Says Oil Plants Are Red Targets

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 14 (UP)—Destruction of oil industry plants here and over the nation is planned by American Communists, oil operators were warned today at the 30th annual meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.
Homer Garrison, head of the Public Safety Department in Texas, pointed out that 11 accused Communists were found guilty in New York of advocating violent overthrow of the government.
Garrison quoted at length from a "secret Communist party manual on organization," describing how party units were to be organized in all basic U. S. industries, including petroleum.
"Their program of sabotage and disruption is aimed for the day when the movement for world revolution takes place. And make no mistake about it, they fully intend for it to take place," the safety director warned.
"I am giving you facts that are well known to every alert police administrator," Garrison said.

FOREIGN ARMS AID BILL TO HOUSE FLOOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (UP)—The House appropriations committee sent the $1,314,010,000 (B) foreign arms aid bill to the House floor today with a request for rush action to counter Russia's "threatened aggression" in Europe.
The committee, hopeful of final passage today or tomorrow, pointed out that both houses of Congress already have authorized the program and asked that there be no delay in putting up the funds for it.
The spending bill, on which the Senate has not yet acted, includes $1,800,000,000 (B) for arms aid to our 11 North Atlantic pact partners—half in cash and half in contract authority. But only $125,000,000 (M) of that money may be spent before President Truman reports that the Atlantic Pact's defense plans have been completed.
The rest of the money would go to Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea, and the Philippines. A $75,000,000 (M) fund also would be set aside for China to be used at the president's discretion.
Passage of the arms bill would leave only one major appropriation measure on the congressional calendar—the long-deadlocked $14,800,000,000 (B) military appropriation bill for the 1950 fiscal year.

Texan Takes Over Highway Leadership

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 14 (UP)—Dewitt C. Greer, Texas State Highway Engineer, began a year's term as president of the American Association of State Highway Officials today.
The Texan was elected by some 700 association delegates here yesterday at the conclusion of the 35th annual convention. The association members are highway executives of the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.
Before adjourning, the association adopted a resolution suggesting the oil industry "re-view its policy of objection" to petroleum tax increases. Members said the petroleum industry is a major beneficiary of better roads, yet opposes taxes making these roads possible.

SAYS FIRST ATOMIC TEST IN RUSSIA JULY 10; NO STOCKPILE

EDITORS NOTE: Yves Delbars, diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Paris Presse, and the Weekly Samedi Soir, was the author of a dispatch in the July 30 issue of Samedi Soir stating that Russia had acquired the atomic bomb. He has now obtained from the sources of that information an interview about atomic development in the Soviet Union and what the sources say about the details of the explosion in Russia. The source is Major Boris Silov, former a Soviet officer in Germany. Silov and two companions escaped and as Delbars reports, left recently by ship from Artwerp en route to asylum with relatives in South America. The United Press presents the bulk of Delbars' interview below.
By YVES DELBARS
Diplomatic Correspondent Paris Presse
(Copyright 1949 by United Press and Yves Delbars)
PARIS, Oct. 14. (UP)—The first atomic explosion in Russia occurred in the UST-URT desert July 10, 1949, with Generalissimo Josef Stalin an eyewitness, and Russia does not yet have a stockpile of atomic bombs. Major Boris Silov, a former officer in the Soviet Army, told me before sailing for South America.

Before Silov and two Russian companions sailed from Artwerp they answered a series of questions for me about atomic bombs in the USSR. It was Silov who told me last July that Russia did have the atomic bomb—a dispatch which was published in the July 30 issue of Samedi Soir.
Silov and his companions said they left eastern Germany in June after deciding to join Silov's relatives in South America.
"We were just tired of the continual nervous tension and great fatigue caused by the constant feeling of insecurity that results from the severity of penalties which constantly menace those who hold high positions," Silov said.
Here are my questions and Silov's answers:

1. What were the conditions of the first atomic explosion in the USSR?
Answer—The first explosion took place July 10, 1949. It was a matter of any event of verifying the first "normal" prototype of the atomic bomb. This prototype, to which was given the name Molnia (lightning), gave satisfying results. During the week which followed this explosion experiments were made with two other prototypes, furnished with what can be called "dispositive delay detonator." This was declared efficient for a period of from three to five days. These explosions took place in the southeastern extremity of the UST-URT desert east of the Caspian sea in the Soviet Republic of Kazakh and Uzbek, where three exists a "Zapovednik" (forbidden reservation) a hexagon of 60,000 square kilometers (23,166 square miles).
2. Was Stalin present at the explosion of the first bomb?

Henry Pullman Nominated As 'Good Neighbor'

To start the ball rolling for nominations for Eastland's Best Good Neighbor Contest, sponsored by the Quarterback Club in connection with the Breakfast in Hollywood program to be held Tuesday, Nov. 8, I would like to suggest Henry Pullman, owner of the Pullman Store.
As an active member of the Dulin-Daniel Post of the Eastland American Legion, Henry is always free to donate not only his part financially, but you may depend upon him to offer his help in any capacity. It is a known fact in Eastland that in any civic enterprise or charitable drive where energy, enthusiasm and sincere whole-hearted support is needed, someone will always suggest "call Henry", he is always willing to help.
I know too, for a fact, that there are many of the destitute and sick who have found in Henry the friendship that is so needed in the crisis stage. I have yet to hear Henry complain about hard times, or express despair or discouragement. He keeps his trouble to himself and apparently his code in life to always look on the bright side and to ever give his fellow man a word of optimistic good cheer.
Among these flowers that I am throwing to his remarkable Jew, I might add that he also demonstrated strong character in choosing such a woman as Mrs. Pullman to guide and direct him. Who knows? Perhaps she is the one due the credit in Henry having made such a success in his life, business, and "good neighbor" activities.
So, here's to a good Jew. May he continue to buy us all coffee—peace rain down on him for evermore and God bless him for his human understanding.
Sincerely,
Blair Lewis
Nominations for Eastland's Good Neighbor should be addressed to QUARTERBACK CLUB, Eastland, Tex.

Moch Confirmed French Premier

PARIS, Oct. 14 (UP)—Socialist strong man, Jules Moch, was confirmed as premier of France by a contested majority of one vote in the National Assembly at dawn today, but he may not be able to form a government.
A bitter dispute followed the announcement by Assembly President Edouard Herriot at 6 a. m. (midnight EST) that Moch had won the vote of confidence, 311 to 223.
The 311 ballots credited to Moch were exactly the number he needed for confirmation as premier—a majority of the 620 votes in the House. However, the Moch total included a proxy vote cast for a right-wing deputy now in New York who said later by telephone he wanted to be recorded against the premier-designate.

HOW DANGEROUS IS MY HOME?
By Sarah Ellen Peal
Junior Student
The door of opportunity is now open to guide me through an inspection tour of my home. The inspection is designed to reveal certain fire hazards common, not only in my home, but in the city dwellings, the country, and everywhere. I will now take advantage of this opportunity.
Is there rubbish, such as papers or broken furniture in the closets, garage, or yard? Let me see. There is none in the closets, gar-

"Ladies and gentlemen, I have already thanked you in my charge and I wish to repeat that now. You have performed a service here.
"I need not tell you of the importance of the case. That has been stressed by counsel for both sides. Perhaps the importance transcends what has been said.
"I tell you now, when you leave here do not discuss to anyone anything about the case, anything about the action taken, anything whatsoever that has to do with the case from beginning to end—neighbor to relatives, friends, the press nor in magazine writings nor any of the host of curious persons who might seek information about it."
The judge told them that such discussion would "do irreparable harm to the administration of justice."
"Keep to yourselves everything that has occurred, everything that you have thought and done."
"And so now I tell you that you may go with the thanks of the court."

"I dispose of trash once a week by the city garbage truck. I use safety matches and keep them out of children's reach, but not away from heat. This is a bad habit. My home is made of bricks and the roof of rubber and wood. The foundation is enclosed. The chimneys and flues are in fairly good repair, but they are not used. No stovepipes pass through floors, ceilings, or partitions. Unused

I just put them there to get the out of the way, but why didn't I destroy them in first place? Now to see if the floors under the stoves are protected by metal. No, they are not. I shall have to correct that. The walls are made of plaster; therefore, they do not get overheated easily.

Answer — The vice-president of the atomic research commission Professor Adran Federovitch Joffe. He was assisted by Vavilov, Klovine, Frenkle Soubotine, Skobeltzayne, Zaitzov. Also several German scholars, among whom the most well known are: Gustave Hertz, nephew of Heinrich Michelson; Alfred Schmitt and Baron Manfred Von Ardenne, former chief of the experimental station of Penemuende, Germany.

Answer — Certainly not. In order to begin mass manufacture it was first necessary to perfect a prototype. Consequently they could only start this manufacturing after the experiments of July 1949.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ENNHART

THE STORY: Jenny Polak meets Tod Dunson on his return from a hospital, where he was treated for a football injury. She breaks the news that his fiancée, Liz Conover, had eloped with another man. Although Jenny is not one of Liz's best friends, she is a close friend of Tod's. When Tod hears the news, he believes at first that Jenny is "kidding." Jenny thinks that Tod will always hate her for having told him the news.

The least he could do was buy Jenny a drink. Tod said, so they stopped at a small bar near the station. It was dimly lit and almost empty. The usual juke box played softly and monotonously from a corner.

"We used to have some pretty good times together before I ever met Liz, didn't we, Jenny?" Tod asked.

"You look cute, Jenny. I like that little hat with the whatcha-macallit tied under your chin." He grinned at her amiably, signaled the waitress for another drink, and continued to talk, his voice blurred ever so slightly now.

Jenny nodded. She knew he was tight, but nonetheless it pleased her that he recalled her features used to be between them.

"Remember when you and I and your Pop used to go out Sundays to the shack and fish all day, and go swimming?"

Jenny didn't answer. Already she was wondering whether she'd buy those new checked slacks that had just come in or some plain brown ones she'd been admiring for some time. But it was silly to think of what she'd wear out to the shack, since it wouldn't be warm enough to go out there for another month at least. A new dressy suit would be more important, that cunning little chateausse wool number with the matching satin blouse. The color flattered her.

"Oh, Sorry."

"Oh, Well, yes, I guess I could," Harriet said, sounding miffed at having her recital cut short.

SMU-RICE BIG QUESTION MARK OF THE WEEK END

By Bill Laffler
United Press Sports Writer
The eyes of Texas turn toward the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Saturday night when Jess Neely's Rice Owls line up against the champion Southern Methodist Mustangs.

Two other southwest conference games are on the schedule Saturday, but the spectacle of the Owls, against the undefeated season record, against the Owls, whose off-od on gridiron shenanigans have kept fans guessing, will be the major sports event in this section.

Humble To Air Three Southwest Games Saturday

The first full weekend of Southwest Conference championship games will come to listeners on Humble Oil & Refining Company's football broadcasts on Saturday.

Three important games in the 1949 Conference race are on Saturday's schedule—SMU-Rice, Texas-Arkansas and Texas A&M-TCU—along with a renewal of the keen Baylor-Texas Tech rivalry.

Four teams will be playing in Conference games for the first time this season, Texas, SMU, Rice and Texas A&M. TCU will be making its second Conference start, and Arkansas its third.

The Rice-SMU game, in Dallas' Cotton Bowl, will be reported by Kern Tips and Alice Chesser, with broadcast time at 8 P. M. over stations KRLD, Dallas; KTRH, Houston; KABC, San Antonio; KRIO, McAllen; KRRV, Sherman; KPLT, Paris; KCMC, Texarkana; KMHT, Marshall; KFRO, Longview; KTRE, Lufkin; KRBC, Abilene; KBWD, Brownwood; KGKL, San Angelo; KBST, Big Spring; KCRS, Midland and KVET, Austin.

Russia Promises East Germany Separate Peace

BERLIN, Oct. 14 (UP)—A high German source said today that Russia had promised to conclude a separate peace treaty with east Germany within three months.

The source, close to the newly established government of the East German Republic, said the "German Republic," as the state is known, already was working on a draft of the treaty.

The report closely followed the publication of a message of congratulations from Premier Joseph Stalin to the German people on the formation of the eastern state.

Stalin's message was regarded as a virtual call for an alliance between East Germany and Russia to maintain peace in Europe.

The source refused to give details of the draft treaty, but said it called for German recognition of the Oder-Neisse line as the permanent border between Germany and Poland. That was the line established after the war which gave Poland a slice of Eastern Germany.

The Potsdam agreement provided that a final determination of the German-Polish border would await the conclusion of a peace treaty between Germany and the Allies.

The draft treaty forbids German remilitarization and the revival of anti-Semitism, the informant said.

Van Celebrates Oil Discovery

VAN, Tex., Oct. 14 (UP)—The Van oilfield was 20 years old today, and the community had a big birthday party to mark the occasion.

It was complete to a birthday cake—a gaily-decorated hunk of pastry eight feet in diameter, nine feet tall and topped off by a miniature oil derrick. It was ringed with candles, molded as oil well tubing.

Twenty years ago, Van was a sand hill community of about 20 families.

Today it is a thriving little town of 2,500—a "model oil town."
So it was with thanksgiving that Van paused on this 20th anniversary of the completion of its discovery well—the Jarman No. One, brought in by Pure Oil Company on Oct. 14, 1929—for its prosperity is based solely on oil.

There has been, and is now, no other industry.
State, county and local business leaders took part in the ceremony. Carl L. Estes, publisher of the Longview newspapers, introduced the guests, principal of whom was L. S. Westcott of Chicago, Pure Oil President.

Business houses were closed, the high school band was on hand and a barbecue for 2,500 was on the spit when the program opened.

Tennessee got its nickname of the "Volunteer State" during the Mexican War when Gov. Aaron V. Brown issued a call for 2,800 men to volunteer for army service and 30,000 responded within a few days.

GREYHOUND TRAFFIC MANAGER URGES ALL PLEASURE TRIPS

The mellow fall season, with its colorful foliage and cooler, zesty weather, is practically perfect for all kinds of pleasure trips," said Mr. Frank Tibbetts, Traffic Manager of Southwestern Greyhound Lines. Mr. Tibbetts also pointed out that more and more people are becoming aware of the wide variety of trips that are especially enjoyable in the fall months.

"People have done so much of their traveling for so long in the summer months that they have completely missed the many distinct advantages of travel during the colorful fall season," Mr. Tibbetts said today. He added that when people were once made aware of the increased pleasure of such things as cooler weather for traveling, a much wider choice of hotel and resort accommodations, plus the more colorful scenic beauty in the fall, they would discover the autumn months to be a particularly enticing travel season.

Mr. Tibbetts also emphasized that people have not yet realized the many varied places to go and exciting things to do in the fall—like seeing a big foot ball game, going back home to visit the old folks, going on a hunting or fishing trip, taking the family to a Fair having a gay time in the big city—or even taking a second honeymoon trip.

Mr. Tibbetts then went on to say that this fall Greyhound has made special plans to provide a maximum of service to take care of the expected increase in fall travel. "In this respect," Mr. Tibbetts stated, "Greyhound is extending many of its Expense-Paid Tours into the months of October, November and December. Charter buses are being made available for group activities." Emphasis was placed on the fact that Greyhound is gearing

Grapefruit Crop Predicted About Half 1948 Yield

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 14 (UP)—Texas grapefruit production will drop to less than half last year's figure during the coming season, the United States Department of Agriculture forecast today.

Actually, that will be about one-fourth the average 1934-37 production.

The unusually heavy freeze last January was blamed for the decrease.

The 1942-50 season was pegged at 4,800,000 boxes, as compared with 11,300,000 boxes last year.

The 1934-47 average production was 22,300,000 boxes.

However, growing conditions have been generally good.

White marsh grapefruit, the USDA reported, will predominate in the market. There will be some marsh and foster pinks, but very few Rudy reds, the departments said.

Active harvest was scheduled to begin early next month.

Has Incurable Illness

Unaware she will probably die in less than a year, 7-year old Belva Karen Rippetoe plays with her birthday dolls at her home in Bronte, Texas. Last May Belva was stricken with what doctors diagnosed as a light case of polio. After a recent checkup at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., the child was revealed to be suffering from neuroblastoma, an incurable form of cancer. She has not been told the nature of her hopeless illness. (NEA Telephoto).

TEXAS SOURCE OF MORE THAN 1-5 TH OF ALL ENERGY UTILIZED IN U. S.

Texas is the source for more than one-fifth of all the energy utilized in the United States, and the Texas petroleum industry's production record has set the pattern of economic progress for the state.

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association reports that petroleum production and refining account for more than $3,000,000,000 (billions) a year income for the Texas economy.

A national shift to petroleum as the source for half of all the energy used in the country for powering vehicles, fueling generating plants and heating homes has given Texas a strong market for its abundant oil and natural gas.

As production has spread across the state, bringing new wealth to landowners, causing towns to spring up on once-barren plains, the progress of the industry and the state is written in the graph which shows the annual flow of oil to be 903,000,000 barrels for 1948.

Refining of this oil provides the state with its largest industry from the standpoint of capital investment and value added to produce through manufacture, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association reports.

Demand for Texas crude oil fell off early in 1949 as a result of mild northern winters where the fuel oil market has been a large factor in petroleum sales, but as the industry began to add to its stocks in anticipation of expected heavier demands, production in Texas was picking up in the last quarter of the year.

The Railroad Commission, which is directed by the state's wise conservation laws to hold production to the market's demand, made successive cuts in production from December, 1948's all time high, but part of the cuts have been restored with production from new wells added to proration schedules and through two increases in allowances.

A memorial shaft between Rome and Utica, N. Y., marks the site of Onkany battlefield, where Gen. Nicholas Herkimer halted the advance of Tories and Indians into the Mohawk Valley during the Revolutionary War.

Do I use gasoline for cleaning? I very seldom use it, but if I do I get out of the house. Do I ever use or keep gasoline in the house? No, this is very dangerous thing to do, but many people do it. There are many homes in the nation destroyed by careless use and storage of gasoline. My home is heated with natural gas. The gas connections are made of rubber tubing. They should be made of metal. The gas connections are capped when stoves are detached.

I use a dustless oil mop and keep it on the back porch when not in use. Yes, there are as trays convenient for smokers. Many smokers do not use ash trays, and at the same time many homes go up in smoke. I use an electric iron and I detach it when I leave it. I hope not to be careless and leave it attached. This would mean danger! I do not know when the electric wiring and equipment in my home was last examined by an expert electrician. I have lived in the house two years and it has not been examined since I have been there. I imagine it needs to be checked.

I do not have any electric light cords under rugs and no knots are in the electric cords.

There are three exits in my home and they are usually kept clear at night. Guards are not around all of the open fires in my home. This could be dangerous. I know I should have a fire extinguisher in my home, but I do not, I shall try to get one. There is on fire alarm box near my home I know how to turn in a fire alarm by telephone, but not by fire box.

I suppose there are several more fire hazards in my home. I will eliminate all of them if possible.

As you know, it is up to you to start today to safeguard your home. It may take a little time, money, and forethought to keep your home safe. But the lives of your family and yourself may depend on your action today. If every citizen would make a fire inspection of his home, farm or business place, there would be fewer fires today.

I, as well as many others, have had my home completely destroyed by fire. Perhaps you have had the same experience. Maybe you have thought that your home will never burn, as many do. Why not find out today whether your home is a dangerous place or not? It may mean your home and its contents or perhaps your family.

JUST ANOTHER FIRE
By Herman Hassell
Sophomore Student

A shrill siren was heard, the local fire station doors opened and out rushed two large fire trucks. Oh, well! Just another fire.

Little does that person know that "Just another fire!" Wait a minute let's not get ahead of our selves. Let's go back about seventy-five years the place, Chicago, the time late evening, what is happening? A fire is started in a cow shed.

Display National Kids' Day Poster

Otis Shepard, one of the nation's most outstanding artists, explains the technique he used in drawing the poster card to be used in connection with the observance of National Kids' Day on Saturday, Nov. 19, to, from left to right, James H. Eddy, field secretary, The National Kids' Day Foundation; Carroll West, assistant secretary Kiwanis International; and O. E. Peterson, executive secretary Kiwanis International.

Kiwanis clubs in towns and cities across the nation are planning to observe National Kids' Day with a variety of programs and fund-raising events. All money raised in a community will remain there to be spent in helping underprivileged children. The effects of local Kiwanis clubs will be supported by a nation-wide promotional campaign provided by The National Kids' Day Foundation which will include a radio program on Friday evening, Nov. 18, and premieres of a new motion picture, "Johnny Holiday," in Indianapolis, Ind. and Hollywood, Calif., on Thursday, Nov. 17. R. W. Alcorn, producer of the picture, is donating the proceeds of these premieres and others to follow in all Kiwanis divisions for Club work with underprivileged children.

a lantern or a gambler dropped a cigarette, it was a good example of carelessness. But we do not have time to worry about that. We have to worry about a fire that is creeping across this firebug town.

This fire was not stopped until two hundred and thirty were killed and one hundred were homeless and one hundred seventy-five million dollars worth of property was destroyed. In just three days this happened.

The great Chicago fire will long be remembered, but not as "Just another fire!"

This fire made people realize the danger of fire. During the next forty years, firebug towns such as Chicago were cleaned out, forests were cleaned up, and a great firefighting system was built.

Great progress has been made since the horse drawn wagons. We now have great fire trucks that can go ninety miles per hour. But we can not save the millions of dollars worth of property that is destroyed each year by fire unless we prevent their starting.

Fires are started by carelessness and carelessness is made by the fellow who says, "It's just another fire." So let's stop these fires by all working together.
