School Population Increases Slightly

Eastland's school population for the 1946-47 school year will be slightly above that for the present school year, according to the school census completed recently.

The figures showed a final school population of 769, against a figure a year ago at this time of 755. However, last year's figure later was increased to 767, and there is a chance of this year's figures being stretched about the same amount, said County School Supt. Homer Smith, to whom the figures were reported.

Warren Is Named Studebaker Dealer

W. M. Warren, whose Warren Motor Company is being announced as Studebaker distributor for Eastland County, this week returned from a trip to Chicago with glowing reports of the new 1947 post-war Studebakers that were unveiled to dealers at a meeting there.

Warren said the new Studebakers are the most advanced cars he has seen, but that he cannot reveal details yet. Public announcement of the new cars is scheduled for next month.

Warren's announcement as Studebaker distributor for Eastland County is carried in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue of The Record.

Cover Crop Reports Due By May 15

Eastland County farmers who grew cover crops this winter under the AAA program were advised by Administrator Emmett Powell this week that May 15 will be the closing date for turning in cover crop performance reports.

When the producer can say his cover crop is of a good stand and good growth, making a satisfactory cover crop, his approval and performance report must be signed and returned to the County AAA office before May 15, if he is to receive payment, Powell said.

Kilgore Gives Talks Before Rotarians

John P. Kilgore, owner of the Eastland Creamery, Monday told Eastland Rotarians something of the milk business as it applies to his own setup and the world in general.

Kilgore said his plant pays more than $4000 a month to farmers for milk and cream, and with a monthly payroll of $1500 and other expenses, spends about $6000 per month in Eastland and vicinity.

Milk, he told the Rotary Club members, is the only food in the world that was designed by nature as a food and nothing else.

But now, milk is being used also to make billiard balls, glue, fashionable fabrics and many other things, he said.

Overflow Crowd Sees Senior Play

An overflow crowd saw both performances of "June Mad," comedy presented by the Eastland High School Senior Class in the school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights of last week.

The play was one of the most successful ever presented by students of the high school, and exceptionally favorable response came from the large audiences.

The play was directed by Mrs. Harold Durham. Speciality entertainment between acts was given by students of West Ward and South Ward Schools, and by Lynn Castleberry and Emily Jean Grisom.

Hospital To Have Open House May 12

At that time, the public will be invited to inspect the hospital, which recently was refurnished and modernized.

Miss Begley said wives of Eastland doctors had been invited to be hostesses at the affair.

Wince Graham, who is attending Draughon's Business College, Abilene, was announced as being on the honor roll this month.

Side Issues

By HENRY G. VERMILLION

There have been a number of times that I have felt impelled to write in this column of the vital necessity for the prevention of soil erosion, and I meant every word I wrote, and still believe them.

But every once in a while on my infrequent travels about the country, I get to thinking of the evidences of soil erosion that preceded the appearance of agriculture on this sphere.

Before the word erosion was invented, mountains had washed into plains, and plains had eroded into the sea, and the sea had covered all that now is dry land, and probably most of the present ocean bottom was dry land.

You can drill a hole almost anywhere and find evidences at 10,000 feet that once there was life at that level, which only goes to show how the tortured crust of this old world has washed, and heaved, and hardened and dissolved through the course of the countless centuries since erosion first began.

Of course, as I said when I began this piece, all of this is no argument against conservation and prevention of soil erosion, because what we have to worry about is our own century and that of our children and grandchildren, and not one that has been gone a million or two years.

But despite the very evident worthlessness of soil conservation measures, the effort does seem a bit puny against the pageant of the centuries, just as man himself always seems puny against the pageant of the stars.

A lot of people from Eastland went to the Electric Show in Fort Worth, including a large number of employees of the Texas Electric Service Company, quite a few appliance dealers, and a fair representation of the public.

Comments I heard, as often is the case, ranged from good to bad.

I saw the show Saturday, and perhaps because I was quite tired, the wonders of the post-war electric world were pretty pale to me.

Bob Vaughan, on the other hand, said he enjoyed the show thoroughly, and brought back a lot of information I hadn't gleaned in my perhaps perfunctory survey.

Others I know of who attended are Buck Pickens, Hal Jackson, Henry Pullman, O. B. Shero, and the wives of several of these gentlemen. And of course there were a lot more.

The weather, as usual, has been a very fruitful subject of conversation in these parts the past few days, what with the clouds, thunder, lightning, sunshine, heat, cloudiness and coolness following each other in reasonably close order.

Marvin Hutto got out on a limb the other day when the first big black clouds were overhead and predicted that they had little if any rain in them, and sure enough no one chopped the limb out from behind him.

I am now considering making Marvin the official Eastland County Record weather forecaster, so by his true eye, trusty judgment, and rheumatic joints you can be a jump or two ahead on the weather.

Marvin also says in a half whisper, the sort of tone probably used by those in Germany who said bad things about Hitler, that all the signs so far point to a dry summer.

Now Marvin has spent his entire life in West Texas, and he knows better than to publicly predict the weather, and I wouldn't be so mean as to quote him except that I have a sneaking fear that he's right.

I can't get out of my head the sunspot cycle theory advanced by those fellows who study tree rings (Continued on Page Eight)

Ranger Football Game Set Friday

A football game will be played at 8 p. m. Friday at the Ranger football field between the Ranger Bulldogs, 1946 edition, and the Ranger High Exes, it was announced this week.

Eastland football fans were invited to attend the preview of the 1946 season. An admission charge of 50 cents will be made.

Mrs. Johnson Named Chairman Of Cancer Drive

Mrs. Marene Johnson has been named chairman of the Eastland fund-raising committee for the fight against cancer, "our No. 1 enemy," it was announced by Frank C. Smith of Houston, state co-chairman of the Texas division, American Cancer Society. W. F. Creager of Ranger will serve as treasurer of the committee.

"Cancer is one of the greatest killers of men," Mrs. Johnson said in accepting the appointment to head the campaign here. "Cancer killed 607,000 Americans between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day—more than twice as many Americans as were killed or listed missing in action in World War II. Money is needed to carry on the fight against this dread disease, which strikes young and old alike. I am confident that the citizens of this area will contribute generously to so worthy a cause."

The month of April has been proclaimed Cancer Control Month by President Truman, and the local drive will coincide with similar campaigns being conducted this month throughout the nation.

"Most of the money collected in Texas will be retained in the state for local use to fight cancer," state co-chairman Smith pointed out. "We know now that when detected early enough and treated effectively, at least 30 per cent to 50 per cent of cancer cases can be cured."

Hart's Statement On County Judge Race Is Issued

JOHN HART

John Hart this week formally announced his candidacy for county judge, subject to action of the Democratic primaries this summer.

In a formal statement, Hart said:

"In making my announcement for the office of county judge, I first want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the favors you have shown me. I shall always be grateful to you. I am now asking the people of my county, who have been so good to me, for promotion to county judge.

"My family consists of my wife, and four children, three boys and one girl. The three boys and son-in-law were all in the service of our country during the recent war.

"As I have spent practically all my life in Eastland county teaching school, serving you as state and county tax collector, and sheriff, I feel there is no need of making you a lot of promises for I believe you know how I stand on all public issues.

"I appreciate the interests my friends are taking in my behalf, and I hope to see each and every voter of Eastland County before the July primary.

"I assure you that if I am elected county judge I will discharge the duties of the office in a fair and impartial manner, and will do the very best I can to make you a good hand at the job."

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Conner of Haskell visited Mr. Conner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Conner, last week end.

Mrs. J. H. Safley spent most of last week in Temple, where she was called on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. M. V. Halliburton. Her condition is much improved.

Protest On Veterans School Brings Promise Of Change

County Children Gain From Taxes Paid By Trucks

AUSTIN — The Texas motor transportation industry last year contributed heavily toward the education of Eastland County school children and in the construction and maintenance of the county's highway system it was revealed today in an analysis of the industry's special tax payments released by Lynn B. Shaw, general manager of the Texas Motor Transportation Association.

The 6,423 scholastics in Eastland county benefitted to the extent of $23,122—$3.60 for the education of every school child in the county, or in excess of 13 per cent of the total education bill.

Trucks and buses paid $42,616 in special taxes that went toward construction and maintenance of highways in Eastland County.

The industry contributed a total of $39,000,000 in special taxes, a ten million dollar increase over the preceding year, and this figure represents only proceeds from gasoline and license fee taxes paid by more than 280,000 motor trucks and buses, both commercial and private, in Texas. It does not include federal or regular state taxes, such as ad valorem, which are paid by all industries.

Little, pleased a great deal by the showing of the football players in spring training, said the Mavericks should be strong contenders in next season's District 10-A grid play.

Particularly pleasing are performances being turned in by freshmen players who will make up the Maverick football team of a few years hence.

Easier Rulings On Class Hours Expected Soon

Reaction was rapid and marked this week to the action taken by Eastland's Dulin-Daniel Post No. 70, American Legion, and other organizations in protesting new and rigid rules for training veterans in the Eastland County Vocational School and other similar schools, and as a result, it appeared that the regulations would be eased.

During the week, and apparently before the protests had begun to take effect, a new and stringent regulation came through to M. D. Fox, head of the local school, saying that veterans in the program could not work on the job as much as 40 hours a week without losing benefits paid by the government to trainees.

However, this regulation was eased almost immediately. Most veterans, Fox said, are working 40 or more hours a week in private businesses where they are receiving on-the-job training, and the new rule would have affected the willingness of many employers to give such training.

In a telephone conversation with a Veterans Administration official in Waco Thursday afternoon, Fox was assured that a rule requiring each veteran in the program to take at least 12½ hours of daylight classroom training each week would be eased, also.

Fox said he gained the impression that the hours of training might be retained as is, but that permission might be given to hold the classes at any hours convenient to the students.

Veterans Administration officials and others in authority reacted strongly to the Legion protest, and seemed generally to feel that the Legion angle would have been better left out of the picture.

Fox said he expected definite details soon on changes in the program rules, and probably could give information on such changes before another week.

At present, the Eastland County school is not giving classroom training as required by the Veterans Administration, because it has been in operation too short a time to get all details worked out. However, Fox said that such training will be worked out as quickly as rulings on the subject are clarified, and as soon as instructors and facilities are ready.

Circus To Come To Town Tuesday

A regular three-ring circus, with 15 elephants and all the trimmings, will show in Eastland in afternoon and evening performances next Tuesday.

Billy Rose, advance agent for the Dailey Brothers Circus, said it was the second largest on the road. The show travels by railroad.

The tents will be set up on East Commerce Street. The circus' 25 double-length railroad cars will be unloaded in the Texas & Pacific yards in the early morning hours Tuesday, and spectators were invited to watch the unloading.

Among the exhibits will be an old-time circus menagerie, including polar bears.

County Agent J. M. Cooper was in charge of the tour, which covered much of the county. The party had lunch in Rising Star.

Under the TVA plan, fertilizer is given to selected farmers for only the freight charge. The farmers use the fertilizer on winter cover crops.

WHY PASTEURIZE MILK?

212° — Boiling point. Milk properly pasteurized is never boiled. Boiling damages food elements and vitamins in milk. However, milk pasteurized at 143°, as shown below, retains all food elements and vitamins, undamaged.

143° — Pasteurization temperature. Properly pasteurized milk is held at this heat for 30 minutes.

120-140° — Milk heated to 120-140° F. for 30 minutes has all disease germs killed. This is heat necessary to kill undulant fever, typhoid, tuberculosis, and other germs.

98.6° — Body temperature. Ideal conditions for bacterial growth.

32° — Freezing point.

This chart shows why you should drink pasteurized milk. Only pasteurization gives you the protection you are entitled to receive when you buy milk.

AMY RUTH P'POOL, DILLARD MORGAN WED IN CHURCH CEREMONY SATURDAY

MRS. DILLARD MORGAN

Miss Amy Ruth P'Pool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. P'Pool 312 Pershing Street, became the bride of Dillard Morgan, son of D. A. Morgan, South Connellee, at 8 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

Rev. C. E. Moore performed the ceremony before the altar covered with ferns, palms, and spirea, flanked by two seven branch candelabra holding white candles which lighted the scene, while Miss Glenna Johnson played soft music on the violin.

cut from timbers used by the ancient Indians for rafters.

The tree rings are supposed to show a dry spell has come along about every eleven years, supposedly induced by the activities of spots on the sun which follow the same general cycle.

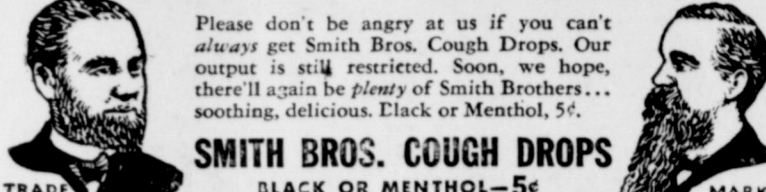

Just think back to how many years ago it was that we had a series of dry years in this country.

But all of that, as Jimmy Durante would say, is neither Rising nor Star.

Despite the trend, I hope there is no drouth, that all the ranchers and farmers everywhere get all the rain they can handle, and that Eastland County in particular has the biggest peanut crop on record.
