ton to blockaded Berlin, was stopped dead today by fog.

Airports in Berlin were blanket-ended as far west as Hamburg. There was no prospect that the weather might improve enough to begin flying again before evening at the earliest, oficials

At the same time, the officials revealed that every American plane lying on "operation vittles" is being equipped with its own radar set.

These "seing eye" sets will enable the planes to pierce the worst weather when and if ground radar fails or is "jammed" by radio in terfernce from any point.

About half the C-54 Skymasters assigned to the airlift already are carrying Radar equipment. It shows on the belly of the big planes like rounded washtubs attached to the fuselage.

The Radar screen is placed in the pilot's compartment. In the screen he can "see" 'other planes flying within 10 miles, and also can detect the contour of the ground below him and any obstru-

Theoretically, it would be possible to land a plane so equipped, in the thickest fog or in the absence of any light whatever. Actually, this would not be done except in an emergency, however. There comes a moment, in landing a plane, when it is necessary for the pilot to see the runway.

The Radar sets also would be valuable, officials said, in event Russian planes were maneuvering

Dr. I. Q. Program Held At Abilene

Father Jim McClain of Eastland presented another in his series of Dr. I. Q. presentations Saturday evening at the Abilene Field House.

These shows are for the benefit of the West Texas Youth Movement which is promoting youth canteens in communities through-out West Texas. In comunities where the intersting shows are presented committees are appointed to start work on conteen con-

They pointed out that the 2.250.-000 persons in the western sectors of Berlin now are receiving an average of 2,000 calories daily for each person. This is 160 calorie a day more than they were getting when the Soviet blockade began, and they said it is more than Germans in the Soviet zone receive.

Special Openings In Marine Corps

Alhtough the authorized recruit quota was filled early this month, Master Sergeant William L. Poole of the Eastland Marine recruiting office announced that he is interviewing candidates for the March quota and that he still has some openings this month for re-enlistees, 18-year-olds and non-veteran women.

It is anticipated that regular quotas will continue to be filled early in the month so all interested youths are advised to see their local recruiter as soon as possible to get on next month's list.

The Marine Corps maintains an unrestricted quota for all exleather-necks who can qualify for re-enlistment. These veteran Marines can ship over for any one of several posts and stations.

There are still a few openings for 18-year-olds to sign up for one-year enlistments. The young Marine may be sent to any Cloudy skies, fog and light driz- given on the job training which one of many service schools or ian life or as a professional Ma-

Also the Marine Corps has recently opened the way for nonveteran women to become members of the regular Marine Corps. These women are extended all the priveleges of their male counterparts. The women selected will be trained at Parris Island, South Carolina and after six weeks indoctrination will be assigned duty stations from Washington D. C. to San Francisco, Calif.

Scout Officials Urge Speed - Up Of Fund Campaign

According to Buck rickens, vice chairman of the Eastland Comanche Trail, Finance Drive, contributions have been unusually slow with only $213 turned in thus far.

Of 45 team members only six have completed their list and brought in contributions to finance officials. A goal of $1,600 has been set for Eastland.

All team workers are urged to complete their lists and submit their totals to team captains who in turn will contact the finance

Chiang Still Has Chinese Reins

NANKING, Feb. 19 (UP) Although officially Chiang-Kai-Shek is in retirement, he is still giving orders which have a great effect on China.

He has retained enough presidential power to give him a veto over forthcoming talks with the Communists and daily is exercising these powers to keep the way open for his return to office.

During his 21-year career as China's national leader he retired twice and came back twice. There is no doubt in the minds of excellenty informed Nanking sources that his is preparing for another comback.

When Chiang first went into retirement at Chikow, in Fenghua, his orders were transmitted by two special planes which shuttled between Chikow, Nanking, Shanghai and Canton.

More recently powerful radio sending-receiving facilities have been brought in from Nanking, and Chikow now has the appearance of a temporary presidential

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19-(UP)- Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson and key Senators appeared to see practically eye-to-eye today on the North Atlantic Security Acheson gave members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a look at the preliminary draft of the sevennation treaty during a lengthy top-secret conference late yesterday. And committee members raised no serious objection to his going ahead with negotiations on its basis.

The treaty, designed to prevent aggression in Europe, would pledge the United States to take immediate steps to help any signatory that is attacked. But it would leave it up to the individual nations to decide what these steps should be. Navy Plane Crash

At the conference, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., R., Mass., and a few other "young turk" Senators protested that the treaty should be even stronger. They wanted Acheson to pledge U.
