City Outlines Long Range Health Sanitation Program

A health and sanitation program is underway by the City of Eastland that may require 10 years to complete, but will not result in a penny of additional taxes being assessed, according to City Manager I. C. Heck.

Plans are to use revenue from parking meters to defray costs of the program, which is designed to make Eastland one of the healthiest places in Texas to live.

Some work on the long-range health program has already been accomplished, while other projects may not materialize for several years.

One of the first health hazards considered was the City Dump. City Manager Heck said the situation there was almost corrected. Instead of the former method of dumping all trash and garbage on the ground and left as a mosquito and fly breeding place, a trench fill system is now used.

A survey is presently being made by County Engineer Landon with a view of installing a pumping system at the disposal plant south of the city. There is a possibility the disposal plant will have to be enlarged.

One of the goals of the city is to have every street paved and no dry closets within the city limits.

Another ambition is to install a water filtration plant to assure citizens of crystal-clear water at all times.

City Manager Heck said the Commission realizes this is a big program, but after a two year period elapses parking meters will be paid for and all revenue can be used for this purpose.

"I don't believe anyone that has the best interests of Eastland at heart can complain of a little inconvenience caused by meters."

in view of the health and sanitation program the revenue will be used for." City Manager Heck stated. "If the city planned to use the money too recklessly and foolishly it might be a different matter."

Policy of the city is to be as fair as possible on tickets issued for violations of the meters. A City Commissioner was given a ticket last week and he paid his fine just as anyone else, City Manager Heck said. Another prominent man, issued a ticket, said he wanted to pay his fine if everyone else was having to pay.

Meters have also gone a long way to solve the parking and traffic congestion in the city, Heck said.

One of the pressing health hazards that is giving the city a headache is the weed situation on vacant lots. The city manager would appreciate suggestions from the public on how this can be handled.

UNITED STATES RITES FOR M. H. HAGAMAN HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Last rites for M. H. Hagaman were conducted Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Ranger with the Rev. Cecil Ellis, pastor of the church, the Rev. George W. Shearer of Fort Worth and Dr. Claude P. Jones of Cisco officiating. The latter two are former pastors of the Ranger church. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery with Killingsworth's in charge of arrangements. A Masonic service was conducted at the graveside.

Survivors are Mrs. Hagaman, their three children, Leslie H. Hagaman of Ranger, Fred Hagaman of Conway and Mrs. E. F. Horrigan of Austin; six grandchildren, Frances Ruth Hagaman, Betty Lou Hagaman and John Leslie Hagaman of Ranger, Pat Horrigan of Austin, and Kathleen and Fred Hagaman of Conway.

One brother, C. S. Hagaman of Knoxville, Tennessee and a half brother, S. A. Goodwin of Mountain City, Tennessee, also survive.

Mr. Hagaman who died at his ranch home near Ranger on Thursday, September 8, 1949 was born in Johnson County, Tennessee on October 11, 1861. He was educated in Tennessee and North Carolina and came to Texas in 1886, settling in Hunt County.

In 1887 he came to Ranger as principal of the high school and in 1892 entered the hardware business. In 1897 the Hagaman business merged with the Bohning Company of Ranger to form the Bohning-Hagaman Mercantile Company. For two years this firm operated a very successful business and in 1899 Mr. Hagaman retired from the firm to devote all of his time to farming and ranching. On June 24, 1889 in Ranger he was married to Emma Whittington.

After the incorporation of Ranger in 1919 he became Ranger's first mayor and during his term as mayor and for many years afterward he devoted much of his time toward building for the future of Ranger and this area. His efforts were concentrated on advancement in the educational fields, in bringing rail facilities to this area and on the improvement of the highways through Eastland county.

He was a political leader in Eastland county and from 1924

Attending from Eastland were: Wes Harris, distributor; Kenneth Butler, of Kenneth Butler Service Station; Joe Riehl, of Murihead Motor Company; C. A. Buchanan, of Buchanan's Service Station; and Bob Moore, editor of the Eastland Daily Telegram.

Other officers named were: Homer Smith, vice president; and Mrs. John Kilgore, secretary-treasurer.

In its second meeting for the fall season, good attendance was reported.

Tommy Horton of Chicago, Ill., nephew of James Horton, will give a special number "Holy City," for the offertory this Sunday morning at the church.

Stout was manager of the Arkansas and Louisiana Oil Company at the time of his death.

YUGOSLAVIA SILENT ON REPORT; U. S. CIRCLES THINK IT LIKELY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UP)— Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government, successful in its bid for a U. S. Export-Import Bank loan, may now turn to private Wall Street firms for additional dollars, it was reported here today.

While the Yugoslav embassy would not comment on the reports, they were received with credence in informed U. S. circles. It was pointed out that the $20,000,000 (M) Export-Import loan granted yesterday, and a World Bank loan now under consideration, would boost Yugoslavia's long-range production but would have little immediate effect.

The $20,000,000 (M) United States loan was the first granted any Communist country and was expected to widen the breach between Tito and the Kremlin. Russia and her satellites have clamped a tight economic blockade around Yugoslavia since Tito's break with the Cominform.

Diplomats said that Yugoslavia currently suffered from a severe shortage in the entire range of consumer goods. The Export-Import loan and the requested World Bank loan cannot be used for consumer goods, but are limited to use for reconstruction and rehabilitation of basic industries.

If Yugoslavia can get private American dollars to buy consumer goods, Tito will have taken a big step toward improving living standards and bolstering internal morale against the Soviet "war of nerves" campaign.

Even some hard-fisted U. S. officials believe Yugoslavia would be a good risk for private capital — as long as the Kremlin limits its anti-Tito campaign to economic sanctions and political pressure. If the Kremlin should decide on war, they said, the picture would be different. But U. S. experts are confident Stalin will not declare war on Tito.

Quarters familiar with Yugoslavia's internal situation said the country's economy is so primitive and self-sufficient that the Cominform boycott has had little effect. It did upset Tito's five-year plan for improvements, however, by cutting off materials promised Yugoslavia from the Cominform states next year and thereafter.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 9 (UP)— The government and the Belgrade press and radio made no mention today of the $20,000,000 (M) loan granted yesterday by the U. S. Export-Import Bank.

The official silence was somewhat surprising since it had been reported that the loan would be announced in Washington and Belgrade at the same time.

But Yugoslavs who learned of it thought foreign broadcasts were heartened by the news, and western diplomatic observers said the loan would be a big morale booster for the Tito government in its battle against the Kremlin and the Cominform.

The Cominform radios lost no time in railing against the new "evidence" of Marshal Tito's alleged sell-out to the "imperialists."

To western observers, the loan was a declaration of aid for Tito in his fight to avoid overthrow by Russia. For Yugoslavs it was concrete proof of a prediction in Borba, the official Yugoslav Communist party organ, that premier Josef Stalin is wrong in thinking he can isolate Yugoslavia from outside help.

The Kremlin's hope for economic collapse here may receive another blow soon. The British are expected to announce conclusion of a $1,000,000,000 (B) five-year trade pact with Tito, and the World Bank has a mission here investigating a possible loan.

The $12,000,000 (M) which Yugoslavia will get immediately from the United States was expected to have a tremendous impact in the country's mines, where workers have engaged in back-breaking competition in a hand-and-shovel effort to make up for a lack of machinery.

Frizzell Indicted In Jones Slaying

BIG SPRING, Sept. 9 (UP)— A grand jury yesterday indicted Herb Frizzell, rodeo cowboy, on two charges of murder. He posted bond of $10,000—$5,000 in each case—and remained free.

Frizzell, 34, of Beaumont, was cited for the fatal shootings of Buck Jones, a rodeo judge, and Carl Myers, 23, an Abilene student. The deaths occurred Aug. 7, during a performance of the annual Big Spring rodeo.

Union Leader Scorns Meeting

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. Sept. 9 (UP)—A union leader refused today to attend a peace conference called by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to end violence in the strike at the Bell Aircraft Corp. plant.

Edward F. Gray, sub-regional director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) rejected the request to join law enforcement officers of Erie and Niagara Counties at the state capital in Albany today.

Police hoped that the conference with Dewey, along with arrests of some 25 other union leaders, would check violence between strikers and non union workers.

Sheriff Henry E. Becker geared for possible conflict this morning by deputizing 100 volunteers to patrol around the strike-bound plant when non-strikers show up for work.

Dewey called the conference after repeated pleas from Niagara county officials for assistance in quelling union disturbances in which at least 30 persons were injured at or near the Bell plant in the past two days.

The governor made it clear the Albany conference was no attempt to mediate the strike. In fact, the meeting would be confined to efforts to prevent further outbreaks at the local plant, strike bound for 13 weeks.

Gray said he would be "pleased" to attend any meetings called by Dewey but only after the governor instructed Niagara County District Attorney William E. Miller to withdraw "the trumped up arrests of our leaders."

Working groups representing United States, Canadian and British conferees continued today to explore indirect methods of salvaging the British economy. Congress heard with interest, but with any great enthusiasm, the general outline of the aid program proposed by the British at yesterday's conference session.

The RFC loan would not involve a congressional appropriation nor increased Marshall plan spending. If applied for and granted, it would be fully covered by collateral. RFC officials told the United Press no loan application had been made so far.

Great Britain obtained a $425,000,000 (M) RFC loan in July, 1941. It bears three per cent interest and was to run 15 years. All but $120,000,000 (M) of that advance has been repaid.

The British deposited approximately $1,000,000,000 (B) in collateral to secure the 1941 loan. Of this collateral, $33,500,000 (M) has been used to assist in meeting the loan payments. There remains ample collateral to cover a new loan of $600,000,000 (M) without unwarranted risk to the RFC.

Scribes Pick McMurry Indians To Win Texas Conference Title

ABILENE, Sept. 10—Coach Wilford Moore of McMurry College was concerned, to begin with, about the 1949 season, but now he has a real reason to be apprehensive following today's final tabulation of a straw vote taken by Texas Sportswriters.

Mindful of how the 1948 presidential straw poll came out, Moore isn't the least bit cheered by the knowledge that his Indians have been picked to win their third consecutive Texas Conference title.

McMurry's hometown rival, Abilene Christian College, was favored for second. Behind ACC were Howard Payne, third; Texas A&I, fourth; Austin, fifth; and Southwestern, a close sixth.

poll was also open to sports announcers in Texas Conference cities) mailed returns. McMurry agined the most first place votes, nine, and was the only school not to receive a ballot for last place. With that exception, all schools received votes for all positions, although ACC and Howard Payne were listed for sixth only once each.

Last year's actual results showed McMurry and ACC running one-two with Hardin, now of the Gulf Coast Interscholastic, tied with ACC. Southwestern and Howard Payne tied for fourth and fifth, and Austin brought up the rear. Texas A&I played independent ball, beating McMurry but losing to Howard Payne and Austin.

Typical comments: "I do NOT heartily endorse this." — Bill Adams Victoria Advocate. "Texas Conference brand of ball should be best since the war." — Dub Liles, Mineral Wells Index.

Hardin Team Shaping Up

The Hardin Indians got down to the most serious business of getting ready for their first game of the 1949 season this week. The game will be played in Coyote Stadium in Wichita Falls, Texas at eight P. M.

This game should be an offensive battle. No information is available to work with, and certainly not enough to work out a defense with. Coaches Billy Stamps and Dixie White are hoping that a fighting spirit & a little luck will turn the trick this time. Joe Dean Tidwell is living up to all the pre-season expectations in the backfield. His fullback slot seems to be well manned. In the line Emmitt Broderson, a reserve tackle last season, looks mighty rugged.

Plenty of wrinkles are yet to be ironed out however, and little time remains for the operation. Timing is still off in the backfield and the line is woefully weak in experienced reserve.

Some of the junior college transfers are showing promise of helping the Indians later on this season. Ray Gene Smith from Cameron Jr. College in Lawton, Oklahoma is looking good. Bill Lowe, from Weatherford Jr. College, Weatherford, Texas is hampered with a bad ankle but was going strong before the injury.

Marvin Wilson, a freshman from Ranger, Texas has been making some of those seniors hustle. Not to be overlooked is Bill Cunningham, another freshman from Graham and Rudy Rendell from Cisco.

The Indians have a big job ahead of them, but their spirit and determination show promise of attracting plenty of attention.

Poison ivy and wood vine are very similar in appearance. But the leaves furnish an easy means of identification of each. The harmless wood vine has five fingered leaves whereas, poison ivy has only three-fingered leaves.

Farm-Raised Chicken Is Losing Ground

TOPEKA, Kansas—The farm-raised spring chicken is losing ground fast and no tears are being shed. The September issue of Capper's Farmer reports commercial broiler producers are taking the reins as the general farmer steps out of the meat poultry business. An article suggests that it may be a mistake for the Midwestern farmer to join the trend and let his flock of spring chickens fall by the wayside.

"Poultry meat production can be a highly profitable part of a well-balanced farming enterprise," says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. "Right or wrong, commercial broiler production can upset the status quo of general agriculture in livestock and grain-producing areas as it has been on our East coast."

The story says that specialized production has swept the Atlantic coast and broiler plants have developed on a major scale in Georgia, Arkansas, and Texas. In Michigan, one producer markets enough poultry meat to equal the entire production of 10 to 20 counties in the Midwest.

"Big money from corn, hogs and beef cattle attract the Midwest farmer's interest," the story points out. "Recent progress in farm mechanization has left the poultry project far behind. Farmers are buying sexed pullets. They get just enough cockrels to feed the family during the summer."

"There is only a small profit per farm from sale of meat chickens even though the profit per bird is high. Broiler men will if necessary, take a dime a bird profit, or even a nickel. The small farm producer looks for a quarter or 50 cents each, before he feels he is making a good return for time and labor."

"Commercial broiler producers get by with less cost because they have lower investments per unit in buildings, equipment and labor. They buy feed and chicks cheaper. They raise 3 or 4 batches of chickens a year, grow birds faster and sell more earlier so they produce gains more cheaply."

"Helping the trend toward specialized broiler production is the fact that the Midwest farm-raised spring chicken is not what consumers want. It is not uniform enough. It often lacks quality."

Record crops of almonds, walnuts and filberts are expected this year. Housewives can take this as a tip to assemble their favorite recipes for nut dishes—and keep an eye out for new ways to include nuts in family meals.

Farmers Are Turning To Legume Corps

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 9 —With acreage allotments definitely ahead for several cash crops, many Texas farmers are turning to winter legumes for soil improvement on diverted acres. It is important that farmers plant legume varieties that are best adapted to their particular soil and climatic conditions, according to E. A. Miller, extension agronomist for the Texas A. & M. College System.

Experiments and demonstrations all over the State have proven that certain legumes give better results in certain areas.

Hairy vetch is the best adapted legume on all soil types in Northeast Texas and austrian winter peas and singletary peas give good results on the sandy loam or clay loam soils of this area, says Miller. In the Southeast Texas timber region, hairy vetch, common vetch and Willamette vetch do well. Also dixie wonder peas and austrian winter peas are adapted. Dixie crimson clover is another promising winter legume for the East Texas timber region. In the Gulf Coast Prairie area annual yellow blooming sweet clover is popular in addition to Willamette, common and hairy vetch and austrian winter and dixie wonder peas.

How To Tell Poison Ivy

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 9 —If your children have trouble telling poison ivy from the harmless wood vine—or maybe you have that trouble yourself—here's an easy rule to remember.

It's a rule that C. W. Simmons, extension forester of Texas A. & M. College, gave to 4-H club members when they spent a day in the woods learning about trees, shrubs and grasses as part of their work at the recent State 4-H Conservation Camp at Lake Trinidad.

The leaves of poison ivy and wood vine are very similar, but poison ivy has three leaves, so it isn't good to shake hands with because it doesn't have enough fingers. It's alright to shake hands with wood vine, because it has five leaves or five fingers.

Margery Hines And Charles Adair United In Carbon Home Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hines in Carbon was the setting for the beautiful wedding of their youngest daughter, Margery, and Mr. Charles Adair of Temple, Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Adair of Temple are the groom's parents.

Miss Eleanor Adair, sister of the groom sang, "Because," accompanied by Mrs. T. E. Robertson.

The bride wore a dressmaker suit of the new chamois beige color in gaberdine. Her accessories were brown and her shoulder corsage was of white carnations.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony with the bride's table laid with an imported white linen cloth and decorated with an arrangement of white and pink gladiolas.

Miss Waide Lee Kelley served the tiered wedding cake, which was beautifully decorated and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

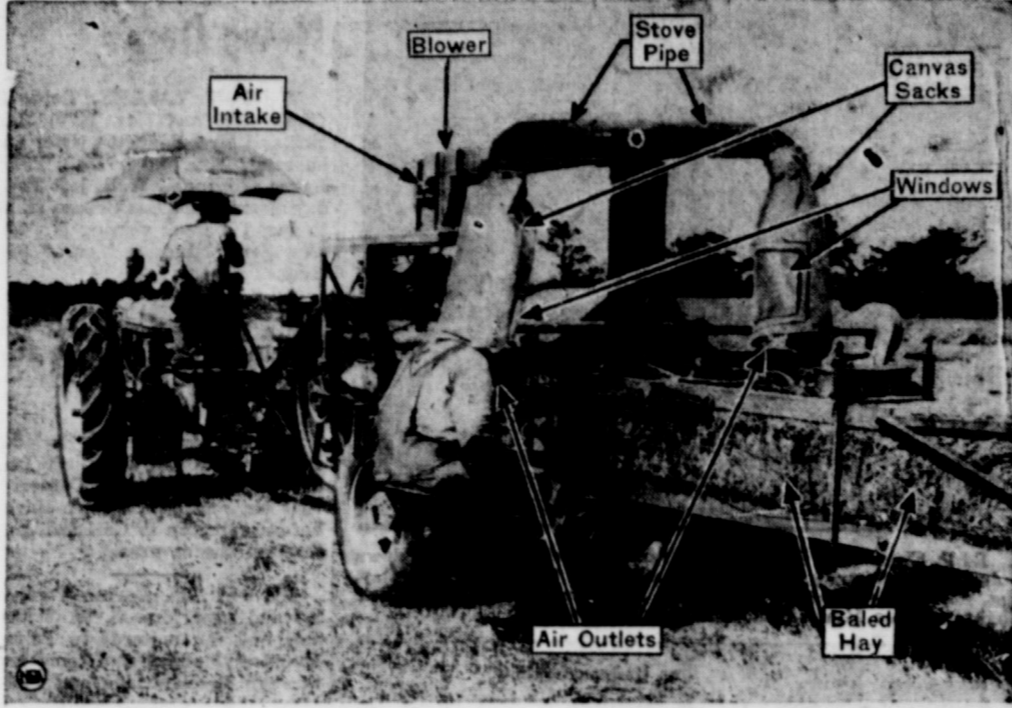

Miss Betty Collins served the frosted fruit punch.

Out of town relatives included the parents of the groom and Mrs. Minnie Phillips, grandmother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McKnight and Mrs. Jack Adair all of Temple. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Plummer and Doyle and Max Laster of Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. Adair are graduates of Carbon High School and Mr. Adair is a graduate of Cisco Junior College, where Mrs. Adair was a student last year. They will make their home in Austin, where Mr. Adair is a student at the University of Texas.

Mrs. Adair is the niece of Mrs. G. A. Plummer.

Dim Your Lights And Save A Life

THEY "GET THE SACK"—AND LIKE IT—The men who operate the hay baler on Walter Hahn's farm near Jefferson City, Mo., complained about the heat and dust. So Hahn's son, Herbert, solved the problem with the ingenious air-conditioning device above. The mobile unit consists of a blower operated from the hay baler by a V-belt. The workers put sacks, with transparent plastic windows, over their heads and work in air-cooled comfort.

ENCORE PERFORMANCE—After Willie Garrison was bitten in the arm by a mule named Bill, an Atlanta, Ga., photographer was sent out to get a picture of the two making up. Just as he was about to snap the peacemaking picture of Willie and Bill, the mule took another bite at the boy. This time he chewed the shirt instead of Willie, but the youngster says, "No more pictures."

Seek Curbs On Petroleum Imports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UP)—Oil state senators mustered their forces today behind a proposal to write into a pending tariff-cutting law tight curbs on imports of petroleum.

They said the domestic oil industry must be protected.

But Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas, Ill., and Sen. Walter F. George, D. Ga., predicted cautiously that the Senate will reject all restricting amendments to a bill extending the reciprocal trade agreements law.

The law, which expired June 30, would be revived and continued to June, 1951. It lets the administration make agreements with other nations to lower import duties. The house has approved the extension without restrictions.

The oil amendment was sponsored by Sen. Elmer Thomas, D., Okla. It would limit petroleum imports to five per cent of the nation's needs. In a prepared speech, Thomas said the curb is necessary to assure a supply of home-produced oil "for peace and war."
