Interest Grows In Revival Meet At Eastland

The revival now in progress at the Eastland First Baptist church is being well attended, there being large crowds at both the Sunday morning and evening services to hear Rev. E. F. Cole preach. Many people from out-of-town were present.

Tonight at 7:00, C. L. Martin, song leader from Breckenridge, is to organize a junior and intermediate revival choir. Mr. Martin has had much experience in this line. Prayer meeting services for all age groups are to be held at 7:00 p. m. A nursery will also be open for the babies.

At 7:30 p. m., the evangelistic service begins. The subject for tonight will be, "The Fifth Gospel." The public, as usual, is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

School House Burns Kids Get Holiday

DENTON, Tex., Oct. 4, (UP)—Insurance adjusters today were hecking over the loss caused by a fire that destroyed a $40,000 fire at the Stowell Jackson elementary school here last Friday night as pupils gained a brief holiday.

Classes were not held today, as school officials sought a temporary building which could be equipped for classes.

Have You Seen Nip, Young Bond's Collie Dog?

Eight year old Jimmy Bond, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Bond, was heart broken this morning and went to school crying.

Jimmy's dog, Nip, an eight month old brown and white spotted part Collie, which he kept in the back yard at the Methodist parsonage, disappeared last night.

Jimmy's feeling, however, were helped some when his father promised that while he was at school everything possible would be done to locate his beloved pet.

Eastland residents are asked to lookout for Nip. He is not used to being out in traffic and is very playful. He is wearing a collar to which is attached a vaccination tag.

If you have any information regarding Nip please call Rev. Bond at telephone No. 12 and receive the everlasting gratitude of both young Jimmy and his parents.

Traffic, Other Mishaps Claim 9 Texas Victims

By United Press
At least nine Texans died in week-end traffic mishaps and other violence, a United Press compilation showed today.

Five persons lost their lives in traffic accidents. Fire killed two others.

At Fort Worth, John Madison Morton, 68, died of a head injury. A corner's report called his death murder, and police held Morton's son, Elisha, 27, for investigation after he told them he had scuffled with his parent.

W. C. (Red) Stevens died at Odessa, victim of burns suffered in a fire in his hotel room. Ernest Fleischauer, 73, burned to death in his farm home, near Waco.

There were two traffic fatalities at Fort Worth. Bobbie Tom Compton, 21, was killed when his automobile collided with a truck. Anacleto Gonzales, 75, a pedestrian, died of injuries suffered when an automobile ran him down.

Dallas also marked up two traffic deaths. Ardis Rainey, 54, La-rue, Tex., was killed in a two-car collision at the city's outskirts. Two-year-old Patricia Ann Carter of Dallas was crushed to death beneath the wheels of a U. S. Mail truck near her home.

Walter Jackson, 78, of Chisholm, Tex., died at Waco from injuries suffered when an automobile driven by a Port Arthur youth struck him.

At Bonham, Wayne Louks of Gordon, Nebr., a rodeo performer, was killed. His horse fell on him during the final event of a rodeo held in connection with the Bonham fair.

Each of the three hunters got an antelope, King and Horton getting theirs within two hours after getting on the range. Linken-hogger, complained Horton and King took some five hours to finally bring his down. "If Linken-hogger had not been so slow, we would have been home a lot sooner," Horton and King said.

We have yet to hear Linken-hogger's version of the story.

Enroute home the trio stopped at Pecos where they witnessed a football game between Pecos and Kermit.

NO NEW HATS FOR A WHILE
NEW YORK, (UP)—Frank R. Chuisano, 25, was sentenced to six months in prison for accepting bribes to find people apartments. He reneged on the promise. His attorney pleaded for leniency on the grounds that Chuisano had a wife "who liked $20 hats."

L. C. Harrison of Dallas, No. 2-B Henry Compton, has started drilling for Ellenburger in southeast of northwest quarter section 12, Orphan Asylum lands. This is a location north of Harrison's No. 1-B on the same farm which rated 119 barrels of initial production daily to open a new pool from 4,350 feet Ellenburger, over a mile south of the Wild-Compton pool.

Maytag Agents Of This District Meet In Eastland

Ben Hamner, Eastland Maytag dealer, assisted by Mrs. Hamner, was host to a district meeting of Maytag dealers, Thursday. Dealers totaling 25 from Gorman, Ranger, Cisco, Putnam, Baird, Breckenridge and Rising Star, attended the meeting which was at night and which was held in the show rooms of the Hamner Appliance Company's Eastland store.

A company representative was present and furnished a movie showing items of interest to the dealers present.

Mrs. Hamner had the showrooms beautifully and appropriately decorated and served refreshments in the form of cold drinks from a deep freeze unit.

Three New Wells Being Started In Eastland County

Three new wells are being started in the northern part of Eastland county by the Lone Star Producing Company, which maintains its district headquarters in Eastland.

Two of the wells could have considerable significance. One is a mile northeast of present production in the Kleiner pool and on the Kleiner "B" lease section 75, center of northwest quarter, H. & T. C. survey.

Another is between the Kleiner pool and the furthest well to the east, the Killingsworth on the Fee, completed as a moderate producer some weeks ago. The Lone Star's new location is its Fee No. 4, there having been three Lake sand producers drilled on the tract years ago. The Mississippi lime, from which the Kleiner pool produces, will be the goal of the No. 4 Fee.

In the Kleiner pool, Lone Star is drilling the Kincaid A-5, one location due east of the No. 4. Kleiner of the Hickok, which gauged 409 barrels through half-inch choke.

Lone Star has just completed a big gasser in the Santa Anna gas field in Coleman County—No. 3 H. O. Norris, 15,000,000 feet a day total depth 2,148 feet.

DC-3 Missing With 21 Aboard

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 4 (UP)—A chartered DC-3 passenger plane carrying 17 passengers and a crew of four reported itself lost and out of gas early today and disappeared somewhere in the Atlantic ocean. Coast Guard rescue command here sent 10 military planes to search the area around the Bahamas Islands where the aircraft's first distress signal was heard.

"Gas running out; need bearings," was the last clear signal heard from the plane at 12:19 A. M., EST by the Nassau, Bahamas, airport tower.

An hour and 24 minutes later a "mayday" distress signal was heard but Coast Guard and Civil Aeronautics authority listeners were unable to get a "fix" on the location.

Coast Guard rescue officers said they believed the pilot became lost on a night flight from Teberboro, N. J., and called the Nassau tower in the belief it was in that area.

The plane, a New England Air Express charter piloted by A. D. Quiver, took off from the B. D. airport at Teberboro at 7:35 P. M.

With 700 gallons of gas, its destination was listed as Miami and eventually San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Weather officials reported the night was ideal for the "visual flight" plan of the aircraft and could not explain why he was so far out at sea and off course on a flight down the eastern coastline to Miami.

CAA officials said they were informed by Bendix airport that the plane was listed as being equipped with flotation gear and three ten-man life rafts, enough for all aboard.

Brother, Sister Meet First Time In 65 Years

SWEETWATER, Tex., Oct. 4 (UP)—Mrs. J. P. McAbee of Sweetwater, 81, met her 85-year-old brother, James C. Owens of Walcott, Ind., here for the first time in 65 years today.

At the time her "kid brother", Arch Owens of Los Angeles, joined the reunion. He is 65 and his brother and sister had not previously met him since the family scattered 65 years ago in Union County, Tennessee.

Seven other brothers and sisters may participate in the family reunion later. Mrs. Donna Kingbaum of Barstow, Mrs. S. H. Moore of Lamesa and Mrs. Della M. M. of Clyde, Tex., are sisters.

Farm Bureau Meeting Oct. 12

A district Farm Bureau meeting will be held at the Brownwood Hotel in Brownwood on Tuesday October 12. It has been announced by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. Raymond McElrath of Coleman, Texas, District Director, will preside. The meeting will start at 10:00 a. m.

This will be one of a series of 13 district meetings being held throughout Texas during the month of October, for the purpose of bringing farmers and ranchmen first-hand information on the immediate agricultural situation, and the economic conditions of the Nation as a whole, and to get the thinking from the grassroots with reference to agricultural matters.

"Farm prices have dropped 30 per cent in the past nine months, and farmers' buying power has been reduced 18 per cent," Hammond said. "Only through a workable, long range farm program that will provide for adequate price supports for farm commodities, can this Nation enjoy a balanced economy and avoid another depression such as was experienced in the early thirties," he declared. The long range farm bill hastily passed during the closing days of the last session of Congress will not adequately safeguard the interests of agriculture, and will take a strong organization of farmers in this Nation to secure necessary amendments to this bill at the next session, the Federation president emphasized.

Plans for the Farm Bureau's Fall Membership Round-Up will be discussed, and an added feature of the district meeting will be selection of a district Farm Bureau queen to participate in the State Queen Contest to be held during the state convention.

Texas Farm Bureau's membership goal for 1948 is 60,000.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 4, (UP)—Orchestra Leader Jan Savitt, 35, died in a hospital here today of cerebral hemorrhage. He suffered a stroke while enroute to Sacramento Saturday from Los Angeles.

REBELLION QUelled
LIMA, Peru, Oct. 4, (UP)—A bloody revolt against the Peruvian government ended today when the rebel fleet surrendered formally in nearby Callao, the port of Lima.

Rear Admiral Heriberto Maguina Saez, boarded the cruiser Grau and accepted the formal surrender. The revolt already had been crushed by navy forces and civilians.

An unconfirmed report circulated that Capt. Enrique Aguilera Pardo, leader of the seaborne revolt, committed suicide aboard the Grau. Two officers and two seamen who had been wounded were removed from the vessel.

Satira Hears The Good News

The Security Council convened at 3:12 P. M. (12 A. M. CST) in an atmosphere as tense as any yet produced at the Paris meeting of the UN. The United States surrendered the chairmanship of the council to Argentina at the outset of the meeting because of direct concern in the Berlin issue.

For the first hour the council argued over a technicality—whether translations should be consecutive or simultaneous.

Blantly Vishinsky told the council that there was no blockade of Berlin. That was the tactic taken by Foreign Minister V. I. Molotov in proposing a renewal of Big Four consideration of the German problem.

"The measures taken by Soviet authorities against which the complaints were directed are responsible measures which the Soviet government had to take in view of the separate currency reform in Western Germany, which put the Berlin and the whole Soviet zone in a position where they were threatened with a flood of new currency," Vishinsky said.

Clear, Cool, Dry Weather Outlook

Clear, cool and dry weather prevailed over Texas today with the prospects likely for more of the same, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

No rain was reported to the weather bureau in Dallas during the last 24 hours. Yesterday's high was 83 degrees at Laredo with the low maximum 76 at Marfa. The overnight low was 67 at Salt Flat. Most readings yesterday were in the 60's.

BY R. H. SHACKFORD United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 4, (UP)—Russia threatened to boycott the United Nations Security Council on the Berlin question today, but United States delegate calmly replied that the western powers would press their charges that Russian actions threaten the peace anyway.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky set the stage for a Russian boycott—possibly even another dramatic walk-out such as that of 1946 over the Iranian issue—in a table-pounding, arm-waving speech in which he asserted the Security Council has no right to intervene.

American delegate Philip Jessup quietly replied that: "The Soviet government still refused to list the blockade of Berlin. The Berlin issue is still a threat to peace."

Vishinsky charged the western powers with raising war fears, with trying to junk the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council, with attempting "illegally" to bring the Berlin dispute before the council, with violating the UN charter and the Potsdam and Yalta agreements.

Jessup calmly answered that the latest note of the Soviet government suggested a new meeting of the council of foreign ministers on the whole German question had not changed anything. In effect, he rejected the Russian note and he made clear that the western powers had no intention of dropping their case against the Soviet Union in the Security Council.

Even as the two men spoke, Secretary of State George C. Marshall was meeting with the British and French foreign ministers at the French foreign office to confirm their rejection of the Russian proposal, unless the Soviet blockade of Berlin is lifted unconditionally.

In two passages of his speech a 22-minute tirade repeating all the now familiar Russian charges against the western powers—Vishinsky made clear that he was warning the Security Council that Russia would boycott its consideration of the dispute.

Asserting that inclusion of the issue on the agenda would violate international agreements, he shouted: "We shall not be a party to such violations."

Again, after explaining that he was not discussing the substance of the Berlin question, but merely procedural questions, he cried: "And the Soviet government does not intend to deal with the substance of this matter because the security council does not have competence."

Inclusion of the Berlin dispute on the council's agenda, the Russian deputy foreign minister asserted, would violate the United Nations charter and other international agreements. He insisted that the charter "excludes the United Nations as a whole" from competence to consider the question.

Although his speech dealt in part with the actions of Russia and the western powers in the Berlin situation, and made the old familiar charges that the west was stirring the trouble there, Vishinsky insisted he was not dealing at his stage with substantive questions in the Berlin case, but merely with procedure.

Even as Vishinsky spoke, the big three foreign ministers were meeting elsewhere in Paris to confirm their preliminary agreement of rejection of a new Russian proposal, unless the Berlin blockade is lifted unconditionally. The Soviet proposed a new meeting of the big four Council of foreign ministers.

'Smiling Man' Does Good Job Smoothing Way for President

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

(Peter Edson is on vacation.)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Truman's current political junkets around the country are now pretty efficient operations as far as arrangements and management go. They are in sharp contrast to the one he made out West last June which featured an address to an almost empty auditorium in Omaha, Neb.

The man mostly responsible for the difference is Oscar Chapman, undersecretary of interior and called the "smiling man" in Washington.

When the June junket started Oscar was sent straight to the West to start making plans for the President's arrival there. He had done the same thing for Roosevelt in 1940. The White House had asked local politicians along the way to handle the arrangements in the various cities through which the President was to pass. Right from the start this didn't work out very well.

The President became increasingly disgusted with the way things were going and the Omaha incident capped it. He immediately ordered that Chapman be made the exclusive "advance man" for the trip.

CHAPMAN has found that exactly five days ahead of the President is the best timetable. When it's longer, the careful schedules he plans get fouled up. When it's shorter, the local politicians don't have time to handle their part of the arrangements. In one city where Chapman only happened to be three days ahead, the mayor hit the ceiling because he said the President's arrival didn't give him time to get his only swimming-trail coat back from the cleaners.

Even the seeming impractical steps in the small cities along the way have to be carefully arranged. Chapman has to determine just who of the local big shots will be asked inside the parlor car for a quick chat with the President and who will be limited to a handshake outside. And then that list has to be checked and approved by the Secret Service. It frequently requires some delicate decisions.

About the highest favor which can be bestowed on a politician is to be asked to board the train and ride through his state on it. The man who is thus honored is expected to appear on the back platform each time the train stops for the President to say a few words. Chapman usually decides who this person is to be.

It's obvious that Chapman's job is plenty ticklish and plenty exhausting. Regardless of local difficulties he encounters he's got to keep a set schedule. The President's party is on his tail and doesn't stop for anything. It just doesn't do to leave irate politicians in his wake who might vent their wrath by sabotaging the President's visit in some way.

Chapman has an easy manner and a quiet Southern drawl. It is hoped that the latter will make it easier for him in the hostile South as he plans for the President's various visits. He claims he was born under a tobacco plant in Halifax County, Va. He went to school with Virginia's present governor, William Tuck, in a one-room affair.

Sent to Colorado to recover from an illness contracted in World War I, Chapman's first venture into politics was in organizing a group of other veteran patients and capturing one of Denver's Democratic precincts in the party organization. Later he served as probation officer for Judge Ben Lindsey's famous juvenile court.

Chapman became a junior partner of the late Sen. Edward P. Costigan and managed Costigan's first campaign for the Senate. Oscar was 35 when he first came to Washington in 1933 and President Roosevelt made him an assistant secretary of the interior. He got along well with his bombastic boss Harold Ickes and was boosted into his present position when Julius Krug was made secretary of interior.

Tribe Manager Lauds Pitching Predicts Victory

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4 (UP)—"There is no Hal Newhouser in Boston, and we're going there just a day early for the World series."

That statement from manager Lou Bourdeau today as the Indians were en route to Boston for the first play-off of a championship tie in the history of the American League, summed up the feeling of the entire club.

The Indians were soundly beaten yesterday by Detroit, 7 to 1, but more specifically they were beaten by Newhouser, a veteran pitcher Bourdeau termed "the greatest left-hander in the game" in a sad post-game meeting with the press.

Newhouser beat us almost single-handedly yesterday," Bourdeau said. "We could have batted against him for two days and still lost the game. He's one of the greatest pitchers of them all."

The youthful Cleveland manager, however, refused to talk about his own pitching plans for the pay-off game with the Red Sox today that will decide the champion of the league.

"I probably will start one of three men—Bob Feller, Bob Lemon or Gene Bearden—but I don't expect to make up my mind till game time," he said. "In fact, I have a total of six pitchers in mind I might start, but I want to think it over until that last moment."

Bourdeau refused to be downhearted about the Detroit loss and he maintained the Indians still were "up" for today's game with the Sox.

"There's too much experience I pour in field to let a little thing like this stop us," he said.

Lyons Quits Sox, Onslow Succeeds

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (UP)—The Chicago White Sox announced the resignation of Ted Lyons as manager and today picked Jack Onslow, manager of their Memphis farm club, to succeed him.

Onslow's appointment was announced by Charles Comiskey, secretary of the White Sox, who yesterday accepted the resignation of Ted Lyons.

Lyons' resignation was made public shortly after Sox had finished one of their most disastrous seasons, losing more than 100 games. Lyons' two-year contract expired yesterday.

Onslow, a former pitcher-catcher with the Boston Braves, and the New York Giants, directed the Waterloo, Ia., team in the three-eye league to a championship in 1947. He took over the Memphis team which was picked to finish seventh and led it to second place.

Barons Top Cats, Deadlock Series

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 4 (UP)—The Birmingham Barons and the Fort Worth Cats left for Ft. Worth today to continue the Dixie Series with the count in games tied one-all.

The Barons evened the score here last night by trimming the Cats, 8-4, behind Mike Palm's eight-hit hurling. Ft. Worth won the series opener Saturday night. A rain-slimmed crowd of 10,000 saw the big bat of Walt Dropp, Birmingham first baseman, provide the offensive punch for the Southern Association play-off winners. Dropp hit a single, a double and a home run with two mates on base.

The Texas playoff champs jumped off to a two-run lead in the first frame but Birmingham moved ahead in the third and stayed there.

The two teams take today off for travel and resume the series tomorrow night. They will play three games in Ft. Worth and then return to Birmingham to wind up the best four out of seven set if any other games are needed.

Improving Bears Face Arkansas

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 4 (UP)—Baylor University's surprising Bears test their mettle against Arkansas' undefeated Razorbacks this week in the feature attraction of a Southwest Conference schedule that also will offer five-top flight inter-sectional contests.

Relogated among the also-rans in pre-season ratings, Baylor has shown latent possibilities in downing Tulsa and tying Mississippi State in its two starts to date and could emerge into a major title threat should it be able to conquer the flashy Razorbacks at Fayetteville Saturday.

Although not a conference fray, Texas' annual affair with Oklahoma at Dallas will demand much attention, and while Southern Methodist's foray into the "show me" state against Missouri will rank close behind.

Other inter-sectional warfare will find Rice playing Southern California at Los Angeles, Texas Christian meeting Indiana at Bloomington and winless Texas A & M engaging Louisiana State at Baton Rouge.

DODGER CLUBS PLAY

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4 (UP)—Two Brooklyn Dodger farm clubs, St. Paul and Montreal, were all set today to cross bats in the little world series, scheduled to get underway in St. Paul tomorrow.

St. Paul earned the right to represent the American Association by whipping the Columbus Red Birds, 5 to 3, in the seventh and deciding game of the league finals here yesterday.

Stop The Music Winner Pleased

BLUFFTON, Ind., Oct. 4 (UP)—Kenneth Crosbie, a 41-year-old beer salesman and his family prepared today for the vacation trip to Mexico and Hollywood that he won in a $30,000 "stop the music" jackpot.

Crosbie was called by the radio giveaway show last night and named the mystery song "Turkeys in the Treetop."

"I thought they were kidding me when they told me I had the right song title and said I was the winner off all that stuff," he said.

The prizes include a new automobile and a $1,000 diamond ring.

"We haven't been on a vacation trip yet this year, and we're really looking forward to it," he said. "I've got three kids, ranging from six to 17, and I guess we'll be able to handle all the gifts."

"Especially that new car. Mine is kinda old."

Musial Gets Boost In 2 Year Contract

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4 (UP)—Stan Musial, batting king of the major leagues, was signed to a new two-year contract today by President Bob Hannagan of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Terms of the contract were not revealed but the best estimate of the figure, agreed on after a 15-minute conference between Musial and Hannagan in the Cardinals office, set the fence-busting outfielder's salary at $100,000 for the two year span.

That would be the highest salary ever paid to a Cardinal player.

Musial's 1948 contract brought him a reported $35,000, which included a midseason bonus of $4,000 arranged in a conference between Stan and club officials.

Three Way Tie In Portland Golf

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4 (UP)—A 20-foot putt that missed the cup by a scant half inch today forced the $15,000 Portland Open into a three-way tie, sending bantam Ben Hogan, Freddie Haas and Johnny Palmer into a playoff for the top money.

Playing in semi-darkness and an intermittent drizzle, Blazin' Ben needed an eagle three on the final hole yesterday to win the title. His second shot placed him on the edge of the green, but his putt squeezed past the cup and stopped two feet away.

Hogan wound up with a five-under-par 67 for a 72-hole total of 270, matching Palmer, the former air force gunner from Badin, N. C., and Haas, New Orleans pro, Palmer, who shared the lead with Hogan at the end of the third round, shot a 67, with Haas pulling up with a sizzling 65.

Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle won fourth-place money as he missed tying the leaders by two strokes, both of them putts that rimmed the cup.

There was $5,440 riding on the playoff round today, with the winner to collect $2,450.

Chance Remark Hits Jackpot

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (UP)—Patricia Jones, of Dallas, Texas, 1942 national figure-skating champion, remarked to a friend at a ball game that she "loved to watch a man enjoying a cigar."

A man sitting behind her tapped her on the shoulder and asked how she would like to be queen of the national convention of the Retail Tobacco Dealers of America.

When the man explained he was an official of the association, Miss Jones accepted and will reign over the convention three days starting Thursday.

ALLIANCE, Neb. (UP)—Bill Towne, 70, who lives on Sweetwater Avenue, was convicted of selling firewater to Indians.

Miracle Hat

For only two dollars any woman can have as many hats as she has scarves, thanks to the "Bobbin" shown above as presented exclusively in the October issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. A patented invention, the "Bobbin" is a rolling frame, double at front, single at back. With the "Bobbin" in her wardrobe, any woman can have as many hats as she has scarves. She doesn't have to be ingenious. She just winds a scarf around the "Bobbin" as shown at lower left. Top shows the "Bobbin" with a sequined scarf, which makes it the perfect hat for dancing. Lower right shows the "Bobbin" adorned with a bold plaid scarf, which makes an ideal out-door hat. Designed by Jamie Ballard, it is expected to make hat history all over America this fall.

Jesse James Claim To Be Settled Soon

PASADENA, Cal. Oct. 4 (UP)—Jesse E. James, 73, son of Jesse James, will meet here Oct. 4 with a 101-year-old man who claims he is the famed western outlaw.

The Rev. R. E. Higly said they would meet at his home. Higly met the elder James during a recent trip to Nashville, Tenn.

"Jesse, his manager and a nurse are appearing at a fair in Atlanta, Ga. They will leave for Pasadena Oct. 11, and we will try to find a house for him here," Higly said.

The younger James now lives in Long Beach, Cal. Higly is a close friend of several living members of the James family. The famed outlaw supposedly was killed in 1882.

"If Jesse's son and wife, Stella, positively identify this man as Jesse James, I believe some astounding facts about the lives of Jesse and Frank James will be brought to light," Higly said.

"Young Jesse and his wife have always been in favor of a public meeting to settle this meeting once and for all," he said.

Pals Of The Sawdust Trail

Motors may replace the horse everywhere save the circus. The four-footed trouper is as essential in the land of sawdust as the pretty equestrienne who works with him. He goes through his paces heedless of distractions and seemingly with an ear as keenly attuned to applause as that of his rider. Annexation Of Latvia By Reds Not Recognized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4, (UP)—In another slap at Russia's expansion in the Baltic, the United States again has stated that it does not recognize Soviet annexation of Latvia.

Officials said today that Secretary of State George C. Marshall reaffirmed this country's position recently by recognizing a new charge d'affaires for the Latvian government. Little Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania were swallowed up by Soviet annexation eight years ago.

Marshall's action was taken weeks ago but was only disclosed today.

Claims Beauty Shops Uplift Women Folk

United Press Staff Correspondent CHICAGO, Oct. 4. (UP)—A beauty shop plays a psychological part in a woman's life, a beautician said today.

Miss Mays Whitley, president of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, said that "for the few hours while she's getting a permanent and a manicure, a woman is the petted darling she'd like to be all the time."

A woman who has just come out of a beauty shop is at her best, "not only in appearance, but from a psychological point of view," Miss Whitley said.

"You take an average woman, and she's run to death planning meals and looking after children," she said.

Miss Whitley, whose group represents about 30,000 beauty shop owners, said that beauty salon is "an oasis of femininity and luxury that some women don't get anywhere else."

She said it was "ridiculous to think home beauty aids can take the place of professional treatment."

The trouble with home beauty care is that it doesn't take a woman's mind off her housework, Miss Whitley said. No sooner than she's beautified, she's dusting and doing dishes.

"No woman," if she can afford it, is going to give up those hours of relaxation in a beauty shop for a treatment that practically forces her to go right on with her home routine," Miss Whitley said.

A wise husband never would begrudge her the money, either, she said.

"It ought to be worth every cent to him," she said, "to come home to a wife who's prettier and younger-looking."

Miss Whitley denied that catching up on gossip is another advantage of visiting a beauty parlor.

"The whole atmosphere of a beauty shop centers around attention to the individual," she said. "As a result, most women are too busy talking about themselves to discuss their neighbors.

"Besides, you never know who might be under the dryer next to you."
