Senate Vote Heads Clark For Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (UP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark had within his grasp today his lifelong ambition—a seat on the Supreme Court.

His nomination to succeed the late Justice Frank Murphy was approved by the Senate yesterday 73 to 8. Those voting "no" were all Republicans.

No date has been set to swear him in. He said he may take a short vacation first.

Clark was confirmed after a tangle over charges by Sen. Homer Ferguson, R. Mich., that he got his job solely as a "political reward." Democrats, northwestern and southern alike, sprang to Clark's defense.

The Senate then approved unanimously President Truman's selection of Sen. J. Howard McGrath, D., R. I. to succeed Clark as attorney general. McGrath is 48.

McGrath will resign both his seat in the Senate and his post as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. William Boyle of Kansas City, now Democratic vice-chairman, is in line to get his party post.

Both Clark and McGrath stuck to Mr. Truman last fall when his political stock was at its lowest ebb. McGrath, who served in the justice department as solicitor general from 1945 to 1946, was hand-picked by the president to head the Democratic party.

More Charges Against Mears

The Eastland County Sheriff's office was notified this morning that Roy L. Mears, Comanche, who is being held in County jail on felony and misdemeanor complaints, is wanted by Earth and Mason County authorities for passing worthless checks.

Sheriff J. B. Williams said 11 worthless checks, ranging from $1 to $48, passed by Mears, were turned over to him by Gorman businessmen Thursday afternoon. He stated that additional worthless checks passed by Mears in Eastland County were expected within the next few days.

New System At City Dump

A trench fill system for garbage at the Eastland City Dump now being used, City Manager I. C. Heck stated.

A trench is bulldozed and garbage dumped into it until full, then covered over and another trench started. Garbage in the first trench decays where the ground may be used again.

The public is requested to place all trash and garbage into the trench. Failure to comply may result in a $5 fine.

Delinquent Tax Suits Underway

Suits for back taxes are being prepared by the City of Eastland officials announced.

A deadline of Sept. 1 for paying delinquent taxes has been set.

2 'Kings' To Battle Tonight For City League Championship

King Tractor Company walloped Kilgore's, 8 to 2, last night at Firemen's Field to win the semi-final match in the City Championship League and the right to play King Ford Motor Company tonight for the title.

The pitching of Roy Maynard for King Tractor was the deciding factor in the game. Maynard also knocked a homer and a triple. One of the highlights was a homer made by Raymond Beck, knocking his brother, Cliff into home-plate from base.

It will be "two Kings" playing each other tonight to determine the "king" of the City Championship League.

King Ford was winner of the Invitational Tournament, but King Tractor will be out "with blood in their eyes."

While the game tonight will wind up League play, special games are expected to be played next week. Chief A. W. Hennessee of the sponsoring Eastland Fire Department, stated.

EXPEDITION TO SEEK JEAN LAFITTE SUNKEN GOLD

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 19 (UP)—A crew of adventurers organized into a modern "exploration company" sets out tomorrow to search for a gold-laden ship scuttled by the pirate, Jean Lafitte, 128 years ago.

Lafitte reportedly sank the 75 foot vessel Pride in the marshes of Lake Miller near Wallisville, Texas, after its retreat was cut off by U. S. Naval vessels stalking the privateer. Wallisville is in southeast Texas.

The Krigar and Behane Exploration Co., announced plans to start the project yesterday immediately after the Texas Land Commissioner granted a permit to B. J. Krigar, a partner in the firm.

Krigar and Leo T. Beahne, Jr., another official of the company said they would conduct the treasure hunt on information furnished by E. H. Sherman of Wallisville, and C. H. Clark, Sherman's brother-in-law.

"We believe the ship now is on dry land," Krigar said. "We'll go in there Saturday and clear the ground of lily pads and marsh grass. Then we'll sink a 16-foot shaft and go to work with mud pumps to uncover it."

Krigar said he hoped other treasure hunters would stay away, but planned to work the crew 24 hours a day to avoid trouble from poachers.

"Of course, we don't know what we're going to find," Krigar said. "I just wish we had it uncovered."

Krigar theorized the ship that Lafitte used to sack Spanish vessels in the Gulf of Mexico was resting in about nine feet of silt. It should be fairly well preserved, he said, and could be used as an historical relic even if gold were not found.

Mrs. C. H. Miller of Houston, Sherman's sister, said location of the ship had been a family secret for a hundred years.

"My grandfather, Jacob Sherman, who ran a small freighter along the Gulf Coast, knew about the ship more than a century ago," she said. "The secret of where it is buried has been in our family ever since, and it has caused nothing but trouble."

She said her grandfather had been told it was dangerous to know the whereabouts of the ship because Lafitte had killed the only two persons who supposedly

Mason Attacker Released On Bond

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 19 (UP)—Chester Harry Brinkman, 23, was released on $400 bond early today after being charged with aggravated assault on Burt Mason, Alice radio commentator.

The Pasadena oil truck driver was allegedly one of a trio that forced Mason out of his car here early Sunday and attacked him. Mason said he would not prefer charges against the other two men, but explained he wanted to "get the one who kept sticking his fingers in my eyes."

Brinkman did not make a statement to police about the fight. Mason is the son of Bill Mason, who was slain on an Alice street last month.

Possible Slip In Bill May Halt Salary Payments

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (UP)—Payment of $490,000 in annual salaries to about 100 state department of education staff members may be halted because of a possible legislative slip up, authorities said today.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who declined to certify allocation of funds, said he had asked the attorney general's department to rule on the question. Allocation of funds was covered in a rider to an appropriation bill. The rider stipulated the money should come from the foundation school fund, set up under Senate Bill No. 117, one of three Gilmer-Aiken education reform measures.

S. B. 117 says nothing about paying any administrative expenses," Calvert said.

Other officials said they thought wording of the rider would amend the Senate bill, although Calvert remarked it was as generally accepted that an act of the legislature could not be changed by a rider on an appropriation bill.

Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent, had no comment.

Calvert said he knew of only one possible answer to the problem if the attorney general's office ruled the action was unconstitutional—a special session.

"That seems rather remote," Calvert added.

"I'm sure the legislature intended an appropriation, but I'm not sure that they did it," he said.

No Change In Eastland County Taxes

The Eastland County Commissioners Court has decided the tax rate will remain at 60 cents on the $100 valuation for the next fiscal year, the same as it has been the past two years.

Taxable valuation shows an increase of more than $1,000,000, from $20,818,610 to more than $21,800,000.

The increased valuations will result in approximately $18,000 additional revenue to the county. Increased oil development accounted for the increased valuations.

Thomas Y. Pickett of Dallas had charge of setting the valuations.

An annual budget hearing was held Tuesday, Aug. 15 and adopted by the county. It will not become final until some of the tax valuation figures are compiled.

Ennis To Proceed To Install Meters

WAXAHACHIE, Aug. 19 (UP)—The Ennis city commission planned to go ahead with plans to install parking meters after a temporary injunction against them was dismissed in district court here yesterday.

Judge A. R. Stout disclosed the temporary restraining order and denied the temporary injunction but added that he was not dismissing the case.

A group of Ennis citizens had obtained the temporary restraining order when the Ennis city commission sought to install the meters on a six-month trial basis.

Counsel for the petitioners sought to prove the city of Ennis wanted the meters for revenue purposes, while the Ennis city attorney sought to show that the meters were to be for traffic control.

Baruch said there would be no birthday party "if I can help it." He said he would spend the day quietly at his office and probably would make his daily visit to Central Park to sit on a bench and talk to passersby.

Baruch, known as the "advisor of Presidents," said he intended to take a day's vacation from the problems of the world. He indicated however, that the main issue worrying him is "what are we going to do about England."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (UP)—The Federal Communications Commission today issued new rules which will knock radio giveaway programs off the air. The new policy becomes effective on October 1.

The commission said no station licenses will be renewed if the stations propose to continue broadcasting lotteries.

The commission called attention, in issuing the new rules, to the communications act of 1943 which provides that no radio station "shall knowingly permit the broadcasting of any advertisement or information concerning any lottery, gift enterprise or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or any list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift enterprise or scheme."

The commission has no authority to supervise particular programs on the radio. It mentioned none in announcing the new rules. It merely said the question of whether a particular program falls within the provisions of the law will depend on the facts in each case.

In any event, however, the commission said, a program will be considered a lottery if a prize of value is awarded to any persons whose selection is dependent in whole or in part upon chance under the following conditions:

1. If the winner is required to furnish money or something else of value, or to have in his possession a product manufactured or distributed by the sponsor of the program.
2. If the winner is required to be listening to or viewing the program on television.
3. If the winner is required to answer correctly a question, the answer to which is provided on a radio program.
4. If the winner is required to answer the telephone in a prescribed manner or to write a letter containing a particular phrase if the required material has been broadcast over the station.

Practically the same rules is final. It is by a 3 to 1 vote of the commission. Commissioner Frieda Henock dissented. Three members did not participate in the decision.

The whole lottery question came up some time ago when the commission examined a program called "dollars for answers" broadcast by station WRLD, Arlington, Va.

NEGRO BATTLES WITH 270 POLICE BEFORE FALLING

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (UP)—
A 28-year old Negro gunman was blasted to death with machine guns early today in a three-hour battle with about 270 police who set fire to his barricaded house to drive him out after he wounded five officers and a young boy.

Three other policemen, a news photographer and a woman, were injured by tear gas and flying glass in the wild gun fight witnessed by 5,000 spectators in a west side middle class negro neighborhood.

The negro, James Craig, went down spewing lead from two .38 caliber pistols as he stepped through the door of his flaming home.

Neighbors said that Craig had appeared "irritated and slightly insane" since his pet dog, Prince, was run over by a car
and killed about a month ago.
Craig had lived alone with the dog in two rooms of the neat two story brick veneered house since the store building, entered and stole several articles of merchandise.

Since there was no doubt of Joe's guilt, he was convicted and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. But on appeal the verdict was reversed.

At the trial Mrs. Smith testified that she was the wife of Fred Smith and that she lived with him at Prairie Hill, where they operated a store. The indictment pointed out that the store, at the time of the burglary, was under the control and ownership of Mrs.
Smith.

The reversal was solely on a technicality involving ownership of the store. Although Mrs. Smith was operator of the store, it was community property belonging jointly to her and Mr. Smith. In the eyes of the law the husband was the owner. The indictment charging Joe should have alleged that the husband, instead of the wife, was the owner of the property.

If the State Bar is successful in its efforts to bring about revision of Texas criminal statutes, such loopholes in the law can be closed. Under the present system too many criminals escape justice, even when there is no doubt of their guilt, breeding disrespect for the law and subjecting good citizens to constant threats from lawbreakers.

his wife left him six months back

The fracas began about 9:30 last night when Craig got into an argument with a neighbor, Lawrence Mack, 17, who had decorated his house for him. Craig accused Mack of stealing a gun from his home.

Suddenly, witnesses said, Craig pulled two pistols and fired at Mack.

The bullet went wild and struck two-year-old Drake Atkins in the head. The child was taken to county hospital in serious condition.

When a squad of officers arrived to investigate the shooting, Craig opened fire at them. With a gun in each hand he screamed defiance for them to "come in and get me if you think you're tough."

The officers called for reinforcements and within a few minutes 100 officers converged on the neighborhood in squad cars, patrol wagons and on motorcycles.

Craig ran from window to window, firing at them. His supply of shells apparently was inexhaustible.

He hit Sgt. Marshall Pidgeon,

head of the police bomb squad three times. Pidgeon was taken to county hospital in serious condition with two bullets in his back and one in his cheek.

Officers flooded the house with tear gas by shooting bombs
through the windows but Craig merely repeated his cries of defiance.

When the gas failed to rout Crag chief of uniformed police Raymond Crane ordered his men deliberately to set fire to the house.

Officers crept up under the cover of fire from their buddies and tossed flares through the wide bay windows on the first floor.

Within moments, the entire first floor was a mass of flames.

Firemen played water on adjoining buildings to keep the fire from spreading to them.

By the light of the flames, Crag could be seen dashing through the house and running up and down the stairs to maintain his gunfire in all directions.

Suddenly, the stairway caught fire, catching Crag in the midst of the crackling flames.
Craig apparently decided to try to shoot his way out.

As he stepped through the door way with his guns blazing, police opened up with a terrific blast that virtually tore his body apart.
Craig fell instantly dead.

KILGORE'S, ONLY CREAMERY IN COUNTY, IS MODERN, WELL-EQUIPPED INSTITUTION

The only creamery in Eastland County, Kilgore's is a 30-year-old Eastland firm that has taken great strides forward since it came under the ownership four years ago of young and progressive Johnny Kilgore and his wife, who have built it into modern, well-equipped institution that places some $150,000 into circulation each year.

Born and reared near Rising Star, located in the southwest corner of Eastland County, Kilgore received a Bachelor of Science degree in dairy manufacturing from Texas Technological College in Lubbock. He is married to the former Miss Frances Lorane Taylor of Eastland, also a degree holder from Texas Tech.

After a hitch in the service, Kilgore — like many other veterans looking for a suitable location — browsed around and finally decided upon a business which he liked and was qualified for in the county where he was raised.

With Mrs. Kilgore assisting as bookkeeper and in the laboratory, Kilgore's first step upon purchasing what had been known as Eastland Creamery, was to completely renovate and remodel the existing plant and facilities. During the intervening years, the plant and equipment have been added to, with the present white stucco building, located at 304 South Green Street, having dimensions 36 feet wide and 96 feet long, and fully-equipped for both handling of milk and wholesale, manufacturing and distribution of ice cream.

Presently, Kilgore's purchases Grade A milk from the majority of dairies in Eastland County, handling approximately 500 gallons a day. Bulk of the milk is bottled and distributed to consumers, while a portion is retained for the manufacture of ice cream, and some is taken by truck to Dallas and sold to the Borden Company.

Speed and efficiency are the keynotes of the plant, and everything geared to the one word—sanitation. With 12 to 16 employees, six late model trucks and 100 pieces of machinery, everything is turned to harmony of activities that is reflected in the quality and freshness of the milk and ice cream that reaches the consumer.

Back of the success of Kilgore's are the many first class dairies of Eastland County such as the ones maintained by A. Z. Myrick, Cisco, president of the Eastland County Dairy Association; L. R. Higginbotham, Kokomo, secretary of the Association; Forest Boone, Rising Star; L. O. Swindle, Cisco; J. C. Caraway, Carbon; and A. F. Beck, Morton Valley.

Most of the dairies bring their milk direct to market, while Kilgore's maintain one truck to pick up milk in the outlying district. From the time the milk enters the receiving window and passes through the pasturization, homogenization, bottling and delivery stages, it is never uncovered or touched by human hands. A series of stainless steel pipes, vats and other equipment comprise the assembly line. A close laboratory check is maintained to assure top standards. One of the big tasks each day is a two hour clean-up period in which every joint and fitting as well as all equipment and floors are thoroughly cleaned.

Kilgore's strictness in sanitation pays off in comments such as the one Earl Bullock of Abilene, milk inspector for the State Health Department, made recently after inspecting the plant. Bullock declared he had not had the pleasure of inspecting a finer dairy set-up in cleanliness than the one Kilgore has. And the results, may be seen in the manner that Kilgore's business is booming.

One of the most interesting phases of the Kilgore plant is where the ice cream and novelty products are made. A $4,000 machine installed in 1948, keeps the ice cream rolling for the hungry mouths of young and old alike, who enjoy the delicacy. After the cream is made, it is stored in a large vault where a 10 to 20 below zero temperature is maintained at all times.

Kilgore, incidentally, pioneered the ice cream manufacturing field last year when he designed a "hardening tunnel", which enables plants to increase their capacities. Consisting of a sealed-in steel insulated tunnel with a frozen door attached to each end and containing coils and ammonia, the cream passes through the contraction and hardens within 2½ to 3 hours, less than half the time it takes to harden by the accepted method of placing in containers and storing in vaults.

ly after inspecting the plant. Bullock declared he had not had the pleasure of inspecting a finer dairy set-up in cleanliness than the one Kilgore has. And the results, may be seen in the manner that Kilgore's business is booming.

No Heir Apparent To Ku Klux Klan

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 19 (UP)—The white-robed files of Ku Klux Klansmen were left without a leader today by the sudden death of Dr. Samuel Green, imperial wizard of the invisible empire.

No heir-apparent was known outside the anonymous group of grand officers, who are expected to meet here soon to name a successor. The names of other Klan leaders were kept secret during Green's period of Klan "reconstruction."

A former head of the National Klan, Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, feared there would be trouble from the "tempestuous organization," particularly if there is a struggle for the leadership. He said he knew of no klansman who could run it with so firm a hand as Green.

Green, 59, knitted the shreds of the national organization together after it disbanded in 1914, in the face of federal income tax suits. From 12 Georgia Klaverns, he produced what he claimed to be a Klan of 100,000 members, active in 120 Georgia and Tennessee counties.

Golfer Clicks Off Aces

ABERDEEN, Washington. (UP)—Bob Crook, a bank official, hopes maybe to score a hole in one at each of the Grays Harbor Country Club's 18 greens by 1989. He scored his third ace on the No. 4 hole in July. His two previous single-wing shots were registered on No. 7 in 1941 and No. 9 in 1943.

DOWN TO THE SEA IN CYCLES—Things move in cycles, they say, but so do people, as these two Finnish boys demonstrate. They crossed the Gulf of Bothnia, which separates Finland and Sweden, taking only 1,120,000 "cycle steps" on this self-made amphibious cycle. Here the boys, Matti Naranen, left, and Reino Karpio, land in Sweden after their 28-mile crossing.

BOWL GAME SPONSORS ASSURED OF FAIR CUT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19 (UP)—Worried sponsors of bowl football games with financial obligations were assured today that they can retain as much as 40 per cent of the gross gate under new rules proposed by the NCAA.

George Renegar, secretary of the NCAA bowl committee, said the committee made allowances for "properly sponsored" bowls with outstanding obligations made prior to Aug. 14.

Those sponsors of New Year's day classics that fall into this category, Renegar said, can retain as much as 40 per cent of the total receipts of the game. Such obligations would include stadium improvements and indebtedness incurred in inaugurating the classic.

One of the six proposals made by the NCAA bowl committee for consideration by the organization later this year, demanded an 89 per cent cut for the colleges participating. But Renegar said the first report of the committee's recommendation did not give the complete details of the proposal. The full report shows, he said, a clause where sponsors with legal obligations can claim an additional 20 per cent of the gate to meet commitments.

The Sugar Bowl football classic at New Orleans would fall in this category since it still has outstanding thousands of dollars in bonds floated to inaugurate the Sugar Bowl classic and to enlarge Tulane Stadium where it is staged. But just what other major new year's day classic would come under that classification was not immediately known.

Under the 60-40 split, the two teams participating in the Sugar Bowl would get $150,000 each with the sponsors getting $200,000.

When the 80-20 per cent cut report came out, it drew sharp criticism in some quarters. Grover Morrow, first vice-president of the Orange Bowl said it would "financially" wreck his classic.

Sugar bowlers, however, indicated they had no great objection to such a cut.

Some sources said they believed the 80-20 proposal was aimed primarily at a number of relatively new postseason bowls and was a move to keep others from springing up. It is known that the NCAA has watched with alarm the increase in the number of postseason football games.

Sammy The Rice Owl Is Dead

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 19 (UP)—An ungrateful Sammy was dead today.

The great horned owl, presented to Rice Institution several months ago as a livemascot to replace the stuffed version used by the school for years, didn't even make an appearance on the football field for which he was groomed.

Head Cheerleader Teddy Montz, Sammy's "guardian," complained he spent most of his spare time keeping the owl stuffed with sparrows and mice, spraying his garage nest for mites and explaining away the wild screechings to neighbors.

"And what happens? Teddy wailed today. "He dies just before football season."

VETERAN DIES OF INJURIES BEFORE DREAM IS REALIZED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 19 (UP)—A New Orleans World War veteran died today before he could benefit from the gracious assistance of more than a score of people from Kansas City to Washington.

Robert L. Perrett, Jr., 21, a World War II Coast Guardsman, succumbed at a hospital here of injuries which had left him paralyzed from the neck down on the eve of the fulfillment of his "fondest wish."

Authorization was received only a few hours before his death that an Air Force plane would be made available to take him to a veterans hospital in his home in New Orleans.

The return trip home was what he wanted more than anything else, his wife, pretty, Hawaiian born, Mrs. Jean Perrett said.

Authorization of the plane's use was granted through the intervention of officials of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Rep. Leonard Irving, of Missouri, members of the Veterans Administration.

tion and President Harry Truman, who was first notified of Perrett's plight by his wife several weeks ago.

Perrett was injured seven weeks ago, June 30, in a diving accident at Wildwood Lakes here. He received a neck fracture and a nerve injury which left his body paralyzed.

Mrs. Perrett became distressed after her husband had been hospitalized more than five weeks. In a letter to President Truman she said an accumulation of hospital bills amounted to more than $500 and she was unable to pay them on her meager salary as a car hop.

Through press and radio reports the story reached the Veterans of Foreign Wars and through Mr. Truman it reached the Veterans Administration. Immediate action was taken to have Perrett transferred to a veterans hospital. Negotiations were underway to have him receive a non-service disability pension of $60 a month.

Action on the plane came after Rep. Irving sent two telegrams to Washington requesting it. He made the move when he heard of Perrett's desire to return to his home city.

When notice of the plane's availability became known physicians caring for Perrett became hopeful.

"The trip home should give him a psychological boost that medicine can't accomplish," said one.

But Perrett was hardly aware that his request had been granted. Already in a critical condition, he died before the final arrangements were complete.

Today Mrs. Perrett said her husband had come to Kansas City from New Orleans about a year ago to study at a trade school under the G I Bill of Rights.

"He hated to leave New Orleans even for that," she said.
