

Gorman Oil News

By Buena Van Winkle

The Choate No. 1 Reeves drilling at 1220 Tuesday night about midnight. So far they have been going along smoothly enough and have not found any shallow stuff, which they are drilling with a cable tool outfit.

Another well is being located on the East 80 acres of J. C. Burns land. This is the contract which Skeeters and Curry had with Roy Gaines and which Johnny Burns was holding up the entry onto his land because he had no interest in the mineral rights on the East 80. Skeeters and Curry are moving the rig in and rigging up and will begin operations either tonight or tomorrow in all probability.

Apparently some of the operators are more interested right now in the surface rights on some of the lands out around here. We saw Bud Greer and Waldon H. Ezell piloting a mighty nice watermelon into the Hotel Lobby this morning.

Some of the operators are working on a project to treat the wells in the Kirk Field with live steam to melt out the paraffin content which seems to have collected with the volunteer shut down which they had when the railroad Commission was testing the wells about 3 months or more back. We do know that from that time on most of the wells have declined steadily, if indeed they have ever produced since that time. This clearing out of paraffin will be something to watch. If it develops that that has caused the trouble and made the oil apparently disappear, then most of them can be

DAILY TAX 58,179 CARTWHEELS

Yup, them's silver dollars, pardner, 58,179 of them. They're a feature of the 50th Anniversary celebration of The Timken Roller Bearing Company, Canton, Ohio.

About 8,000 of the silver dollars had to be left in bags, because the 12-cubic-foot lucite box made especially for the display won't hold that much hard money.

In the photograph above, two Timken employees, Louise Kessler, left, and Audrey Roth are amazed at the size of the pile. The exhibit is in the courtyard of the main entrance to the Canton plants of the Timken Company.

The large pile of cartwheels, weighing approximately 3500 pounds, represents the amount Timken and its employees hand out in federal income taxes daily. The Cleveland and Pittsburgh Federal Reserve Banks required several weeks to corral them for the First National Bank of Canton, which had the job of ordering them for Timken.

cleared up and we will have about as much production as we ever did. The well which Joe Hunter drilled on the Blackwell tract out on the Gorman to Eastland Highway may have something of the same trouble. It was making 5 BBLs per hour for a full 24 hours per day from what they are calling in that area the Ellenberger. With a treatment of 500 gallons of acid, something congealed in that well and no more oil could be brought up ever again than a very small trickle. It has been closed in since then. Someone made the remark that day that some steam applied under pressure in that well would cut that congealed mass loose and let the oil come through again. So again we say we are sitting watch over developments and we believe we will see them by this fall.

Choate No. 1 Reeves drilling 1458. As of today it will be a tight hole. We were pretty certain they would start that since it is started with the 15 inch mouth which we told you about some time ago. Mr. Choate reports that this machine he has out there - a cable tool outfit is capable of going 5000 feet or better, so we had all better watch this operation as much as we can.

Hoffman No. 1 Watt drilling at 1140 and digging 11 inch hole. This is the other hole which was also started with a 15 inch hole. The Jay and Parker Company No. 2 T. N. Watt on the tract north of where Mr. Hoffman has set his well in the middle of the south 40 of this tract, are having some trouble with their No. 2 operation. It came in all right apparently, but the acid was allowed to remain in the hole too long, we think, and they are having to put it on a pump to bring it back.

Skeeter and Curry No. 1 J. C. Burns are setting surface pipe and getting ready to really start up.

An operation is getting under way out on the Eastland to Gorman highway near where the drilling was going on some months back on the Blackwell tract. We do not have the authentic dope on it yet, but think it is on the Smith tract which a Mr. McCoy was blocking up for other interests about 3 or 4 months ago. They had the leases largely on the promise of a drilling contract. We will have that dope soon. This could be a shallow test since so much of that stuff in that vicinity has had shallow shows which look

Baytown Tunnel Bid Approval Expected Today

AUSTIN, Tex. July 22 (UP)—The Texas Highway Commission was expected to act today on a low bid of $4,860,205 for the two-and-a-half mile Baytown tunnel. The brown and Root, Inc., of Austin and Houston, was low bidder yesterday in the largest single meet among some 50 in the three-day letting.

A spokesman for the commission explained that the low bid was not official until certified by the highway commission. Fred Wemple, chairman of the commission, said his group may take action on the bid today. "I have an idea," Wemple said, "that we'll move that just as fast as we can."

The tunnel will be located about 20 miles below Houston on state Highway 146. A spokesman for the bridge engineering department explained that the 3,009-foot tunnel will be laid 53 feet under the surface of the Houston ship channel in nine prefabricated sections of steel shell and concrete lining. The tunnel will have a two lane roadway totaling 22 feet in width through it.

No definite date has been set for starting the project, but a spokesman for the department estimated that work would begin in 30 to 45 days.

About one-fifth of the nation's land now available for crops has been made arable or more productive by drainage improvements.

Farm Bureau Meeting Set

WACO, Texas, July 22. A.M. College of Texas will be host to the first Texas Farm Bureau Institute to be held July 24-29. Enrollment is expected to exceed 300 according to J. Walter Hammond, Federation President. The faculty for the weeks training program will be composed of persons who have made an outstanding success in particular lines of Farm Bureau work or persons whose training and experience qualify them to make a definite contribution.

Two of the outstanding speakers who will address the Institute are Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Roger Fleming, Director of American Farm Bureau's Washington office. A feature of the Institute will be banquet on Friday evening, July 29 at which Kline will speak and certificates will be awarded by President J. Walter Hammond.

Classes will be conducted on Farm Bureau Philosophy, Membership Acquisition and Maintenance, Salesmanship and Public Speaking. Instructors will include President Hammond; R. G. Arnold, Farm Bureau Director of Organization for Southern Region; T. C. Peterson, Organization Director for the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation; D. C. Mieser and Paul E. Edwards, Executive Vice-President of the Southern Farm Bureau Life and Casualty Insurance Companies, respectively.

Salem HD Club Display Winner

The Salem Home Demonstration Club recently at the Indian Trail Festival at Gorman placed second in the Bedroom Exhibit with a ribbon and cash award of $7.50.

Items displayed were a dolly, curtains, berspread, pillow cases, pillow protectors, mattress protector, quilt, sheets, vanity set, dresser scarf, and a rug. Quilts were made from plain and print feed sacks; the dolly crocheted from twine unraveled from fertilizer bags, and these combined with ingenuity made a real showing. The quilt, a Wedding Ring, was pieced from print scraps.

An arrangement of zinnias in shades of yellow and orange, accentuated by white, in a deft blue vase, lent a color note to the display.

In the home food supply section the club again scored with all 18 entries winning prizes, including six firsts, seven seconds and five thirds. A cash award of $2.50 was won by the club in this display.

Heavy Culling Of Flocks Urged

COLLEGE STATION, July 22. Heavy culling of poultry flocks during the summer months calls for extra effort in marketing if farmers are to get the best price for their hens, says C. M. Evans, chief, Southwest poultry branch, Production and Marketing Administration, USDA.

To keep their flocks on a profitable basis, most farmers are now selling their broody hens, early molters and marginal layers, Evans said. Altogether these culled birds in any farm flock of average size make up one or more coops to sell.

Here are some hot weather tips that Evans offers to those who may be marketing cull hens soon: Give the hens plenty of clean, fresh water while holding just before marketing. Be sure coops are clean and not over-crowded. Provide plenty of ventilation and shade at all times. Separate according to quality and let each lot sell on its own merits, and never use sacks or bags or tie

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK, 1949

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

WHEREAS unsafe practices continue to cause needless injuries and death to farm people; and

WHEREAS widespread adoption of safer ways of working and living would save thousands of people from tragic injury or accidental death:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the Nation to observe the week commencing July 24, 1949, as National Farm Safety Week, and I request all organizations and persons interested in farm life and welfare to join in a continuing drive against practices which endanger farm people in their homes, in the fields, and on the highways. I also urge each member of every farm family to study the hazards associated with rural life with a view to performing all tasks in the safest manner possible every day throughout the year.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this twenty-eighth day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-third.

chickens together for the trip to market. If these precautions are followed concludes Evans, the marketing of the culls will be easier and shrinkage and other losses will be less.

When picking up broken glass, dampen a piece of cotton and tap it over the surface where the small pieces of glass are lying. The cotton will pick up the tiny particles, and there will be less danger of cutting yourself.

Almost any grass that is palatable and nutritious to cattle will make good silage if it is properly handled. In most sections of the state at the present time, there is an abundance of good grass. It should be saved and a silo filled with good silage is mighty good insurance for next winter's feeding operations.

Sanitation is the number one item in any successful fly control program, insecticidal treatment is of little or no value unless a thorough clean-up job is done. There is no substitute for cleanliness.

To prevent frayed ends on rugs, stitch across each end on the sewing machine; the stitching will not show.
