NEW TREATMENT TO AID OIL PRODUCTION CLAIMED

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—A new method of treating oil wells to increase the amount of oil that may be taken from underground formations was claimed today by the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company.

The method consists of cracking rocks thousands of feet underground to make it easier for oil to flow into the well hole.

J. B. Clark of Stanolind's Tulsa research laboratories revealed the new "hydrafrac" process at the annual meeting here of the Petroleum Division of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

He said Stanolind had made arrangements to have the process patented but that other companies would be allowed to use it.

The method now commonly used to break underground rock is jelled gasoline, pumped into the well under high pressure to split the rocks. Frequently, little of the oil underneath the rock layers can be produced because the rocks are too tight for the oil to flow easily.

Since more than half of the oil wells in the nation are producing from sandstone, the new hydrafrac process was developed for use in sandstone formations but its said to work equally well in limestone.

Heavy equipment is needed for the Hydrafrac treatments, Clark said. As many as four heavy-duty oil field trucks may be required, each equipped with heavy duty 800 on casing and 450 on tubing from 30 perforations at 2,790-96. These wells are in the edge of Comanche county.

The estimated income for the board's 1948-49 budget, including $12,500 interest and sinking fund, will be approximately $99,588, according to Hertig.

Firemen To Have Annual Barbecue Thursday Night

The Eastland Volunteer Fire Department will hold their annual barbecue Thursday evening at 7:30 at Ringling Lake. This is an affair to which members of the department and friends are invited.

Wayne Massengale heads a committee composed of himself, Joe Tow and Leon Bourland, that has charge of arrangements for the barbecue. Massengale said both beef and goat meat would be prepared for the occasion by an expert cook.

The Eastland Volunteer Department is composed of approximately 45 members. A. W. Hennessey is chief. Among the members are several 15 and 20 year members. The services of volunteer firemen are gratis and are intended to supplement the regular paid firemen, which in towns the size of Eastland, are usually sufficient in number to form only a skeleton force.

The volunteer firemen maintain a club room at the City Hall, they have for years sponsored a softball tournament in season and own maintain the equipment at Firemen's Field. They also own and furnish business houses flags for use on special occasions. They put these flags up and take them down where ordered at a nominal charge.

COUNCIL REQUESTS BLOCKADE LIFT CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE CONFERENCE

William Pannill Former Eastland Justice Dies

William Pannill, 72-well-known Fort Worth attorney, died early Tuesday in a hospital here after an illness of about two months.

Pannill was a former county attorney of Erath County, where he also served as district attorney of the 29th District. He was considered one of the top land lawyers in the state, and was credited with trying more land suits than any other attorney in Texas.

In 1923, Pannill went to Eastland to become the first Chief Justice of the then newly-formed Court of Civil Appeals. After serving the latter court of Eastland for about four years, he moved to Fort Worth to form a law partnership with the late John J. Hiner.

Several years ago, he moved to Houston to become general attorney for the Ohio Oil Co. He returned to Fort Worth about five years ago.

He served as an attorney in a boundary-line oil suit in Pecos county, which is considered as the biggest oil suit in this part of the country.

Survivors, besides the widow, are two sons, William C. Pannill Fort Worth and Hastings Pannill, Midland and the following daughters, Mrs. John Camp, Houston; Mrs. E. J. Aycock, Mrs. Charles Ramsey and Mrs. Al Wooten and Mrs. John Davis all of Fort Worth.

Services are pending at the Raycrowder Funeral Home.

Cooler Weather, Rain Expected

Lower temperatures and showers were expected over much of Texas today with yesterday's warm weather still in evidence.

The United States Weather Bureau predicted showers in the northeast portion of the state for today. Cooler weather was seen for north Texas, the Panhandle and the South Plains.

South winds have been rather strong during the past 24 hours. Presidio recorded the highest maximum temperature yesterday with a reading of 93 degrees. Guadalupe Pass enjoyed a cool 75 degrees for the state's lowest maximum reading.

The minimum low was 48 degrees at Amarillo, while Brownsville and El Paso shared honors with a 70 degree highest minimum temperature.

Oil Activities Here Attracts J. A. Bracken

Many men consider themselves pursued by misfortune—but Eastland oil activities recently attracted a visitor who might be said to be pursued by good fortune.

J. A. Bracken was a farmer over near Van and oil was discovered. With some of his royalty income, Bracken bought another farm—and this one proved to be in the East Texas oil field.

Then he bought a ranch in South Texas—and now the ranch has an oil field on it.

Bracken drills wells himself and is looking over the Eastland district, which is witnessing a revival of drilling.

Fire Destroys Small Building On South Seaman

COUNCIL REQUESTS BLOCKADE LIFT CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE CONFERENCE

BY R. H. SHACKFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Oct. 6, (UP)—The United Nations Security Council gave Russia another chance today to accept American, British and French proposals for ending the Berlin crisis.

The council heard representatives of the Western Powers open their case against the Soviet Union by charging it with "acts of aggression" in Berlin, vowing that they would never surrender their hold on the western sectors of the German capital, and then offering an immediate Big Four Ministers Conference on German problems in return for lifting of the "illegal" Soviet blockade.

Promptly then the council, in which Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky sat silent, agreed to a suggestion by Chairman Juan Bramuglia of Argentina that an "intermediary waiting period" be taken in the case.

Bramuglia did not specify the length of the recess in the proceedings which amounted to a trial of Russia's Berlin actions before the jury of world opinion. It was designed, however, to allow the Soviet Union another opportunity to accept the western offer.

It was assumed that the Berlin case in which the Western Powers charge Russia with UN charter violations and with being a threat to the peace would not be taken up again before sometime next week. Bramuglia said only that the next meeting on this issue would be called at an appropriate time.

The decision to recess came after American, British and French delegates in turn had pressed their case against Russia in terms which implied determination of their countries to use force if necessary to maintain their hold in Berlin.

Vishinsky, who announced yesterday that Russia would boycott security council debate of the Berlin dispute, attended both morning and afternoon sessions. It appeared that Soviet tactics were to listen and wait until a resolution is submitted, then to cast a killing veto.

The morning session was conducted by a calm, dispassionate 80-minute speech of Dr. Philip Jessup, the U. S. delegate who opened the trial of Soviet union tactics in Berlin before world opinion.

He indicated Russia on the charge of committing an "act of aggression" and using "hostile and threatening measures" in imposing an "unlawful" road, rail and canal blockade on Berlin.

He described the Anglo-American air lift which has huddled the blockade to supply 2,500,000 persons in the western sectors of Berlin during the past three and one-half months as a "symbol of peace" and promised it would be continued, come what may.

In the afternoon session, with Vishinsky again in his seat and again alternately reading newspapers and taking notes as he held in the morning, Britain's polished old-time diplomat Sir Alexander Cadogan endorsed fully the American stand, made the same offer of a Big Four conference if the blockade is lifted, and added the direct charge that the Russians entered the recent direct negotiations without good faith.

Alexander Parodi of France spoke after Cadogan, couching his charges against Russia and his promise of a four-power conference if the blockade is lifted in similar terms.

Vishinsky was 20 minutes late for the morning session, but Juan Bramuglia of Argentina, the council chairman, did not open the meeting until he had taken his place at the horseshoe-shaped table with Vassily Tarasenko, youthful delegate of the Ukraine, who also has said his country will boycott the Berlin debate.

Rotan Civic Groups To Honor Dr. Callan
ROTAN, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—Dr. Chester U. Callan, whose life story appears in the Oct. 6 Saturday Evening Post will be honored here Friday by doctors, civic leaders and West Texas friends.

The occasion will be "Dr. Callan Appreciation Day."
Many doctors will represent unofficially the Nolan, Fisher and Mitchell county medical associations. The medical group plans a special program later, dedicated to Dr. Callan.

PARIS, Oct. 6 (UP)—The British secretary of state rejected a formal proposal by Ecuador that a sub-committee attempt to reach a compromise on the atomic question between Russia and the West. It would be useless even to name such a committee," he said, unless Russia "in simple and unambiguous language" answers these three questions:

1. Is Russia willing to accept an adequate control system as a preliminary to signing a treaty to prohibit atomic bombs and destroy existing stock of them?

2. Is Russia ready to accept the western control plan "as a general basis for the atomic convention?"

3. Is Russia willing to give up its veto power over the proposed international atomic energy control agency?

Only affirmative Soviet answers backed by appropriate action can make it worthwhile even to seek an agreement, McNeil said.

"The United States and my government and all governments which signed the majority report (of the atomic energy commission) will not hand over this (atomic) information or destroy bombs and stocks of nuclear fuel semi-conditionally because we all fear Russia," McNeil said.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—Suggestions for rewriting of the Texas constitution will be undertaken by the Texas Association of Commerce, according to Laredo Chamber of Commerce manager William J. Stiles.

The association is composed of the three regional chambers of the state.

The commerce group plans to assign study on the subject to representatives of several state organizations. These include the Texas Manufacturer's Association, the State Bar Association, the Regional Chambers of Commerce, the Oil and Gas Industry, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Stiles pointed out that the Texas constitution was adopted in 1875 and that many states have discarded old constitutions and adopted new ones.

Th suggestions for a new constitution are expected to be submitted to the state legislature, who in turn would present them to the voters for approval.

Governor To Ask Increase For State's Needy

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—Gov. Beauford Jester said last night that he will ask the next legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters to raise the present ceiling of $35,000,000 for aid to dependent children, the aged, blind and needy.

He said the last legislature had appropriated the full $35,000,000 but had refused to submit an amendment for raising the ceiling.

The governor addressed the League of Texas Municipalities convention at the El Paso Country Club.

"If the amendment passes," he said, "it will assist counties and cities of Texas in their welfare work, relieving them to that extent in providing for the aged, blind and dependent children within their respective jurisdictions."

The state's chief executive said he also would recommend to the legislature a general assistance program which would make it possible to appropriate money to take care of persons totally and permanently disabled and who have no one responsible for their care.

He pointed out an "urgent need" for action toward finding additional sources of revenue for Texas cities.

Sports Note of 1845

BOSTON, (UP) — A copy of the Boston Almanac for 1845, dug up by William Harrington, contained the following sports note: "Horn Pond House at Woburn, having got a bad reputation, it being the resort of low people, Mr. Sheriff Choate pounced upon them and arrested several gamblers, who had 23 high top cocks, valued at $1,500."

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES

bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dairy spells, you may be troubled with belching; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious, dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may feel lazy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache, your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning ("intestinal toxemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it).

HOW TO GET RELIEF
 You can relieve this condition, usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists.

Study the above drawing for a few minutes. Notice particularly how the bile flows from the liver into and out of the gall-bladder and thence into the small intestine where it mixes with the partly digested food just below the stomach. Bile is a necessary adjunct to proper digestion. Its absence from the intestines inevitably causes putrefaction and fermentation.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS
 When your stomach, liver, and gall bladder have been upset by improper eating or drinking, or when they are not working well because retained and putrefying food matter in your intestines is poisoning your entire body, you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:
 Your breath may become unpleasant (halitosis), your tongue coated, a

U. S.-Red Rift To Grow Until After Election

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 6 (UP)—The cold war between the United States and Russia will increase in intensity until after the presidential election at least John Foster Dulles told Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in his report on the Berlin crisis, it was learned today.

Dulles, a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations meeting in Paris, spent three and half hours with Dewey yesterday, briefing the GOP presidential nominee on the foreign situation. Dulles flew here from Paris for the conference and will fly back to the French capital today.

No official account of Dulles' report was made public, but it reportedly contained two basic points:

1. Dulles reported that the Russians are just pretending when they seem to seek solution of the Berlin crisis. Furthermore, he told Dewey that Soviet block spokesmen are spreading the word in Paris that the United States is on the brink of a depression. Dulles said they base their belief on campaign statements made in this country.

2. Dewey's speeches about national unity, according to Dulles, have had a good effect in Paris and have done a great deal to offset the Soviet whispering campaign about the American economy.
