans of food during 1943 and needs for the current year are expected to rise to three and a quarter billion cans, Mr. Stewart said.

Pvt. T. E. Ervin At Sioux Falls Base

Pvt. Thomas E. Ervin, Jr., husband of Mrs. Lois B. Ervin, Jr., of Desdemona, Texas, has been assigned to the AAF Training Command Radio School at the Sioux Falls Army Air Field, Sioux Falls, S. D., for training as a radio operator-mechanic.

Upon completion of a 20-week course, he will be fully trained to take his place as a member of a highly skilled bomber crew of the Army Air Forces.

He is a graduate of Desdemona high school and attended John Tarleton College. He enlisted in the service on November 14, 1942 and received his training at Sheppard Field, Centenary College at Shreveport, La., and at San Antonio.

Peeps For Farm Use

The army jeep promises greater usefulness as an auxiliary work implement on a large farm than for general work on the average farm, according to indications reported by Domestic Commerce, official publication of the Department of Commerce Tests have been made on jeeps at the Tillage Machinery Laboratory, Auburn, Ala., and in connection with Pennsylvania State College. Perhaps half a million jeeps have been manufactured and more will continue to be made until the war ends.

National Restaurant Regulation

For the first time, public eating and drinking places will be covered by a national restaurant regulation July 31, when they must post their April 4-10, 1943, base period ceiling prices for 40 basic menu items served. OPA announces. However, a cup of coffee with sugar and cream may sell for no more than a nickel at any establishment that did not charge more than a nickel for it October 4-10, 1942.

Buys $50 Bond Each Month When the War Finance Division of the Treasury sent Fay McDougal, Fairmont, W. Va., farmer, a letter urging him to buy Fifth War Loan Bonds, Mr. McDougal wrote back—"Beg to reply I do not have to be asked to buy more war bonds. I have a son in service in Italy who is buying a $100 each month. I bought $675 worth of bonds last year on a salary of $1,400.65. I have averaged a $50 bond per month so far this year. I do not see where I can do better than the above average." The last day of the Fifth War Loan Drive is July 8.

Procedure For Selling Used Cars Newly established ceiling prices for used passenger cars and certificates of transfer required on all completed sales may be obtained from local War Price and Rationing Boards or car dealers, the Office of Price Administration announces. Prices vary by three geographical zones. After July 10 any seller and the buyer of a used car must jointly fill out a transfer certificate giving the applicable maximum price, the actual selling price and other details of the sale. The purchaser then files the complete certificate with his local War Price and Rationing Board.

How To Be Warm Next Winter You can make scarce fuel go further next winter by preparing your home for winter now, be you owner or merely a leaseholder the Federal Housing Administration says; an FHA title loan will enable you to borrow to pay for both materials and workmanship needed to insulate your home, to repair your heating plant, to install storm windows—up to as much as $2,500. You can borrow enough for any or all of these things without down payment, without security and with three years in which to pay, FHA says. Get best prices on jobs you want done, then get your local dealer or contractor to tell you where you can get an FHA title loan to cover the entire bill.

Some Foods Again Rationed The OPA has restored rationing to best cuts of lamb in order to get better distribution among customers, and it has restored point values to certain types of cheese and canned asparagus, peas and tomatoes, which were unrationed for two weeks because of large stocks on hand.

OPA Names New Ceiling Prices Ceiling prices have been established by OPA on watermelons, alfalfa hay sweet peppers and hot-house cucumbers, none of which had been under nationwide retail price control. Retail watermelon prices should decline substantially from last summer's figures. Alfalfa producers per ton ceiling prices range from $19 to $26.50. Ceilings on sweet peppers and hot-house cucumbers represent reductions at retail. OPA also has set maximum prices for the 1944 crop of red and black raspberries, dewberries and blackberries.

Candidate For Atty. General

FORT WORTH, July 6.—State Senator Jesse E. Martin is on an extensive state-wide tour presenting to the voters his qualifications for attorney general.

"During the next administration of the attorney general," Senator Martin, the only ex-serviceman in this race, is telling the people,
"many problems will arise in the attorney general's office that will deal directly with the returning soldier, his widow, his orphan or his dependent parents. I believe an ex-serviceman, otherwise qualified will be better able to solve these vital problems than a man who has never been in the service."

Senator Martin, who fought with the Marines in France in World War I, advocated soldiers voting without paying a poll tax.
He is serving his second term in the Texas Senate and three times was elected district attorney of Tarrant County after serving as deputy. As an assistant federal district attorney he presented in the United States District Court in 29 Texas counties.

While in the State Senate he sponsored, and helped pass, appropriations for old age assistance teachers retirement, the needy blind and dependent children.
While still a Marine, Senator
Martin won a scholarship in Cambridge University in England where he took a post graduate law course. He previously had obtained his law degree from Texas Christian University. He was born on a Texas farm and worked his way through school.

He started—and jay-walked.

Lucas Gusher At Spindletop Made Oil Well History

(Editor's Note—This is another in the series of articles on Texas oil history in connection with the observance of the 25th Anniversary of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The blowing in of the Lucas gusher at Spindletop on January 10, 1901, was the most far-reaching event in the oil history of the world, with the possible exception of the drilling of the Drake well in Pennsylvania in 1859.

In 1890, when Patillo Higgins of Beaumont insisted there was oil under Spindletop, a low mound three miles south of the lumber-and-rice town, the total output of Texas during the entire year was only 54 barrels.

The monster well, rated at 50,000—some said even 75,000 or 100,000—barrels a day was at least eight times as big as any well the United States had ever seen.

Lucas' first attempt was abandoned because of the quicksand but not until some oil had been found.

Bus Head Says Helicopter Lines Almost Certainty

WASHINGTON.—That more than 70 bus companies have applications before the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to establish local air service, usually with helicopters, is seen by Arthur M. Hill, president of the National Association of Motor Bus Operators, as an indication of the advanced postwar planning within the industry.

"There are some who consider these plans visionary," Mr. Hill said. "They forget that intercity bus lines are pioneers in a comparatively new form of public transportation, scarcely older than the airlines as an industry."

"Within that brief time, the nation has been given a great new system of highway transportation. The bus lines have established facilities reaching into thousands of communities that are without other forms of public transportation."

An important point in connection with the proposed helicopter air service is that its development will provide particularly suitable employment to the thousands of men who have been trained as pilots or mechanics with the military air forces.

Iowa Acquires Industry Rank Since War Opened

DES MOINES, Ia. (UP)—Iowa—the Tall Corn State—famed more for its corn and hogs than implements of war—has taken its place among industries since Pearl Harbor.

Nearly 30 Iowa farms, which manufacture everything from minute aviation instruments to tanks and locomotives, have been awarded the Army-Navy "E" for outstanding production awards.

Iowa manufacturers quickly converted to war production when America was plunged into the war, and since the Iowa Transmission Co., Waterloo, first was awarded the "E" nearly two years ago, some 29 other companies have been cited for the honor.

The "E" award originated as a Navy fleet award for excellence reserved for men with outstanding records in gunnery, and was first offered in 1906.

In the years after 1906 the "E" award was made for other gunnery activities and when the current war placed a premium on industrial production of war material and equipment, the "E" was extended to include firms on a basis of high quality material manufactured and because contracts have been met on schedule or better. Firms are presented "E" flags and employees "E" buttons.

SOMEWHERE IN THE MARSHALLS. (delayed) — Marine First Lieutenant Joe A. Boaz, 27, of Box 190, Ranger, Texas, has been promoted to that rank from second lieutenant.

YOUR VOTE FOR CONGRESS IS AN IMPORTANT VOTE

No other place on the ballot is as important to you as the office of Representative in Congress. You are electing the man who will represent you in decisions which vitally affect the future of this nation.

Can this nation devise a system whereby we can avoid these terrible wars which each generation has had to face?

Can this nation manage its financial affairs so as to pay a Three Hundred Billion Dollar debt, without causing a terrible depression or an uncontrolled inflation?

Can this nation manage the demobilization of 11,000,000 men, and solve the unemployment problems arising from reconversion to a peacetime basis?

Can we restore trade with foreign nations, so as to enable us to dispose of our surplus farm products at fair prices?

Can we reorganize our government so as to eliminate most boards and bureaus, and keep this government a democratic republic instead of a National Socialist state?

Can we pay adequate Old Age Pension and Social Security Benefits without destroying the financial stability of the government?

YES—we can solve all these problems IF we elect the right sort of men to our national Congress.

Bob Wagstaff is a native Texan; a veteran of World War I; a successful lawyer of the highest standing. His record in the 42nd and 43rd Legislatures shows him to have been an outstanding leader of that period, with the capacity and skill to accomplish things in a legislative body. His record and experience qualify him to represent the people of the 17th District.

He has never held a full-time political office, and is not a perpetual office seeker. He will bring a fresh viewpoint to the solution of the problems which confront our nation.

LONE STAR ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED AT MEETING

The 35th anniversary of Lone Star Gas System was celebrated at a meeting of all employees in this district held at Ranger Country Club Friday night. Workers from all the Ranger, Breckenridge, Pueblo and Gordon plants together with representatives of the distribution department from Cisco and Eastland gathered at dinner with a number of chief executives and department heads from Dallas. More than 250 were present to hear messages from the officials.

The great importance of the company's operations here in the Ranger district and the part this territory has played in the company's success were stressed.

Elmer F. Schmidt, Dallas, vice-president in charge of production and transmission, presided. He introduced D. A. Hulcy, Dallas, president, who delivered the principal address. Present also were Chester L. May, Dallas, vice-president in charge of distribution, and a dozen department heads.

The employees were introduced by groups and among them were met whose service records span almost the entire history of the company.

President Hulcy sketched the history of the company which built the first long distance gas pipe line in Texas from Petrolia to Fort Worth and Dallas 35 years ago this summer. In the beginning the firm had this single line 135 miles long and served 15,000 customers. Today it has 5,000 miles of pipe line and serves 330,000 customers in 275 cities and towns.

One of the greatest problems in the early days was to find sufficient gas to supply the customers, and President Hulcy said he could think of nothing worse than a gas company without any gas. This problem was solved when engineers worked out a method of using casinghead gas being blown into the air from oil wells, and the Ranger area played a vital part in this development. From that time, Hulcy said, progress of the company has been steady until today it stands near the top of gas companies of the country.

He paid tribute to the more than 900 employees who have gone to war and declared that these men would be rehired upon their return. He emphasized that this it not only a legal obligation but the company considers it a moral obligation as well and expects to meet that obligation in full.

Despite efforts to replace the men who have gone to war, the company is forced to operate on 663 fewer employees than before the war, but in face of this the payroll has increased by $650,000 a year, the speaker said. Gas sales have doubled since Pearl Harbor but earnings have decreased 34 percent, while taxes have increased 133 percent. The taxes now amount to $2.40 for every gas bill rendered each month.

The company has 15,000 stockholders residing in every state in the Union, except two, and in seven foreign countries. These shareholders, said Mr. Hulcy, are people just like the employees, and a majority of them own less than 100 shares each. They are affected by the same rise in living costs, taxation and other problems as are the average citizen and many of them depend on Lone Star for their income. One statement which met general approval was the announcement that the company has under consideration an employee pension plan and Hulcy said he hoped to have it well on the way to completion by the end of this year.

The executives said they looked for a great expansion of company activities after the war. Because of the great amount of gas being delivered to war industries, it will be necessary to drill many new wells in order to bring reserves back to normal. Many new homes must be connected to the gas lines, and an entirely new sale force must be built up to promote the business in the keenly competitive world after the war.

What was described as marvelous new household appliances will be ready as soon as peace is signed, the meeting was told. Among these is a new gas furnace which not only heats but also cooks a home at the flip of a lever. The customer can have just the type of indoor climate desired and all of this is done with a gas flame. New gas refrigeration units which will provide deep freezing, also are declared to be on the way. Then there is a new type of kitchen called the coordinated ventilated kitchen. It combines gas range, water heater, sink, and cabinets in one package and will have an improved system of ventilation that will remove all cooking odors and heat.

Mr. Hulcy made a plea for complete cooperation among all branches of the far-flung industry and said with the loyal support of all employees working together the gas company will continue to be in the front rank of the industries that are building up Texas.

Similar meetings are being held at various points over the Lone Star System. It was stated another series of meetings will be held next fall to distribute ser-

The Baptist Herald

Rev. Homer J. Starnes, Pastor
First Baptist Church

The past month has been an extremely busy one in our work. June started off with the Vacation Bible School, which was a good success. Then came the two weeks revival, which was a blessing to us all. This was followed by a week of encampment at Lueders. The camp was greatly enjoyed but at the same time required time and energy.

No doubt the work will settle down to a steady pace during July and August. But let us one and all see to it that old "Summer Slump" gains no entrance into the work. If every member will be at his post of duty and in his place on the Sabbath day, the work will grow and prosper.

We are glad to welcome the 42 new members who came into the fellowship of the church during the meeting. May each of them find a church home that will enrich their lives and furnish an opportunity for service and growth. Let us remember that the person who gives his time and prayers and service to his church loves his church.

The help for the revival was of the best. We appreciate the splendid work of Brothers Ball and Camp. But after all, those of the local people who visited and attended and prayed are the ones largely responsible for the success of the meeting. We sometimes are made to think of how much more could be accomplished for the Master if every member would be as faithful as some are. How thankful we are for those who care and share in every undertaking for the common good.

We are concerned for two services of the church which are neglected by many of our people: the mid-week service and the Sunday night's service. Why leave these two out? They need the support of all and contribute just as much to spiritual growth as does the morning service. Why should I put these services at a disadvantage by neglecting them? We might ask ourselves this question: "If my church canceled the mid-week and Sunday night's services, would I be critical of such action? Then what am I doing to preserve them for the good of the community?"

The young peoples forum and social period each Wednesday night following mid-week service will be a great blessing to those who support it. The young people will bring their questions for discussion and each will contribute to the solving of common problems. All young people who care to attend are invited to these Wednesday night gatherings.

The Brotherhood meets next Monday night. Every man of the church is urged to be present at 8:30. Visitors are always welcome. Another date to keep in mind is vice pins among employees who have worked for the company more than five years.

Women Work On Navy's Ships For First Time

NEW YORK. (UP)—For the first time in history, women are working today on the hulls of fighting ships on the construction ways of the New York Navy Yard.

In trim safety clothing, several score pioneering women already are welding, doing electrical and sheet metal work aboard aircraft carriers under construction in the yard. The Navy says it can use hundreds more.

Women have proved their worth in ship construction, Rear Adm. Monroe Kelly, commandant of the yard said, and their willingness, sincerity and skill have earned the praise of the naval officers and civilians under whom they work.

Of 65,000 workers, exclusive of office personnel, at the 143-year-old yard 3,000 are women. They are employed as shop workers, crane and machine operators, ship fitters, chauffeurs and painters as well as on ship construction.

Most of the women workers have high school diplomas, the Navy said, some are college graduates, a great many are former office workers, and a large number are mothers. A high percentage are the wives or sisters of the men who fight aboard the ships they build.

Oil Industry Passes Billion In Expenditures

DALLAS, Tex., July 3.—An annual expenditure of the Texas petroleum industry passed the billion dollar mark for the first time in history in 1943. The Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association announced today.

"The cash outlay in 1943 totaled $1,109,000,000 compared with $862,000,000 in 1942 the second highest year," the association said after combining reports from Texas operators.

"The increase which has been rising steadily since oil was discovered in Texas soared last year because of mounting costs especially of labor, materials and taxes."

"The industry paid out $332,000,000 in wages and salaries in 1943 compared with $249,000,000 in 1942. These figures do not include equipment and supply industry payrolls of $47,000,000 in 1943 and $44,000,000 in 1942.

"Royalty payments for oil and gas rose from $74,000,000 in 1942 to $96,000,000 in 1943. Lease rentals and bonuses paid to landowners increased from $66,000,000 to 70,000,000.

"Federal taxes jumped from $43,000,000 to $71,000,000 and state and local taxes rose from $94,000,000 to $100,000,000.

"The industry's bill for equipment and supplies increased from $170,000,000 to $185,000,000. Freight charges climbed from $21,000,000 to $32,000,000.

"The industry paid out $18,000,000 for geophysical prospecting in 1943 compared with $14,000,000 in 1942. The outlay for contract drilling rose from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000.

"Interest paid on borrowed capital climbed from $42,000,000 to $53,000,000. All other expenditures, including depreciation, depletion, amortization, retirement insurance and miscellaneous items soared from $75,000,000 to $112,900,000.

"In 1919, the year following the close of the first World War and the year in which the association was established, the expenditures by the Texas petroleum industry totaled $65,800,000. By contrast, the outlay in 1943 represented

Pirate Captain Was Softie For Infants Wail

HENNIKER, N. L. (AP)—A bit of pirate treasure still may be seen in the ancient "Ocean-Born Mary House" on the well-named Gulf Road of this inland New Hampshire hamlet.

The treasure is a bit of fine colored silk that may once have been destined for the gay courts of France or Spain, but now hangs protected by a glass and frame in the hall of this historic homestead.

Some 200 years ago, so the tale presents, $150 for every dollar paid out in 1919. Thus the petroleum industry has become a major factor in the economic life of Texas with benefits accruing directly or indirectly to all Texans."

is told, pirates boarded an emigrant ship off the coast of the New World. Even as the seared passengers huddled on deck before the menacing robbers, the first wail of a new-born child came from below the decks.

The captain of the pirate band strode down the hatchway, confronted the frightened parents, and demanded that the baby be named Mary in memory of his dead wife.

Fearing possible harm, the parents acquiesced. The bold captain, calling to his men, returned to their ship. Filling their arms with spoils captured on the high seas, they reboarded the emigrant vessel and lay them at the baby's feet. Gruffly, the captain asked that a bolt of gay silk be kept to fashion the infant's wedding dress. The emigrants were permitted then to proceed on the rest of their journey to Portsmouth, N. H.

Years later, when the infant Mary became the bride of James Wallace, his gown was fashioned from the bolt of silk. The couple came here and built the "Ocean-Born Mary House," where the bride lived until her death in her old age.
