Eastland County Next In Line On U. S. 80 Program

With the right of way for the new U. S. 80 super-highway contracted for right up to Eastland County's back door, so to speak, the county was under the gun on the road program Thursday.

However, County Judge Lewis Crossley said that State Highway Department officials have kept quiet in recent months on the county's participation in the program and he did not know just what the next move would be.

One thing he is certain of, he said, is that the Commissioners Court intends to treat the question of the highway all the way across the county as one problem, rather than dealing with it piecemeal.

Resident Engineer E. M. Pritchard of the Highway Department said his office in Eastland was getting up deeds to right of way from the western county line to Cisco, about eight miles, and would present them to the Commissioners Court for action.

Judge Crossley said he knew nothing of this problem, but said that the court would not consider the Cisco-county line segment apart from all the rest of the highway across the county.

A number of people in Cisco have told him, Judge Crossley said, that the town is not satisfied with the approach the highway will make there. Under the Highway Department plan, it would swing south of the present highway at the county line, and rejoin the present highway at Cisco on the route of the present farm-to-market road that goes southwest from Cisco.

The issue was revived by the fact that voters of Callahan County Tuesday approved by more than a four to one majority a $150,000 bond issue to buy right of way for the highway through their county.

A Taylor County precinct election has been called to approve a bond issue there.

Pritchard said Thursday that the name "super highway" for the new highway is something of a misnomer, since it is not planned to build it as a four lane highway anywhere except on steep hills.

At other places, it will be an exceptionally wide two-lane highway, but with plenty of right of way to extend it to four lanes if traffic justifies it, he said.

At present, there is not enough traffic on U. S. 80 through Eastland County to justify four lanes, he said, despite the jams that develop on the present highway.

Such jams would be eliminated, he said, by cutting down half of the hills on the route so passing would be possible much more of the time.

This approach is contemplated when the "super highway" is built, he said.

Pritchard reported satisfactory progress on building the new section of highway up Strawn Hill east of Ranger, and on preliminary work on the farm-to-market road east of Eastland. The road, to be paved, leaves U. S. 80 at the Point Service Station.

He said the Strawn Hill highway will be four-laned for about a mile, on the steepest part of the hill.

Brock has accepted a position with Quaker Oats Company and will be stationed at Jacksonville. He and his wife, the former Betty Murphy have been guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Brock.

Side Issues

By HENRY G. VERMILLION

Some day I am going to find out who thought up the name of "Eastland Free School Incorporation" for the Eastland School system.

That is the legal name of the school of Eastland as a going concern, and it strikes me that it is rather a strange one.

Like the "Town of Pecos City, Texas," which is the legal name for the town of Pecos.

They told me when I moved to Eastland from a lot further west in West Texas that I was getting away from the sandstorms, and I believed them until Wednesday.

But I had it disproved then, for the first time in the more than a year and a half I've lived here.

The wind has blown during that time of course, and it has even picked up loose dirt and stuff in the street and swirled it around a bit, but I never got the feel that I was so accustomed to in March in West Texas, until Wednesday.

They said the wind blew 54 miles in Lubbock and the natives could see for less than a block, but that was scant consolation for the fact that the wind blew only 30 mile an hour, or however hard it blew, in Eastland and you could see six or seven blocks if your eyes weren't smarting too much.

It would have made me homesick, if I hadn't eaten and breathed enough sand, gravel, dust and other foreign matter in my lifetime to make me forever immune to homesickness on such account.

But I'll bet the blow sand was really spuming out over the tops of the sandhills around Kermit and Monahan, and Crane and the somefoiks who really stuffing things in the cracks of the doors to keep from having to shovel too much sand out later.

I have seen householders shovel sand out of their houses after such a blow, and I'm not kidding. All it takes to make such a thing possible in some areas of West Texas is to have a door facing the wind with a fairly wide crack at the bottom.

Most of the sand doesn't get in to the air, like this stuff that drifted down here Wednesday; it stays close to the ground and zips along down there until it hits something. If that something is your fence, you have a new sand dune the next morning, right in your yard.

Why do people live in such places, I have been asked. Well, there are many who like it—though my son, Alan, who isn't old enough to have good sense yet, is the only one I've ever heard to profess liking the sandstorms.

But the country is high and dry, many people feel better there, old field money is plentiful and there is more democracy than there is in older, more settled portions of the country.

Montie Rowe, who used to live in Eastland and now is a shoe and boot shop owner in Monahan, says he likes it fine. But if you ask his wife the day after a sandstorm, you might get a different answer.

If you're reading this on Friday, there still is time to go down and pay your poll tax. Don't forget—you may regret it bitterly if you don't!

I hear that W. B. Starr, one of the county's outstanding farmers, suffered a great loss when his sweet potato curing plant burned during the recent severe cold spell.

Starr was nearly finished curing the greater portion of his last year's crop, the way I hear it, when the entire thing went up in smoke, which was a severe monetary blow to Starr and a severe gastronomic blow to those who like good sweet potatoes.

Starr's farm is south of Cisco, and he raises good peanuts, watermelons and other crops in addition to sweet potatoes. He also has raised an outstanding crop of children, 12, if I remember right.

MASONS TO WORK ON MASTER'S DEGREE

There will be work on the Master's Degree at the Masonic Hall Saturday evening, Feb. 1, and Monday evening, Feb. 3, according to information from H. P. Pentecost, worshipful master of the Eastland Lodge.

Theatre Opening Moved To Feb. 13; Lyric Plans Told

Opening of the new Majestic Theatre in Eastland, originally set for Feb. 14, was changed hurriedly last week to Feb. 13 when it was discovered that the first date conflicted with a Community Concert attraction, the Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers, to play in the Eastland High School auditorium the night of Feb. 14.

The attraction to be shown in the Majestic opening was changed from "The Razor's Edge" to "Margie" starring Jeanne Crain.

Finishing touches were being put on the theatre this week. The big sign was turned on for the first time and work continued on the marquee.

Aubrey Van Hoy, local manager for Interstate Theatres said Thursday that the Lyric Theatre which has even the No. 1 showhouse of the chain here for many years, will be shut down for remodeling after the last show Feb. 13.

The Lyric will have a concrete floor laid in it, and other work will be done, Van Hoy said. When it reopens, it will have western programs Friday and Saturday, re-showings of outstanding movies Sunday and Monday, and first run pictures Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Matinees will be held only on Saturday and Sunday.

Old High School Block Up For Sale

The historic Eastland land on which the old high school building stood until it was razed in the late 20's is being offered for sale.

The property, known as "the old high school block," is across the street from the City Hall, and is bounded by Commerce, Daugherty, Green and Plummer Streets.

Many a present day resident of Eastland went to school in the old high school building on the grounds. In more recent years, since the building was torn down, the block has been used for play by children, and numerous circuses and tents shows have pitched their tent there.

Dimensions of the block, as advertised by the Board of Trustees of the Eastland Free School Incorporation are 200 by 484 feet.

It was reported an Eastland businessman had made a bid for the block, but the school trustees could not sell it without first advertising for other bids.

Bids will be received on Feb. 24, it was announced.

Lovelace Transfer Moves To New Home

Tom Lovelace, owner of the Lovelace Transfer and Storage, announced this week that his business after Feb. 1 would be housed in his own building at 395 East Commerce Street, formerly occupied by the Eastland Laundry.

His business has been at 306 North Lamar Street.

Lovelace has added a 25 by 100 foot structure to the former laundry building to increase the storage capacity of the building.

Lovelace came to Eastland in 1921 to work for the late Steve Brawner owner of the Eastland Transfer and Storage. In 1929 Lovelace went into business for himself. He now has two large closed moving vans as well as smaller trucks.

He had the Masonic Building leased for five years, with a year to go, when he relinquished the lease so the Hollywood Corset plant could be located there.

Rawson Sells Shop To Woodie F. Howell

Sale of John Rawson's electrical appliance repair shop at 114 North Seaman Street to W. F. Howell was announced this week.

Howell, married, has lived in Eastland "off and on," he said, since 1937, he has changed the name of the shop to the Appliance Service Company.

Rawson, who with Mrs. Rawson has lived here for more than 20 years, said their plans are indefinite.

Football Schedule Being Drawn Up

With Eastland High School football teams apparently destined to spend at least one more year in District 10-A, Coach John E. Little Thursday said he was working up a schedule on that basis.

Eastland had applied for transfer to District 9-A, but before the application was approved in all the right places, District 9-A had drawn up its schedule for the year without including Eastland.

Little said the schedule would have some outstanding games in it. First game, already definitely confirmed, will be Sept. 12 against Ranger in Eastland.

Mavericks Playing In Tourney; To Meet Comanche Here

With only two more games to play in the District 10-A basketball title race, the Eastland High School Mavericks were playing their first game in the Ranger High School Invitational Tournament Thursday night, with more games scheduled Friday and Saturday.

However, the Mavericks will break away from the tournament to play their next to last district contest in the home gymnasium Friday night against Comanche.

And Friday night of next week they will play the final game against Dublin here.

Monday night, they will meet Scranton in a triple bill here to benefit the March of Dimes. Eastland girls also will play Scranton girls and Cisco Junior College will meet the Eastland All-Stars.

The District 10-A tournament will be held Feb. 14 and 15 in Comanche. Under the district plan, the winner of the tournament will play the winner of the round robin won being played, in a two out of three games series for the title.

In the Gorman tournament last week end, the Mavericks beat Proctor in their first game and lost to Gorman in the second. Ranger won the tournament, with Gorman second.

Monday night, Eastland won from Desdemona there, and Tuesday night went to Hico to lose a district game, 26 to 13, after leading 0 to 5 at the half.

Wednesday night, the Mavericks went to Woodson and lost 16 to 15, in the best game played by Eastland since the team lost four players by graduation at mid-term. The B team lost to Woodson 21 to 19 in another close one.

The club has arranged for ring materials, and is undertaking a program of encouraging Eastland youths to learn boxing.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Allen attended the funeral of Mrs. P. H. Hendrix of Houston, which was held in DeLeon Wednesday. Mrs. Hendrix was the mother of Mrs. J. H. Shook of De Leon.

Three Basketball Contests Set For Monday In Gym

Final scheduled event in the current March of Dimes campaign in Eastland will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Eastland High School gymnasium when three basketball games will be played, with all gate sales going into the March of Dimes fund.

The fund is being raised to help combat infantile paralysis.

The March of Dimes dance promoted by Zeta Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was being held Thursday night in the American Legion Hall. The chapter is sponsoring the funds campaign in Eastland.

Teams to play in the games will be Eastland High School girls against Scranton High School girls; Eastland boys vs. Scranton boys, and Cisco Junior College against the Eastland All-Stars.

More than $400 has been raised so far through sale of dance tickets and donations to the March of Dimes fund, it was disclosed. No definite goal has been set, but it was hoped to raise considerably more before the drive is ended.

Officials of the sorority said they wished to express their appreciation to Sgt. Ernest Elmore of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service office in Eastland, who "has been of great assistance" and is accepting donations for the drive.

Rea Haydite Block Plant In Production

The Rea Haydite Products plant in Eastland this week went into full production of Haydite building blocks. O. J. Rea, owner, said Thursday.

Rea began on his plant Nov. 1, and planned to be in operation long ago, but was held up by slow delivery on vital equipment.

The blocks he is making, about 40 per cent lighter than those made of conventional materials, can be built into walls and floors, will take nails like wood, and have other advantages over other types of building materials, Rea said.

PRUNE PLANTS FOR BETTER LANDSCAPE

In nearly all parts of the state, this month and next are suitable for pruning most pruning most plants, says Miss Sadie Hatfield, landscape gardening specialist of The Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

The only plants which should not be cut back at this time, the specialist says, are those which bloom very early, such as spirea, flowering quince, redbud and pyracantha. These should be pruned immediately after they bloom. In the Panhandle, where plants do not bud until March, pruning should wait until the weather is warmer. But until March, pruning should wait until the weather is warmer. But especially in Central and South Texas, shade trees, fruit trees, late blooming shrubs and evergreens are ready for pruning now.

In the case of flowers, cutting back moderately will give the gardener more and larger flowers and improve the shape of the plant by getting rid of awkward limbs. Pruning also relieves plants of cross branches that rub each other and form places for diseases to enter, and taking off dead limbs is also insurance against plant disease. From a landscaping standpoint, says Miss Hatfield, probably the best reason for pruning is that it keeps plants near the size needed to fit into the landscape picture. Overgrown plants spoil the yard.

Meet "JOHNNY" HART

Your Electric Serviceman

• Many of you are personally acquainted with Johnny, having had occasion to call him at some time or other. Others of you may not have required his services up to now, but Johnny is ready, day or night, fair weather or foul, if you need him.

When Johnny climbs a pole to repair a broken line or replace a damaged insulator, he does it so easily and quickly that it looks simple. It looks simple because he has the "know-how" that comes only with long experience. Johnny has been working in this business for 28 years, having started from the ground up.

Back of Johnny in Texas Electric Service Company are other skilled workmen with the same kind of "know-how." The hundreds of miles of lines and the thousands of poles which bring you your electric service through the local distribution system and transmission lines didn't just happen—they were designed and built by experienced engineers. These same engineers are at Johnny's right hand all the time, helping him bring you economical and efficient electric service.

So, if you should happen to see Johnny climbing a pole as easily as if he were walking up a flight of stairs, remember that he has the "know-how" to get things done which he has learned the hard way over a period of 28 years. And remember that if Johnny needs assistance, there are hundreds of other equally skilled men in Texas Electric Service Company ready and able to give him a hand.

- Q. Is there any other way I can reenlist in grade?
A. Yes, if you held one of certain military occupational specialties, and were discharged on or after May 12, 1945, you can reenlist in a grade depending on the length of time you held the desired M. O. S.

Get New B.F. Goodrich Silvertowns That
OUTWEAR PREWAR TIRES
In that picture above is the road-eye view of the "sole" of an auto's shoe. You'll quickly note something special about this tread-sole... how broad, flat and husky it is. It was engineered that way. It's the tread of the postwar B.F. Goodrich Silvertown. That broadness and huskiness give the tread more contact with the road... less wear at any point... one of the reasons it gives better than prewar mileage. And remember, it's wise economy to put a new B.F. Goodrich tube... the tougher tube that increases tire mileage and holds air many times longer... in your new tire.

Car Crashes Deadly As Diseases, Warns State Health Officer

An automobile collision can kill a human being just as certainly as cancer, and a traffic accident can cripple just as badly as poliomyelitis, and for this reason Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, urges Texans to protect their health and lives by using the utmost care on highways.

"It is the duty of the State Health Department to do everything in its power to foster good health and prevent as many needless deaths as possible," Dr. Cox declared, "and because so many Texans each year are killed, permanently crippled, or disabled for long periods of time through preventable traffic accidents, I earnestly urge every driver in the State to do his conscientious best to help reduce the number of these tragic and often fatal smash-ups."

Dr. Cox said that it is a driver's responsibility to know that his lights, tires and brakes are in good condition; that he pay proper attention to traffic signals and road signs; that he give due regard to other drivers and pedestrians; that he use great caution at unmarked intersections, "and above all," he urged, "use common sense and follow a live-and-let-live policy when in your car, whether driving to the corner grocery, or going from coast to coast."

Over $500 Prizes...

Show at Cisco Feb. 21 and 22 have been selected, it was announced.

Joe Weedon of Grosvenor, in Brown County, has been invited to judge the beef cattle, according to M. E. Fry, Cisco, president of the Eastland County Livestock Association. Weedon, a breeder of registered beef cattle for many years, has judged in several big eastern shows and annually exhibits on a show circuit, and has taken cattle to national shows. He grew up in the beef cattle business in Brown county, as his father also bred registered beef cattle.

Guy Powell, Llano, former county agent, has accepted an invitation to judge the hogs, sheep and goats in the show. Powell has exhibited and judged in many shows during the last 20 years and is in great demand as a judge in county and district shows on the above animals, it was said. He is now coordinator of the GI Vocational School in Llano County.

Powell judged sheep at the annual county sow in Ranger last March.

Judges for other livestock divisions have not been named as yet.
