Murdock Rites In Richmond Thursday

Funeral services for Dr. Marion Bailey Murdock, 31, and Mrs. Murdock, 30, both of Eastland, will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Christian's Funeral Home in Richmond, Va., according to word received by friends here this morning. Burial will be in Richmond Cemetery. Dr. and Mrs. Murdock were killed instantly Sunday afternoon about 6 o'clock, in the crash of their private plane near Meridian, Miss. The bodies were found early Monday in the wreckage of the two-passenger Luscomb at Tipton Airport, 10 miles northeast of Meridian. They were en route home from the American Medical Association Convention in Atlantic City.

The couple apparently ran into difficulty during a wind and rain storm. The plane was heard over Meridian about 6 P. M. while the storm was at its height, a Meridian Deputy Sheriff stated. Barney Gunn, Jr., of Tipton, discovered the crash when he saw the plane's tail assembly sticking up from the ground. The engine was driven into the cockpit. Mrs. Murdock's body was found partly clear of the wreckage.

Another somber note in the double tragedy, was the finding of Dr. and Mrs. Murdock's dachshund dog, which was thrown clear and killed.

Following an inquest at the scene by Coroner Van Stephens, the bodies were taken to a Meridian funeral home.

Survivors include Mrs. Murdock's mother, Mrs. O. J. Mallory, who lived with the couple during the winter and resided in Richmond during the summer; and Mrs. Murdock's brother, Clifford Mallory, also of Richmond, Va. Dr. and Mrs. Murdock moved to Eastland two years ago from Richmond, and had their general medicine practice in the Exchange Building. Mrs. Murdock operated a laboratory in connection with her husband's practice. The office had been open since the Murdock's left June 2 for the trip, but was closed down Monday, after word was received of the fatal accident.

Mrs. Tip Arthur, a close friend of the Murdock's, has been notified that a member of the family will be here in about three weeks to make arrangements about the office and the Murdock's home at 211 South College Street.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Murdock were active in church, civic and social affairs in the city. They attended the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Murdock was a member of a number of clubs, serving as treasurer for the Music Study Club and had membership in the Eastland County Medical Association Auxiliary. She was active in a recent campaign by the Civic League to set up a blood type system for Eastland. Dr. Murdock was a member of the Eastland Lions Club and had recently made an address to the club endorsing the cancer drive, which is now in progress.

Joseph M. Perkins, member of the State Cancer Association, notified the Telegram this morning that Dr. Murdock was one of the first contributors to the cancer drive, evidence of his interest in this worthy campaign. Since no local service will be held, tribute may be paid to the couple by donations to the drive in which they were so interested.

More Polio At Plainview; Third Oklahoma Death

PLAINVIEW, June 14 (UP)—The West Texas polio center here has had six admittances this year, the latest being that of Gary Lynn Markham, eight-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Markham of Matador, admitted Sunday.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 14 (UP)—Oklahoma listed its third polio death victim of 1949 today as the number of cases soared to 65—more than six times the number at this date last year.

Vesta Lou Crow, 6-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Crow, Apache, Caddo county, died in Crippled Children's Hospital last night. She had been in the hospital a week.

Apache's eighth polio victim—a 9-month-old baby—has been admitted to the hospital, it was announced today. Another new case is a four year old girl from Chickasha.

The state health department reported the current number of cases compares with only nine at this time a year ago. A spokesman said no one knows the reason for the increase.

"We don't know anything to do about it," he stated. "If we did, we would certainly be doing it. But it's useless even to spray as a means of checking polio. Spraying is a good thing, to get rid of flies and mosquitoes, but it won't stop polio."

County Agent At Texas A&M Now

County Agent J. M. Cooper and his assistant, Ed Steele, Jr., left Eastland Monday to attend a short course at Texas A. & M. in College Station.

Dr. Cowan stated the financial policy of the club for the coming year would be to make no contribution to various drives in the name of Rotary. Treasury funds will be used only to further Rotary projects. Each member was asked to be thinking about an annual entertainment the Rotary might sponsor to raise funds. Atomic Expert Admits Being A Communist WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—Dr. Frank T. Oppenheimer admitted today that he had been a Communist Party member for three years prior to his wartime employment as a research worker on the atomic bomb.

Oppenheimer, 36, is a brother of the famed physicist, J. Robert Oppenheimer, who was one of the top figures in development of the bomb. He appeared at a half-hour closed session of the House Un-American Activities Committee. At the conclusion, he issued a press release to reporters.

He said he left the party prior to his wartime employment. He worked at the University of California radiation laboratory at Berkeley from 1941 to 1947.

Frank Oppenheimer said he and his wife joined the Communist party in 1937, "seeking an answer to the problems of unemployment and want in the wealthiest and most productive country in the world." He was then working for his Ph. D. degree.

Three and one-half years later, when he was teaching at Stanford University, he said, they dropped out because the party did not accomplish their objectives.

Oppenheimer, now an assistant professor of physics at the University of Minnesota, said he answered all committee questions about himself "fully and freely." But he said he declined to answer questions about other people "because I did not believe I should represent others at this hearing."

In 1873, Mt. Rainier erupted for a period of seven days. Its last eruption was in 1894.

LEWIS OFFERS TO NEGOTIATE WITH MORE COAL OPERATORS

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP)—John L. Lewis today notified northern and western soft coal operators that their contract with the United Mine Workers ends June 30. He offered to negotiate a new contract with them.

Lewis gave the notification in a message addressed to all soft coal operators except groups already negotiating with UMW representatives.

He thus opened a "fourth front" in contract negotiations. The Southern Coal Producers Association now is negotiating with the mine workers at Blue-Field, W. Va. Lewis met yesterday with Harry M. Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Coke Co. The Frick concern is a U. S. Steel subsidiary and represents its "captive" mines. And Lewis today also called on anthracite operators to reopen contract talks with the UMW June 24.

Lewis offered to negotiate on a new contract "at such time and place and in such manner as, after consultation, we may mutually agree." "We await your advice." Lewis' one-paragraph notice stated that the soft coal wage agreement signed June 25 last year ends "by its own conditions June 30 this year." Lewis said his letter is "due notice" of the contract's end. He said "statutory or other legal rights" due the operators and the mine workers under the contract and under the notice "remain unimpaired." "The United Mine Workers of America now offer a new contract at such time and place and in such manner as, after consultation, we may mutually agree." Industry sources believe that Lewis, in his negotiation of a new coal contract, is pursuing a "divide and conquer" policy.

ONE FAMILY MADE HOMELESS; TRAFFIC SLOWED ON HWY. 6

Hundreds of acres of farm and pasture land southwest of Eastland were flooded and at least one family was made homeless as the result of a downpour of rain last night. J. A. Beard, Eastland official weather observer, stated that 1.55 inches had been recorded up to early this morning, with a shower falling since then. The Leon Power Plant had received .83 inches of moisture up to midnight. The deluge was accompanied by a severe electrical storm, which caused power to fail for brief periods.

Eastland city officials stated this morning that water was pouring over Lake Eastland spillway, with tributary creeks filled to the brim.

The Leon plant reported two flood gates open at the dam, with water flowing below the spillway level. Tributary creeks to the Leon, southwest of the city, started rising this morning at 6:30 o'clock and had jumped the banks—flooding hundreds of acres.

Guards were being maintained this morning at a one-way antiquated bridge on State Highway 6, four miles southwest of the city. While traffic was continuing over the bridge, water level of the creek was up to the top of the bridge, and just south of the structure, water was a foot deep over the highway. The water was continuing to rise at 9 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harris and son, Weidon, were forced to leave their home, located in the lowland in the southwest part of the city, by rising waters during the night. By 9 o'clock this morning, water was three feet deep inside the house, with water five feet deep around a shed containing chickens. The Harris' are staying with her mother, who lives nearby. Neighbors were helping the family this morning in an effort to save some of the fowls and personal belongings from the house. In water up to their waists, the women were trudging to shore with chickens—dripping wet, but still alive. A black dog stood shivering on the shore, mournfully eyeing the rising waters.

Doge Must Be Vaccinated By July 1 Here

Deadline for the vaccination of dogs in Eastland has been set for July 1, city officials have announced.

After that date, all dogs found not vaccinated will be picked up by officers and held in the dog pound for three days, after which they will be disposed of. A dog can be reclaimed from the pound within the three-day period by the payment of fifty cents a day for feed, and with the assurance the dog will be vaccinated immediately by a veterinarian or by the city health officer.

Vaccination of dogs is being stressed by officials to keep down the rabie menace during the hot summer months. Dog owners are also urged to keep the animals up at night in order that barking will not disturb neighbors.

Falling Market Spreads Gloom Among Traders

NEW YORK, June 14 (UP) — Traders took a gloomy view of the sagging stock market today as no pre-opening "good news" developed to check the rush of many security owners to get rid of their holdings.

Yesterday the market plunged to a four-year-low with some oil company stocks losing as much as 7 1/2 points. A total of $1,250,000,000 (B) in paper value was wiped out during the days hectic selling.

Some 1,340,000 shares were sold during the day. The heavy selling at the beginning of the fifth straight week of falling prices brought the total losses to stock owners since May 31 to approximately $1.5 billion.

NEARLY 200 STRICKEN WITH POISONING AT COMPANY PICNIC

TOPEKA, Kans., June 14 (UP)—Almost 200 persons stricken with food poisoning at a company picnic jumped Topeka's three hospitals today.

So many employes of the Seymour Packing Company became ill at the annual picnic yesterday that the firm was forced to shut down for an indefinite period. The firm is one of the nation's largest egg processors.

All of the stricken were out of danger this morning but County Coroner H. L. Clark emphasized that their illness was "painful and serious."

The picnic, attended by about 300 employes and their families, turned into a bedlam about 20 minutes after they had completed their supper of potato salad, fried chicken and baked beans.

It was a hot sultry day and Clark said he believed the potato salad may have caused the sickness. State officials were testing samples of the food today to track down the cause.

"It was awful," one woman picnicer said. "The sickness seemed to hit everybody at the same time."

"Kids who were playing baseball stopped in their tracks and began retching. My own youngster began crying and then turned sort of a green color as he began vomiting."

"By that time I was too sick myself to do anything to help (approximately $4,000,000,000 B)."

Railroad shares were at their lowest level since Oct. 3, 1944, and industrial shares at the August 8, 1945 low. A total of 1,127 different issues were traded yesterday, with only 99 of them showing gains at the close of the session.

Wrong Answer

OGDEN, Utah, (UP)—A husband here blames a New York radio network quiz show for starting a family feud. He said a network's phoned his number and he replied: "You must have the wrong number—we're not interested in those things." He then hung up and reports his wife hasn't spoke to him since.

Roads were crowded for a few minutes as the vehicles raced back and forth, carrying the sick to hospitals. A few of the stricken managed to walk to their homes.

Clark said the food poisoning was of the enteritis type, "considerably less dangerous" than the deadly botulism type of food poisoning.

LATIN-AMERICAN FARMER DELIVERS FIRST COTTON

HOUSTON, June 14 (UP)—Joe Acosta, a chunky Latin-American cotton farmer, won a mad race in a pickup truck to the Houston Cotton Exchange today with the first bale of the year.

Acosta and Joe Williams, a friend, hauled the bale into the Exchange at 1:55 A. M., entrusted it to a night watchman, and repaired to a hotel for a few hours' sleep.

Acosta's farm is located nine miles northwest of McAllen and nine miles east of Mission. His farm covers 1,600 acres of black land, but the premier bale was picked from a 650-acre patch.

The grinning Acosta explained that he did not own the land, but had rented it in a land-development deal.

He said he had the first bale of the year several seasons ago, and apologized for being two days behind the winner in 1948.

The bale was ginned by Neville, Farley and Williams Gin Co. in McAllen at 6:20 P. M. Monday.

When ginned it weighed 510 pounds, too heavy to put into a plane.

He and Williams hoisted the bale into the pickup truck and left McAllen at 7:25 P. M. They developed car trouble 25 miles out of Edinburg but were rolling toward Houston again in 30 minutes.

"I was afraid of what Joe would do to me if we didn't get that cotton here first," Williams told the United Press early today.

"We were both pretty nervous." Acosta apparently had outdistanced two competitors. One was a "mystery man" who whizzed through Edinburg at 6:45 P. M., about half an hour before Acosta took off.

The other was John Campbell, a Raymondville cotton farmer. Campbell took his cotton to a gin an hour ahead of Acosta, but had to send pickers back into the field after the scales showed the ginned bales weighed 100 pounds under a safe margin.

Harding bent down. He tried to kiss her forehead, but she moved and he found her lips instead. Mollie's arms tightened for an instant behind his neck, then relaxed and dropped to the bed. "Sleep now," she announced. "Safe."

Harding stood up. He watched Bea pull up the covers, tuck them loosely around the patient. He put a finger to his lips, moved toward the door on tiptoe.

In the main room, Miss Cosgrove cleared away the instruments, and folded up the blood-stained table coverings. Harding stood staring at nothing.

"Sorry we bore you," Fred Sillwell said.

"I still say we should have taken on more fuel," George insisted. He kept blinking, trying to see without his glasses.

"If you'd started the auxiliary when I told you," Fred said.

"If I'd gone down to start it, I'd have gone on down," George pointed out. "No, we should have had more fuel."

"More fuel?" Nona snorted. "We should have had a sailor along."

"We hit the island right on the nose didn't we?" Sillwell demanded.

"You've got something there," Nona admitted. "But did you have to hit it so hard?" (To Be Continued)

THE STORY: Four lonely women, chosen through a matrimonial club, are candidates to be bride of Henry Gough Harding, creator of a "New Eden" to regenerate the rest of the world on Spenser Island. But already there are many cross currents stirring on the island. Harding does not seem to notice these, nor that Ben Cosgrove is not really the spinster school teacher she pretends to be. Instead, Harding gives her the history of the island to read. This tells of a hoard of gold in the "Cave of Gaps," from which sounds emerge due to the action of wind and water on rock. That night a storm hits the island. And a face is seen at the door.

THEN they were all in the main room and all could see. Harding unbarred the door and a gust of wind pushed a staggering girl inside.

"She's hurt!" Bea snapped. Lilly Warren reached the girl first, put her arms around her.

"The others—outside," the girl gasped. "Please help them." The halter and shorts she wore were shredded, her blond hair was matted, and blood was Harding and Mabel Jones went out into the windy dark. Bea Cosgrove saw Lilly Warren give the newcomer a drink, saw the change of expression on her face when she looked up at her benefactor.

Lilly Warren said sharply, "Be quiet, you're all right now. Just be quiet."

The others, accompanied by Harding and Mabel Jones, entered. The two men were George Bascombe and Fred Sillwell, and the girl carried between them was Mollie Stark. Nona McGuire, the girl who first came to the house, gave their names.

Fred's principal clothing was a bulging money belt, while George's once white pants were stained and in rags, showing the source of the blood-stained bandage around Mollie's thigh.

Harding relieved them of their burden, carried the whimpering and nearly unconscious girl to the long table.

she stepped forward dutifully. Miss Stark's eyes opened. For just a few seconds Bea looked into them. She recoiled involuntarily. "Not you," Mollie said. Her eyes half closed again. "The nice man."

Harding bent down. He tried to kiss her forehead, but she moved and he found her lips instead. Mollie's arms tightened for an instant behind his neck, then relaxed and dropped to the bed. "Sleep now," she announced. "Safe."

Harding stood up. He watched Bea pull up the covers, tuck them loosely around the patient. He put a finger to his lips, moved toward the door on tiptoe.

In the main room, Miss Cosgrove cleared away the instruments, and folded up the blood-stained table coverings. Harding stood staring at nothing.

"She's sweet, isn't she," he said at last.

BATHS, a green gown for Nona McGuire, and overlarge Harding shirts and pants for the men, improved their appearance. Fred and George tossed blame for the accident back and forth.

Cisco Ceremony Unites Rose Ann Woods, Thomas H. Hughston

Miss Rose Ann Woods of Dallas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Woods of Cisco, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Newton Hughston of Dallas, Saturday evening in a candlelit ceremony read in the First Methodist Church in Cisco.

Dr. Claud P. Jones, pastor officiated before the altar covered with garlands of smilax, before a background of white satin. Tall white baskets of daisies and cathedral candelabra holding burning tapers.

Mrs. Stanley Williams at the organ played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Emily Jean Grissom of Eastland, soloist, who sang, "Because," and "At Dawning". Candles were lighted by Bob Nogue of Cisco and Bob Downman of Ranger.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of starched organza designed in the Romantic tradition, with the very full skirt sweeping into a formal train. Her white illusion veil hung to her waist and was held in place by a plaited crown of the organza.

Her bouquet was fashioned of gardenias and stephanotis. Mrs. F. E. Tracy of Odessa was the Matron of honor and Miss Gloria Graham was maid of honor, Miss Linda Lee was bride's maid. Their dresses were fashioned of eyellet organza combined with yellow taffeta. They carried bouquets made of daisies and wore a garland of daisies in their hair. Little Misses Ann Carrothers of Cisco and Susan Hughston of Dallas, niece of the bridegroom, were the flower girls and carried small baskets filled with daisies.

Mr. J. Arch Hughston of Dallas served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Paul Harlan Woods, Leyden Stroud, Gordon Gafford of Dallas, and Alvin Williams of Lubbock.

A reception was held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents. The garden was lighted by hurricane lamps and indirect lights.

The bride's table was laid with a white organza cloth and was centered with the beautiful four-tiered yellow and white wedding cake. Crystal hurricane candelabra holding burning tapers were placed at each side of the cake, and crystal punch bowls were placed at each end. The house party consisted of 35 members and included Mrs. Bill Frost and Mrs. W. E. Chaney of Eastland.

CIOCO'S 14TH ANNUAL TOURNEY JUNE 17-19

The 14th annual Cisco Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament is scheduled to get underway this week, beginning June 17 through 19, according to W. C. McDaniel, general chairman.

LAST YEAR'S WINNER

Bill Dill, winner of last year's Cisco Invitational Golf Tournament is the favorite in the annual event which will be held at the Cisco Country Club course June 17, 18 and 19.

Attendants at the Country Club said that the par 72 course would be in top shape for the event. Work has been rushed on the course to have in readiness for the opening play-offs. Charles Burke, president of the Cisco Country Club, said Saturday "every effort has been made to provide golfers, both local and visitors, with a highly entertaining tournament."

McDaniel, in making the announcement, said entrance fees had been set at $6.00. He further stated that other features to the 14th annual Cisco golf meet would include a driving contest, a barbecue and a calculation pool, to be held Friday night.

Prizes totaling more than $800.00 will be awarded to winners, runners-up, and winners of the consolation winners in each flight, McDaniel said. The awards will consist mainly of gold equipment.

Bill Dill of Cisco will be on hand to defend his crown, Dill, who is currently the Texas Junior College champion, defeated the long hitting Jack MacCrary of Weatherford, to cap the title in last year's tournament finals.

Other prominent golfers to compete here include Norman Huston, winner of this year's Ranger tournament; Dick Martin, Dallas, Corsicana champ; Spud Cason and T. A. Avarello, Fort Worth; Bill McMahon, Longview; Russell Crowover, Stamford; G. C. Osborn and Delmus James of Abilene.

Qualifying rounds will be held Friday for medal award, McDaniel said. Local golfers, plans to participate in the medal play Friday were urged to qualify between Sunday and

Leather Lightweights . . . Calf, Patent Style Compact Carry-Alls

Lightweight leather makes compact summer bags. A patent envelope (left) is styled with outside pocket to accommodate sun-glasses. Soft calf (right) has double basket handles for easy carrying.

BY EPSIE KINARD, NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Leather handbags can match weight-lifting with summer carry-alls of straw and fabric. The woman who elects leather for her standby bag can pick one of patent as flat as an envelope, one of calf which has also been freed of burdensome metal and wood.

Soft, lightweight calf makes compact bags which designer Richard Koret has given taut, firm contours without the aid of wooden underpinnings. A big help in carrying the load which a woman will add to this bag is a double basket-handle.

As flat and almost as weightless as an envelope are the patent leather bags styled for easy carrying and sized to go inside a pocket. Such bags, which will take without a bulge all of the effects a woman needs in transit, are called "plus-bags" because of the extra outside pocket, equipped for carrying sunglasses.

Colt Owners Get Invitation To Race It Out

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. June 14 (UP)—The owners of Capot, Ponder and Palestinian were given another chance today to "settle" their three-year-old championship when the Atlantic City Racing Association invited them to take part in a special $50,000 winner-take-all race. The trio of colts, if their owners accept the invitation would race a mile and a quarter at the Atlantic City Inaugural, Aug. 11. Conspicuously uninvited was Fred Hooper's speedy Olympia the leading money and stakes winner of the season. Hooper, however, probably would have passed up the bid because his colt, can't negotiate a mile and a quarter with any assurance of success. The Atlantic City Association, through its president, John B. Kelly, invited the three colts because of their performances in the mythical "triple crown". Capot won the Preakness and Belmont stake while Palestinian was 2nd in the Preakness and 3rd in the other two.

The track offered to donate its share of the mutual handle on the race to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

Canned Foods Due To Rise

CHICAGO, June 14 (UP)—The prices of canned goods will rise this summer and next fall even if farmers give away certain of their fruits and vegetable crops, a grocery association official said today.

Arthur Lutz, president of the National - American Wholesale Grocers' Association, said it is costing more to get the farmer's products into the cans.

Peaches, corn, peas and the ingredients for fruit cocktail, even if obtained without charge from the farmer, will cost more in extra standard and standard size cans, he said.

Labor and freight costs are up, along with the prices of tin cans, beet sugar and cartons, he said.

Farmers Meet Challenge
AMES, Ia. (UP)—Iowa farmers are girding for an all-out fight to save the state's No. 1 crop, corn, from the ravages of the corn borer this summer. More than 12,000 farmers have attended meetings at which Iowa State College extension entomologists explained borer control measures.
