Morton Valley Girl Elected EHS Football Sweetheart; To Be Presented Friday

LYDIA FAYE HOUSTON

Lydia Faye Houston, pretty junior at Eastland High School, will be crowned football sweetheart of the 1949 Eastland football team between the Eastland-Ranger Friday afternoon. Houston lives at Morton on the highway between Eastland and Morton Valley and attended the Morton Valley school until this year. She was elected sweetheart by the football squad. If she had dated any of the football players, she blushed and said, "A few of them." If, custom is followed, she will award a kiss apiece to Maverick Co-Captains Larry Falls and Glenn Garrett. Miss Houston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Houston. She is 15 years old, and likes athletics, particularly basketball. She is a member of this year's Eastland High School basketball team. She has an older brother, Louie Burl, who is a student at North Texas State, and a younger sister, Lylia Pearl, student in Eastland Junior High School. This year at Eastland High she has been elected secretary of the Junior Class, secretary of the Commercial Club, and was named a member of the Double Seven Club.

Eastland And Ranger To Play At 2:30 P. M. Friday

Program Arranged For Armistice Day At Courthouse

Eastland's annual Armistice Day program will be held under sponsorship of the Civic League and Garden Club, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars at 10:30 a. m. Friday. All Gold Star mothers will be honored guests at the program. A 20-minute hand concert by the Eastland High School Band will begin the program, to be followed at 10:50 a. m. by a brief talk by Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor of the First Methodist Church and a member of the Eastland American Legion post. He will be presented by County Judge Louis Crossley. A minute of silence will be observed at 11 a. m. in memory of America's war dead. Afterward, a wreath from the Civic League and Garden Club will be presented by Mrs. Samuel Butler and Mrs. Sam Poe, members of the Memorial Fountain Committee, to Mrs. W. W. Walters and Mrs. Winnie Wynn, Gold Star mothers, who will place it on the fountain. The program will close with a prayer, a rifle salute, and the playing of "Taps."

Layton Gives Advice On Christmas Mailing

Time limit for mailing packages overseas with assurance of their being delivered by Christmas is next Tuesday, Nov. 15, Postmaster E. E. Layton reminded Eastland residents this week. Layton also reminded patrons that unsealed greeting cards this year must bear two cents postage, and cards for overseas must be sealed and bear three cents postage. He urged careful packaging, wrapping and tying of parcels to insure safe delivery, and recalled the regulations that forbid parcel post packages of more than 70 pounds weight and more than 100 inches combined length and girth. Christmas seals should not be placed on the side of the package where postage stamps are placed. Layton said, and personal notes and letters may not be put in parcel post packages. And above all, he said, mail it early for Christmas!

Bill Brashier Is Star In NTSC-SMU 'B' Tilt

Bill Brashier, former Eastland High School football star and a sophomore at North Texas State College, was an outstanding player in North Texas' B team game with S.M.U. in Dallas Monday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brashier of Eastland, saw the game, which wound up 20 to 20. Young Brashier caught a punt, playing safety, in the first quarter when S.M.U. led 14 to 0, and returned it 85 yards to set fire to the North Texas scoring game. Later several of his passes were completed for good gains, and he intercepted a pass in a vital moment. And in the final moments he chased down a S.M.U. back who was loose, and dragged him down from behind to save the day and leave his proud parents a bit breathless.

Cisco Baptist Church Destroyed By Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the East Cisco Baptist Church building early Tuesday, with the loss estimated at over $30,000. Firemen arrived too late to save the building, but played hoses on the adjacent educational building of the church to save it from severe damage. Rev. Paul Stephens, pastor of the church, said it recently had spent $10,000 in repairing the building that burned. Insurance was carried to the value of $12,000. Church officials said the building would be replaced, but that it was too early to make definite plans.

Business Houses To Close Friday

Eastland business houses and public offices mostly will be closed all day Friday in observance of the Armistice Day holiday. County Judge Lewis Crossley said the Courthouse will be closed for the day, and Postmaster E. E. Layton said there will be no city or rural mail deliveries. Business houses mostly will be closed, except for those that do not ordinarily close for holidays such as restaurants, filling stations, and so forth. And some of these will be closed during the Eastland-Ranger football game in the afternoon. The football game and the ceremony at Memorial Fountain on the Courthouse Square in the morning will be principal observances of the day in Eastland. The day marks the 31st anniversary of the signing of the cease fire orders in the first World War, when a weary world went mad with joy. Another and even vaster world conflict has come and gone since that day, but Armistice Day still is a legal holiday, and still is observed more widely than any other holiday as the time for paying tribute to all the men who have died to "make the world safe for democracy."

DOGIES DEFEAT DUBLIN 19 TO 6

Eastland's Junior High School Dogies got revenge and wound up the season in a blaze of glory Wednesday night by beating the Dublin Cubs, 19 to 6. Dublin had won a prior game 26 to 6. Eckey Jordan, Gerald Ables and Jamie Jessop scored touchdowns for the Dogies. The team was treated to a feed at Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jessop's home after the game, the party arranged by mothers of boys on the team.

Side Issues

By HENRY G. VERMILLION

Somethink every writer of a weekly column such as this has to face part of the time at least is whether to try to write light, humorous stuff that presumably will increase reader interest, or to plug worthwhile projects and causes, hoping the readers will not find that sort of thing too dull to take in. So some of us try a change of pace. This is going to be one of my more serious efforts. If you're all for the lighter side, look elsewhere.

Much has been written in this newspaper and others in the county about the promotion for more dairying in the county, and at all times I've been strongly for it. In fact, if I had the time and it would serve any purpose I could dig up some things I wrote in this column three or four years ago on behalf of more dairy cows and more milk production in Eastland County. It seemed logical then, and it seems more logical now, with the government quotas on peanuts and other "money" crops.

But little has been said or written about where the milk is to be sold, and I think the time has come to consider that a bit more.

There are dairymen in the Eastland County milk shed who have apparently sure outlets for their Grade A milk, and they don't have to worry too much about a present market. But how about the new people—the ones who are just now getting into the business, or thinking about getting into it?

The answer seems to be, from what I can gather, that the Grade A milk demand in the county is fairly saturated at this time—that there are no new bidders eager and ready to take on as suppliers anyone who wishes to get into the dairy business.

I am not writing this as a reflection on anyone, because the handler and processor of milk has to have a market before he can afford to buy it from the dairy producer. The fact remains that there is a certain amount of Grade A milk being produced in the county for (Continued on page 8)

Store Front Damaged By Car As Brakes Fail

Considerable damage was done to the front door, wall and a plate glass window of the Howell & Rogers Grocery at 111 White Street by an automobile that plowed into the store front Wednesday morning. Ruben Gaeta, driver of the car, said his brakes failed to hold. Donny Rogers and B. W. Howell, owners of the store, said the damage was covered by insurance.

Carbon Trading Co. Burglarized Again

Money and merchandise was taken from the Carbon Trading Company Monday night in a burglary that followed an earlier one by only a few months. Again the safe knob was knocked off and money taken from the safe, but this time clothing and cigarettes also were taken, the sheriff's office was informed.

Businessmen To Help Conduct Pep Rally

Businessmen of Eastland again will attempt to instill fighting spirit into the hearts of Eastland High School football players at a pep rally at the school at 11 a. m. Thursday. The Mavericks will play Ranger Friday afternoon. A bus furnished by Johnnie Aaron will circle the square at 10:45 a. m. Thursday to take businessmen to the rally.

Voters Of County Turn Down All Ten State Amendments

Eastland County voters showed Tuesday that they overwhelmingly disapproved of all 10 of the amendments to the Texas Constitution proposed by the last Legislature. Late Wednesday, all of the boxes in the county's 26 voting precincts had not reported, but the remaining votes were few compared to the totals received. And the returns that were in showed that both town and rural voters were against all of the amendments, even the ones that carried over the state. Voters of Texas approved two of the amendments, those changing district court procedures and providing for setting up rural fire districts.

But even these were buried in Eastland County under the avalanche of "against" votes that apparently had its center in the proposal to raise legislators' pay and create annual sessions of the Legislature. The vote generally was light. On an early count, the legislative amendment was getting beaten over eight to one, while the least approved of the other amendments, that to set up a statewide system of county pensions, was getting beaten only about four to one.

The vote against the amendments was much greater in the rural sections, with some rural boxes recording votes of 15 and 20 to 0 against some of the proposals. The two Eastland boxes, like the others in the county, rejected all of the proposals by large majorities, with only a few of the 10 proposed amendments being beaten by less than two to one majorities.

In the No. 1 or Courthouse box, the legislative pay proposal was beaten 24 to 180, and at the No. 2 or City Hall box it was beaten 16 to 146. Other margins were smaller, but not a whole lot less, in voting on the other amendments at the two boxes.

The little Jersey bull calf must have been bewildered by all the attention he was getting. To all appearances he was just another nice-looking Jersey calf, with extra good conformation, perhaps.

He tried to hover against his mother as the men handled him and commented on him, and as the flash bulbs popped.

But he was something extra to the men, because the calf in S. G. Brown's farmyard north of Ranger was the first dropped after having been bred under the Eastland County Dairy Association's artificial insemination program, begun last February. The calf was dropped Sunday evening by "Susie," Jersey cow owned by Brown, and according to him subject to registration. Sire of the little bull calf is Pedro's Primrose Lad, stud bull known as "J-6" at the North Texas Breeding Farm at Dallas.

So Brown named the calf "J-6 Junior," for the present at least. A group of Eastland County people interested in the dairy cattle improvement program visited the Brown farm Monday afternoon to look at the calf. Included in the group were A. Z. Myrick of Cisco, president of the dairy association, L. R. Higginbottom of Kokomo, secretary, and Harry Crow of Carbon, technician, and County Agent J. M. Cooper, FFA Administrator George Lane, Chamber of Commerce Manager H. J. Tanner, J. P. Kilgore, Theo Lamb and H. G. Vermillion, all of Eastland, and Chamber of Commerce Manager Rip Gallagher and Delbert Capps of Ranger.

Myrick said the event marked the beginning of a new era in Eastland County dairying, and expressed hope that "J-6" would be only the first of a long line of Eastland County dairy cattle with distinguished blood lines.

While the group was inspecting the calf Crow artificially inseminated another cow on the place. Brown owns three milk cows.

Brown said "I'm sold on this method of breeding my cattle. It's cheaper than owning a bull, and I couldn't afford to own one anyway with no more cows than I have." He said he planned to sell the calf to be used as stud. Crow said that in the nine months the artificial breeding program has been in effect in the county, about 450 cows have been artificially inseminated, and that he believes the program will be used more and more in the future by those who were skeptical at first.

Charge for the service is $6, with two free extra calls if necessary. Crow can be reached by calling him at Carbon 133-F.

Large Crowd Attends Quarterback Show

A serious note was introduced into all the frivolity of the "Breakfast in Hollywood" program sponsored by the Quarterback Club in Eastland High auditorium Tuesday night when Mrs. Edith Townsend's wish was voted the best of 10 made. Mrs. Townsend, nurse and wife of a doctor, wished for a hospital in Eastland. Otherwise, the program was fun all the way, with scores of prizes awarded by local merchants going to winners in the various zany contests. Father Jim McClain of Eastland was master of ceremonies, aided and abetted by a loyal staff headed by Mrs. Marene Johnson, who gave the credit lines. The house was nearly full for the show.

3,150 Roosevelt Dimes Pay For Purchase In Jewelry Store Here

Jeweler Guy Wilkins of Eastland was more than a little bit astonished Tuesday when a man and woman entered his store and paid cash for $395 worth of diamond jewelry.

It wasn't the size of the purchase that startled Wilkins, who has been selling jewelry a long time, but the manner in which the payment was made.

The customers brought the entire $395 along in Roosevelt dimes, 3,150 of them.

The coins were rolled as for delivery of the bank, Wilkins said, but were so heavy it was no easy task to carry them to the bank the next morning.

The woman who wanted the jewelry that was purchased had been saving the dimes for over a year, she told Wilkins, to make the specific purchases she made Tuesday.

$3400 In Bank To Buy 17 Calves

The calf donation committee of the Eastland County Dairy Association now has $3400 in the bank to spend for 17 dairy calves to be given to 4-H Club and FFA boys in Eastland Dec. 10. Theo Lamb, member of the committee, told Eastland Lions Tuesday.

The club raised $69 at the meeting, and President Wes Harris said the club may spend part of it feeding the calves after they arrive in Eastland and before the donation ceremony.

County Agent J. M. Cooper earlier had said that the calves all had been bought, and will be shipped to Eastland Nov. 28. They all are to come from one dairy farm at Tyler.

Lamb said that of the 17 individuals and firms who have donated $200 apiece toward buying the calves, some of the individuals have asked that their names not be disclosed.

The main idea, he said, is to help the boys get started as dairy farmers.

Traditional Football Test To Be Played On Maverick Field

One of the largest football crowds in years is expected to watch the football game in Eastland at 2:30 p. m. Friday between the Eastland Mavericks and the Ranger Bulldogs.

It will be a District 8-A contest, but much of the interest that usually shines on district contests will be overshadowed in this one by the ancient rivalry between the teams representing the neighboring Eastland County cities.

A few weeks ago Ranger, on the basis of all available comparative information, would have been favored to win at will, and the Bulldogs of Ranger High still will be on the long end of the odds.

But the Mavericks of Eastland have shown much improvement in recent weeks, and will be given some kind of chance against Ranger, though perhaps a scant one.

On the psychological score, the Bulldogs romped to an easy 46-0 victory over De Leon last week, and their followers fear over-confidence as much as they do the Eastland team.

On the other hand, Eastland players turned in their hardest fought game of the year in holding Hamilton to a 21 to 13 win Friday, and may have trouble getting keyed up to the extent necessary to hold the Bulldogs.

Ranger has a more experienced team with more natural ability, and it will take a superb performance by the greener Eastland boys for them to have much of a chance.

The weight differential will be slight enough to disregard.

However, on the basis of comparative scores, Ranger will have all the better of it, with victories over Comanche and Hamilton, both of whom beat Eastland, and an easy win over Dublin, which was barely nosed out by the Mavericks.

Ranger will be gunning for its first Class A district title, having been barred from championship consideration last season in its first year of Class A play.

The Bulldogs probably will win the 8-A title regardless of how the game with Eastland turns out, because they already have won from every other team in the district, and a defeat by Eastland likely could not prevent their being named district champions.

Ranger has an exceptionally fast and shifty set of backs in Jimmy Camacho, Buddy Hamrick, Kenneth Williams and Billy Simpson, and while the highest listed program weight of any of the Bulldogs is 160 pounds, they have outrushed almost every opponent this year.

Their only loss was to Bowie early in the season.

Eastland, on the other hand, has lost to Coleman, Albany, Comanche and Hamilton while winning from Winters, Graham B, De Leon and Dublin.

Oddly, Ranger and Cisco, old and deadly rivals at football, do not meet this season, while Eastland will wind up its season next week on the Cisco field.

Coach Wendell Siebert of the Mavericks said this week that all of his cripples except Lenard Quarles, the big center whose knee was hurt in the Dublin game, and that Quarles was out for practice this week, begging to be allowed to play.

Siebert said he would leave the decision on that to the doctor, but he doubted Quarles will play any more high school football.

Office Of Draft Board Is Moved

Office of the Eastland-Stephens Selective Service Board was moved from the Eastland County Courthouse to the Exchange Building, announced this week by Jewel Reaves, clerk.

Office hours are Mondays and Wednesdays only of each week. Men between the ages of 18 and 26 must continue to register, and those whose 18th birthday must be within five days.

And some of these will be closed during the Eastland-Ranger football game in the afternoon.

The football game and the ceremony at Memorial Fountain on the Courthouse Square in the morning will be principal observances of the day in Eastland.

The day marks the 31st anniversary of the signing of the cease fire orders in the first World War, when a weary world went mad with joy.

"17-15" VICTORY OVER RANGER

The last girl's basketball games were played against Ranger with both A and B strings participating. The A squad edged by the Ranger team to a 17 to 15 victory. The girls have been constantly im-

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The Vocational Agriculture classes of Eastland High School have been studying soil conservation and range and pasture conservation during the past week. After recognizing the improper conservation practices being used by Eastland County farmers and ranchers, which tend to decrease the productivity of our pastures and cultivated lands, the boys set up lists of practices which would conserve and increase the fertility of our soils. Field study was made on the J. H. Reynolds ranch northeast of Eastland to observe how proper management practices will increase productivity of pastures. The Soil Conservation Service assisted in the above field study.

M. D. Fox, local Vocational Agriculture teacher, drove to Tyler last Friday, accompanied by county agent, J. M. Cooper, F. H. A. supervisor, G. I. Lane, Cisco V. A. teacher Gail Jones, and Rising Star V. A. teacher, H. L. Geye, to inspect the Tooke jarsey herd, where seventeen registered heifers were selected for the Eastland County Youth Dairy Program.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. H. Hall was hostess to the "38" Study Club, with Mrs. W. J. Greer as co-hostess.

The Subject for the afternoon was on ceramics with Mrs. Hall as leader.

After showing and discussing pottery form Italy, China, Mexico and some well known American pieces, the members with Mrs. T. E. Robertson and Mrs. H. G. Hines as car hostesses, visited Horton Ceramics in Eastland.

They were received by Mrs. Horace Horton, who personally conducted a tour of the plant and in her gracious manner, made every step, from mixing of the clay, through the moulding, firing and finishing, so interesting that each piece was a creation of its own, and each visitor will be more appreciative of what ceramics really is.

After returning to Mrs. Halls a short business session was held and to each member, the roll call "What Ceramic Art Means To Me" held a deeper meaning.

Thanks of the club is extended to Mrs. Horton for a truly wonderful visit.

PAINTINGS SHOWN BY THURSDAY CLUB FOR ART WEEK

An art exhibit of 32 canvases, hung and lighted in professional style, featured the American Art Week program of the Thursday Afternoon Club Thursday of last week.

All of the paintings were owned by members of the club, and many were painted by club members.

Guests of the club for the program were members of the 1920 Club of Ranger and the Twentieth Century Club of Cisco.

An exhibit of point lace made by Mrs. Ruth Horton, sister of Mrs. Frank Castleberry, and exquisite Majolica and Royal Bohemian and Meissen china added to the interest of the displays. French Bisque figurines, exhibited by Mrs. James Horton, were in contrast to the modern ceramics made and displayed by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Horton.

Theme of the afternoon was "Budding Signs of Genius." Guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. W. F. Davenport, and Mrs. Earl Conner, Sr., introduced the program.

Mrs. A. B. Cornelius, poet and composer, played and sang a group of her own compositions; Miss Elsie Glenn, author and columnist, read from her unpublished book, "Wilda Drago"; Miss Charlene Baker, art teacher at South Ward School, displayed her own canvas and the work of a number of her youthful students; Mrs. Horace Horton, whose ceramic designs have gained her national recognition, discussed modern applied art, and Mrs. M. Alfred Hale Cullen, author of two books of poetry, read "Allegory," a poem she had written especially for Art Week.

Artistic was the tea table, decorated with a fall arrangement of fruit and leaves. Copper and brass appointments and tall olive green candles welcomed the guests of the club and members, who were served by Mrs. W. W. Linkenhorst and Mrs. Davenport.

Decorations and the tea plates of sandwiches, cookies and candy were arranged by the hostesses, Mesdames Castleberry, Frank Lovett, Grady Pipkin and Dan Childress.

Fall decorations were profuse around the clubroom.

The art exhibit was hung by Mrs. D. L. Houle, Mrs. Arthur Murrell and Mrs. Linkenhorst.

The prevailing mood seemed to be that of autumn, with large and small canvases portraying the season in many places.

Seascapes ranged from a large canvas done in 1897 by Myrtle Shamron Tracy, then of Eastland, exhibited by Mrs. Earl Conner, Sr., to a modern water color by Jessie Kalmbach Chase of Wisconsin, exhibited along with two

Mrs. Ben Hamner showed two flower arrangements by Mrs. W. L. Smithan and a pastoral scene by Josephine Massey.

Mrs. Frank Castleberry showed two paintings by the Cross Plains artist Minta Tunnell. A charter member of the Thursday Club, Mrs. Homer Brelsford, was represented by a bluebonnet picture owned by Mrs. Conner.

Mrs. Cyrus Frost had on exhibition two French costume paintings by P. Ballard Williams, and two canvases were shown by Mrs. Pearson Grimes, including one by Mrs. I. C. Heck of Eastland.

Mrs. Dan Childress showed three paintings, including one of her own work entitled "Blue Shadows in the Fall."

W. Jenkins, father of a former club member, Mrs. Victor Ginn, did a picture shown by Mrs. James Horton. Three paintings in the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pipkin, done by Earl G. Hammock of Colorado, were shown.

Four pictures were shown by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, who was honorary vice chairman of American Art Week from 1944 to 1947, including a Montana winter scene by J. Sharp of New Mexico, who was on a mission to Montana commissioned by the Smithsonian Institute when the work was done, and "The District School," a water color by two sisters, Florence and Margaret C. Hoopes. The latter picture was reproduced in a book "Singing Wheels," used in Texas as a Sixth Grade reader.

Jean Kay Stover of Waco will visit Beth Hurt over the week end.

Mrs. A. B. Cornelius has returned from a visit in Grand Prairie, where she visited with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Brandenburg.

home consumption; another relatively small amount is being taken to Dallas each day under an arrangement that shows no immediate promise of being increased in the near future; and another relatively small amount is being taken daily to Abilene for processing and sale in this county or further west.

If these remain the only outlets for Grade A milk—and I do not say they must remain so, but that they may remain so—what is the answer?

Well, admitting that increased milk production in the county is quite desirable, one man who has observed the dairy industry here and elsewhere for a long while says that in Eastland County the cart has been placed before the horse.

In other milk producing areas not directly adjacent to big cities, such as Hopkins County, Texas, a county or two in Mississippi, a few areas in Arkansas, and a great deal of the huge dairying expanse of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois—the milk is produced in the main not for retail sale as fluid milk, but for sale as butterfat or to cheese and condensed milk plants.

The hitch here is that milk sold for these purposes brings a much lower price than Grade A milk—sometimes less than half as much.

These areas were built up as milk centers, however, in some such way as this:

Farmer Brown, Farmer Smith and their neighbors have a few milk cows apiece, produce milk at low cost, and sell the butterfat at low cost after separating the milk on the farm. The skim milk they feed to their pigs and chickens.

After awhile, there are enough of them that a condensed milk or cheese plant is attracted to their neighborhood. Their milk price is improved somewhat, and they make more money, although not a whole lot more.

Then some of them begin to build Grade A dairy barns and to get still more for their milk. But they still produce milk cheaply, and from their milk checks they build fine homes, big barns and nice silos.

Right now, although no ready market for Eastland County milk has been found in Fort Worth or Dallas, Wisconsin milk is being hauled all the way to those cities and being sold because it can be bought so cheaply that it can stand the price of the haul and still undersell Texas milk on delivery—or so I am told.

I am not saying I know all the answers. Some of them may have been pointed out by inference in what I have written here. It does seem obvious to me that a market for the milk produced must be developed somewhere and somehow before Eastland County can be considered seriously as a dairying center.

Most of the milk producers in the county probably heard E. R. Eudaly's talk at the barbecue of the Eastland County Livestock Association and the Eastland County Dairy Association a few weeks ago.

Eudaly seemed to me to give most of the answers. He told how to produce milk at the lowest possible price per gallon, by having good stock, by feeding properly, having good pastures, giving the animals plenty of good water, and so forth.

The answer, then, may be producing milk at a lower cost for a lower priced market. What do you think?

Mavericks Outgain, But Fail To Outscore Hamilton In Well-Played 21-13 Game

Eastland's Mavericks outgained, but outscored the Hamilton Bulldogs in a District 8-A game on Maverick Field Friday night.

The score was 21 to 13 in favor of Hamilton, and in the final analysis perhaps the heavier and more experienced Bulldogs deserved to win.

But Eastland led in net yards from scrimmage, 260 to 247, and in first downs 14 to 5. These odd figures resulted in part from the fact that 122 of Hamilton's yards from scrimmage resulted from two long touchdown plays.

And when the Maverick defenses, rugged all night, slipped up from those two plays, they lost the game.

The Eastland lads throttled 190-pound Rusty McCollum, who had beaten a fine Eastland team almost single-handed the year before. McCollum showed a net gain of one yard during the evening, and lost the ball on a fumble once before he was hurt in the first half. He carried only infrequently after that.

Jimmy Spalding was a ball of fire for Eastland on offense and defense—and he'll be back next year. Spalding still showed some traces of his old fatal tendency to fumble, but was much improved in that respect.

Eastland started off by driving to the Hamilton 33 the first time the Mavericks got the ball, but a penalty killed that drive, and a fumble killed another one a few minutes later. Then Hamilton's H. Freeman passed to End Max Blansit on the Eastland 40 and he ran the rest of the way for the score untouched for a 57-yard gainer. Max Knowles converted, as he did the subsequent two times he tried.

Soon afterward, at the end of the first quarter, Larry Falls of Eastland recovered McCollum's fumble on the Eastland 48, and Spalding, Falls and big Roy Smith, who also played a whale of a game, carried to the Hamilton 33, from where Spalding passed to Co-Captain and End Glenn Garrett on the 12, and he wrestled on down to the 2. Spalding plunged over on first try for the score, and then plunged for the point too to tie it up.

McCollum intercepted a wobbly Eastland pass and returned to the Eastland 27 late in the second quarter to set up the second Bulldog score. In six running plays the Hamilton boys made it, with James McKie going over. McKie played a bang-up game for Hamilton until he was hurt in the second half.

Hamilton pretty well killed off

Jack Frost Speaks At Rotary Luncheon

Attorney Jack Frost talked the 10 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution at the day luncheon of the Eastland Rotary Club.

Frost said he favored the amendment which would affect strict court procedures, but against all the others.

Mayor Leo Moore, famed "the stop" mayor of Electric, spoke on city management club and the Lions Club Nov. 21, President Kenneth announced.

BOB NELSON OF SEYMOUR DIES

Mrs. Eldon Smith, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith and Mrs. Hubert Pounds of Hamilton, attended the funeral of Bob Nelson at Seymour, Tex., Nov. 11.

Mr. Nelson will be remembered as the son-in-law of Jim Nelson, formerly of Eastland.

Mrs. C. C. Cornelius and Lovelace returned Tuesday on a trip to Dallas, where they met Mrs. Lynn Lovelace.
