Murray Plans To Kick Out Red Tainted Unions

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 29 (UP)—CIO President Philip Murray prepared today to toss all communist-tinted unions out of his labor organization to prevent communism from capturing the American labor movement.

Murray will tell the CIO convention meeting here Monday that the American Communist Party is operating "a program of destruction . . . which the CIO wants none of," informed sources said.

In a report already prepared, the hard-hitting union chief will tell the convention that communists have no part in the CIO and the union will take action to oust left-wing affiliates.

Murray will accuse the communist party of working through the left-wing unions to capture the entire labor movement. He will point out that the communist's plan is evidenced by their "vicious and diabolical campaign" against his acceptance of a "no new wage increase" policy for the striking United Steel workers Union.

The steel workers now have been on strike for 29 days for an insurance and pension plan paid for entirely by the steel companies. Negotiations were apparently deadlocked.

Escapes Hold Up Taproom

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29 (UP)—Two of the eight convicts who fled a Delaware jail Wednesday night held up a West Philadelphia taproom early today and escaped, still wearing the blue dungarees in which they made their break, police reported.

Every policeman in the city was alerted after detectives said three persons "positively identified" the bandits from photographs as Willie Edwards, 28, and Joseph Lankford, 25, two of 3 remaining fugitives from the New Castle Prison, near Wilmington, Del., 35 miles south of here. A general alarm naming the convicts cautioned police to exercise caution since the men were heavily armed. Red car patrolmen pressed the search in the area of the tavern.

Edwards, Lankford, and Edward J. Hardy, 23, were the only members of the fugitive gang still free and detectives said it was "possible" that Hardy was the lookout man in the taproom holdup. Three more escapees gave up last night, two of whom, Danny Norris, 20, and Victor Bryson, 28, blamed the break on "intolerable" conditions at the prison. Two other convicts were captured Thursday night.

H. H. "Andy" Anderson, manager of the White-Plaza, in a letter to Guy said: "We wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you on your raising such a fine steer. I would like to meet you when you are in Dallas again, in order to personally congratulate you."

Mild Weather General In Texas

By United Press
Mild fall weather prevailed over most of Texas today with only occasional rain along the Texas coast to mar the weather picture. At mid-morning skies were cloudy from the coast inland to Austin, but elsewhere they were clear with some ground fog.

Partly cloudy weather was forecast for the week end except along the coast where it was expected to remain mostly cloudy.

A cold front over Colorado was bearing down on Texas, but wasn't expected to be a severe one by the time it hits the Panhandle tomorrow.

Aside from a freezing 32 degrees at Dalhart this morning, Texas readings generally were in the 40's in West Texas, 50's elsewhere except in South Texas where they were in the 60's. Brownsville's 68 was the highest minimum reported.

Yesterday's maximums ranged from a rain-cooled 63 degrees at Houston to 78 degrees at Brownsville.

Rainfall generally was confined to the coastal sector with Alice reporting 1.27 inches, Palacios 1.04, Corpus Christi 1.00, Laredo .78, Galveston .55, Houston .43, Victoria .56 and Brownsville .04.

3-YEAR-OLD BOY RESCUED FROM ABANDONED WELL

By O. B. Lloyd, Jr.
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 29 (UP)—Three-year-old Bobby Gow awoke in Brackenridge general hospital today with only a "slight skin abrasion" on his forehead to show for his three hours of terror 14 feet down in an abandoned irrigation well.

A fireman and two helpers fought their way into the earth, working with their bare hands at times, and prevented a tragedy such as that which took the life of little Kathy Fiscus, golden-haired youngster who fell into an abandoned well at San Marino, Cal. last April.

Scores of workmen aided in the operation as hundreds of spectators stood by silently, praying for the little sandy-haired boy.

Physicians at the hospital said Bobby was in "excellent" condition after rescue workers last night pulled the tear-stained boy from the eight-inch well casing in the backyard of his home.

Bobby plunged into the well while playing with his brother and sister, Jimmy, 8, and Peggy, 12. Moments after Peggy reported simply to her parents that "Bobby fell in the well," firemen and construction workers, determined that another "baby trap" death should not occur, wheeled giant earth moving machines into the yard of the Gow's modest frame house just outside Austin's city limits.

Bobby's whimpered cries from deep in the dungeon spurred the rescuers on as they dug a crater alongside the shaft, then cut through the well casing to release him.

His small-boned body was wedged in the pipe with one hand stretched upward and the other pinned against his body. A line, dropped over his extended hand, was held by rescuers during the operation to keep him from slipping deeper into the well.

The boy's father, James, knelt beside the shaft throughout the work to free his son. He spoke soothingly to him, reassuring Bobby that he would be all right.

Marshall Miller, a district fire chief working down in the pit with two helpers, said "the boy would cut up a little bit now and then, but his father would tell him, 'settle down there, we'll get you out in a few minutes' and then he would settle down."

Miller was the first to reach Bobby.

"We cut a hole above the baby in the pipe," he said. "We used a chisel and a hammer to begin with, then we finished with heavy tin snips."

When the hole was large enough Miller reached a hand through the opening and grasped Bobby's extended hand.

"We didn't want to take a chance on him falling," he said. His helpers enlarged the hole while Miller held tight to Bobby.

Spectators surged against the police lines holding them back as the boy's tiny figure was lifted from the well. A gasping sigh of relief swept across the crowd as they realized Bobby was still alive. Many dropped to their knees to offer a prayer of thanks for his delivery.

Eager hands reached out to wrap a warm blanket around his small body.

Mrs. Gow, who had collapsed earlier from anxiety, recovered and rode with Bobby in the ambulance to the hospital.

Gow remained behind briefly to watch the towering machines fill in the well.

"Thank God, nobody will ever fall into it again," the bespectacled little man said in a voice weak from the ordeal.

He said a wooden cover of heavy planking nailed to a two by four frame had been over the well yesterday.

"I don't know who took it off," he said. "I don't know if the children did or not."

Assistant fire chief W. B. Erwin who supervised the operation said he doubted at first that Bobby would be alive by the time the rescuers reached him.

District 8-A Schedule Set In Basketball

The District 8-A basketball schedule was arranged at a meeting of coaches and school officials held at De Leon October 17. Prin. Eloe D. Stringer of the Hamilton high school, was elected chairman of the basketball committee.

The schedule will follow the plan of last year. The first half winner will be determined by a single round-robin of play starting January 13. The second half winner will be determined by an elimination tournament to be played at De Leon, February 2, 3 and 4. These will play a 3-game series to determine the title holder unless the same team wins both events.

A girls' game will be played before each boys' game unless otherwise agreed upon by the coaches involved. All girls' games will start at 7 p. m. unless otherwise agreed upon by the teams. The round robin schedule follows:

- Jan. 13: Comanche at Hamilton; De Leon at Eastland; Ranger at Dublin.
 - Jan. 20: Ranger at Comanche; Dublin at Eastland; Hamilton at De Leon.
 - Jan. 24: Eastland at Comanche; Hamilton at Ranger; Dublin at De Leon.
 - Jan. 27: Dublin at Comanche; Ranger at De Leon; Eastland at Hamilton.
 - Jan. 31: Comanche at De Leon; Eastland at Ranger; Hamilton at Dublin.
- In the tournament schedule Dublin and Ranger drew byes for the first round of play on February 2. Eastland will meet Comanche and Hamilton will play De Leon. On February 3 Dublin will play the winner of the Eastland-Comanche game and Ranger will meet the winner of the Hamilton-De Leon tilt. Winners of this round will play February 4.
- The Hamilton Bulldogs are the defending champions.

Catholic Priests Freed By Czechs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 29 (UP)—President Klement Gottwald has freed 127 Catholic priests from prison after they pledged their loyalty to the Communist regime and requested pardons, the official news agency reported today.

The freeing of the priests was reported four days after the Catholic board of bishops announced that it had authorized priests to take a qualified oath of allegiance to the government and to accept the higher salaries it offered them.

In an official statement by the council, made public Tuesday, the bishops announced their willingness to resume negotiations with the state on their months-long struggle.

The agency report was the first official acknowledgement by the government that priests had been jailed. Unofficial estimates put the number of imprisoned clergy at between 300 and 500.

Bus Drivers Plan Houston Walkout

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 29 (UP)—A walkout of CIO bus drivers and mechanics employed by the Houston Tfansit Co. was planned today for midnight Wednesday.

Carl A. MacPeak, assistant state CIO director, announced the results of a strike vote last night, the union members voting 781 to 76 in favor of the strike.

Meanwhile it was announced transit service will be maintained until the strike deadline.

Mayor Pro Tem Tom Needham and the city traffic director Tom Willier, planned measures to meet the anticipated jamming of automobile traffic downtown after the strike becomes effective.

The transit company hauls some 300,000 Houstonians each day. The strike was planned to enforce union demands of a 25-cent hourly wage hike. The company had offered a 10-cent increase to bring the drivers' scale from $1.17 to $1.27.

Fatal Crash Blamed On Pilot

PONTA DELGADA, Azores, Oct. 29 (UP)—The crash of an Air France Constellation into an Azores mountain peak killing 48 persons was caused when the pilot made an error and tried to land on the wrong island, according to a preliminary investigation today by French officials.

Search parties found the mutilated bodies of the victims strewn for 600 yards around the charred wreckage of the Constellation. The plane was burned to a pile of cinders by fire which apparently broke out after the crash. Members of the search party said there was nothing to indicate the Constellation was on fire before it hit the mountainside.

An initial investigation by members of an official French Civil Aviation mission indicated the pilot thought he was over Santa Maria airport when actually he was over Sao Miguel Island, 60 miles north.

The Constellation was piloted by Jean Lelangue, 37, a veteran flier with 6,700 hours to his credit in transatlantic flights. The reports said Lelangue radio phoned the Santa Maria Airport tower five minutes before the crash saying he could see the airfield and was preparing to land. The time was 2 A. M.

Gorman Store Burglarized

A beauty shop owned by Mrs. Ab Butler of Gorman was burglarized Thursday night with an undetermined number of watches and rings taken from a window display in the building, The Sheriff's office stated.

The merchandise belonged to Beskow Jewelry Co. of Eastland, who used the window in the shop for advertising.

Entrance to the building was gained by prying a lock and aasp off the back door.

One Killed, One Hurt In Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 29 (UP)—One woman was killed and her companion critically injured last night when the automobile in which they were riding got out of control and crashed into a culvert near the Lackland Air Base.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Alpha Winters, 38, of San Antonio.

Her companion, Mrs. Herbert Cochran, 31, was reported near death at Lackland Base hospital.

Only the female mosquito needs blood as food. They get it not only from human beings but from wild animals and birds. When such blood is not available they feed on plant juices.

Bad Punts, Pass Interceptions Spell Difference In Defeat

Despite the fact the Eastland Mavericks roundly outplayed the Comanche Indians in a District 8-A game Friday night on Maverick Field, the score was 7 to 6 in favor of Comanche at the final whistle.

While Eastland made 10 first downs to Comanche's 6, some bad punts and pass interceptions spelled the difference in the outcome of the game.

For three quarters the Mavericks had the battle won, scoring first in the closing minutes of the second quarter with Larry Falls, left halfback, making a 25-yard gallop to the double stripes. Try for the point was wide.

After a scoreless third period in which the teams battled it out, the Indians reached touchdown paydirt when Nathan Kiser, a tackle, scooped up a deflected lateral pass and

Girl Scout Week Planned

Girl Scout Week, October 30 to November 5, will find Eastland joining more than a million and a half members of this organization celebrating the memory of Juliette Lewis, founder of the movement in the United States, thirty-eight years ago. Girl Scout Week always included October 31, the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Lewis.

Celebration of Girl Scout Week this year calls for a new emphasis on the values of Girl Scouting to the young women of Eastland. It is the time also when energy is needed to complete projects of the year—such as clothes of Friendship, etc.

Special activities are designed for each day of Girl Scout Week and the troop members expect to follow this schedule: Sunday is Church Day; Monday, Homemaking Day; Tuesday, Citizenship Day; Wednesday, Health and Safety Day; Thursday, International Friendship Day; Friday Arts and Crafts Day; and Saturday, Out Of Doors Day.

Donated by Theo Lamb, owner of Lamb Motor Company, the frigidaire was awarded under Lions sponsorship with proceeds going to the sight conservation program.

Dog Out Of Place
BAILY ISLAND, Me. (UP)—Seadogs are common enough along the Down East coast. However, when Stanley Johnson hooked a terrier pup nine miles offshore while fishing for tuna he decided that the dog must have fallen off a passing yacht.

After the halftime intermission in which the Eastland and Comanche bands performed and Miss Nancy Freyschlag was presented as sweetheart of the Maverick Band, Eastland kicked to Comanche with the Indians taking over on their 41. The drive bogged and Comanche kicked to Eastland's 26. A Maverick pass was intercepted and Comanche started the offense from Eastland's 45. The Indians opened an aerial attack that failed to click and finally had to punt. Spalding made a sensational 60 yard return of the ball and seemed headed for the double stripes, when the only Indians remaining between him and the TD, made the tackle. The Mavs got down to the 35, where a pass interception stopped their touchdown drive. A fumble in the Indians backfield was recovered by Right End Kenneth Williamson, who played an outstanding game, on the 34. Unable to do anything with the ball the Mavs kicked to the end zone. Taking over on the 20, the Indians' drive bogged and they kicked to Eastland's end zone. Eastland was unable to advance and kick to Comanche, The Indians made a sustained drive that had reached Eastland's 27, when the third quarter ended.

In the opening plays of the fourth quarter, Kiser went over from the 20 and Robertson kicked the point to make the score Comanche 7, Eastland 6.

went 29 yards around the left side of the line. Cletus Robertson added the point to make the score Comanche 7, Eastland 6.

Offense tactics of both teams included a liberal number of passes as well as ground plays. Eastland completed 4 passes for a total of 102 yards. Had 6 passes incomplete and four passes that were intercepted. Comanche completed only 2 passes and had 5 incomplete, with none intercepted. Both teams punted 7 times, with Eastland having a 35 yard average and Comanche a 61 yard average. The Mavericks were penalized 5 times for a total of 25 yards, while the Indians were penalized 3 times for 35 yards.

Comanche kicked off to Eastland to get the ball game underway. In the first play from scrimmage with the ball resting on the Maverick's 30, Falls romped 25 yards to Comanche's 35. The ball went over on downs. Comanche fumbled and Eastland recovered on the Indian 20. Falls went 5 yards and then Eastland fumbled and Comanche recovered on their own 6. The Indians promptly quick-kicked to their 33. Eastland took over and was unable to make necessary yardage for a first down, with Comanche taking over on their 15 at the end of the first quarter.

Unable to advance the ball, the Indians kicked to Eastland's 45. Jimmie Spalding, Maverick right half, took over with the ball carrying chores along with Roy Smith, fullback; and Falls. The drive bogged. The kick went to the end zone with Comanche assuming possession of the ball on their 20. The Indians kicked to Eastland's 40, after being unable to go goalward. Despite a nice run by Smith, the Mavericks finally had to make a fourth down kick with Comanche taking over on the Indian 31. A fumble on the 50 was recovered by Eastland's Spalding, who did the passing for the Maverick, completed one to Falls for 27 yards. On the next play, Spalding fired one to Glenn Garrett, right end, for 12 yards down to the 25. Two passes were incomplete and then Falls made his touchdown run.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Tod Duncan is unable to forget Liz Conover, even though he has married Jenny. And Jenny is not as happy as she should be. Tod took her first to live with his family, but there is something else. Tod lives in a trailer camp while he finishes schooling. Jenny discovers she is to become a mother. Tod meets an old chum Rick Morris who unexpectedly mentions Liz Conover. Jenny tells Rick that Tod married her "on the rebound." Later Rick advises Tod to forget Liz. Next Tod's mother, who dislikes Jenny, calls Tod and asks him to come to see her—but not to bring Jenny.

XV
AFTER his first visit, Tod fell into the habit of going to see Ma and Harriet and Joe once a week. When he came back from one of those visits he was always upset and restless.

Jenny felt better physically now and made a special effort to overlook his moodiness. He was studying hard these days, with mid-term exams not too far away. Saturday nights they usually tried to have someone in, Rick and Nina to play bridge, and occasionally the Hansens from next door. Although the Hansens bored Tod.

Fred Hansen was in one of Tod's classes. He was a small bespectacled fellow with sandy hair and faded blue eyes. His wife Ruth was plump, vivacious and friendly. They always put their baby to bed in their own trailer when they came over, and every time Ruth was dummy she trotted over to see that it was all right. She was delighted when she learned Jenny was expecting, and went into all the details of her own pregnancy. Tod was disturbed and for a time he treated Jenny with anxious concern. Jenny laughed at him. And presently he got over it.

There were other urgent matters to be concerned about. The $500 they'd gotten for the summer cottage would last through December, but after that something would have to be done.

Then Ma phoned Tod one Saturday evening. Rick and Nina were there playing bridge when the man from the trailer camp office knocked on the door. Ma had refused to call back and was holding the line.

When Tod returned to the trailer, he was grimly uncommunicative. Joe was in some sort of trouble, and he had to go at once. It was 10 before he returned. Rick and Nina had gone and he told Jenny the news. Joe had embezzled $800.

"It's a lucky thing he got caught before he was in any deeper," Tod said.

"But $800!" Jenny cried. "I can't understand how he could have embezzled that much in such a short time."

"He bet on the races. He got in over his head and kept borrowing, like they always do, thinking next time he'd get a big winner and pay it back. Only it didn't work out that way, and today his boss wised up."

Jenny's mouth trembled. "Why should you and I shoulder the responsibility for keeping Joe out of jail?"

"He's my brother. That's why. Ma's had a hard enough time all these years trying to raise us kids, and anyway Joe never had much chance to amount to anything. Ma put everything on me, helping me at college and all. I hate it as much as you do, but Ma said—"

"I don't care what Ma said!" Jenny burst out wildly.

"You don't like her, do you?" Now it was Tod who was angry. "All along I been tryin' to tell her how wrong she was about you, how she'd like you if she'd give you half a chance, but maybe I've been wrong. Maybe she senses how you feel about her and that's the reason she resents you so."

They faced each other furiously. "If I don't like her it's her own fault! I wanted to get along, but you know the reception I got—"

"That's not got anything to do with this!" Tod shouted.

"But where are you going to get $800?"

He spoke in a defeated tone now, no longer strident with anger. "I wrote the guy a check. I'll have to sell the car. It's the only thing we've got that can be turned into cash."

Tod must hate giving up the car. She remembered his almost childish pride in it when he had bought it last spring.

But the car was the only thing they could turn into immediate cash. It seemed like pouring money down a rat hole to get Joe out of this jam, for it was probably only the beginning.

Yet, remembering that Joe had been the only one of the Duncans that had shown her the least kindness when she and Tod had been living with them, she hated to demand that Tod refuse to help.

Tod got a good price for the car because it was practically new, but when $800 was deducted, there wasn't much left. Worse than spending the money to get Joe out of a jam, was Tod's sense of divided allegiance which tore him between Ma and Jenny.

JOE left town and Ma was upset about that. If he missed going to see her she phoned the trailer camp, petulantly demanding why. Tod's visits to her dingy foul-smelling little walk-up apartment were anything but pleasant. Ma seemed to keep him discontented and filled up.

They quarreled one night, when Ma found out Jenny was going to have a baby, and Ma said a lot of hateful things. And when Tod tried to defend Jenny, she screamed at him. "All right, go ahead, stick up for Jenny. But you don't love her. Sooner or later you'll come to your senses."

He slammed out of the apartment. He walked to the corner in the brisk November air, and the anger gradually died out of him. How did Ma know? Could Jenny tell too?

He turned his back to the wind and started walking.

SOME TIRES DO THIS

HANG ON — THEY BOUNCE OVER BUMPS. Even on the best cars, conventional high pressure tires skip and dance from bump to bump, cause excessive wear and tear on vital parts of car—as well as passengers' nerves. Tires wear quicker, too—road pounding breaks down tire body quicker.

Book Fair, Open House To Mark Educational Week At South Ward

Programs have been planned for nearly every day in the week at the South Ward School in connection with a Book Fair, beginning November 6, National Education Week. Open house will be held for a two week period including the week of November 13, which is Children's Book Week, according to Mrs. Harold Durham principal.

Large posters of favorite books have been made by the students and placed about the entrance halls, advertising the coming event. One of the more attractive posters is of the book, "The Tree In The Trail," and was made by students of Mrs. Durham's room. Students of Mrs. Prentiss Jones have completed a film, made picture by picture from the scenes of the story book, "The Lavender Cat," and it will be shown from a miniature theatre constructed for the purpose.

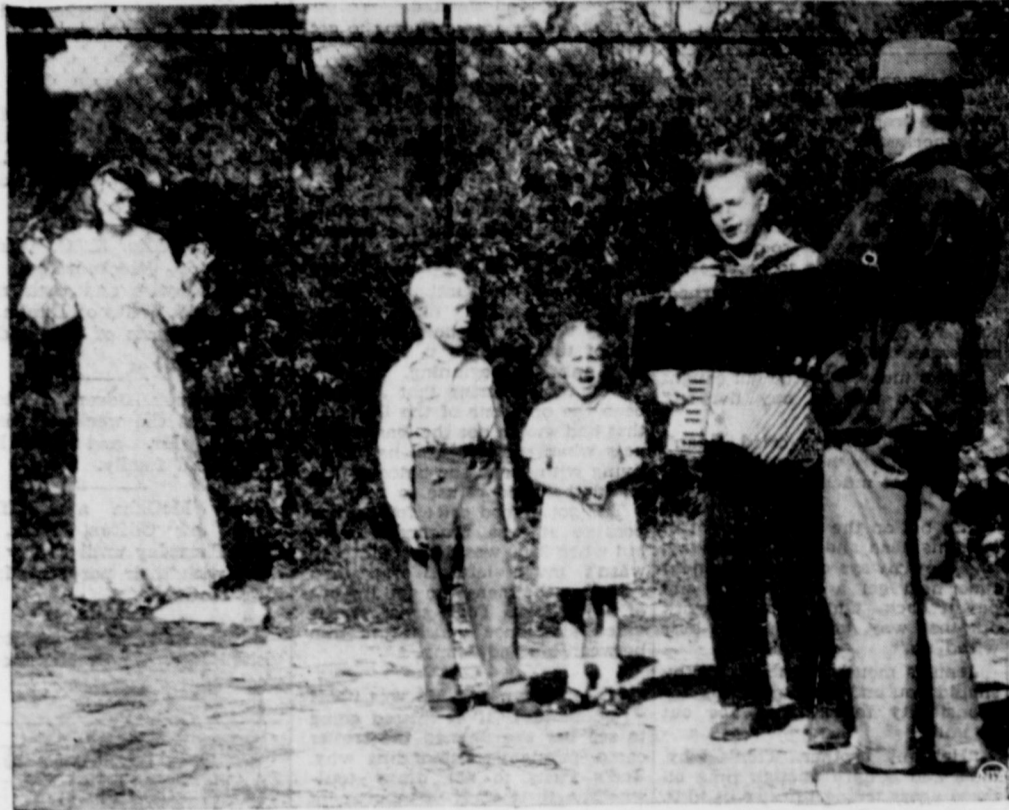

operating in the program, and have planned a night session in which students will tell the story of their favorite book by representing the book's character, and entering the stage from a large book, bearing the story's name. Each character will wear appropriate costume and will have proper stage props for their story.

Books from various companies will be on display and orders will be taken for any book displayed.

Every teacher and her students are working toward the program and will welcome patrons during the open house, Mrs. Durham said.

SERENADE TO MOM—Mrs. Clara Sulkowski, at left, a tuberculosis patient at a Cleveland, O., hospital, listens to a popular song presented by her children, Betty Lou, 5; Richard, 14, and Arthur, 7. Her husband, Steve, holds the music. The troubadours have been regular week-end visitors to the hospital since their mother entered it almost a year ago. Their serenades not only cheered Mrs. Sulkowski, but became a special event for other patients in the tuberculosis pavilion. Soon Mrs. Sulkowski will be well enough to leave. The remaining patients will miss their Sulkowski serenades.

Bad Punts -

Incomplete passes, fumbles and pass interceptions marked the balance of the ball game. Comanche came out on the better end of the deal and penetrated to Eastland 2 yard line, where the Maverick line stiffened and held them. Minutes later the Indians were back on the Eastland 3 as a result of a pass interception. At this point the Indians fumbled and Eastland recovered. Spalding shot a long pass to Garrett, who was out in the clear. He nabbed the pass on his 35 yard line, but fell in doing so. If he could have maintained his balance a touchdown would have been certain for Eastland. As it was, the gun sounded just then, ending the ball game.
