School age children will be back to their books for another nine-month stretch beginning Tuesday in Eastland.

High school students registered Friday, and students of the other schools will register Tuesday beginning at 8:45 a.m.

As the children of our city once again start to school we are reminded to drive very carefully around school zones where the children may be playing or crossing.

Children as a rule are a light hearted group, and they often do not think of the impending danger when they dash out into a street to chase a ball, or just to cross.

Therefore, it behooves the drivers to be especially careful around the school zones where children may be playing or walking.

Each year many school children are killed, or permanently injured, in accidents involving automobiles and other motor vehicles. Many who are seriously injured never return to school, and others miss much training and are compelled to drop behind their regular classmates.

There is no reason that a driver should be in such a rush as to endanger the lives of children who may run or walk onto the street in a school zone.

How many instances can you recall in which a minute or so difference in your arrival time would have made a tremendous difference.

We dare say it would be few, if any. It would make a tremendous difference if you hit a child, and killed or crippled him while rushing to save that minute.

So take it easy when you drive, especially around areas where children may play.

Another reminder to drivers to be especially careful comes with the approach of Labor Day.

Holidays are heavy with tragic news of traffic deaths. Thirty-six Texans died during the July 4 holidays. That many are expected to die this holiday too. Careful driving could save most of these lives. Why not do your part?

The city golf tournament starts at the country club Monday when first rounds will be played.

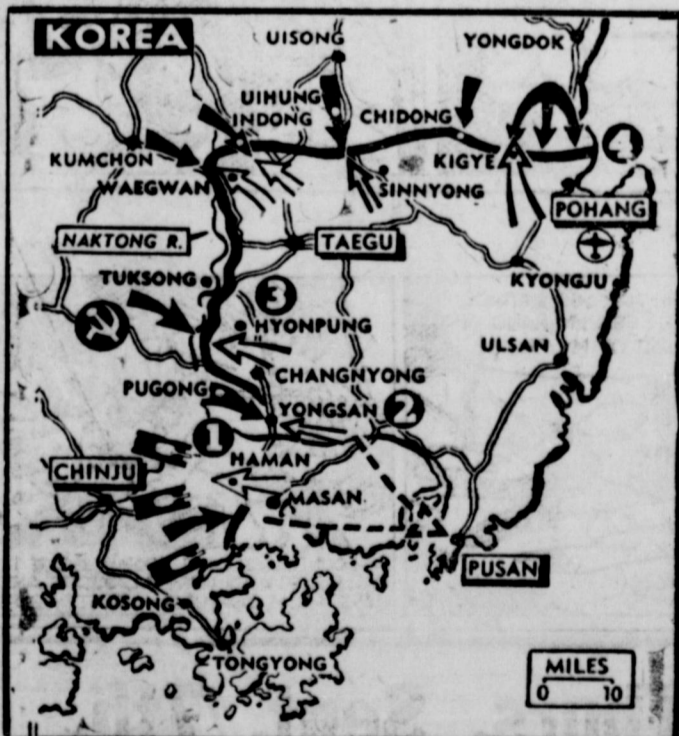

Other rounds must be played by the following Sunday. Qualifying for the meet will be going on until Sunday night. All scores must be in at that time.

The club has been gaining in popularity during the last few weeks.

Jimmy Harkrider is doing a swell job of guiding the club. The course is in good shape for the meet.

The club ladder has been started, and Everett Plowman was sitting on top, this week, at least for a little while.

NORTH KOREANS OPEN "BIGGEST OFFENSIVE"—The North Koreans' "biggest offensive" began along a 50-mile front from Taegu to the sea. On the right flank of the attack, enemy forces bid desperately for smash (broken arrow) through to Pusan. Americans recaptured Haman (1) after losing it in initial onslaught. In the Naktong River elbow, Communists gained eight miles, shoving Yanks back to Yongsan (2). Biggest threat on the northern part of the Naktong front was southwest of Hyonpung (3). On the east coast the drive on Pohang (4) was halted by South Korean forces who re-took Kigye, nine miles northwest. (NEA Telephoto).

Perdue Tests Over Hundred Barrels Hour

Crossman and Savage's No. 1 Perdue which came in strongly this week, is reported to have flowed more than 100 barrels per hour in a potential test.

Drillers expected the well to produce about 3,000 barrels per day. Pressure on the well was extremely high.

A potential report filed for Bankline's No. 6 Briggs Owens showed that in an 18-hour test, with a 20/64 choke, flowed oil at the rate of 100.6 barrels per day.

Casing pressure was 300 pounds and tubing pressure was 130 pounds. The gas-oil ratio was 1,528 to 1.

Drilling on Bankline's No. 5 Briggs Owens was near completion. Upon drilling completion, machinery will be moved to location for the No. 7 Owens.

Location for the No. 8 Briggs Owens, a west offset, has been made 330 feet from the north and west lines of Section 48, Block 4, H&TC Survey, with a permit depth of 3,850 feet.

Lift Up Your Heart

By Rev. C. Nelson

AMERICA'S GREATEST DANGER

Last week we tried to write about what we felt was America's greatest heritage. Today we would try to write what we feel is America's greatest danger. We are facing a threat today from an enemy without. That of Communism. We are also facing danger from within, that of traitors to our way of life. These and others are real dangers and are not to be minimized for one instant, but in all fairness, I do not believe that they are America's greatest danger.

The greatest danger America faces today is the infidelity to the sacredness of the marriage altar, and the moral obligation of the marriage vow. This danger hits at the heart of America. It strikes at the nerve center of our strength, it is hardening the arteries of our power as a people, it is becoming the cancer to the vital organs of our society. It is striking our homes. Need I say again that if our homelife does go on the rocks that America is on the rocks?

Thus menace constitutes one of the most shameful conditions in our land. It is making more orphans than all other contributing factors combined. It is contributing to juvenile delinquency more than any other one thing. Our society, our churches, our government, our very way of life is being endangered here as much as at any other point. And may I say here, that I am talking about infidelity to the marriage vows even though it may never be terminated in a farce called the divorce.

The wedded state is earth's most sacred state. It is older than Man's fall, older than God's Sabbath, therefore it should be entered into to discretely and sanely. And above all in the fear of God. For divorce is a crime against the home, against God, and against society. Divorce is a mark, usually on the part of one or both, of selfishness, unfaithfulness, cowardice, prejudice, jealousy, suspicion, or all or a combination of several. If any that reads this is contemplating breaking up a home, either yours or someone else's. If you will think you won't do it.

US COUNTERATTACKS; REDS PUSH ATTACK

THE AMERICAN WORKER—He did it before and he can do it again. The brains, brawn and mechanical know-how that gave us the greatest war production the world has ever seen are on the job again, meeting the challenge of a foreign creed that scorns the integrity of individual man and makes of him a slave of tyranny.

President's Speech

TRUMAN WARNS WORLD COMMUNISM THAT US TO BUILD ARMY OF 3 MILLION TO STOP REDS

By Edward V. Roberts
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (UP)—President Truman, in a blunt ultimatum to world Communism, said last night that the United States will build an armed force of 3,000,000 men to block further Red aggression.

He coupled the warning with a rallying cry to the nations of the free world which the Voice of America will hurl round the world today in two dozen tongues.

The United States, Truman said, wants nothing from the world save peace and freedom for all nations and all peoples. To gain these simple ends, he said, this nation will fight to the full limit of its mounting resources.

The effort toward that goal, the President said, will require "hard work and sacrifice by all of us." Truman delivered a damning indictment of the Soviet Union and its policies. He warned the Kremlin that Hitler and Tojo fatally underestimated the United States ten years ago, and grimly added: "Let would-be aggressors make no such mistake today."

While the President's address was primarily a simple language expression of American aims and policies directed at countering Soviet propaganda, there were indications that it may have gained him some support on the domestic political front.

Initial reaction from Congress—where the Truman foreign policy has become a hot issue—was predominantly favorable. Even his most outspoken Congressional critics did not take immediate issue with the theme of the President's radio and television report to the nation. His announcement that the armed forces would go to 3,000,000 or more received general acclaim.

The President gave an effective and plain answer to Communist charges that America has imperialist aims in the Far East. He said the United States does not want Formosa, nor any part of Asia; that it believes in freedom for all Asian nations; and that it does not believe in aggressive or preventive war.

Korea, he said, has the right to be free, independent and united, and the United States is going to see to it that it gets that right.

Ranger Man Buy Purebred Jersey

Edwin Hattox of Route 1, Ranger, has become the owner of a registered Jersey for the first time. He has purchased War Bread Design Claret, a Jersey female from the herd owned by Joe Hancock & Sons Jersey Farm of Stephenville.

Jerseys are registered at the national office of The American Jersey Cattle Club in Columbus, O.

Jerseys are especially noted for producing milk that averages more than 5 percent butterfat. The breed also calves and begins producing milk from three to six months sooner than other dairy breeds.

The President's reference to a "united" Korea indicated that the U. S. will never agree to a return to the divided state that existed before the North Korean Reds invaded the Republic in South Korea.

Diplomats speculated that this means United Nations forces will not stop at the 38th parallel when their major counter-attack is launched—a question which Truman declined to discuss at his last press conference.

The President said the United States does not want to see the Korean conflict erupt into World War III, and expressed once again the hope that Communist China "will not be misled or forced" into it.

Of the Soviet Union, Truman said:

1. It has repeatedly violated its pledges of international cooperation.
 2. It has destroyed the independence of neighboring states which have fallen under its sway.
 3. It has sought to disrupt by Communist tactics those countries which it could not dominate.
 4. It has built armed forces far larger than it needs for legitimate defense.
 5. While it accuses America of imperialism in the Far East, Russia has never given up an inch of Asian territory which fell beneath its sway.
 6. It has never given independence to any people who have fallen under its control.
- "Communist imperialism," Truman said, "preaches peace but practices aggression."

General Says Masan Saved; Losses High

BULLETIN

TOKYO, Sunday, Sept. 3 (UP)—The important Allied communications center of Changyong was ablaze under heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire today, and it appeared the Communists were preparing another heavy assault in the face of strong American counter-blows.

By Earnest Hpberecht
 United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sunday, Sept. 3 (UP)—American forces, in a convincing display of their new-found military might in Korea, lashed out in blistering attacks all along a 120-mile front today.

On the southwestern front, where the American 25th division bore the brunt of an all-out Communist drive to push us into the sea, it was announced that all territory lost to the Red offensive had been regained.

A division spokesman announced jubilantly: "Masan has been saved."

Official estimates said that on the Masan front alone, the enemy in the last two days lost 10,000 men in killed or wounded, the equivalent of an entire North Korean division.

From Pohang on the north east end of the line, through the Naktong bulge, to Masan on the south, the Americans and their South Korean allies were attacking.

IN THE AIR, GEN. DOUGLAS MacArthur threw his entire strength at the Reds, whose offensive of two days ago seemed to have lost much of its coordination and to have left Communist units operating in semi-independent groups.

Bombers, jets and propeller-driven fighters poured tons of bombs, bullets, rockets and flaming jelly bombs into the Red forces, bloodying the waters of the Naktong and Nam rivers where the Reds still were trying daylight crossings on rafts and boats.

American commanders were confident they had broken the backbone of the greatest Red offensive yet.

HERE WAS THE PICTURE on the scattered fronts:

Rev. J. M. Bailey To Conduct Sunday Services

Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor, will conduct both services at the Methodist church, Sunday.

His sermon topic for 10:50 a. m. will be "Christian Harmony of the Material and the Spiritual."

A quartet, composed of Mrs. R. Pat Miller, Mrs. P. L. Crossley, and Billy C. Frost, will sing "Lead, Kindly Light" by Purday. Mrs. T. J. Haley will play the Organ.

Sunday school services will be held at 9:45 a. m. The MYF and MIF will meet at 6:30 p.m.

Methodist Choir Sets Dish Supper

The choir of the Methodist church will have a covered dish supper in the church basement Wednesday at 7 p.m., inaugurating the fall musical program of the church.

All old members of the choir, their wives, husbands and children are invited to attend. All ladies should bring a covered dish resplendently adorned with food, according to the choir director.

Any others interested in singing in the choir are also invited to attend.

Following the dinner, a short choir practice will be held, under the direction of Mrs. Cyrus B. Frost, Jr., the new director.

Masan, on the southwest: The port saved, with a loss to the Reds of 10,000 killed or wounded. Returning pilots said remnants of the Communist sixth and seventh divisions were "in full flight" back across the Nam and Naktong rivers, leaving thousands of dead behind them. United Press Correspondent Robert Miller reported, however, that the straightening of the 25th Division lines left it exposed to the right flank of the Red salient thrust across the Naktong in the U. S. Second Division sector.

YONGSAN, NINE MILES east of the Naktong: United Press Correspondent Robert Vermillion said a unit of the American Second Infantry Division drove forward 3,600 yards to rescue a second unit which had been cut off since noon Friday. Spearheaded by tanks, the rescue unit drove the North Koreans off a hill between them and the cut off Americans and into a draw. Then both units attacked and killed 200 or 300 North Koreans. A second cut-off American unit still had not linked up with the main American force. Aerial observers saw a huge "help" spelled out on the side of a hill with men and material.

Wagwan-Taegu area at the far northwest corner of the line: Attacking First Cavalry Division troops were meeting stubborn opposition in their second attempt to take a commanding 1,700-foot height four and a half miles northeast of Wagwan.

KIGYE-POHANG, AT THE northeast end of the line: The Americans and South Koreans launched surprise attacks toward Kigye, northwest of Pohang, and northward from Pohang where an enemy attack had carried to the gates of the port city and its all-important airstrip. First reports said the Yanks and South Koreans had gained their early objectives, with gains up to a mile. The American attacks marked the debut of the 48-ton General Patton tanks with their 90-millimeter guns.

OBSERVERS WERE PARTICULARLY impressed with Gen. Walton E. Walker's ability to launch his surprise attacks in the Wagwan-Taegu-Kigye-Pohang area while still fighting off the big Communist offensive in the middle of the line and south.

A communique issued by Gen. Douglas MacArthur at 10:05 a. m. Saturday night told of the American counter-attacks in the Masan area and described the situation as "well in hand."

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2—A newly-created Army reception center at Fort Sam Houston will receive its first group of inductees on Sept. 15.

FOURTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS said the new center would be established between Sept 5 and 10. It made no mention of the capacity of the center but said men arriving there would receive equipment, inoculations and processed for final assignment to different outfits.

AUSTIN, Sept. 2—Texas' old age pensioners, needy blind and dependent children will find their September checks reduced from those of August.

The Department of Public Welfare said yesterday another 50-cent cut was made on old age assistance checks because of a fund shortage. A similar cut was made last April and has continued since that time. September checks averaged $33.19 for 227,863 persons.

Needy blind checks, averaging $37.60 but $1 less than normal, were mailed to 6,599 persons for September. Aid to dependent children grants were reduced 16 per cent to 19,530 families.

A department spokesman said it was hoped the expanded federal social security act, becoming effective this month, would affect enough persons on the rolls to halt further reductions. He expressed little hope, though, that the $1 cut would be restored.

AUSTIN, Sept. 2—Candidates have until Sept. 19 to be certified for the general election ballot.

Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd said yesterday there would be "no exceptions" for listing political party nominees and independent candidates after the deadline.

Shepperd said he is required to furnish sample election forms and certified nominee lists to all county clerks at least 30 days before the general election on Nov. 8.

AUSTIN, Sept. 2—John B. Mc-

Donald of Palestine resigned yesterday as state representative from district 55 to accept an appointment as assistant Anderson county attorney.

The announcement came from Gov. Allan Shivers office. It said that McDonald, who won the Democratic nomination for county attorney in the recent primary, resigned to familiarize himself with his new job.

He will be succeeded in the legislature by James R. Raxton, Elkhart.

EDINBURG, Sept. 2—Hidalgo county has an additional $42,500 to care for its Polio patients today, as the result of a loan from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The loan was the second this year from the foundation. In June Hidalgo county was advanced $39,600.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2—Police today investigated the death of Robert G. Black, 32, whose body was found lying on the floor of his room yesterday, a necktie knotted about his neck and tied to the rung of a chair.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

End of a Chapter

By Edwin Rutt

THE STORY: Alice Pine, secretary to Muriel Halleck, who writes popular stories under the name of "The Princess," suspects Muriel's husband Brent of cruelty to Rick, his four-year-old adopted son. Although Alice cannot forgive this, she feels strangely drawn to Brent. One night Muriel sees Brent (she Alice is his arm, but Muriel does not seem to be disturbed. Brent goes away to take an advertising job. Our week-end Muriel goes to New York to see her literary agent, leaving Alice alone, feeling she should go unexpectedly. He asks Alice to go sailing with him, but Alice refuses, feeling she should go to see him as Brent asks "Why?" Alice replies, "Because I like you." She had meant her words to sound casual, but her voice betrays her.

XXIII
ALICE'S voice had betrayed her. Definitely. And Brent Halleck caught her in his arms. Alice's hands came up instinctively, pressed against his chest. Pressed once, and then dimly, the strength went out of them.

"You like me?" It was a swift hoarse whisper as Brent repeated Alice Pine's words. Her lips, raised and parted, were too close. Brent's head bent. It was a rough, hard kiss. Its very roughness brought Alice to her senses. She pushed him away, but his fingers clung to one arm. Bit into it, hurt it.

penis, she's succeeding beautifully. After dinner Alice retired to her own room. With a family concubine on it, seemed the discreet move. She read a while, but presently fell asleep. It was nearly evening before she went downstairs again.

Muriel was arranging flowers in the living room. "Well, Alice?" She stepped back, inspecting a vase critically. "At last, we're around to you and me."

"Oh," Alice said, "there's no hurry."

"Well, Brent and I are talked out. Beyond that, he's gone."

Alice controlled a start. There was every reason why Brent should have left without seeing her. But she had been silly enough to think that he wouldn't—today. "You mean he's gone back to Providence?"

"Presumably. Sit down, Alice, and—forget Brent."

ALICE gave her a sharp look. She had the uneasy feeling that Muriel had been about to add something else and changed her mind at the last second.

Instead, she waited for Alice to seat herself on the divan and then Muriel sat down beside her. Muriel fairly beamed. She was anxious to tell Alice something that she thought Alice wanted to hear.

Muriel said: "Hold your hat, Alice! You've got yourself a job in California, if you want it."

"?" Alice jumped. "California?"

"You, California. Oh, Alice!" Muriel kicked up her heels wildly like a hoyden. "I've hit the jackpot. Pat and I had company yesterday. A very charming man named Alec Crowther. Does that ring any bells?"

Alice nodded. "Isn't he some terrific Hollywood person?"

"Just about the biggest of the big brass in Ganz-Phenix Pictures. Smack me down, Alice, if I start sounding big-headed. But, according to Pat, this Alec Crowther flew all the way to New York just to see Little Jo."

Muriel chuckled reminiscently. "That's what he calls me, 'Little Jo' Paige."

Fraleys Says

Indians, Income Tax Is All That's Worrying Joe Louis Before Fight

By Oscar Fraley
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—It wasn't the outcome but the income that worried Joe Louis today as the Brown Bomber started intensive training for his Sept. 27 heavyweight title fight with Ezzard Charles.

Huge black and white sport shoes propped comfortably on a desk, the man who retired as undefeated heavyweight champion on March 1, 1949, had no apparent worries except the American League pennant race as he prepared to go into training at Pompton Lakes, N. J., today.

"Sure I think I'll win," Louis mumbled, and dug back into the paper to read about the Cleveland Indians for whom he is rooting. "I just hope the Indians do, too."

Somebody asked him then whether Charles figured to be one of the toughest men he ever fought. Joe shook his head from side to side and then, laying aside the paper and shrugging his massive shoulders more comfortably inside a trim blue suit, asserted in that low monotone:

"But he does figure to be the toughest man I ever fought at my age!"

Appearing trim and fit after a month at West Baden, Ind., where he did road work daily, Louis curiously enough believes that this will be the easiest fight he had since he came home from four years of Army service.

"I was overweight, about 240 pounds then, and I had to take off too much weight," Louis explained. "This time I'm in better shape going in, weighing only 218 now, and I expect to fight at 214 or 215. So all I've got to do is some boxing to sharpen my punch and my reflexes."

Louis does look in surprisingly good shape now, exactly four weeks from his meeting with Charles, and the reason is that he has boxed seven 10-round exhibitions in the last year. And condition, he believes is all he needs to beat Charles.

"Ezzard don't look too hard to hit," he asserted. "I saw him fight three times, the last time against Pat Valentino last October, and I haven't seen him really hit yet, though.

"I'd like to see him hit, though," he added with a lazy smile.
If he beats Charles, and Louis will be a 7 to 5 favorite, the Bomber will be the first heavyweight champion ever to regain the title. Although New York does not recognize Charles, the N.B.A. titleholder, it will recognize this winner as undisputed champion.

"Far as I'm concerned," Joe said slowly, "I'm the challenger. "But as far as that goes," he chuckled, "I guess you'd say we're both challengers."

If he wins, Louis insisted, he still doesn't know whether he will fight again—"but if I do, it will be in December or January so I won't have trouble staying in shape."

His main thought right now—aside from the Cleveland Indians—is to get out from under his income tax deficit, estimated at $200,000. That sum is for disallowances on his 1946 and 1947 report, some of which are being appealed. He will turn over his whole purse and, if the fight draws well, will be off the hook.

Having straightened out that matter, Joe clapped a white Panama hat on his black hair, covering a spreading thin spot, and announced:

"The ball game calls me, gentlemen."
The fight was the furthest thing from his mind.

Pointing a loaded gun toward a companion violates every principle of good sportsmanship. It is the unpardonable sin of shooting ethics.

Do it just once and you have lost the respect and comradeship of your companion and branded yourself as a thoughtless fool and novice, a dangerous shooter with whom it is unsafe to go afield.

When you rest in the field, lay your gun down flat with the muzzle pointing away from your companions and be sure the gun is unloaded.

When you climb fences, unload the gun and if alone, place it well under and away from the fence, always with the muzzle pointing away from you.

If hunting with someone, pass the guns over one at a time to your companion, unloaded.
Before loading your gun always make sure that the barrel is free of any obstruction no matter how small. A very small particle or foreign obstruction in the barrel can blow up the gun. Should you stumble or fall, unload the gun immediately and look through the bore, making sure there is no foreign matter in the barrel.

While walking beyond the muzzle pointed forward but if walking behind someone, be sure the gun barrel is never pointed toward them.

These are simple, easy to remember and easy to follow rules, but important to your own safety and that of your hunting companions.

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

By J. Fred Eder
United Press Outdoor Consultant

With opening day of the hunting season almost upon us, a few pointers on the fundamentals of safe gun handling are in order.

These basic principals serve a dual purpose. They help to make hunting a safe sport and they go a long way toward improving marksmanship.

Ninety-five per cent of all hunting accidents due to firearms each year could be avoided if every hunter would observe the principles of safe gun handling.

The cardinal rule of gun safety is "treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun." There is absolutely no excuse for carelessness in handling a gun, whether the weapon be loaded or not.

Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.

Whenever you pick up a gun always point the muzzle in a safe direction and determine whether it is loaded. Never carry a loaded gun in your automobile or leave one around camp. A frisky hunting dog may bump against it, knocking off the safety or even discharging the gun.

These are simple, easy to remember and easy to follow rules, but important to your own safety and that of your hunting companions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hooker Arrive To Make Their Home In Eastland

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wilson Hooker arrived in Eastland this week to make their home. Mr. Hooker is the assistant coach at Eastland High school, and will teach classes in Science and history.

The couple were married Sunday, August 27th, 1950, in a formal ceremony performed at 5:30 p. m. with the Rev. Orin G. Helvey, pastor, officiating at the St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Bryan.

The altar, a scene of green and white, was lighted by white candles in tall cathedral holders. The chancel rail was bordered with English ivy streamers and stately palms flanked the stair ascent. Gladioli and asters were used in the altar arrangements.

Mrs. Oren G. Helvey presented the wedding music and also accompanied Mrs. L. D. Thompson, soloist.

The bride wore an imported Swiss organza dress trimmed with applied embroidery. The shadowy-oke was edged in seed pearls. The full circular skirt extended into a chapel length train. Her veil of French illusion was held in place

Chinese Reds Release Two Air Line Heads

HONG KONG, Sept. 2 (UP)—Two American air line officials held prisoner by the Chinese Communists since Christmas have been released and arrived in Rangoon, Burma, their company announced here today.

They are Capt. Daniel Carden, of Dallas, and co-pilot Frederick MacGowan, of New Rochelle, N. Y., both employed by the Trans-Asiatic Air Lines.

One American flier is still in Chinese Communist hands—Robert Buol, of Stockton, Calif.

Carden, MacGowan and Buol were trapped in Kunning, China, by the city's defection to the Reds after they flew there to evacuate Chinese employees. Released with the two were a Briton and two Filipinos, the air line said.

Carden and MacGowan's wives were reported to be in Manila.

Commies May Be Too Hungry To Fight Well

By Robert C. Miller
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH U. S. 25TH DIVISION, Korea, Aug. 31 (UP)—A U. S. Army officer came up with a curious theory today as to why Mt. Sobuk, a strategic hill on the southern front west of Masan, has changed hands eight times in two weeks.

He thought it meant that the Communists facing the American Negro regiment in this sector are desperately short of food.

Every time the men of the 24th Regiment have recaptured the hill, they have found dozens of bodies lying near hacked-open U. S. rations. The North Koreans apparently braved American artillery to cram their empty bellies.

"It seems to us," the officer said, "that the Reds deliberately allow us to counter-attack and retake the hill and then drive us out just to capture the food we bring up.

"We meet only light resistance to the counter-attacks, and their attempts to recapture the hill have been made in strength. We know they have plenty of strength to take and hold that piece of ground if they really wanted to keep it."

"Everybody we found there was thin and emaciated."

The officer's report about sums up the reasons for a feeling of cautious optimism, a piece of hope or maybe wishful thinking that the war may be over sooner than some expect.

Intelligence reports suggested that the Communists faced a food shortage in many combat areas. Some officers in this sector predicted a "peace offensive" by the North Koreans in possibly a month or six weeks.

Captured documents and prisoners tell of short rations among troops, and even shorter fare among the civilians. Some prisoners insisted they had not eaten regular rations for seven or eight days. Malnutrition has been common among prisoners.

Reports have circulated that Communist troops refused in some cases to fight until they were fed. Operations officers were at a loss to explain why there had been no large scale attack by the North Korean forces known to be massed before the Americans on this southern front.

Authorities say the Russians must decide at once whether to reinforce the North Koreans or start a peace offensive.

A Soviet plane carrying high Russian dignitaries was reported to have landed at Seoul recently, apparently for high level conferences with North Korean authorities. The Americans would give a great deal to know what went on at that reported meeting.

THIS CHURCH PAGE IS PUBLISHED WEEKLY WITH THE HOPE THAT MORE PEOPLE WILL GO TO CHURCH. IT IS SPONSORED BY LOCAL BUSINESS FIRMS WHO BELIEVE WE SHOULD ATTEND RELIGIOUS SERVICES REGULARLY.

Homes are wrecked and lives estranged; children are pulled this way and that by divorced parents. What can be done? For the nation, one divorce for each four marriages and in some cities, as many divorces as marriages. Think on these things.

Let's see to it that we respect and honor marriage as the most delicate and perhaps the most important of all human relations. No man or woman ought to laugh or make sport of the family, or of the relation of women and men in the home. Let's have done with the mother-in-law jokes and all other caricatures of this sacred union of hearts and minds.

Let's prepare our young people for successful marriage. Do we give as much attention as did our fathers to the direction of our children toward making good homes? It is about the most important task that falls to mothers and fathers and teachers and preachers, in fact, to all of us. We must get our young people well married. Then tell them the truth about this intimate and familiar human relation. Warn them and counsel them, as did the writer of Proverbs in the Old Testament.

Let's make marriage a sacrament, entered upon in the reverent mood of prayer, and supported by the aids of religion. Surround this union of immortal spirits with every sacred and wholesome influence from the very beginning. Dedicate every new home as a shrine where the children of God shall expect the guidance of their Heavenly Father in their conduct toward each other.

Marriage is not only the mating of bodies; it is the mating of souls. Two souls do not become one in a few hours of courtship or in a few weeks of marriage. Only patience and good will and mutual respect and faithful affection will equip two different persons to live together with growing union of body and soul. Divorce means the failure of the home, the failure of us all in the building of a good society. Less haste and more care in preparation for marriage will make fewer divorces after marriage. Every home requires God's aid and blessing, if it succeeds. "Wherefore they are no more twain but one flesh. What, therefore God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

on Sunday, September 3, 1950.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.
But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night" (Psalms
1:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson - Sermon is the following from the Bible: "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness" (Psalms 17:15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes

MACARTHUR HURLS ENTIRE AIR FORCE TO STOP RED DRIVE

By Charles Moore
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Sept. 2 (UP)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur hurled his entire Air Force, from screaming jets to superforts, today at the heads of the Communist foot soldiers to throw back their "all out" offensive.

Four engine B-29 Superfortress bombers from Okinawa zoomed over the battle lines near Kumchoni four waves and dropped 200 tons of bombs in a 30-minute attack. Crews reported "excellent results."

The U.S. 7th Fleet pumped fresh squadrons into the desperate battle. More than 200 carrier-based planes raked 45 miles of the crucial Nakdong river front from Taegu South to the sea.

A 5th Air Force spokesman said sorties by their planes flown up to 3 p. m. today totaled 440— "far above any ever flown before during this period."

Starting at dawn and continuing as night fell, fighters and bombers were making an all-out effort to roll back the enemy's big push. "A solid air umbrella" co-support of the embattled United Nations ground forces—

"Waves of fighters and light bombers of Maj. Gen. E. E. Partridge's 5th Air Force roared out of their bases in Southern Japan throughout the day."

As they returned at dusk other planes took off for night assaults. From the Masan front, United Press Aviation Writer Charles Corddry reported on how the air action looked to an embattled ground commander.

Commenting on the crucial battle which raged west of Masan during the past 24 hours, Maj. Gen. William B. Kean, commander of the 25th Division, said:

"Air saved the day here, as it has so many times before."
