"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 19.

The Golden Text is: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein" (Psalms 24:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever; nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear him" (Ecclesiastes 3:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As a material knowledge diminishes and spiritual understanding increases, real objects will be apprehended mentally instead of materially" (page 96).

Gen. George C. Kenney wants the scientists to develop radar to a point where we could watch what goes on all over the world. That's playing peek-a-boo on a major scale. If you can check up on what a few of the world leaders are having for breakfast, you can get a good idea whether they'll be looking for trouble or for a spot to lie down and relax.  Bedford Butler who lives south of Gorman and west of Rucker and has almost 1000 acres of land in that area has about 80 acres of barley and rye which are really ready to harvest. Mr. Rucker has his own machinery but the rain has made the ground too wet for him to begin taking up the grain. So far he thinks not too much of the grain is hurt if he gets no more rain before the harvest. He has about 600 acres in pasture land on which he keeps at least 150 head of cattle, maintaining his own breed stock. Also he has his own brood sows and tries to have about 60 to 75 hogs to run on the peanuts when they are ready to graze. Butler is one farmer who has always done his share in helping with the affairs of his community, having been a school trustee for over 34 years, and he is secretary treasurer of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association. He lives within 1-1/2 miles of the place where his parents came from Mississippi and settled in 1886.

LEWIS AGREES TO MEET OPERATORS THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON, June 18(UP) — John L. Lewis has accepted the proposal of Northern and Western Coal Operators to open contract negotiations next Wednesday at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., it was disclosed today.
 Officials of the United Mine Workers said both the time and the place are acceptable to Lewis. He may notify the producers formally of his acceptance of their offer before nightfall.

White Sulphur Springs is in the heart of the southern soft coal fields. It is also the site of the annual meeting of the Southern Coal Producers Association, with whom the United Mine Workers have been bargaining for the past four weeks without any progress.

Industry sources said Lewis' acceptance of the site for his meeting with northern and western operators appeared to be a strategic move on his part to block the southerners' effort to obtain a separate contract with the mine workers.
 The present contract expires on June 30. Lewis reportedly hopes to replace it with a new national contract embracing all soft coal producers.
 Industry sources said that, for this reason, they expect him to try to force the southerners into the White Sulphur Springs parleys when he feels the time is ripe.

 The government intends to keep a close eye on the West Virginia negotiations. Officials regard them as a key to the success—or failure—of their efforts to prevent a series of strikes in major industries this summer.
 Negotiations are now underway for new contracts in the automobile, electrical manufacturing, rubber and steel industries. Most of the unions involved will be free to strike on July 15. They are demanding fourth round wage increases and in some cases pensions.

Joseph E. Moody, president of Southern Coal Producers Association, was cool to the idea that his group might be invited to join the White Sulphur Springs talks. He said the southerners will insist on a separate contract "under which the south can live."

In an effort to assure talks on a separate agreement, Moody yesterday at Bluefield, W. Va., offered to extend the present contract until Aug. 15. But the union rejected his offer.

The old Askew Estate north of Desdemona and near the Howard Cemetery sold at public auction Tuesday June 14. Sam Powers bought it in at $33 per acre and there were 445 acres. This place has long been known as one of the best grazing lands in the district. The auction was well attended. Mr. Bell of Eastland was the auctioneer. All that remained of the household furnishings and farm machinery went to the highest bidders among the individuals who attended. Bidding was always brisk and comparatively good prices were realized.

Andrew Pittman who lives about 1 mile out of Gorman says his land and most of the land in his neighborhood is still too wet to plow. He had his peanuts planted and the last 3 inch rain which fell this week has washed them rather badly, so badly, in fact that he will probably have to replant some of them at least. Pittman has 141 1-2 acres of land. He has 85 acres in cultivation which he plants mostly to peanuts. However, he keeps sufficient cows, hogs, chickens, etc. on the place for home consumption and he sells some of such produce as eggs, chickens, etc. His 50 hens at one time last year were laying at the rate of 45 eggs per day. In the area where Pittman lives on the Ranger road, some small grain is planted & also some head stuff
