Going Forward

With Eastland By Bob Moore

Uncle John was comfortably lighting his pipe in the living room one evening when Aunt Maria glanced up from her knitting. "John," she remarked, "do you know that next Sunday will be the 25th anniversary of our wedding?"

"You don't say so, Maria," responded Uncle John, pulling vigorously on his corncob pipe. "What about it?"

"Nothing," answered Aunt Maria, "only I thought we ought to kill them two Rhode Island Red chickens."

"But Maria," demanded Uncle John, "how can you blame them two Rhode Island Reds for what happened 25 years ago?"—John Dorsett.

Did you ever see such beautiful, sunny weather during November?

The downtown Christmas lights were "lit up" Saturday night as scheduled and are really pretty. The best view, is afforded coming into the city from the East. Noticed Carl Johnson had Christmas trees out in front of his dry goods store early this morning, perhaps, being the first in Eastland to stock a supply. A number of stores have their windows decorated in the holiday theme. Boys are already shooting fireworks in observance of the Yule season. All in all, it looks like Christmas will soon be here. Before we know it, we'll be getting the holiday spirit.

Walter Richter, publisher of the Stockdale Star, wrote in his column recently about the Wink football team as follows: "I believe these boys play a harder, more vicious, and more expert brand of ball than in other sections of the state. The fact that they start getting the fundamentals of blocking and tackling in the grades definitely has something to do with it, to my way of thinking. You can't transfer a boy out of a peanut patch and expect him to play championship ball the first or even the second year he comes out for the team."

Truth only has to change hands a few times to become fiction.

Bill Thomas Rites Held At Bryson

Bill Thomas, 66, of Bryson, formerly of Eastland, died Sunday morning of a heart attack. Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Bryson Church of Christ, with interment in the Bryson Cemetery.

Born in Kane, Pa., Thomas came to Eastland in 1919. He was employed as a driller for States Oil Corp., here and at Bryson, where he moved in 1935, for a number of years. At the time of death, he was employed by Dearing Bros., an oil firm.

Survivors include his wife, and one sister of Kane, Pa.

Modern Santa Prefers Reindeer

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 28 (UP)—One Santa Claus-gone modern vowed today he would never again forsake his reindeer to make the long trip from the North Pole.

St. Nick bailed out over 10,000 spectators at an air show here yesterday and immediately ran into these difficulties:

He narrowly missed being hit by a glider crossing his path.

A strong wind landed him with a jolt only 50 feet from the spectators, one of whom hung a flying tackle on the old boy to prevent him from being dragged away.

Magnanimous Gesture

Clair Reed, Jr., who was blinded when he was attacked by five cab drivers during a wildcat taxi strike, clasps hands with four of the men, after pleading for them in a Philadelphia court. The fifth man is still a fugitive. Reed said that he holds no grudge against his assailants. Cab drivers, left to right, are Harold Epstein, George Gillen, James Coin and Mario Nicola. They were fined $100 and cost each and put on two-year probation. (NEA Telephoto)

22 DEAD, 4 MISSING IN MIGHTY PACIFIC STORM

By United Press
A mighty Pacific storm left 22 persons dead and four others missing, hundreds of homes flooded, and untold millions in property damage today as it roared across the Pacific northwest, hurled the Rockies and tore over the plains of the Great Lakes. A severe frost, the first of the season, hit Florida and caused an estimated $5,000,000 damage to the vegetable crop.

A widespread snowfall over the northeastern states brought New York City its first measurable snow of the season, 1-10th of an inch. The snow piled five inches deep at Westfield, Mass., and four inches deep at Canton, N. Y., and Hartford, Conn.

Winds rose to gusts of 110 miles an hour—far above hurricane-strength—as the big Pacific storm roared through the mountains of Montana after causing many deaths and much destruction along a 1,000 mile front in Washington, Oregon and British Columbia.

The mountains broke the storm up somewhat but weather forecasters predicted it would hit the Great Lakes with winds up to 50 miles and hour. Storm warnings were hoisted at Lake ports. The strongest winds were expected in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

The big blow left seven inches of rain in a 24 hour period at some points, forcing streams far out of their banks. Ten bridges were washed out in British Columbia and five in Washington. Twelve persons were drowned. A woman was killed when the car she was riding in smashed into a rock washed down a slope. Seven others died on streets and highways due to slick pavement and low visibility. One man was electrocuted by one of the hundreds of live wires left tangled across the area.

A Montana man was killed when the high winds toppled him from a wall of his barn.

The missing persons were a Port Alberni, B. C., taxicab driver and his three passengers, believed drowned in the Alberni River.

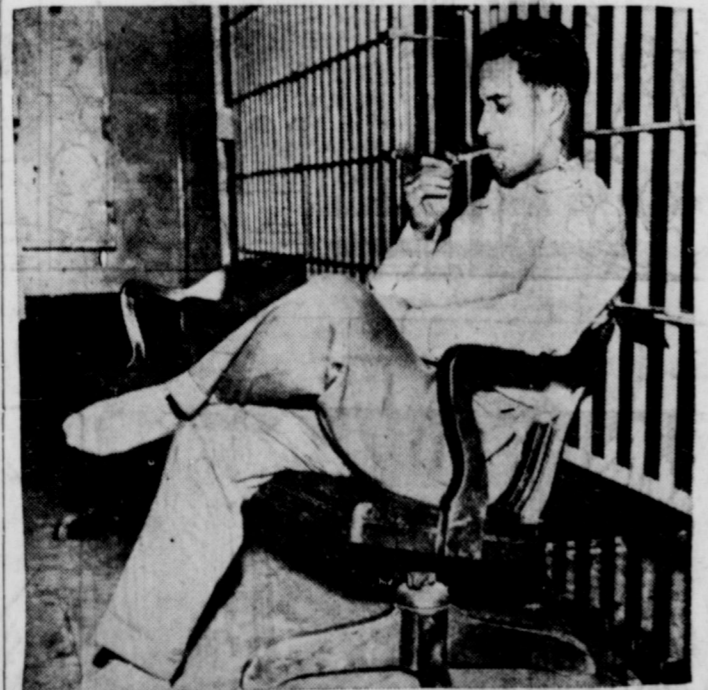

Plane Takes 70 Mile Trip Alone

FLORA, Ill., Nov. 28 (UP)—An embarrassed student pilot was trying to explain today how his ship got away from him, took off, and crashed more than 70 miles away with no one at the controls.

State Highway Patrolman Nelson Case said the pilot, whose name he did not learn, landed at Mt. Olive, Ill., yesterday because of bad weather.

While on the ground, he decided to make some engine adjustments. Suddenly the plane began taxiing, threw him off the wing, and then soared into the air.

Say He's "Love Burglar"

Fred Felix Adair, Jr., who, police claim, is the elusive "love burglar" who ransacked homes and terrorized women in Dallas, Ft. Worth and nearby Texas towns for almost a year, relaxes in his jail cell at Dallas. Adair, married and the father of an 18-month-old daughter, was tracked down through a pen-knife, bearing the name of the firm for which he is a bookkeeper, found at the scene of a recent burglary. 400 Killed In German Mine

BERLIN, Nov. 28. (UP)—An estimated 400 miners were killed Thursday when fire broke out in a uranium mine at the Soviet zone town of Johanngeorgenstadt, the anti-communist newspaper telegraf said today without naming a source for its information.

The newspaper also reported that 300 miners were drowned in a mine at Annaberg "several weeks ago."

The telegraf said the fire broke out in the uranium pit as a night shift started to leave. A munitions bunker caught fire and poison gas fumes spread, the newspaper said.

No gas masks were available and the first rescue squads, sent from Chemnitz, arrived 12 hours later, telegraf said.

The newspaper said the fire was believed to have been started by a short circuit in an electric cable running into the mine. It said "only a few workers" were able to escape before the mine elevator caught fire.

Texan Gets Top 4-H Club Award

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 28 (UP)—Bennie John Gallagher, 18, of Clarkwood (Nueces County) has been named a sectional and national winner of the national 4-H meat animal contest at the national 4-H club congress in Chicago.

Gallagher will receive a $300 college scholarship, according to word received here today from Chicago. He has completed 10 years of 4-H club work and is a member of the state winning 4-H livestock judging team.

Another Texas winner was E. P. Wicker, 18, of Wilson (Garza County). He was one of six national winners in the national 4-H dairy production contest. He also will receive a $300 college scholarship. He has completed seven years of 4-H club work.

Phone Rate Hike Asked In Houston

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 28 (UP)—Higher telephone rates for Houston and vicinity will be asked by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. today at a hearing before the city council.

J. B. Patterson, division manager, estimated that Southwestern Bell should receive an annual net return of seven per cent on an investment of $59,000,000 (M) in this area. He claimed the firm would make only $1,000,000 (M) this year—or less than two per cent of the investment.

or 75 cents per month for the A suggested increase was 50 average straight line residential telephone, and $1.80 to $2.25 on business lines.

Jailbreaker Does It Again

ANGLETON, Tex., Nov. 28 (UP)—Roy Lee Auten, the 32-year-old black-haired convict who once walked out of a Houston jail, did it again early today.

The dogs rounded him up, and Auten was back behind bars in less than an hour, but his cellmate, Jake Robertson, 39, managed to get away from the retrieve prison farm area and is still at large.

Auten, in and out of jail almost half of his life, was serving a 75-year term for robbery by assault from Harris County. Retrieve Warden I. K. Kelley said the men used "trickery" to get out around 6 A. M.

Somehow they managed to saw an iron bar off a window near an exit through which prison trustees march every morning. Auten and Robertson slipped into the trusty line and cautiously marched off to work—outside the prison grounds.

Auten was found in a thicket within an hour and was returned to his cell, bloodhounds baying at his heels.

Robertson, serving a 10-year sentence from Bee and Tom Green counties for robbery by assault, had a record just as slippery as Auten's.

Long Lost Plane Believed Found

NEW IBERIA, La., Nov. 28 (UP)—The mystery of the disappearance of a plane carrying three Pennsylvanians—two men and a woman—a year ago was apparently hidden in the swamps of Louisiana today.

The plane was that of Warren York, an Allentown investment broker. He, his wife and pilot Joel Ritter disappeared on a flight from Dallas last year.

The plane was believed to have gone down in the Louisiana swamps and a radio-equipped search party acting on a tip invaded the deep swamps in Pointe Coupee Parish Saturday.

C. A. Doyle, a New Iberia hunter and trapper, had reported finding a wrecked plane and three skeletons 10 miles deep in the almost inaccessible swamp.

However, after a 12-hour search Doyle was unable to find the wreck again and Louisiana authorities said another attempt will be made to reach the plane but they did not say when.

1950 Pontiacs On Display Now

Now on display, the new 1950 Pontiacs offer twenty-eight appearance and mechanical improvements—headed by a substantial increase in eight cylinder power.

In presenting the new Pontiacs, Harry J. Wheeler general manager of Pontiac Motor Division and vice president of General Motors Corporation, said:

"We believe our 1950 line to be the best-looking, finest performing Pontiacs ever produced. They embrace logical and well thought out advances. The 1949 models brought Pontiac's popularity to a new peak. Now we have gone on from there."

Pontiac again gives its customers an extremely wide choice. Chieftain and Streamliner lines are continued with standard and deluxe styling, six or eight cylinder engines and Hydra-Matic or Synchro-Mesh transmissions.

Cubic displacement of the popular eight cylinder engine has been increased to produce 108 horsepower. Horsepower of the 6 cylinder engine remains at 90. Compression ratio for both engines are 6.5—allowing maximum performance with operational savings on non premium gasolines.

From bumper to bumper, inside and out, calculated design touches have enriched and highlighted Pontiac's traditionally rich appearance.

Settlement Gives Nances $6,500 Out Of Long, Costly Proceedings

In a compromise agreement approved by Judge George L. Davenport of 91st. District Court, a $100,000 damage suit filed by Patsy Nance and others against Wesley Eisenhower and others, all of Cisco, was settled with the plaintiffs receiving $6,500.

Judge Davenport, at the suggestion of Turner Seaberry of Eastland, one of the plaintiffs' counsel, ruled that the sum of $750 be awarded to Miss Nance and the remaining $5,750 to her father, Garland Nance, another plaintiff in the suit. S. H. Nance, grandfather of Miss Nance and Ford dealer at Cisco, was involved as a plaintiff in the suit as next friend for the minor.

Postal Receipts Rise 6 Per Cent

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 28 (UP)—Texas Postal receipts rose six per cent during October, but Federal Internal Revenue collections over the state dropped 10 per cent, the University of Texas Bureau of business research reported today.

Postal receipts for 62 cities tallied by the bureau amounted to $3,887,480 in October, a six per cent hike over September and 12 per cent above the same month a year ago.

However, Internal Revenue collections brought in $56,167,252, representing a drop of 10 per cent from October, 1948.

The University bureau of business research said that income taxes fell 19 per cent, while withholding taxes slumped three per cent and other employment taxes two per cent.

Ballinger Doctor And Wife Injured

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 28 (UP)—Five persons were injured, two of them seriously, today in a head on collision on the outskirts of Brownwood.

Most seriously injured was Dr. F. M. Hale, elderly Ballinger physician who has served as the highschool football team's doctor there since before World War 1, and his wife. Dr. Hale suffered a sprained back and a cut over his left eye, Mrs. Hale a fractured knee cap and a chin laceration.

The occupants of the other car were less seriously hurt. They were James Kirksey, Mrs. Robert Kirksey and her daughter, Ruth, all residents of Route 4, Brownwood.

The Hales were en route to Nacogdoches.

The sum awarded to Miss Nance will be paid into the court registry with Jack Frost, Eastland attorney, to serve as guardian. Seaberry's suggestion and Judge Davenport's approval of the relatively small sum to be paid Miss Nance was made in view of court evidence that her father, Garland Nance, had already sustained more than $8,000 medical and court costs.

The compromise agreement which was heard by Judge Davenport at 10:30 o'clock, during a brief recess of another trial, brought to a close two years.

The suit resulted from an automobile accident in Cisco on Nov. 28, 1947, in which a car driven by Mary Poe and occupied by Patsy Nance was involved in a collision with an automobile driven by Wesley Eisenhower, and owned by his father, W. M. Eisenhower.

The trials of the case had been held previously. The first, in 1948, resulting in a mistrial, following a "hung" jury. Another trial, held this summer, resulted in a verdict favoring the defendants in which the jury found that more of the parties involved in the accident were negligent or liable. The court set aside this verdict and a new trial had been ordered.

As a result of the accident, Miss Nance, who was a student in Cisco High School, suffered a permanent spinal injury that has confined her to a wheelchair. Wesley Eisenhower is now a student at Texas A. & M. College.

The compromise agreement and court approval precludes any of the parties from ever bringing proceedings against each other as a result of the automobile accident.

Brother Of Eastlandite Suffers Burns

R. L. Justice, 42, brother of Mrs. V. E. Vessels of Eastland is in a Breckenridge hospital suffering from serious burns sustained in a refinery explosion and fire near Elvasville Friday morning.

Justice was employed by Phillips Petroleum Co. He formerly lived in Eastland. Another employee, Grady Dennis, suffered fatal burns.

Plant employees theorized that an explosion in a natural gas line into the plant blew a flange at a connection. When it was discovered there was a bad leak into the engine room, all fire were put out. Shortly afterward at 9:30 A. M. an explosion occurred, blowing the roof off the engine room. It was followed by fire.

XXXVI

JENNY was waiting at the front gate of the Steuberwald store at four o'clock and she saw Tod the moment he came out of the building. He walked with his big shoulders hunched, an absent-minded expression on his face.

"She punched the horn of the car and he looked up.

"I wanted to talk to you, Tod."

A wary expression crept over his face, like a mask pulled down. "Who told you I was working here?"

"Rick."

A sudden thought seemed to strike him. "Nothing's wrong with the kids?"

"No. Nothing like that."

He stood awkward and uncertain, people streaming past him, some of them looking curious.

"Won't you get in, Tod?"

He went around and opened the car door and got in beside her.

Tod was silent as she turned the car up the hill away from town and toward the river. But after a while he spoke, gruffly. "Exactly what do you want to talk to me about?"

An uneasy qualm struck Jenny. "Well, now that you're here," she said, "it's not going to be as easy as I thought. I heard you'd left the Conover Agency."

"I left there the first of the year," he said bluntly.

"Rick told me you and Liz—"

"Yeah, we're all washed up. That happened months ago, too."

Jenny ran her index finger back and forth on the steering wheel. Tod's brusque manner chilled her.

"Rick said you were having a tough time financially, and then this trouble, your mother dying and all—"

"Just because I asked your help with Ma, because I was in a jam, is no sign I need your pity. You don't have to go out of your way to do anything for me!"

"I'm not offering you anything."

"Look, just why did you come by tonight and pick me up? What did you want to talk to me about?"

Jenny threw him a tremulous half-frightened look and her eyes swam with quick tears. "I may as well come to the point, Tod. I want you to—come home."

"You WHAT?"

"I love you, Tod. I've never stopped loving you. I need you so!"

"YOU need me?" The words had an incredulous ring. His handsome face twisted. "But you're going to marry Rick. Nina told me so. Rick said so himself. And I was glad when I heard about it. He's just the sort of a person you ought to be married to, steady, and reliable and good. I've known Rick for a long time, baby, and I know one thing—he'll never let you down."

Jenny tried to speak, but he went on roughly.

"You and I didn't make a go of it once, and we wouldn't again, because we're not cut out for each other. And besides," he added lamely, "Rick will take care of you." He stopped and looked away from her, rubbing his fist in the palm of his hand.

"Tod," she whispered, "look at me. I love you. Even if you aren't in love with me, I'd like you to come back and try again. I want you back—on any terms—your terms."

He couldn't resist any longer. He found himself with his cheek against hers, all at once, feeling the wet warmth of her tears. He heard his own voice, babbling almost without volition. "Jenny darling, my darling, I am in love with you, more than I'll ever be able to let you know."

"Tod."

He drew back. "How could you come to me like this, when I've been such a fool? It took me so long to grow up! To know that I'd been chasing a rainbow that didn't even exist, following an obsession that was just that and nothing else. You can't imagine what it was like, to discover that when Liz was planning our wedding, all I could think of was that honeymoon of ours in that miserable little tourist cabin. I knew then that I loved you. How could you ever take me back after all that's happened?"

"Hush." She lifted her lips and the world spun for an instant as he kissed her.

"And I ruined everything—"

"Everything isn't ruined," Jenny said. "And we're not alone in making mistakes, you and I. Everybody makes 'em."

"Do you honestly think we could start all over again, Jenny?"

SHE nodded, and he took her hands in his and went on earnestly. "Ma said to me once long ago that having somebody you love, love you in return is the most important thing there is. And I believe it. Ma felt sorry for me—"

"But we have each other again, Tod."

"You wouldn't be able to forget some of the things that have happened," he said doubtfully.

"No. I won't forget. Nor will you. But who cares about that. We need to remember our mistakes, to profit by them."

"If I could just be sure that I wouldn't fail you ever again, that we could have things right for the children—"

"We have each other," Jenny answered, her arms going around his neck once more. "That counts for more than anything. Pop said to me once that you have to fight for what you want in this life, and after you get it you have to fight twice as hard to keep it. I'll never let you go again, Tod."

"I won't go again, darling," Tod said. "The last thing Ma said to me before she died was 'Make it up with Jenny.' She'd be pleased now if she could just know."

Jenny started the car. Her heart was singing as her thoughts leaped ahead to that moment when she and Tod should step across the threshold of the house on Riverside Road once more. The twins, dressed in their best bibs and tuckers, were waiting there.

What a homecoming this was going to be!

BAYTOWN, Tex., Nov. 28 (UP)—Information was still lacking today about the mother of a newborn baby boy, whose body was found yesterday on the shore of Black Duck Bay.

A Justice of the Peace said the infant died at birth or very shortly after, and had been dead some 36 hours when found by Jimmy Walmsley, 16 year old high school student.

WALLER, Tex., Nov. 28 (UP)—Annie Mae Smith, 36, of Houston, was killed last night in an unusual automobile accident near here on the Hempstead highway.

Funeral home attendants told police they were informed that she fell from an automobile and was struck by another passing car. She died almost instantly.

the pain in his stomach. A young girl massaged the aged man several minutes and advised him to return with an egg and a pint of milk to be used in the healing potion.

After he had gone, Gabino found that he had not been relieved of the pain in his stomach. Instead, he had been relieved of $160 in his wallet.

Gabino returned to the Gypsy's place and found that an old woman had taken the place of the young girl. He told her he had come to get his $160 back.

"Oh, 'don't worry about that,'" said the old woman. "It must have been a mistake. I will relieve your pain and get your money back for you too," and she massaged his stomach, then told him to go and come back a third time.

But again, after he had left the Gypsy place, Gabino found he still had his stomach pain. What he did not have was another $150 which had been in his wallet.

He remembered the old woman had asked him to return again. But Gabino didn't go. He went instead to police.

The police raided the Gypsy place and recovered the old man's money for him.

But Gabino still had his pain in the stomach.

Eighty cylindrical steel bins, like those above, hold 3380 bushels each, 15 wooden bins will hold 60,000 bushels, and six Quonset-type buildings will hold another 60,000. As each storage unit is completed, it is filled with corn from the 1948 crop, freeing farmers' own bins for this year's big crop.

Sally Rand Show Girl Killed

REFUGIO, Tex., Nov. 28 (UP)—A member of the Sally Rand show was among week-end traffic death victims in Texas. She was Miss Kurt Oberon, 30, who was killed Saturday when a bus backed over her on a highway near Refugio.

Sheriff R. M. Harsdorff of Refugio county quoted the bus driver as saying he saw a car parked along the highway and was backing up to see if he could give assistance when he struck Miss Oberon.

Miss Oberon and a companion Thomas Gilpin, 30 of Harlingen, Tex., were en route to Houston to attend the Rice-Baylor football game when the accident occurred.

Miss Oberon died within an hour after the accident in a Refugio hospital. Her home was Nowata, Okla.

In 350 B. C. the famed Greek physician, Hippocrates, "Father of Medicine," used a leather-soled boot in the treatment of club-foot.

It was announced today that a bake sale will be held in connection with the show.
