RENNER, Collin County, May 17 (UP)—Louis Bromfield, author and agriculturist, praised newly established Hoblitzelle foundation awards in agriculture today as comparable with Nobel and Pulitzer prize awards.

The Hoblitzelle foundation of Dallas set up the annual awards and announced them yesterday at an open house of the Texas Research foundation.

E. P. Simmons, chairman of the Foundation's executive committee, said three biennial awards of $5,000 each would be presented to persons who make significant scientific and other contributions to solution of the one-crop farming problems and the situations they have caused.

Karl Hoblitzelle, owner of the Interstate Theatre chain, and his wife set up the Hoblitzelle foundation in 1942 as a public trust.

Oil Companies Attend Austin Meeting, Today

AUSTIN, May 17 (UP)—Representatives of 14 major oil companies at the Texas Railroad Commission's regular monthly production hearing today to talk about oil imports.

The major question was: Do the companies plan to cut the volume of imports?

The 14 oil company spokesmen, most of them presidents of the firms, accepted a commission invitation to appear at the hearing. Primary purpose of the session was to set the production allowable for the month of June.

The importers came to deliver their reply to the commission's inquiry whether they would reduce the flow of foreign oil if it boosted Texas' domestic allowable.

Both purchasers' nominations for June and the Bureau of Mines' estimate of market demand for June showed increases.

Big Day Comin', You Come Too

Saturday the big day of Eastland, is nearly here, "Ranch Day" when you put on your boots and hats for the big parade that starts at 2:30 P. M.

After the parade there is a big surprise for all on the north-west corner of the square, in front of the Cornor Drug Store. Wait till you see what is going to happen. Fun for young and old alike, as well as the various booths and "gimme" games on the midway.

There will be the old fashioned ducking stool, penny pitch, cake walk, cake and sandwiches, pie, coffee, cokes will be available—all home baked, and a few other "skin" games, and we do mean skin games for this is the band booster clubs way. Everybody has fun, as well as the work for the next year, of raising money to carry on donating to this worthy cause. Oh yeah, the jail will be there to keep you company—or you will keep it company, that is.

But don't forget that big surprise on the northwest corner of the square—immediately after the parade—and merchants that do not have an entry in our Ranch Day parade please get one ready, even if you have to walk in it yourself in a bathing suit.

Mrs. Fred Baumgardner has selected pieces from Bach, Mozart and Debussy.

Miss Betty Reuter will deliver pieces written by Bach, Hayden and Addinsall.

GEN. IKE, HARRIMAN SUGGESTED

By R. H. Shackford
LONDON, May 17 (UP)—Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower and W. Averell Harriman today topped the list of Americans being considered for the new job of coordinating the military and economic defenses of the Atlantic treaty countries against Communist aggression.

Foreign ministers of the 12 countries linked by the treaty will announce their plans to create a "Little Security Council" within the past before they adjourn tomorrow. They hoped to be able to name by then the man who will head the new setup.

The desire is for an American civilian of great prestige at home and abroad.

Eisenhower fits all the qualifications for his military background. He now is president of Columbia University.

Harriman, roving ambassador for the Marshall plan, outstrips most other civilians insofar as knowledge of the problem is concerned.

Whoever is named will have the difficult task of trying to coordinate the economic recovery of the West so that good jobs can be done on both without undue harm to either.

SIXTEEN FRACTURES IN THREE YEARS—Richard "Dickey" Dorwart, 3, whose brittle bones have fractured 16 times since he was 7 months old, smiles at newsmen on his arrival in New York City. FORMER ARMY CAPTAIN TELLS OF EXPERIENCES IN OCCUPIED COUNTRIES

"The biggest mistake the United States Government made at the close of the recent war was in withdrawing the seasoned troops out of the occupied countries and replacing them with raw recruits from the states," F. L. Burkhead told members of the Eastland Lions Club at their regular meeting Tuesday.

"The troops who had fought and won the war knew the people and their problems and were respected by the occupied countries while the replacements knew nothing and tried to learn nothing of the problems, mores, and history of the people," he added.

Burkhead's speech was interesting and informing to the point that most of the Lions stayed 30 minutes after the meeting was officially over to question him, concerning his opinions of pertinent world problems.

Burkhead has been in Europe, off and on, for the past 10 years both as a combat and an occupation soldier. He came up through the ranks from private to Captain, the rank he held at his discharge in April. Right now, he's "just resting."

He has served in Germany, in France and more recently in Vienna. He returned from Vienna only last month.

BUSINESS DISCUSSED
Business included a resume of the Mineral Wells convention at Lion President, Wes Harris. Notice was given that Third Vice President Edward Adelman had moved from the city and Bill Frost was elected to his place. Neal Day was elected Assistant Tail Twister. Guests included Dr. Lund, newcomer to Eastland. Wylie Mason was introduced as new member.

LIFE IN VIENNA
"Vienna was quite the place," Burkhead remarked. "It is divided into four zones—Russian, French, British and American. A Patrol, composed of a representative from each nation, (and using American gasoline, oil and vehicle) pulled reconnaissance of the whole area. A soldier caught in the Russian zone was interrogated and could be released only to his commanding officer. The C. O. had to make out a report including the soldier's business in the zone and the punishment he would get.

"Only one train each day left for Vienna for the American zone and after each train was underway, all doors and windows were locked, the shades pulled and a Russian guard was placed on each door to keep the Americans from spying. Only after the frontier was passed was the shades and windows raised, no matter how hot it got."

IF WAR COMES
Asked what the occupied countries would do in the event of a Russo-American war, Burkhead stated, "If they think they are fighting for their country, they will make a feeble effort. But as for fighting for democracy, they've had enough fighting. All they want is food, their home, and to be left alone."

"The Germans will fight and fight hard in the event of such a war," Burkhead added, "because they know the Russian first-hand. They know that their chances under Russian rule are slim and they will fight to defeat them."

"I used to think that it would be a wonderful idea to load many boats with thousands of Germans and bring them over here to see what Democracy was like. But now I think it would be a better idea to reverse the situation and take some Americans through Germany. Only when two people know each other can they work together successfully."

The program was under the direction of Everett Plowman and Plowman introduced Burkhead. Approximately 40 members were present.

Funds Released

AUSTIN, May 17 (UP) — A $4 per capita payment, totaling $6,219,095 and based on a census of 1,554,758 school children, has been released from the state available school fund. The payment was announced yesterday by State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar.

Clinic To Release

EDINBURG, May 17 (UP) — The Edinburg polio clinic, established two years ago, will depart from its policy of withholding patients' names. Dr. Robert A. Hale, clinic director, said he thought it would "help a lot of the people to know who has polio."

Your Health

AUSTIN, (Special) — State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox believes chronic diseases represent the biggest problem facing health officials today.

Recent statistics compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, show:

1. One-third of all deaths among 15-29 year olds are due to chronic diseases, with tuberculosis being the leader.

2. "Well over half" the mortality in the 30-40 age group is due to chronic disease, with heart trouble, cancer and tuberculosis being the leaders.

3. "Almost 8 out of 10" deaths in the 45-59 bracket are caused by this disease classification, with the proportion rising to 85 per cent for those 60 to 74 years old.

4. For those 75 and over chronic diseases cause 82 per cent of the total mortality. The slight decrease in percentage over age 75 is because of the high susceptibility to accidents, pneumonia, and influenza among the aged.

"When chronic disease is mentioned, all too many people think of the middle-aged or older," the health chief said, adding that such an idea was not consistent with the facts.

The term chronic, Dr. Cox explained, means the opposite of acute. When applied to a disease, chronic means of long duration. That would mean cancer or tuberculosis is chronic, while smallpox

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

BROWNSVILLE, May 17 (UP) — A little worm was causing a lot of talk around the tip of Texas today.

The worm, discovered yesterday, was 'airmailed' to Washington for identification. Cotton raisers thought it might be the first cotton leafworm of the season.

Entomologists said it was too early to predict an infestation, or poliomyelitis is acute.

"The significant thing," Dr. Cox indicated, "is that the chronic disease classification cause one-third of all deaths among young people in the 15-29 age bracket."

"Obviously, that makes the teen ages the first age at which the diseases assume a major mortality role."

AUSTIN, May 17 (UP)—At least one criminal will heed Gov. Allan Shivers' warning to stay out of Texas.

The governor received a letter yesterday from a life-terminer, at Leavenworth, Kan., who said he would still owe Texas five months for parole violation when his Kansas term expires in 1962.

"You can rest assured, Governor Shivers," he wrote, "that if I am freed from the state of Texas I will never return."

AUSTIN, May 17 (UP)—Almost two hundred new lawyers had a warning today from the State Chief Justice J. E. Hickman to get into another field if they believe in the profession of law "only as a means of making money."

Hickman imparted his advice yesterday while swearing in the 175 persons who passed the state bar examination given in March.

... but it is valuable at least twice in your insurance experience. First is, when you go to purchase a policy. Don't select just any kind of an agent or any kind of policy. There's a difference. Second is, when you have a claim: Use your own conclusions here, but for ourselves, we want somebody with a long record of successful performance in adjusting claims when we have a loss.

Ted Williams Makes Dirty Gestures But Cronin Says 'Helluva A Nice Guy'

BOSTON, May 17 (UP)—For nearly 11 years Boston baseball fans have been trying to make temperamental Ted Williams their hero—but he wants no part of them.

Now a lot of fans want no part of him because of several obscene gestures he made last week after committing two errors in a double header his Red Sox team mates dropped to the visiting Detroit Tigers.

Today, Boston General Manager Joe Cronin, a former great who knows what it's like to be raked over the coals by the fans, came to the defense of the "splendid splinter."

"He's a helluva a nice guy who has done a lot of nice things," Cronin said.

"Ted shuns publicity in the worst way as far as his private life is concerned," he said. "Because of that, hardly any fans know what he has done."

"On his own and without being forced, Ted has visited hundreds of sick kids in hospitals," Cronin said. "He went because he wanted to. That's the side of him few people know about."

Added to that is the story of a Boston sportswriter who asked Williams to visit a friend's son sick in a hospital. Williams agreed to do so, but said that if the sportswriter wrote anything about it he'd never get another story out of the ball player.

Fans don't know that side of Williams' character because he doesn't want them to. He figures he's got a job to do, at $100,000 a year, and he does the best he can. His best is often terrific.

Despite his aloofness, and constant refusal to tip his hat in thanks, Williams gets more than a normal share of applause when he walks up to the batter's box or runs out to his left field position in Fenway Park here.

But mixed in with the cheers are always jeers and boos. Most every great ball player gets them at one time or another, but Williams can't seem to become accustomed to them.

Williams is a natural for a hero's role in everything but temperament. Tall, lithe, handsome, he's a picture of grace either swinging at a pitch or loping after a long fly. He gets unbelievable power into his swing and is one of baseball's roughest hitters.

The fans rode reticent slugger mercilessly after he committed the second error last week. One of the misplays cost the Red Sox the second game. Williams lost his temper and made the obscene gestures apparently because he was angry with the fans as he was with himself.

His apology for his actions, issued the following day by the Red Sox management, was brief. Many considered it inadequate. But it was typical of Williams. Whatever the fans and sportswriters think of him personally

Southwest Must Conserve Soil, H2O, Solon Says

Anderson Warns About Dust Bowl
HOUSTON, May 17 (UP)—Unless the Southwest finds more effective ways of conserving soil and water, another "dust bowl" era may come to pass, a former cabinet member said.

Sen. Clinton Anderson, New Mexico Democrat and former secretary of Agriculture, warned some 800 dinner guests at a "Save the Soil and Save Texas" banquet that soil conservation methods have led farmers away from proper dusting conditions.

Anderson said some farmers had plowed up their land in the Great Plains area, leaving it as open fields.

"We certainly are not out of the woods yet—in the plains or in the country as a whole—when it comes to handling our land safely for permanent production, in dry years and wet," Anderson said.

To avoid another dust bowl, such as the one which plagued the Southwest in the 1930's, "we must redouble our efforts, make up for the time we have lost through generations of neglect of our rich heritage of these natural resources," Anderson said.

Shivers presented $13,000 in cash awards, plaques and certificates to farmers. The awards were sponsored by three Scripps - Houston newspapers - The Houston Press, Fort Worth Press and El Paso Herald-Post.

Nichols Talks Much About Hat

WASHINGTON, May 17 (UP)—This is one of those stories which could be gospel. Or, as Dizzy Dean used to say, "no-doubtably."

Anyway, here it is as gathered over a jigger of tea at the National Press Club:

A group of five government employes had a car pool. One of the boys made the mistake of showing off a new green hat he had bought the other day. A jim-dandy Homburg which put him back $18.75, including tax and the initials in the sweat band.

After a few trips to and fro he began to bore his pals with reports of the fine qualities of a fine hat. They decided to gang up on him. They named a committee of one to run down to the nearest hat palace and buy a fedora just like it—only two sizes too big—also with initials.

That night when the hat man put on his bonnet it covered his ears. He looked inside and saw his own initials.

"Head must be shrinking," the man thought.

So he went down and bought a box of tissue and stuffed most of it under his hat band—so that the hat fit. He showed up for his pool ride as if nothing had happened.

His friends couldn't let a good thing die.

Next day, after our man parked his over-sized topper in the locker, one of the rascals substituted the original, smaller-sized one—with all of the tissue parked inside.

That night, when our man put his hat on he looked like something out of a slapstick comedy. He felt like it, too. Was he going out of his head? Was his head puffing or shriveling?

The fellow was like a man possessed!

He didn't look right in the mirror—and he didn't feel right, either.

He got so he didn't sleep nights, because the car pool boys began to switch the hats day by day. One day the big one, with no tissue the next the little one—with the tissue.

For a whole week the man took part of his annual leave and didn't show up for his ride down

In it he announced the suspension of service and thanked the readers for their "interest in this source of news about life in the U. S. and the American people.

Texans Have Big Money At Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 17, (UP)—Texans who came to the Kentucky Derby used a big proportion of the $1,000 and $500 bills which were wagered at Churchill Downs that day.

Without counting $1 bills, at least $43,000 from Texas was spent at the track on Derby Day, according to the Federal Reserve bank. The Texas currency was easy to identify, since it was issued by the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas.

The $20 bill was the most popular at the derby—$520,000 in that dimension of currency going through the mutual windows.

Four counterfeit bills were picked out of Derby Day receipts.

town; even when it was time to take his own car.

His friends learned that he had been visiting a psychiatrist.

The doctor, who had been tipped off by one of the carpoolers, caught on.

"Your head is the right size and it's your own. Why don't you do this: Go down and buy yourself a new hat and throw this jinx away? It'll make a new man out of you."

The poor guy bought a new hat—this time, one for $25. It's a brown one with no initials on the sweat band.

It fits fine. That's the way I get the story. The fellow is doing a good job again, they say.

Olney Man Wins Race, Harvesting U. S. First Wheat

OLNEY, May 17 (UP)—Credit for harvesting the nation's first wheat of 1950 went today to a farmer living five miles southwest of here.

Elmer Henning sold his initial harvest of 50 bushels to the Olney Feed and Grain Co., yesterday at $2.15 per bushel.

The yield from his 206-acre tract was 14 bushels per acre—better than expected because of drought and greenbug conditions, Henning said.

The grain weighed 60 pounds per bushel, with a moisture content of 13 per cent.
