KEEPING UP ONE'S STEAM

I am a great believer in cheerfulness, in a ready smile and hearty laughter. I believe it is not only good for the physical well being of the individual but the spiritual well being as well. I believe that it is an aid to good digestion, good assimilation of the food and brings alertness, and eagerness, and energy to the body. It is a tonic to the whole system. It is the cheapest and best medicine a human being can take. It brings to one a feeling of content and well being, an eagerness to tackle the duties of the day. It chases away many of our cares and lightens the burden of all tasks. Furthermore it improves one's spiritual welfare. I do not believe that one can go about with a glum, dour, forbidding look on the face, and the same kind of disposition in his heart, and have a healthy, buoyant, aggressive spiritual life. The two just are not compatible. They do not go together. A locomotive cannot pull a train of cars up the grade without steam in the boiler and a man can't pull the day's duties and problems through the day with a negative, crabbed, dour spirit in his heart. He has to keep his steam up.

THANKS, FOLKS, FOR THE BOUQUETS

We wish to acknowledge receipts of recent letters from Mrs. Petros of Eastland, Mrs. Homer L. Starnes of Weatherford, R. K. Phillips of Weatherford, Tom Dingler of Carbon, and Editor Gene Baker of Gorman, in which they complimented this newspaper and the writer on our work especially in this column. Also we would remember and thank those friends who take time to drop by the office or stop us on the street to offer encouraging words. You are the folks who, possibly more than you think, encourage us to strive always to do a better job; to do the most good we can and at best to do no one any harm. Again we thank you for the bouquets.

For if ye turn again unto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before them that lead them captive, so that they shall come again unto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him—Second Chronicles 30:9.

Champagne Suggested As War Preventor

BOSTON (UP) — Champagne is the worlds greatest leveler and there would be fewer wars, diplomatic deadlocks and internal dissensions if people drank more of the bubbling beverage and less whiskey, according to Edgard du Prey, French champagne authority.

"You can always tell if champagne has been served at a gathering," he said on a visit here. "The most austere, the most snobbish, the most lofty giggle after drinking champagne. But after whiskey drinking, the offish ones become more offish and snooty and the noisy ones more noisy."

Du Prey said nothing about the cost of champagne.

Fewer Horses On Farms But Lots Of Tractors

AKRON, O. (UP) — Figures from the B. P. Goodrich Co. indicate that the swing to "more horsepower and fewer horses" is continuing.

The company announced that production of tires for tractors and other farm vehicles in 1948 will more than triple that of previous years.

The figures show the number of horses on farms dropped from 24,000,000 to 12,000,000 from 1921 to 1944, while tractor usage increased from 400,000 to 2,100,000.

They Aid 'Corn for Europe' Drive

These Elburn, Ill., children gather armful of golden corn to contribute to their home town's "Corn for Europe" campaign. In one day the citizens of the small farming community collected over 100 bushels of the grain for shipment abroad. Left to right are the McKenzie children, Janet, 9; Elvin, 6, and Rita, 12.

SCHOOL TEST URGED TO EQUIP YOUNG FOR LIFE

By Ben Gallo
United Press Staff Correspondent
DETROIT (UP) — The vast majority of young people are failing completely to acquire the information they need about themselves to make a wise choice of their life work, according to a Detroit expert.

Richard Dresher, administrative assistant in the guidance and placement department of the Detroit Board of Education, says that only two out of 45 young persons of high school age in Detroit—less than five per cent—take advantage of the department's testing service.

Since few school systems elsewhere provide similar free service, Dresher said, he was fairly certain the situation was no better, and probably worse, in the rest of the nation.

"Nobody in the testing field argues that the system of vocational testing is an intangible guide," Dresher said, "but there isn't much doubt that it is a good deal better than choosing an occupation just because it is the smart thing to do or because a good friend of yours has chosen it."

Dresher said the problem was the result only partly of general public ignorance of the wide variety of modern testing techniques.

The tests given an applicant by the department cover four general fields: achievement, intelligence, interests and mechanical culture, mathematics, literary comprehension, science, social problems vocabulary, manual dexterity, various intelligence measurements, personality and others.

Dresher explained that the testing was only part of the program. A counselor sits down with the applicant after the tests are completed and analyzes the applicant's ideas about a job choice in the light of the findings.

If the young person has the qualifications for a professional job, it is the counselor's task not only to tell him so but to point out the handicaps to success.

Testing and counseling are fairly expensive, although the department has broken it down to an average cost of about $10 per person.

It is up to the parents to find out what testing facilities are available in the school systems in their cities and to demand the best service available, Dresher said. He added it would be a good idea first for the parents to learn a little about the subjects themselves.

"Once a woman called us up and wanted us to find out in about an hour all the things she hadn't learned herself in 18 years with her child."

Barefoot Miner

Due to the shortage of work clothes, many women miners in Sentenberg, in the Russian zone of Germany, work barefooted. Women must dig and haul the coal because most of the men in the area were recruited by the Russians for work in nearby uranium mines.

Develop New Psychological Examinations

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — A new way to give psychological examinations to children has been developed by the Mental Hygiene Clinic in Fort Worth.

Psychiatrists, along with other professional men and women from private and U. S. public health service hospitals, are examining the children at play instead of close observation under a strain or test.

The volunteer workers operate the clinic every Monday, but due to a shortage of fun and equipment, they have had to appeal to the public for help.

To properly examine the children, the staff needs considerable equipment, such as doll houses, blocks, dolls, books and toys.

40 Miles, 30 Years Separate Brothers

LIVINGSTON, Wis. (UP) — It may be a small world, but sometimes it can look pretty big.

It looked that way to Faye Slater, Wauzeka, Wis., and his brother, Lee Slater, Livingston, when they found they had been living only 40 miles apart for three decades and never had met.

Faye and another brother, his twin, had been adopted by another family when their mother, Mrs. John Slater, died after giving birth to them in 1914.

Recently, Faye learned by checking his birth certificates that his real name was Slater and that his family had lived on a farm near Livingston. He went to Livingston to investigate and there he found Lee.

But Faye had sad news for his new-found brother. He had to report that his twin had been killed in an auto accident a month earlier.

The area of Hudson Bay is about 400,000 square miles.

POULTRYLESS THURSDAYS BEING STUDIED

By United Press

WASHINGTON — President Truman's food committee is "actively considering" junking poultryless Thursdays and is expected to reach a definite decision Monday it was learned today.

Sources close to the committee said the outcome will hinge on whether the nation's poultry growers and feed manufacturers are willing to cut down on the use of corn and wheat in poultry feed and substitute other grains.

If they are, it was said, the committee might be willing to erase chickenless and eggless days from its program for saving an additional 100,000,000 bushels of grain for western Europe during the next three months.

Mr. Truman's food managers declined to comment on the report. But one of them pointed out that the committee "isn't wedded to the idea of poultryless Thursdays just for the sake of having them."

Meeting with Luckman Monday will be representatives of both the poultry and feed grain industries. The feed people were called in after a series of meetings with the poultrymen broke up with out agreement.

The poultryless phase of the program has received more criticism than any other. Poultrymen charge that it defeats its own purpose reducing consumer demand for chickens and forcing farmers to keep and feed them.

Report Violence In Paris Strike

By United Press

PARIS — The first violence was reported today in the Communist-led subway and bus strike as 33,000 strikers voted at a mass meeting to continue the walkout and ordered their leaders to fight "until final victory."

Strikers beat up Lucien Moreau, in charge of the Auteuil Electricity substation, during the night. Nails to puncture the tires of emergency trucks and buses of the government had ordered into service were scattered over the streets.

The strike committee ordered reinforcements of picket lines at main bus depots at electricity substations of the Paris subway system. Substation workers who had not previously struck walked out during the night, leaving the doors open.

Attorneys To Push Insanity Plea In Trial

LA GRANGE, Tex. — Defense attorneys for Dr. Lloyd I. Ross planned today to continue their efforts to prove he was insane when he allegedly killed his friend and brother, Willard York, and three members of York's family, May 25, near New Braunfels, Texas.

They had already had called 15 witnesses in a single day to prove that Ross' sanity gave way when he found "he had lost every penny he had saved in eight years through a friend he had trusted."

The witness pictured him as a fine surgeon who suddenly lost interest in his personal appearance and lost the meticulous attention to detail he formerly displayed in the operating room.

Nine of the witnesses called by the defense were women, mostly patients of Ross. His attorneys said that Ross himself would not be called to the stand.

Ross is being tried specifically for the murder of Mrs. Gertrude York, wife of the slain brother. The prosecution, which rested its case yesterday, called witnesses to testify that Ross ambushed the York family while they were on their way to church and killed York, his wife, their son John, 9, and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67, with an automatic rifle.

Eastland Flying School Closed As Of October 15th

Nathan Howell of the Eastland Flying School announced Saturday that the school was being closed as of October 15.

Asked why the school was being closed and what he and his partners were going to do, Howell stated that the school was being closed because of the lack of co-operation of Eastland City officials and that the owners and operators were considering going to Cisco.

"We have trained 25 students, graduating and granting private pilot licenses to 23 of that number," Howell said. He stated also that the school had fulfilled all of its obligations to the United States government.

In speaking of the lack of co-operation from City officials, Howell said that the school had been promised an administration building and lights for night landing and take-offs, but that neither of the promises had been kept.

Howell stated that for the present at least he was going to Dallas and would be located at Dallas Irving Airport.

Music Critics Say Margaret Needs Training

PITTSBURGH — Music critics agreed today that Margaret Truman, who charmed an audience of 3,600 with her first song recital last night, still had a long road to travel before realizing her ambition to sing in opera.

The critics were not harsh. Rather, they conceded reluctantly that the young, blond daughter of the President needed more and better training.

Storm Becomes Hurricane; Moves Toward Florida

MIAMI — A tropical storm, a full-blown hurricane, began a northward curve in the Atlantic today but there was no indication that it would miss the battered Florida peninsula.

The Miami weather bureau said at 9:15 A. M. CST that the new storm had developed full hurricane strength during the night, with winds of 95 miles per hour over a small area. Danger to the Bahamas Islands was lessened by the slight change in direction.

Weathermen said it was too early to predict what part, if any, of the Florida peninsula might feel full effects of the storm. They recalled that the hurricane of Sept. 18, which originated in the same area, reversed its course to strike west Palm Beach and Miami.

Brazil To Break With Russia

RIO DE JANEIRO — Unofficial sources said today that the government had decided to break relations with Russia and it would be announced officially in a few hours.

Earlier it was said that the break would come as soon as Brazil received formal notice that Russia had refused to give full satisfaction for Soviet newspaper insults to President Eurico Gaspar Dutra.

Unofficial reports said the Kremlin had not even answered the protest, delivered by the Brazilian embassy in Moscow, but had returned it. Russian newspapers, which Brazil considers to be controlled by the government, said Dutra was subservient to the United States.

WOULD OUST MILITARY PERSONNEL BY JAN. 1

By United Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — Poland appealed today to the full General Assembly of the United Nations to oust Anglo-American military personnel from Greece by Jan. 1.

The Polish proposal set the stage for a new and bitter east-west battle when the assembly meets in full-dress session Monday to take final action in the Balkan's dispute.

The Polish move appeared doomed from the outset. It meant however, that Russia and its supporters have decided to fight every inch of the way against final approval of the American-inspired program for sending a semi-permanent "watchdog" commission to the Balkans to protect Greece from alleged interference by Albania and Yugoslavia.

The six Soviet bloc countries of the UN as well as Bulgaria and Albania, non-members, have announced they would boycott the commission.

The two or three-day plenary meeting of the assembly also must try to break the long standing deadlock over Poland's successor on the Security Council.

At last report, several Latin American countries were considering switching their votes from the Ukraine, which they agreed to support in return for Soviet support of Argentina for the council to India, the candidate backed by the western powers.

They apparently had not decided to break or keep the pledge to Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

The Polish proposal for a reversal of the political committees decision on Greece was a last-ditch effort to remove the implication of guilt from Albania, Bulgaria, and Yugoslavia.

TEACHING JAPANESE CROWN PRINCE, FUN, AMERICAN FINDS

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Vining, returning from a year's tutoring of Crown Prince Akihito, Japan's heir to the throne, thinks highly of her pupil. She considers him a "very promising boy, intelligent, responsible, friendly and honest."

Mrs. Vining says she feels the prince will acquire a closer sympathy for western democracy as he learns English. She adds that although she teaches him only the language, there are other ways of getting the point across too.

Crown Prince Akihito one day will succeed his father, Emperor Hirohito, as ruler of more than 78,000,000 Japanese.

Mrs. Vining thinks her new post "is the grandest thing that ever happened to me." She receives a salary equivalent to about $2,000 a year, is provided with a western style home, an automobile both American army and native food, and in addition, has a secretary.

Besides tutoring the prince three hours a week, she gives English lessons to the prince's mother, to his younger brother and three sisters, and instructs at the peers' and peeresses' schools. More than 130 Japanese children are receiving instruction from her.

Mrs. Vining believes that the "firm and wise" education policies of the occupation may lead Japanese children to a more liberal and democratic education than they have ever known.

She said that the years of compulsory education have been increased from six to nine and that new textbooks have replaced many older ones, all approved by Gen. MacArthur's headquarters.

Further, she says, girls are for the first time receiving equal educational benefits with boys, a step which is emphasized this year by the opening of the first women's four-year colleges.

And, says Mrs. Vining "teaching the Japanese has been fun—they are eager, friendly and intelligent. There has been no self pity, and all-in-all the Nippons have been a cheerful lot."

Air France, the French national airline is offering de luxe all sleeper service with champagne and caviar on its new Golden Comet from New York to Paris.

The railroads have ordered enough swank, light-weight passenger cars to put about 500 new streamliners in service, according to the American Railway Car Institute.

Mrs. Betty Herbert, a member of the Cleveland, Ohio, Little Belton the Kree Club, didn't succumb to the New Look when store stocks offered only suits with the new ankle-length skirts. She trimmed five inches off the hem and made the neat matching chapeau she wears.

Britain Going After Trade For Watchmaking

LONDON (UP)—Britain has opened its first national college of horology in an effort to regain preeminence in an art which the country lost a century ago to Switzerland, Germany and America.

The school of horology—the art of making clocks and watches—will train executives and designers in a three-year preliminary course, a two-year advanced course and a post-graduate clock-making back into the export trade.

"We are starting from scratch in competition with many old-established colleges in Switzerland and elsewhere," a ministry of education official said. "We have the most up-to-date equipment, much of it Swiss made."

Oil from trees, called "tall oil" is recovered from pine logs used in making paper. This oil is widely used in making cutting, boring and grinding oils, and in the manufacture of paints, varnishes, linoleum, soaps and other products.

Lower Valley Improvements Plan Announced

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP) — The lower Rio Grande Valley can look forward to an irrigation and reclamation project of an area 70 miles long and 30 miles wide, after an announcement by Wesley R. Nelson of the Federal Bureau of Reclamation.

Nelson, who is assistant commissioner of the federal bureau, made the announcement at the recent meeting of the Texas Water Conservation association in Austin.

The project will cover parts of four Rio Grande valley counties with more than 700,000 acres scheduled for development under the federal agency's plan.

The bureau's project drainage plan calls for construction of more than 300 miles of outlet drains which will be 15 feet in depth.

The area covered in this project will start at Brownsville and extend to a point about 10 miles west of Mission, Nelson said.

Lokanatha is looking forward to his first family reunion in 22 years and many fine hours of religious debate with his older brother, Msgr. Angelo R. Cioffi of St. Rosalia's Roman Catholic Church, Brooklyn.

Lokanatha, who wears the traditional yellow robe and shaven skull of a Buddhist monk, first became interested in Buddhism while studying for his chemical engineering degrees at Cooper Union and Columbia University.

Later, in his off hours from laboratory work on Staten Island he spent many hours pursuing the subject in the New York Public Library. In 1925, he went to Rangoon and was ordained into the Buddhist faith.

Lokanatha believes the time is now ripe for a resurgence of Buddhism throughout the world, and especially the United States. On his current "lighting preaching tour" he will visit Shanghai, Manila, Honolulu, San Francisco and cities all across the United States to New York. In the latter city—possibly on Riverside Drive—Lokanatha hopes eventually to erect a "skyscraper pagoda" dedicated to world peace.

"Nibbana," he explains, "is the Supreme Fireless State, which is attained when all lust is completely destroyed." It is attained by eating little, sleeping little, keeping to a vegetarian diet, reading Buddhist books, meditating on the nastiness of the human body and watching the mind."

Lokanatha, who is a "Dhamma Dayako"—"Truth Giver"—says Man is a combination of five factors: Rupa Khandha (body); Vedana Khandha (feeling); Sanna Khandha (perception); Sankhara Khandha (tendencies); and Vinnana Khandha (consciousness). These comprise the Panca Khandha from which come "craving rooted in ignorance."

He believes there is no such thing as matter, only energy. "We are each a bundle of electricity," Buddhism, Lokanatha says, is the only "absolute scientific" religion, and he hopes to point out its attraction to free thinkers, rationalists and agnostics in the United States.

The only way to save the world is to "hitch up science with the five precepts," i.e. abstain from taking life; do not take what is not given; abstain from adultery; abstain from lying, and abstain from drinking.

"Only by detonating the Atomic Bomb of Love can be destroyed suffering born of ignorance and bring Supreme Bliss to this unhappy world," says Lokanatha.

Young Old Timers Land In Police Net

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Tommy Bishop and Elroy Weber are hardened travelers—even though they belong to Milwaukee's very young set.

Tommy is 4 and his pal is 6. They were found in crowded downtown Milwaukee, apparently lost. Friendly spectators kept them supplied with candy and ice cream.

Then the squad car came to pick them up. As they entered, Tommy surprised the onlookers with a casual, "Here we go again."

Put the police were not surprised. They said the boys had been given free rides by their department at least a dozen times in the last six months.

Chicago Gets First Female Bondsman

CHICAGO (UP) — When Cook County's newest bondsman hands out a card it reads simply: "L. H. Cullen."

The prospective client is surprised to look up and see that it stands for Mrs. Lillian H. Cullen, 45, the first woman in the county to obtain a state bondsman's license.

"I like people," she said. "Now that my daughter is married and stands for Mrs. Lillian H. Cullen, gone from home, I need some-thing to occupy my mind. That's why I went into this business."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 19.

The Golden Text is: "The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God" (1 Corinthians 1:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord; and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee" (Psalms 22:27).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of truth and Life, of health and holiness" (page 37).

Gotta Farm To Give Away?

Will someone please explain to me?

Why do I want to live on a farm?

Never in my life have I lived in the country. I'm afraid of cows. The few times I've been on a horse I've been miserable. I think chickens smell awful and as for pigs . . . I cannot bear them unless they be in the form of pork chops.

Frankly, I can't imagine myself occupying an outdoor privy!

I think fireplaces and glowing logs are lovely things . . . in town . . . if someone else has carried the wood.

I can't understand it.

Every Spring and every Fall, I want to live in the country.

Is it my ancestral urgings to go dig in the dirt?

I'm afraid of worms when I dig in the dirt.

If you have an old, abandoned farm you don't want, kindly lead me to it. Shut the door in my face and listen to my howling.

Heavens!! What was that?

Large, brown, horseeyes staring through the window!

Help!

I want to go back to town.

More Cancer Seen As Life Lengthens

CHICAGO (UP)—More persons will die of cancer as medical science lengthens the average life span, according to Dr. Walter H. Palmer, University of Chicago professor of medicine.

In an address on "The Fight Against Cancer," Palmer said the incidence of cancer, especially cancer of the stomach, increases steadily with age.

"Twenty million Americans now living can look forward to dying from cancer, which now ranks second as a cause of death," Palmer said.

The disease takes an annual toll of approximately 175,000 persons in this country alone, he said.

"We know a great deal about the cause of cancer, but or ignorance still is profound," he added.

Palmer said that surgery, when ever it can be used, is the best weapon in the attack of cancer.

"Some cancers are easily and permanently cured by surgery," he said. "Tumors, considered inoperable only a short time ago, are now removed safely by the surgeon."

Palmer ranked radium and X-ray second to surgery in the treatment of cancer.

"Skin cancer can be cured rather easily in that way," he said, "and inoperable cancers may be improved, although not cured."

Seminole Get Break On Auto License Plates

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP)—The dwindling band of Seminole Indians in Florida stays one up on the "palefaces" every year when it comes to buying automobile license plates.

The policy started about 17 years ago during the administration of Gov. David Sholtz, who wanted to help the Seminoles with their problems.

Sholtz took his entire cabinet of state officials down the Tamiami Trail to hold a pow-wow with the Indians, and explained through an interpreter that Florida wanted to assist the Indians in any way possible. But the Indians turned down his offers, and said they didn't want any help from the palefaces except free licenses to "dress" their cars and make them look pretty.

So when the black and yellow tags go on sale Dec. 1, the Seminoles will be about the only Floridians who won't be grumbling.

Telephoning Made Easy

NEW YORK (UP)—Motorists driving between Boston and New York may make a telephone call now at any place along the route—provided there is a telephone in the car. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company installed a series of 250-watt transmitters over a 250-mile route. Similar systems are in operation between St. Louis and Chicago and New York and Albany.

South Dakota Fights Bad Prairie Fires

PIERRE, S. D. (UP)—An extensive prairie fire prevention campaign is being pushed by South Dakota officials after the most destructive fire range in the history of the state. The fire blackened nearly 150,000 acres of range land.

Gov. George T. Mickelson has made the manpower and equipment of the state highway department, bureau of investigation, motor patrol and other agencies available for immediate use in preventing and fighting prairie fires.

State Fire Marshal W. A. Mueller has called upon township boards and county commissioners to take the initiative in plowing fire breaks, urging farmers to install park arrestors on motorized farm equipment, and to purchase rural fire fighting equipment.

Canadian Cougars Invading U. S.

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UP)—Grab your guns, cougar hunters, and there's an invasion on, according to Pete Hart, federal trapper.

Foreign mountain lions in large numbers are slipping over the border into the forests of Washington's Okanogan County from the Canadian side, he said.

The influx of the big cats has raised the county's cougar population to third place in the state. Hart said $50 would be paid in bounty for each cougar killed.

The great fall of the Yellowstone River in Yellowstone National Park is twice the height of Niagara Falls.

Salt and pepper shakers which, according to The American Magazine, are said to be so clog-proof that they actually pour under water, have been manufactured.
