

Bull Town Bulletins

By Bill Ellis

A FEW YEARS AGO, auto makers were threatening to make the convertible car a collector's item.

And, probably due to the scramble by those who loved the "ragtop" auto, and wanted to have one before Detroit quit turning them out, the auto industry has done an about-face. Practically every major car maker now has a convertible in its repertoire.

The "revival" began about a year and a half ago when Chrysler LeBaron and Dodge came out with a convertible automobile, and were followed shortly by a Buick Riviera model.

This year, four other companies will join the move back to making convertibles: Chevrolet, which will make a Cavalier convertible; Ford Mustang, Pontiac Sunbird and Porsche. If current plans continue to develop, auto customers will have a Cadillac convertible and two more Chryslers to choose from in 1984.

(We recall the feeling of nostalgia a few years back when it was announced that the "last" Cadillac convertible had rolled off the assembly line. The buyers of those cars, who thought they had plunked down big bucks but at least had a collector's item, will soon have just another used convertible.)

The main reason for the return of the convertible to the auto-makers' lineup is the public demand for the car. It's the old rule that always holds true: "Take something off the market (or make it illegal), and suddenly everyone wants it."

Another important factor in the manufacturers' willingness to put the cars back "on line" is the companies' new-found ability to manufacture convertibles more efficiently than they could in the 1970s.

Previously, entire assembly lines had to be devoted to convertibles, which represented a very small percentage of the vehicles manufactured.

Today, convertibles roll off the same assembly lines as other passenger cars. Their tops are then sheared off. Floors, doors and windshield pillars are reinforced for structural support. And, lastly, they are fitted with a folding cloth top and equipped with the mechanism for raising and lowering it.

In former years, ragtop owners often had to endure a number of quirks in order to enjoy the pleasure of top-down driving. These included squeaks and creaks in the frame, air leaks and noises in the passenger compartment, and smaller back seats and trunks, to accommodate the top and its mechanism.

However, due to improved technology, these former drawbacks are not as big a problem as they formerly were. In fact, the convertible automobile should afford its owner virtually the same comfort as those whose tops had not been redesigned.

Convertibles have always had a limited amount of popularity in this area, probably due to the fact that in springtime, owners are faced with a certain number of days that they would be faced with driving them around in sandy or windy weather.

Nevertheless, it's nice to know that one aspect of Americana has been saved from extinction.

Shower Series Aids Farmland

The Bovina area has received some good showers during the past week or so.

On two consecutive nights last week, Wednesday and Thursday, about a half inch of rain was received. This amount again was measured on Sunday evening, with a trace on Monday.

The temperature dropped to a record 44 degrees on Tuesday morning, lowest ever recorded at Amarillo for the date.

READING HISTORY....Anna Delia Villarreal and Homera Renteria are shown reading the class history during graduation exercises for the Bovina eighth grade class last Thursday evening. The two students were the third and fourth ranking students in the class.

Two Bible Schools Are Scheduled Here

Two Vacation Bible School sessions are scheduled to begin at Bovina churches within the next two weeks. They will be held at the United Methodist Church, June 6-10, and at First Baptist Church, June 13-17.

The Bible School at United Methodist Church gets underway Monday, June 6, beginning at 9:30 a.m. The school will run 9:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m. daily.

The theme for the Methodist school is "Jesus, Lord of Promises." It is said that the school will examine the true and absolute promises of Jesus Christ. Students will be investigating the New Testament personalities who claimed the promises of Jesus.

Transportation will be available for the Bible School series. Anyone

Sr. Citizens Set Benefit Luncheon

The Bovina Senior Citizens are hosting a luncheon on Sunday, June 5 at their club house.

Proceeds from the lunch will go to a paving fund for the center's parking lot.

Serving hours will be 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Ham and salads will be on the menu. Admission will be $5 for adults and $3 for children.

Trap Shoot Set Sunday

A trap shoot will be held Sunday, June 5 beginning at 1 p.m. at the Larry Scott farm, three miles east of Bovina on Highway 60, then across the Santa Fe tracks and another mile east on the dirt road.

The proceeds from the trap shoot will go to benefit the Bovina Ambulance Service, who is sponsoring the shoot.

An automatic 12-gauge S&W shotgun will be given away to some lucky shooter at the event.

interested in riding the VBS trailer is asked to call Nancy Sudderth at 225-4685.

Registration for the Baptist Vacation Bible School will be held Saturday, June 11 at the City Park, from 9:30 to 11 a.m.

Those attending the registration are asked to come in costume, as a Biblical character. "Come prepared with a few facts concerning your character," said a spokesman for the church. There will be a prize for a boy and girl from each department who best portrays his character or event.

The VBS will have departments for children from age 2-3 through the sixth grade.

"The Bible is packed with adventure stories of everything from secret spies, beautiful queens, strong men, great tempting snakes, talking donkeys, a sun that stood still and a fish who gave change. There are many events which can be portrayed," the spokesman said.

JUDD SPEAKS....Auther Judd, Church of Christ minister, was the baccalaureate speaker at commencement exercises for the 1983 BHS seniors last Friday night.

Whitten Is Tabbed For Scholarship

Bret Whitten, a 1983 graduate of Bovina High School, has been selected as one of 12 recipients of Campus Service scholarships for the 1983-84 academic year at West Texas State University, Canyon.

As one of 12 Campus Service students, Whitten will receive an $800 scholarship and will work four hours each week in the Development Office. The campus hosts and hostesses, who include six upperclass students and six 1983 high school graduates who will enter WTSU in the fall semester as beginning freshman students, will conduct tours and represent the university at campus activities.

This is the first year for upperclass students to join beginning freshman students as Campus Service scholarship recipients.

About 100 students applied for Campus Service scholarships. Recipients are selected on the basis of application, recommendations and personal interview.

At Bovina High School, Whitten has been involved as a member of Student Council, as senior class vice president, National Honor Society, Future Farmers of America president, yearbook staff, Speech Club, basketball, track and golf teams. He also is a member of the First United Methodist Church and has received FFA and academic awards. He also has been listed on the honor roll during his high school years.

Whitten, who plans to major in pre-veterinary medicine at WTSU, is the son of Earl F. and Norma Whitten of Bovina.

Epileptic X-Country Walker Due

Patrick Warren, a Philadelphia, Pennsylvania resident is walking across the country to prove that persons who have epilepsy can function normally and "even go one step further."

Warren, 35, began his 3,000 mile trek at the UCLA Medical Center on May 2 and will arrive in Bovina on or around June 7. The purpose of the walk is to dispel the numerous misconceptions that surround epilepsy and those who are afflicted with the seizure disorder.

Warren, a roofer by trade, fell from a roof while working in 1974 and fell again in 1979 suffering a fractured skull and multiple abrasions. This began what Warren terms "a medical merry-go-round of fainting spells, laboratory tests and inconclusive diagnoses." He said, "I saw a lot of neurologists at several different hospitals, but epilepsy was never diagnosed."

SALUTATORY....Jan Shough, the second-ranking student in the Bovina High School graduating class, gives her address during commencement exercises last Friday night.

These scholarships may be used in any college or university of the student's choosing. They are paid in four checks, $100 each semester for the first four semesters the students are in college. The scholarships can be used only if the student is enrolled in college, trade school or technical training institutes.

By SETH RALSTON
 Bagworms are one of the major pests of junipers and other trees and shrubs in Texas. Spring hatch usually begins the first week of May on the South Plains. Insecticide control is most effective in late May and early June when the bagworms are small, says County Extension Agent, Seth Ralston.

In the spring, bagworm larvae emerge from hatching eggs inside last year's bags and begin feeding on leaves. Soon they begin to construct their own protective bag of silk, twigs and leaves, making them camouflaged and hard to see. As the larvae and their bags continue to grow, control becomes more difficult.

Bagworms feed throughout the summer months, building their bags until the bags are about 1 1/2 inches long, Ralston adds. In the fall, the bagworms become adults, mate and the females lay eggs inside their bags. They then overwinter in these bags in trees and shrubs. Each overwintering female bag on a tree contains from 500 to 1,500 eggs.

"Since the bagworm only completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest," says Ralston. "But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring.

Insecticides which can be used to control bagworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion, dylox and orthene. The biological insecticide Bacillus thuringiensis can also be used. To obtain effective control, thorough coverage of the foliage is important. Always read and follow label instructions when applying insecticides.

Chester and Bobby Haney took an exciting trip through Arkansas, Kentucky, Illinois and Missouri during recent days. They drove 4,000 miles in nine days. Said they saw lots of pretty country, also saw the flooded areas and arrived at Springfield, Missouri, one hour after a tornado had left much destruction there. BILL PASSED.... Governor Mark White signs Senate Bill 1269 which calls for the creation of the Buffalo Lake Water District. Shown standing, left to right: R.T. Bob Simpson, House speaker; Enoch Henderson, Buffalo Lake Heritage Association; and Vernon Seymour, legislative aide.

New Senate Bill To Assist Buffalo Lake

Governor Mark White this week signed into law a bill, sponsored by Senator Bill Sarpalius, which calls for the creation of the Buffalo Lake Water District. Senator Sarpalius says, "The purpose of this legislation is to form the Buffalo Lake Water District from three separate counties: Randall, Potter and Deaf Smith."

Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge is a federal entity controlled by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Department of the Interior. Currently, the Buffalo Lake Refuge, located in Randall County, is badly in need of restoration. Some people consider the dam unsafe in its present state.

Senator Sarpalius says the district can serve as a funding vehicle in order to repair and maintain the dam. He says, "This bill sets up a mechanism for the federal government to assist the water district in restoring the lake."

The lake was at one time a refuge for wildlife and a recreational area for people of all ages to enjoy. An estimated 500,000 people live within a two hour drive from Buffalo Lake.

The legislation now must be approved by the qualified voters in

Randall, Potter and Deaf Smith counties before the Buffalo Lake Water District can become a reality. If approved by the voters, the district will consist of a nine member board selected from Randall, Potter and Deaf Smith counties.

Around The House

By LAURA JACOBS

June is National Dairy Month and it just so happens, it is also the time many people start craving a freezer of home made ice cream.

Dolly Madison, wife of the fourth president, introduced ice cream during a presidential reception in the early 1800's. Now we all love it!

You should know the Extension Service Food and Nutrition specialists only recommend the cooked variety of home made ice cream. There is a risk of food poisoning from raw eggs if you use the no-cook method.

See if your family doesn't like this ice cream and its many variations—I think they will!

GRANDMA'S VANILLA ICE CREAM

1 1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons flour
Few grains salt
2 eggs, or 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 1/2 cups heavy cream

In double boiler, scald milk. Mix next three ingredients; stir in enough milk to make a smooth paste. Stir into rest of milk in double boiler. Stir until thickened; cover; cook 10 minutes. Beat eggs slightly; stir in milk mixture; return to double boiler; cook 1 minute. Cool. Add vanilla and cream. Freeze in 2 quart crank freezer until difficult to turn, using 8 parts crushed ice to 1 part ice cream salt. Makes 1 1/4 quart.

CHOCOLATE

Put 2 sq. (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate in milk before scalding. When chocolate is melted, beat till smooth with egg beater.

COFFEE

Substitute 1/4 cup strong black coffee beverage for 1/4 cup milk.

PEACH

Just before freezing, add 1 1/2 cups sieved fresh peaches combined with 1/4 cup additional granulated sugar (or enough to sweeten) and few drops almond extract.

PINEAPPLE

Substitute 1 tablespoon fresh, frozen or canned lemon juice for vanilla. Just before freezing, add 2 cups well-drained canned crushed pineapple.

RASPBERRY
Just before freezing, add 1 1/2 cup crushed raspberries mixed with about 1/4 cup additional granulated sugar and few drops almond extract.

BUTTER PECAN
In 1/4 cup butter, margarine or salad oil in skillet, saute 1 cup broken pecan meats until golden. Add, with 1/4 teaspoon salt, to cooked milk mixture.

CHOCOLATE PEPPERMINT SAUCE
Yield: 3 cups
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup light cream or half and half
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped
1/2 cup coarsely chopped peppermint candy

Melt butter and chocolate in heavy saucepan over low heat, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat, stir in sugar and salt gradually, mixing until well combined. (Mixture will be thick and dry.) Gradually stir in half and half. Return to heat. Cook over low heat until sugar is dissolved, about 5 minutes. Cool. Stir in whipped cream and candy. Refrigerate; serve cold over ice cream.

HONEY BUTTER SAUCE

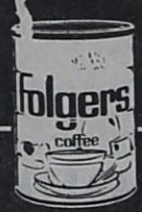

Yield 1 1/4 cups
Melt 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter in a saucepan. Blend in 1/4 cup honey, 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon and a dash of salt. Remove from heat and stir in 1/2 cup whipping cream until smooth. Cool. Serve over your favorite ice cream.

CHOCO-PEANUT BUTTER SAUCE

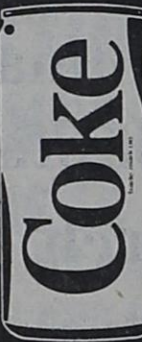

Yield: 1 1/2 cups
Melt 2 squares (2 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate. Beat melted chocolate into 1/2 cup chunk-style peanut butter. Stir in 1/4 cup milk and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Serve hot or cold over ice cream. (If sauce becomes too thick after storage in refrigerator, stir in a little additional milk.)
