Prexy Asks Additional War Money

WASHINGTON, July 7 (UP)—President Truman today asked Congress for an extra $260,000,000 for "work on all forms of Atomic weapons, including the Hydrogen or Fusion bomb."

The President said in a statement that the money would enable the Atomic Energy commission "to build additional and more efficient plants and related facilities required in furtherance of my directive of January 31, 1950."

"That directive," Truman added, "called upon the Commission to continue its work on all forms of Atomic weapons, including the Hydrogen or Fusion bomb."

Scotch Foursome Set At Eastland Course Sunday

A Scotch foursome match will be held at the Eastland Country Club Golf course Sunday, beginning at 2 p. m. Hubert Westfall has announced.

Westfall requested that all who wish to participate in the event be at the course not later than 2 p. m. to be paired off.

In a Scotch foursome, a lady and man are paired off together, and two pair will go out each time, forming the foursome.

The Scotch idea comes in the fact that only one ball is used by each pair, with the man and lady alternating at shooting.

Those participating will draw for teams and teams will be balanced out as equally as possible.

Any girl who would like to participate and doesn't understand about the match, may contact Mae Plowman at the Corner Drug and she will explain it.

It will be a nine hole match, Westfall said, with the pair with the lowest total receiving golf ball as a prize.

Any single girls who have just started playing are urged to come out, and will be matched with a partner who will make their team as equal to the others as possible.

Edwin T. Cox Writes Eastland County History

The History of Eastland County, Texas, by Edwin T. Cox, has been published by the Naylor Company, San Antonio.

Cox stated that he had spent many years compiling the facts for his book. It was ready for publication earlier, but a scarcity of materials prevented its publication.

The book carries the history of the county right up to date. Cox states that he sticks to facts and has personally carefully checked the information he has acquired by examination of available records, and has recorded only what seemed to him the facts.

Cox has lived in Eastland county since 1881, and saw many of the events he describes firsthand.

The book is dedicated to the memory of Edwin T. Cox, Jr. In an introduction to the book, Boyce House points out three things that make Eastland county unique, the oil boom, the Santa Claus bank robbery and Old Rip.

Several pictures showing progress of the county are placed in the front of the book.

The book is divided into seven chapters. The first deals with the background of Eastland county, in which are discussed early settlers, Indians, early homes and other parts of the beginning of the county.

Chapter two deals with the organization of the county, with occupations of the county given in chapter three.

Education in the county is taken up in chapter four, and religion in the county in chapter five. Eastland county social life is discussed in chapter six, outlaw activities in chapter seven and military activities in chapter eight.

The book is a sound history of Eastland county, and interesting to read. Copies of the book may be purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Cox at their home, 703 South Daherty, at $4 per copy.

ATOM BOMB IS SUNDAY PUNCH; USE IN KOREA WOULD DESTROY MORALE

By Harry Ferguson United Press Foreign News Editor

Fred Schwartz was on his way to work today on a New York subway train when he looked up from his newspaper and asked: "If those Commies in Korea are so tough, why doesn't Truman drop an Atom bomb on them?"

Lots of other Americans besides Fred Schwartz are asking that question. Their argument is that we are like a man in a stud poker game who has an ace in the hole but refuses to use it.

There is only one man who can say the word that will send an Atom bomb hurtling down on Communist cities and armies in North Korea. That man is President Truman. The rules specify that if our generals want to use the Atom bomb they have to go to the White House and ask permission. So far there is no indication that they intend to do so.

Joseph L. Myler of the United Press Washington bureau is one of the best informed newspaper men in the country on Atomic weapons. This is the answer he sends to Fred Schwartz and all other Americans asking the $64 question: "The Atom bomb is our Sunday punch. If we use it in Korea, it would be an act of desperation. It would be a confession of military and diplomatic bankruptcy, showing that we were too weak to win without it and that we lack respect for world opinion.

"Another reason is that North Korea has no targets worthy of an Atom bomb. The A-bomb is strictly a tactical weapon as of now, not a strategic weapon to be used against armies in the field. So far as the Korean war is concerned, the targets for the atom bomb are not in Korea. They are in Russia—the production centers that are supplying the Korean Communists with their tanks and Yak fighter planes. Air fields and troop concentrations can be knocked out as easily with regular bombs as they can with A-bombs."

Those are the military reasons, but there are other considerations too. Most of them are moral and political. United States strategy in the Cold War has been to try to put war torn nations back on their feet by giving them economic aid and a democratic form of government. We have had some success with that strategy, notably Italy. A few years ago it was touch-and-go whether the Communists would seize power in Rome. We encouraged the Italian government to stand firm against such Communist tactics as strikes and riots, and Italy was saved for the democratic world.

We hope some day to make Korea a unified, democratic nation, including territory both North and South of the 38th parallel. We even hope that men who are now enlisted in the Communist army will become peaceful, useful citizens. Suppose we dropped an Atom bomb on the Communist capital of Pyongyang?—Some 75,000 people probably would be killed and where there had been a thriving city, there would be nothing but desolation.

The minds of the Koreans would be scarred for generations by the memory of the awful day the big bomb fell. They would always remember America turned loose upon men, women and children the most deadly weapon man ever invented.

Outnumbered US Forces Hurdled Back Thirty Miles In Two Days By North Korean Armored Units

By Earnest Hobercht United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Saturday, July 8 (UP)—The North Korean offensive came to a temporary halt some 40 miles north of Taejon today, but four tank-led Communist armored divisions were reported to be massing for a new assault on battered American forces.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's midnight communique reported that Communists had reached positions along a line North of Chonan, ancient walled city 36 miles Northwest of Taejon. From there the line runs eastward through Mugung and Chunju.

That was the approximate position of the North Korean vanguard as reported in field dispatches yesterday after it had rolled back the heavily outnumbered American advance elements some 30 miles in two days.

U. S. Engineers blew up the main highway bridge over the Ansong River between Pongtaek and Chonan. Thus they won a breathing spell for the battered front-line American troops. U. S. forces are hurrying Northward to the battle zone.

MacArthur reported a forward movement of Communist forces, indicating preparations for a new attempt to knockout the advanced American units before their reinforcements could arrive.

Light bombers of the U. S. Fifth Air Force swarmed to the attack on the advancing Communists.

They hit tank concentrations North and South of Pongtaek, and left a number of tanks burning. Many trucks and other vehicles were shot up.

Two B-26 medium attack bombers were lost, and two crewmen of returning planes were wounded.

Three F-51 single-engined Mustang fighters were missing in a widespread assault. They shot up a locomotive, troop cars, tanks, half tracks and trucks.

The 20th Air Force sent its superforts against the Rising Sun Oil Company's refinery at Wensan, 70 miles North of the 38th parallel on the east coast. Rail yards and bridges near Seoul also were attacked.

"Results were good to excellent," the communique said. It gave the first confirmation of the loss of Magung, 28 miles East of Pongtaek, and of Chungju, 46 miles East of Pongtaek.

Gov. Shiver's Sons Better MISSION, July 7 (UP)—The two sons of Gov. and Mrs. Allan Shivers were slightly improved today but Mrs. Shivers said John Shary, 10, and Allan, Jr., 4, remain acutely ill.

US Superforts Believe To Have Bomed Soviet Subs: Russians Warn America Of Responsibility

TOKYO, July 7 (UP)—American B-29 Superfortresses bombed four craft believed to be Soviet submarines in North Korea's biggest port yesterday, the Air Force announced today.

A Far East air forces communique said the amount of damage to the four craft was not observed. They were caught in Chinnampo harbor, some 20 miles Southwest of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

The communique identified the targets merely as "craft believed to be submarines", without speculating on their nationality.

However, U. S. Navy sources said the North Korean navy has no submarines. It is unlikely any naval power except Russia would have underseas craft in North Korea.

If the submarines were Russian, it was the first time that war craft of either the United States or Russia have attacked that of the other power since Soviet fighter planes allegedly shot down an unarmed U. S. Navy Privateer over the Baltic sea April 8 with a loss of 10 American lives.

March of Dimes Funds Go Fast In Epidemic

NEW YORK, July 7 (UP)—Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today the record contribution of $30,783,000 to the 1950 March of Dimes was being spent at an "unprecedented rate" in the fight against polio. Last year, he said, more than $29,000,000 was spent on the care of 42,375 new polio patients, the largest number ever recorded in a single year. He said the number of new cases this year was slightly ahead of the same period in 1949. O'Connor said $2,666,129.70 had already been advanced, as extraordinary emergency aid to various foundation chapters. Arkansas, Michigan, Minnesota and Texas have each received more than $200,000. California and Illinois have received more than $150,000 each, he said.

O'Connor said the cost of patient care had increased, but that the foundation had "stepped up to the limit of our resources the research program to find a preventive or cure for the disease."

"The result of this research probably the most extensive voluntary program ever leveled against a single disease, is new knowledge about infantile paralysis," he said. "Scientists are more optimistic now than ever before that they are on the right track to an ultimate solution."

Federal Board Has Plans For Mobilization

CHICAGO, July 7. (UP)—The Federal Munitions Board, operating on a general government alert that a war may come without warning, has specific plans to put 253 industrial plants into war production on short notice, it was announced today.

Another 200 plants are in reserve, either in a standby status or under stipulation that they be kept in condition to convert to a war footing within 120 days.

Board Chairman Hubert E. Howard issued the figures in an article published in the magazine of the Chicago association of Commerce and industry.

Howard said the Army Navy, and Air Force still manage 270 of the 1,593 plants built by the government during World War II.

The board, Howard said, is at work on more than 70 programs for the mobilization of American industry for war, all of them aimed at speedy conversion to war goods.

Of the total plants available to the government for war production, Howard said detailed blueprints for war production have been made in 253.

Brooklyn 8, Boston 3.
St. Louis 13, Cincinnati 1.

Howard said the board had acquired several reserves of machine tools which could be used to expand industry in an emergency.

He said that the board had studied the problem of wartime manpower and decided on a list of 300 skills that require two years to acquire and are expected to be scarce in wartime.

"Persons having one of these skills will be drafted only to the extent and in the definitely needed for that skill by the services," Howard said.

Howard said the board currently is stockpiling 71 materials classified as critical. They include tin, tungsten, copper, manganese, chrome, nickel, aluminum, mica, asbestos, talc, rubber, rope fiber, industrial abrasives and various drugs.

An outlay of $3,800,000,000 will be spent, Howard said, to complete this stockpile. Forty items, he said, were put on the list because they are imported. Many could not be obtained in wartime at any cost, he said. More than $1,500,000,000 worth of these materials already are on hand, Howard said.

Mrs. McIntosh Writes Only Hadacol Helped Sick Stomach Spells caused by deficiencies of Vitamin B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin

We are indeed very happy to make public this letter from Mrs. McIntosh and hope that any of our readers who are suffering from such deficiencies will profit from her experience

1042 Hickland Memphis, Tennessee April 9, 1950
Dear Sir:
I have been wanting to write you before now and tell you about your wonderful HADACOL and I just couldn't put it off any longer. I am 24 years old and have been nervous and run-down for quite some time. I kept suffering with my stomach. I kept having those dreadful sick spells. I finally had to give up my job and stay home, and that's the reason I'm home now to rest. So I decided I was going to get a bottle of HADACOL after hearing about it over the air, and try it because nothing else seemed to help me. I know people won't believe me, but I had only finished that one bottle of HADACOL when my stomach felt better than it ever had in my life. It's the most wonderful product I know of. I'm not nervous like I was, I'm gaining weight, something I never could do. I've got my grandmother taking it too, and it has helped her so much. Thanks for a wonderful product.
Mrs. McIntosh
Many Doctors Recommend HADACOL

So if you're troubled this way, don't keep on putting off relieving the REAL CAUSE of your trouble. HADACOL gives you more than your daily needs of these vital elements. Remarkable improvements are often noticed within a few days' time. Get That Wonderful HADACOL Feeling
The great advantage in taking HADACOL is that continued use of this great product helps prevent such stomach misery from coming back to torture you. Know what it means to enjoy that wonderful, wonderful HADACOL feeling!
You'll have to admit anyone is very foolish and deserves no sympathy if he or she continues to suffer such stomach disorder when relief is so near at hand at any drugstore. Go right now to, or telephone, your nearest druggist for HADACOL. Start taking it today. Trial-size bottle costs only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There is only one true and genuine HADACOL which everyone is talking about.

Dallas War Plants Dust Off Plans For High-Gear Military Production

By H. Smith Johnson
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, July 7 (UP)—War-time production experts in Dallas dusted off plans today and announced they were ready to sky-rocket into immediate high-gear production if there is a national emergency in the near future.

With an eye, perhaps, on the Korean crisis, companies such as Chance Vought aircraft and Texas engineering and Manufacturing were calling back a few experts.

Chance Vought spokesman said his company already "had naval standby orders to produce certain critical spare parts."

These were tagged for the Far East where Chance Vought's carrier based fighters were already seeing probable naval action.

To make these parts, Chance Vought said, it would call back "many tool experts." The number of machinists to be hired was not revealed.

However, Chance Vought plans no immediate step-up in production of its night fighter, the Corsair (F4U) or its twin-jet fighter, the Cutlass (F7U).

Just how many Corsairs and Cutlasses were being turned out daily at the Chance Vought plant was "restricted." At its peak in May, 1945, however, the company was producing a Corsair every 74 minutes, 24 hours a day.

At present, Chance Vought has ceased to make its single jet fighter and is concentrating on Cutlasses and Corsairs. Both are carrier based.

At Temco, where cargo-type airplanes are reconditioned, president Robert McCulloch said his company would hire between 300-400 new employes within the next 30 days.

Temco has been in government service since World War II, and has refitted many of the famed Berlin airlift planes.

"This increase in personnel," McCulloch said, "is designed to handle larger government orders for reconditioning certain types of aircraft."

"Our plant is ready. It is larger than suits our present needs, and we can therefore expand as the government need expands," said McCulloch.

Two other war-time Dallas plants also announced "ready" today. John E. Mitchell of the John E. Mitchell Cotton Gin Manufacturing Company said his plant could be converted on short notice.

During World War II this plant had 26 government contracts. It made rocket and bomb parts. Tools and dies have been mothballed and are "ready if the nation ever needs them."

Mitchell said his company was already bidding on the open market for some government arms contracts, but he said, "We are seeking these to offset our slack season in the fall."

At the Murray Machinery company, the situation was much the same. President J. Kirby McDonough said he would not expand his plants in Dallas, Atlanta, or in South Boston unless "the government declares a state of emergency."

Te said, "Our plans are ready to become war-time units over night if there is need."

During the last war Murray company shops turned out thousands of 77MM, 90 MM, armor penetrating shells and aerial bombs.

"We stay in close contact with the government. They know where we are. They can find us if they want us," said McDonough.
