CONGRATULATIONS to Coach Marks Lanham and the Bovina Mustang basketball team on a super year. Very few people imagined when their season started that the Mustangs would stampede to the district title, let alone win it with an unbeaten record.

It had been 22 long years since the team made it to the playoffs, but the 1983 Mustangs made up for that discrepancy. And they added frosting to the cake with an impressive win over state-ranked Shallowater in their bi-district game.

The team's battle against Clint in the area playoff game at Monahans will long be remembered by the team and its fans as the "game of fouts," or the time the team and its fans made a two-day trip for a 1 1/2 hour game.

When you outscore another team by 14 points in field goals, most time you expect to win, and the Mustangs definitely played well enough to win.

Coach Lanham gives credit to Clint on their free throw shooting. "They took advantage of their opportunities. Some teams might get 36 free throws in a game, but not many would make 32 of them," he said this week.

The fact that Clint beat Lorenzo in the regional tournament and went on to face Morton in the finals proved they were a good team. It was unfortunate for Bovina that they came up with one of their top performances against the Mustangs (but on the other side of the coin, so did Bovina against Shallowater).

The fact that both Bovina and Clint had to make killing trips for their area playoff has come in for a lot of discussion, particularly following the 500-mile round trip by the team and fans for the playoff.

Why couldn't the UIL incorporate this game as a part of the regional tournament, and make it a three-game tournament instead of two?

For years and decades, the state tournament in Austin has been a three-game affair for the lower classification teams.

This would put teams from this area getting an extra trip to Lubbock (or Levelland in the case of class A schools), instead of one of those man-killing trips.

This may not be a big factor downstate, but here in our area, it's a definite factor. Since the two-team format is just coming into being, this might give the UIL officials something to chew on.

When you have to take a "short cut" that involves driving over 200 miles across the edge of New Mexico to get to your playoff game, I think even the folks in Austin might admit that they don't have the playoff system completely refined at this stage.

WE SINCERELY appreciate those advertisers who gave their salute to the individual Mustang players in last week's issue of the Blade.

Following the team's heart-breaking loss after so long a trip, they needed a good picking up and a pat on the back.

We're still checking, to see if the 1983 Mustangs may be the winningest team in the history of BHS. We need the record of the 1955 team, and haven't run it down as yet. The Blade didn't start publishing until July of that year, so our back files don't help.

Thanks also to the sponsors who made the video replay of the playoff game possible. This was a first for Bovina Cablevision, which worked with Jim Tucker and yours truly in bringing the video replay to local cable subscribers.

If you liked that kind of thing, call Carl White at 238-1409 and tell him so. Parents or fans who would like a copy of the tape to keep can call Ye Editor for details.

Tickets On Sale For Fete

Tickets are on sale for the Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet, which will be held Thursday, March 17 at the Bovina Schools Cafeteria.

Tickets are priced at $10.00, and are available from any member of the Chamber directors, or can be purchased at First State Bank.

Speaker for the banquet will be Gil Stricklin, humorist-motivator from Dallas. Stricklin has presented his "Laughter With A Lift" program for more than 20 years in 30 states and 20 foreign countries, from Australia to Germany and from Korea to Canada.

He has spoken to more than 50 West Texas Chamber of Commerce banquets, from Fort Stockton to Perryton. He also conducts professional business seminars, designed to motivate and inspire executives and secretaries.

Some of the groups to which Stricklin has spoken include LaQuinta Motor Inns, Sysco Food Systems, Anthony Swimming Pools, the Baltimore Colts NFL team, and the Texas Rangers baseball organization.

His double-barreled shotgun action is designed to fire humor, motivation, inspiration, genuine love, many fireside stories and serious deep thoughts at his audience--and they usually hit their mark.

The Chamber will also be honoring its Man and Woman of the Year at the banquet, and will install their 1983 slate of officers and directors.

Local Youngsters Win $18,000 At Houston

Bovina youngsters had a successful trip to the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo last week, with one estimation placing the amount of prize money at almost $18,000.

Billy Cupit, Bovina FFA member, exhibited the breed champion Duroc, and then showed his animal for Grand Champion Barrow honors. Cupit had earlier won the heavyweight class with his entry.

In the auction sale on Saturday, the Cupit barrow sold for $6888.00, or $27.00 per pound.

Jon Riddle had the second place lightweight Duroc, and his animal sold for $9.00 per pound, or $1953.00.

Other FFA members showing barrows which made the sale included Dale Gilbreath, fourth place lightweight Chester White; Misti Boozer, sixth place mediumweight Hampshire; Jeff Steelman, tenth place lightweight Spot; Joe Black, 15th place heavyweight Crossbred; and Marie Pesch, 15th lightweight other pure breeds.

Bret Whitten's Chianina steer placed seventh and made the auction sale.

In the sheep show's medium wool class, Kim McClaran exhibited the 11th place middleweight animal; Bret Whitten had the 19th place middleweight; and Terry Moore owned the 24th place heavyweight lamb.

Ted Clayton and Kevin Smith showed heifers.

Clayton placed 11th and Smith 13th in the "scramble" show. (The boys had won their heifers at last year's calf scramble held in conjunction with the show). In the junior show, Clayton placed 15th and Smith 17th.

Jack Dillard, vo-ag instructor, estimated that the seven animals from Bovina which made the sale brought over $11,000, and counting floor prices on those which did not, the showmen brought home nearly $18,000.

Other FFA members showing barrows were Joanna Clayton, Mark Clayton, Denver Riddle, Casey

Riddle, Tracy Moore, Donnell Garner, David Boozer and Mendi Rhodes. Jimmy Heard entered a lamb.

Bovina 4-H Club members competing in the show were Sharlet Johnson, whose Berkshire barrow placed second in the lightweight class and Charles Johnson, whose Chester White barrow placed 13th.

Zed Stewart entered a Charolais steer, and David Boozer entered a lamb, a Hampshire barrow and was entered in the calf scramble.

Accompanying the FFA and 4-H youngsters to Houston were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Boozer, Mr. and Mrs. Jon Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. O.H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones, Lawrence Widner and Jack Dillard.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Johnson, Mindy Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Stewart and Stacy.

Parmer County entered 23 barrows in the show, with 16 of them placing high enough to make the auction sale.

Showing how competitive and the interest level for the Houston show, this year the county was obliged to hold a qualifying show, which was held the Thursday previously at Friona. Some 39 families were seeking the county's allotted 23 barrow entries.

Friona Bank Named As County Depository

Naming the county's official bank depository for the next two years was a main item of business at the regular meeting of the Parmer County Commissioners Monday, February 28.

The commission had received bids from the three banks in Parmer County, First State Bank of Bovina, Friona State Bank of Friona and Security State Bank of Farwell.

After a thorough discussion of the bids, which included a call to the office of the State Treasurer to check a provision on one of the bids, a motion was passed unanimously to award the bid to Friona State Bank, for the next two years.

In reply to a request from citizens who had inquired about the possibility of acquiring furniture from the courthouse, the court's consensus was that the county had no excess furniture, and that it would sell none.

An easement was granted to Five Area Telephone Cooperative for laying underground telephone lines in Precinct 4 (the Lazbuddie precinct).

Payment was approved for replacement of two heaters in the courthouse, in the amount of $1,833.20. Payment of a visiting court reporter's fees, amounting to $60.26, was approved.

Approval of three bills for work done in clearing the right-of-way for proposed Farm Road 3333 were approved. The bills were in the amounts of $222.30; $3,736.41 and $3,300.

The court discussed at length the expenses of the Juvenile Probation Officer, who is shared with Bailey County. By majority vote, the court voted to split the expenses of the officer with Bailey County, in the amount of $363.96 for each county over the past five months.

Approval of attorney's fees to Richard Collard was approved for Collard representing two juveniles in adjudication hearings.

A contract was renewed with Perdue, Brandon, Blair and Feilder for the collection of delinquent taxes.

Approval was given for soil conservation work on the farm of Luis H. Robles, whenever county machinery is available and not in demand otherwise. The county is reimbursed for this type work.

Dinner Fete Set Sunday

The Junior Class will be presenting a Drama Club Dinner Theatre Sunday, March 13 at the High School Cafeteria.

LOUISE DOUGLAS

Local Woman Enjoys Hobbies

By JUNE FLOYD
Mrs. Louise Douglas, who has lived at 902 Avenue H several years, is very proud of the vocation she has been involved in for many many years.

She proudly states "I've never had a job except being a homemaker." She goes on to say, "Whatever talent, energy or time one has to spend can be well used in this job."

A native Texan, Louise Snodgrass was born in Childress County and was the second child in a family of four. One sister, Eula Mae Clynych, still lives in Childress.

The only boy in the family, Gene Snodgrass, is a farmer and lives near Bovina. The other sister, June Patton, and her husband, Owen, live at 809 Ninth, which is just around the corner from the Douglas home.

Louise grew up in the Harrold Community in Wilbarger County and is a graduate of Harrold High School. She and her late husband, George, moved to Parmer County from Odessa and he was employed by Agri-Sprayers about fifteen years before his death in May of last year.

Growing flowers and vegetables has long been one of Louise's hobbies and since George's death she does most of her own lawn and garden work.

Other hobbies include crocheting, which she first learned from her mother as a child and later improved her skill by reading books and instruction sheets. She also does crewel embroidery and displays an intricate picture on her living room wall.

Cooking and sewing are also areas of homemaking that Louise enjoys. She admits, "I don't really cook like I did when I had George to help me enjoy eating."

Then, she adds, "I still enjoy baking pastries and nothing gives me a greater lift when I'm down than baking something and taking it to a friend or someone else who is alone and lonely."

Her large collection of recipes is very interesting and she has graciously shared some of her favorites with our readers.

Louise, a member of First Methodist Church, and her sister-in-law, Bess Alexander of Lubbock have been good friends since they were grammar students at the Harrold Public School. This summer the two plan to attend the annual Harrold Community Reunion.

They also combine their talents on different occasions and create an article of beauty. The most recent one

COME BY AND SEE IT....
Louise Douglas is pictured here with an afghan which she recently completed. It was a joint project of hers and Bess Alexander's. Many many hours were spent creating the delicate floral pattern, which has leaves in several shades of green. It will be on display at the Douglas home, 902 Avenue H, and visitors will be welcomed.

they've completed is an afghan stitch afghan.

Bess crocheted the fifteen panels, which were white, gold and black. Louise used 127 different colors of yarn cross stitching a floral design on each of the white panels. After the panels were decorated and sewn together, she added gold fringe.

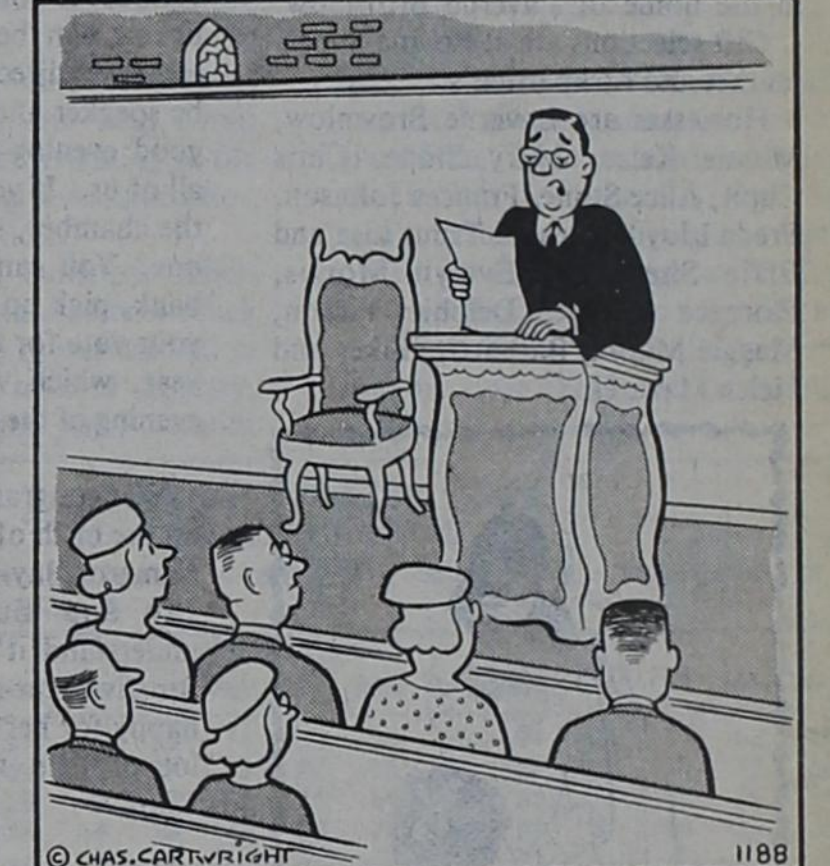

The afghan was made as a gift for

Mrs. Alexander's daughter-in-law, Jodelle Turpin, who lives in Plainview.

About three years passed between the time the project was started and finished. "Now," Louise says, "I'm going to start one for myself."

When asked about a completion date, she replied, "Well, it will take me awhile to finish it."

We've had beautiful weather during the past week and only a little wind and isn't it good to be a Texan and not live in California?...

If you are a grandparent, you know there aren't many things in life that compare to the excitement...Almost every week some of you call to report a new grandchild or a story about one and we appreciate it...This week I have one to share...Most of you know our nine-year-old grandson Jason of Mountain Home, Idaho...He and five other youngsters took part last Saturday in a three hour "jump the rope" relay to support the American Heart Association. His mom said not only did he make his own calls and collected the pledges and contributions but, the day before the relay, all five of the other youngsters "backed out" and Jason rounded up five more to participate in the event. For his part Jason raised $109.40 and was top contributor of the group. He was honored and given first prize, which was a handsome windbreaker...So, of course, we're proud of that boy!

The Chamber of Commerce banquet is coming up March 17 and tickets can be purchased from any chamber director...Gil Stricklin will be speaker and promises to present a good evening and entertainment for all of us...If you are not a member of the chamber, we urge you to become one...You can pay your dues at the bank, pick up a ballot there and cast your vote for man and woman of the year, which will be announced the evening of the banquet.

We congratulate Brooke Charles on the birth of her new baby brother, Cameron Jay. Their parents are Billy Jay and Barbara Charles. We understand it's a very exciting time for five-year-old Brooke and we're happy for her! Her mom says she's a lot of help with her little brother 'Cam.'

Henry and Nelline Spicer recently spent a weekend with their family near Dallas. They spent the night with son Marty and his wife Audrey and enjoyed eating out at K-Bob's with Marty and Audrey, Nelline's sister and brother-in-law, Adele and John Anderson and their daughter Pam.

Mrs. Wilcox was in the hospital for several days in the Lubbock's St. Mary's but was dismissed and spent a week with her daughter and son-in-law, Ruby and Junior McCormick of Clovis, before she came home last Thursday. She said she is feeling much better.

Darlene Caldwell, her son Brandon and Pat Turner went to San Angelo last week to attend Laura Widner's wedding in San Angelo. They helped with the reception. They spent a night in Ballinger with Darlene's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and also spent a night in Abilene with Darlene's brother Rod and his family. They returned home Sunday.

During this time, Darlene's husband Bruce and son Chris had a good time in the mountains near Las Vegas, New Mexico with Bruce's brother, Bill and Jackie of Lubbock. The Caldwell's daughter Rebecca spent the weekend with her grandparents, Don and Juanda Murphy.

Mary Ann Hall has been hospitalized but we understand she is out of the hospital and is now back at work.

Brother and Mrs. J.L. Bass drove last week to Odessa and flew from there to Houston where they were with Tana Nix Brown and her family during Tana's surgery. They also visited in Odessa with their daughter Jana and her husband.

We are glad to report that Tana came through brain surgery just fine and is expected to be released in about ten days. She is the daughter of Keith and Nancy Knight.

Montie Turner underwent surgery last Friday to have her knee replaced at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. I talked with her granddaughter Nancy and she said Montie was getting along fine but would probably be in the hospital for two or three weeks undergoing therapy before coming home. She is in room 245, if you would like to drop her a card.

Doris Wilson is still a patient in the Clovis hospital but hopefully will be dismissed sometime this week. Edna Kunselman is still a patient in the Friona hospital.

Gwen Pryor underwent tests at the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview last week. She came home from the hospital last Saturday. The family said they thought medication would take care of her problems without surgery and she is much better.

Lavoida Hawkins and son Chet went to Tahoka last Saturday and Lavidia attended a bridal shower for Piper, who will soon be Lavidia's daughter-in-law. The wedding will be in Tahoka on March 18.

We congratulate Cindy and Joe Bradburn on the birth of their new baby son, Nicholas Shawn, who was born March 4. Nicholas has a three year old sister, Courtney. Proud grandparents are Monty and Bonnie Barrett of Bovina and George and Lucille Bradburn of Clovis.

Ruth Boyd and daughter Dala and Dala's children, Mike and Michelle, went to Ft. Scott, Kansas a week ago last Saturday and visited with Ruth's parents and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boyd. They returned home last Saturday.

Donald and Nita Dale and daughters Marci and Bea went to the Alpine area over the weekend and visited with Nita's twin brother and family, Nathan and Chris and their children, Kathy, Misty, Tracy, James and John. Accompanying them was Nita and Nathan's mother from Whiteface.

Sid Lloyd and her brother Elbert had visitors over the weekend, Sid's daughter and family, Patsy and Larry Webb and their children, Becky and Kendall of Adrian; and Sid's daughter Julia Moody of Farwell and Julia's daughter Elyse and daughter Taryn. Becky and Kendall came to Bovina last Wednesday and stayed until the weekend. They also visited with their other grandmother, Bessie Webb.

Martha Garner and her daughter Donna and her children, Keri, Kory, Kelli and Kevin made a trip February 27 to Garland and helped Martha's family surprise her brother and his wife, Boyd and Juanita Morrison, on their anniversary with a party.

The following Monday they came back by Plainview and spent the night with Martha's mother-in-law, Leora Garner. They returned home the next day.

Last Sunday, Leora and her son Jamie Davis of Connecticut visited in Bovina with members of their family, Keith and Laqueta Garner and family and Martha Garner and family.

Two years ago, the Grady Sorleys, Lawrence Jamersons and Wendol Christians were in Hawaii on vacation. They met two couples in Hawaii that were tourists from North Carolina. These people came to Bovina last Friday and visited in the Sorley and Jamerson homes. The visitors were David and Carol Eastwood and Yvonne and Thurston James, all of Stokes, North Carolina.

Friday night, Wendol and Louise hosted a meal for the group. Saturday night the Sorleys took all of them to the Adams House in Clovis and Sunday the Jamersons hosted a meal. Erra said they really enjoyed visiting with the two couples, who left Monday of this week.

Bessie Davis Bull was hospitalized for several days but came home from the hospital last week and is much improved.

Kim and Kathy Rundell went last weekend to Dallas and visited Kim's brother Scotty. On their way down they stopped in Munday and visited Kathy's sister Lezli and her husband.

Kathy was telling me that Scotty is music director for the First Methodist Church in Fort Worth and this church is the third largest in America. It is televised every Sunday on TV and we are able to see it on Bovina TV so if you are ever home on Sundays you may watch Scotty as he directs music for that church.

Visiting Sunday in the home of Rose and Les McCain were relatives, Mrs. C.M. Sanders of Pettit and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Morris of Levelland.

The Larry Scotts and Eugene Scotts took a fantastic trip last week through Mississippi and Louisiana. Carol said Mississippi and Louisiana were absolutely beautiful this time of year. Going with the couple were the Larry Scotts' two older children. The Scotts enjoyed good weather while they were gone and saw lots of lovely sights.

Sue and Joe Fowler have returned home recently from a trip to San Diego, California where they visited with their daughter Nancy, her husband Bert Harden and the Fowler's granddaughter Ashley. Mauro Names Lubbock Man To Vet Post

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has appointed Lorenzo M. Sedeno as Area Representative for the Veterans Outreach program in the Panhandle region of Texas. Veterans Outreach is an extension of the Veterans Land Program of the General Land Office.

Sedeno and four other field representatives will be going out to every county in Texas to establish contact with veterans groups and their representatives. The object of the statewide drive is to acquaint Texas veterans with the benefits of the land loan program and assist them with problems and questions concerning the loan process.

"For all the success this program has had in the past, it has to be upgraded and updated to meet the current needs of our Texas veterans. I'm concerned about each and every veteran in this state, especially Vietnam veterans, and I'm concerned about prompt service. This program is going to run like a business and it will be manned by trained professionals both in the central office and out in the field," said Mauro.

Authorized by the people of Texas in 1946, nearly 80,000 veterans have participated in the Veterans Land Program. The loan program operates at no cost to the taxpayer and actually returns money from proceeds. Long term, low interest loans of up to $20,000 can be obtained for a minimum of 10 acres.

Lorenzo M. Sedeno is a native Texan from San Angelo who now lives in Lubbock. For three years he was administrative aide to Congressman Kent Hance. In that position he was in charge of Veterans affairs and social programs among his many other responsibilities. Prior to that he was self-employed as a life underwriter for 14 years.

He has been a member of the Lubbock Human Relations Commission, the Legal Aid Society, the Community Service Commission, the Bilingual and Biculture Committee on Mass Communications and several other organizations. Sedeno has held many community service offices, including President of the Pastoral Council of the Diocese of Amarillo, President of Bozeman Elementary School P.T.A. and Vice President of Project Upward Bound.

"I am happy to have a person of Lorenzo's experience representing the Veterans Land Program. His familiarity with veterans needs as well as his background in government and community affairs will make him a great asset to the program," commented Commissioner Mauro.

Moisture Survey Is Available

A second round of snows have helped create nearly excellent soil moisture conditions in the upper three feet of most soil profiles throughout the area. The annual soil moisture survey measurements taken by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service between February 14 and 23 of this year, generally indicate the top two feet are at 90 per cent field capacity and the third foot is at nearly 75 per cent of capacity. However the fourth and fifth feet are generally much drier. This is especially true for marginally irrigated and dryland portions of the Southern High Plains.

Deep soil moisture reserves were depleted last summer and the area has received an average of only four to six inches of precipitation since harvest, only enough to wet the top two and a half feet of the soil profile. Where plow pans are present they did not appreciably affect the moisture penetration because the snow melt was slow enough to allow infiltration with no runoff.

Even though this year's soil moisture deficits are similar to last years, conditions are better now because 65 to 70 per cent of the moisture is in the top three feet of the profile where the plants need it. Most of the deficit is in the fourth and fifth feet of the profile.

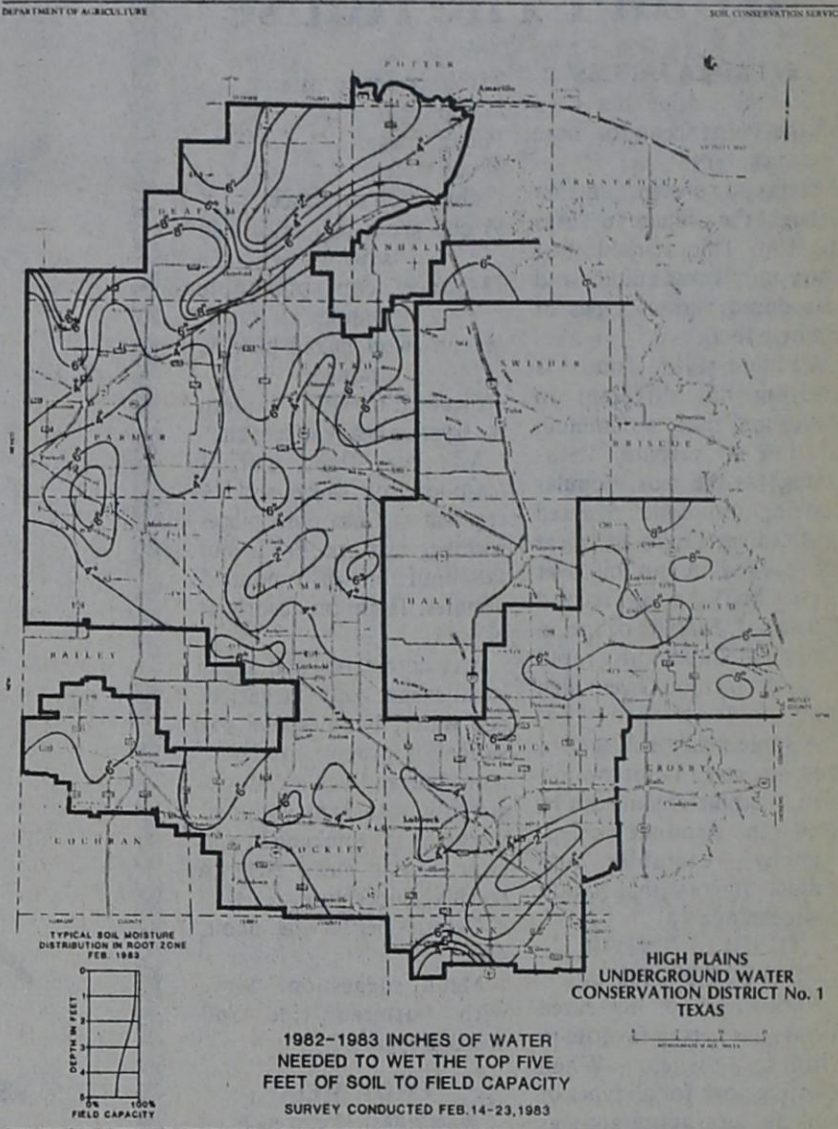

Plant response during the early growing season should be good. However, once the plant uses the upper level moisture, there is currently no reserve deep soil moisture to carry it through an extended dry period.

The soil moisture deficit map is published as a tool to give producers a better picture of soil moisture reserves over the entire area. It can

In evaluating your present soil moisture conditions and estimating how much water your crops will need during the growing season, the probability of rain becomes very important.

The following is a monthly precipitation probability index for the City of Muleshoe. These derived figures are provided by the Texas Department of Water Resources and are based on 51 years of National Weather Service precipitation data from 1930 to 1980.

The specific data in the table indicates the per cent of time when the corresponding precipitation quantity or larger quantities can be expected to occur during the month indicated. However, these figures were derived without the benefit of information about precipitation during the month prior to that for which the estimate is made. These probabilities may be improved if prior month data were included in the calculations. For example, if Muleshoe recorded a three inch rainfall for July then it is likely that the probability of August recording two inches or more may be better than the indicated per cent due to the persistence of weather regimes.

help them make more informed irrigation decisions and help avoid both over and under irrigating in the spring. It can also give an indication of potential production. The map's soil moisture deficit readings are a measure of how much water is still needed to wet the soil in the crop root zone to field capacity. The sample indicates general trends over the area, but does not predict exact soil moisture conditions on any given farm. Each landowner needs to check his individual farm soil moisture to determine its water needs. The survey is a cooperative effort by the Soil Conservation Service and the High Plains Water District with support from the Texas Department of Water Resources.

Around The House

By LAURA JACOBS
Chinese cuisine has been on the Texas scene for more than a century. Railroad construction first brought the Chinese to Texas in 1870. This marked their entry into Texas culture and introduced various types of Chinese food.

Chinese-style food is exciting but different in flavor and takes a minimum of time to prepare. "Stir-frying" is the most popular cooking technique. Slivered or diced vegetables and meat are cooked in hot oil over high heat and stirred constantly. Scarcity of fuel in China dictated this rapid cooking method over high heat.

A large heavy skillet or a wok--a round-bottomed, high sided metal pan--can be used to produce crisp, crunchy vegetables and distinct flavors that typify this technique.

GUIDELINES FOR SELECTING PORK

Pork--fresh or in cured forms--has been a favorite in Chinese dishes. When selecting pork for all types of cookery, use appearance as your guide to quality. Choose fresh or cured pork that has a high proportion of lean to fat and bone. The flesh should be fine textured but firm, and color of the lean in fresh pork should range from grayish pink to red. Lean cured pork, on the other hand, should have a deep pink color.

In stir frying pork, the meat will lose its pinkness and turn white when cooked. Never add more than one pound of pork or other meat at a time to the fry pan or wok for this method of cookery. A larger amount will lower the temperature of the pan too rapidly. If larger quantities are needed, then stir-fry in batches.

Here are two USDA recipes featuring Chinese cuisine. You may want to introduce your family to this unique stir-fry method of cookery. Calories per serving and menu suggestions are included with each recipe. Children, in particular, would probably enjoy an added mealtime challenge of using chopsticks with the foods.

CHINESE SWEET-SOUR PORK

6 servings, 1 cup each
Oil for deep fat fryer...as needed.
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup unsifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1/4 cup water
1 1/2 pounds pork shoulder, cut in 1/2-inch cubes

2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup water
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1/2 cup green pepper, cut in squares
13-ounce can pineapple chunks
1/2 cup sweet mixed pickles, drained

Heat oil to 375° F in deep fat fryer or heavy saucepan.

Mix egg, flour, salt, 1 teaspoon soy sauce and 1/4 cup water. Coat pork pieces with egg mixture. Fry in hot fat until brown, about 5 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper.

Mix cornstarch and sugar in saucepan. Add vinegar, 1/4 cup water, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, green pepper, pineapple and pickles. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and clear. Stir in meat. Heat to serving temperature.

Calories per serving: about 430.

Menu suggestion: Serve with buttered rice and broccoli spears.

CHOW MEIN

6 servings, 1/4 cup each
3 cups pork, cooked, but in julienne strips
1 1/2 cups celery, cut into thin 1-inch strips
1 cup onion, sliced
1 tablespoon fat or oil
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/2 cups bean sprout liquid plus water
1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
3 tablespoons soy sauce
16-ounce can bean sprouts, drained

Chow mein noodles...as desired.
Cook pork with celery and onion in the fat in a large fry pan until mixture begins to brown. Mix cornstarch with a little of the liquid. Add to meat mixture with remaining liquid, salt, pepper, and soy sauce. Stir until well mixed. Cook until thickened, stirring as needed. Add bean sprouts and heat to serving temperature. Serve over chow mein noodles.

Calories per serving: About 220 (not including noodles).
Note: If preferred, start with 1 1/2 pounds lean raw pork cut into julienne strips. Brown the meat in the fat. Add 1/2 cup water and simmer, covered, until the meat is almost tender, about 45 minutes.

Add celery and onion and cook until the vegetables are tender. Add cornstarch-liquid mixture and continue as directed in recipe.
Menu suggestion: Serve with parsley buttered potatoes and a spinach salad.
