Last 14 Found Aboard Fire Gutted Vessel

By Willard D. Eberhart
United Press Staff Correspondent
PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii, March 18 (UP)—U. S. Navy warships rescued today all 40 crew members of the disabled Navy net tender U. S. S. Elder, swept by an engine room fire and abandoned by two thirds of her crew a week ago in the Pacific.

Twenty six of the crew were picked up from five life rafts after drifting helplessly under the scorching sun of the vast Pacific for seven days. The remaining 14 were found aboard the Elder a few hours later. All were reported in good condition.

The survivors reported the Elder was swept by a sudden engine room fire at midnight March 10 while steaming to Eniwetok to take part in the spring atomic bomb tests there.

The fire spread rapidly below decks of the 163 foot net tender and threatened to explode the ammunition magazines, survivors said.

They jettisoned cases of ammunition but were unable to reach the source of the fire in the engine room because of the intense heat. When it appeared the ship was in danger of being blown to pieces the skipper, Lt. William F. Adams, of San Diego, Calif., ordered 26 men into the life rafts.

Fourteen men remained aboard to jettison the remaining ammunition and fight the fire. They became separated apart from the calm Pacific for the next miles apart.

The 26 men on the life rafts were sighted first by Lt. William Lee Adams, West Palm Beach, Fla., flying a search plane out of Barber's Point Naval Air Station in the Hawaiian Islands, just before dusk last night.

Adams flashed a message to warships securing the seas. The Navy repair ship Comstock sped toward the rafts and took the men aboard.

At the same time another Navy Privateer Patrol Bomber from Kwajalein, piloted by Lt. Robert S. Macklin, of Glendale, Calif., reported sighting the Elder drifting helplessly with more survivors some 35 miles away from the rafts.

The destroyer tender Piedmont stramed under forced draft to the Elder and found all 14 men aboard, including three officers, in good condition after extinguishing the fire.

The spot where the Elder and the floating life rafts were found is some 1,900 miles west of Pearl Harbor, at a point 500 miles northeast of Kwajalein and 660 miles east of the Atomic Proving Grounds at Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

Colorful Society Editor To Talk Here Tuesday

ABILENE, March 19 — Mrs. R. L. (Lettie) Faucett, Abilene newspaper-woman who was featured in a 13-picture spread in this week's Life Magazine, will be the guest speaker at the Eastland Lions Club luncheon Tuesday.

Mrs. Faucett is the colorful, witty woman's editor of The Reporter-News.

Her outstanding 30-year career in newspapering won for her the honor of being selected from women journalists all over the nation when Life decided to do a picture-story on a society editor.

Bob Moore, editor of the Eastland Telegram, is program chairman for the day and arranged the speech by the highly-publicized Lettie.

New Battle Of The Bulge Waged

KEY WEST, Fla., March 18 (UP)—A new battle of the bulge raged here today — a fight to hold down the August waistline of the President of the United States.

The combatants were Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, White House physician and guardian of the presidential girth, and the Filipino mess stewards of the Navy who do Mr. Truman's cooking.

Graham wanted the President, who now weighs something over 175 pounds, to slim down. The Filipino cooks wanted him to eat well and consequently used a lot of butter with its high caloric count in their cuisine.

Rather than crack down on the cooks, Graham employed flanking strategy by encouraging the chief executive to exercise in the sun. The doctor gained a slight advantage during the president's sea cruise down here. The weather was so rough that Mr. Truman did not eat for more than a day and consequently lost four pounds.

His doctor approved and today attempted to consolidate his inverse gain by frowning at rich food served in the little White House, plus touting volley ball on the beach as a fine way to keep in shape.

The chief executive cooperated by following a healthy schedule today which called for a walk and a swim in the forenoon, then a light lunch with his staff.

Air Force To Feel Loss Of Adm. Fairchild

WASHINGTON, March 18 (UP)—Gen. Muir Stephen Fairchild, the Air Force's vice chief of staff who died last night, was quite content to run the Air Force quietly for seven days a week and to let Flasher officers make the headlines.

His death left a gaping hole in the young service's top command. Fairchild, 55, was a stocky man with a knack for saying exactly what he meant and making it stick.

The service's number 2 flier, he has been serving as acting chief of staff in Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg's absence.

Funeral arrangements for the four-star officer, who had 34 years of military service, have not yet been completed. It was expected that he would be buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

The general's wife, the former Florence Alice Rossiter, was at his bedside when he died in his nearby Fort Myer, Va., quarters and hour and a half after a heart attack. Brig. Gen. Dan C. Cole, Air Force deputy surgeon general, who had rushed to his aid, attributed Fairchild's death to acute coronary thrombosis.

Fairchild also is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ross H. Calvert, who is now in Tokyo with her husband, an Army infantry captain.

A command pilot with many decorations, Fairchild was noted chiefly as a Staff Officer and as an Executive and Strategic planner. In that role rose to the top tier of the Air Force.

Geiger Counters For Civilian Use

The Atomic Energy Commission has announced a cheap geiger counter that could be used by civilians in case of an atomic attack. Here, at a hearing of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee in Washington, where the disclosure was made, are, from left to right: Gordon E. Dean; Henry D. Smythe, members of the AEC; Dr. Shield Warren; Dr. Henry Bowman; and John A. Derry, members of AEC's Division of Biology and Medicine. (NEA Telephoto)

Census Schools To Open Mar. 27

School days are approaching for about 150,000 adult Americans who will participate in more than 5,500 classes to be conducted throughout the country during March in preparation for the 17th decennial census of the United States opening on April 1.

District Supervisor, Donald F. Pulver, of the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, stated today that the school for enumerators will be conducted March 27 thru March 21st at ten locations in the local census district. These locations will include:

Baird Courthouse, Callahan County.

Veteran's School, Comanche, Comanche County.

Recreation Hall, Stephenville Earth County.

Eastland Court House, Eastland County.

Blue Bonnet Hotel, Both Fisher and Nolan Counties.

Methodist Church Basement, Hamilton, Hamilton County.

County Court House, Anson, Jones County and Shackelford County.

Texas Employment Commission Office, Mineral Wells, Palo Pinto County.

Burch Hotel, Breckenridge, Stephens County.

Old Post Office Bldg., Abilene, Taylor County.

During the last week in March, about 8,300 crew leaders, under supervision of the census district supervisors and their assistants, will conduct training classes at about 5,000 locations for the 140,000 census enumerators. The last week of March will mark the climax of the training program which was inaugurated in Washington at census headquarters in December with the training of about 30 chief instructors for the schools now under way in the three cities of Washington, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Census district offices to the number of 437 have been established in the 48 states, and the Territories of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. In general, these district census offices cover individual congressional districts, although in some cases where estimated work loads made it necessary, some congressional districts have been divided into the two census districts.

Nationalists Invade Mainland

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 18 (UP)—Chinese Nationalist forces returned to the mainland in a dawn landing today and seized a Communist coastal city some 200 miles south of Shanghai.

Latest reports 12 hours later indicated the Nationalist invaders still were holding firm to their New Bridgehead. But it was too early to tell whether the landing was a nuisance raid or a serious attempt to gain a permanent foothold on the coast.

A Nationalist Naval Communique said the landing force swarmed ashore under Naval cover and occupied the chekiang province coastal city of Sungmen, about 120 miles south of the Chusan Islands, Nationalist Naval base for the blockade of Shanghai.

The communique said 2,500 Communists were "annihilated" in an operation that began at 7 A. M. and ended at 8:20 A. M.

(It was likely that the Nationalist landing was similar to the British Commando raids on the coast of Nazi-occupied France preceding the all-out allied invasion of Normandy.)

Naval gunboats shelled more than 100 junks and shore installations, the communique said. Communists manning the shore defenses took to the hills, it claimed.

Today's landing marked the first large-scale Nationalist attack on the Chinese mainland since November, when the Nationalist government fled to Formosa.

Survivors are six sons, Bob Cunningham of Cross Plains, George Cunningham of Abilene, Charles L. Cunningham of San Angelo, Ben Cunningham, Tom Cunningham, and Dell Cunningham, all of Ranger; four daughters Mrs. Lula Stuard of Breckenridge, Mrs. Estha Scoggins of Harlingen, Mrs. Emma Bearden and Mrs. Wheat, both of Ranger. A number of grandchildren, great grandchildren and great great grandchildren, also survive.

Pallbearers were T. C. Weaver, Ellis Cooper, Sallie Hatton, Dewey Hames, Allie Thompson, and L. L. Bruce.

Evaluation Of Eastland High School Ends

A three-day evaluation of Eastland High School was brought to a close Friday afternoon with various committees of 15 administrators making reports.

The evaluation was made as a requirement for the Eastland school to be accepted as a permanent member of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. While the local school was voted into membership last year, the evaluation was necessary in order to retain the membership on a permanent basis. High schools, which have a high standard of requirements, are eligible for membership in the Southern Association.

Dr. R. A. Collins of Abilene, dean of the faculty of Hardin-Simmons University, presided. The committee had high praise for the work being done in Eastland High School.

Sermon Topics Announced For First Methodist

"Inner Resources" will be the sermon subject of Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor, Sunday at the 10:50 worship service at the First Methodist Church. The choir will sing the anthem under direction of Robert Clinton, "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach with Nancy Frost playing the Violin Obligato. The junior choir, under direction of Mrs. A. F. Taylor, will sing "Dare to Be Brave" by Hume.

The pastor will preach at the evening worship service at 7:30 and the congregational song service will be led by Dr. R. C. Ferguson and the men's choir.

The district youth meeting will meet Monday evening, 7:30, at the First Methodist Church in Cisco.

At the latest count, 8,000,000 wives—or nearly one-fourth of all married women—have jobs outside the home in the U. S., the American Magazine reports. Half of these working wives are mothers.

Youth Faces Four Prison Sentences

DALLAS, Tex., March 18 (UP)—K. T. Chisholm, 21 year old Houston youth who once told a judge he robbed liquor stores because he was a prohibitionist, today faced four 99 year sentences for armed robberies of liquor stores here.

The good-looking navy veteran already had been sentenced to four other 99 year sentences for robbing liquor stores in San Antonio and Beaumont, and to life imprisonment for murder of a liquor store clerk in Beaumont.

Chisholm told a San Antonio judge several weeks ago that he robbed two liquor stores there because he wanted to put them out of business.

John Cahoon of Houston, attorney for Chisholm, said the youth's aversion to liquor did not stem from religious principles, but from experiences in the navy.

Belgium Premier, Cabinet Resign

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 18 (UP)—Premier Gaston Eyskens and his divided cabinet resigned today in the political crisis created by bitter dispute over King Leopold's return to the throne.

Eyskens handed the resignation of himself and his entire cabinet of nine social christian (Catholic) party ministers and eight liberal party ministers to regent Prince Charles this morning.

Eyskens, a Catholic, and his nine Catholic ministers have supported King Leopold's return on the strength of the 57 per cent majority he received in last Sunday's advisory plebiscite.

Liberal party ministers, supported by Socialist and Communist party leaders, oppose the King's return.

Socialist leaders of the confederation of labor called a 24 hour warning strike of 300,000 workers yesterday in protest against the King's return and have threatened to call a general strike that would paralyze Belgium if parliament does recall Leopold.

The government's resignation could lead to new national elections. If no new government with a majority vote in parliament could be formed, parliament undoubtedly would be dissolved and new elections called.

Man Kills Wife, Commits Suicide

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 18—(UP)—Staff Sgt. Joseph Schwartz, 34, killed his wife, Edith, 32, and then committed suicide following a quarrel, military police said today.

Capt. O. C. Wetzel, provost marshal at Las Vegas air base, said he learned Schwartz and his wife had quarreled over her desire to return to her home in Texas.

Sgt. and Mrs. Schwartz were married in Shreveport, La., in December, 1949, and came here immediately afterwards. Capt. Wetzel said friends reported Mrs. Schwartz was unhappy because of the cost of living and for other reasons.

The bodies of the two were discovered yesterday by Mrs. Schwartz's daughter by a previous marriage, Mary Lynn, 7, when she came home at noon for lunch, Mrs. Schwartz had been shot in the arm and breast. Schwartz had a bullet through his temple.

Wetzel said both came from Texas, but names of their home towns were not available.

The Tennessee hotel and restaurant division reports there are 357 hotels, 772 tourist courts and 426 tourists homes in the state.

Mountain Goes to Mohamet

BOSTON, (UP)—When Howland P. Hall of Brookline became ill, he promised fellow member of a Columbia University choral group he'd soon be singing with them again. Hall, it developed, had infantile paralysis. So the choral group traveled from New York to Hall's bedside, where the 23-year old patient joined them in a concert.

Now They'll Know

HARLAN, Ky. (UP)—The Salvation Army announced it is collecting calendars for inmates of the Kentucky state penitentiary and the state reformatory.

THE WEATHER

Winds, Cold Front Moving In

By United Press
Windy weather brewed more possible blowing dust for West Texas today as a mild cold front moved toward the state and small craft warnings were issued for the Texas Gulf Coast.

At 9 a. m., no dust clouds were reported from West Texas, but in the Abilene area southwest winds already had kicked up to 35 to 40 miles per hour and ranged from 15 to 20 miles an hour upward throughout most of Central and West Texas.

Since the area has received no rain of consequence in recent weeks, all signs indicated another minor dust storm may develop during the afternoon.

The United States Weather Bureau at New Orleans ordered small craft warnings to be hoisted from Brownsville to Morgan City, La., and said increasingly southerly winds 25 to 30 miles per hour were expected along that area by midnight. They were to shift to northerly by tomorrow.

FINGERPRINTS Don't Lie

THE STORY: Private detective Martin Quierpel is trying to clear Paul Moody, a young sculptor, of charges in the murder of Wendell Palmer, father of Azalea Palmer, Moody's fiancée. Fingerprints found on the base of a telephone are claimed by police to be Moody's. Quierpel examines these and has duplicate prints of his own taken from another telephone. He also asks police detective James Stivers to compare an unidentified print found on the phone with those of another detective Pete Kelso. Quierpel learns that Kelso and a woman Nelda Croft had tried to blackmail Palmer. He has built up an elaborate theory that Kelso's prints were on that phone, and during the investigation Kelso had substituted Moody's when Stivers' back was turned. All Quierpel needs now is proof that his theory is correct.

XXVI

DROMPTLY at 2 o'clock Martin Quierpel climbed the old stairs of the Crime Laboratory. He found Detective Stivers awaiting him in a state of excitement as manifest as Quierpel's own inner turmoil was concealed. Stivers thrust at him the big-blown-up pictures of a thumb print.

When Quierpel lifted his eyebrows in query, Stivers boomed: "That's Kelso's thumb! I warned the big stiff to keep away from that telephone, but I must have been a minute too late."

"Perhaps you were an hour or two too late," said Quierpel.

"What do you mean, an hour or two too late? I was at the scene of the murder within half an hour after the call. Kelso had arrived only a little before me. What are you getting at?"

Stivers was worried, but Quierpel said:

"Can't you take a joke? Have you those fingerprints of mine taken from the base of your telephone?"

"Yep. I've got a flock of blown-up prints for you."

Stivers waited while Quierpel studied the enlargements of his own finger-tip patterns. He watched while Quierpel put alongside them the eight prints of Paul Moody's labeled "telephone base."

Still saying nothing, Quierpel covered a large table with the different prints taken in Moody's studio. As he peered at them, and studied them with a microscope, he seemed to be shaking with excitement. Finally Quierpel said, more to himself than aloud:

"Thank God!"

"For what?"

"For giving us fingerprints 'all unlike.'"

Stivers laughed. "Your friend Moody may not be so grateful."

"Oh, but he will. And so will that wonderful girl, Azalea."

"She is nice, isn't she?" said Stivers. "I took her prints, you know. But why should she be grateful? I thought she was engaged to this guy Moody."

"She is. And I'm glad she came to me with her scorn for the veracity of fingerprints."

"What are you getting at?"

"Look here, my boy. See these fingerprints of Moody that you took in his studio. See the difference?"

"No! There's no difference."

"Oh, but there is! Here's one you took from a bronze cast. See how the dotty metallic surface affects the lines and shows through the prints? Here's one taken from soft clay. Note the smooth medium beneath. Here's one from a veined marble. See the veins. Here's one from his desk—see the grain of the wood?"

"Of course! The background always affects the regularity and shows through the fingerprints. But it doesn't change the pattern."

"Certainly not. And I'm thank-

High, thin clouds were reported from all sections of the state this morning, but the weather bureau said temperatures should remain mild and the sun break through frequently.

Cooler temperatures might move into the Panhandle and extreme East Texas by late afternoon and tonight, but only slightly below freezing temperatures were forecast for the Panhandle.

Minimum temperatures elsewhere tonight probably will be in the middle and upper 30's in the plains sections and around 40 degrees in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Yesterday's highs ranged between 83 at Childress and Presidio and 65 at Beaumont, while today's lows ranged from 31 at Dalhart to 59 at Galveston.

Argument Over Liquor Leads To Death of One

TULSA, Okla., March 18 (UP)—An argument over eight cases of whiskey was climaxed with a fatal shooting and the arrest of a bootlegger here early today, police said.

Dead was Carl (Boxie) Allison, 38.

Cordon Edwards, 39, a brother of Jack "Cadillac" Edwards, was arrested.

Police Detective Captain Vern Hedgpath said both Cordon and Cadillac Edwards have been convicted of bootlegging "numerous times."

The shooting climaxed an argument which Edwards said began after he arrived at his home and found the door to his garage open and eight cases of whiskey missing.

Police quoted Edwards as saying he looked up the street and saw a parked automobile with a man standing beside it. Edwards said the man jumped in the car and he chased it forcing it into a ditch

(on North Cincinnati Avenue) about 10 blocks from Edwards' home.

"I got out of the car and noticed that Allison was driving and I forced him to drive back to my house and I followed," Police quoted Edwards as saying.

"When I got there I tried to make him transfer the liquor from his car to mine, but he started arguing."

Officers said Edwards told them he then went into his house obtained a gun and started back into the yard. He said he was standing at the top of the steps

Incorporation Election Canceled

MCALEN, Tex., March 18 (UP)—Manana won't be incorporated today and not even tomorrow.

Hidalgo County Judge T. B. Waite last night signed an order cancelling an election scheduled today for incorporation of the town of Manana, between Pharr and Edinburg.

He said a substantial majority of voters favored calling off the election "for the time being."

The cut was the direct result of a meeting of the South Texas Milk Producers' Association yesterday, wherein a slash of 90 cents per hundred pounds in wholesale prices of raw milk was ordered.

The Association's drop was preceded by an independent price-cutting campaign of three Houston grocery chains.

AUSTIN, March 18 (UP)—The show went on today, with Pam the Penguin once more a feature attraction and Pierre the Sea Lion taking a back seat.

Pam had rejoined her troupe yesterday, traveling by air in a cage equipped with 50 pounds of frozen fish, after a sojourn in a Penguin hospital on the West Coast.

Pierre's spot on the sidelines today was justified—for a nasty nip the sea lion had taken at Pam during an Indianapolis performance was the cause of her recent hospitalization.

GM Tops in Safety

For achieving the best safety record in its history, General Motors has been awarded the National Safety Council's highest honor—its award for distinguished service to safety. From both the standpoint of number of accidents and seriousness of them, GM employees showed substantial improvement over the previous best year, and their overall safety record was the best in the automotive industry last year. Harlow H. Curtice, executive vice-president of General Motors (left), is shown accepting the award from Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council.

Wild Well Lures Many Sightseers

TYLER, Tex, March 18 (UP)—A "tourist" attraction, a runaway gas well spewing an estimated flow of 6,000,000 cubic feet daily, promised today to lure thousands of sightseeing Texans here this week end.

The well blew out Tuesday in the East Texas oilfield near Tyler and troubleshooters predicted today they don't expect to curb its rampage before Tuesday.

The general public was barred within half a mile from the gasser. But outside that radius, the idle curious watched as experts prepared a triple-valved cap to be placed over the well later today.

Two previous attempts to halt the flow have proved futile as gas fumes continued to fill the air. The well blew out when drillers set off explosives to start a flow.

Fire Sweeps 22 Cars Of Octane

CUSHING, Okla, March 18 (UP)—Deep Rock Oil Refinery officials today waited for 22 tank cars to "cool off" before officially estimating damage done by a fire which destroyed thousands of gallons of high octane gasoline.

The fire swept through the string of railroad cars yesterday as two of them were being loaded with fuel. An explosion caused by static electricity set off the blaze which burned critically Chester L. Palmer, 50, loading dock employe.

Flames towered 150 feet and threatened a 100,000 gallon oil storage tank 50 feet away and a 50,000 gallon tank 100 feet away, but a south wind whipped the blaze in the opposite direction.

Refinery officials indicated an early $25,000 estimate of damage would be revised upward.

St. Patrick's Day Tea Honors Mothers, Teachers and Displays Autobiographies Of Seniors

Members of the Senior Class and their sponsor, Miss Verna Johnson assisted by Mrs. Gerald Wingate, official class mother, honored their mothers and the teachers of the Eastland schools, Friday afternoon, when they hosted a Saint Patrick's Day tea in room two at the High School.

Each guest was met at the door by a senior boy and escorted to the room, where the party was held. They were received just inside by Mrs. Wingate and Miss Johnson. A four leaf clover was pinned on the shoulder of each guest and their name registered in a green four leaf clover shaped book.

Frosted fruit punch and cookies and mints were served from a table laid with a green cloth and centered with an arrangement of calla lilies.

Tables surrounding the walls of the room held the auto-biographies of the class members, displayed for and enjoyed by the guests.

About 100 guests called through out the afternoon including the members of the evaluating committee, who were honored on Thursday and members of the school board.

Alternating in entertaining guests were all the seniors, who

Evaluators Honored At Senior Tea

Members of the senior class and their sponsor, Miss Verna Johnson, honored the members of the Evaluating Committee, who have been working at Eastland High School this week, when they entertained Thursday afternoon with a St. Patrick's Day tea in room two at the school. They were assisted by Mrs. Gerald Wingate, official senior mother.

Each guest was met at the door by a senior and presented with a clover leaf, which was pinned to their shoulder lapel, and registered in a green clover-shaped guest book.

Present were Truman Beard, Travis Hilliard, Homer Smith, Arlin Bint, G. B. Rush, J. W. Cullwell, O. L. Stamey, Mrs. Loyd Browning, Carl Elliott, Miss Virginia Clark, Truman Robertson, J. A. Winder, J. W. Bailey, Clive Pierce, E. D. Stringer and Dr. R. A. Collins.

Nuptial Shower Given For Shirley Brown

Honoring Miss Shirley Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Brown and bride elect of Mr. Jimmie Van Huss of Dallas, Mrs. Elsworth Mayers hosted a miscellaneous gift tea, Thursday afternoon at her home in Cisco.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. A. Z. Myrick and Mrs. LaNeil Johnston.

Guests were received informally by the hostess group and the honoree, Miss Brown and her mother, Mrs. F. L. Brown. They were registered in the bride's book by Mrs. L. C. Love of Rising Star.

Presiding at the bride's table, laid with white linen and decorated with an arrangement of pastel colored spring flowers, were Mrs. Jerry Myrick and Mrs. Raymond Johnson, who served frosted punch and angel cake squares to about 25 friends.

Many lovely and useful gifts were received and displayed.

Miss Brown and Mr. Van Huss will be married here April 1st in the First Methodist Church.

Ku Klux Klan Dragon Freed

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. March 18 (UP)—A paunchy convict with the number "11148" stenciled across his overalls packed his few belongings today and prepared to leave the prison cell that has been his home for a quarter of a century.

D. C. Stephenson, 56, the once all-powerful grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, was paroled yesterday—just 25 years after he was found guilty of murdering Madge Oberholzer, 28, a pretty state employe in a vicious sexual attack.

Stephenson's parole had been expected after Gov. Henry F. Schricker two weeks ago commuted Stephenson's life sentence to time-served-to-life.

It was understood that Stephenson would go to live with his daughter in Tulsa, Okla., where a job is waiting for him. The greying little convict stood meekly before the four man board yesterday to plead for release, a different man from the bull-voice orator of the 1920's who proclaimed to Klan audiences that "I am the law in Indiana."

Stephenson was found guilty after Miss Oberholzer died at her Indianapolis home from injuries inflicted by Stephenson during the attack aboard a train between Indianapolis and Hammond, Ind.

Stephenson and three of his Klan bodyguards had kidnaped the girl and taken her aboard the train.

After leaving the train in Hammond, the party went to a hotel. Miss Oberholzer managed to slip off to a drug store where she purchased a vial of poison and swallowed it.

She became violently sick and Stephenson sent her back with the three hirelings to her home where she died three weeks later.

Slayer Held In Jail Pending Extradition

MARFA, Tex., March 18 (UP)—Jose Villalobos, 26, who told Mexican authorities he killed Presidio County Sheriff Otis W. (Blackie) Morrow, will be held in the state penitentiary at Chihuahua City, Mexico, pending completion of extradition proceedings.

Gov. Foglio Miramontes of the State of Chihuahua informed local investigators of last Sunday's slaying that the suspect would be jailed and his fingerprints forwarded to Marfa for comparison with prints found on Morrow's car.

The sheriff's body was found in his car in a ditch near Presidio. A bullet pierced the heart and his pistol was missing. Texas officers turned the search for his killer over to Mexican police when their trail led them to the Rio Grande.

Villalobos was arrested Wednesday at his parent's home, some 69 miles south of the border. He was charged with murder with malice aforethought.

His return to the United States to face trial will hinge on the outcome of the extradition move.

Doak And Bride On Honeymoon

DALLAS, Tex., March 18 (UP)—All-American Doak Walker and his bride were on their way to a honeymoon in Canada today after promising to "Love and Cherish"—but not obey—each other in a wedding ceremony here last night.

Before leaving Dallas, the half-back hero of Southern Methodist University and his campus sweetheart, the former Norma Peterson, entertained at a country club reception attended by some 1,000 friends and football fans.

The fashionable University Park Church where the wedding was staged in less than 15 minutes was filled to capacity with other well-wishers greeting the couple outside the church after the rites.

Walker's best man was his father, asst. sup. of schools E. D. Walker. Among his groomsmen were Kyle Rote, SMU backfield star; Mustang coach Rusty Russell and pro football player Bobby Lane.

After June 1, Walker will leave Dallas to join the pro Detroit Lions.

Shirtwaists Get Dramatic Treatment

Sheer chiffon is backed by silk organza to give crispier look to two-piece dress (left). For shirtwaist sheer (right) tweed-printed chiffon is posed over slip covered with matching fabric.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The light, soft silhouette of the sheer shirtwaist dress takes on more interest when the fabric used is given crisp handling or printed in unusual patterned effects.

Gossamer silk chiffon, for example, is stiffened by a lining of silk organza to define the silhouette of one trend-setting dress designed by Christian Dior. This two-piece dress has a skirt that follows the straight and narrow line to point up the casual, bloused shirtwaist top with full sleeves which are tightly cuffed above the wrists. Rose chiffon printed with black squares is backed by rose organza. Narrow black piping outlines the pointed collar and front closing as well as breast pockets and the tight cuffs. Cinching in the fullness of the top is a black calfskin belt.

One of the most unusual patterns shown in chiffon is a tweedy print which peps up styling details for another afternoon shirtwaist sheer. Two layers of chiffon are used here. Beneath the floating, full-skirted dress is a gray silk slip covered with another layer of the chiffon. Raspberry chiffon printed in the same tweed pattern is crushed into a sash. One end of the sash is left free to ripple down the skirt front. A black leather belt worn over the sash provides the sharp contrast needed to accent the misty layers of chiffon.

"IN MY DAY MONEY WENT FURTHER!"

We know, Grandpa. In the "good old days" your dollar could buy a lot more. A fraction of a dollar meant good eating for the whole family! But there's one place where your dollar is still worth a lot, where it really gives full value. Same as in Grandpa's day, it's your friendly bank . . . where every dollar counts, and counts up! Start the banking habit today!
