Burleson Opposes Oleo Taxes In House Speech

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 9, 1948 — Congressman Omar Burleson today appeared before the House Agriculture Committee to make known his opposition to existing discriminatory taxes and prohibitions presently in existence on the sale and distribution of oleomargarine.

"The levies on oleomargarine by the Federal Government," stated Mr. Burleson, "are the only directly placed taxes and restrictions on one product to keep down its production and sale for the benefit of a rival product. Science has shown that the nutritional value of oleomargarine, having as its principal ingredients cottonseed and soybean oils, is equal to or better than that found in butter. The lobby of the big corporate dairy interests of the New England and Midwest States has been so powerful that oleomargarine cannot be used by the armed forces or in our Federal hospitals and institutions. The repeal of these taxes and restrictions would result in an annual saving of five or six million dollars to the families of our Country, and over 80 million woman-hours per year to the housewife. The cotton grower cannot effectively compete with the dairy interest so long as the latter has a Federal protection through taxation and limitation. It is ridiculous that we would allow a restraint on one industry for the sole benefit of a single powerful, selfish group."

He hoped that Mrs. Meo could aid them in discovering what caused the crash.

Officials of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the Delta Airlines searched through the wreckage of the four-engined craft today for a clue.

Guards were posed around the wreck to keep away crowds. Snow fell over the mass of smoke blackened metal from the same light snow storm that had just started when the plane crashed.

Charles S. Cheleden, attorney and executor said "so far as we have been able to ascertain, the sister, if alive, is now in Lithuania and under Russian control." He added that it would be up to the the orphan court here to decide whether any of the money would go to her.

The Low Last Night Was 9 Above Zero

A check-up on local weather this morning revealed that last night the temperature reached a low of 9 above zero. Clearing skies this morning started temperatures climbing, but up to noon they had not climbed any great amount.

No damage was reported early this morning to automobiles, plumbing, etc. but some was predicted as soon as the weather moderated sufficiently for them to show up.

STEWARDESS DIES TRYING TO SAVE CHILD

By United Press

CHICAGO—Officials said today that a beautiful blonde stewardess died vainly attempting to save the life of a child aboard her Delta DC-4 airliner last night when the big plane crashed and killed 12 of its 13 passengers and crew members.

Rescue workers who pulled the bodies of the crash victims from the burning wreckage found seven-year-old Alfred Meo, Jr., clasped in the arms of Stewardess Sue Young, 26, of Fayetteville, N. C.

Officials believed that Miss Young clasped the youngster in her arms when the plane faltered in taking off from the Chicago Municipal Airport.

Alfred's mother, Mrs. Tripolino Meo, was the sole survivor of the crash. She was in critical condition at Holy Cross Hospital. Doctors said she was still unconscious but expressed hope that she would recover.

Civil Aeronautic officials said the fact that Miss Young attempted to save the child indicated that passengers may have known something was wrong with the plane.

They hoped that Mrs. Meo could aid them in discovering what caused the crash.

Officials of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the Delta Airlines searched through the wreckage of the four-engined craft today for a clue.

Guards were posed around the wreck to keep away crowds. Snow fell over the mass of smoke blackened metal from the same light snow storm that had just started when the plane crashed.

Deal Pending For Sale Of Eastland Business Firm

A local business deal, pending at this time, is one in which Pearson Grimes and E. M. Grimes, brothers, the former of Eastland and the latter of East Texas, are purchasing the business of the Linkenhogger Truck and Tractor, owned and operated by W. W. Linkenhogger. The deal, it is understood, includes the buildings and stock of merchandise owned by Linkenhogger.

Pearson Grimes stated that the deal is in the making and that he saw no reason why it should not be completed.

Mr. Linkenhogger, so far as this newspaper knows, has not announced his plans for the future should the deal with Grimes be consummated and neither has Grimes announced his future plan for the business.

Bars "Uncle Joe" Stalin From Sharing Estate

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Kazimir Skirvainis, 63, wanted a sister in Lithuania to share in his $10,000 estate, but he wanted to make sure that none of it went to "Uncle Joe Stalin."

Skirvainis will, filed for probate here, directed that his estate be divided between his sister, Anna, in Lithuania, and a brother and another sister here. However, the will provided that it Anna "resides within any political subdivision of Soviet Russia," the estate would be divided between the brother and sister living here.

Charles S. Cheleden, attorney and executor said "so far as we have been able to ascertain, the sister, if alive, is now in Lithuania and under Russian control." He added that it would be up to the the orphan court here to decide whether any of the money would go to her.

J. B. WILLIAMS, who is a candidate for re-election as sheriff of Eastland County.

J. B. Williams Announces For Re-Election

J. B. Williams, who is serving his first term as Eastland county sheriff, has announced his candidacy for re-election and has issued the following statement:

To The People of Eastland County:

For your cooperation and for the privilege of serving you as your Sheriff in the past year I am deeply grateful. It has been my purpose to enforce the law fairly and impartially, alike to all.

In my dealings with boys and first offenders, I have tried to be as lenient as my oath of office would permit, and have used my best efforts in trying to assist each of them to lead a better life, and not to violate the law again.

During the time that I have been in office, I have had the opportunity to and have attended the schools conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Texas Department of Public Safety, and the A&M College, Extension Service, that were held in Eastland, for Eastland County and Police officers of the other towns in the County. I feel that the experience that I have had, along with this added schooling, has better fitted me to serve you as your Sheriff.

If you feel that my record is such to merit my election to a second term, I will greatly appreciate your vote and influence in the coming Primary.

BELOW ZERO TEMPERATURES IN PANHANDLE; COAST HIT

A blizzard tumbled temperatures to below zero in numerous Texas Panhandle towns today and left most of the state in the grip of one of the coldest waves for March in the history of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Texas.

The storm, which brought untold suffering to the mid-west as it rolled southward toward the Gulf, struck across the Panhandle yesterday and last night.

From El Paso east to Abilene, however, the low-flying clouds that dumped snow and sleet on early crops was reported breaking up and weather forecasters said there was a chance of the sun breaking through by this afternoon.

Temperatures early today dropped to five below at Pampa, the state's lowest, while Amarillo shivered under a two below reading and Clarendon was an even zero.

Three Eastland Lions, Dr. W. S. Poe, Dr. L. C. Brown, and Donald L. Kinnaird, who have been members of the Eastland club for 25 years, were honored at a meeting of Lions and their wives Tuesday night.

D. T. Botes of Breckenridge, Lions International counselor, gave the address presenting the awards. Responses were made by Lions Poe and Kinnaird, expressing appreciation for the honors extended.

Lion President, Theo Lamb read a letter from Dr. L. C. Brown, who is in a hospital in Ft. Worth for a medical check-up, in which he expressed his regrets at not being able to attend the meeting and expressed his appreciation of the honor being bestowed upon him.

Visitors were introduced and included Lion Pual Williams of Breckenridge, a 25-year lion of Breckenridge.

Lion Herbert Tanner introduced the lionesses present and President Lamb, at the beginning of the program, introduced Miss Veda Myrl Sneed, sweetheart of the Eastland Lion's club, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Sneed.

Masons To Have Chilli Supper At Meeting Tonight

District Deputy Grandmaster Judge C. C. Calloway of Cisco, will address a meeting of Eastland Masonic Lodge No. 467 at a meeting tonight at 7:00 o'clock.

Only three cities where the Weather Bureau maintained a station reported above freezing temperatures early today.

The storm interrupted transportation at Amarillo and Pampa where trains and buses were stalled because of snow drifts and slippery roads.

Traffic was fighting through in the Lubbock area but highways were described slick and dangerous and travel was recommended only in case of emergencies.

Roads also were described as slick and dangerous in the Big Spring and Abilene areas.

Henry Bell, executive secretary of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, said in Fort Worth that no great losses were expected on the ranges but that there undoubtedly would be some. He said that the most critical situation was in the Panhandle where cattle had little protection.

Winds that whipped as high as 25 miles an hour last night across the south plains and Panhandle dwindled early today to 10 to 15 miles an hour. Weather officials said, however, that no relief from the cold wave was in sight for the next 36 hours at least.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials said that "severe damage may have been done to wheat and other small grains in areas which had no protective covering of snow."

Corn had not been planted in areas of the state where the freeze hit hardest, the officials said, because of the wet weather of the last month.

Amarillo and several other cities were cut off from telephone communication today when snow and high winds whipped telephone lines from the poles.

Head Aches - Sinus

We think very little about them perhaps, and yet they are very often the warning signals of some disease which is developing within our bodies.

Chiropractic
 is the Health Science that has been most successful and which immediately goes to the cause of those headaches. In many cases it halts the progress of dangerous disease.

This Patient Says:

"I had headaches all my life and for the last 15 years I would have the sick headache. There would be a period of about two days that I could not eat. I had sinus trouble for 2 years. My head and ears would hurt so badly that I would be forced to stay in bed. I had a stroke of paralysis which affected the right side of my body. I visited a Specific Chiropractor and discussed my case with him. He made a three-day examination on me, making x-ray pictures, and neurocalo-meter nerve checks. He recommended a health service plan to me. Today I can truthfully say that I am not bothered with headaches nor sinus trouble. I owe Chiropractic all the credit. The only effects I can tell from the paralysis is a slight numbness in my hand and fingers. Chiropractic is the true way to good health.

Where Do We Go From Here?
... would be a hard question to answer if asked by a family whose house has burned down or has been blown away by a tornado. There are few, if any, houses to rent, and who wants to pay present market prices to build a home? Even though one has enough insurance to cover the loss, the situation is still tragic, but not as tragic as that of the poor fellow who had no insurance at all. Are you insured?

AMERICAN INDUSTRY URGED TO CONFORM TO MODERN TEMPO

CHICAGO (UP)—An industrialist warns that American industry must modernize more rapidly to avoid the "technological decline" which now plagues Great Britain and France.

William J. Kelly, president of the Machinery and Allied Products Institute, said in an institute report that production facilities in the United States have been wearing out faster since 1930 than they have been replaced.

The report, based on a study of 25 British industries, places most of the blame for production difficulties there on the use of "mechanical antiquities and outmoded production methods."

Kelly said many national policies have been adopted in the United States which are "incompatible with the maintenance of a dynamic and expanding economy."

"Until we reverse these practices," he said, "America will have alarming symptoms of a technological decline similar to that which has overtaken England and France."

The young people of the Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Seventeen children and their sponsors were present. Sandwiches and cold drinks were served at the close of the meeting. All Young people are welcome.

American workers, the report much as British workers, largely because of superior equipment.

The report pointed out that more than half the equipment in use in large segments of British industry was installed before World War I.

"We have seen both management and labor obsessed with a passion for 'security' and 'stability,'" the report said of Great Britain.

"We have seen a tax system inimical to enterprise and adventure... And finally we see in Britain the logical sequence—intervention of the state."

"The parallels between America and Britain are too close for comfort. We are by no means immune to the degenerative processes that have sapped the vitality of industry overseas."

Kelly said the report was not issued to disparage England "but to examine and learn from her experience."

worth $5,000 to some breeder. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has long sponsored an increased egg production program to encourage the breeding of better layers. The average hen in the United States in 1938 laid 100 eggs a year. The average hen in 1947 laid 153 eggs, an increase of 53 per cent.

The chicken of tomorrow has a similar purpose. It is sponsored by poultry dealers to find a better meat-producing chicken for American farms. The contest began a year ago when elimination contests were held in all states.

The eggs that went into the incubators today arrived on Feb. 28 from 25 states—Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Missouri, Kansas, California, Oregon, Washington, North Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio.

In three weeks the chicks will be removed from incubators. The best 400 from each breeder will be selected for the brooder house. At the end of 12 weeks, the growing period for fryers, the birds will be taken to the butcher.

There the final judging will take place on June 21-23.

While the goal is a chicken with bigger drumsticks, more white meat and a minimum of bone, the judges will consider other factors in determining the winner. The birds will be rated for growth, hatchability—the percentage of the breeder's 720 eggs producing good stock—feathering and mortality. The parent flocks already have been checked for egg production.

The $5,000 grand prize will go to the breeder whose parent flock produced the best birds.

Dewey H. Termohlen, chief of the Department of Agriculture's poultry branch, said the contest "will revolutionize the poultry industry within the next five years."

Bird Of Tomorrow Sought In Better Chicken Contest

EASTON, Md. (UP) — The search for the chicken of tomorrow, a meat bird with a broad breast and heavy drumsticks, entered the final stages here today when 28,800 eggs from 40 breeders were placed in identical incubators. From them it is hoped will come a super-chick that will be

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Ben's Bride Gets Chickenhearted

Ben Ryder was mighty proud of his young bride when she offered to care for his new flock of baby chicks. "Just like a mother with her brood," he boasts.

Then came market time for fryers—and the crisis! Sue simply wouldn't let Ben near her chickens with an axe. She'd raised them as babes... she'd named them... they were her very own!

Ben poured himself a glass of beer, to think things over sensibly. He hated to lose the price on fryers... but he figured Sue had put up with his peculiarities, he guessed he could put up with her fondness for the chickens.

So now Ben has the nicest brood of laying hens in town, and from where I sit, one of the most successful marriages, too. All because he "lived-and-let-live"—literally. And whenever he wants fried chicken, he takes his bride over to Andy's Garden Tavern for a crisp wing and a glass of beer.

EXALTATION

It's like going up in a ferris wheel, being flown into space... catching one's breath in delicious, prickling sensation... As if one were standing perfectly still, suspended in space... with all the free, cool air in the world swirling about one's ears...

To experience the exaltation that comes to every human heart a few times in life:

- When love answers love.
- When life beats back death by only a few, dreadful moments.
- When a baby is born.
- When success comes.
- When victory triumphs.
- When one rises on one's dead self to higher things.
- When majestic music plucks the strings of one's heart.
- When human eyes meet human eyes in understanding.
- When like finds like.
- When moonlight, mixed with a mocking bird's notes, falls on the hair of the beloved.
- Exaltation.
- The elixir of life, distilled.

Fire House Burns; So Do Firemen

NESCOPECK, Pa. (UP)—The faces of the volunteer firemen of Nescopeck were red. Fire broke out in the town firehouse while nine firemen were in the building.

Prevented by thick smoke from entering the basement where the blaze was centered, they were forced to flee the building. To add insult to injury, when they rolled out the fire truck, they found the nearest fire plug frozen.

Resignedly they called in three fire companies from nearby Berwick.

Mrs. R. S. Rodgers and Mrs. J. W. McKee of Lubbock were recent Eastland visitors. Mrs. Rodgers visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles C. Farg and Mrs. McKee visited her sister, Mrs. Omar O. Mickle and family, and were here to attend the tea Saturday at the Woman's club announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Nan Mickle.

SHOTGUN WEDDINGS OF MINORS BLASTED BY JUDGE PANKEN

By Leo Turner
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Judge Jacob Panken, the stormy petrel of the New York City Domestic Relations Court, charges that parents who force under-age daughters to marry their seducers are guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The white-haired, 69-year-old veteran of 30 years on the bench blasted both parents and marriage license clerks who issue licenses to youngsters who are obviously lying about their age.

Panken said a man who abandons a child-wife after she has a baby is responsible for the support of her and the child, but the young wife should be taken into custody as a delinquent.

Panken delivered a blistering rebuke when a man and his wife appeared with their 15-year-old daughter and her baby to ask for a subpoena for her 24-year-old husband on an abandonment charge.

"This little girl, who is the mother of another little girl, is now only 15 years of age," Panken said. "She gave birth to a child, a little girl, when she was 14 years old."

"Under the laws of this state, no child under the age of 16 can enter into a relationship, based on marriage, without first obtaining the consent of a justice of the children's court."

"She was married in the state of New Jersey. How the authorities in New Jersey could possibly believe that this baby was 18 years of age is beyond comprehension. However, they did; and the marriage ceremony, which was a parody upon the sanctity of what a marriage ceremony should be, was gone through."

Panken said it "evidently was apparent that the man consented to marry the little girl, not because he loved her or had any regard at all for her, but only for the purpose of escaping prosecution for rape in the second degree." Her parents could not expect the marriage to last.

Panken, a frequent candidate on the Socialist ticket for mayor, governor and United States senator, said the girl was entitled to support for herself and her baby. He said, however, that she was that rooms for 200 more girls would be available June 1.

They Did Their Work But Try To Collect!

MINDEN, Neb. (UP)—Two Minden high school boys played hookey after a snow storm to make money shoveling walks.

They finished one job and went to get their pay. "I'm sorry, boys," the housewife said. "I haven't any money here. You'll have to collect from my husband."

Her husband was C. L. Jones superintendent of the high school.
