WHAT IS A JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE?

A Junior Chamber of Commerce says Jim Llywelyn in the "Key", is a supplementary educational organization wherein the young men of any community may join together in a friendly spirit to inculcate civic consciousness in its membership by means of active participation in constructive projects which will improve the community, state and nation.

It is not a social club, a lodge or fraternity. While fellowship and fraternism is encouraged among members, yet this is merely a means to an end—to get effective action by young men in worthy projects. It is an organization with a personality all its own.

Moreover, it is not a chamber of commerce. While Junior Chambers of Commerce are interested generally in business affairs, their primary concern is not business protection, promotion and stimulation. They are interested in many other things of a civic nature, educational, philosophical or cultural nature. A Junior Chamber of Commerce is concerned fundamentally with civic service.

WASTING TIME AND AMUNITION

The several gunshots heard by Eastland residents Sunday evening, we are informed, were shots Eastland Policeman Bill Harris fired at a man in an automobile who failed to stop when commanded to do so by the officer. It is understood that the man in the car gave as his excuse, when he was finally apprehended, that he ran because he thought the policeman was his wife and he feared she would kill him.

Poor excuse and poorer marksmanship—if the officer was really trying to hit his mark.

It seems to be the practice of some out of towners to drive north through here, loaded up on something more or less intoxicating, and return via Eastland and trying to make a race track out of the local streets, enroute home.

This is a dangerous practice to them; to the people on the streets and a practice that residents of Eastland are growing really tired of, if comments heard on the streets mean anything.

Work is going steadily forward on the new auction barn and other things to be used in connection with the auction sales barns just east of town on Highway 80. This enterprise will not only be an asset to Eastland and this immediate community, but will be an asset to the various towns and communities in this trade area.

Blunk To Preach At 11:00 Sunday First Christian

Rev. J. B. Blunk, former pastor of the First Christian church in Eastland, and who entered the United States' Army to serve 18 months as a chaplain, has returned from service in the South Pacific and will be in Eastland and occupy the pulpit of the First Christian Church at the 11:00 o'clock service, Sunday.

Rev. Blunk landed a few days ago in San Francisco. His wife, who was in Fort Worth, motored to California to meet him. They passed through Eastland a few days ago enroute to Fort Worth and Mr. Blunk promised to come back Sunday.

Weems S. Dykes, pastor of the Eastland First Christian church, is away attending a church meeting in Buffalo, New York.

Final Resting Place For Mother Truman

Workmen Leonard Kossman, left, and Harold Arrington prepare the grave in Forest Hill cemetery, Kansas City, for the body of Mrs. Martha E. Truman, late mother of the President. Mother Truman will be laid to rest beside the body of her husband, John Anderson Truman. (NEA Telephoto).

Campaign For Membership To Jaycees Begins

Board of directors of the newly organized Eastland Junior Chamber of Commerce met last night in the C of C office to discuss plans for membership drive, and to elect a chairman for the membership committee. Bill Adams was appointed chairman of the committee. The drive was scheduled to get underway today, with every member of the group participating.

The Jaycees now have a membership of 45 young men, between the ages of 21 and 35. The goal of this drive is to have at least one representative from every business establishment in the city of Eastland. Anyone between the ages of 21 and 35, is urged to join the group. Anyone who is over the age limit of 35 is cordially invited to join the organization as associate members. President G. A. Fox has urged that every one eligible to join be contacted, and also stated that if anyone should fail to be contacted, he should see him or Buford Jordan at the Connelley Hotel. Any member of the Jaycees now are authorized to sign up a new member.

Plans were discussed for a watermelon slicing the night of the presentation of the charter, which at present is to be held at the City Park. Date will be set later for the presentation of the charter.

Bob King was appointed by the directors to be state director, and is to attend all state and district meetings and conventions. Next regular meeting will be Friday night August 8 at 8:00.

Lancaster And King Motor To Play Here Sat.

Saturday at 2:30 at Fireman's Field in Eastland King Motor Company and a team from Lancaster near Dallas will play a game of baseball. This should be a good game and a good crowd is expected.

The game will be called promptly at 2:30.

PAYS $119 FINE

A DeLeon man, arrested by Sheriff Williams on a charge of disturbing the peace Sunday at Gorman, entered a plea of guilty in Justice of the Peace Court at Gorman and paid a fine totaling $119.00.

The largest Indian reservation in New York State is located near Gowanda, Cattaraugus County.

INVESTIGATORS HEAR HENRY J. KAISER

By United Press

WASHINGTON — West Coast Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser told Senate investigators today that an appeal to the late President Roosevelt resulted in an about-face by the Navy in its opposition to Kaiser's plans for building jeep aircraft carriers.

A few moments before the hulking Paul Bunyan of West Coast industry, red-faced and angry, had accused his questioners of denying him the right to protect himself against a "smear campaign."

He appeared before a Senate War investigating subcommittee to tell his side of the story of an $18,000,000 air mammoth which still is earthbound after five years of building.

But in the stormy wrangling with the committee—which refused to listen to a prepared statement until he had answered questions—Kaiser ranged from flying boats to aluminum plants to anti submarine aircraft carriers and back to flying boats.

The senators are investigating war contracts granted to Kaiser and his former associate, millionaire plane-maker Howard Hughes for experimental aircraft.

Kaiser told the senators that top-ranking naval officers gave him a flat "no" on his ideas for the baby carriers until Mr. Roosevelt changed their minds.

News Notes From Area Towns And Communities

Returns from all but one small box, representing about 25 votes, showed Monday that the proposed $300,000 bridge and road bond issue from precincts 1, 3 and 4 in Erath county was defeated Saturday for the second time in two months. The vote was 1,170 against and 763 for the proposal with a two-thirds majority required.

The annual membership banquet of the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce will be held there at 8:00 p.m. August 5 in the John Tarleton College dining hall. Ben W. Wooten, vice-president of the Republic National Bank of Dallas, will be the principal speaker. E. J. Howell, John Tarleton College dean and chamber president, will be toastmaster.

The annual reunion and homecoming of former students of the Huckabay Academy in Erath County has been set for Saturday and Sunday, August 9 and 10. Old settlers have also been invited to attend. Last year the former students had their first reunion since the beginning of the war.

Voice of America Program Curbed

By United Press

WASHINGTON —The state department today curtailed its voice of America foreign broadcast program 40 per cent to conform with congressional budget cuts.

Congress voted $6,900,000 for the voice of America, on which $8,400,000 was spent last year. Congress, meanwhile, got underway a recess investigation of the department's foreign information projects to determine its usefulness.

Two committees concerned with the program asked all senators and representatives traveling abroad this summer to bring back reports on the effectiveness of the broadcasts.

The earliest volunteer fire department in this country was organized in New York by Peter Stuyvesant in 1659. Leather buckets and a supply of hooks and ladders were purchased.

Machines now being built produce enough popcorn in one day to fill a house. The machines are 15 feet long.

Major Political Crisis Stirs Anxiety In Britain

TRUMAN ON WAY BACK TO WASHINGTON

GRANDVIEW, Mo. —President Truman, looking somewhat more rested and able to manage a slight smile, flew back to Washington today to plunge into the mass of work piled on his desk following the end of the congressional session.

After another night of seclusion spent at his 'summer white house' in Independence, the Chief executive drove to the Grandview cottage, from which he yesterday buried his 94-year-old mother, for a 30-minute visit with Miss Mary Jane Truman, his sister.

As he entered his plane at the Grandview Airport, Mr. Truman doffed his double-breasted gray suit coat and sat down with some papers before him, apparently going right to work.

His plane took off for Washington at 9:50 a. m. CST. The flight was expected to require between four and five hours.

The Mexican ambassador, Espinosa De Los Monteros, and Eugene Anzo Rana, secretary to the Mexican Embassy in Washington, accompanied Mr. Truman. They flew here yesterday to convey to him the condolences of Mexican President Miguel Aleman in the death of Mrs. Martha Ellen Truman.

As Mr. Truman shook hands with a few old friends and relatives at the airport, he appeared somewhat refreshed after the strain of the funeral. He managed a shadow of his well-known smile at times.

His wife, Mrs. Bess Truman, and his daughter, Margaret, accompanied him to the airport. They will remain in Independence. Miss Mary Jane Truman and his brother, Vivian, also accompanied him to his plane.

Execution Begins Grim Wait For British Hostages

JERUSALEM — British authorities hanged three members of the Jewish underground today, then began a grim wait in the expectation that the underground might kill two British hostages and dump their corpses in the public square within a few hours.

The Irgun Zvai Leumi underground said in Jerusalem that the hostages, two British army sergeants, were "being executed." A little later, a telephone message from a purported Irgun representative said that the sergeants would be returned today—probably dead.

Indonesian Air Force Bombs Two Java Towns

BATAVIA — The Indonesian "air force," in its first combat operation, bombed two Dutch-held towns in Java today, the Indonesian radio announced.

The targets were Semarang on the north coast and Salatiga in eastern Java. The raids presumably were carried out by one or two planes.

Today's Dutch communique reported two oil well fires in the Socony-Vacuum Fields at Pendopo, 100 miles inland from Palembang on Sumatra.

Wins Slight Victory On Balkan Case

By United Press

LAKE SUCCESS—The United States won a preliminary victory in the United Nations Balkan's debate today when it turned back French and Australian attempts to bar the big powers from the proposed Balkans peace-keeping commission.

France and Australia agreed not to press their proposals after American Delegate Herschel V. Johnson said the United States "feels very strongly" that all 11 nations of the UN Security Council should sit on the commission which the western powers hope to install for at least two years in the troubled Balkans.

The skirmish over composition of the border patrol rushed the council nearer the showdown in which Russia must choose between vetoing the American proposals or allowing them to be approved over the objections of the three Soviet-supported governments of the Balkans.

Don Cox And His Roping Horse To Be In Eastland

Don Cox of Fluvanna and his pet roping horse, Tommyhawk, will be the guest of the Eastland Roping club tonight. With him will be his girl friend, Miss Joyce Miller, also of Fluvanna, and her roping horse.

After the Eastland Roping club program, on which Cox and Miss Miller will perform, they will be guests of Cox's uncle, Curley Maynard and Mrs. Maynard of Eastland.

Cox and Miss Miller, with their horses, are enroute to Ranger for the rodeo opening there this week.

Hughes Investigation Begins

A senate Defense Investigating subcommittee opened hearings in Washington to determine whether Uncle Sam was left holding the bag in a multi-million dollar deal with plane maker Howard Hughes. For leadoff testimony, Merrill C. Meigs, right, former War Production Board official, was called to give details on how Hughes and his onetime partner, Henry Kaiser, got a 1942 contract for $18,000,000 flying boat which has yet to fly. Meigs is talking with committee chairman Homer Ferguson of Michigan. (NEA Telephoto).

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—The government is worrying about how much you should be allowed to go into debt now. It is worried about how much you should owe the man who comes around every month to collect that long-past-due installment, or else take away the new car, the love seat or the washing or the talking machine.

During the war the government wouldn't let you buy any merchandise on time unless you were considered a good enough credit risk to run a 30-day charge account. Then on Dec. 1 the installment buying curbs were lifted on all except 12 lines of goods still in short supply. They were autos, radios, furniture, refrigerators, stoves, washing machines, ironers, dishwashers, air conditioners, phonographs, sewing machines and vacuum cleaners.

On these items you have to pay at least one-third down and sign away your life to complete payment known as Federal Reserve Board Regulation W. It's due to expire July 31, and that's what all the bother is about.

Representatives of practically every trade association dealing in autos, furniture and household appliances have been in Washington telling Congress it ought to take off all the controls and let buying on time go its own sweet way.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN might extend the Regulation W controls by executive order, but he says he won't unless Congress gives him new authority.

Chairman Marriner S. Eecler of the Federal Reserve Board originally asked for permanent authority to put these controls on or take them off whenever the situation warranted. When the House of Representatives refused to grant that power and voted to let the controls expire at the end of the month, Eecler changed his tune and asked the Senate to extend controls for a year only. The Senate Committee on Banking and Currency is trying to make up its mind on this point now.

Sen. C. Douglass Buck of Delaware, acting chairman of the committee, favors changing the terms to require only 20 per cent down payment and allowing up to two years in which to pay off the balance. Other senators favor keeping the time-payment controls tight until the supply of these scarce items catches up with demand. Their point is that to take off the controls now would merely increase the demand and so shoot up the prices still further.

Still other senators feel that all restrictions should come off. Their argument is that restrictions on installment buying work a hardship on poor people. It would do your heart good to know how they worry about the poor.

THE way it works out these cash customers grab off all the new cars or vacuum cleaners as fast as they come on the market. But families of limited means are out of luck unless they can get money from the loan sharks.

Auto, furniture and household appliance dealers who want to sell direct to installment buyers send their representatives to Washington as friends of the poor man. They don't want to see him discriminated against by this wicked Regulation W. What isn't mentioned is that by selling goods on time, carrying charges and interest on unpaid balance can be added to the price to yield a higher profit.

From the Federal Reserve Board point of view the danger of taking off controls is that too much buying on time at high prices may contribute to a depression.

What's what happened in 1929. Business was booming and everybody owed money for things bought on credit. When the crash came, people didn't have enough money to pay balances. Federal Reserve Board people say they think that shouldn't be allowed to happen again.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The Cardinals and Dodgers still have their eyes fastened on one another. Each considers the other the club to beat.

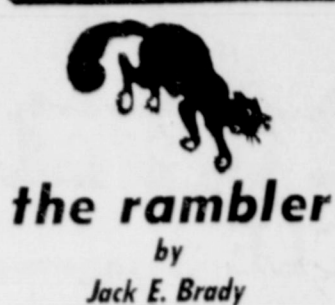

Eddie Dyer respects the Braves' balance and depth and the Giants' power, but, pinned down, the manager of the Red Birds says that he had to name the toughest assignment it would be the Brooklyn club. The Cubs have lost prestige all the way along the line. "And isn't it about time," asks Dyer, "that the Brooklyn players were given some credit, instead of picturing the manager doing it with mirrors?"

"If Leo Durocher used sleight of hand last year, just what type of legerdemain is Burt Shotton employing this trip?"

"Isn't it just barely possible that the Brooks are a pretty fair sort of club after all?"

LAST fall Durocher was given nation-wide credit for taking us to a playoff with a young catcher like Bruce Edwards and a first-year center fielder named Carl Furillo.

As a matter of fact, Edwards at the time was the top catcher in the league. Such an authority as Bill Klem calls Edwards the best young catcher he has seen in the 45 years or so that he has been in the league. Furillo might not have been a name player in 1946, but he was an accomplished center fielder and dangerous at bat. Look at him now. A smashing fifth-place hitter who ascended to the league's batting leadership.

by Jack E. Brady

"the rambler" received some very interesting comment, in yesterday's mail. . . one letter reads as follows: (Quote) "Mr. Jack Brady, Dear Sir: I always read every line you write in the Eastland Telegram. I was especially interested in your comments on the programme to be put on at Morton Valley tonight, July 25, by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. A few hours after reading your article, I picked up an old Fort Worth Press and was about to put it in the waste basket when the article I am enclosing arrested my attention. This programme tonight is ostensibly to advertise the Ranger Rodeo. But there's a lot more to it than meets the eye. All the old timers know that the Morton Valley High School, at least, is apt to be consolidated with some larger school most any year. Ranger has her eye on getting the school just as she expects to get the Olden school when the time is ripe. And in the meantime Ranger has her eye on Morton Valley's fine football material. Ranger's athletic leaders are well acquainted with these boys, they are very pleasant and friendly with them, never miss an opportunity to visit with them and encourage them to transfer to Ranger in case they transfer anywhere. I'm not blaming Ranger, but am disgusted with Eastland. It's the same way with Olden. Olden people would like to be in on this new rural telephone going out of Eastland, but they are told they are not in Eastland's territory and they can do nothing for them. Now why is that. It's because Ranger has to struggle and work and fight to keep their town growing, while Eastland rests on her oars.

And another thing, there is politics in these friendly weekly visits to the rural communities that Ranger people make each week. Ranger takes her politics like a baby with the colic. If a Ranger man comes out for office, all Ranger stands behind him. They organize, they work, they fight for their candidate. Does Eastland? Not always.

For about thirty-five or more years, the precinct commissioner has been a Ranger man. They think he should be, that Ranger is entitled to that. Even this early I am sure that they have already decided on a man for County Commissioner next year, and perhaps other candidates and this early in the game, are using their influence to get votes for their candidates next year. I think you would find it not only interesting, but profitable to brush up on Eastland County politics, and especially Precinct One Politics. In '46 the commissioners race boiled down to a fight between Eastland and Ranger and it will be the same next year, only more so. *

The more you know about past politics, the less apt you are to print something that might accidentally hurt your paper, especially since you are a new-comer here.

Eastland and Ranger have been bitter rivals since the Court House was moved from Merriam to Eastland, about 72 years ago. During that time there have been several elections in Eastland County, Cisco, Ranger and Eastland vying with each other for the County seat. Because Ranger and Eastland are both in precinct one, makes their rivalry much greater than that between Cisco and Eastland.

It burns me up to see Eastland sit calmly by and let Ranger come into her territory and get their business, the schools and the votes Eastland should have.

Carbon got Flatwood, Cisco comes to Eastland's city limits, Ranger will get Olden, and Cisco and Ranger both have their eye on Morton Valley school; Cisco already has Reagan (a wealthy independent district) by transfer. I see no reason why Eastland can have 10,000 population by 1950, if Eastland wants to have. You are doing your part, keep up the good work. I know you don't like anonymous letters but that's what this will have to be. "Just a well wisher" for Eastland, for precinct One, and all of Eastland County. (end quote).

Dear Sir: I notice in "The Telegram" you say or made to say that the Cisco Cyclone occurred April 28, 1898. Inquire of the typical old settlers and see if 1892 is the correct date. Watch your step—nearly everyone enjoyed your write-up of Gorman. Yours Truly, E. W. Kimble, M. D. (end quote). . . Doctor Kimble, we certainly appreciate your interest. . . The data on the Cisco cyclone, as written in my story of "OLDEN," came from another of the "old-timers." "the rambler" well appreciate the fact that many things have moulded an impression within a human brain, over a period of a full life-time, and it is remarkable that human memory is able to recall incidents and give dates even somewhere near the year of happening. . . "the rambler" has referred to the referred to the "History of Eastland County, Texas," by Mrs. George Langston, published in 1904, and it reads as follows, regarding the Cisco cyclone. . . (quote) On April 28, 1893, Cisco was swept by a cyclone that left but few houses wholly intact." (end quote).

Falsies Sweep Country But It's Nothing New

NEW YORK (LP)—"Falsies" are highly popular with the fair sex these days, but it is not precisely a new trend.

Figures released by the Corset and Brassiere Association of America show that 5,000,000 pairs of bust pads, as they are known to the trade, were sold in this country last year.

That would appear to be mass deceit on a grand scale. However the association said, there is nothing new about them. Even as far back as 1865 fashion-wise belles were not above giving themselves a build up.

A squib from Mme. Demorest's "Mirror of Fashion," well-known fashion monthly of the day, said, "Mme. Demorest's Spiral Spring Bosom Pad—their peculiar elasticity, comfortable adaption, great durability, lightness and perfect construction, do not fail to secure the entire approbation of those who require some artificial expansion to give rotundity to the form"

Early Morning

Last night, a friend of mine suddenly yawned like a sleepy cat and grinned at me. She announced: "I found out this morning how the sun really looks!" My friend and her husband have a country home where they stay part of the time, but she loves the night. Usually she is asleep when the sun comes up early in the morning, for no apparent reason, she waked very early and had a yen to wander out in the fields. She did just that, and as I watched her face as she talked, I saw that something about her experience had changed her; that under her light banter of conversation, she had undergone a change. There was something different about her voice, too.

"I've been tired lately and . . . oh, I don't know . . . nothing made any particular difference. I got into some old clothes this morning and found myself wandering around in the field near the house. A few stars were left in the sky and . . . did you ever smell vetch in the field in the early morning? It's pretty heady stuff. I heard birds singing and saw the animals getting up to meet the day. It was so peaceful and still and far away from everything. Somehow, I was awfully hungry when I got back to the house. I never felt better in my life. I took a cold bath and . . . gosh . . . I kissed my husband when I saw him sitting at the breakfast table and I think I frightened him!"

She was laughing, my friend, but it was to hide her "shining moment" because she didn't quite understand it herself.

I waked very early this morning myself. I wasn't in the country, but I looked at the early morning sun. I, too, heard birds out in the trees, saying "good morning" to each other. I watched my little dog joyfully greet the cool air and I felt the early morning through every fiber in me; my body relaxed, my mind free from care. I recalled my friend's "shining moment" and I knew what she meant. I took a cold bath, and never did I enjoy hot, black coffee so much!

I don't recommend getting up early in the morning every morning because I am far too lazy, but if you are tired and disheartened and perhaps a little sad, try it some morning; get up and meet the day. I wager you, too, will experience a "shining moment" you will not quite know how to explain to your husband or your friends!

LOCAL SPORTS

By Martin Cleveland

The Baseball diamond at Fireman's Field was the center of activity in the sports field as King Motor won over Blevins Motor for a 4 to 1 victory.

In the upper 1st, we find Collins hitting the first ball of the game. He hit a high foul ball which was caught by Rains. Brashier placed a ball in L.F. for 1st, and Blair put one past 3rd base, getting first, and putting Brashier on 2nd. Hicks knocked the ball to 3rd baseman who Brashier out on 2nd. Hicks knocked the ball to 3rd and Blair out on 2nd. This double out made 3 away.

In the lower 1st, Blevins lead off man, catcher Rains, was put out on 1st. This brought Howell as batter, who put a high ball over 1st. Collins ran to first to catch the ball for a 2nd out. For the 3rd out, Wallace was fanned by pitcher W. Maynard. It was interesting to note that the Maynard brothers pitched against each other Monday night with W. Maynard for King Motor and M. Maynard for Blevins.

In the upper part of the 2nd, Sparks placed one to 2nd baseman who threw it to 1st for an out.

Crossley up to bat to 3rd and reach 1st. Matthews bunted and reached 1st putting Crossley on 2nd. Chamberlain batted to 3rd baseman to reach first and Crossley was put out on 3rd, and Chamberlain was out on 2nd. This makes away with another out.

In the lower 2nd, it seems that King Motor gave Blevins Motor a quick 3 away. Collins and M. Maynard were up and fanned out by pitcher Maynard. 1st baseman Friday placed a high ball over to S. S. Brashier for a 3rd out.

In the lower 3rd, King Motor "cut loose", bringing in the 1st runs of the game. When Collins was walked, Brashier placed one over to L.F. for a homer bringing in Collins. Blair put a ball past S. S. and slid for 2nd. Hicks placed one to S. S. who put Blair out when he was trying to steal 3rd. Hicks stole 2nd, later 3rd, and came in on a pass ball by Crossley.

In the lower 3rd, Linley placed a high one to 2nd baseman, Matthews, for a 1st out. Pitcher Maynard fanned C. F. Tow, and Dalton placed one to Matthews for 3 away.

In the upper 4th nothing of significance happened in the effort of King Motor to score. We saw a rapid 3 up and 3 down.

In the lower 4th, Rains placed one to C. F. Sparks, who caught it for the 1st out. Howell put one to C. F. to reach 1st. Wallace bunted and was put out on 1st while Howell, in turn, gets 2nd. Collins placed a high one and catcher Collins came up and took it for the 3rd out.

In the upper 5th, Collins bunted but was put out on 1st.

Brashier placed one out to C. F. reaching 1st. Blair placed one to C. F. Tow, who made a remarkable catch when he jumped high to receive the ball. Hicks batted to 3rd, who threw the ball to 2nd baseman, putting Brashier out.

The lower 5th brought up Maynard, who placed one to SS Brashier who gave it to Crossley for an out on 1st. Friday placed one in to R.F. and Chamberlain caught it for 2 away. Linley put one to C. F. Sparks for the 3rd out.

In the upper 6th, Sparks placed one to L.F. for a home run. Crossley placed one to left field to reach 2nd. Matthews batted to L.F. for the 1st out. Chamberlain put one over to C.F. Tow for 2nd out. Maynard put a high one over to nd baseman for 3 away.

Nothing of importance happened in the lower 6th or upper 7th.

In the lower 7th, Collins placed one to S. S. Brashier, who missed the ball, giving Collins 2nd. M. Maynard placed one to C. F. for 1st. Friday was put out on 1st, and Lindley put one to C.F., got 2nd, and brought home Collins. Tow put one over past 2nd base to reach 1st. Dalton put a high one over to be caught by Hicks, thus ending the game.

Tuesday nights' game will be between Stephenville and King Tractor. his should be a good game because 11 innings were played the last time these two teams met. Also Lancaster and Eastland will play a hard ball game at 2:30 Saturday evening.

These are the days when the reserve power that is built into every electric refrigerator really proves its worth. When temperatures stay around a normal figure, your electric refrigerator practically coasts along, maintaining proper box temperatures easily. When hot days like we've been having come along, there is ample reserve power available in your electric refrigerator to cope with the situation automatically. All that happens is that its motor runs more often and a little longer at a time. Your electric refrigerator, by keeping perishable foods fresh and wholesome for long periods of time, has been a money-saver for you from the very first day you owned it. To make sure that you continue to benefit from this saving, take good care of it—it's an investment that pays real dividends.
