Going Forward

With Eastland By Bob Moore

When it came time to take up the offering, the absentminded minister said, "The palbearers will now come forward and take up the remains."—John Dorsett.

Speaking of remains, that's about all there was left of the Baylor Bears after the Texas Longhorns got through gorging them Saturday afternoon. Rev. Lloyd Chapman of Eastland and Rev. Clifford Nelson of Olden, Baptist ministers having coffee (still five cents a cup) early this morning at the Majestic, didn't even want the game mentioned to them. Can't say that I blame them a bit.

Among Eastlandites seeing the Bears slaughtered were: Doc Poe, A. B. Cornelius, Dick Jones, and Noble Harkrider.

Well, you never can tell how football games will come out. Who knows? Eastland may pull an upset over Ranger this Friday afternoon, similar to the way Texas did over Baylor. Wouldn't that be grand?

Personally, I will be glad when the ladies get all their fall shopping done. Anytime, I expect to include in my news articles some of the fashion talk that is a regular morning affair in our office. So, should you be reading a sports item and come along something like this—"Left End Larry Falls took the golden brown piece of hogskin, and daintily stepping along in his spiked black shoes, as his nylon uniform of brilliant and resplendent colors sparkled in the vivid sunshine, went 15 yards of the most beautiful material you ever saw for a touchdown against Ranger", don't be surprised.

Joe B. Steele, formerly of Eastland and now postmaster at Ringling, Okla., advises that his first business advertisement was in 1895 in the Eastland Chronicle, about Steele's Livery Stable—New Buggies and Fast Horses. Steele will retire as postmaster March 1, 1950 and is thinking of making Eastland his home address.

Don McCarthy in his 'Browns Round column in the Winkler County News at Kermit, chides us for now remembering how Halloween originated. He states Halloween started hundreds of years ago, before you or I were even thought of, as hallowed evening, the evening before All Saints Day, which occurs on Nov. 1. All Saints Day is a very old religious observance and Halloween was considered the evening when folks could indulge in a bit of innocent mischief before doing penance on the hallowed morning. Wonder what book Don looked that up in?

Would you like an African pen pal? In the mail comes a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Aiwole Adio, 8 Dagara Street, Lagos Nigeria, B. W. A., seeking an Eastland pen pal. Mr. and Mrs. Adio also include the name and address of another African: Joseph Owonade Adeleke, 5 Ojo-Giwa Street, Lagos Nigeria, B. W. A. Seems they wish to trade some African products for American ones.

Here are some of the items they have to trade: crocodile skins, lion skins, tiger skins, giraffe skins, elephant skins, cobra skins, snake skins, donkey skins, monkey skins, and gorilla skins, and also handbags of each skin, the ebony carvings of each skin, gold rings, earrings, chains for neck, Raffia handbags, dagger knives, drums for music and Africa combs, and Africa shoes, and African calabash painted in different colors, etc.

Drove In Train's Path

Five men were killed and six critically injured when this car was demolished by a fast New York Central passenger train at a crossing in Sharonville, O. The crossing watchman told police the driver ignored his warning and drove directly into the path of the train. The dead were identified as: Walter Ray Palmer, 20, Detroit; William Roscoe Malone, Jr., 22, Loudon, Tenn.; Robert Former, 23, James Ray Raby, 22, and Otah Glandon, 20, all of Detroit. ## Rev. Bailey To Preach At Conference

Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Eastland, will preach at the opening of the Cisco District Conference in Breckenridge Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Musical portion of the program will include songs by the Breckenridge choir.

Roll call will be Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, with Bishop William C. Martin to preach from 11 to 12 A. M. The sermon will be broadcast over Station KSTV.

Seven delegates and eight ex-officio members have been named from the Eastland church for the conference.

Delegates are: N. P. McCahey, Ed F. Willman, Turner M. Collier, Frank T. Crowell, E. M. Grimes, Mrs. Ida B. Foster and Mrs. F. L. Drago.

FT. WORTH C OF C PARTY SEEING PUERTO RICA

SAN JUAN, P. R., Nov. 7 (UP)—Fifty members of the Fort Worth, Tex., Chamber of Commerce whirled through the second and final day of a good will visit to Puerto Rico today.

"We have been considerably impressed by what we have seen here so far," President Web Maddox said.

The group passed quickly through customs on its arrival from Nassau yesterday. The Texans were greeted at Isla Grande Airport by a big delegation of government officials and members of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Acting Mayor Jose Rodriguez Olmo, brother of Luis Olmo, baseball star with the Brooklyn Dodgers, was on the welcoming committee.

Man Charged In Brother's Death

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 7 (UP)—Murder charges were lodged today against Bailey F. Hardin, 35, and his wife, Carrie, also 35, in the bludgeon death of Hardin's elder brother who was on a visit here from a Dallas veteran's hospital.

Aaron E. Hardin, 50-year-old Crane, Tex., mechanic, was found dead in his brother's home early Sunday.

The younger Hardin told police the trio had attended a party. When they returned home his brother suddenly came into the bedroom and kicked him twice, he stated.

A wrestling match followed, and Bailey Hardin struck his brother in the face. He then left the room and found Aaron unconscious on the floor when he returned, he told police.

The dead man had suffered several heart attacks, but artificial respiration failed to revive him. He was a veteran of World War II, and came here two weeks ago to visit his brother.

Examining trial for the Hardins was set for Wednesday by Justice of the Peace Horace Blade.

Steward's Meeting Called Tonight

Chairman N. P. McCahey has called a meeting of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church of Eastland for 7 o'clock tonight. All members are urged to attend.

eight-column spread. The delegation was taken to the city hall, where J. R. Edwards, honorary mayor of Fort Worth, received the key to the city on behalf of the delegation.

A buffet luncheon and cocktails were served at the Chamber of Commerce building. Afterward the group toured San Juan, the centuries-old Spanish seaside fortress El Morro, and a farm industrial exhibition at the college of engineers building.

Maddox said the group received bountiful hospitality at Nassau, and the stop there was "extremely pleasant."

H. H. Strong, chairman of the group's foreign Commerce Committee, said that previous visits to Mexico and Central America had produced new business contracts and extra trade.

"We expect this trip will produce similar results," he said. "All of us have thoroughly enjoyed the tour so far."

Barkley Leaves Bride-To-Be For Speaking Date

CHICAGO, Nov. 7 (UP)—Vice-President Barkley came here for a speaking engagement today, leaving the hospital bedside of his ailing bride-to-be, Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley.

Barkley was scheduled to address the 29th annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute. On the same program will be Adm. Louis Denfeld, recently ousted Chief of Naval Operations, and Sen. Robert Kerr, D. Okla.

Mrs. Hadley, stricken with influenza, had been aided, hospital officials said, by the "veep's" almost constant vigil at her bedside in St. Louis.

Her doctors said she would be ready to leave the hospital today or tomorrow to continue with her preparation for her marriage to Barkley Nov. 18.

The influenza attack, brought on by fatigue and nervous tension after the engagement announcement, had set the wedding plans back several days.

The 38-year-old widow still has a large portion of her trousseau to buy and the veep hasn't picked out a wedding ring yet.

A rumor that Barkley gave his fiancée an expensive wrist watch of platinum studded with diamonds was flatly denied by Mrs. Hadley's family.

Square Dance Class To Start Here Tonight

Dale Hitchcock of Breckenridge will hold a first meeting and lesson in square dancing at the American Legion Hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

A class both for beginners and those desiring to learn new steps all persons interested are asked to attend. Instructor Hitchcock will conduct eight weekly lessons.

Maverick Band Gets Certificate Award From Fair

A certificate award, suitable for framing has been received by T. R. Atwood, director of the Eastland High School Maverick Band, in recognition of the band's recent performance at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Awarded by the State Fair of Texas and the Texas Music Educators Association, which selected 24 high school bands to perform at the Fair, the certificate cites the Maverick Band for participation in the exhibit and March iesta at the Cotton Bowl.

Marene Johnson Nominated As Good Neighbor

Mrs. Marene Johnson has been nominated as Eastland's Best Good Neighbor in the contest sponsored by the Quarterback Club for the Breakfast In Hollywood program Tuesday night.

The nomination was made in a letter by Tom Dabney of Lubbock who formerly lived in Eastland.

The letter follows: "I hereby wish to nominate Mrs. Art (Marene) Johnson as Eastland's Best Good Neighbor and should like to list a few of her many characteristics which qualify her for this honor.

"Neighborly enough to teach physically impaired women to do needle work which enables them to earn part of their livelihood.

Willing enough to represent her community in the Armed Forces and to contribute her time to Army Service Club and Hospital wards at camps within the vicinity of Eastland....

"Generous enough to contribute her time and energy to the annual Red Cross drive and blood bank to help make them successful....

"Civic-minded enough to take the active lead in raising funds for the local library. She is an active member of the Texas Federated Women's Club and the Texas Federated Music Club. She sponsors and helped organize the local chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi—a local organization for young women which has purchased an oxygen tent for emergency use by Eastland residents.

"Talented enough to direct the annual Eastland Benefit Minstrel with proceeds used for civic betterment. For several years she has written and directed the Annual Quarterback Club Minstrel. She has sponsored and obtained auditions for talented young Eastlandites which enabled them to earn scholarships and professional fame.

"Thoughtful enough to render aid to those who are sick or in need of help—either by giving her services or by supplying her famed "hot pot of soup".

"These are a few of the attributes of our good neighbor Marene. I hope that you will agree that she is the BEST GOOD NEIGHBOR—a good neighbor could ask for—anywhere—anytime."

Pre-School Meeting Change

Meeting time of the pre-school group meeting of parents has been changed to Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cowan.

Freak Norther Hits South Texas

By UNITED PRESS

Texas had colder weather than usually frigid Bismarck, N. D., today due to a freak weather high that protruded into deep Southeast Texas from the "Old South."

Lufkin, in the piney woods section of the state, reported the state's minimum of 32 degrees today—a figure compared with a low of 34 degrees at Bismarck. Readings were above freezing elsewhere and skies were clear—for the seventh straight day in most sections of the far-flung lone star state.

The edge of the high that toppled temperatures below freezing in Mississippi and Louisiana kept East Texas points among the day's lows for the state. Texarkana reported 37 degrees, as did Wink in far West Texas, and Tyler recorded a low of 40, the same as Mineral Wells, El Paso and Marfa. Salt Flat had a 34 reading.

Amarillo and Junction had 36-degree lows, while Houston was a "cool" 44 degrees, Palestine 41, San Antonio 43, Alice 44 and Big Spring 46.

Highest minimums where at Brownsville and Galveston were warm gulf breezes helping keep the mercury as high as 52 degrees.

Yesterday's maximums ranged from 62 at Texarkana to 81 at Laredo, with most readings were in the high 60's and low 70's.

54 Frisco Cars Are Derailed

STEELE, Mo., Nov. 7 (UP)—Twenty-four cars of a 54-car southbound Frisco Freight train were derailed several miles southwest of here near the Arkansas line about 5:30 A. M. today.

No casualties were reported, but most of the derailed cars caught fire and burned.

Roy Hawkins, radio dispatcher for the sheriff's office at Caruthersville, Mo., said a broken rail apparently caused the accident. The wreck occurred on a curve between here and Holland, Mo., on the Frisco's main St. Louis-Memphis line.

A Frisco spokesman in St. Louis said that the line would be closed for 24 hours.

In the meantime, he added, Frisco trains on the route have been shuttled off on branch lines.

Booster fire trucks from Caruthersville, 14 miles northeast of here, fought the fire.

The diesel-powered freight train was loaded with automobiles, tractors and bicycles.

Honored For Rescue

Johnny Schnirder, 12, and Shirley Bach, 11, are honored for their part in the rescue of 3-year-old Bobby Gow, who fell into an abandoned well behind his home in East Austin, Tex. The children phoned firemen who finally rescued Bobby after hours of digging. Police Chief R. D. Thorp shakes their hands while Mrs. Corine Williams, teacher and Principal W. B. McCarty stands behind the youngsters. (NEA Telephoto)

Prizes, Fun Offered In Show At EHS Auditorium At 8 P. M.

With everything in readiness for the Breakfast In Hollywood show Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Eastland High School auditorium, a special invitation has been issued by the sponsoring Quarterback Club to residents of surrounding communities at attend.

Blair Lewis, publicity director, pointed out the show was not just for Eastland alone, but for the entire vicinity. Especially invited are citizens of: Carbon, Morton Valley, Desdemona, Flat Wood, Olden, and Gorman.

Their Child's Gone

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kamorek, of Clayville, N. Y., gaze at the crib from which their 6-week-old son, Stephen Henry, was kidnapped. Mrs. Kamorek told state police the kidnaper entered an unlocked kitchen door, grabbed Stephen, her only child, and scumbled up a steep embankment to a dark sedan. (NEA Telephoto)

Prizes and fun will be featured in the show, which is modeled after the original radioprogram originated by the late Tom Brenneman. Master of ceremonies will be Father Jim McClain, Eastland Episcopal minister, who formerly was Dr. I. Q. of radio stage fame. Assisting Father Jim will be: Neil Day, Jimmie Harkrider, Earl Francis, Justus Cecil Collins and Milburn Long. Mrs. Marene Johnson, a d. Oscar Lyeria. Due to the fact that Lewis is a Republican, he said he had done everything possible to keep Lyeria off the program, as Lyeria is a New Deal Democrat and County Democratic chairman. Lewis said as usual over the past 16 years, the Democrats have made themselves known and Lyeria will appear in the show.

Ladies are reminded to wear their silly hats to the program as a prize will be awarded for the best one. An orchid, sent direct from Hollywood, will be given to the oldest lady present. Special prizes will be made to the couple present that has been married for the longest period of time. In addition, many other prizes—made possible through contributions by Eastland businessmen—will be awarded in the audience participation program.

The sponsoring Quarterback Club hopes to make money on the entertainment through admission tickets sales. Proceeds will be used in the club's worthy projects to provide adequate recreation for Eastland's young folks.

A ticket sales by four girl's clubs in Eastland High School will end Tuesday noon, with the winning club to receive a $25 cash prize. Tickets will also be available at the door on the evening of the performance.

Body Of Man Found By Tracks

IRENE, Tex., Nov. 7 (UP)—The body of Joe Lee Good, 20, (of 4105 Oxford St.) Houston was found early yesterday near the Missouri-Pacific Railroad tracks in this Hill County town.

Sheriff Charlie Garrison theorized that the employe of the Citizens State Bank, Houston, had been struck by a train. Good's skull was fractured.

Good was at Irene on a week end visit to his grandfather, W. E. Burns.

The victim was last reported alive about midnight Saturday, when he was in company of another youth, Bob Dale of Irene.

Good's shattered watch had stopped at two o'clock.

Auditorium To Be Site Of Show

A change from the gymnasium to the Eastland High School auditorium for the Breakfast In Hollywood show Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, has been announced by Blair Lewis, publicity director. Lewis said the location change was made necessary because of difficulty in providing adequate seating arrangements in the gymnasium.

Minister Routes Prowler Quickly

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (UP)—The Rev. Clarence Dawson a 49-year-old Methodist minister, believes that the meek shall inherit the earth. And he's willing to back up his belief -- for two shots anyway.

"Was a nervous wreck from agonizing pain until I found Pazo!"

says Mrs. A. W., San Antonio, Texas
Speed amazing relief from miseries of simple pain, itching, burning, dry, hard, cracked lips—burns, prevent cracking, soreness—reduce swelling. You get real comforting help. Don't suffer needless torture from simple pain. Get Pazo for fast, wonderful relief. Ask your doctor about it. Supportive form—also tubes with perforated pipe for easy application.

Awakened by a prowler on the ground floor of his parsonage, the Rev. Dawson grabbed his old World War I six shooter, turned on the lights and crept down stairs. The intruder took a quick look at the gun and darted out of the door.

The minister let fly with two shots. The prowler got up a little more steam and whipped out of sight.

The Rev. Dawson explained it this way: "I just wanted to scare him away. The first two chambers in the pistol are loaded with blank cartridges and I fired only two shots."

He served as Bonham correspondent for several publications and worked for the Bonham Daily News and the Bonham Herald during his career. He moved here as a youth from Washington, Ark.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan hangs down with many difficulties, but she hopes for a change when at last she finds a basement apartment in the city where she, Tod and their twin sons can live. Tod, however, is unable to forget Lis Conover, who flitted him before he married Jenny. He is also worried about his mother, who dislikes Jenny and who has tried to break up the marriage. Jenny, hearing that Tod's mother is ill, decides to call on her and make amends. But she finds Mrs. Duncan gone and learns that Mrs. Duncan has become an addict to a certain "nerve medicine." Then Mrs. Duncan falls down a stairway and is taken to a nursing home. Although this will end the medicine habit, Tod's payments to the home make their financial situation worse.

cles under your eyes from being up at night with the twins—" "They're worth it, Nina." "Of course! But Tod should think of you once in a while." "Tod's doing the best he can. He has to take care of his mother." Nina stared at her for a moment or two.

"I don't want to hear any criticism of Tod," Jenny said. "If you don't like him, Nina, we can't be friends."

Without another word Nina picked up her coat and hat. At the doorway she turned back and said, "If you'd rather hide your head like an ostrich, hon, I guess it's not my place to spoil things for you. Let me know if you need me. Maybe you're right. Maybe I'd better stay away, because I can't keep my mouth shut about Tod."

TOD came home half hour later to find Jenny crying as she went about getting their supper. Jenny faced him wildly, her face flushed and moist, her eyes puffy from crying. "Nina criticized me for not getting new clothes and—well lots of other things. She wanted to tell me things about you too. But I wouldn't let her." "I wouldn't let Nina upset me," Tod said. He went into the other room, where one of the twins was whimpering.

He felt guilty at Jenny's words because only this afternoon Liz had wanted him to come to a cocktail party Conover Advertising, Inc., was giving for a big industrialist—a client.

Liz had said, "If you think Jenny would disapprove of your going, we'll take her along."

He knew he didn't dare go with Liz. If he went to the party with her, he might start going other places with her. He'd meet her places clandestinely—well it was just no good.

While Jenny got the twins ready for bed he said, "I wish I could find the money, Jenny, for you to get some clothes, but you know how it is."

She was in an awful mood tonight, quite unlike herself. She whirled around, her face red and said, "I suppose you're ashamed of me!"

"No, Jenny, it isn't that at all." He turned away and went into the bedroom to get ready to go visit Ma at the nursing home. He went twice a week. Tonight he knew it was a good thing he was going out.

After Tod had gone, Jenny took up the evening paper and tried to read, but she was too tired. She got ready for bed and tried to relax then, but she was too exhausted to go to sleep immediately.

Not having enough money was a dreadful thing. It spoiled one's outlook. And besides that she was awfully tired from staying up late nights with the babies. Yes, she was awfully tired.

SHE lay there awake a long time thinking, trying to remember exactly how she had felt that March day so long ago—so not so long ago either, only two years—when she had gone down to the Union Station to meet Tod.

It was snowing, she remembered, and the store windows were full of spring things. She had been so excited about seeing Tod again. He had liked her hat. That little brown velvet bonnet. She still had it, only she never had any occasion to wear it any more. But Tod had said she looked cute in it.

She crawled out of bed suddenly, throwing back the covers, and went to the closet and found the box where her old hats were. She fished out the velvet bonnet and brushed it off. The tulle ribbons were frayed. She went to the mirror and snapped on the dressing table light and put the hat on her head. She stared at herself for a long moment, her heart sinking. She looked terrible, her eyes puffy, no make-up, hair straggling down on either side of her face.

And then too, a velvet bonnet doesn't look too becoming atop a pair of faded cotton pajamas. She flung it on the dressing table, tears rolling down her cheeks now. Tears of self pity.

Derrick Sitter On Ground Again

TEXARKANA, Tex., Nov. 7 (UP)—Rudolph, the man who called a derrick home for 20 years, had his feet on the ground today and the Texarkana Community Chest out of the red.

For the first time in seven years, the city achieved its chest quota. Towns people were inclined to thank Rudolph for sparking the drive for $82,827.18, already over-subscribed.

The man who thinks one name is sufficient identification for any one came down last night from his derrick which he mounted three weeks ago, vowing to stay aloft until the chest fund was built up.

His first two weeks on the wooden structure, located in the heart of town, brought personal gifts galore but few chest donations. Last week, however, money started flowing in to the welfare agency.

Present to greet Rudolph after his descent were some 2,000 fans and members of the police and fire departments. The derrick will be given to the firemen for fire-fighting demonstrations next week but this week, it will remain in front of the post office with a victory sign attached.

Rudolph was just plain happy. "You people are wonderful," the tired little man said. "I want to become an adopted son here."

I could never forget this town."

The first horse to run five furlongs in less than a minute was Turnstick in 1910.

Miss Groves, Mr. Pipkin Are Married Saturday

In a double ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Doris Rae Groves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lois T. Groves of Olden became the bride of Richard Bruce Pipkin of Eastland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pipkin of Eastland.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents with the Rev. Clifford Nelson, pastor of the Baptist Church at Olden, officiating. The improvised altar was arranged before double windows of the living room and was decorated with large flower baskets of salmon pink gladioluses. Seven branch floor candelabra held white candles which lighted the altar. The bride and groom stood on a prayer rug before the altar.

Preceding the exchange of vows Marjorie Hendricks of Olden sang "Because" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Charles H. Everett of Olden. Mrs. Everett also played the traditional wedding march from Lohengrin.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a light blue tissue faille cocktail length dress with brown hat, shoes and gloves. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Mrs. James Hendricks of Roswell, New Mexico attended her sister as matron of honor. She was attired in a taupe crepe cocktail length dress with navy accessories. Her shoulder corsage was a camilla surrounded by pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and carnations. The three tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom standing under an arch which was topped by wedding bells. The cake rested on a reflector that was surrounded by white chrysanthemums and carnations interspersed with melba and lace leaves. Mrs. J. L. Heinemann of Vanderbilt, Texas presided at the silver coffee service at one end of the table and Mrs. Hendricks presided at the other. Mrs. Stella Jarrett was in charge of the bride's book.

James Turk Pipkin of Eastland was his brother's best man.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for a trip to South Texas after which they will return to make their home at 401 Sadosa Street in Eastland. For traveling

South Ward's Book Fair In Full Swing, Parents Friends Invited

The Third Grade at South Ward School will parade preceding their program in the school auditorium at 2 P. M. Tuesday, the first of five parades this week and next at the school in recognition of National Education Week and Children's literature Week, November 7th to 12th, and 14th to 19th.

Parents and friends are invited, and Mrs. Durham, principal said she "hoped the auditorium would be filled for each program". Each child in the third grade will have a part in the Tuesday afternoon program which will give skits representing the following books: "Smallest Boy in the Class" by William Hall, "Indians and Cowboys" by Sanford Tousey, "Farmer In The Dell" by Berta and Elmer Hader, "Rain Drops Splash" by Alvin Tresselt, with illustrations by Leonard Weisgard.

Posters of each book have been prepared and the children representing the characters of the books will be costumed for their part and will act real scenes from the books. They will enter the stage from large books bearing the title portrayed.

Parents and friends are also invited to examine the books on display and orders for any book displayed will be taken, and can be secured in time for holiday gifts.

Books from John C. Winston Co., McGraw Hill Book Co., Texas Book Store, Bobs Merrill Book Company, and many others are in the display.

Mrs. H. M. (Johnnie) Hart is the teacher of the third grade and she added her invitation to parents and friends to attend, to the invitations of the pupils and Mrs. Durham's, and promised an hour of lively entertainment.
