Perdue Blows In Strongly; Tenth In Pool

Crossman and Savage No. 1 Perdue blew in strong Thursday morning, the tenth flowing well in the new Lake Sand pool about four miles west of Eastland.

The well came in without hydrafrac, and indications were that it would be the best producer in the new pool to date.

A test run was started Thursday morning, but the pressure was so great that a leak came in the pipe. A new line was laid Thursday and a test was expected to be made Friday.

Pressure was so great when the well blew in early Thursday, oil was hurled to the top of the huge steel derrick over the well.

Giehrst Drilling company is preparing to drill the No. 1 E. E. Ayers as a west offset to production in the Bankline - Owen field.

The No. 1 Ayers is 330 feet from the south and 987 feet from the west lines of section 49, B. 4, H & T C Survey. Slated depth is 3,600 feet with rotary.

Bankline's No. 5 Mrs. Briggs-Owens was nearing completion. Spudding operations have begun on location of the No. 7 Owens.

The No. 6 Owens flowed 75 barrels in a three hour test Thursday.

Two Counties Win Big Texas Poultry Contest

Wyman Blair, poultry farmer of the Corinth community, recently received a check for $50.00 as first place winner in the Texas Farm and Home Egg Laying contest in the 1,000 hen division.

According to Blair there were four different divisions in the contest that any poultryman could enter depending upon the size of his flock. He entered the 1948-49 contest but failed to place. The contest that he won started on Oct. 1, 1949 and closed on July 31, 1950. Blair started the contest with 1,000 laying hens and ended with only 425 birds due to close and frequent culling.

"I culled my hens every time they did not look right or were not laying. I put them in the cull hen house and about every two weeks I took them to town and sold them," Blair said.

He has electric lights in his laying houses on his farm on Highway 80 nearly midway between Eastland and Cisco. The hens were awakened by lights that flashed on each morning at 4:20 a.m. and was their signal for 'hitting' the ground for feed, water and their daily round of egg laying.

He plans to enter the contest again this fall if it is continued he said.

Eastland county also had another winner, Mrs. Toy Funderburk, Ranger. This "was the second successive year" for her to win.

Eastland county annually produces over a million dozen eggs according to J. M. Cooper, county agricultural agent.

MAY BE "SEOUL CITY SUE"—Unconfirmed reports from Tokyo says that Mrs. Ann Wallace Suhr, right, may be the "Seoul City Sue" who broadcasts to the U. S. troops in Korea. Mrs. Suhr, formerly Ann Wallace of Holdenville, Oklahoma, had this photo taken in 1930 while in Korea. The woman at left is identified as her secretary who taught Mrs. Suhr the language and customs. Later Mrs. Suhr was imprisoned by the Japanese along with her husband, a Korean missionary. Her sister says she believes Mrs. Suhr is the only American left in Seoul, and is firm in her belief that she is making the broadcasts. It is by use of force on the part of the Communist invaders. 22 INJURED WHEN SANTA FE PASSENGER GOES OFF TRACK BY LAMPASAS, YESTERDAY

LAMPASAS, Aug. 31 (UP)—An east-bound Santa Fe railway train tossed seven passenger cars off its tracks and down a steep embankment early today and 22 persons aboard were injured.

One of the first men to reach the scene was Sheriff Fred Mason of Lampasas county.

"Some of them were butchered up," he said. "It was too dark to tell very much about them," he said.

Five passenger coaches and two pullman sleepers rolled off the 15-foot high gravel embankment into deep ditches on both sides of the right-of-way.

As the cars left the rails, they tore up 16 sections of track. Emergency crews began repairing the sections and hour after the 3:30 a.m. derailment.

The diesel engine and baggage car were not damaged. They proceeded to Lampasas at daybreak.

Phone Company Makes Appeal To Hunters

"Please don't shoot at birds on telephone lines," is the plea of W. H. McAnally, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, who says that each year thousands of telephone wires are broken by stray shots during the hunting season.

"BIRDS CAN FLY AWAY," McAnally Said

McAnally said, "but telephone wires just have to sit there and take it. It's not that the hunters deliberately try to hit the wires, and I don't think sportsmen would shoot at a sitting bird on a wire, but I guess they just don't realize that a hasty shot, might cause serious damage to telephone lines and disrupt long distance service."

Explaining the yearly dilemma, McAnally pointed out that each hunting season money, man-hours, and telephone calls are lost through gunfire damage to telephone lines.

"IT WOULD HELP A LOT," he said, "if hunters would be very careful when they are in the vicinity of telephone lines. Even if a bullet or shot only nicks the wire, when cold weather comes the wire contracts and the added stress may cause it to break."

One solution advanced by the manager was that telephone engineers might try to develop a type of wire that would move when shot at. "In the meantime," he said, "all we can do is to ask hunters to be careful when shooting at birds near telephone wires."

Allies Holding Pohang; Reds Launch Offensive Toward Port Of Pusan

BULLETIN

ON MASAN FRONT, KOREA, WITH U. S. 25th DIVISION, Friday, Sept. 1 (UP)—The North Koreans launched an all-out, full scale attack all along the Southwestern front at midnight Thursday, with tanks, artillery and infantry.

The center of the attack was at Haman, 37 miles west of the vital port of Pusan.

TOKYO, FRIDAY, SEPT. 1 (UP)—North Korean Communists have been thrown back again at Pohang with bloody losses.

Hammered by tanks and artillery and strafed unceasingly by American planes, the enemy broke and ran west of the city which stands just five miles from our most important Korean airstrip. Allied gains there have totaled three miles in the last two days.

North of Pohang Gen. Douglas MacArthur's midnight communique said that counter-attacking South Koreans had retaken almost a mile of lost territory, and now were within 500 yards of the positions they held two days ago when the enemy began his heaviest attack.

Air attacks alone were reported to have killed 1,200 Communist forces and possibly as many as 2,000 in the Pohang fighting.

Elsewhere, too, the front was breaking into action.

G. I.'s of the American Second Division went over to the attack in the north central section of their Naktong river sector, after a vicious artillery barrage. The attack began at midday Thursday, and last reports said "everything is going well."

The Yanks were attacking an enemy-held town near Hyonpung on the east side of the river, in the vicinity of the famous Naktong bulge. The Americans were meeting machine gun, anti-tank and small arms fire.

BUT THE INITIATIVE WAS not all with the Second Division.

The Reds were attempting an attack of their own in the center of the line, preceded by what one officer described as a "fantastic" torchlight demonstration.

The G. I.'s first were warned of the impending attack when they saw a giant procession of torchlights moving across low hills toward the river.

On the north, the South Korean Third Division smashed a series of "moderate" enemy attacks and was holding a line three to four thousand yards above the city. Earlier, a strong Communist attack had forced the South Koreans back to within less than two miles of the city proper, but they braced and counter-attacked to regain the lost ground.

AMERICAN NAVY SHIPS AND Marine planes tossed in their bit by whittling down troop concentrations in the coastal area.

American military advisers were not kidding themselves that the city and airstrip were entirely safe from the Reds, but they believed the threat had been reduced considerably.

The Allies now hold the highest ground within several miles west of Pohang.

REPORTS WERE SKIMPY from the Naktong river front where G. I.'s of the American Second Division jumped off to the attack, but it appeared large scale and reports that things were "going well" definitely were encouraging.

One ominous note told of an enemy attack in the vicinity of the famous Naktong bulge in the Changnyong area to the south.

In the northern part of the Second Division sector, an enemy company was observed near the river, and artillery fire claimed an estimated 15 enemy killed.

LOS ANGELES GAMBLER MICKEY COHEN VOTES TO LEAVE TEXAS AFTER TEXAS RANGERS CALL

WICHITA FALLS, August 31 (UP)—Los Angeles gambler Mickey Cohen, hunting for a henchman who left him holding the bag for a $25,000 bail bond, decided to get out of Texas today after two tough Texas Rangers rolled him from his sleep and carted him off to the police station.

Cohen, who arrived in Wichita Falls yesterday on "oil business," was fingerprinted and photographed before he was permitted to return to his hotel.

The pudgy little ganster was asleep when Ranger Captains M. T. (Wolf) Gonzales and M. T. Gonzales rapped on his hotel door about 3 a. m.

They told him to put on his clothes and accompany them to headquarters.

"Mickey decided to leave Texas of his own free will by air immediately," said Gonzales, one of the most famous law enforcement officers in the Southwest.

"I don't feel any good law abiding citizen in Texas wants Mickey Cohen or any of his underworld associates in the state," Gonzales added.

Cohen complained about not getting any sleep as he returned to his hotel.

He had been conveyed into this North Texas town by Jack L. Story, a Wichita Falls oilman.

"I plan to stay around until I get a few oil leases settled," Cohen said last night. "I'll only be in Wichita Falls a few days."

Cohen had hoped to make his trip to Texas without fanfare. But the Los Angeles police department gave him such a build-up that his tour became one of the best-advertised in recent history.

Cohen had hoped to make his trip to Texas without fanfare. But the Los Angeles police department gave him such a build-up that his tour became one of the best-advertised in recent history.

The word from Los Angeles was that Cohen was not only interested in Texas' booming oil business. It was said he was trying to find Dave Ogul, a hood who vanished last year shortly after a gunman ambushed and wounded Cohen on the Sunset strip. Another hoodlum, Dave Nicelli, also disappeared and Cohen had to fork over about $75,000 in bail he had guaranteed for them.

Cohen was accompanied here by Denny Morrison, whose wife is Los Angeles newspaper columnist Florabel Muir.

In her column, Miss Muir said Cohen was tipped off that Ogul had been spotted in the Midland oilfields at nearby Odessa. "Denny heard Cohen had the tip and suggested he go along," Miss Muir said. "The whereabouts of Ogul is a good story and he was trying to get it for me. They didn't want to be noticed, because if police rousted Cohen it would spoil the attempt to locate Ogul." Ogul was free on $25,000 bond and Nicelli on $50,000 bond when they disappeared last year. The money had been put up by Cohen when he and seven of his hirelings were picked up in an assault case.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Layton, Married Aug. 20th, Are In Lamesa

Miss Sue Ann Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Duncan of Gilliland, became the bride of Charles Edward Layton at 6 p. m. August 20, 1950 in the Gilliland Baptist Church. Mr. Layton's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Layton, 605 South Walnut.

The Rev. Mark Daniels, pastor officiated before an arch covered with greenery studded with pink asters flanked at each side by tall candelabra and baskets of pink gladiolas.

Mrs. Irene Neur of Truscott, pianist presented the nuptial music, and played softly, "Leihustrawn" while the candles were lighted and "Clair de Lune" during the ceremony. She also accompanied Mrs. Bob Nunley of Hamlin, who sang, "Always" and "Because", preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin wedding gown made with a full skirt, which extended into a chapel length train. The tight fitted bodice had a yoke trimming of seed pearls. Her veil of imported illusion was held in place by a heart shaped tiara, with orange blossom trimming. She carried a satin shower bouquet of spider orchids centered with a large purple orchid.

Mrs. Fred D. Posey, Jr., sister of the bride, of Iowa Park was matron of honor. She was dressed in pastel green taffeta worn with a white lace hat. She carried a white lace fan bouquet of pink gladiolas. Miss Wanda Baker of Lubbock, college room mate of the bride, was bride's maid. Her costume was identical to that of the matron of honor and of a deeper shade of green. Pat Standefer of Wilson, and Faye Horn of Abilene, lighted the candles. Their costumes were of white taffeta, fashioned with off-shoulder necklines. They also wore white lace picture hats.

Robert Alvis of Abilene was best man and groomsmen were, Bob Meador of Vincent, and Travis Hendrick of Crane.

A reception followed the wedding and was held in the fellowship room of the church.

The bride's table was centered with a lace fan, which served as a background for the bride's bouquet. Satin streamers extended from the fan and were inscribed with "Charles and Sue Ann." The wedding cake and punch bowl were placed at the extreme ends of the table.

Guest were registered by Mrs. John Kinniburgh. Misses Pat Standefer and Faye Horn presided at the table and served the frosted punch and cake. They were assisted by Meses. Emil Narati and Elton Scott.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, Mrs. Layton was wearing a black velvet suit with orange colored hat with black velvet and rhinestone trim. Other accessories were of black velvet. Her jewelry consisted of a rhinestone bracelet with matching earrings. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

While in the university, he was a member of the Cowboy Band, Business Administration Club and the Alpha Phi Fraternity, and served as its president in 1949.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Duncan of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Shaw and Linda of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Goodman and Gayle; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Goodman of Ringling, Rev. W. E. Shipp, minister of the First Methodist church of Breckenridge read the single-ring ceremony at four o'clock in the afternoon before an archway decorated with greenery and bronze chrysanthemums. Members of the immediate families and close friends attended the ceremony.

Mrs. Bill Hudson of Breckenridge, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Joe Sparks of Eastland was his brother's best man.

The bride chose a two-piece suit of navy blue sheer crepe fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves, covered buttons and white trim on the sleeves. Her accessories were of navy blue and her corsage was of white gardenias tied with white ribbon.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth. Silver and crystal appointments were used. A three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple standing inside an outline of a heart. Mrs. Hudson poured, and Mrs. J. L. Hines, aunt of the bride, served. White and gold napkins were used.

The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Trigg, the bride and groom and the groom's father.

Americans Have Plenty Of Respect For South Koreans As Fighting Men

By H. D. Quigg
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH 1st CAVALRY DIVISION IN KOREA, (UP)—Random notes from a moldy memo pad: One of the first things you notice in this war is the respect the Americans have for the South Koreans as fighting men. Everywhere you hear expressions of admiration for them: "Those South Koreans are fighters," the Americans say. "They get right in there—run right at the Communist machine guns."

The G. I.'s are becoming hardened soldiers. Take the case of Sgt. Ernest P. Rogers of Peaks Island, Me., whose business is taking out patrols and who is proud of his reputation as a fighter. A typical Down Easterner with sandy hair and a mustache and freckled arms, he tells about his private war like this:

right through the mouth. A guy opened up at me with a Russian made tommygun. I waited 'till he started to fire again, and then I got him right through the head."

The terrain the war is being fought over—in this sector, at least—is partly flatland covered with soggy rice paddies and other crops, but mostly hills and ridges 1,000 to 1,500 feet high. There are large bare patches on the hills covered with sandy loam and loose rock. The vegetation on them is burrs—much of it long-leaved bushes which have sharp thorns that rip clothing.

There is a new pill for Malaria—taken as a preventive—in this war. It's called Choroquin and it's prepared in a big, flat, white tablet which you take once weekly. Troops in the Malaria belts in the last war took a yellow pill called Atabrine once daily. Atabrine turned your skin yellow. It was amusing to watch the Filipinos, when we finally came back to their islands, gaping at the thousands of yellow skinned Americans dressed in green fatigue uniforms. The Army had known when the war started three years before had had khaki uniforms and white skins. The Atabrine yellow came out of your skin if you stopped taking the pills, but it took a long time to disappear.

The 1st Cavalry Division, by the way, is not mechanized, although many persons in the U. S. seem to think it is. It's just infantry mighty proud and confident infantry, though.

Agriculture In Eastland County

Eastland County Agricultural activities DC 24 — BULLOCK

George I. Lane, County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration states that funds for FHA borrowers will be more limited, and that loans will be very difficult for one-cash-crop operators; applications will be favored if good soil improvement and proper livestock management practices are carried out. FHA recommends 10 lbs. vetch and 20 to 30 lbs. P_2O_5 with 200 to 300 lbs. superphosphate per acre for winter cover crop and also for winter livestock grazing for Eastland County. Gardens for home production should be in the planning stage for 1951. During November a layer of three or four inches of barnyard manure should be applied and followed with 200 to 250 lbs. of commercial fertilizer per one half acre. This should be turned under and will be in excellent shape for spring planting.

Ed Steele, Assistant County Agent, announced that the Annual Eastland County Sears Pig Show will be held at the Ranger Show Barn Saturday, September 23. Eight gilts will compete for five prizes donated by the Sears Foundation. The Sears Foundation sponsors this program and furnishes registered Duroc Jersey gilts and one boar each year to winning 4-H club boys. The boys and their parents sign a contract that they will feed and care for their pigs properly, breed the gilts to an approved registered Duroc boar at the proper time, and return the choice gilt from their litter to the program to go to another boy. The first place gilt and the boar will go to Breckenridge to the Area Show Saturday September 30th.

Emmett Powell, Administrative Secretary for Eastland County Production Marketing Administration reports that the measuring of peanuts and cotton has been completed and all producers will have a notice of their acreage in the near future. It is estimated that we have approximately 38,000 acres of peanuts in the County. About 50 per cent of the farms have overplanted their allotment and will sell the excess peanuts for oil. This excess acreage is not very large, varying from one half to 50 acres per farm. The cover crop program should get underway way soon. When Congress appropriates money for the 1951 program, we will be able to furnish purchase orders for seed and fertilizer. Money is still available for practices to be carried out under the 1950 program. How about terraces this fall?

The Cisco FFA is planning to plant their demonstration farm in dry land alfalfa this fall, according to Gail D. Jones, Cisco High School Vocational Agriculture Instructor. Last year they had it planted to wheat for temporary winter pasture and cover crop, on which they grazed some stocker steers. Reports indicated favorable results were obtained on this group project.

The Eastland FFA boys are busy getting some good productive projects started for the 1950-51 school year, according to M. D. Fox, Eastland Vocational Agricultural Instructor. They report a more favorable outlook for feeding and breeding projects for this year than for last. In addition to individual projects, the Eastland FFA Chapter is sponsoring a cooperative group project of Hy-Line and White Rock laying hens. The pullets have now begun to lay, and show promising results in the comparative laying test being conducted between the two breeds. The FFA boys have also rented the County Farm for demonstration purposes, where they plan demonstration plants of alfalfa, cover crops of rye and vetch to be seeded this fall, and other check tests in the spring.

Ten men of the Romney Fourth Year Veteran Agriculture class visited the Texas Range Experiment Station at Sonora on August 17, according to James Starr, Instructor. The purpose of the trip was to learn more about better field conditions in attempting to arrive at solutions of the many problems confronting the commercial livestock men. After consulting with Mr. Wallace Demeron, head of the range station, the group continued to the experimental station grounds where they were met by Mr. Carpenter, range management specialist, and Mr. Mathek, who showed them over the main station grounds, buildings, feeding pens and pastures, where their progeny tests with rams and range feeding steers are carried on by the Experiment Station. Among those attending were E. R. D. Donham, R. T. Ezzell, B. H. Morris, L. H. Dill, W. N. Smoot, J. P. Burns, N. D. Burns, J. C. Howard, M. H. Hines, and James Starr, Instructor.

Approximately 30 veterans enrolled in agricultural courses in the Eastland County Vocational School visited the Swift Packing Company at Fort Worth Tuesday, August 29th, according to G. R. McMillan, instructor of the Eastland Veteran Class. Arriving in Fort Worth at 10 a. m., the group toured the Processing Plant and stockyards, after which they were served lunch by Swift company officials. In addition to McMillan, the group was sponsored also by E. Paul Creech, P. C. Spenny, and W. M. Crow.

Members of the Cisco Veteran Agricultural class and their families enjoyed a group picnic at the Lake Cisco Amusement Park Friday evening August 25th, according to Robert Donovan, instructor. A great amount of interest is being directed to the special Minnesota No. 1 gilts owned by Chas. Mahaffy, according to W. M. Crow, Ranger Veteran Agriculture Instructor. The gilts will farrow in the very near future, and have outstanding records for large litters. The Minnesota No. 1 is thought to be the answer for a hog to cross with our present breeds to produce the desirable butcher hog of 200 to 240 lbs. without having excess fat now common to most butcher hogs of this weight. More about this type of hog next month.

According to L. R. Higginbottom, Veteran Agriculture Instructor at Carbon, Iral Bell has one of the most successful alfalfa crops in Eastland county. Iral and his father have 170 acres of South west Common and Argentine alfalfa, the first of which was planted in the fall of 1946 on heavy creek bottom soil. Mr. Bell is now combining his seed, Higginbottom says this is a $100 per acre crop.

The Rising Star Veteran Agriculture Class made a field trip to the Oscar Schaeffer farm August 24, to observe a field of dry land alfalfa. Mr. Schaeffer planted his crop last August, cut one crop of hay in June, and recently combined seed at the rate of approximately 100 pounds per acre. Schaeffer plans to plant an additional 40 acres to alfalfa, according to P. S. Spenny, Veteran Agriculture instructor in Rising Star.

According to G. W. Thomas, Veteran Agriculture instructor at Gorman, the peanut harvest is under way in that area. Mr. Calvin Brown, who began combining his peanuts Tuesday August 22, just three months and seventeen days from planting time, estimates a yield of about 35 bushels per acre on 50 acres. A cover crop was followed by 300 lbs. of lime and 200 lbs. of superphosphate per acre applied broadcast by the Gorman Peanut Company truck.

Reporter Gets Big Welcome As American VIP

By Robert C. Miller
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH SOUTH KOREAN MARINES, Tongyong, (UP) — Even Grover Whalen, New York's official greeter, couldn't have done a better job than Col. Sung Un Kims.

The South Korean Marines had been waiting 10 days for the Americans to visit the port, here is what happened:

I was given command of a Korean ship, mistaken for a general, treated like an ambassador, cheered and paraded up and down the front, wined on prune fixings and bedded down in Tongyong's only brass bed, with an honor guard to prevent any disturbance to my sleep.

I was consulted on military strategy and even interviewed by a lady Korean newswoman on the American opinion of Pearl Buck.

Colonel Kims had been promising his Marines and returning refugees that the Americans would show up eventually.

Unfortunately, the Americans weren't sure the Marines still were in Tongyong and some even doubted that the amphibious landing ever had taken place. All of which seemed to warrant an investigation.

A creaking 60-foot vessel furnished by the Korean Navy had been tied up for a week waiting to carry the first American on the three-hour trip to Rongyong. By the time I got there, Captain Kim Sung San was tired of waiting for an official visitation, had happily turned her and her crew of eight over to the United Press for our complete use and accommodation to take you anywhere.

Grover Whalen and the city of New York couldn't have laid on a warmer welcome. It must be admitted there was a slight disappointment noted when the lined-up Korean staff found that General MacArthur hadn't been able to make it, and honors were being taken by the press.

However, the fact that they had enticed even one American to Tongyong was sufficient excuse for the Korean Marines.

We were accorded the front seat of Colonel Kim's jeep, with the Colonel himself driving carefully around town to give returning refugees a good look at an American.

But it was at the front line ridges that the welcome was most exuberant. Everywhere, the Marines came out of their foxholes and dugouts for a look, and platoon and company commanders followed the procession practically into no-man's land where the Colonel deliberately spent an hour in full view of the enemy.

Apparently this last was to give them an opportunity of seeing the "American reinforcements."

Fortunately, the enemy was far enough away so that even with powerful field glasses, Miller's quaking knees and oozing pores were not noticeable.

Having built up local morale and undermined the enemy, we were taken to general headquarters for a staff meeting to brief the Marines on "the American counter-offensive." No State Department official was ever confronted with a more difficult assignment than attempting to explain why powerfully equipped Americans hadn't made advances proportionate to the South Korean Marines.

The discussion preceded the best meal I've had in Korea, including fried chicken. Nearly two hours were required to prepare sleeping accommodations, a delay for which Colonel Kim apologized most profusely. He explained that it had taken a company of Marines that long to locate a bed in town, as he knew Americans "never slept on the floor."

As I snuggled down in clean white sheets, the dreadful thought struck me of other fronts, and once more I became just another correspondent writing about the views of VIP's instead of being one.

Boyce House Gives You Texas

The most sacred of all spots to Texans is the Alamo. Many poems have been written about it, and one of the best was written by Lynn Elliot, "Moonlight Over the Alamo," which appeared in the Junior Historian. There are shadows that cling to the battered walls, There are winds that weave through the roofless halls, But more than these to him who listens, more than the silvered ivy that glistens In the moonlight over the Alamo, Are voices that shout, youthful and strong; And you can hear in their battle song That runs like a deep tide through their strife, The love of youth for a full, free life. They are the ghosts of men, youthful and bold, Who know the feel of steel that is cold. They know how to fight with empty gun, And how to die when the fight is done. But never did death find a harder crew, That could deal death back twenty to two; And never has death stilled, before or after, And never has life lost, gay and laughter. For the shadows that cling to the battered walls, And the breath that blows through the ivied halls, In the moonlight over the Alamo Are the ghosts of men who loved what they gave,— Lover of life—but not its slave, One hundred years and ten hundred more Will roll by the war-scarred Mission door, And ever free men will watch with pride Those ghosts of young men, guns at their side, Whose last breath, lighting liberty's fire

Los Angeles—

It was rumored around Los Angeles that rival gang leaders egged Ogul and Nicoli into blowing town. No trace of them was ever found.

Cohen's arrival here couldn't have received more publicity if he'd brought a brass band. Los Angeles cops tipped off Texas police long before his airliner landed yesterday.

A welcome party of plain clothemen greeted him at the El Paso airport and tagged along after him, Morrison and another companion, Harry Brooks, as they drove around town in a taxicab for three hours. Finally, the Cohen party flew on to Odessa. Texas Rangers, meanwhile, were ordered to arrest him on sight.

Story finally came to Cohen's rescue. He drove to Odessa and picked up Mickey's party. On the way back here, Story telephoned Sheriff Hammett Vance that he was bringing in a visitor and wanted to avoid any trouble.

Vance met Cohen outside town, put him under technical arrest, and then placed him under Story's custody. Cohen never got near the city's jail.

But everybody knew he was here and his telephone rang so often that he and his friends moved to another hotel.

"I don't see why all the hulla-
