Northwest Guns For California Tuna Monopoly

By Harold Hughes
United Press Staff Correspondent
ASTORIA, Ore. (UP)—The efforts of a Seattle "wonder boy" to break the tuna canning monopoly of California packing firms might well decide how much you pay for that tuna sandwich at the corner drug store.

Nick Bez, a determined Yugoslav immigrant from Seattle, who has risen to national success in fishing and aviation, has just delivered the second blow of a one-two punch.

A converted navy vessel is fishing at present off Costa Rica in "home waters" of the Californians. The ship is a former repair ship renamed the Sapien. The Sapien is the "mothership" in a new technique to freeze and store yellowfin tuna off the hot tropical coasts of Latin-America.

The Sapien is the follow-up of Bez's first blow which he delivered with the aid of $4,000,000 spent on the ship Pacific Explorer by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The Pacific Explorer is being refitted in Seattle for further "exploratory" trips, probably into the Bearing Sea off the Russian coast.

The determined Bez has still another "mothership" called the Tinian is being outfitted at Astoria. It, too, will store 75 tons of frozen tuna.

And here is how Bez hopes to affect the drug store tuna sandwich by his gamble on the high seas.

The Astoria tuna canneries have been operating only during the summer and fall months, canning Albacore tuna, caught off the west coast of the United States.

If the expensive machinery and well-paid workers can be kept busy all year canning the tropical yellow fin tuna, then the sandwich is going to cost less—at least, that's what fishermen here believe.

Also, there will be a wider market for the northwest canneries because the scarce Albacore is a deluxe tuna, not like the yellowfin which just loves to snuggle up to a milk shake.

But the counter punch in this battle may land squarely on the Bez. He has to whip the tough, enterprising California packers.

He also has to find the tuna. And there are a lot of bankrupt tuna fishermen around who explain that the latter can be very difficult.

Jews Capture Arab Stronghold

JERUSALEM, April 20 (UP)—The Jewish militia Hagannah reported today that it had captured the Arab village of Beth Surio, nine miles from Jerusalem on the highway to Tel Aviv, making the eighth strong point seized by the Jews along this lifeline.

Hagannah headquarters in Tel Aviv reported that in taking Beth Surio the Jews destroyed all houses which had been used as posts for sniping against Jewish traffic.

After the village was taken another convoy, the fifth in two weeks, carried food into Jerusalem. It included unleavened bread for the passover.

CALIFORNIA DROUGHT SEEN AS THREAT TO FOOD PRICES

By WILLIAM ANTHONY
United Press Staff Correspondent
FRESNO, Cal. (UP)—The nation's housewives may find at least 17 foods higher in price, scarcer in quantity and lower on quality if the drought in California lasts another year.

The first effects of the drought, which began in this fabulously rich farm state two years ago, already are beginning to be felt.

Some oranges, for example, are smaller in size this season because of the sub-normal rainfall. California produces 65 per cent of the nation's oranges.

California produces 100 per cent of the nation's dates, 92 per cent of its avocados, 92 per cent of its grapes, all of its olives, 32 per cent of its pears, 82 per cent of the prunes, 90 per cent of the asparagus, 92 per cent of walnuts all of the artichokes, 41 per cent of the cantaloupes, 64 per cent of the lettuce, 30 per cent of the tomatoes, all of the nation's raisins and 34 per cent of the world's supply.

The state also contributes a liberal supply of eggs, spinach, rice, nuts, cotton, potatoes, sugar beets, beans, apricots, cherries, figs, grapefruit, lemons, plums, melons and many truck crops.

At present, the drought has had only slight effect on those items. Most of the result of two consecutive years of rainfall only a little above 50 per cent of normal has been felt in grains, hay and pasture for sheep and cattle. The state's production in those lines is not felt in the rest of the nation.

But the hydro-electric power reserves and total water storage.

Gen. Jose Figueres, commander of the Costa Rican Rebels, reported that the Nicaraguan troops crossed the frontier at San Carlos north of the capital city of San Jose.

In a message to the Inter-American Conference at Bogota Figueres protested against invasion from Nicaragua.

Chrysler Strike Is Authorized

DETROIT, April 20 (UP)—The 22 man executive board of the CIO United Automobile Workers union today unanimously authorized a strike by 75,000 Chrysler Corporation employes if necessary to win wage demands.

Whether a strike will be called was left to the discretion of Norman Matthews, UAW regional director in charge of the union's Chrysler department.

BOY SENTENCED TO PRISON
CHICAGO, April 20 (UP)—Howard Lang, 13, was sentenced today to serve 22 years in the state penitentiary for the murder of his playmate Lonnie Felick.

which provides irrigation for most fruit and vegetable crops in which California is a major national producer, is getting lower and lower. If the drought lasts through another year, farmers will be forced to plant smaller crops. They will have to let some fruit trees and vineyards die and permit productive land to fallow for want of water. They might boost the price of the crops they manage to harvest because of the cost of installing expensive pumps and sinking deeper well to reach water.

In the San Joaquin valley, for instance, more than 3,300,000 acres of land are irrigated. Farmers last year and again this year had to sink deeper well to get enough water for their crops. The underground water table fell from two to 20 feet.

Valley farmers already have spent more than $1,000,000 to drill new wells or buy diesel engines to supply power pumping needs.

George L. Henderson, chief engineer of the Kern County Land Co. in Fresno, summed up the sentiments of most farmers and livestock men by saying:

"We'll need two solid months of rain and a heavy snowpack in the Sierra Nevadas to save our cattle and our crops."

Costa Rica Peace Hopes Dimmed

CARTAGO, Costa Rica, April 20 (UP)—Prospects for settlement of the civil war in Costa Rica were clouded today by a reported invasion of this country by 500 Nicaraguan soldiers.

Gen. Jose Figueres, commander of the Costa Rican Rebels, reported that the Nicaraguan troops crossed the frontier at San Carlos north of the capital city of San Jose.

Italian Planes Scout Leftists

MILAN, April 20 (UP)—Italian fighter planes were sent today to scout the strength of leftist partisans reportedly gathering south of the Po River.

Reports reaching the Italian military command here said the partisans were forming in the Pavia and Piacenza regions, where two of the four attacks made against government arsenals since Saturday night have occurred.

Television School To Be Opened In Dallas

Dallas, Tex.—(UP)—The first school for instruction in television in the southwest will open in Dallas shortly after May 1, Henry Brown, head of the Texas trade school, announced.

A 12-months course will be taught after the trade school moves into its new two-story building May 1. Brown said instructors had been obtained from the East where television has been in operation for a number of years.

The Texas trade school has been in operation two years. It has provided courses in radio operation and electronics and with the growth of television, Brown said it had been decided to offer courses in this field.

The television instruction will include courses in how to run a television station and repair and maintain the equipment which transmits radio shows and public events on a screen like a movie picture.

N. Y. State Hits New High In Business Activity

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—The number of business firms operating in New York State has reached an all-time high of 540,000, according to a state commerce department survey.

In the state program to encourage post-war business development and employment through tax cuts the department said both individuals and business corporations were saved more than $164,000,000 in the 1947 fiscal year. But, despite the reductions, state revenues kept within $22,000,000 of the previous year's record intake because of expanded business volume.

U. S. Expects Aid In Policing Of The Holy Land

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Apr. 20 (UP)—The United States told the United Nations today it would provide American troops to impose a trusteeship government on Palestine provided selected other countries of the UN also contribute some forces.

American Delegate Warren Austin announced in the political and security committee of the General Assembly that the United States was ready to send troops to the Holy Land "but it is not prepared to act alone in this matter."

Austin disclosed that, so far, American attempts to bring other countries into an agreement for Policing Palestine have "produced tangible results."

The American spokesman emphasized that unless future negotiations bring commitments of troops and supplies from other UN countries, the United States will not feel bound to send any fighting forces into Palestine to back up a trusteeship or any other government the UN sets up for Palestine.

Austin did not tell delegates of the other 57 United Nations what countries the United States wants to participate in an international army to enforce a trusteeship. It was reported by reliable circles, however, the American officials plan to exclude Russia from any such arrangement.

Anti-Communists Win Two To One In Italy's Test

ROME, April 20 (UP)—Anti-Communist forces led by Premier Alcide D. Gasperi Christian Democrats rolled up a two-to-one margin over the Communist front today as counting in Italy's national election moved rapidly.

But there still was some question whether the Leftists would accept defeat peacefully. Partisans reported gathering in the strongly Communist Milan area, and government fighter planes and ground troops were seeking to break them up.

Premier De Gasperi clearly indicated he would bar Communists from the new coalition government he will form about May 20, and his military authorities said again that "troops and police" are ready to meet any situation.

FINES COVER ONLY ONE OF TWO CHARGES; WILL APPEAL

WASHINGTON, April 20 (UP)—John L. Lewis was fined $20,000 today and his United Mine Workers Union $1,400,000 for contempt of court.

Federal Judge Alan Goldborough imposed the fines in exactly the amounts the government had recommended.

Goldborough said that if he used his own judgment he "would impose a prison sentence" on Lewis. But he said he felt it necessary to go along with the government's recommendation.

The judge informed Lewis and the union attorneys that the fines were imposed only for criminal contempt charge. He said the penalty on their civil contempt conviction would be considered Friday.

Goldborough yesterday found Lewis and the union guilty of both criminal and civil contempt. The convictions resulted from their failure to obey an April 3 court order directing them to end "forthwith" the coal strike that began March 15.

Lewis and the union immediately gave notice that they would appeal the fines.

The government had recommended that Lewis be fined $20,000 and the UMW $1,400,000—double the penalty imposed in 1946 for conviction on a similar offense.

Assistant U. S. Attorney General H. Graham Morrison told the court that the twice-as-big penalty was necessary because the 1946 fine failed to deter Lewis "from a repetition of substantially the same offense."

PITTSBURGH—More than 100,000 miners struck again today in protest against the conviction of John L. Lewis on contempt of court charges.

Herrera will serve as president until May 8, by which time the new government was expected to be set up and functioning.

Oregon's Teetering Rock Vanishes

NECANICUM, Ore. (UP)—Saddle Mountain has lost its rider. Teetering Rock has tottered from its precarious perch without a trace.

Teetering Rock, famed as the most perplexing landmark in northwestern Oregon, was perched atop Saddle Mountain when the white man came to the Pacific Northwest.

It would quiver at a baby's touch, yet withstood an assault of 50 CCC workers when they tried to pry the boulder from its mountain top with stout poles. Hikers reported the disappearance of the rock. They said it apparently toppled from the rocky ledge into a steep canyon.

Atom Bomb Base In Pacific Goes Back To Nature

By James E. Roper
United Press Staff Correspondent
TINIAN, Marianas Islands (UP)—The airfield that hurled the atom bomb against Japan lies deserted today. Wild cattle roam across the great landing strips.

Nobody cares. There is nobody to care.

This base, with probably the world's greatest array of runways, has been abandoned.

Runway "Abe" is the one that the atom bombers used. But there are six others, all paved with white coral that makes them glare under the Pacific sun. Laid out parallel, they form great grids across the green island.

Each runway is 8,500 feet long and 500 feet wide—the envy of every American airport, but just an annoyance to cattle searching for pasture.

Near the sea is the building where the atom bombs were assembled. Typhoons have torn open its sides. Artillery ammunition is stored inside. The ammunition cases are rotting.

A little farther on are two pits where atomic bombs once rested. Now they are partly filled with water. A frog, disturbed by the first visitor in weeks, leaps into the water, and sticks his head out protestingly.

An occasional plane lands at the strip at the other end of the grid. There is no airport radio, so the plane before landing buzzes the field to alert a crash crew.

Stretching away from the air strips are paved roads marked "Broadway" and "Eighth Ave." Each is nine miles long. Each is polka-dotted with thousands of African snails, descendants of the snails which the Japanese brought here to eat.

They menace the only commercial undertaking on the island—a farm intended to furnish fresh vegetables to American service personnel on Guam and Saipan. A half-dozen Navy men tend for the rusting Tinian port, and about 200 Army men have been destroying the staggering piles of aerial bombs which were abandoned when the war ended. Now that work has stopped to save the bombs for China.

Some 16,000 oriental civilians survived on Tinian when the U.S. Marines captured the island in a nine-day campaign in July, 1944, at the cost of 290 American lives. When the war closed, the United States sent the Tinian residents back to their original homes—Japan, Okinawa, Iwo Jima and Korea. Now a civilian population would be welcomed.

The island of 36 square miles is loaded with hangars, barracks and other ground installations that would serve as housing if maintained.

Right now, the buildings are slowly caving in. But the landing strips, which together used to put B-29's in the air at the rate of one every 10 seconds, are in perfect condition and could be cleared quickly if the need arose.

Dim Your Lights and Save a Life!

Yellowstone May Become Winter Resort, Too

CODY, Wyo. (UP)—Yellowstone National Park, one of the nation's most scenic summer playgrounds, may become a vacation paradise for winter tourists, too. The Big Horn Basin clubs of Wyoming have begun a move aimed at opening the highways in Yellowstone on a year-round basis instead of permitting travel through the park only in good weather months.

One of the plan's promoters foresees the creation of a huge winter sports area in the national park.

Too Many Hunters Haunt Woods, Federal Forest Officials Complain

By Vincent Burke
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — Forest officials fear that the national forests are becoming overstocked with hunters.

If the boom in hunting and fishing continues as expected, they predict the supply of game in many areas soon will be too small to meet the demand.

Lloyd W. Swift, chief of wild life management for the forest service says the total supply of game animals in national forests still is increasing. But for the first time in many years, the rate at which sportsmen are taking game from the forests is increasing faster than the rate of increase in game animals.

Last year 4,650,000 persons hunted the 152 national forests or fished their lakes and streams. That compares with the pre-war high of 3,540,000 in 1941. This year an even bigger turnout is expected.

As recently as seven or eight years ago the supply of game was doubling every 10 years. Now the rate of increase has declined to about one-third of that. The limitation of the land is beginning to show up. Some forests are fully stocked; a few are overstocked.

"The only answer is to make better use of what we have," Swift said.

He hopes for changes in state game laws to reduce the "bag limit." Gradually, Swift believes, sportsmen will become more concerned in the "purely recreational aspects" of the forests and less with killing game.

COLUMBUS, O. (UP) —Police put handcuffs on Orlando Broadus to be sure the burglary suspect couldn't get loose. He didn't. The officers had to get firemen to saw off the cuffs when the lock jammed.

Fig in Poke Fools Him
VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP) —George Dupuis would like to convince his wife he really knows the difference between garden seed and bird gravel. At an unclaimed railway freight auction Dupuis paid $1.75 for 60 pounds of "bird seed." It turned out to be bird gravel.

But the system won't work when it comes to hunting. Swift pointed out. Once you shoot an animal, you can't throw him back for some one else to shoot.

If forests and streams should get to the point where they are "crowded" by sportsmen, Swift figures the trend may reverse itself to some extent.

"Many sportsmen would give up and start going to football games and movies instead—or maybe they'd take up poker playing as a substitute," he said.

pany plans for expanding its facilities to meet what it terms the "unprecedented demand" for gas resulting from industrial and domestic growth throughout the territory served. It also cites "continuing activity" for the purpose of maintaining adequate gas reserves.

The balance of 1947 earnings after dividend payments, representing a balance of $4,801,567, was retained by the company to help meet costs of necessary additions to the system property.

In a progress statement accompanying the report, Hulcy reveals that $3,778,682 was spent last year for additions to the system; $10,000,000 was borrowed to help finance the program, and at year's end the company's total indebtedness was $25,750,000.

On Dec. 31, the company was distributing natural gas to 410,000 customers, one-fourth of whom had been added within the last five years.

"Indications point to a similar growth throughout the company's territory for several years," Hulcy said, "and we are constantly building facilities and resources to meet our responsibilities as a public service company."

The 1947 increase in operating revenues, the report states, was accompanied by increases in taxes, salaries and wages and raising costs of supplies and materials.

operating expenses exclusive of federal taxes on income, were $21,706,787, compared with $15,188,533 in 1946. The year's tax bill increase $973,686 over 1946 to $7,459,774.

The 1947 operating revenue of $40,649,550 compared with 1946 revenue of $29,875,487. Last year's net income of $10,300,567 compared with 1946 net income of $6,795,873.

The company gets gas from sixty-four fields in Texas Oklahoma, operates 5,262 miles of transmission and gathering lines, owns and operates distribution systems in 332 cities and towns, all but twenty-six of them in Texas, and has 5,732 miles of mains in these systems.

That "Busy Bee" Saying Is Not Wholly A Gag

BOSTON (UP) — Bees really are busy.

Take it from expert George De Clyver Curtis in his new book, "Bees' Ways," they are nature's outstanding workers.

Curtis says the average load of nectar carried by a single bee is only 20-1,000th of a pound. That means that 20,000 bees making one trip each would add one pound of honey to a hive.

However, Curtis estimates in a good season he removes 200 pounds of honey from one hive besides leaving plenty for the bees' own use. In addition, one third of the nectar is lost due to evaporation of excess moisture.

"The whole thing seems incredible," he says.

Last year hybrid corn was planted on 71.4 percent of the total United States acreage planted in corn.

Latin Holds Its Own
CLINTON, N. Y. (UP)—Latin apparently isn't altogether a dead language. After using Latin on diplomas for 136 commencements, Hamilton College last year switched to English. But Class of 1948 graduates voted to resume the Latinized version. "It's more appropriate," they argued.

Campus Communists Merely "Irritation"

CHICAGO (UP) — Left-wing student groups in American colleges are losing ground, President Howard S. McDonald of Brigham Young University believes. He said most educators agree that Communist campus organizations are an "irritation" rather than a menace.

"Some institutions," McDonald said, "are banning such groups, while others feel that to suppress them is to shut off a safety valve."
