City Election Field Narrows To Five; Statements Issued

The field in the Eastland city election to be held April 5 was narrowed to five this week as Bruce Lasater, laundryman whose candidacy had been announced, withdrew his name.

Lasater's name will not appear on the ballot, leaving five candidates for the three commission posts to be filled.

Two of the five candidates issued a joint statement of intentions this week, and another issued a statement over his own name only.

Candidate Jack Chamberlain in a statement addressed to the citizens of Eastland said:

"Recently I was approached by a group of men who asked me to put my name on the ticket for City Commissioner.

"I wish to state that my only promise is, that if I am elected, I will conscientiously and to the best of my ability, discharge my duties to the best interest of the town and community as a whole.

"I seek no personal gain other than the satisfaction of serving the town in which I have lived for more than twenty years, sharing in its good times and bad.

"I respectfully offer you my services. Your wishes are mine."

J. H. Johnson, used car dealer and apartment house owner, and C. H. McBee, carpenter-contractor, issued a joint statement in which a program for future action was outlined.

The program included five points:

1. "We should begin now to make our water system more adequate before our present supply becomes exhausted."

2. Extending the city limits so that many persons now living outside the city limits and have a business or vocation in town "may have a part in carrying on the affairs of our city government."

3. Opposing "any and all expenditures coming out of the city treasury for projects either inside or outside our city limits that have not been approved by our city charter or by a voice of our people."

4. Opposition to "the further raising of your taxes on a basis of from 10 to 25 per cent as has been suggested by some of our citizens, as it has been proved beyond doubt by your present mayor and commissioners that the affairs of our city can be maintained and many necessary repairs made, and all bonded indebtedness retired as it becomes due on the present income of the city."

Kirk Pool Operators Consider Ways To Cut Gas Flaring

Operators interested in the Kirk oil pool at Gorman met Tuesday morning in Eastland for a further consideration of plans for curtailing flare gas in order to meet the requirements of the Texas Railroad Commission.

About November 1, Kirk pool operators, at a meeting in Eastland, organized the Kirk Field Operator's Committee to study plans of unitizing operations in the field with a view of doing something about taking care of "flare gas." This committee had since held meetings in November, December and January.

Plans for the erection of a gas-line plant in the field to take the gas that was being flared into the air, were considered, but it is understood that it was found that there was not enough gas in the field to justify the expenditure—approximately $1,500,000 to build this plant, it being pointed out that around 20 billion cubic feet of gas would be required to justify this plant and engineers reports indicated that the field was not and possibly would not produce that amount of gas.

Installation of a water injection plant, with which water would be injected into some wells in the field thereby forcing the oil out and doing away with the need for the natural gas pressure, is now being considered, it is understood.

Water for this plant could be obtained from wells drilled in the field, engineers believe. An experimental injection plant to cost approximately $20,000, is recommended by engineers before a plant large enough to serve the entire field would be constructed at a cost of about $130,000.

By using water injection it is believed that the production from wells in the Kirk pool could be increased from two to three times that at present.

Husband Catches Heel When He Sees Show With Another

Mrs. Candido de los Santos did not complain, although she was not at all pleased when her husband refused to attend the movies with her at a local theatre Sunday evening, but when he came in later with another woman and the couple sat down on seats in front of her, it was more than she could take.

Removing one of her high-heeled shoes, she seized him by the hair of the head and proceeded to give him a severe pommeling with the shoe, at the same time loudly voicing her disapproval of his actions.

Re sults were that both husband and wife paid fines of $14 each Monday morning in Justice of the Peace, E. F. Wood's court on charges of disturbing the peace.

The young woman who accompanied de los Santos to the show, taking advantage of the opportunity to get away while the husband and wife were fighting, climbed over a few rows of seats and disappeared from the building. She was not brought into court.

Oil Corporation To Resume Drilling Work In This Area

Dixieland Petroleum Corporation will resume its interrupted oil exploration activities in this area soon from headquarters in the Petroleum Building in Eastland, Mrs. Frances B. Stratton, widow of the late Jack Stratton, said this week.

Mr. Stratton died in Eastland February 23.

Mrs. Stratton said she will leave soon for Fayette, Ala., to look after holdings there, and then will return to New York to complete private financial arrangements for the operations here. She expects to be back in Eastland early in May to resume drilling the J. T. Poe No. 1 well near Carbon, and to develop other leases held by Dixieland Petroleum in this area.

Drilling of the Poe well was halted when the hole was bottomed at 1335 feet, when Stratton suffered a nervous breakdown. Then last October he was struck down by a hit and run driver, and suffered serious injuries that laid him up until February, shortly before his death.

His widow said he was still wearing braces and walking with a cane, and came to Eastland in great pain only to merit the confidence placed in his judgment "of the tremendous possibilities of the holdings of Dixieland Petroleum Corporation in Eastland county and the surrounding vicinity."

She stressed that contrary to rumors, the corporation is not and was not designed for the sale of stock to the public, but was financed by friends of Stratton's who subscribed for blocks of stock.

Under this setup, she said, Stratton did not believe the Securities Exchange Commission had any jurisdiction over the sale of stock, and so maintained to the time of his death. Despite this, the S. E. C. obtained a court order restraining Dixieland from proceeding with sale of stock, even though the sales were to friends who had been associated with him in oil, gas and mining operations all over the west for 25 years.

The money paid in for stock by these friends was put into the corporation's treasury and used for operations, Mrs. Stratton said.

Mrs. Stratton said she plans to make her permanent home in Eastland, since her late husband is buried in the Eastland cemetery.

She was in touch with all phases of Stratton's affairs, and will be in a position to straighten out the operations here, she said.

Dealers To Display '49 Plymouths Today

Eastland dealers will have the new Plymouth on display Friday and Saturday of this week.

Dealers are the McGraw Motor Company, Blevins Motor Company and Rushing Motor Company.

The new cars are described as sleekly streamlined, yet with the proved engineering characteristics of previous models. The wheelbase had been lengthened, yet the overall length shortened; seats are wider, but the overall width less.

New riding comfort is claimed because of the cradled effect of moving seats forward.

Horsepower of the engine has been increased to 97, and the compression has been increased by use of a new head design.

Increased visibility has been provided through bigger windshields and rear windows.

Group Takes On Project In Addition To Golf Course Job

The Eastland Quarterback Club, already engaged in the large task of building a golf course for Eastland, took on another momentous undertaking Wednesday night when officers of the club agreed to improve Ringling Lake for the benefit of local fishermen and picnickers.

Work on the nine-hole golf course already started, got a green light from the City Commission Wednesday night when the city fathers gave the Quarterback Club a 25-year lease on the land for the course.

The club was given the option for a 25-year renewal.

Already, three greens had been worked over with machinery furnished by Bobby King of the King Tractor Company, and made ready for the drainage material and soil that will permit the planting of bent grass, the kind from which the best greens are made.

Jack Chamberlain, president of the Quarterback Club, said that the golf course cost should be under $9,000. Costs are being met by golf club membership fees and donations.

The course should be ready for play by July or August, he said.

The project is being handled by a committee composed of Chamberlain, Everett Plowman, Neil Day, Bill Brashier, Earl Conner, Jr., Jimmy Harkrider and Tony Trawick.

The Ringling Lake project, long advocated by local fishermen, just "fell into the committee's lap" when the City Commission asked the club committee if it would take on the work.

The committee agreed, and later got permission from the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission to do the job, as well as a promise of help from the commission.

The lake will be cleared of present fish and turtles, the rough fish such as carp destroyed, stunted game fish given away to eat, and good game fish put elsewhere, Chamberlain said.

Then the moss in the lake will be poisoned with blue-stone, and after the effects of that are over, in a few weeks, the lake will be re-stocked with game fish.

The club also will attend to cleaning up and beautifying the picnicking areas at the lake, which are among the nicest in West Texas but have been neglected in recent years.

Junior High Group To View Paintings

Famous nineteenth century masterpieces will be seen Saturday by members of the eighth grade science class of Eastland Junior High School, who will attend an art exhibit presented by the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York and other museums in Fort Worth.

The trip will climax a study of world famous paintings made recently by the class.

By special arrangement with Miss Sallie Gillespie, director of the Fort Worth Art Association, the students will hear a lecture at the Public Library preceding the exhibit.

Among the original paintings to be seen are those of Corot, Renoir, Millet, Bonheur, and Raphael.

After the exhibit, the students will go to Forest Park for a picnic lunch and a visit at the zoo. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Joe Stephen, class teacher, and a number of parents.

There was still a shortage of transportation facilities Thursday, but it was hoped that more cars would be available by Saturday.

Forty six students plan to make the trip.

The 8th grade is planning on a field trip for March 19. They going to the art exhibit in Fort Worth presented by the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. They will leave early and have a lecture by Mrs. Sally Gillespie at the library.

While there they will go to Forest Park because Foe M. wants to see the rest of his little brothers. (referring to the ?)

8B is laboring hard over "Mental Health" essays to be turned in soon.

Say, has anyone heard anything from the 7th grade?

What does T. C. P. mean?

"FAVORITE FADS"

The teachers are getting very confused lately because everyone seems to be changing their name. It's either something they picked up from a movie or one of their long last forgotten names.

But that's not all to these frantic favorites. It seems that everyone has deserted bright colored scarves for queer looking hats, if that's what you want to call them.

The Priceless Ingredient

IN THE CITY OF BAGDAD lived Hakeem, the Wise One, and many people went to him for counsel, which he gave freely to all, asking nothing in return.

There came to him a young man, who had spent much but got little, and said: "Tell me, Wise One, what shall I do to receive the most for which I spend?"

Hakeem answered: "A thing that is bought or sold has no value unless it contains that which cannot be bought or sold. Look for the Priceless Ingredient."

"But what is the Priceless Ingredient?" asked the young man.

Spoke then the Wise One: "My son, the Priceless Ingredient of every product in the market place is the Honor and Integrity of him who makes it. Consider his name before you buy."

Were it not for party lines, thousands of people—now being served—would still be waiting for telephones despite all the effort we've been able to put into the manufacture and installation of new telephone equipment.

If you are on a party line, you'll find courtesy and neighborly co-operation pay big dividends in better service. A party-liner who is thoughtful of the other fellow may well find that the other fellow will be thoughtful of him.

The new Plymouth automobile, with beautiful new styling, greater wheelbase, wider seats, yet shorter and narrower outside dimensions, will be on view Friday and Saturday at your dealer's showrooms. Don't miss seeing these great new cars! Canny Plymouth engineers have achieved "common sense" streamlining to make an outstandingly beautiful car which yet stresses ease of handling, safety, and comfort.

Fenders blend into body lines perfectly, yet are separate and detachable, avoiding sheet metal masses so costly to repair or replace. Increased visibility is provided through larger windshields and rear windows. Wheelbases have been increased to 118 inches. Efficiency of the 97-horsepower engine has been improved by use of a new cylinder head which increases the compression ratio. Easier riding is one of the other big improvements.

Brilliant! Beautiful!

You'll have to see and drive the new Plymouth to realize the improvements that have been made. Dealers over the nation are enthusiastic after previews of the new Plymouths—"Here is the automobile we've been waiting for" is the way they feel. And you'll feel the same way when you see the shining beauty of the new Plymouth, feel the soft cushioned ride, and get behind the alert power of the improved engine. Come see for yourself!

The Story Behind a "Special Edition"

This is the news behind the news—the facts behind a vicious and unwarranted attack made upon the doctors of medicine of Texas, and slurring insinuations made against the honesty of your State Legislators. Here are the facts behind the paid "Special Edition", heavily financed by interests who are making an all-out attempt to cloud the one and only issue in the proposed Minimum Standards Law. That issue is: The Health of All Texans. The State Medical Association of Texas and your physician present these facts behind the news to help you decide whether or not Minimum Standards are needed in the practice of healing in Texas. We are convinced that they are needed for your protection.

An 8-page "Special Edition" appeared in the Houston Post on Feb. 28th. It was a paid "Special Edition," packed with misrepresentations. However, it was written to look like a real news section so that its misrepresentations might appear to be legitimate. It was an obvious attempt to smokescreen the merits of the Minimum Standards Bill, which already has been recommended for passage by Public Health Committees of both the Texas House and Senate.

The TRUTH is This!

- (This is why you should demand Minimum Standards)
1. Is the bill against chiropractors?
In backing the Minimum Standards Bill, the doctors of medicine are not opposing chiropractors or any other branch of the healing arts. In fact, doctors of medicine have even recommended that the legislature license qualified chiropractors. The only stipulation made is that chiropractors—like all other legalized professions—agree to meet minimum standards before an impartial board of examiners. Any person who has been practicing a healing art in Texas for a year or longer, and who has lived in Texas for two years, is NOT required to take the Minimum Standards examinations.
 2. Would the examination be fair?
Yes—for two reasons. First, all branches teach these basic sciences—i.e., many cases from the same text. Thus, the sciences covered are those which are basic to all branches. Second, papers would be scored by number, not by name. There is no way to tell whose paper is being graded.
 3. Would the examining board be fair?
Yes. A board of six science teachers would give the examination. They would be appointed by the Governor from the staffs of our leading Texas colleges and universities. No practitioner from any branch may serve on the board. What could be fairer?
 4. Would the examining board be qualified to give the examinations?
Yes. Who is better qualified to give a scientific examination than the man who teaches the subject? These are the same people who teach your boys and girls in our colleges and universities.
 5. What are the basic sciences?
They are six sciences—Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Bacteriology, Pathology, and Hygiene and Public Health. Why object to an examination in sciences so important to healing that all branches agree that they must be taught?
 6. Do we really need the law?
Yes. The Public Health Committee of both the Texas House and Senate agree we need it. These are your law-makers who must study all public health legislation. They have not been misled by special interests and pressure groups who want to cloud the real issue for selfish reasons. To these legislators the question still is: Will we or won't we demand that our health be protected from incompetence? Will we or won't we require reasonable minimum standards of all practitioners regardless of their branch of the healing arts?

THESE ARE EXCERPTS FROM THIS CHIROPRACTIC NEWS LETTER, WHICH WENT ONLY TO CHIROPRACTORS . . .

"The fire at Austin is real! Make no mistake about it! And it's going to take buckets and buckets of cold . . . liquid . . . cash to put the fire out."

"If the Naturopaths get their bill, and Chiropractors muffle it, expect to see a lot of Chiropractic signs repainted . . . quick. Wonder where all this Naturopath money is coming from. There must be gold in them thar herbs."

"Many will be glad to send money to Austin to make it possible for our lobby to wrest victory from the threatening jaws of defeat . . . if that money can be obtained from new patients. There's a bottom to the well, and new springs must be tapped to keep the bucket from coming up dry."

"He (the medical doctor) stands for everything good, fine and sincere in the mind of the average person. Of course, we know, in most cases, he's a scheming, conniving scoundrel, because we know him by his works."

"The average person does not know the medical doctor is an allopath. In fact, John Q. Public would have a difficult time explaining the difference between a homeopath, osteopath, naturopath, allopath or chiropractor. We can call the 'allopath' a scoundrel, gangster, fraud, cheat and hypocrite, and make it stick."

"We can brand 'Al' Lopath the biggest racketeer and protection peddling pirate ever to set up shop in the city that made Al Capone a byword for rackets, crime and corruption."

"We will picture 'Al' Lopath from Chicago, as a scar-faced czar of the underworld, risen to power in a new, lush racket. To make his scheme work, he must have 'basic science' in the form of money-bought legislation . . . He will milk the public . . . and eliminate all competition . . ."

"Not one single ad will appear. The only indication that it (the "Special Edition") is sponsored by chiropractic will be a small 12-point line beneath the masthead . . . THIS SPECIAL SECTION MADE POSSIBLE BY THE COMMITTEE FOR CHIROPRACTIC EDUCATION AND FRIENDS OF THE PROFESSION!"

"NOW . . . FILL OUT . . . SIGN AND ATTACH YOUR CHECK TO THE SPECIAL SECTION ORDER FORM! We must have this entire section financed, compiled and on the press in only 10 days. Send your remittance AIR MAIL! Don't waste a minute. We've got to raise over TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS IN LESS THAN FIVE DAYS!"
