Good '88 Corn Prices, Crop Yields Noted

JULY

The annual 4th of July brought out many people to celebrate. Activities had been planned throughout the day, culminating with a presentation at the West Avenue D City Park.

Youth Baseball wound up another excellent season with an awards night held at the rainsoaked Roger Miller Park. The wet fields failed to dampen players, their parents and baseball fans.

The roof on Bratcher Motor Supply 'rolled-up' and was destroyed as a severe thunderstorm moved through the area, dropping hail and menacing the area with funnel clouds.

More than 100 local and area people met at Ellis Funeral Home Chapel of the Chimes to discuss the possible purchase of Bailey County Memorial Park. Pledges began coming in to be used toward the purchase.

Bailey County Sheriff Bob Henderson, who had planned to retire at the end of 1988, resigned to move from Muleshoe. Incoming Sheriff Jerry Hicks was named his successor.

Rains continued to add to the yearly total. The average for Muleshoe is just over 17 inches. The yearly total was 15.45 as of July 10, and more rain in the forecast.

Retired Muleshoe businessman Robert Harrison, and his wife, Bonnie, were killed instantly in a vehicle accident west of Lubbock, after a truck skidded across the median and into their path during a rainstorm.

Dr. Jerry Gleason went fishing for shark, and the Muleshoe Rotary Club benefitted. Dr. Gleason served shark 'bits' to the Rotarians as he showed a video of the fishing expedition.

A French 'city youth' received a bit of education when he spent the month of July in the home of Larry and Deanne Rasco. The youth, of Nevilly-Seine, quickly started becoming accustomed to small town ways in Muleshoe.

On a Sunday afternoon, during a blistering heat wave, a tornado touched down approximately three miles north of Muleshoe, leaving damaged corn stalks in its path.

Krystal Angeley, daughter of Tub and Pat Angeley, was named the 1988 Rodeo Queen at Earth; Little Miss Cowgirl was Kyla Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Morris of Sudan.

Immaculate Conception Catholic Church's annual Jamaica drew a record number of people, who braved the intensive heat.

Ron Montgomery, cited 'business pressure' as the reason he was resigning, effective immediately, as president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

AUGUST

Dr. Bruce Purdy and Dr. Mark McClanahan announced that West Plains Medical Center had obtained TPA -- the miracle heart drug. They became one of the two or three hospitals outside Lubbock to have the drug available. The first patient to benefit from TPA was Charles Moraw, manager of the Muleshoe Co-op Gin. It was believed that the drug was the only thing that saved his life.

Dr. Don Holes of Clovis, N.M. was named principal of DeShazo Elementary School. His wife is an instructor at Eastern New Mexico University.

John Isaac, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Isaac, and a pre-med student at Rice University, was one of 23 Southwest Conference football players to receive a plaque for academic honors. He is a defensive tackle for the Rice Owls.

An 'abbreviated' Mules Day Celebration was planned. It may be the last one for Muleshoe unless it is taken over by some organization to coordinate each year. Jeff Smith, originator of the celebration, cited business reasons for dropping the celebration.

Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green announced his resignation, to be effective on September 30.

MAC split from the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, announcing they would continue their main project, which is boosting Muleshoe and Muleshoe businesses.

Jeff Anderson, who was hired as baseball coach for Muleshoe High School's new baseball program, discussed the new baseball program with the Muleshoe Rotary Club.

Work on a 75th birthday celebration got underway. The celebration was scheduled to be held in conjunction with the Bailey County South Plains Fair in September.

Ian Bentsen, son of Senator Lloyd Bentsen, candidate for election as vice president of the United States, as well as candidate for re-election as Senator, visited in Muleshoe, boosting his father's candidacy.

SEPTEMBER

It was a month for candidate visits, as incumbent Congressman Larry Combest, along with his wife, Sharon, visited Muleshoe to officially announce his candidacy for re-election.

Combest's opponent, Gerald McCathern, arrived in Muleshoe, and spoke from the back of a train caboose mounted on a trailer.

In MHS football's season opener, the Brownfield Cubs downed the Muleshoe Mules 35-0.

MAC unveiled a large new sign east of Muleshoe on Highway 84. The sign reads "Muleshoe-75 Years Strong."

The Muleshoe Journal published a special 36-page edition, commemorating Muleshoe's 75th Birthday.

Mules Play Very Good In Tourney

Muleshoe High School varsity Mules' coach, Wade Littlefield, was very happy when he came by The Journal Friday afternoon.

He said the Mules had played the best basketball they have played this year during the Sudan Basketball Tournament late last week.

During their first game on Wednesday afternoon, they played Anton, winning the game by a score of 59-55.

Coach Littlefield said Frank Precure played his best game thusfar this year with 23 points and 20 rebounds.

Playing Thursday night before a very good crowd, the coach said Brian Bush decided the Mules weren't going to lose a game against Sudan, and took over after a couple of starters ran into foul trouble.

The game was running with Sudan a couple of points ahead when Frank Precure hit a couple of free throws to tie the game up.

With just four second left in the game, Brian hit two free throws to win the game for the Mules.

Brian was also the high scorer in the game with 16 points.

Friday night, the Mules lost the championship game to Farwell by a score of 71-61.

Coach Littlefield said he was very proud of his varsity boys, and pleased with the efforts during the past several days of tournament play.

County Judge Gives Old Cemetery's Past

By Jim Watson
Bailey County Judge

The Bailey County Cemetery is located three miles north and two and one half miles west of Muleshoe. This cemetery is not to be confused with Bailey County Memorial Park, which is located on U. S. 84 northwest of Muleshoe.

Even though it is not as well known, the old cemetery is the larger, consisting of about 27 or 28 acres, compared to the Memorial Park, which is about 15 acres.

The original parcel of land, consisting of about four acres, was sold or granted to the Bailey County Cemetery Association by Emil Wellsandt and Mrs. Anna Wellsandt for $1.00. The date of the deed is April 28, 1919.

Legal description of the land is: a parcel of land out of the Northwest quarter of section no. 23, Block Y, Bailey County. That four acre parcel is located in the northwest portion of that quarter section, along the county road.

On September 17, 1935, Gilbert Wollard and wife, Annis Wollard, sold approximately three acres of land to the Bailey County Cemetery Association, which joined the cemetery on the east. The selling price was $45.

Further expansion came about on March 1, 1939, when Mr. and Mrs. Wollard sold an additional 24 acres to the association for $50. That transaction completed the present size of the cemetery.

The property belongs to the Bailey County Cemetery Association. The County Judge's office, with Paula Tarter, secretary, handles the business of the cemetery; sale of lots, upkeep, etc.

James Gray is employed by the County as caretaker. There are plenty of spaces available, ranging from $100 to $300 for the newly opened section. This is quite a contrast to earlier prices considering that W. O. Barber bought six spaces for a total of $10 on March 5, 1934.

On December 21, 1988, Mr. Chester H. Koons, from Woodland Park, Colorado, came into my office and donated five spaces back to the Bailey County Cemetery Association.

He asked if I would look into the possibility of getting his mother's tombstone restored

QUIT

Helpful Tips and Ideas To Help You or a Loved One Quit Smoking—

Throw Away Those Cigarettes

You can do it! Thousands of Americans quit smoking every year. The first thing to do, say experts: Throw away all cigarettes and matches, and hide lighters and ashtrays while you're involved in a smoking cessation program. Make sure to ask your doctor for diet and exercise recommendations that may make things easier.

You can stop smoking immediately. See your doctor for more details about this product and smoking cessation programs in your area.

As you prepare to quit, list all the reasons you want to. Every night before going to bed, repeat one of the reasons ten times.

Every year is leap year to the pedestrian who expects to live.

When in doubt about a controversial subject, keep quiet.

Step two: Realize that what makes quitting smoking so hard is nicotine addiction. Making it easier for many would-be non-smokers to overcome nicotine withdrawal is a prescription medication that works by releasing small amounts of nicotine in the mouth as you chew.

Tips To Battle The Back-To-School Blues

It seems summer has just begun, yet, it soon will be time to begin thinking about getting the kids ready for the coming school year.

This year don't panic! Knowing how to handle a Back-to-School shopping spree for your child can make the trip a pleasant adventure for both you and your child. A nationally syndicated columnist and author specializing in the subject of child-rearing, Dr. Linda Albert and JCPenney have developed a list of ten ways to Battle the Back-to-School Shopping Blues:

- Try on last year's fall and winter clothes to see what still fits. Take an inventory of needed purchases. If your children are old enough, let them help you with a wish list. Then decide on a budget before you go so they know costly "must have" items means sacrificing others. Popular on the wish list are stonewashed jackets, miniskirts and jeans from JCPenney.

- Teach your children to recognize quality and durability in fabric and how to care for the item. Even small children can learn what feels soft or itchy, warm or cool, strong or fragile.

- Shop for the most important articles early in the season, when the selection is best. Your children are more likely to wear the items they are happy with, so the higher prices will be worth it in the end. Bargain hunt later during sale season expensive items and stretch their usable life by dressing them up with accessories.

- Try to educate, not control. Teach children to wear colors and styles that flatter them, and stress the importance of fit. Have children stretch, sit and squat in the clothing and ask how it feels.

- Praise your children when they make wise choices in matching outfits or selecting quality items. In young children, develop confidence in making the right choices by cutting out pictures from the JCPenney catalog and putting different outfits together. Talk about colors and how to mix and match patterns. This will help children prepare for school on mornings you're too busy to supervise.

- Make the shopping trip a special treat by taking each child separately when possible. Shopping with each child alone is a high-quality time for the two of you. Two hours is the maximum time you should spend to avoid frayed nerves on both sides. Department stores offer a large assortment of merchandise for time-saving one-stop shopping. Finish the trip with a special treat; you both deserve it!

TEXAS WINNER--In the 4-H Safety Program, Colin DeWitt Tanksley of Muleshoe, Center, is congratulated for this honor by John D. Rock, general manager, GMC Truck Division of the General Motors Truck and Bus Group, and Miss America 1989, Gretchen Elizabeth Carlson of Minnesota. General Motors, 44-year sponsor of the 4-H Safety Program, provided each state winner an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

There's often a motive behind unexpected favors.

An individual is only as intelligent as he is curious.

We have never been able to figure out a way to avoid work.

Arguments usually aren't worth it.

A good loafer is an artist at his profession.

Is anyone keeping up with the cost of living?

Debris from Texas beaches affects endangered sea turtles

COLLEGE STATION — When you're messing with Texas beaches, you may also be messing with the lives of endangered sea turtles.

A high correlation has been found between trash or debris on beaches and debris found in the stomachs of stranded turtles, says a Texas A&M University at Galveston researcher.

Plastic was the worst, occurring in nearly 80 percent of the turtle stomachs that contained debris and on about 97 percent of the beaches surveyed.

Approximately 85 percent of the debris categories found in turtles were recorded during beach debris surveys, says Dr. Andre Landry, a marine biologist. These categories include plastic, rubber, fishing line, tar, cellophane, monofilament rope, wax, styrofoam, aluminum cans, string and cigarette filters.

Cattle Price To Increase In New Year

Feeder cattle prices should reach new levels in 1989 considering that both cattle feeding and total beef supplies will be down.

Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said it is logical to expect stronger feeder cattle prices this spring, considering that a seven-year herd liquidation has just been completed and that feeder cattle supplies will be more scarce than they have been in 30 years.

"The scarcity of feeder cattle supplies is based on an expected smaller calf crop in 1989 because of conception problems resulting from this year's drought," Tanksley said. "Another reason for scarcity is that fewer heifers will be included in feeder cattle supplies since more heifers will be retained to rebuild beef cow herds."

Feeder cattle numbers peaked at 44.3 million head in 1981. For 1988, October feeder cattle supplies were estimated at 35.8 million head, some 19 percent below the 1981 peak.

Tanksley said this information will help cattlemen evaluate market conditions and trends as well as give them an estimate of breakeven situations.

Pets Need Protection In Winter

Special care, such as shelter and adequate nutrition, should be given to protect family pets from wintertime hazards during the cold months ahead, said Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Winter temperatures in Texas are not at such extremes that animals accustomed to staying outdoors will be hurt, the agent said. If the pet can seek shelter that keeps out chilling winds and covers cold ground, it will be adequately protected.

Animals that are never outside or are very old or young should not be kept outdoors, Tanksley said.

Healthy animals can tolerate cold weather. More food may be needed because the pets need more calories to produce body heat.

The daily water supply also should be checked to make sure the water has not frozen or the pet may suffer.

Each pet also should have a check-up before cold weather sets in. Animals should be checked for internal parasites and blood parasites such as heartworms, and they should have all needed vaccinations, Tanksley concluded.

Feeding Baby Cereal

Q. How long should I continue to serve my baby infant cereal?

A. Iron-fortified infant cereal is important to babies during their first two years of life. Cereal is one of the first solid foods fed to infants because it is easily digestible. It is also an excellent iron source, a nutrient essential for babies up to two years old while the growth rate is rapid.

Rice cereal is generally the first single-grain cereal fed to babies. Later, other single-grain cereals, such as barley and oatmeal are added to the diet. As the baby ages, mixed cereals containing several grains can be added.

Growing babies have higher iron requirements for their size than adults. If infant cereal is mixed with a source of vitamin C, such as Gerber apple juice, the baby's ability to absorb the iron may improve.

For variety, cereal and fruit combinations may be introduced to older infants.

For more information about feeding and care, call 1-800-4-GERBER.

Liquor Leads Causes For Traffic Deaths

Statistics prove there are two simple precautions that could save your life while driving the busy Texas highways this holiday season -- and during the rest of the year.

"Many people who died last year might have been alive today if they had buckled up or had driven sober," said Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health. "It just makes sense to use your seat belts and to drive without drinking."

Statistics from the Texas Department of Public Safety show that in 1987, more than 75 percent of the 3,261 persons killed in traffic crashes in Texas were not wearing safety belts. The chances of being killed in an accident in 1987 were six times greater for those not buckled up.

The combination of bad weather, drinking drivers, and weary travelers speeding home for the holidays make Texas' roads especially hazardous during the Christmas and New Year's holidays. Last year, 38 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the five-day Christmas holiday period, and another 43 were killed during the five-day New Year's holiday.

Safety belts hold passengers in place, preventing a second "human collision," in which unbelted passengers hit the windshield, dash, door, or are thrown from the vehicle. Young children, who are especially vulnerable to being injured or killed in a traffic accident, should ride protected in child passenger safety seats.

Texas law requires children under age two to ride in a safety seat, and youngsters from age two to four to ride either in a safety seat or secured by a safety belt. All front-seat passengers, regardless of age, are required by Texas law to ride buckled up.

"Some people brag that they can drive just fine when they drink," said Dr. Bernstein. "If this is true, why do so many deaths on Texas roads involve alcohol?"

Last year in Texas, 42 percent of all fatal traffic accidents on rural roads involved driving while intoxicated (DWI). More than a third of all the state's fatal traffic accidents involved DWI.

Dr. Bernstein recommends a "designated driver" plan, in which one person in a group volunteers not to drink, and assumes the responsibility of driving others home. Some restaurants and bars now provide free non-alcoholic beverages to a designated driver. In addition, many communities are arranging free or inexpensive taxi service to transport persons unable to drive safely.

Dr. Bernstein said each ounce-and-a-half of liquor or 12-ounce beer requires about an hour to be metabolized in the bloodstream. Food helps slow the absorption of alcohol, but eating while drinking will not keep someone from getting drunk. Also, coffee and cold showers cannot help someone become sober.

TIME...

As the old year passes and the new begins, we are more conscious of time itself than we are at any other time of the year.

These are days when most everything is geared to a higher speed. Automobiles are faster, aircraft set new records. Production is speeded up to make the best possible product in the shortest time... but this is a good time to slow down and review the past and to make plans for the future. Think of the past, but only of how you can improve on it. Plan now for the future. Make sure that you will have time for the Lord this New Year. Start now to attend church, make it a regular habit.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
