Oil Man Finds Why Others Like Eastland County

"No wonder that oil men are finding Eastland County so attractive," declared James A. Beard, who has long been active in the oil industry, in commenting on the fact that the world's need for petroleum is so great that one major company has built a steel "island," seven and a half miles off the shore of Louisiana, and has thus far spent $2,000,000.

"To show for this vast outlay, the company has brought in, thus far, one well at a depth of 3,665 feet which flowed nearly 900 barrels a day until placed under choke," Beard commented. "Fifty-four men composed the drilling crews. The oil has to be conveyed by barge to land.

"Contrast these conditions with Eastland County, its oil easily reached at relatively shallow depths, as production ranges from 2800 feet in the Kirk pool to 4,000 feet in the Kleiner pool. Wells frequently are drilled to the sand in two weeks and the drilling cost in the Kirk pool is around $25,000 per well; in the deeper Kleiner pool, the cost is of course somewhat more. Many of the wells in those two areas can equal and some can surpass the flow of the well drilled in the Gulf.

"It is any wonder," he concluded, "that the Eastland area is attracting small, as well as large, operators from over the Southwest?"

Beard, an extensive landowner, has widespread mineral interests and is drilling a wildcat in Hamilton County.

Private Showing For Dealers Held

The first private showing of 1949 Nash cars — entirely new from bumper-to-bumper and more advanced in design than any car Nash had offered in its long history — was given to more than 400 Nash dealers in the Southern Nash region, V. T. Moser disclosed today.

The special dealers' preview was held during the regional sales meeting, September 9, in Kansas.

While the new Nash models, known as the "Airlyte" series, will not be made public until October 22, the private dealer preview was held to acquaint them with features of the new Nash, said to be outstanding in styling, comfort, performance, safety and economy.

Commenting on the previous Moser, said: "The new models represent more than five years of research, designing, engineering and testing at Nash Motors' proving grounds with hundreds of thousands of miles of road testing behind them.

In a message to the dealers, George W. Mason, president, revealed that the new cars were planned "without compromise or restriction, and incorporate entirely new design, styling and engineering features continuing Nash as an automotive research and engineering leader."

H. C. Doss, vice-president in charge of sales, told dealers that the new Nash represents an investment of about $15,000,000 and is far in advance of any car heretofore offered by the Company.

First public showing of the new cars will be made here next month, Moser revealed. "The new Nash is a postwar 'dream car,'" he said. "It is roomier, lower, has smooth, flowing lines of beauty from headlights to tail lights, and features really superb riding performance.

"Nash will continue its historic emphasis on operating economy, with new '600' models delivering more than 25 miles per gallon at average highway speeds," Moser said.

Plans are being formulated for an extensive local showing of the new models. The dealer show will be held on October 22.

Television has been extended to those whose electric services happen to be of the DC variety. Turning the trick are special converters, now available.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UP)—The justice department is "reviewing" a number of complaints of irregularities during the vote in the Democratic primary runoff election in Texas, a spokesman said today.

Whether a formal investigation of the Aug. 28 election will be ordered, however, was not announced.

France Accepts Soviet Proposed Colonies Meet

PARIS, Sept. 9 (UP)—France accepted today a Russian proposal for a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers on Italian colonies and invited the ministers to meet here.

An announcement from the French foreign office set no date for the meeting. But the Moscow radio reported last night that Russia had proposed the meeting get underway tomorrow.

The French acceptance was delivered to the Soviet embassy this morning. Britain and the United States already had accepted.

In London, authoritative sources said there was virtually no possibility of the meeting getting underway on the Russian date. But they said a meeting probably would be held on disposal of the colonies before the Sept. 15 deadline, when the matter would be handed to the United Nation if the foreign ministers had not reached a settlement.

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall will not leave Washington until Sept. 19, two days before the UN meets in Paris. Marshall indicated he would send a "duly qualified representative" to the colonies meeting.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also would be absent from the meeting. The British parliament opens a short session next week and Bevin must report to it on several outstanding issues.

Stolen Horses Lead To Seizure Of Houston Meat

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 9 (UP)—Sheriff's officers seized 1300 pounds of "boned meat here today after a tip on stolen horses, indicating that the horsemeat racket in Houston had swung toward the surface again after a brief stay underground.

The seizure was made by Deputy Sheriff Bob Hodges and City Chief Veterinarian Dr. J. W. Williamson, who waited at a packing house loading platform. The packer involved is already under indictment for selling horsemeat.

"We'll have to wait for laboratory tests to be certain," Dr. Williamson said, "but I saw it and smelled it, and I'll lay odds that it's horsemeat."

Hodges said he had a tip that horses were being stolen, delivered to a spot outside the city and slaughtered.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9, (UP) — President Truman was quoted today by a caller as saying the United States "will not be pushed out of Berlin."

The president's statement was relayed to reporters by David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Dubinsky said that during a talk with the President, he told Mr. Truman steps should be taken to protect trade union leaders in Germany "in the event we are pushed out of Berlin."

"We will not be pushed out of Berlin," Dubinsky quoted Mr. Truman as replying.

Earlier at a news conference Mr. Truman told reporters the United States will stand up for its rights in Germany. He said the United States is trying to find a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis but that he does not regard the present situation in Berlin as one of duress by the Russians.

Mr. Truman said he regards the current Russian blockade of Berlin as only attempted duress. The United States, he said, is standing on its rights in Berlin. And he made it plain that any Russian strong-arm tactics will not force us out.

At first, Mr. Truman told reporters he had no comment on the Berlin situation; that Secretary of State George C. Marshall had covered that yesterday in a statement saying that Communist efforts to upset the four-power negotiations must be resisted firmly.

Then he was asked if there was anything cheerful or hopeful he could say about the Berlin crisis — which other government officials have described as dangerously near the point where almost anything can happen.

Mr. Truman parried the question by saying we are still standing up for our rights in Berlin and doing everything possible to straighten out the problem by negotiation. He said we are going to keep on negotiating in the hope for peace.

The President suggested that recent police disturbances at the Berlin city hall constituted pressure outside the negotiations.

Hiss-Chambers Scene Proves Heaping Quantities of Nothing

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—When two Quakers give exactly opposite testimony and call each other liars, under oath, which one can you believe? That's the predicament of the House Un-American Activities Committee at this stage of the great Washington Communist spy ring case.

The two Quakers are Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers, alias Carl, alias Dwyer, alias Cantwell, alias—according to Hiss—George Crosley, though Chambers denies he ever used that name.

In 10 hours of the most fantastic testimony ever unfolded in any court, or in any imaginative "whodunit" mystery, Hiss and Chambers were questioned by the committee. The confrontation has been properly dubbed as the greatest meeting since Stanley met Dr. Livingston in darkest Africa.

Hiss probably got the rougher treatment by the committee. The members all said they were trying to be fair, but they cross-examined Hiss mercilessly for eight hours. They let Chambers off with less than two. They never tried to pin him down on details and there were plenty of places where his memory was just as fuzzy as Hiss's. It wasn't a fair trial. Nothing has been proved.

DETAILS over which the committee argued all day were trivialities not fit for a petty claims court—whether Chambers paid Hiss for subletting an apartment two months at $60 a month; whether Hiss loaned Chambers $20 or so which was not paid back; how Hiss disposed of a 1929 Model A Ford he valued at $25; whether Chambers gave Hiss a rug in part payment.

These things weren't the real issue, though, said Rep. Richard Nixon of California, who did most of the cross-examining. Nixon said the issue was whether Hiss or Chambers had committed perjury. Hiss said the important question ought to be whether or not he was a Communist. It doesn't matter. Neither point got proved, or disproved. Here are some of the principal contradictions which still confuse the case: Hiss says he knew Chambers only as George Crosley, free-lance writer. Chambers says Hiss knew him only as "Carl," his Communist name. Hiss says he did not see this Crosley after 1936.

Chambers says he saw Hiss maybe once a week, certainly once a fortnight, all through 1937 and 1938, visiting in his home, where Hiss was proud to receive "Carl" as a party functionary.

Chambers says he saw Hiss in the Washington apartment of Henry Collins, meeting place of the Communist cell which, he says, included Lee Pressman, John Abt, Nathan Witt, Charles Kramer and Victor Perlo. Hiss admits that he has known Collins since boyhood, that he had visited Collins' apartment. Hiss says he never knew Victor Perlo. He knew the others, as they all worked together in the Department of Agriculture back in the 1930's.

ALGER HISS'S career as counsel for the Senate Munitions investigation, in the Agriculture, Justice and State Departments and now as president of Carnegie Peace Foundation, is pretty much on the record.

Hiss tried to bring out the facts of Chambers' life by 10 questions he submitted to the committee. Nine of them got answered in a sketchy manner, which outlined a somewhat shadowy career in and out of the Communist underground in America.

The 10th question was, "Are you (Chambers) willing to make the statements you have made before this (Un-American Activities) committee in a manner free from the protection of this committee so that I may test your veracity in a suit for slander or libel?"

It could be that this is the only way the mystery will ever be cleared up, or at least settled, one way or the other. As matters now stand, Hiss calls Chambers "A self-confessed liar, spy and traitor." Chambers' reaction to Hiss's denial was "Hiss is lying."

EYES OF TEXAS

By Bob Weddie
United Press Staff Correspondent

DALLAS, Tex. Sept. 9 (UP)—"Better late than never" is a time-honored adage, but it doesn't always apply, according to Joe Harris of Kilgore.

Harris runs the Kilgore Hotel. And as every hotel manager knows guests sometimes forget to return room keys when they check out.

Just the other day, Harris got a key back through the mail from just such a patron. He opened the envelope and found the key to room 237.

But when he tried it in the lock of that room, it didn't work. Checking further, Harris learned that it was the key to an earlier Kilgore Hotel—that one that burned 16 years ago.

(Ranger editor's note: Joe is here for a visit with his son, Bruce Harris. This story came over the Ranger Times UP wire this morning.)

But sometimes, the old saying really does apply.

Charles A. Ellis, agent-in-charge of the San Antonio Secret Service Bureau received a counterfeit $20 bill from a Corpus Christi Bank recently.

He recognized the bogus bill as the work of a ring of counterfeiters which he personally had arrested and jailed in Pennsylvania 13 years ago.

The secret service agent figured that the bill must have been in the hands of a miser for the last 13 years.

Sometimes a fellow has an excuse for being late. Like a Negro arrested in Dallas for stealing a car in Oklahoma.

"It wasn't exactly stealing," he told officers. "I just borrowed it to come to Dallas to see my girl friend."

"Well," the suspect finally admitted, "it was last May sometime, I guess."

Just incidental was the fact that the man had changed his residence from Oklahoma City to Dallas, and that the "gal friend" had become his wife.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Sept. 9, (UP)—Thomas E. Riddle called his marriage to his 74-year-old wife quits today.

Riddle filed suit in district court yesterday for divorce, charging cruelty.

Riddle's age—102. He's a confederate veteran.

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 9, (UP)—The appointment of two Houston attorneys to be part-time teachers in the University of Houston law school was announced today by Dean A. A. White.

D. H. Gregg, attorney for Humble Oil and Refining Co., and Paul Strong, city attorney for Bellaire, will teach part-time classes.

Gregg will have classes in gas and oil and real property, and Strong will instruct in pleading and practice. Gregg is a graduate of the University of Texas and Strong of the University of Colorado.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 9, (UP)—In Dallas last night for a non-political speech before a dinner meeting of the society for the advancement of management, Former Governor Coke Stevenson was asked by a reporter:

"You are aware of this talk that the Department of Justice might investigate the senatorial election?"

"Yes, I am," Stevenson replied. "Have you asked the department to investigate?"

4 Killed, 25 Hurt In Train Crash

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 9 (UP)—Four men were dead and 25 others injured today as the result of a collision between a Great Northern freight train and a motor-powered flat car carrying a railroad section gang.

The crash took place about 6 o'clock last night in a narrow Rocky Mountain canyon 20 miles north of Helena.

Only 24 of the 53 men on the small flat car leaped clear when the northbound freight engine loomed around a curve. The locomotive ground the flat car to kindling.

NO CATNIP, KITTENS
PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—It was bad news for Peoria cats when Federal Judge J. Leroy Adair ruled that some 300 pounds of catnip seized here must be burned. The judge condemned the catnip because it did not meet federal quality standards.

Sixteen ballots were necessary to make Montgomery the capital of Alabama in 1846. Tuscaloosa led the first ballot but couldn't muster a majority.

Longshoremen Refuse To Sign Non-Red Affidavits
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8 (UP)—Striking CIO longshoremen in Los Angeles today unanimously rejected an employer demand that their leaders sign non-Communist affidavits.

The longshoremen also turned down the employers' "final offer" which their negotiating committee rejected just before calling the strike.

The results of the Los Angeles balloting were the first announced on the Pacific Coast. Other longshore locals were taking a similar secret vote on the two issues. Indications were the vote would follow the Los Angeles pattern.

Earlier, a meeting between CIO Longshore President Harry Bridges and Army Transportation officials broke up with no announced solution to the problem of loading military supplies tied up by the eight-day-old maritime strike.

Bridges said the longshoremen would handle military cargoes on commercial ships if the men got east coast wages—one of the issues in the strike—or a retroactive settlement when the strike is over.

Fort Worth, Tex. (UP)—The jolting touch was added in the filing of an answer to a civil suit district court. It was written in ink on an undersized sheet of baby blue stationery. The attorney explained in a notation that he was on his ranch and no legal paper was available.

Homely Utensils Please Housewives

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A survey in California, Nebraska, and Rhode Island by the California College of Agriculture shows that the coffee maker is the utensil most used by housewives in those states.

Frying pans of the 10 to 12-inch variety came in second. Smaller or larger frying pans ran a poor 10th.

One-quart saucepans took the third spot, and the pancake turner was fourth. The bread knife was fifth, and even the lowly dishpan sneaked in for seventh place.

Fancy gadgets such as baking dishes, casseroles and special boilers didn't even place.

Christianity's Victory Over Marx Theme Of Rome Youth Congress

By Norman Montellier
United Press Staff Correspondent
ROME (UP)—"Christ has beaten Marx" will be the theme of the world's biggest youth congress next month when more than 500,000 boys and girls of Catholic Action meet in Rome.

The convention begins Sept. 4 when the girl's Youth of Catholic Action open a three-day meeting. Already 250,000 girls are registered for the meeting and more are expected. The boys' youth section will hold its congress Sept. 10-12 and another 250,000 persons are expected.

Invitations have been sent to 54 nations to join in the meetings, which will dedicate Catholic youth to a renewed fight against Communism. Fifteen nations have accepted so far.

Directors of the Italian Catholic Action youth organization said: "The importance of such a youth manifestation, the greatest in contemporary history, cannot escape those who interest themselves in human phenomena and who evaluate the more characteristic events which pass through the picture of history."

"Italy, beaten in a disastrous war, mortified by great misery irritated still by strikes and unemployment, knows how to present a spectacle of 50,000 youth who paying their own expenses for travel and lodging, will gather in Rome to attest their faith."

"There are in Europe those who begin to understand that there is something new under the sun, of which the April 18 general election in Italy was a surprising sign. There is a new feeling which agitates us, there is something in the air.

"There is this fact—Communism, while still alive in the old, has not taken many youths and still less the really young. Perhaps Luigi Longo (Italian Communist partisan chief) and Pietro Secchia (Cominform delegate and vice secretary of the Communists) still attract some youths with their formula of the Garibaldi partisan brigade.

"Arms and uniforms always have a great fascination for youth. But once this decoy is shown up, there is little to do. Spiritually politically, effectively, among the youth—Christ has beaten Marx. That is our theme."

The congress will celebrate the 80th anniversary of the founding of the boys' Catholic Action youth movement and the 30th anniversary of the girls' section.

The program includes three sports celebrations, two national contests for culture and art, a regatta on the Tiber with fireworks displays, a parade of 10,000 flags with regional delegations in folk costumes, a celebration by the 250,000 girls of the "Hour of Mary," when they will represent the mysteries of the Rosary; and two special gatherings in St. Peter's Square, where Pope Pius XII will address the girls Sunday, Sept. 5, and the boys on Sunday,

Large Doses of B-1 Declared Useless

CHICAGO (UP)—People who take large doses of vitamin B-1 to give them extra pep and energy are only wasting their time, according to a Northwestern University scientist.

Dr. Theodore E. Friedemann, associate professor of physiology, said the vitamin might be a potent energy builder if the body would absorb enough of it.

But he said laboratory tests revealed that doses of more than two ten-thousandths of an ounce—about 1-65th of an aspirin tablet—are largely wasted.

The body won't take any more than that, he reported. Furthermore, the tests indicated that if the vitamin is taken constantly over a period of time, the body sometimes becomes allergic to it.

Friedemann said it made virtually no difference whether the vitamin was taken by mouth or through the veins.

to return to Huettner's native America if they could.

U. S. Gives Aid

Mr. and Mrs. Huettner applied to the United States consulate at Prague. They were told they could come to the United States under provisions made for admission of "displaced persons." Their travel expenses were paid by the U. S. government. They were given $115 to tide them over.

That, briefly, is the story of how Ludwig Huettner returned to the land of his birth.

He and his wife traveled half-way across the country to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hittner of Humphrey, Neb. Shortly afterward they found employment at St. Mary's Hospital in Columbus.

Huettner told friends that conditions began to get bad during the war when the Russian army came to their home community. Conditions reached a climax when the Russian-instigated Communist regime seized power.

Too Much To Stand
Worst of all was the nationalizing of their homestead, Huettner said. There were many other things that a man American-born could not stand. You had to get a permit to go from one village to another. You were required to sign your name to a ballot in the election.

It was compulsory to vote and the Communist candidates were the only names on the ballot. Cross aid seeped through to the villages he didn't see any of it.

Huettner was born in Platte County, Neb., near where he now is employed, in 1878. In 1911 he went to Europe with his foster-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Huettner. There they settled on a farm in Austria. The farm later became part of Czechoslovakia when that country was formed after the first World War.

"All Clear" Sounded
SPARTA, Ill. (UP)—Dive-bombing tactics by a mother blue jay had residents on South Market street here on the alert. One woman "casualty" exhibited a small scar on her forehead as evidence of the bird's accuracy. The "all clear" was sounded when the mother's fledglings learned to fly.

Buttons Of Red, White, Blue To Dominate Political Campaign

CHICAGO (UP)—The odds are three-to-one that no matter who the next president is, his campaign buttons will be red, white, and blue, a big barge manufacturer reports.

The Green Duck Metal Stamp Company says it is the nation's largest maker of colored metal campaign badges and buttons. It plans this year to put out 30,000,000 pin-on election pins.

"We have orders from Republicans, Democrats, Dixiecrats and progressives," Donald Moeberg, the firm's sales manager, said. "For all but one, the colors are traditional red, white, and blue."

He tossed one button on his desk which read "States Rights Democrats." It was in the approved colors but had two stars as well.

"The stars are well liked by everybody," he said.

From the drawer, Moeberg pulled another metal button. "I'm on the Dewey Team," it said. It was red, white, and blue.

"We haven't got any of the bulk of our usual Democratic party orders yet," Moeberg said. "Theyre a little slower this year than usual.

"They might put a picture of the White House on a blue background. The White House always has been a favorite with the Democrats. On it, they might say 'Truman's Terrific' or something like that in red letters. That way, they'll get in the red, white, and blue."

When the Democrats place their orders, the Green Duck plant will run 24 hours a day, Moeberg said. The pin-on kind is the favorite now.

"When things really get hot about September," he said, "all of the parties order a little clip type that just makes fast to the coat lapel."

"Of course it goes without saying they'll probably be red, white and blue too."

Moeberg reminisced a minute about how there always is bound to be a little variety in the buttons, though, which was why the odds this year were three-to-one instead of four-to-nothing on red, white, and blue.

"There were yellow and brown

Lardon sunflowers in 1936," he said "And . . ."

He pulled a good sized button out of the desk.

"Win With Wallace," it urged in white and blue only.

American Citizen Escapes Custody Of Iron Curtain

COLUMBUS, Neb. (UP)—Seventy-year-old Ludwig Huettner and his Austrian-born wife are happy that he never forfeited his American citizenship in 37 years in Europe.

The couple arrived in the United States from Czechoslovakia recently. They fled from Europe after conditions became intolerable for them.

After the Communists came in to control, their 80-acre farm was "nationalized." They could continue to live on it, temporarily at least, and could work it. But they were no longer working for themselves. They were working for the government. They decided

TEXAS DIAMOND DOINGS

TEXAS LEAGUE
Rain helped strengthen the San Antonio Missions' hold on fourth place in the Padres' close battle for a Texas League playoff berth with the Shreveport Sports last night.

The Missions' scheduled double-header with the Beaumont Exporters was rained out while the Sports were bowing to Houston 5-3 as Pete Bryant kept 10 Shreveport hits well scattered. Solly Hemus kicked in with the telling blow—a seventh-inning double that broke a 3-3 tie.

The Sports lost a half game and are now a full game back of the San Antonio club.

In weather more suitable for football, the Dallas Rebels tripped the Tulsa Oilers 5-4 in Tulsa as Marty Errante outpitched a pair of Oiler hurlers. Although nipped for 10 safeties while his mates got only six off Dave Jolly, Errante was tight in the clutches.

The Oklahoma City Indians and Fort Worth Cats struggled through a lackadaisical contest in the former's park with the Indians finally emerging on top 6-5.

The clubs close out their present stands tonight with Beaumont and San Antonio attempting to make up last night's rained-out contest.

LONGHORN LEAGUE

Rain broke up half the opening schedule of the Longhorn League playoffs last night as the Vernon Dusters surprised the league-leading Big Spring Indians behind right-hander Gerald Fahr.

Midland's game at Odessa was rained out. The opening game will be played tonight with the second game in Odessa Saturday night. Officials decided to lay off tomorrow night rather than conflict with the opening of the high school football season in West Texas.

Fahr limited the Big Spring Brones to four safeties last night to take a 2-0 victory. His scratch single through short in the fifth inning scored catcher Morris Cowser from third with one of the winning tallies while first baseman Cotton McCaskey's sixth inning bonder over second scored Harry Scherling from second. An error put Scherling on base.

WEST TEXAS-NEW MEXICO LEAGUE

The Albuquerque Dukes, first place club over the full season route, found themselves one down to the Pampa Oilers in the West Texas-New Mexico League playoff round today.

The Oilers broke in front with a three-run burst off Frank Shone in the second inning and, after seeing the Dukes tie it up with single runs by the fourth, pulled away for a 7-3 victory in the eighth and ninth.

Lubbock's scheduled opener at Amarillo was postponed because of rain and cold weather as a norther dropped the mercury in the panhandle city to the lower 50's.

LONE STAR LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

The four leaders in the Lone Star League will try again tonight to launch their playoff for the league championship.

Rain washed out last night's opening round games which were to have seen Tyler at Longview and Henderson at Kilgore.

BIG STATE LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

The Sherman-Denison Twins, who walked away with the Big State League regular season leadership, open their bid for the playoff title tonight against fourth-place Austin.

In the other game, third-place Waco invades Wichita Falls.

Two games will be played at the site of tonight's games, then the clubs shift to Austin and Waco for three games. If additional games are needed, the clubs move back to the original sites.

Quijano Regains Texas Heavy Boxing Crown

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 9, (UP)—Adolfo Quijano, 179-pound El Paso fighter, held a renewed grip on the Texas heavyweight title today and for the second time became the only man to hold both the state heavyweight and light heavy crowns at the same time.

Quijano knocked out Whitey Perlier, 185-pound New Orleans prize, last night in 1:50 of the fifth round of their scheduled 10-round bout. Perlier had dethroned Quijano in Houston four months ago.

Perlier started fast and easily won the first round, severely damaging Quijano and knocking him down for the count of nine.

The Texan survived the storm, however, and fought safely and carefully through the second round, which he also lost.

In the third, the tide began to turn as Quijano scored repeatedly with sharp lefts to Perlier's chin and terrific hooks to the champion's body.

The fourth round was a replica of the third except that Perlier visibly began to tire.

The fifth, Quijano caught the champ with a series of straight lefts straightened him with another left and scored the knock-out punch with a right cross.

A crowd of 6,000, one of the largest in El Paso history, saw the bout.

Quijano first won the Texas heavyweight title by knocking out Bob Sikes in the Coliseum last winter.

TIGERS HOLD EDGE

The University of Texas' mauling 1948 football opponent—LSU is one of the few teams to hold a series edge on the Longhorns. The Tigers have won five, Texas has won four, and one tie completes the 10-game list. No other 1948 opposition tops Texas.

Tournament of Champs Has Sewn Up Today's Top Boxers

BY HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Sports Editor

BERLIN—(NEA)—In Germany the GI asks: "How come old Gus Lesnevich blew that one to Freddie Mills?" And "What is this Tournament of Champions outfit that is putting on all the big fights?" Well, the weight hurt Lesnevich, a British referee interfered, and the Tournament of Champions is a group of seven wealthy men headed by George Kletz, New York plastic and metal man who has more money than Mike Jacobs. The sponsors were brought together by their hustling matchmaker, Andy Niederreiter.

The latter knows his way around, Sol Strauss doesn't, and with Uncle Mike Jacobs unable to function fully because of his health, the 20th Century Sporting Club appears to be in a bad way.

Kletz and his organization are muscling into Madison Square Garden just as Jacobs did, after first showing the strength of his hand with Joe Louis and at the old New York Hippodrome.

This observer, who has been close to the New York boxing situation since the present Garden was built, would not be at all surprised to see the Tournament of Champions take over the beak-busting business there this winter.

The Tournament of Champions has Tony Zale, Marcel Cerdan, Gus Lesnevich, Jersey Joe Walcott and Freddie Mills, and before you know it Niederreiter will have some more.

THIS new organization is not afraid to stick up its money. It guaranteed Rocky Graziano $120,000, Tony Zale $60,000 for their third edition at Ruppert Stadium, Newark, made $90,000, and kept Zale, now boxing's most magnetic single attraction.

While stand-in Strauss was puddling around, Niederreiter flew to Brussels and signed Cerdan for Zale and a crack at the crown, guaranteeing the champion $120,000 and Cerdan $50,000. Then, when Mills so unexpectedly lifted Lesnevich's title in London, Handy Andy landed the rematch, and promptly coupled it with the Zale-Cerdan, shindy.

This despite the fact that he guaranteed Mills $80,000 and Lesnevich $70,000.

When Mills bobbed up with a recurrence of a spinal injury, Walcott was substituted for him at Jersey City's Roosevelt Raceway, Sept. 21. Lesnevich and Walcott are to collect $50,000 each, swelling the total output for the first old-time fight card since 1937 to $270,000.

Mills isn't running out on Lesnevich. They'll probably have it out again this winter. He doesn't even know how to hold up his hands. Freddie Mills' inability to keep the Sept. 21 appointment with Gus Lesnevich puts off a frightful ordeal for American ringworms who fall for anything.

Raider Fullbacks Flash Speed, Power

LUBBOCK, Tex., Sept. 9.—Power and speed should mark the performance of Texas Tech football fullbacks this fall, close followers of the Red Raider work-outs believe.

Bud Conley, Quanah junior, showed such power and speed in the Sun Bowl game last New Year's day he was converted from right halfback to fullback in spring workouts. He seems to have the inside track as starter and has been showing up well this fall. Conley, handicapped by bad vision, is wearing contact lenses this season. J. W. Thompson, Odessa sophomore, last fall lettered at fullback for Tech and is giving Conley a battle. Both men are fast starters and linemen have found them hard to down.

Earl Jackson, Phillips sophomore, and Keith Butler, Rising Star junior, also are competing for the plugging post and have been drilled on speed. Both are adept at keeping their feet when tackled and should see a lot of action.

Yesterday's Star — Andy Semick of the Phillies, whose ninth inning homer with one on gave Philadelphia a 5 to 4 win over the Giants.

Red Sox Increase Lead Over Yanks

The pennant outlook for the Red Sox shone today to a new brightness as the front-running Bostonians spilled the New York Yankees in the first game of their crucial series.

Boston broke loose with four runs in the seventh to shatter a 6-6 deadlock and take a 10-6 decision. Joe Page who relieved in the fifth was the losing Yankee hurler. Lefty Earl Johnson, ace Sox fireman was the winner.

The third place Cleveland Indians squeezed across an 11th inning tally to take an 8-7 victory over Detroit. Connie Berry's wild throw allowed Larry Doby to score with the winning run.

The Athletics snapped out of their lethargy to take two from the Senators in a two-night doubleheader. The scores were 10-7 and 5-2, stretching the Senator losing run to eight games.

The Browns and White Sox were rained out.

The surging Pirates gained more ground as they stopped Cincinnati 5-1 behind Ernie Bonham. The Bucs now trail the Braves by 3 and a half games.

The Phils upset the Giants 5-4 as Andy Seminick drove out a 13th inning home run. The Cubs great lefthander Johnny Schmitz hurled two-hit ball as his mates downed the worn-out Cardinals 4-2. It was Schmitz' 17th win. The first place Braves and the Dodgers were not scheduled.

Mystery Solved

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—An American Legion member asked himself where he would go if he were a legion recruiting booth, and received the answer "nowhere". So, the missing legion booth was discovered after inquiry disclosed a nearby construction crew inadvertently picked up the booth, which had collapsed from high winds, and added it to their materials.

Race Plane Pilot Killed In Crash

SAYRE, Okla. Sept. 9 (UP)—Rough flying weather was blamed today for the crash of a prize-winning speed plane and the death of its pilot six miles south of here.

The Oklahoma highway patrol identified the victim as Sampson Held, 30, North Hollywood, Calif. who was flying the P-51 in which Jacqueline Cochran won third place in Bendix Air Race last Friday. He was ferrying it to Los Angeles for Miss Cochran.

Al Young, civil aeronautics inspector, said the plane crashed after its right wing fell off, apparently weakened by fighting its way through a storm northeast of here. The silver racing craft was demolished, but it was identified by its serial number and a large 1 painted in green of its fuselage.

FROM GRID TO GOLF

By all means the most popular hobby of University of Texas football players is golf. Some 20 members of the squad list it as their favorite non-football sport or hobby. Two of the Steers Paul Campbell and Ray Borneman shoot consistently near par.

This is the Most Important Sign on Any Street

This is the time of the year when the sign, "School - 20 M.P.H. Zone" becomes the most important traffic sign on the street.

For the next nine months - five days a week and as often as four times a day - school children will place their fates in the hands of motor vehicle drivers on our streets and highways.

Teachers do everything in their power to instill safety habits in our boys and girls, but sometimes, in the excitement of play, little folks forget the dangers of heavy traffic.

These teachers need the cooperation of every driver. Let's all help bring our children safely to and from school. Let's all remember that every street crossing is a place where some child may forget to stop, look and listen.

OIL PROFITS 'TEMPERATURE' IN LIGHT OF LOW DOLLAR, HIGH COSTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 8, (UP)—Although 1947 profits of the nation's petroleum industry registered a marked increase over 1946, that rise was "temperature" when considered in the light of vastly higher capital requirements and the dollar's lower purchasing power, the Chase National Bank said in a study made public today.

The study, entitled "Financial analysis of 30 oil companies for 1947," was prepared by Joseph E. Pogue, vice-president in charge of the Chase Bank's petroleum department, and Frederick G. Coqueron, staff associate.

It provides a continuous series of data for the 11-year period 1934-1947 on the 30 companies, which represent about two-thirds of the petroleum industry's aggregate investment. The 30-page book contains 21 tables and seven charts.

Aggregate 1947 income of the 30 oil companies, the analysis showed, amounted to $10,333,000,000, an increase of $2,334,000,000, or 23 per cent, over 1946 costs and other deductions, totaling $9,264,000,000, rose $2,478,000,000, or 37 per cent, and net income of $1,219,000,000 was $465,000,000, or 60 per cent, higher than the year before.

However, the study stated, the 1947 net income — when expressed in prewar dollars — amounted to only $648,000,000, an increase of $139,000,000, or 27 per cent, over the correspondingly-adjusted net for 1946.

"Thus," the analysis pointed out, "the reported net income for 1947 continued a component amounting to $571,000,000 which represented the extent that the purchasing power of the dollar has declined since the 1935-39 base period."

Cash dividends paid by the 30 oil companies in 1947, the analysis revealed, aggregated $429,000,000, an increase of only $94,000,000 or 28 per cent over that 1946 total. The comparatively small amount of dividends, it explained, was necessitated by a rise of $693,000,000 or 31 per cent, in capital expenditures to $2,076,000,000 last year — constituting the contribution of stockholders to the process of capital formation.

Last year, the study went on, the petroleum industry was challenged with a rise in demand for its products amounting to 309,000 barrels daily, or 11 per cent, over 1946. This impelled it to approach capacity operations which exceeded the wartime peak; stimulated higher petroleum prices and accelerated the development of a vast expansion program.

Untabulated Votes In Dallas Are Uncovered

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 9 (UP)—The Dallas County Democratic Committee was face to face today with the problem of what to do with 186 untabulated ballots from the Aug. 28 run-off senatorial campaign.

The legal tangle was uncovered by a recheck board that was checking the race for Dallas County democratic chairman. No votes, apparently, had been reported to the county committee from one machine.

Involved were 113 votes for Former Gov. Coke Stevenson and 72 votes for his rival in the senatorial primary run-off—Lyndon Johnson. The recheck committee was powerless, however, to verify totals only in the chairman's race between Arthur Stevenson and Dick Hatfield.

The Dallas county totals have been certified to the state executive committee. A 10-day limit for filing recheck petitions elapsed Tuesday.

Johnson led Stevenson by 162 votes, the latest unofficial report of the Texas Election Bureau revealed.

Houston C. Of C. Gets Deflating

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 9, (UP)—The Houston City planning commission came up today with a white paper all its own. It doesn't have a name, but it has significance aplenty—for Dallas.

At the risk of vigorous head-shaking from the Houston chamber of commerce, the commission meekly announced that its calculations give Houston a population of only 468,578.

Compiled by planning engineer Ralph Ellifrit, the commission's data is based upon the number of occupied dwelling units. The chamber of commerce, in its most conservative estimate, gave the city 500,000 residents.

Drive Opened To Employ Texas Handicapped

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 9, (UP)—Gov. Beauford Jester today opened a statewide drive to find employment for 5,769 physically handicapped Texans.

The Governor, in the presence of Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright and E. D. Whitley, national and state commanders of the Disabled American Veterans, signed a proclamation hailing the drive opening.

The campaign will end with observance of "employ the physically handicapped week," Oct. 3-9.

Pre-Revolution Relics Stand NEWPORT, R. I. (UP)—Still standing and in good repair are some 400 buildings erected before the American Revolution.

Dewey Urged To Fight Communists High Living Cost

ALBANY, Sept. 9 (UP)—Republican leaders today urged Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to hammer away at the high cost of living and the alleged "coddling" of Communists by the Truman administration when he carries his presidential campaign to the mid-west.

Dewey, who will open his White House drive with a speech at Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 20, is reported to have incorporated many of their suggestions in addresses he has prepared for his trip to the west coast.

Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry, of Nebraska, joined GOP leaders urging Dewey to make the fight against Communists a major issue. He said he was confident that midwesterners were more interested in that issue "than anything else."

The Senate whip said he believed the high cost of living was caused by devaluation of the dollar, deficit spending, aid to foreign governments and "spend-thrift budgets." He said the Republican 80th Congress took a long step toward halting inflation when it "balanced the federal budget."

Butter, Beef, Lamb Prices Decline

By United Press
Butter, beef and lamb lead a downward trend in retail food prices during the past month, dropping more than five cents per pound on the average, a survey of ten cities across the nation showed today.

The survey was prompted by a report that the wholesale price index which was at its lowest level since April, should be reflected in lower retail prices.

Dun & Bradstreet reported that its wholesale price index dropped to $6.86 for the week ended Sept. 7, the lowest level since April 27.

The price drop on butter was uniform across the country, the survey showed each city showed a decline close to the five cent per pound average.

Talmadge Leads In Georgia Race

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 9, (UP)—Herman Talmadge, son of the late Eugene Talmadge, today conceded nomination to the Georgia governorship as returns from yesterday's democratic primary gave him an overwhelming lead in a five-way race for the office.

Late returns from yesterday's Democratic primary gave Herman a big lead over Gov. M. E. Thompson in both popular vote and the county unit vote that is peculiar to Georgia.

Returns from 1,368 of the state's 1,734 precincts gave Talmadge 306 unit votes to 92 for Thompson. Talmadge's popular vote majority was not as big, but was substantial. He had 259,828 votes to Thompson's 218,378.

This is appeared that Herman had won the governorship denied him by the state supreme court in 1947 when it sought to fill the term left vacant by his late father, who died before he could be inaugurated.

Furmakers To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9, (UP)—Chairman Max Schwabe said today his house labor subcommittee intends to find out whether certain New York fur manufacturers are "playing footie" with Communist union bosses.

The Missouri Republican said he had heard reports that some furmakers were "conniving" with union leadership in order to gain advantages over the rest of the industry.

The subcommittee is investigating complaints that the CIO for workers union and its affiliates dominated New York city's billion-dollar fur industry. The complaints also charged that the leadership comprised active Communists.

Former Eastland Resident Married in Ceremony At Monahans Recently

Mr. Mary Williamson of Eastland announces the wedding of her brother Charles Shepperd of Eastland, and his brother of Frank Shepperd of Ranger. The wedding is taken from the Monahans News, as follows.

Given in marriage by her father, The Rev. Joyce Dodd became the bride of Charles Gordon Shepperd in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church, Sunday, August 15, at 3 o'clock. The nuptial service was read by Reverend Cecil J. Pearson before an altar of fern and standing baskets of pink and white gladioli backed by candelabra holding lighted white tapers.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dodd, Mrs. E. C. Shepperd of Pecos is the groom's mother.

Miss Dorothy Dell Lee, organist, played nuptial music and the processional and recessional. She accompanied Miss Joyce Lock of Fort Worth who sang "Through the Years" and "Because" prior to the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of ivory tulle with a sweetheart neckline and a fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves. The skirt was fashioned with a ruffled effect in front falling into a train. Her three-quarter length veil of silk illusion cascaded from a tiara of rhinestone and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli tied with maline and satin ribbon.

Mrs. Richard Dodd attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor and Miss Jean Dodd, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor. Their gowns, which were green and orchid taffeta respectively, were designed similar to the bride's with sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves, and a peplum coming to a point in the back. They wore short lace mitts and lace heelpieces in a bonnet effect with a double ruffle and tied under the chin. Their bouquets were of white carnations tied with maline and ribbon to match their gowns.

The six bridesmaids, Misses Charlene Bond, Lillie Mae Walsh, Jean Bobbitt, Bobbie Rae Lowmyer, Billie Dale Sloan and Lee Annis Jay wore gowns designed as above in yellow, blue and pink. Their bouquets of carnations were tied to match.

Never Jo May of Dallas was the flower girl wearing a gown of white taffeta with arched feet in front with a wide sash. Her headpiece and mitts were of white lace and she carried a white basket and dropped red carnation petals.

Serving his brother as best man was Frank Shepperd of Ranger. Groomsmen were Charles Jones, Richard Dodd, Bill Neal, Jimmie Bowers, James Mackhead, Ray Cathey and Bill Keelie.

About two hundred people attended the reception which was held immediately following the ceremony at the social center of the Baptist Church. Assisting the bride couple in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dodd. She wore a street length aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Dale Sloan, assisted by the bridesmaids, served the three tiered wedding cake which was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. W. M. Mize and Mrs. R. M. Cole served punch from the two punch bowls. Miss Joyce Lock played the piano during the reception.

The bride is a 1948 graduate of the Monahans High School. Mr. Shepperd attended the Eastland schools and is now employed by Magnolia Oil Company.

When they left on their wedding trip, to be spent at Indian Lodge in the Davis Mountains, the bride was wearing a navy blue tulle suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Upon their return the couple will make their home at 901 North Pacific Street.

Out of town guests were the groom's mother, Mrs. C. E. Shepperd of Pecos, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shepperd of Ranger, Mrs. O. H. McChesney and Betty of

Thurman, Wright Names To Go On Texas Ballot

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 9 (UP) — The way was paved today for the names of Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi to be entered on the general election ballot in Texas as the states rights nominees for president and vice president of the United States.

Thurmond told some 1,000 states rights last night that the other political parties advocated "amalgamation" of the races and said that his fight was "a fight for local self-government, for preservation of individual freedom."

The tanned, balding Carolinian and his running mate were certified as the new fourth party's nominees at the state's rights convention, held here yesterday. The new party, by its action, took the only sure way of getting its nominees' names on the Nov. 2 general election ballot in this state.

Secretary of State Paul H. Brown had ruled that names of the new party's nominees must be filed with his office by Sept. 17 to be eligible for a spot on the ballot. Thurmond and Wright will go on the ballot as independent candidates.
