

Tornado Toll 102; At Least 500 Injured

ON THE HILL

By Jan Spalding
There are only six more weeks of school this year and everyone is already getting "Spring Fever."

Eastland High won so many of the literary events as well as the track meet in Interscholastic League last week. Those who won in the literary events were: Debate—Bobby Collier and Rodney Heath first; Extemporaneous Speaking—girls—Ann Madrey, first; Boys—Dick Harris, second; Ready Writers—Gladene Womack, second; Spelling—Jesse Whaley and Joyce Tucker, first; Short-hand—Billy Floy Hunt, first; Marleece Elliott, fourth; Declamation—Senior—Murray Herring, second; Naomi Wood, third; and Junior Joe Hague won first. This is a pretty good percentage of the places.

In the sports we won the track meet with 42 1-2 points and a few honors in other events.

In tennis—Senior girls—Marleece Elliott and Margaret Bourland won first place and in Junior girls—Betty Gay Allen and Prudie Hardeman won first. Kenneth Benham won the Junior Boys singles.

The Senior boys won second in softball. In the track meet Junior high won and the senior high school boys won 4 1-2 to 31 for Hamilton, their nearest opponents.

Several records were broken by Eastland boys. They are as follows: Mile relay—time 3:53—runners, Bill McFarland, Lewis Crossley, Dick Sparks, and Ed Emelio Manzano; 440 relay—time 47.4—runners Jimmy Mathews, Johnny Hicks, Bobby Blair Emelia Manzano.

In the juniors, Jim Smith broke the record for the fifty and one hundred yard dashes.

His time for the 50 was 5.4 and 11 seconds in the hundred.

Jack Horn won second in chinning; Jim Smith won second in the broad jump and K. Benham tied for first place in the high jump. In the 440 yard relay we won second. The team was Glen Garrett, Johnny Collins, K. Benham and Jim Smith. The juniors lost the district by one half point.

Many of the ex-students home for the Easter holidays visited E. H. S. Thursday, Friday and Monday. It was nice to have them all back again and it seemed like old times.

The Junior Class is planning a picnic for tonight (Friday) on the E. T. Spence farm near Carbon.

The Bluebonnet Girl was chosen Tuesday night by the local American Legion Auxiliary. She will be sent to Austin to study government, she was Jan Spalding.

A Safety Patrol was organized for Eastland Schools this week. It is sponsored by the Eastland Lions club. There are 12 patrolmen, three lieutenants and a captain.

Thats about all from "The Hill" this week but I'll be seeing you next week. In the meantime don't forget the senior play, "A Date With Judy," Friday night, April 18.

91ST DISTRICT COURT GRAND JURY REPORTS

A session of the grand jury of 91st District court has just closed and following is the report returned by the grand jury.

"We have returned 39 indictments in which over three-fourths of the Grand Jury concurred in voting same, and have examined 250 witnesses.

We find no evidence of any violation of the statutes governing weights and measures in Eastland County.

We find evidence that certain municipalities have usurped the jurisdiction of the County Court in trying Ignor Violation Cases; in Cases where a person is alleged to have operated a motor vehicle on a public highway or road while he was under the influence of an intoxicating beverage; and cases involving the swindling statutes. We also found ample evidence that liquor seized by city officers were disposed of by them instead of being turned over to the Liquor Control Board for re-sale in Wet territories, thus depriving the State of revenue which is legally due said State. We recommend that the City responsible for such actions be made to give an accounting to the County for fines collected for such violations and pay them over to Eastland County in accordance with law.

We find that certain local city officials knowingly permit violation of the gambling statutes; permit the sale of beer by the bottle; and permit nuisances to operate in violation of law under the guise and excuse that the profits go to charity. We recommend that all public nuisances of this type be abated, and that if the laws with reference to same are not enforced that removal proceedings be brought against said officials at the earliest practicable date.

Ample evidence has been presented that in certain night spots in the County, minor children become intoxicated therein and that liquor is consumed after hours, that traffic from said places constitutes a public menace and is the recommendation of this Grand Jury that proceedings to abate said nuisance be brought at the earliest practicable date.

We recommend the Legislature pass measures to prohibit the throwing of poison on the public highways, and private property of another person, and the willful poisoning of a dog be made greater punishment than is now called for.

We recommend the Sheriff's department for their excellent efforts in connection with their duties. The inspection of the jail reveals to be in excellent shape. We commend the Sheriff's torney for his co-operation, and the Highway Department for their efforts."

(Signed) H. S. Drumwright
Foreman of the Grand Jury

NEW MAYOR

C. T. (Charlie) Lucas, above, is Eastland's new Mayor, having been chosen chairman of the board by the Eastland Board of City Commissioners. Lucas has been on the Commission 12 years and has been in business in Eastland 19 years.

Commissioners Choose Lucas As Eastland Mayor

C. T. (Charlie) Lucas, Eastland businessman and veteran member of the Eastland City Commission, was chosen chairman of the board of commissioners following the organization of the board after the election Tuesday, April 1. Lucas and John W. Jackson are holdover members of the board. Dan Childress, A. J. Blevins, Jr., and C. G. Uffelman are new members. Childress was chosen City Treasurer and Blevins Assistant Treasurer. The place of City Secretary is filled by the city manager.

Lucas, whose title is that of chairman of the board, will doubtless be referred to as mayor by Eastland citizens as this has been the custom for a number of years.

Lucas has been a successful man in Eastland for the past 19 years during which time he has enjoyed the confidence of the hundreds of customers whom he has served and is still serving. And despite the fact that he is kept busy several hours per day with his private business, he has found time to devote many hours to the welfare of his fellow citizens as a city commissioner for the past 12 years.

Lucas was elected to an unexpired term on the commission in June 1935 shortly after C. W. Hoffmann was named mayor and has served continuously since and the people of Eastland are fortunate that he was willing to accept the added responsibility as chairman of the board of commissioners since his long experience on the commission better qualifies him for the position of mayor.

Lucas is a past president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, member of the Masonic Lodge and of the Eastland Lions' Club.

FIRE DESTROYS CHURCH EARLY WEDNESDAY

Ranger's Church of Christ, one of the most attractive in the town, was completely destroyed early Wednesday morning by a fire that was discovered by nearby residents about 1:15 o'clock.

Origin of the fire is unknown but it is believed that it started in the back of the building and was well underway before it was discovered. The building was valued at about $35,000.

Painters had just completed the redecoration of the interior of the building Tuesday afternoon and had removed all of their equipment and materials from the building.

Reports that fires had been left burning in the building to dry out paint, were completely unfounded, church officials stated today, and reports of explosions heard by residents were explained as having come from exploding airconditioner pipes. The pipes were completely flattened out by the explosions.

Church officials stated today that the church will be rebuilt on the site but definite plans for reconstruction had not been made.

To avoid any danger from dangerously leaning walls, the shell of the building was being roped off this morning to prevent people from getting too close to it. An insurance adjuster was due in Ranger Wednesday afternoon and officials stated that they wished, if possible, to leave the walls standing until he had arrived.

The church was completed in 1934 and was built by the congregation with the aid of many citizens of Ranger. Many of the members, as well as other citizens, contributed actual labor in building the church. O. G. Lanier stated this morning that a great deal of the material that went into the building was contributed by Ranger people and firms. He said that the T.P. Coal and Oil Company not only gave much of the material but sold the church other items at below costs prices.

Lanier also stated this morning that while the church was being destroyed by fire this morning that many came to him and offered their help in financing and building another church.

WOODWARD, Okla. — The known dead in a hop and skip tornado that slashed a bloody 150-mile path across the Texas and Oklahoma border last night rose to 109 today, and unconfirmed reports of fatalities ranged as high as 152. Estimates of the injured ranged up to 500 with 3,500 homeless.

The known dead included—Woodward—83 bodies counted by undertaker, L. L. Armstrong, 36 of them identified.

Higgins, Tex.—17 bodies identified, eight more missing and feared dead.

Canadian, Tex.—Nine bodies identified, including five from Glazier, Tex.

Oklahoma Highway Patrol Chief H. B. Lowery reported several hours earlier that 72 bodies had been recovered in Woodward. He and Red Cross disaster relief officials predicted the toll here alone would pass the 100 mark.

The Woodward undertaker placed an emergency order at Oklahoma City for 150 caskets for storm victims.

Meanwhile, the Texas Highway Patrol and Red Cross officials reported to Gov. Beauford Jester at Austin that latest estimates placed the two-state death toll at 152. These reports could not be confirmed elsewhere, and there was a possibility of duplication.

Hardest hit was Woodward, where the terror of the plains tore a 100-square block hole in the northwest residential district of this town of 7,000 population in the heart of Oklahoma's wheat belt.

The number of injured here was placed at more than 400. Some 350 houses and business buildings were flattened and littered.

The twister slashed through rural areas near Shattuck and Gage, Okla., with unconfirmed reports of fatalities. All communications lines to those towns were still out, and the destruction there had not been determined.

Rescue workers by the hundreds dug through piles of debris and scattered wreckage in the stricken Oklahoma and Texas communities, in search for many still unaccounted for.

At Higgins torrential rains followed the death-dealing wind. Bill Lane, a radio announcer for KPDA at Amarillo, reported from the scene that there had been some flooding in Higgins.

Had as large as golf balls damaged buildings and crops in the wake of the storm at White Deer, Tex.

Scores of peace officers from northwestern Oklahoma and Kansas patrolled the disaster area in Woodward to prevent looting.

The plains country twister ripped through three towns in the Texas Panhandle, skirted two in Oklahoma and then smashed with atomic bomb force into Woodward.

The maniac tornado hit first at White Deer, a tiny Texas town 45 miles north and west of the panhandle queen city of Amarillo. Riding a black cloud, the storm roared directly up the tracks of the Santa Fe railroad, cutting to the sparsely settled plains—but it skipped over the oil boom city of Pampa. It skirted close to Canadian—a city early reports said was hard hit—then bombed to earth 10 miles away at Glazier. An hour later it plowed into Woodward.

Last rites were conducted in Cisco Saturday afternoon at the First Methodist Church for Mrs. Luther McCrae, who died in a Cisco hospital last Friday at 1:40 p.m.

Rev. Allen A. Peacock, pastor of the Methodist church officiated at the service, interment was in Oakwood cemetery.

Survivors are her husband, Postmaster Luther McCrae, a daughter, Mary, a son, Luther III, and a son by a former marriage, Russell Chandler of Ft. Worth. A sister, Mrs. W. F. Mitchell of Los Angeles, was with her at the time of her passing.

The deceased was Mrs. Roy Chandler before marrying McCrae in 1931. Chandler died in 1929.

SCOUT TRAIL GIVEN NEW, BIGGER SITE

It has been announced by Guy N. Quirl, scout executive of Brownwood, that following a settlement of the Camp Billy Gibbons dispute with Jake Hamon, a new and larger site for the camp has been given to the Comanche Trail by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gibbons, San Saba county rancher and his wife.

Deed to the property will call for 100 acres, "more or less" and the site will border on Brady creek. A survey will be started just as soon as possible.

The land for the camp was given free of all cost and ranges from valley to hills and steep cliffs. It is proposed to build a dam across the creek to create a small lake. The wilderness camp abounds in wild life including deer.

It was stated that aside from the $12,500 given the Trail by Hamon in settlement of the controversy growing out of the uprooting of the old camp, the Trail gained permission to salvage what was left of the buildings. This material will be used in rebuilding the camp on the new site.

The building program calls for a combination mess and assembly hall 100 by 40 feet. A one end of the building will be a first aid room and at the other an office and canteen. It is expected that the camp will be ready for use this summer.

What Price ONE PAIR OF EYES?

EYESIGHT IS PRICELESS LIGHT IS CHEAP!

Those bright, sparkling eyes of childhood! Help them keep their sparkle—their clear, perfect vision. One school child in five has lost part of that sparkle because of defective vision. More than half the people over 35 have eyesight troubles.

Why not conserve precious eyesight by following the three commonsense rules at the right:

- 1 Do all reading, studying, sewing or other visual tasks close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.
- 2 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Use at least a 150-watt bulb.
- 3 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare from eyes.

KARL & BOYD TANNER
 Post No. 4136
 Veterans of Foreign Wars
 Evan Mitchell, Pub. Chm.

Because April 6 of this year fell on Easter Sunday, the President of the United States has proclaimed that Army Day be observed by our people on April 7, and he has encouraged the observance of the week beginning April 6 as Army Week. In his public message, the Chief Executive reminded all Americans that the Army, charged as it is with the promotion of establishing peace and good order in the territories of our defeated enemies and with the responsibility of maintaining this people against aggression, can not do its duty without popular encouragement. He, therefore, urges us to be mindful of our Army's needs, so that our soldiers may lack the means of performing their arduous tasks, and, Mr. Truman charges, "There is no means by which we can better honor our heroic dead than by our support of their living comrades who carry on the mission they so nobly advanced."

Army Day was established by a resolution of the Congress 20 years ago. The date was the anniversary of the entry of the United States in World War I. Packed by orders of organized veterans, the idea of annual proclamation was initiated by the military order of the World War since pluralized by virtue of another world conflict. An organization of commissioned officers who have been the leaders of men in war and who suffered with those men in the sacrifices that had to be made. Army Day 30 years after our joining the fighting forces of democracy in that last effort and while a second world struggle is not yet officially over.

This country of ours and its leadership in the world are being challenged from abroad. We are being attacked from within our own borders. The nation stands at a crossroads, and the turn it will take is in the hands of all of the people. If they choose the easy way and the cheapest course, a proud nation will be on its way to decadence, to live only in the memories of new and mightier nations as a once great power. If they will to continue it as the mightiest of all nations and the freest, they must stand for peace and good will in the world. It will be the hard way, and the costliest, but the decision must be made, and it must be made now.

Instead of sinking our ships of war, or wrapping them in cellophane as a gesture of appeasement to our only presently known potential adversary, they must be fully manned and be maintained as a threat against aggression. Our Army—that noble and grand body of men who dare to conquer and who defied a world at arms—must be continued in adequate strength. An air force that is rotting from disuse and is crying for personnel must be rebuilt. Research and study must be provided for. The Atomic Energy Commission should be dissolved, and the greatest single defensive weapon yet devised should be returned to Army control until other people are willing to trade with us economically and socially on even terms.

We are at the moment having to deal with an ideology that has no place in a republican form of government. Treating with elements that think in terms of the overthrow of this country calls for a law no less drastic than one to check the every and murder, and, if culprits go underground, the further the better because they can then be classed as the revolutionaries that they are. A stern stand in diplomatic relations is not bolstered by disarmament at home.

Adequate defense of the homeland is but common sense and it were best vested in the military. Training of men and maintaining of training facilities, instead of destroying them as we must now do, is far better economy than the costs of actual war; we can train all that are needed for one year for what it cost us in 1945 for three days of conflict.

General "Ike" Eisenhower last week argued for a strong America in troublous times. The conqueror of our European enemies of World War II predicted that no country would immediately and deliberately provoke war with the United States, but he added, "since all wars are stupid, there is danger of war starting stupidly." Before a Senate Committee he said, "We can't fight global war by a committee," and elsewhere he voiced even more prophetic words when he proclaimed, "We must not stand naked and weak before the world. . . . weak ness can not compare with anything; it can only beg."

Our membership drive is coming along smoothly, but we still have quite a way to go to reach our goal by mid-summer. So if you are an overseas veteran don't feel sighed we will eventually get a round to you, even if you don't get around to see us first.

Judge's Blond Mustache Given Up For Dignity

MEXICO CITY (UP)—In the rest of the world clothes may make the man but in Mexico it might be his mustache.

The case in point is that of a new acting supreme court justice, Mariano Ramirez, who is capable only of a light blond mustache.

Ramirez who has practiced law with distinction for more than 20 years, was virtually forced by public opinion to shave the blond mustache of which he was so proud because, his critics said, it made him look too young to be trusted with a seat on the high bench.

When Will You Be Sued -

... is the title of an interesting article appearing in the April 5th issue of The Saturday Evening Post which everybody should read. While the piece was written purely as a news-story, it will undoubtedly have the effect of diverting attention to a more careful study of our insurance needs. Insurance hazards are changing every day, as other things change, and as they do, we might need to revise our insurance setup if we are to buy where the most hazards are, not where they used to be.

Predicts An All Time High In Pipeline Building

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—The magazine "Petroleum Engineer" predicts that 1947 will see an all time high in pipeline construction and expansion and says that most of the development will be in Texas.

Throughout the United States, nearly 20,000 miles of oil and gas lines are either in the planning or construction stages, the magazine says. It estimates the costs at between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

The Federal Power Commission has authorized pipe lines including 3,953 miles of crude oil lines proposed or being built, 1,968 miles of oil products lines and 3,779 miles of natural gas lines. The commission has before it applications for another 9,807 miles of natural gas lines.

OHIO COLLEGE OPENS COURSE IN HOW TO DATE

By Kenneth Ford
United Press Staff Correspondent

BOWLING GREEN, O. (UP)—The learn-as-you-go technique in "dating," according to Dr. Samuel Harman Lowrie, is all wrong. He says this activity demands an intelligent approach.

Dr. Lowrie, chairman of the sociology department of Bowling Green State University here, is doing just that. The gray-haired father of two children introduced a sociology course at Bowling Green this semester devoted entirely to "dating."

The co-educational class is limited to 30 first-year students, giving college credit, which makes it the first of its kind in the country, the instructor believes.

"During the 25 years I have conducted marriage and family classes," Dr. Lowrie said, "the need for fundamental education in 'dating' before young people date, rather than after, has become apparent."

"In discussing marriage before adult groups, I have become aware of an almost unanimous desire for an intelligent approach to helping young people in dating," he said.

Dr. Lowrie further believes the course will aid students in picking a husband or wife.

"Social mingling permits young people to judge and choose among themselves," he explained. "They should realize that love is not the only thing involved in the selection of a life-time partner."

"Marriage for most people is the most important decision of their lives, yet they know little about it. Not much effort has been made to teach young people to choose a bride or bridegroom intelligently."

Dr. Lowrie is writing a textbook on dating problems which he hopes will encourage other universities to establish similar courses.

Pocket Comb Saves 2 Caught In Refrigerator

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP)—Quick thinking saved the lives of a meat cutter and his apprentice, who were trapped in a six by eight foot refrigerator locker for 10 hours.

Cecil Butler, 35, and his helper John Rhodes, 16, were closing up on a Saturday night when the door of the refrigerator accidentally became closed and the inside handle sheared off.

The apprentice, realizing that they probably would freeze if the temperature was not raised, fashioned a point out of his pocket comb and manipulated the thermostat to 50 degrees.

Early the next morning, when a newsboy was delivering Sunday papers, the noise of the trapped workers pounding on the door was heard.

King Helps Pen Pals Get Together

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. (UP)—Two "pen pals," Wallace Abel, Uniontown, Pa., and Kenneth Kirby, Stretford, Manchester, England, have been reunited in correspondence by the King of England.

The pair began exchanging letters in 1939. When the war broke out they both went into service. After his discharge, Abel wrote several letters to Kirby's pre-war address. The letters were returned unopened.

Abel then wrote King George VI at Buckingham Palace. In a few weeks, he received Kirby's serial number and instructions on how to reach him.

MASHPEE, Mass. (UP)—Chief Wild Horse, descended from a long line of Wampanoag Indians in this ancient town, has quit. "For 17 years I've done my best as chief of this tribe," he said, "but I've never been appreciated and I received absolutely no co-operation."

SPOKANE, Wash. (UP)—A butter war between two neighborhood grocers resulted in a housewives' paradise.

William F. Chamberlin, Ft. Worth representative of the Office of the Housing Expediter, that such construction is not permitted under the Veterans' Housing Program.

"An acute housing shortage continues to exist," Chamberlin said. "It is estimated that at the beginning of 1947, more than 2,500,000 families were in the market for homes, and that about 1,000,000 additional families will be in the market during this year. This is in addition to dwellings needed to replace those destroyed by fire, conversion to business uses, demolition for business structures,

Chamberlin pointed out that until there are enough building materials on the market to build the year-round houses needed by veterans and others, it will not be fair to permit a drain on scarce supplies to erect recreational and other luxury-type housing.

Announces Details of $20,000,000 Price Reductions

Details of the recently announced International Harvester policy of making price reductions to save users of our products approximately $20,000,000 a year have now been worked out.

We have reduced prices on 163 models. These cover 12 basic models of farm tractors, 123 basic models of farm machines, 16 basic models of industrial tractors and engines, and 12 models of motor trucks, as well as certain motor truck attachments. The new lower prices are effective as of March 10, 1947.

These reductions were made not because of any decline in demand, but because we believe nothing is more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods people buy.

While prices have not been changed on all products, we have made reductions wherever possible, in the amounts possible. Prices of many of our most popular products have been substantially lowered.

Altogether, more than half of the company's customers will be benefited by the reductions, which range from 1% to 23.8% and from $2.50 to $300 per item, based on list prices, F.O.B. Chicago.

Since the people have demanded that the government withdraw from price control in peacetime, the responsibility to keep prices in check is back where it should be—in the hands of business and industry. The business outlook makes it possible for us to move toward the goal of lower prices, and we have felt a duty to act as promptly as possible.

Our ability to maintain these lower prices will depend on the supply and price of materials we buy from others and on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels.

The prices listed here carry out our announced policy that "Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

THE KITCHEN

Within the last few years more money has been invested in the kitchen than any other room in the house.

The modern kitchen had its beginning in the United States less than twenty-five years ago. At this time, convenience and the elimination of drudgery seemed enough, and drab ugliness was accepted as the inescapable birthright of the kitchen. Later, in a sort of blind devotion to cleanliness and sanitation, kitchens were done like hospitals, in hard and shiny white tile, white walls, white curtains, white ranges, cabinets, and refrigerators, white utensils and dishes. Even now this attitude holds sway in many parts of the country. Compare your own kitchen with your neighbors and I'll wager you will find a similarity even in such minute details as the pattern of the glass curtains, wall paper, and floor covering.

In order to escape this tiresome similarity, try the following changes when you start spring house-cleaning. Never use dark colors on the walls for remember that the lighter the color, the larger the room will appear. As to hue, tints of yellow from pale cream to maize will make the room sunny and cheerful; tones of green will make it cool and restful; apple or any yellow green will make it restful but sunny; and such yellow reds as peach, apricot, or pale salmon will make it warm and cheerful.

As for the floor covering, short, axes of linseed oil have eliminated any choice, so take what you can get. By the time you are able to select patterns, the old rug will be worn out, anyway.

Most kitchens do not have enough cupboard space. In cupboards, narrow shelves are preferable to deep ones which hide things, and if the kitchen is roomy enough, none of the shelves should be so high that a chair or step ladder is needed to reach them.

A kitchen looks nicer and more functional if the dishes that are used daily are placed on open shelves, and the utensils and kettles that are used constantly, hung on walls in a neat row. In a kitchen such as this even a man could prepare a meal without once asking the little woman where she had hidden the skillet or skewer.

The sink must be made the right height for the user, as having it too low or too high might cause a physical injury. It should be large enough to hold a dishpan. Any husband that has washed dishes as often as myself will agree that a double sink is not only a convenience, it is a necessity. All kitchens need at least one wheeled table, if not more. This table can double as a server and work table.

Since everything in the kitchen, except the stove, can be painted, the only excuse for an unattractive kitchen is lack of money to buy a brush and paint.

Mentally Ill Children Cured By Art Study

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (UP)—Many mentally ill children are being cured through creative art, according to Dr. Viktor Lowenfeld, professor of art education at Pennsylvania State College.

The educator said "creative art provides the child with an emotional outlet that very often leads to the cause of the mental handicap."

Once the cause is known, the treatment can be determined and in many cases complete recovery attained.

"Unlike occupational therapy, which is merely a means of divergence for mental cases, creative therapy is a means to a cure," Dr. Lowenfeld said.

Sorrow Shared MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—Peyton Mathis, manager of the Montgomery Marble Works, was commissioned several weeks ago by a young widow to carve on her late husband's monument, "my sorrow is more than I can bear."

Mathis said the widow, wearing a new wedding band, has just had him add the word "alone" to the epitaph.

OLD PAPERS SCORED DANCE AS VULGAR

CLEBURNE, Tex. (UP)—The "Turkey Trot" was classed as a vulgar dance back in 1913 by the International Association of the Masters of Dancing, but the "Tango," "Hesitation Waltz," "Frisby Koo" and "Peacock Glide" were okay if danced with decorum.

This interesting bit of news comes to light from old copies of the Cleburne Enterprise, dug up in an old shed that was being razed back of the Carnegie Library.

The front page advertising practically squeezed all news from that page, but inside the residents of Cleburne were urged to cut their weeds if they expect to "impress others who come to look at Cleburne, a city of 15,000 population."

The advertisements were forceful, to say the least. The new 1914 Buick came complete with Delco electric starter and electric lights while the Davis studio made photographs that show "naturalness, gracefulness and above all a good likeness."

Editorials were forceful, especially a "learned thesis on "Kisses." It explained that a kiss is a wonderful thing. It has separated families, dethroned kings, destroyed nations, caused death, warfare and suicide. The editorial even discussed the sanitary aspects of a kiss.

"Black Cat" hosiery cost 15 cents for school girls to three pairs for $1.00 for the "triner grades."

Hats were big as umbrellas and shoes buttoned up the side and one ad invited readers to see the new Mazda incandescent lamp. A suit of clothes costing $5.00 also was offered.

St. Andrew's Gown Added To Franklin Group

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A cap, gown and hood from St. Andrew's University, Scotland, has been added to the extensive collection of Franklinitiana at the University of Pennsylvania.

The clothing, similar to that worn by Benjamin Franklin when he received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from St. Andrew's was presented to the university in connection with its 1947 four-year's day observance.

The cap, gown and hood were a gift from the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Franklin founded the University of Pennsylvania in 1751.

School For Presidents

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia. (UP)—Coe College has announced a new postgraduate course to provide training for prospective college presidents.

The "internship" will be awarded annually to an outstanding senior, who will work after graduation as assistant to the college president.

Byron S. Hollinshead, Coe president, said there was little opportunity for training in college administration. He pointed out that most college presidents drift into their jobs from unrelated positions as lawyers, preachers or teachers.

Says Britain Trails On Flying Wing

HAWTHORNE, Cal. (UP)—The British hold world speed records and are pacing jet engine development, but they are trailing the United States in research on flying wing airplanes, England's "catman" pilot said here.

Former RAF pilot John Cunningham, who earned the "cat" man nickname because of his apparent ability to see at night, told Haviland Aircraft in England.

pilots and engineers at Northrop Aircraft Co. that the British still are in the planning stage on a 90,000-pound flying wing.

Cunningham examined the enormous flying wing B-35 bombers built here for overload gross weights of more than 105 tons. His visit was for a conference with engineers on such designs. He now is chief test pilot for De-

Firemen Make Good FRANKLIN, Pa. (UI)—The fire department hurried to a burning barn on the farm of Paul Rice, but were too late to save it. Eight hours later after using lumber Polk had bought for a new home, the firemen stood back and admired the new barn they had built.
