That Reminds Me

By FRANK A. JONES
Eastland Sales Barns, now under new management, has one of the best, if not the best, set-up for the sale at auction of your livestock or anything else of value anywhere in this section of the county. Last Saturday $2,000 worth of hogs alone were sold at auction. J. A. Trigg, Peterding, Vernon Humphreys, and H. Woods, who are now operating the Eastland Barns, are experienced in this line of work and well known to the farmers and stockmen on this area.

Notwithstanding he made seven arrests in one day recently and most of them were for traffic violations, State Highway Patrolman Oscar Avery believes that traffic violations are on the decrease.

You have to be a pretty good story teller, says Herman Tumbelthistle, to tell your own hard luck tales and misfortunes in a way that will be interesting to the other fellow.

A two-way co-operative radio station located in Eastland for the use of the police departments of Ranger, Cisco, Eastland and the County Sheriff's department, would, in the opinion of many, be a boon to the law enforcement personnel of this area. It is the opinion of some of those who have had experience with such systems, that cost of the station and equipment would be insignificant in comparison with the financial saving and increased efficiency of crime detection and prevention.

Local merchants are showing an added interest in pulling more trade into Eastland. Co-operation in stocking the proper merchandise (if they can get it) at the correct price and above all fair treatment of the prospective purchaser, is a mighty big inducement. While Eastland merchants have a good reputation in this respect, none of us are infallible and it is well to always be on the alert lest we lose one, at least misadventure us.

MORTON VALLEY YOUTHS ENLIST IN THE U. S. ARMY

Bobby L. Emfinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Emfinger, and Cecil White, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. White, both of Rt. 2, Ranger, were enlisted in the Regular Army, it was announced by Sgt. James Hendrick, of the Eastland Recruiting Station.

Both lads are 1947 graduates of Morton Valley High School and enlisted for a period of eighteen months. They gave as reasons for joining up principally the educational benefits to be derived from service. Besides receiving on-the-job training, world-wide travel, and good pay while in service, they will be eligible for a maximum of thirty months paid education under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

After initial processing and recruit training at Ft. Ord, California, they will be assigned to a unit of the Army Ground Forces for duty.

VISITS HOME HERE

ASKS AGAIN FOR UNIVERSAL MILITARY PLAN

By United Press
PRINCETON, N. J. — President Truman made his strongest appeal for universal military training today with a solemn declaration that the United States must be powerful enough to reassure peace-loving nations in their fight against totalitarian pressures.

"We must not let friendly nations go by default," the President told a graduating class at the bicentennial observance of Princeton University. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree, his 10th since entering the White House.

Mr. Truman also took occasion to reiterate that the United States cannot undertake the rehabilitation of Europe single-handedly. "It is a job for all nations to do together," he said.

Supporting his plea for military training, the President said. Weakness on our part would stir fear among small or weak nations that we were giving up our world leadership. It would seem to them that we lacked the will to fulfill our pledge to aid free and independent nations to maintain their freedoms, or our commitments to aid in restoring war-torn economies.

"In such an atmosphere of uncertainty," he cautioned, "these nations might not be able to resist the encroachments of totalitarian pressures."

SENATORS GLOOMY OVER OUTLOOK ON LABOR BILL

By United Press
WASHINGTON — Administration supporters must pick up seven or eight votes to sustain a veto from among the 21 Democrats who supported the bill when it was passed. Whether the number is seven or eight depends on whether Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, a foe of the bill, returns in time from Geneva, Switzerland, where he is attending an international labor conference.

Mr. Truman is expected to announce his decision Thursday or Friday. He must act before midnight Friday or the bill becomes a law without his signature.

Although a veto has been freely predicted, administration spokesmen in Congress denied that the President had given them any hint of his intentions. However, most of them appeared to expect a veto.

Since there was no question that the House had the power to overturn a veto, the test must come in the Senate, if it comes in the Senate, the odds favored overriding a veto but buy a much closer vote than in the House. As the Senate is now aligned,

Mass Burial For Unidentified Dead On Sunday

By United Press
TEXAS CITY — Mayor Curtis Trahan announced today that mass burial for unidentified victims of the Texas City disaster would be held next Sunday in the memorial cemetery.

At present, 66 persons remain unidentified but identification may be made until shortly before burial services begin, the mayor said.

Petrified Forests Found Under Lake Washington

SEATTLE (UP) — Officials of the Coast and Geodetic Survey report three submarine petrified forests discovered on the bottom of Lake Washington here.

Forming a real menace to navigation, the trees, turned to stone by centuries of immersion, at one time jutted up from the bottom to within a few feet of the surface.

Department of Commerce surveyors got the job of "topping" the trees in a novel underwater logging operation. Power boats with drag lines snapped off the rocky snags 15 to 20 feet below the surface.

R. L. Perkins, manager of a local lumber company and who was taken quite ill last week and carried to his home, is steadily improving. Their daughter, Mrs. James O. Kirk, who has been in the Perkins home the past month, was joined over the week-end by her husband who also visited his relatives at Gorman before leaving Sunday for Dallas on business.

KING TRACTOR BARELY WINS FROM KILGORE

The King Tractor club defeated the Kilgore Club, by a very narrow margin, in the soft ball competition at Fireman's Field, last night. The team, heretofore known as Olden, is now known as the Kilgore team, since sponsorship of Olden has been taken over by the Kilgore Ice Cream Company, of Eastland. Trout of the Kilgore club hit two homers, and Bigby of the King Tractor team, had one home run to his credit for the evening. The Oil Belt League will engage Cisco vs. King Tractor, starting at 8:15 p. m. tonight, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Juniors will meet the Quarterback Club Juniors, immediately after the Cisco-King Tractor game. Don't miss this double-header.

TAGGED FISH STILL EVADE FISHERMEN

Possum Kingdom Lake, June 16—While the tagged species failed to bite over the past weekend, fishing in general was on the upgrade and camp operators predicted that the next two weeks would find conditions the best of the season.
J. M. Reeves of 110 South Calhoun, Fort Worth, snagged one of the best strings the past weekend, reporting in with 36 black bass, 32 crappie and four channel cat. Reeves' biggest bass tipped the beams at a little better than six pounds while the rest weighed from one and quarter pounds to four and three quarter pounds. He caught all of the bass on minnows and made his headquarters at the Buckhorn Camp.
W. B. Pitts of Dallas, fishing from D & D Camp pulled in a big bass that weighed 5 1-2 pounds and B. H. Rogers of Myrtle Springs caught four bass all of which weighed between four and five pounds.
Meanwhile another big prize has been added to the $50,000 awards in the mammoth rodeo. Douglas Aircraft Company of California donated a boat known as the Air Skiff-10 to be placed on one of the big bass. The boat weighs 80 pounds, is 10 feet long, four feet wide, 17 inches deep and seats five persons. It is valued at $295.
Leonard Brothers of Fort Worth added $2,000 additional prizes by awarding a beautiful bronze plaque, value $5, on each fish in the rodeo. These donations bring the prize list to near the $55,000 mark.
Nineteen of the prize fish, averaging $175 each, have been caught to date in the seven week rodeo. The rodeo will continue through Nov. 15. Plans to add the biggest prize to date in the rodeo will be completed at a meeting of directors of the Possum Kingdom Game and Fish Association next Monday night in Breckenridge.

PEANUT COMMITTEE MEETS WITH CCC ON 1947 CROP PLANS

With indications of a bumper 1947 peanut crop to be marketed through Commodity Credit Corporation, representatives of all segments of the peanut industry, appointed by their sectional associates, met in Washington, D. C., June 10, 11, and 13 to evolve a program that will be practical to the industry and prevent large un-salable surpluses at the end of the crop year.
These selected representatives formed themselves into the National Peanut Industry Committee for 1947, and elected Roy Parrish, of Moultrie, Ga., and past president of the National Peanut Council, chairman and Harold Smith of Washington, D. C., secretary. A diversion plan was recommended which would make only the finest peanuts available for salters, confectioners and peanut butter manufacturers at a more favorable competitive price. These recommendations would result in second and lower grades being diverted into the oil industry in a more orderly manner. This would spread the supply of peanut meal over the entire year.
After studying the proposed program from all angles, Commodity Credit Corporation agreed that a program might be promulgated in which they would buy No. 2 and lower grade peanuts from shellers at a level that will enable shellers to sell No. 1 peanuts at a lower price than otherwise possible, with exact price to be established established after parity price of July 15 is known.
C. C. C. emphasized that the price of No. 1 peanuts sold by shellers cannot be under control and the program would be offered in order to place shellers in a better position to price their peanuts on a more nearly competitive basis with other food items and at the same time offer the market a better shelled peanut.

Only 2 Votes Needed To Override President

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House today killed the $4,000,000,000 Republican income tax reduction bill by sustaining President Truman's veto of the measure.
Speaker Joseph W. Martin announced the result as 268 in favor of overriding the veto and 137 against.
He said this fell short of the two-thirds necessary to pass a bill over a veto.
However, Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck demanded a recapitulation of the vote.
The clerk immediately began calling the list showing how each member had voted on the original roll call. Members had an opportunity to correct their vote.
The result, if confirmed, would end all hope of any tax relief this year for the nation's 48,000,000 income taxpayers.
A two-thirds majority of both House and Senate is necessary to enact a bill over a veto.

NEW ATTEMPT TO END STRIKE BEING MADE

NEW YORK — Top labor trouble-shooters acting on government orders opened a new attempt today to end the two-day-old maritime sidown strike which has tied up more than 700 American-flag ships on three U. S. coasts.
Assistant Secretary of Labor John Gibson, who flew to New York from Washington to intervene in the unique CIO nationwide shipping sidown, announced he had arranged a joint meeting with ship owners and President John Curran of the CIO National Maritime Union.
Nathan E. Feinsinger, special representative of Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwelienbach, was in San Francisco after a trans-continental air trip to open negotiations for a final settlement of the west coast phase of the strike.

Doctor Urges Warfare On Rheumatic Fever

CLEVELAND (UP)—The field of social medicine—doctors, public health nurses, medical social workers, parents and teachers—should share in control of rheumatic fever, Dr. Alexander T. Martin of New York University School of Medicine, said in an address here.

nearly 1,000,000 victims in this country, most of whom contracted the disease in childhood, Dr. Martin said.

An estimated 40,000 persons die each year from the ailment. The average age at death is 30 years, and of the million suffering from the disease, more than 200,000 are school children between five and 19 years of age, according to the doctor.

"More intensive research is needed in rheumatic fever," Dr. Martin said. "Community programs should be set up, registries of victims should be started and school health programs established to screen out suspected cases."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—The House Un-American Affairs Committee investigation of Communist activities in Hollywood, booked for world premiere in Washington June 16, can't fail to reveal that there were some wartime fellow travelers and card holders in the movie capital.

Long before Pearl Harbor the studio heads sent a delegation to Washington to ask President Roosevelt that a clearing house be set up in government through which the film industry could work in support of the national defense effort. They got passed on to Lowell Mellett, who was then co-ordinator of information. He became film co-ordinator. All government agencies had to clear their Hollywood ideas through Mellett—whether it was a film short to urge growing more food, buying more bonds, or collecting old newspapers.

Early in 1943, Mellett set up a branch office in Hollywood under Nelson Poynter, St. Petersburg, Fla., publisher. In typical Hollywood exaggeration style, Poynter's office became known as "The Little White House." Actually it was nothing of the sort. About all it ever amounted to was a place for an exchange of ideas and information between Washington and Hollywood.

Poynter had two principal orders from Mellett. One was that the government would do nothing to get anybody in the movies deferred from the draft. The first month he was in Hollywood, Poynter had the Clark Gable case tossed in his lap. Studio heads put on the heat to have Gable kept out of the service.

The Little White House refused to lift a finger. Gable enlisted, which is what he wanted to do.

Poynter's second order was that there was to be no government dictation to the film industry and no censorship beyond the usual military security regulations and the morals censorship of the Hays office. The government would not interfere with the movies' liberties in any way. They were to enjoy all the constitutional freedom of the press guaranteed. In short, studio heads were to be their own judges and bosses.

This particular policy of Mellett's office apparently made some of the more volatile of the Hollywood screen writers boil over. When the Little White House had been opened in Hollywood, these writers had assumed that the government was going to tell the producers just what they could or could not make. Mellett wasn't having any of this dictatorship, even for all-out war.

The result was some of the most bitter wartime wrangling. The feud between the movie moguls and the Hollywood intellectuals is an old one. It isn't just the battle of the Screen Writers' Guild and their employers. It goes back to the early days of the New Deal, when most all the big studio heads were Republicans and most of the writers and actors became crusaders for Roosevelt.

In wartime this feud took a new slant. It split Hollywood in two factions. There weren't any Republicans and Democrats any more. In each others' eyes they became Fascists and Communists. The "Fascist" producers wanted to go on making musicals and entertainment. The "Communist" writers wanted only to wage propaganda warfare on the screen.

In the end they did both. And if Hollywood's production for the war were run through continuously from beginning to end, it would show that no segment of the population had a better patriotic record. The House Un-American Affairs Committee can no doubt find in it a lot of evidence of Communist influence. For instance, it will find one short called "The Century of the Common Man." It was a dramatization of Henry Wallace's speech of that title. Re-run today it will probably be considered Communist, since Henry's in the dog house.

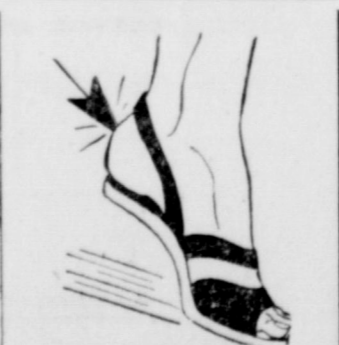

PLAN NAVAL WAR TO END SMUGGLING IN CHINA WATERS

By Victor Kendrick United Press Staff Correspondent HONGKONG (UP)—The Chinese Maritime Customs is preparing a minor naval war against smugglers whose illicit trade has increased substantially in recent months.

The customs service has on order from Sweden some high-speed Oerlikon 20 mm. guns, which will be mounted on launches to combat the increasingly audacious smugglers who infest the South China coast. The smugglers, on the other hand, have acquired at least six American PT boats from Manila. The latter craft, which can outrun anything in South China waters, reportedly will be used to protect the smuggler's convoys and draw off government launches in event of attack. They will be armored.

The amount of smuggling—or to be more exact, "unrecorded shipments" going on its variously estimated at anywhere between 25 and 50 per cent of Hongkong's legitimate trade, which in the first three months of 1947 amounted to approximately $127,000,000.

The crown colony is, however, by no means the only port involved. The smugglers trade between Hongkong, Canton, Macao, Amoy and Swatow, ranging as far inland as Hankow.

The completion of the Cities-Service Oil Company's Hitson well No. 2, as a producer, is of great importance to all of Eastland county, and is a vital matter so far as the city of Eastland is concerned. . . . Individuals are seeking a place to live in this area; companies are considering a location for business houses and offices. . . . other towns in the oil-belt region are making attractive offers to these individuals and companies, to get them to locate in their towns. . . . Now is the time for Eastland to put forth their every effort to attract these prospective citizens and business firms to our city. . . . Some firms report that in the past, their attempts to locate in Eastland were blocked by small pressure groups who kept them out of Eastland, due to fear of competition. . . . A town can never make progress when such a condition exists. . . . Now is the time to back-up our "ballyhoo" of making Eastland grow. . . . Actions speak louder than words. . . . And, it is ACTION that we need, if we really have the interest of Eastland at heart. . . . Let's go, EVERYBODY. . . .
