4TH QUARTER
NO. 59

Amarillo, Texas, August 16, 1900.

The city council ought to make it a finable offence to sweep dry dust onto and off the sidewalks. It is an outrage to bury the passers by in a cloud of filthy dust, and to befoul the goods of a neighbor. It is no uncommon thing to see the dust raised by sweeping unsprinkled sidewalks, fill the air for a block away.

Would it not be a good plan to construct the house you are going to build so as to make it easily moved? It is so handy to move houses on the plains and often desirable.

BALL GAME AT ROSWELL NEXT SATURDAY. $5 ROUND TRIP.

Mr. Guy said: "Tell your fun lovers and business men to go to Roswell next Saturday, and show something of Amarillo; and then those Pacos Vally people will reciprocate on occasion. Conductor, O. Miller said: "It will be a great game, and you must tell all the people to go and take all their spare change to bet and win on the P.V. team.

Say, do you consider that you have the public interest at heart while you sweep the infernal dust out of your store, without sprinkling, onto the sidewalks, to load every mans lungs and shirt collar with every man's spittle and microbes?

Mrs. W. L. Thompson and daughter are visiting relatives in Denver.

"NOT WITHOUT HONOR, save in his own country." We received a letter today from Louis F. Post, commending two of our most radical economic editorials. Mr. Post is the erudite editor of the Chicago Public, which is regarded as possibly the best Democratic authority in the United States. His paper is read by the leading thinkers in every English speaking land, and his editorials are copied by all their progressive papers. His letter concludes with the following significant sentence: "We are now in a fight that is worth being in." Yes, indeed, it is worth more to be in the battle than in the victory. He who puts in his hard licks for his fellows in this life may expect the best job in the next—that's our religion. Best licks, too, are in the opinion of the Amarillo News not so much in the doing of 'charity' as it is to obviate the necessity of it. If there were no statute laws depriving men their natural rights, the earth would be paradise—as God intended it should be. The man who would uphold a law that deprives other of the free and equal use of the natural heritage—cannot be a good man though he means to be. Such a man is only a dupe, and the only way to keep his eyes open

The reporter enjoyed the superb hospitality of his good old widower friend, Kilgore, one night this week. He is there all alone, but seems to be getting along as well as any body in that fix. He has a good house and orchard, spacious pens and wind brakes, excellent crops, lots of cattle and horses, two sections of land and a dog and a cat; but, alas! no—well, the fact is, if there is a spruce widow in the country that would like to go halves in a good thing—as a contemporary says—we couldn't tell her where to go, for the life of us.

The astute editor of The Vernon Sun realizes that there is something in our political economy that draws our boys to the Philipines to kill and risk being killed for the money that is in it, rather than risk their chances at home to make a decent living. He doesn't definitely point out what that something is, but satirically alludes to the "restricted volume of money" and "over production" as being the causes of the trouble.

Engineer Shults and his corpse of surveyors pitched their tent on the vacant lot just west of Judge Kell's residence Tuesday, and at once commenced to lay off the Rock Island switch grounds, and Wednesday grading commenced in earnest on the depot and switch grounds. Already the track layers are at the river, and if they are not delayed in getting the material they will reach town easily by the 20th.

Miss Mide Walters, the charming niece of J. P. Floyd, from Santa Ana, is visiting him; and being the first of his kin to do so in a long time, he is profoundly happy.

Dr. Thornton is a new acquisition to medical therapeutics in the city.

Dabney White, the ranger, who was out in the Panhandle for several months, and on account of his profession, had a fair chance to notice the various stages of criminality in this country, has returned to Fort Worth and writes of this country:

"Again, I am pleased to know that the rural and social conditions are not as we generally believe they are out there. I had been of the opinion that it was a wild and wooly country, inhabited by only bold, bad men with long horns, while now I know that is the most sedate part of the country. There are hundreds of nice homes here and there. The politicians will bear me out. I have seen whiskey drunk and committed than in any other part of Texas. I have planned my tour of the

Sit down and write the letter
You put off from day to day.
Don't wait 'till her weary steps
Reach heavens pearly gates,
But show her that you think of her

Or a loving word to say,

"When a country is in danger it has the sacred right of defending itself through the patriotism of its citizens. When the rights of the citizens are violated, when men see that they are being treated as machines, when they behold their children growing up in misery and ignorance, they cease to care for their country's welfare. AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Of the State of Texas, to be Voted on Tuesday, November 6, A. D. 1900.

[H. J. R. No. 35]

JOINT RESOLUTION, amending Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Section 20, providing for the organization of irrigation districts, and for the levying and collection of a tax for the construction of reservoirs, dams and canals.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas.

That Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Section 20, as follows:

Section 20. In addition to the powers of taxation granted in the foregoing sections, it shall be lawful for the Legislature of Texas to authorize the land owners of the counties of Archer, Baylor, Clay, Wichita and Knox to organize irrigation districts in said counties without regard to county lines.

In making provisions for the cost of construction of irrigation works within said territory, it shall be lawful to levy taxes and create an indebtedness to rest as a charge on and be secured by a lien on the irrigable land for the use and benefit of which said irrigation works have been or may be constructed. The Legislature may authorize such taxes and indebtedness as may be necessary to construct irrigation works within said territory, but no taxes shall be levied nor indebtedness created in any district until authorized by a two-thirds vote of resident land owners therein whose lands are excepted of irrigation from the proposed works.

The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for submitting this amendment to qualified voters on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the month of November, 1900, at which time voters favoring the amendment shall be counted.
Copies of this amendment shall be printed on the Constitution of the State of Texas, and the words "irrigation districts" and "Knox counties" and shall have written or printed thereon the words
"amending Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, to permit the formation of irrigation districts in Baylor, Clay, Wichita and Knox counties."
