SPORTS

Sports events are shaping up in the area at a rapid pace. Here in Eastland Fire Chief Hennessee states that the softball season for local Firemen's Field, will get under way within two or three weeks possibly. At a meeting recently of the volunteer firemen, who's organization sponsors the softball games, it was voted to do quite a bit of improvement on the grand stands at Firemen's Field and to completely rebuild the concessions stands.

The Eastland team of the Brazos Valley baseball league has been practicing evenings for two weeks and are getting in condition and anxious to play some contest games. They will meet Dublin here Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock for the first, but unofficial game of the present season.

The Strawn Flyers baseball team of the Brazos Valley League will open its season in a game with Camp Hood at Strawn at 3:00 p. m., Sunday. Camp Hood is reported to have a fine club and Strawn will be fielding the fastest team it can, featuring at second base Hayden "Stub" Greer, former manager of the Abilene Blue Sox of the West Texas League.

The Mineral Wells Annual Invitation Golf Tournament will be held at the Mineral Wells Golf and Country Club on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 6, 7, 8, 9, qualifying Thursday with 36-hole finals Sunday. The course, greens and fairways are said to be in the best condition of any time in the history of the club. Special entertainment will be provided for the ladies.

Eastland appears to be backing their team in the Brazos Valley baseball league 100 per cent, which of course is one of the requisites for any good team. Plans are now being made to place a top over the grand stands at Firemen's Field which will add to the comfort of those attending afternoon games.

The management of the Eastland baseball club is well pleased with the number of boys coming out for tryouts and practice. They are in need of still others, however, and any and all boys desiring a "tryout" are invited to show up at the grounds at practice time or contact the management.

At a recent meeting of members of the Ranger Country Club, A. N. Larson was named general chairman for the coming annual invitation golf tournament to be held in Ranger at a date yet to be set.

Army Sending Troops To Alaska

WASHINGTON, Apr. 16, (UP)—The Army moved today to bolster its defenses at Russia's backdoor by ordering some 8,000 ground troops to Alaska.

At the same time, it denied recurring reports of Soviet air and sea activity in and around the peninsula. It said the newly-ordered shift of combat troops, anti-aircraft units and other ground forces to Alaska is designed only to "balance" U. S. strength there. The 8,000 soldiers involved in the Alaskan move are 7,000 fewer than the "minimum defense" urged on Congress recently by Gen. Omar M. Bradley, army chief of staff.

DETROIT, (Apr. 16, (UP)—General Motors Corp. announced today that it will close all its automobile fabricating plants, idling 200,000 workers, by April 23 because of the effects of the coal strike.

GM said it was running out of pig iron and steel supplies as a result of the coal strike but that its automotive assembly plants would remain in operation "as long as available material permits."

In a statement the corporation said that the foundries, machine shops and press rooms in all automotive divisions will be closed by the night of April 23.

"It is hoped that receipts of material will permit the resumption of operations in these fabricating plants by May 1," GM said.

OHIO RIVER THREATENS HOMES IN FIVE STATES

By United Press Flooding rivers and streams rushed toward high crests today and left 22,000 persons homeless in eight states.

The most critical situation was along the mighty Ohio river which was pouring a huge crest downstream and endangering thousands of homes in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, and Indiana.

The Suwanee, made famous by Stephen Foster's song, went higher as new rains fell near Tallahassee, Fla.

Hundreds were driven from their homes in Minnesota and North Dakota as the Red River hit its highest level in 51 years. The rise appeared to be slackening today. The Snake River reached its highest crest since 1879 at Grand Forks and flooded basements at Alvarado, Minn.

Wheeling, W. Va., was hit hardest, with 10,000 of the city's residents forced to take shelter in schools and with friends. Most of the persons rendered homeless lived on Wheeling Island. Only 40 per cent of the islands 10,000 residents stayed in their homes today.

Bogota Workers End Strike

BOGOTA, Apr. 16, (UP)—Bogota workers ended their week-long general strike today, but the unburied corpse of the assassinated Jorge Eliecer Gaitan blocked the attempts to restore political tranquility.

The widow of Gaitan until the president resigned brought a dead-end.

The shooting appeared to be over, although another man was killed last night by a sniper three blocks from the American embassy.

A major part of the Capitolio, the meeting place of the Inter-American conference, was ready for use. But the government appeared hesitant about bringing the visiting delegates back downtown until the Gaitan issue was settled. Instead the conference went on after a fashion in the suburbs. The delegates, in view of what had happened here, were going through an unreal performance which had all the earmarks of just a face-saving gesture.

Reports of Russian Rumble Put Iran in the News Again

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Little Iran—that made big Soviet Russia back down and get out a couple of years ago—is in the news again.
The Iranian government complains that the Communists are still agitating in Azerbaijan and that rebels are being permitted to organize across the border in Russia.

Moscow calls this a fairy story and in reply objects to the presence of 40 U. S. Army officers and enlisted men in Iran. They're there at Iran's invitation. Seventeen officers and eight enlisted men under Major-General Grow are there to train the Iranian army of 100,000 men. Eight officers and six enlisted men under Brigadier-General Schwarzkopf, former head of New Jersey state police, are there to train the Iranian constabulary.

The agreements call for ending these missions in March, 1949. But the Russians say it's more American imperialism and a threat to Iran's independence.

All this serves as a reminder that the Iranian question is still on the UN Security Council agenda. One of the questions most frequently asked about the UN is why it hasn't been as successful in dealing with the Greek, Korean or Czechoslovakian cases as it was in the first great test case over Russian interference in Iran?

The inference is that the UN has lost its grip. That isn't necessarily so. Conditions are different today. Two years ago the Russians hadn't perfected the cold war technique of taking over governments by political, rather than military force. They were up against a definite treaty obligation to get their troops out of Iran.

American, British and Red Army troops got into Iran during the war to run a lend-lease supply line from the Persian Gulf to Russia.
The agreement was they'd all get out within six months after the end of the war. U. S. troops were all out in January, 1946. The British were out by the deadline, March 1. The Red Army stayed.
The now-familiar Communist build-up began against Iran in July, 1945. Russia demanded reform of the reactionary Iranian government.

Iran complained to the Security Council, holding its first meeting in London. Russian Ambassador Gromyko tried to get the matter set aside till April 10. He was voted down, 9 to 2. That was when Gromyko took his famous walk.

In the Iranian case, Gromyko was stalling for time. What he was waiting for was conclusion of treaty negotiations between Moscow and Teheran governments. Russia wanted control of the Iran government and permission to keep troops in Iran. Also, Russia wanted oil rights. To get around the clear treaty obligation that Russian troops be out of Iran by March 1, Gromyko told the UN that the Red Army would be out by May 6. By that time, Gromyko hoped there would be a treaty permitting Russian troops to stay.

What the Iranians finally agreed to, on April 7, however, was formation of a Russian-Iranian oil company. It was to be 51 per cent owned by Russia for the first 25 years; 50 per cent for the second 25.
As soon as the treaty was concluded, Iran withdrew her complaint against Russia before the UN. There was another battle in the Security Council as to whether the Iranian case should be dropped from the agenda. Russian troops weren't yet out of Azerbaijan. Again Gromyko boycotted. Again he was voted down. So the case is still before the UN.

On May 20, 1946, Iran reported to the Security Council that Russian troops had left as of May 6. Iranian troops moved into Azerbaijan and set up provincial government.

Though the Russians thought they had won on the oil deal, last October the Iranian Parliament refused to ratify the treaty, 102-to-2.
That left the Russians completely out in the cold. But in the light of recent developments, they do not consider the case closed.

Scout Says Braves' Dark Has Bad Hands, Fumbles Too Much

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla.—(NEA)—Several smart baseball men are not yet convinced that Alvin Dark, whom the Braves paid $45,000 for signing, belongs at shortstop.

Jewel Ens, the old Pittsburgh infielder, who saw altogether too much of Blackie Dark as his Syracuse club was edged by Milwaukee in the Little World Series last fall, was first to point out that the Louisiana State Lollipop did not impress him as a natural shortstop.

"He can't miss winding up as one of the great players of the game," says Ens, "but I am not sure he will attain that end as a shortstop."
Now comes Patsy O'Rourke, the Cardinal shortstop of 40 years ago who managed in the minors and is currently keeping track of athletes for the White Sox. O'Rourke won early renown putting poor Bugs Raymond in his place by hitting him in back of one ear with a stuz-sized spittoon.

"I saw a good deal of Dark in the American Association last season, and don't like him as an infielder," says O'Rourke, bluntly. "He has bad hands, fumbles too much."

Dark, who stood out in a Triple A league in his first full season, is the key man in the Boston Nationals' plans, but O'Rourke insists that tall Virgil Stallcup of the Reds is right now the shortstop Billy Southworth hopes the four-letter man from Baton Rouge will turn out to be.

RED STALLCUP draws fresh raves daily—in the field and at bat.
"We'll see plays at shortstop that weren't made last season," says
the veteran Augie Galan of the Redlegs.

That could be nothing but a backhanded slap at Eddie Miller, who talked himself from Cincinnati to Philadelphia. The Reds say that the easy Miller experienced difficulty making the long throw from deep short after going far to his right last trip. He deliberately backhanded the ball, made no attempt to throw, let it go as a base hit.

Warren Giles drafted Stallcup from the Sox's Louisville branch in November, 1946.

They called the six-foot 2 1/4-inch, 175-pound Scotch-Irishman the slickest fielding shortstop in years in the International League in 1947, and he batted .338, so there are early indications that the affluent Red Sox let another get away. They sold Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers, it will be recalled.

As a bonus player, Dark starts with two strikes on him. An athlete given a substantial sum for his signature before establishing himself in organized baseball has yet to stick out in the major leagues.

of Her Own, High School Auditorium April 22, 23 at 7:45.

BETTY HARKRIDER HAS A SNAPPY COMEBACK FOR SHIRLEY She really puts her on the "ice." She says she hasn't had so much fun since the hogs ate her Uncle John. Come on April 22, 23 and see why she has so much fun.

JAN SPALDING, AN ECCEN-TRIC OLD MAID, LOVES BIRDS
INSTEAD OF MEN See the radical change that has come over her at the senior play on the 22 or 23 of April at the High School Auditorium.

DON HART ROWS ACROSS
THE LAKE TO SHOW HIS MANLY STRENGTH ??? He is a "wonderful" dancer (he thinks) and he really has a way with the women but it is the wrong way. See the funny situation and his dancing in the play on April 22, 23.

SHIRLEY FRAZER GOES FRENCH ON US She really has
the men falling for her (except

one) and she "falls for him. See her "fall" at the senior play on April 22, 23 at the high school
auditorium.

JAUNITA DUFFIELD GETS
THE TREATMENT INTENDED
FOR SHIRLEY Be sure to come to see Jaunita get herself just
"white all over."
This concludes the cast of characters but as you can see it is a good cast so be sure to be here
see it.

THE SENIOR PLAY PRODUCTION

In addition to a fine cast the senior play this year has one of the finest production staffs ever to produce a play in E. H. S.
These are the people who really make the production a success; if the senior play is half the success that we think it is going to be you can credit that success to the promoters, the director, the stage managers, the make-up artists, and those in charge of the stage setting, as well as to the cast for they have really made the play possible with their efforts.

THE DIRECTORS

Mrs. Harold Durham is directing the play this year and the people of Eastland know from past experience that she is one of the best directors in this section of our state. Mrs. Durham is well-known in Eastland for in addition to her ability as a director she is also principal of South Ward
and a member of the State Tex-Book Committee. We are all indebted to Mrs. Durham for taking some of her very valuable time to direct this play.

THE PROMPTERS

The prompters this year are none other than Merrie Dawn Warren and Mary Wit. They are there on the job to see that no one misses his cues or lines and to see that all is in readiness.
These two girls are the best prompters in the state and we are all glad that we were lucky enough to have them help us.

MAKE-UP ARTISTS

This year Mr. and Mrs. Earl Francis were kind enough to take charge of the make-up again. They have also helped us in the past so we know the fine work that they do. We are indeed in luck to have them here in Eastland to help us make each member of the cast really look the part he is playing.

THE STAGE MANAGERS

When they were talking about stage-managers, the seniors wanted the best they could get and the best they got. The manager is none other than James Hardwick and his assistants are Roy Laie and Jack Horn. These boys see that the stage is set and in readiness before each act and they also help see that the stage is a-ranged. Working with them on the set are Mrs. Pickens and Mrs.
Ernst. They are going to have on of the prettiest, most rustic stage settings that they have ever had in a summer cottage near a lake and it is going to be very pretty. Be sure to come to see the stage setting that these five have arranged; and you, too will see that it truly is one of the prettiest
we have ever had.

With a production staff like this you can readily see that this is going to be an event that you won't want to miss.

THE SOPHOMORE SPOTLIGHT

This week the sophomore spotlight shines on one of the teachers of "dear ole' E. H. S." If you go down to room 21 you will find her, Miss Morehart, sponsor of the sophomore class. Miss More-hart has blonde hair and also 1 blue eye and 1 brown eye. She is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 140 pounds.

For food she chooses hamburgers, coffee, and strawberry short cake.

For a subject she likes to teach is Spanish. As a favorite movie she takes "Les Misirables." For an actor he takes Gary Cooper and as

Her hobby is taking pictures and as a pastime she chooses gardening and fishing. She takes blue for her favorite color and you should see her in it, Boy!

In the musical world she chooses Tchaikowsky's "Violin Concerts" played by Nathan Milstein as her favorite classical piece. As a popular piece she takes "Remember Me" by T. Texas Tyler.
As for a band she chooses Fred Warring's and as an orchestra she takes the Boston Symphony Orchestra. For her favorite singer she would take Bing Crosby any day.

Last but not least, for her man
she chooses "the man in the moon."

Let's all join the sophomore class in wishing Miss Morehart, their sponsor, the best of luck in the world.

Yea Sophomores !!!

THE BAND

If any of you had been at school at 6:30 a.m. Friday, April 2, you would have seen two busloads of the Senior Band students
leave for their contest in Abilene.
However, I hardly expect that so I will give you an account of the trip.

Mr. Atwood was on the first bus and Mrs. Harris and Mrs.
Young were on the second bus.
We arrived at Abilene High School about 8:30 and we had time to hear the Merkel Band play before we went to the warm-up room.

We went directly from the warm-up room to the stage. I think everyone was scared and I know we hit some wrong notes.
After we had played our three contest numbers which were,
"Normal," "The Argonaut," and
"Intrigued," we went back into the audience and heard some more bands play.

At noon we went down town to eat. After we had eaten we went back to the high school and watched some twirling contestants. Then we heard the Abilene
High Orchestra and San Angelo High Orchestra. Then they announced division each of the contest bands had received. The Eastland High Band won First Division by unanimous vote. Snyder High School was also in First Division.

Yea E.H.S. Band!

THE BAND BANQUET AND DANCE

Friday was day for celebrating for the band, and so it was a good day for their annual band banquet. Afterward they went to the gym and danced.

The banquet was held in the high school cafeteria. All senior band members were there. The cafeteria and gym were decorated with a red and black scheme.
Large black and red notes were everywhere and the place cards
were the instruments of each individual player. There were pretty flowers on the tables and the food was wonderful.

The menu of fried chicken, potatoes, peas, gravy, rolls, tea, a pear salad, and the desert was cake and ice cream. Everyone had all they wanted and had a good time.

FATHER JIM

Last Saturday at the Teen Canteen there were new records to listen to. They were all good and everyone danced. There was a large crowd.

The entire program was dancing for the evening, but different ideas have been found for the future. Lovell Paul and Zella Sandler from Cisco are on the entertainment committee.

See you next week!

HOMEMAKING NEWS

The first of the week the H. M.
girls continued their study on color harmony. On Thursday and Friday we clipped pictures illustrating the types of neck lines
most becoming and unbecoming on different girls. Then we pasted them on paper and made notes.
We had a very small class as several of the girls were band members and went to Abilene last Friday. On Monday they began on their dresses of bright materials
for summer.

Eastland County Towns & Communities

(Editor's Note—The following is taken from the forthcoming book, "History of Eastland County," By Ed T. Cox.)
CISCO CONTINUED
 The First Baptist Church to be organized in the Western part of Eastland County seems to have been Red Gap Baptist Church in 1879 when Reverends C. G. Stephens and W. B. Cobb called together the adherents of that faith in the vicinity of Red Gap and organized Red Gap Baptist Church. It is said that this organization took place in a little log house which stood near the Western boundary of the Cisco Cemetery. In 1881, with the coming of the railroads and the establishment of the town of Cisco the church moved its meeting place to the little long school house, used for all public meetings at the time. About this time a division arose in the church and the Cisco Baptist Church was organized; the Red Gap body retaining its organization for a few years before its demise.

In 1882 the church became a chartered institution with W. D. Chandler; R. Smith; and I. P. Swindell as trustees. This charter was renewed in 1932, as fifty years is a long to the writer as in so far as is known to the writer this is the only church organization in this section of the State that is conducted in this way.
 Following the reception of the charter the church acquired a lot at the corner of Ave E. and 9th street where, with the help of the Baptist Missionary Society, a church house was erected which served it as a place of worship until its destruction by a cyclone in 1893.
 Its next home was probably erected in the latter part of 1893 and enlarged in 1908 and 1910. In 1923 this building was destroyed by fire, but prior to this time the foundation of a new building had been laid but on which construction had been halted on account of financial difficulties.

However, the congregation was determined and the present magnificent building was completed, furnished, and occupied in November of 1927 at a cost of $125,000 after "Much hard work and sacrificial giving," by its members.
 The Church has been served by the following pastors:
 C. G. Stephens, 1878-1883;
 L. S. Knight, 1884-1886;
 No report as to, 1887-1889;

 The church membership has varied from 26 when organized to 310, probably its peak, in 1933.

HITLER'S EX-ENEMY TURNS TO DEFENSE OF 'LITTLE NAZIS'

By Robert Haeger
United Press Staff Correspondent
WIESBADEN, Ger. (UP)—A German nobleman who tried three times to kill Adolf Hitler is defending Nazis for a living now.

The reformed assassin is scholarly, 40-year old Fabian von Schalbrendorff, a local lawyer who pleads the cause of Hitler's followers in denazification courts.

According to American intelligence officers, he is the "outstanding survivor" of the thousands involved in the abortive July 20, 1944, bomb plot in Hitler's life. Earlier, he was embroiled in two other assassination schemes which misfired.

In an interview, Von Schalbrendorff calmly analyzed his attempts to liquidate the Fuehrer and pointed out how chance or bad planning had ruined each.

Heated conviction replaced the scholarly approach as he discussed the "false" American system of denazification. He claimed it has degenerated into "renazification."

Waving a curved, foot-long briar pipe for emphasis, Von Schalbrendorff charged the Americans have gone "much too far" in their political clean-up.

"It is not right to prosecute every small follower," he said.

Therefore, the lawyer explained he voluntarily devotes at least one third of his time to defending the supporters of the man he tried to kill.

The soft-spoken lawyer conceded he is alive to do so only because the Nazis were foolish enough to execute the only persons who knew of his connection with the July 20 affair before bringing him to trial in the notorious Peoples Court in Berlin.

After being tried four times, he was freed for lack of evidence, Von Schalbrendorff related. That did not stop the Gestapo, however. They ordered his execution by a firing squad, anyway.

"While in jail I had to sign a receipt for my death warrant," the Prussian-born attorney said laconically.

Before it could be carried out, he was rescued by American troops at Innsbruck, Austria, while en route between concentration camps.

Von Schalbrendorff, who served as a Russia-to-Berlin courier in the affair, is critical of the mechanics of the July 20 plot. Although the planted bomb nearly blew Hitler out of his East Prussian headquarters, the Prussian nobleman thought it a weak scheme because too many eyes were around. It was too big.

The lawyer analyzed a March 13, 1943, attempt as better.

That conspiracy fizzled out when a pair of British time bombs, disguised as cognac bottles, failed to blow Hitler to bits as he was flying back from a Russian front inspection.

Undiscouraged by failure, the lawyer became entangled in another scheme. He went to Berlin and turned his bombs over to a friend, Col. Rudolf von Gerstdorff.

Hitler unknowingly foiled the Von Schalbrendorff - Von Gerstdorff plan by leaving a memorial service for war dead in the Berlin customs house ahead of schedule—before Von Gerstdorff could pull a bomb from under his coat and heave it at the Fuehrer.

Von Schalbrendorff regards his

ERIE CANAL RECORD CITED IN DISPUTE OVER SEAWAY

By John H. Freeman
United Press Staff Correspondent
ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—Petroleum—2,651,256 tons. Wheat—500,985 tons. Pulpwood—209,440 tons.

Those are some of the figures submitted to the New York legislature this year. They are not estimates, worked out in favor of or against building a St. Lawrence seaway. They are official figures, compiled by the state department of public works, to show the kind of business handled last year by New York's barge canal (the Erie Canal).

With the canal now open again after the winter freeze, for what very well may prove another banner year, there is much argument in favor of abandoning the seaway project once and for all.

assassination career as a thing of the past. His target no longer exists.

He said: "I am firmly convinced that Hitler is really dead."

Congress already has turned the seaway bill back to committee for "further study." Upstate New York cities, particularly those along the canal route, hope it will mean the end of the bill. Some owe their very existence to the canal.

But it's all not as simple as that. New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is in favor of the seaway project. Another Republican presidential aspirant, Sen. Robert A. Taft, is opposed to it.

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R., N.Y.) is one of those who voted to return the bill to committee.

Ives, who some believe may succeed Dewey some day in the Albany executive mansion, is opposed to the St. Lawrence seaway project. But still another presidential hopeful, former Gov. Stassen of Minnesota, agrees with Dewey that the proposed link between the Atlantic and the Great Lakes would be a good thing.

Meanwhile, the question still arises from time to time as to whether the barge canal, with its rising cargo volumes, could not in reality do everything expected of a St. Lawrence seaway. High-salaried state officials in charge of its operation answer always with an emphatic "no." It's just not equipped, they tell you, to handle ocean-going vessels.

One of the most important waterways in the world, the canal stretches spider-fashion across the state some 500 miles. Coupled with the Hudson River, its main branch links Lake Erie and Buffalo with New York harbor. Other branches tie in with Lake Ontario, Cayuga and Seneca Lakes to the south, and Lake Champlain to the north.

There are 57 concrete locks, all electrically operated, which accommodate boats up to 300 feet in length. The highest is at Little Falls—a lift of 40 1-2 feet.

Superstructure of boats plying the canals must not be too high. Some 300 railroad and highway bridges cross the waterway. The minimum clearance under fixed bridges is 15 1-2 feet. The channel depth is 12 feet.

In 1947, canal traffic on the canal registered the greatest increase ever recorded in any single operational season. Cargoes totaled 3,790,050 tons, a gain of 34 per cent over the previous year.

Periods of the year when the nights and days are equal length are called equinoxes.

ARABS CLAIM VICTORY IN STRENGTH TEST

JERUSALEM, Apr. 16, (UP)—The Arab command in Palestine was reported today to have again claimed a decisive victory in the battle of Mishmar Haemek, the outcome of which might determine the control of upper Galilee.

Both Arabs and Jews dispatched reinforcements to the crucial battle area southeast of Haifa in the valley of the Biblical Armageddon.

Claims and counter claims obscured late developments in what appeared the most significant test of strength so far in the Palestine hostilities.

Reliable sources in Amman said the Arab commander, Fawzi El Kuwakkbi, had sent a radio message to King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan claiming victory over the Jews.

An Amman dispatch to Jerusalem said it was the first time the so-called Arab army of liberation in Palestine had been known to get in touch with Abdullah directly.

Amman informants said the commander claimed 250 Jews were killed and a quantity of arms captured.
