

Bull Town Bulletins

By Bill Ellis

PARMER COUNTY came within a couple of penalty flags, or on the plus side, a couple of play executions, of having three schools in post-season competition in football.

As it is, only District 5-AA champion Farwell will compete in the playoffs. But both Bovina and Friona came so close, that each one could almost taste that "playoff pudding."

Bovina's 10-7 loss to Olton kept the Mustangs from clinching the runnerup spot in the playoffs in District 5-AA, and Friona's 9-3 setback to Muleshoe cost the Chieftains the runnerup spot in 2-AA.

In Friona's game with Muleshoe, the Chieftains drove the length of the field, and apparently had the tying touchdown with the chance to kick the PAT for the win, when a holding or "pushing" penalty wiped out the TD. The official who called the penalty must have had pretty sharp eyes, since those reviewing the films haven't caught the infraction yet.

Bovina likewise had a chance to win, and Michael Shepherd's runback of a pass interception was called back for a clipping penalty. Coach Larry Helton didn't question the call in this instance, however.

The Mustangs even had a second chance at the playoffs when they came out in a three-way tie with Olton and Kress. But Olton proved to be lucky at coin-tosses on Saturday, when they won the right to advance in the playoffs.

Since the District 5-AA runnerup is slated to play powerful Morton (who bombed Bovina, 55-0 earlier in the season), there has been some talk that the Mustangs may have had mixed emotions about gaining the playoffs, and that in reality, Olton "lost" the toss when they "had to play Morton."

But getting into the playoffs would have been nice. Question of the week: When were the Bovina Mustangs last in the playoffs in football?

HOW LONG HAS IT been since you could sleep with a window open during a November night? Or better yet, during an entire week of them?

What an unusually mild week or two the area has enjoyed. After experiencing one of the earliest freezes on record (September 21), it now looks as though Mother Nature's fickle personality might let the area go two additional months before another killing freeze.

Someone remarked to this writer the day or two after the early freeze that in all likelihood, we might just go another two months without another freeze. We thought at the time the remark was mainly in jest, but it will at least come close to that prediction.

The mild fall, one of the mildest in recent years, has allowed harvest operations to move almost uninterrupted. Except for the nice rain the area received the week of October 17, outside activities have not been seriously limited.

The corn harvest is just a memory for farmers, and the harvest of other crops is well underway. We see trucks of sugar beets and carrots headed toward Hereford, or in the case of the beets, toward Bovina's Holly Sugar dump station.

Cotton was the crop most affected by the early freeze, as it could have surely used the additional time for maturity and extra yield.

Sale Date Set For Yearbooks

The Bovina High School Annuals will be on sale November 14 through November 23, according to Mrs. Karen Renner, librarian.

These can be purchased with a deposit of $7.50 and balance paid when they arrive. There will not be any extras ordered so you'll want to order yours as soon as possible. The cost is $10.50.

LARRY MITCHELL

Mitchell Certified Paramedic

The Bovina Ambulance Service as well as the community of Bovina is proud to announce that Larry Mitchell is now a certified Paramedic.

Larry began his training this past January in Lubbock at Lubbock General Hospital and Methodist Hospital. He completed 200 classroom hours, 110 ambulance hours and 140 hospital hours.

During this course of training, Mitchell ran with the Lubbock EMS and was trained in advanced life support in emergency care including L.V.'s, drug therapy, cardio-monitoring, and respiratory therapy.

Larry finished this course August 30 with a 94 grade average. Many hours of classroom study and practical application were given by Larry in order to complete this course.

"We are very proud of Larry and are fortunate as a community to have him serving on the Bovina Ambulance Service," said a spokesman for the service.

The Bovina Ambulance Service cannot stress enough the importance of calling the service when in need, instead of transporting a patient in the back seat of your car.

"Many lives have been saved by the training and skills of the ambulance service. We are here to serve you when needed," said a spokesman.

Please do not transport any patient in your car. If the patient developed an obstructed airway enroute would YOU know what to do? Many other things could happen to your patient enroute, this is why it is so very important to let the trained personnel of the Bovina Ambulance Service serve you and your loved ones," the spokesman concluded.

Youngster Wins Football Event

Gabriel Mancini and Doug Johnson were the only contestants to pick as many as 12 games correctly on the Bovina Businesses Football Contest's tenth week.

Johnson is probably kicking himself, since he failed to fill in his tie-breaker score on the entry. This allowed Mancini to claim the weekly first prize and $7.50 cash. He had picked Dallas to whip Philadelphia, 24-10, missing by 13 points.

Since Johnson failed to enter a score, his tie-breaker difference had to be figured as the entire score (27 plus 20) of 47 points. He did earn the weekly second place and cash prize of $5.00.

Four contestants correctly picked 11 games, and from this group, Dickie Clayton took third place on the basis of his tie-breaker prediction.

Clayton picked Dallas to win, 28-21, missing the score by only two points. Penny Johnson missed the score by eight points (28-27); Bobby Cumpton missed it by 18 points (34-31) and R.J. Keys was off by four points (30-21).

Seventeen contestants correctly picked ten contest games, missing out on one of the top spots by just a game. They were Houston Bartlett, Jan Smith, Richard Shepherd, Billy Shepherd, Todd Schilling, Susan Kerby, Rhonda Keys, Barbara Cockerham, Jimmie Cockerham, Don Spring, A.J. Shepherd, Michael Shepherd, Chad Clayton, Matt Howell, Erith Hawkins, Mike Lance and Jim Lance.

Mancini missed only the Pittsburgh-Notre Dame and Miami-San Francisco games. Johnson's misses were Maryland-Auburn and Denver-Seattle games.

Clayton missed Pittsburgh-Notre Dame, Baylor-Arkansas and Miami-San Francisco.

Four weeks remain in the annual event. Leader at the close of the contest will receive $100 cash.

Richard Shepherd and Don Spring remained tied for the lead in the contest. After ten weeks, each have a score of 88. Bobby Cumpton moved into second place in the contest with a score of 87. Frances Johnson and Jean Morgan are tied for third with scores of 86.

A total of 25 contestants have scores of 80 or above in the contest, and another 52 have scores above 70. With a total of 56 points yet to be earned, it is far too early to be dropping out of the contest.

Tips Are Given On Cold-Related Injuries

The recent cold wave and the fact that November is here seems to herald the coming of winter.

Here are a few timely hints about cold-related injuries from paramedic Don Spring of Bovina.

A severe and dangerous cold-related condition is frostbite. This condition is rare in the Panhandle and usually occurs in the elderly person who is outdoors, and for whatever reason is unable to make it back inside to warmth.

"As the tissue, usually in the extremities, freezes, the cells rupture and the blood vessels seal off so there is a double trauma situation present. The cells, deprived of oxygen from the blood, shortly begin to die and the area takes on a dark splotchy blue or black color," Spring said.

"Remember, anyone suffering frostbite is assumed to be hypothermic, suffering from low body temperature. It is vitally important to warm the whole body, so get the patient to a place of warmth immediately. Until emergency aid arrives, it is advisable to warm the affected area in water at 100°-105°. Remember!! Never, never, massage the area to restore circulation. The friction caused by rubbing the area only further ruptures weak cell walls and worsens the condition," Spring warns.

If an individual's body temperature drops below 96° F, you should seek medical help because that person may be suffering hypothermia. Do not attempt car transport of the patient. Hypothermia may become life threatening.

For emergency medical assistance in the Texas Panhandle, call your local ambulance service or Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System at 1-800-692-1331.

Mustangs Drop 10-7 Decision

Bovina's Mustangs lost their chance to make the bi-district playoffs when Olton edged them, 10-7 in a game at Olton Friday night.

Actually, the loss threw second-place into a three-way tie between Bovina, Olton and Kress. Olton proved to be winners two days in a row by winning the coin toss on Saturday to represent the district.

But in reality, the loss on Friday night cost the Mustangs the playoffs, because with a win they could have clinched a spot in post-season play.

Olton took the lead on a 57-yard pass interception return by Gilbert Garcia, with Troy Don Allcorn kicking the PAT.

A little later in the first quarter, Bovina tied the game at 7-all when Jesse Gonzales ran 42 yards to paydirt. Jose Gomez kicked the point to tie the score.

That's the way the score remained until with six minutes left in the third quarter, Allcorn booted a 36-yard field goal, which turned out to be the margin in the game.

Bovina would have had one more touchdown, as Michael Shepherd intercepted an Olton pass and ran it back, but a clipping call against the Mustangs erased the score.

Coach Larry Helton said that Bovina really committed a clip during the runback, so he didn't feel "cheated" by the call.

"Our pass interception, or the flag on Shepherd's run didn't cost us the game. Our failure to execute throughout the game was what cost us," Helton said.

The Bovina coach said the team failed to execute in clutch situations. "We moved the ball well all night long (the Mustangs made 293 yards), but then would make a mistake," he said.

Turnovers were also a big factor in the game, as Bovina lost the ball three times on fumbles and twice on pass interceptions. Olton lost one fumble and one pass interception, so led in the "take-away" department, 5-2.

Olton's winning field goal was set up by a fumble recovery.

Bovina held a statistical lead, in first downs and in total yardage, but mistakes plagued the team.

"We allowed them to stay in the game. I feel sorry for the seniors on the team. They worked hard all year and deserved better," Helton said.

The coach gave plaudits for the play of Martin Contreras and Mark Clayton, who excelled at their line positions both on offense and defense. Jesse Gonzales, who scored Bovina's TD, also stood out both ways, and Danny Silva was credited with a good defensive game.

Bovina finished its season with a 4-6 record, and Helton pointed out that with just a little luck, the record could have been 8-2. Four of the team's losses, to Happy, Dexter, Cooper and Olton, were by a touchdown or less, and with just a little different bounce of the football, things could have been quite different.

"I learned a lot this year--like having to teach kids how to play new positions every week (due to injuries). One thing which should help us next year is that we'll have a bunch of players back who got a lot of experience," Helton said. He indicated the yellow tags on the Mustangs' depth chart, which indicated that 12 sophomores were in the offensive and defensive lineups at the end of the season.

NEWS AROUND TOWN.

Mary Jane Wilson sent a family favorite recipe to the Southern Living Magazine about a year ago and said she was very surprised when she received a check and news that her recipe was to be published in the November issue. She was also gracious enough to share it. . . . Good for the holidays. . . .

FETTUCINE SUPREME

Beat cream cheese, 1/4 cup softened margarine or butter, low speed until blended, add parsley, basil, pepper and mix well. Add boiling water, beat until mix is smooth. Cook Fettuccine noodles according to package and drain well. Rinse noodles in warm water and set aside. Saute' garlic in 1/4 cup butter or margarine until tender, combine garlic mixture with noodles and toss gently. Add cream cheese mixture and 1/4 cup parmesan cheese, again toss gently. Place in serving dish, sprinkle with remaining parmesan cheese. Yields 6 to 8 servings.

School Corner

Bovina High School has begun a new reading program this year. Called the "Learning 100 Reading Lab" it is a multi-media communication skills system designed to serve underachieving, undereducated, and/or learning-disabled students on the secondary and adult levels.

The system provides instruction at reading levels ranging from first through seventh level. Learning 100 is organized into learning units called cycles of instruction. A cycle of instruction is a carefully planned sequence of learning activities which introduce vocabulary, concepts, and skills, and provides instruction, evaluation, reinforcement and extension.

Students are entered into the program at their own level of ability as established by various testing methods. Auto-instructional and audio-visual techniques such as the combo-eight reader, cassette tapes, DuKane reader and an Apple II computer program, increase both involvement and learning time for each student by permitting him/her to respond to every question and exercise, and by furnishing immediate reinforcement. Many of the materials and techniques are self-pacing so that each student can progress at a suitable rate. Selections include information in the areas of economics, arithmetic, social studies, and science as well as everyday living and reading enjoyment.

Personalized instruction is possible because the instructor has many opportunities to work with individuals or small groups during times when the majority of students are involved in independent learning.

One of the most unique aspects of the program is that the student achieves success in reading comprehension because he/she begins at a level of comp. This encourages even the most reluctant student to have more successes. Each subsequent achievement adds to the basic reading knowledge of a student. As students begin to realize they can read and understand, they are encouraged to put these new skills to use in everyday living. We make every attempt to turn non-readers and reluctant readers into functioning citizens who can be responsible for themselves in an adult society. Success in an endeavor is the key.

The program can also be expanded to meet the needs of advanced and college-bound readers.

The public is invited to come see the Reading Lab "in action."

Pam and Greg Bell and their children Casey and Willie made a trip to Abilene over the weekend and had a good visit with Pam's sister, Suzanne Murphy and her family.

Don and Nita Dale and family went to Fort Davis over the weekend and visited with Nita's brother and family, Nathan and Chris Moore, and children. While there they attended a historical drama that the children participated in and they also had a good visit.

Cole Sorley visited in Bovina with his grandparents, Dorothy and Grady Sorley. Cole returned to his home in Amarillo last Sunday evening.

The A.L. Glasscocks enjoyed having their family members with them over the weekend, Ronnie and Carol Glasscock and children, Dana, Brandon and Hope of Lubbock. They attended church together Sunday.

Our hearts were saddened this week to hear about Jerry McClarans death. Funeral services are to be held at the Church of Christ Wednesday morning of this week and burial will be at Plainview. Jerry had lots of friends wherever he went. We'll always remember what a pleasant, good natured guy he was. He'll be missed by all his friends and loved ones. May God bless his sweet family, Monta, Kevin and Kay.
