OIL FORMS FILED FOR AREA LISTED

Following is a list of oil operations taken from forms filed with the Railroad Commission office at Abilene:

September 16 - September 21—Form 1—Notice of Intention to Drill, filed this week include the following: T. G. Jackson, Box 426, Longview, Texas will deepen the J. W. Taylor et al lease, well number 3, located the S. C. Rankin Survey in Eastland and Erath county, five miles NE of Desdemona. This well was completed in January, 1942; it has never produced any oil and has been standing with the pipe in it since completion. Total depth was 3475 and plan to deepen to 3500 feet. Tom Potter et al will drill well number 5A, B. Hatchett lease, in section 23, Orphan Asylum land Survey, 14 miles SW of Breckenridge in Stephens County in the Eolian field. Propose to drill to 4300 feet.

Form 2's, Well Records, were filed by Texas Pacific C & Oil Co., on the J. W. Hill well number 22 in Stephens Co. This well started drilling 5-11-44 and completed 6-22-44 as a dry hole and plugged and abandoned 6-24-44. Recheck of data gave indications of a chance for production previously overlooked. The original hole was redrilled and completed as a producer, with an initial production of 936 barrels of oil. Roeser & Pendleton, Inc., of Ft. Worth forwarded data on their Brooks Heirs well number 1 in Stephens County, located in Block 7, section 41, T&P RR survey, in the Manning-O'Connor field. Drilling commenced Aug. 2, 1946 and was completed Aug. 23, 1946. This well is located 340' from the south line and 350' from the east line of E. 1-2 of Sec. 41. Total depth was 3315, and the initial production of oil was 476.

Following is the program followed at the meeting:

To those who eagerly await their new Chevrolets...

Here Is the Latest News about Chevrolet Deliveries

Everybody from factory to dealer is doing everything that can be done to speed deliveries to you

We have been informed by the Chevrolet Motor Division that the past month has witnessed only a slight improvement in the rate of production of new Chevrolet passenger cars. As a result, shipments of new cars to dealers for delivery are still far below the level we and the factory had hoped to attain by this time. In fact, through August, Chevrolet's output of cars in 1946 was only 22.6% of the number turned out during the corresponding period of 1941.

We know that Chevrolet is doing everything possible to step up its production totals—to ship more and more cars to us and to its thousands of other dealers throughout America... and we know, too, that we are assured of getting our full proportionate share of the current output and of future production gains.

Disappointing as the total figures have been—and despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of the year—it is nevertheless true that Chevrolet led all other manufacturers in production of passenger cars during June 1946, and has continued to maintain its lead in total production from that day to this.

We shall continue to make deliveries of new Chevrolets to our customers just as fast as we receive them; we regret delays as deeply as you do; we thank you for your friendly patience and understanding; and we promise you a new high motoring experience when you take delivery of your new Chevrolet, giving BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST!

DOUBLE WEDDING CEREMONIES, FAYE HART AND DALE MAHAFFEY AND DOROTHY REID AND ISSAC HART

A double wedding was solemnized Saturday, September 21 at 10 a.m., by Rev. Frank Scaggs at his home near Alameda, for Miss Faye Hart and Dale E. Mahaffey and Miss Dorothy Le Fray Reid and Issac J. Hart, all living near Eastland.

are daughter and son of Mrs. Eula Hart, and the late James Hart, of the Alameda Community. The former Miss Hart is a graduate of John Tarleton and attended Hardin Simmons and taught last year in the Morton Valley School. Mr. Hart attended Hardin-Simmons and Texas Tech, Lubbock, before entering U. S. Military forces, having served some time overseas and recently received his discharge. Hart is a stock farmer near Alameda, where they will live on their return from New Mexico, where they are spending their honey moon. The bride of Mr. Mahaffey's wore a gray wool crepe suit with black accessories. The bride of Mr. Hart is a graduate of Gorman High School and John Tarleton. She wore a blue crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Hart's wife is a daughter of Bill Reid, also of the Alameda Community. Mahaffey, son of Hugh C. Mahaffey, was an Ensign in the U. S. Marines and served overseas before his discharge. They are living near Eastland. Mahaffey graduated from Eastland High School. His wife and Hart are niece and nephew of Sheriff John Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Carter, South Walnut, are their grandparents.

Tweed Presents Automobile To Friend

Lt. George Tweed, Portland, Oregon, famed as the "Ghost of Guam," because he evaded the Japs for two years and seven months during their occupation of the island, shakes hands with Antonio Artero, a Guamanian to whom he presented a new automobile at a ceremony in Agna, Guam. Artero was Tweed's main source of help during the long months. During the ceremony a group of Guamanians hissed and booed Tweed in a religious protest against a passage in Tweed's book. Down East Church Ladies Solve Meat Problem

WINDHAM, N.H. (UP) — time New England church suppers with tables full of home-cooked delicacies, are scarce these days of shortages and high prices. The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Presbyterian church tackled the problem in typical reliable Yankee style. They invested in a cow, had slaughtered, stored it in a quick-freeze locker, and recently put a real old-time "feed"—with roast beef as the main course.

"Uncle" Wallace Willis, a slave, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," is credited with authorship of "Steel Away" and "I'm A-Rollin'." three well-known spirituals. —READ THE CLASSIFIEDS—

FAMED U.S. BLUE DEVILS ON JOB IN TRIESTE AREA

By Milton B. Dolinger

United Press Staff Correspondent CLEVELAND, (UP) — The 88th Infantry Division, only American fighting unit in the troubled Balkans, and stationed in the explosive Venezia-Giulia area near Trieste, is no stranger to ticklish situations.

Recently the 88th put on a full division review in Trieste ostensibly for more battle honors, but interpreted by some observers as a "show of strength."

The 88th's battle record in nearly one and one-half years of combat up the tough Italian boot is virtually a "show of strength" in itself.

The division is now one of the oldest overseas, having embarked from Camp Patrick Henry, Va., in December, 1943. After a short training period in North Africa, the 88th sailed for Italy—and the Anzio beachhead. Events in the Fifth Army, however, necessitated the 88th entering the line of the Gargliano River, east of Cassino, late in February, 1944.

Under the leadership of Maj. Gen. John E. Sloan of Greenville, S. C., the 88th was among the divisions kicking off the May 11, 1944, offensive for Rome.

Military history now holds the record of how the 88th—which, incidentally, earned the nickname "Blue Devils" from the Germans as a terrified tribute to the way the draftees fought and from their blue cloverleaf (crossed Ss) shoulder patch—helped clear the path to Rome.

The division's drive up central Italy was in a large measure responsible for pushing back Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's Nazi forces so the embattled allies on the Anzio beachhead could break out. Official Fifth Army history credits a reconnaissance patrol of the 88th with being the first into the Eternal City—the night of June 4.

The Blue Devils' proudest boast was that the unit was "the first all-selective service infantry division to enter combat on any front in this war."

Activated at Camp Gruber Okla. in 1942, with cadre from the 9th division, its personnel was drawn entirely from draftee ranks. It was a War Department experiment which worked out well—proving that "civilians" can make good fighters.

After helping liberate Rome, the 88th rested for a short time. Then the division re-entered the fight south of the Arno River. It was under the command of Brig. Gen. (later Maj. Gen.) Paul W. Kendall, of Palo Alto, Cal.

The Blue Devils' toughest campaign lay ahead—the mountains of the Apennines and the solidity of the Germans' touted "Gothic Line." High casualty counts, and lack of replacements kept the Fifth Army from moving ahead. The last mountain tops before the Po Valley were to be "home" to the 88th until spring. It was in the Apennines that a regiment of the 88th was almost decimated when the Germans counter-attacked in great force.

In the April, 1945, breakthrough, the 88th was in the thick of it again. It was the first unit from the Mediterranean theater to link up with the 7th Army at Brenner Pass.

It was but a step from the 88th's post-war job of guarding the thousands of POWs in Italy to its present occupation task in Trieste. It had qualified for one of the toughest jobs in "peaceful" Europe.

The 88th Blue Devils won three battle stars, two medals of Honor, hundreds of Distinguished Service crosses and thousands of other awards. All three of its regiments have the Distinguished Unit Citation, and the division was awarded the Choix de Guerre by France.

Morton Valley Boy Has Good Poultry Record

Thomas Morgan, a Morton Valley 4-H Club member, has an outstanding record in raising poultry this year, reports N. R. Watkins, Ass't. County Agri. Agent.

Thomas won fourth place with his registered Palond China gilt in the Sears Cow-Sow-Hen County show in September, 1945. The prize for 4th place was one hundred baby chicks or fifty turkey eggs or twenty five poults. Thomas chose one hundred white Leghorn chicks. When these chicks arrived on January 28, 1946, from the Demko Poultry Farm at Stephenville, there were one hundred chicks in the box and all were alive and healthy.

Through proper care, feeding and hard work, Thomas raised all of these chicks except two which were accidentally stepped on by a cow when they were twenty days old. None were lost due to diseases.

Twenty three of the cockerels and seventeen of the cull pullets were eaten at home and twenty five cockerels were sold. Thirty five of the best pullets have been kept for laying hens for one of his next years projects. This demonstration made Thomas a net profit of $34.80 after all expenses were paid.

NEW EVIDENCE INTRODUCED IN INQUIRY

WASHINGTON (UP) — Lt. Gen. Robert M. Littlejohn, War Assets Administrator, testified today that he recently ordered wholesale firings in the agency's electronics branch because the surplus property disposal program "was pretty lousy."

Cases of irregularities had been proved against several employees, he told the special House committee investigating surplus property disposal.

Littlejohn was a surprise witness before the committee.

He was called after the WAA announced it was suspending Walton H. Bostwick, a high official of the electronics branch and a key figure in the current committee investigation.

Previous testimony developed that Bostwick had dictated a predated memorandum authorizing a Chicago radio firm to sell surplus government sound trucks $3066 below the established price.

Announcing
Open House --- Sunday

Visitors Invited 1:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday
Open For Business, 8 a.m. Monday
Clover Farm Store & Locker Plant

Eastland's one-stop food store and ultra-modern locker plant will be open to visitors Sunday afternoon. The CLOVER FARM STORE, with its refrigerated fruit and vegetable department and 48-foot, self-service meat equipment, is now being stocked with fresh foods, crisp and delicious fruits and vegetables and the choicest, Grade "A" quality, branded meats.

IN THE LOCKER PLANT, you will see how refrigeration science is brought to its highest degree of perfection for the protection of meats and other foods in the vaults.

Although you obligate yourself in no way to rent a locker when you visit us on open house day, we would like to remind you that the savings of buying in quantities and purchases of foods in season often offsets the cost of a locker, and sometimes even pay you a dividend in FOOD SAVINGS. As well as having what you want, regardless of the food shortages in stores.

WE WILL SLAUGHTER AND DRESS LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY
For Retail and For Our Customers.

BESIDES STORING FOODS
We also process meats before placing in the lockers and sell dressed poultry and already frozen fruits and vegetables.

FROZEN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AND DRESSED POULTRY FOR SALE

Yesir, Texas Is Big
 ORANGE, Tex., (UP) — Some people just won't learn that Texas is big.
 Commodore A. O. Rabideau, commander of the naval base at this gulf coast town, received a letter from his wife in Duluth, Minn., rejoicing that their son had been assigned to an army base in El Paso, Texas.

 "Isn't it nice," the letter read, "now you two can be together on week-ends."
 The commodore had to tell his wife that he was about as close to her—in Duluth—as to their son in El Paso.

So This Is New York!

Nine-month-old Cherie Oberly looks properly impressed as her mother, Mrs. Nadia Oberly, leans out of porthole to give baby her first glimpse of New York. Mrs. Oberly, of Algiers, Africa, is the bride of Sgt. William Oberly, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., who has never seen his daughter. She's pictured on recent arrival in New York aboard Army transport General Howze, which brought over 2000 GI's from Casablanca.

Oil, Gas Ass'n Name Speaker For Convention

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 21—Russell E. Brown of Washington, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, will be a featured speaker at the Victory Meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association Oct. 17 and 18 in Houston, President Fred W. Shield of the Texas Mid-Continent announced today.

Russell E. Brown

Mr. Brown will address the opening convention session Thursday morning, Oct. 17, on "A National Oil Policy" discussing the important place of the petroleum industry in re-establishment of national peacetime activities.

"Mr. Brown is one of the best-informed leaders in our industry," Mr. Shield said. "His long representation in Washington of the Independent Petroleum Association and his familiarity with all phases of the industry's operations make him particularly fitted to discuss this subject."

The 1946 meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent, to be held at the Rice Hotel, will be the first general gathering of the state's oil and gas operators since 1943.

Navy To The Rescue

SEATTLE, Wash. (UP) — Mosquitoes in two Seattle-area swamps are being fought by modern warfare tactics. After a continuous land-borne DDT attack, the city health department borrowed a landing craft from the Navy to permit a flanking water-borne mopping-up assault on the pests.

Twins Strike Black Gold

LEWISTON, Idaho (UP) — Twins Ronald and Donald McIntire were playing "service station" and digging a hole for a gasoline tank in a vacant lot when their shovels struck gold.

There find was two 50-gallon barrels of creosote, which, although not Spanish bullion, was worth enough to assure them of new tricycles for their eighth birthday.

The Morrow Plots experiment soil station, established at the University of Illinois in 1876, is the oldest in the United States.

BOSTON (UP) — Douglas W. Brymer is still wondering whether his car was visited by thieves or Santa Claus. Awakened by a noise in his yard, he saw two men beside his parked car. He yelled and they fled. Next day he found three cases of whiskey in the back seat.

BUSINESS LOANS TO VETS ARE AVERAGING $2,257

Business loans being made to veterans through the Dallas Regional office of the Veterans Administration average $2,257 and will be repaid in slightly more than three years, a survey announced today disclosed.

The resume was made by the coordination and planning service of the Dallas Branch of the VA, which selected the Dallas region as a "guinea pig" on which to base its findings of how veterans are using this benefit to establish themselves in business.

The average amount of a guaranteed loan was less than $400 on hand at the time the loan was approved, VA researchers found, and was experienced in the field in which he proposed to operate either as a skilled or semi-skilled worker or in a managerial capacity. A far greater proportion of earnings was expected to come from the enterprise for which the loan was made as the result of personal labor rather than capital return.

Generally, the VA learned, business loans were being used to buy the tools with which to earn a living. Purchase of dump, other construction and general hauling trucks was the use to which more than 29 per cent put their credit.

Twenty-one per cent used loans to set up service establishments, predominately auto repair shops and service stations, cafes and restaurants and cleaning and pressing shops. Over 15 per cent went into retail, wholesale enterprises almost half of which were grocery stores.

Another 8 per cent entered the building and construction trades with about the same number purchasing passenger automobiles for business use. Traveling salesmen represented about two-thirds of this category.

Men who studied the loan files said the remaining 19 per cent covered a variety of activities, including specialized agriculture, flying schools, oil testing and drilling, machine shops, printing establishments, miscellaneous manufacturing and professional fields.

Survey charts showed that 54.8 per cent of the approved business loans were for less than $2,500 and less than 18 per cent exceeded a $4,000 value. There were only 14 recorded loans over $10,000.

These were granted, the VA said, for an automobile repair shop and garage, a restaurant, laundry plant, tourist court, theater, metal working shop, automobile sales agency, a farm, oil well testing equipment, heavy duty trucks, business real estate, a fleet of automobiles for a sales force and two for construction equipment.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes planning to achieve a goal

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both.

Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Honorably discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 200 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

- Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
- Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
- A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
- A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
- Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
- Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
- Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

VETERANS MUST REPORT INCOMES FOR 3 MONTHS

Slips of printed paper, instructing 2,000 North Texas veterans to report their full incomes, were attached to subsistence checks covering August payments, the VA said today.

Veterans earning money in job-training or working and attending college must report their income for August, September or October to the VA training officer of the Dallas Regional office.

This procedure was required in a law, effective Aug. 8, tightening the job-training program. New legislation also sets a ceiling on the combined earnings and subsistence pay of former service personnel without service-connected disabilities.

The Dallas VA office said that as the reports are received they will be checked and put in a special file or acted upon immediately as the facts warrant. The VA must determine whether an adjustment is necessary to prevent earnings and subsistence pay from exceeding the ceiling. A man with dependents may not have a total pay envelope and government subsistence check for more than $200 monthly without a reduction in his subsistence. Similarly, the top total income for a veteran without dependents is $175.

Beginning Nov. 6, trainees' reports cover the complete three-month period a diary card will be removed from the files. Subsistence checks to veterans whose cards on Nov. 12 show they have not made an accounting of earnings will be suspended. Letters will be sent these veterans advising government payments will not be renewed until a report has been received.

The amounts reported, the VA said, must include all income. The VA must have this information regardless of whether the veteran is a part-time worker or self-employed.

Where the VA has paid the veteran more money than it should, the governmental agency will collect excess payments disbursed since August 8.

The VA said that if a training institution fails to meet requirements of the new law, subsistence payments to veterans working for the company will not be stopped until the education and training section notified the firm it was no longer approved as a training facility.

Veterans attending school now are allowed for the first time to work as many as 40 hours a week or longer, but their check and VA subsistence cannot exceed the ceiling. Veterans entering school this fall have been furnished forms to estimate and report earnings outside the classroom. For a reasonable length of time, until institutions are able to issue these forms, no reductions in allowances will be made to veterans if there is no other evidence of the income being above the limit.

Reports of their earnings must be made quarterly by veterans on the job. Those in school are required to inform the VA each semester of their past earnings and probable future pay.

WINTHROP, Mass. (UP) — After escaping from Deer Island jail and joining the army, Dennis Fournier found himself assigned to Ft. Banks in Winthrop—within sight of the jail from which he had fled. A jail guard visiting the fort spotted him and now Fournier is finishing his 18-month jail term.

FIVE-CENT AIR MAIL IN EFFECT NEXT TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (UP) — One of the best bargains offered by the federal government in years — five-cent air mail — becomes available Oct. 1. The rate has been eight cents.

The new five-cent per ounce rate applies to domestic air mail, but in this case "domestic" means more than continental United States. It means mail flowing between the states and the territories and possessions where the American flag flies.

The rate between here and Canada also drops to five cents. Moreover, GI mail to other foreign points, now carried at six cents per ounce, will drop to five cents and will be carried at that rate to wherever the officer or enlisted man may be.

Regular civilian rates to foreign countries, now ranging from eight cents to Cuba and 70 cents to Indo-China, Brunei, Sarawak and numerous other spots on the globe, will remain unchanged. The 50-cent rate to the Philippines—no longer United States territory—stands unchanged.

Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan expects no falling off in revenues from air mail, since the new rate is expected to make air mail more attractive to the stamp-buying, letter-writing public. An active promotion program is planned to sell the idea to the people.

Congress enacted the legislation reducing the rate on the assumption that air mail would continue to be a self-paying proposition despite the cut.

Civilian personnel receiving their mail through army and fleet post offices throughout the world and their correspondents in the states, territories and possessions will be able to use the low rate.

The GI-rate of six cents became effective Dec. 23, 1941, when the post office department moved to offset the expense the members of the armed forces would have been put to if required to pay the foreign rates. With the new five-cent rate established, Hannegan extended the principle of the regulation to members of the armed forces and civilian personnel wherever they may be.

The first-day sale was set for Sept. 25. But stamp collectors were cautioned that covers mailed today would require two five-cent air mail stamps, or one five-cent air mail stamp and one three-cent air mail stamp, as the eight-cent rate will still be in force for five days.

SON SUCCEEDS FATHER AS COURT CLERK

Hiram Childress has been appointed to succeed his father Dan Childress, as clerk of the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland.

Mr. Childress was born at Sweetwater and moved with his parents, to Eastland in August, 1927. He graduated from Eastland High school in 1934. He attended Texas University and Southern Methodist University Law School, where he graduated in 1940.

He practiced law for a year and one-half at Sweetwater, then volunteered his service to his country as an aviation cadet. He served four and a half years in the Air Corps, two of which were spent in England, France, and Belgium. He was in Germany at the time it surrendered to the Allies. He was with the 9th Air Corps as an intelligence officer where he served with distinction. He returned to the United States and was discharged in December, 1945.

Upon returning from overseas he again entered the private practice of law at the place of his birth and has continued his practice until he was appointed by the court to fill his father's place on the court. This is the first time in the annuals of the State's Judiciary that a son has followed his dad as clerk of the Court of Civil Appeals. His appointment came entirely as a surprise to Hiram Childress, as well as his father, Dan Childress, who recently resigned after 19 years service as clerk of the Court of Civil Appeals. The appointment was wholly unsolicited by either of them. The citizens and the lawyers of the 23-county district will no doubt approve the appointment of this distinguished young man by Chief Justice Clyde Grisom, Associate Justice Milburn S. Long, and Associate Justice Courtney Gray.

Hiram Childress has many friends throughout West Texas and over the state who will be glad to learn of his appointment and wish for him much success in his new and honored position.
