WILDE RETIRES; STAFFORD NEW KELLOGG DISTRICT MANAGER

ADOLPH H. WILDE L. P. STAFFORD

Adolph H. Wilde, for seventeen years Texas District Manager for the Kellogg Company, cereal manufacturers of Battle Creek, Michigan, has announced his retirement, effective August 31st. Wilde, who said he was retiring for reasons of ill health, plans to devote his time to the further development of his 180-acre farm near Grapevine, Texas. Wilde will be succeeded by Lou Stafford, formerly District Manager for Kellogg of the Kansas City territory. Stafford accepted employment with the Kellogg Company in 1925 from a position he had held for several years as Coach of all sports and a Professor of Mathematics at the grade and high schools of Vergennes, Illinois. From 1925 to 1930, he contacted jobbers and retail outlets handling Kellogg products. Early in 1930 and to 1933, he worked directly under the Battle Creek home office of the Kellogg Company, serving as Field Representative and covering the entire United States on special sales work. It was during this period that he served in the Dallas territory on two different occasions under Wilde. In 1933, Stafford was promoted to the position of District Manager of the Richmond, Virginia territory, which position he held until 1938. Then came another promotion to the position of District Manager of the Kansas City territory, from which post he was transferred to the Dallas district territory, which includes the bulk of Texas and a small part of New Mexico.

"I Have A Gentleman In The Pew, Doctor"

BY FATHER JIM

There's a mighty sweet old lady over in Cisco. Her name is Forman. She's Mrs. Charles Roberts' mother. Mrs. Forman is a Methodist with a sense of humor and a liberal spirit typical of most of our Methodist brethren. Mrs. Forman was doing a bit of philosophizing with us the other day on the subject of "in-laws. "Well" she remarked thoughtfully. "I reckon my in-laws need a little fixin' over but then maybe I need a little fixin' over too." I wonder how many of us have considered such a possibility, for ourselves? Well, I got my personal callin' cards this week, and the printer must of misunderstood me when I ordered two hundred of 'em. He sent me two thousand. So I'll be handin' 'em out like a politician before election the next few weeks. They're right nice cards, though—printed on both sides. On one side they've got my name and my job. On the other side they say "Sorry to have missed you. I'm the new Episcopal Priest here in Eastland, and just wanted to drop in and say "hello" . . . please permit me to be your friend, whether you are interested in our Church or not. I am here to serve you at all times." The cards are intended to be used for calling on folks at their homes or offices. With two thousand of the dern things, there'll have to be a powerful lot of folks away from home in order to use 'em up.

And speakin' of calling-cards with writing on both sides, Frank Jones relayed a good one to me the other day. He says he's never used it in his column, and I'm takin' a chance on his not having lifted it from Jack Brady. The yarn concerns the preacher who went into the printing office with some very definite instructions about some cards he wanted printed. His instructions were crisp and to-the-point. He was in a hurry. "I want five hundred cards printed," he barked. "Five hundred cards with nothing on them except the words 'rest in peace' on both sides!" Two weeks later the preacher came by to get his cards. They were carefully printed with the words, "Rest In Peace On Both Sides!"

Have you heard about "Father-Jim-Night in Ranger"? It was the kid's idea, and seems like a good one. The School Board in Ranger has been kind enough to allow us the use of the Ranger Teen-Scout-teen every Monday night. We'll have supervised recreation for the Teen Ager. There will be square dancing, (with a good band) regular dancing, (with the fifteen bit tunes of the week on recordings, sent to us by Wally Blanton, program director of KFJZ, Fort Worth) - games and contests, movies and a quiz show with some super-super prizes and awards donated by Eastland County merchants. It's a county-community project for all teenage youngsters—not just Episcopalians. There'll be no attempt made to "sell religion." Just good clean entertainment and recreation. The first "Father-Jim Night in Ranger" will be this coming Monday July 28. The committee, composed of Taylor Spence, Jr., Carolyn Ducker and Carolyn Crofts is working night and day to get things ready for the big evening. I'm workin' on my quiz show. The band is rehearsin'. The prizes are waitin'. We should have a record turn-out. Cisco and Eastland will be well represented. Doors are open at eight P.M. and admission is, of course, free to teen-age youngsters. This is one of the "community-interest activities" I wanted to offer the people of the County. You have my promise that I shall always cherish the confidence you have shown in me by accepting this service. I shall work unceasingly to be worthy of that confidence.

the rambler by Jack E. Brady

The construction of buildings for two important institutions for Eastland, Eastland County, and the surrounding territory, are under construction . . .

The Sig Faircloth, "Best In The West" Livestock Auction Sales building is making progress. The completion and opening of the Sig Faircloth Live Stock Sales, is eagerly looked forward to by all of Eastland County. No details has been overlooked in the planning; everything will be as modern as it is possible to make them . . . Mr. Sig Faircloth is giving Eastland something that they can really be proud of.

The Negro Hospital construction is going forward each day. If the plans for its institution are carried out as "the rambler" is advised, this new institution for Eastland, is to be one of the most outstanding of its kind, in this section of the United States.

"the rambler" has been asked to publish the names of the men and women of OLDEN, who served in the Armed Forces . . . We are very happy to publish the names of Olden's youthful citizens who heeded the call of their Nation: They are as follows: Adra Lee Fox, Morris Griffen, Max Bockman, Howard Adams, Helen Adams, Dick Wynn, Vonelle Eakin, Carly Eakin, Junior Hamilton, Jack Patterson, Vernon Patterson, N. Patterson, John C. Hyatt, Red McFadden, Arthur Moore, Marlin McMinn, Glen Adams, Jack Elliott, James Hendrick, Joe Norton, Wilbur Norton, Johnny Jarrett, Millard Bryant, Earl Sims, Jimmy Langston, Jim Everett, Everett Everett, Eugene Watson, J. W. Smethers, Elvis Smethers, Lee Murry, Will Murry, Hack Hunt, Doyle Hunt, Buddy Hunt, and Mat Yangston.

The following are the names of the ex-GI's who are enrolled in the EASTLAND Automobile Mechanics Class of the Eastland County Vocational Training School; Wilsey J. Broussard, Weldon Ensor, L. L. Fox, Harvey L. Griffin, Cecil L. Copeland, Jack W. Jernigan, Orville Lenhardt, Lee Murry, Paul E. Rowch, Johnson N. Smith, Geo. S. Scruggs, Jasper M. Woods, Claud C. Levy, Maurice C. Vaughn, H. R. Rowch—The Eastland County Vocational Training Schools, and the subsistence for these ex-Servicemen, from the United States Government, constitute one of the largest pay-rolls in all of Eastland County.

A Flying Cavalcade of a possible seventy-five to one hundred airplanes, will visit the Eastland Air Port on Sunday, August 3rd, according to information from George Howell, of the Eastland Flying School. The group will be given a welcome breakfast and a swimming party at the City Park, as guests of the City of Eastland, the Chamber of Commerce and the Eastland Flying School. George Haddaway, owner and editor of the Southern Flight magazine, and several prominent airport operators from a three hundred mile area, will be among the flying party. The planes are expected to start arriving between eight and eight thirty, Sunday morning, August 3rd.

Mr. Howell stated that he wished to advise the citizens of Eastland that the planes of the Eastland Flying School are painted red and black, and that, as a whole, his students are very considerate of their attitude while flying over the city . . . Mr. Howell says the "buzzing" last Sunday was done by planes other than those connected with the Flying School . . . the Flying School operator invites Eastland citizens to report any of his planes that fly too low over the city—Mr. Howell's phone number is 9521.

"the rambler" has been trying to get moved . . . It is hoped that the next two or three days will have this matter taken care of, and the usual schedule of "the rambler" can be followed. . .

Heartsease by Elsie Glenn

A Tree Weeps In The Rain The majesty of nature fills the universe.

One has only to look to realize how we are all, each stone, each tree, each human being, a part of the great, sweeping plan which only the creator can understand.

If we were not so human, we struggling creatures, we could stop our thrashing around, flying into emotional upheavels, rest during our sleepless nights instead of tossing . . . if we only had insight enough and faith enough to do what nature does;

Just wait. Just wait for the peaceful time of the soul.

It always comes, but we cannot always wait for it.

We are but human, after all. Have you ever seen green trees bent in the rain, weeping their hearts out?

It's good for trees to bend and weep in the rain . . . rain that is sometimes gentle and healing . . . rain that . . . sometimes whips and slashes. Trees take time out to weep in the rain because they slowly stand upright again and lift their branches to the sun . . . cleansed . . . made whole again.

And it is so with us . . . whether we will or not. The rains of life slash us, tear us, and sometimes the rains fall gently.

At times when human grief, horror, despair, futility, grip and hold us in iron teeth, if only we could remember . . . to wait!

Yet being human, how can we . . . just wait?

We can't; not always, but day by day, we can store our hearts and minds with God's wonders, with His goodness, learn to take our troubles with whatever dignity we can as befitting human beings and when the storms come and the winds lash and the rains beat down upon our souls, those stored up times will help bridge the gap and later . . . later, slowly . . . healing will come. We will be better able to rise, as the green trees, from our weeping, to meet the sun.

It always comes . . . the peaceful time . . . it will catch up with each breaking heart.

As best you can . . . wait, although you weep with the rain.

Believe in God and wait . . . for the peaceful time.

It will come again, dear heart.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE. "Truth" is the subject of the Lesson - Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 27 . . .

The Golden Text is: "O Lord, thou art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; . . . thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth" (Isaiah 25:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deuteronomy 32:4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals try to believe without understanding Truth; yet God is Truth" (page 312).

New Mexico students at the University of New Mexico pay only $40 per semester in tuition fees, compared to $140 charged out of state students.

Why Gerald Gets Green-Eyed Looks

Envy of all the boys in his neighborhood is five-year-old Gerald Weber, of Cleveland, Ohio. For his recent fifth birthday, his dad, Frank Weber, built him a motored jeep that will go six miles an hour, backward or forward, has an electric horn and tail light that goes on when Gerald pushes the brake. A true five-foot scale model, the jeep is powered with an old Model-T generator, rewired as a motor and goes 60 miles on one charging of its two storage batteries. Above, Gerald drops a nickel in a parking meter while his dad visits auto license bureau.
