YANKS FIGHTING TO HOLD TAEGU

YOU NAME IT

By Everett Taylor

High school football really gets underway this week with the playing of the first games of the season.

The Eastland Mavericks will play the double-tough Coleman team in Coleman to open their schedule.

Coach Wendell Siebert expects all his players to be ready for the tilt Friday night, but injuries to some key players have caused some slowup in the training schedule.

The injuries were slight, but enough to keep some of the expected starters on the sidelines for a couple of days, thereby hampering progress to a great extent.

Most observers see little chance for the Mavericks to get away to a winning start. From here it looks like a defeat for Eastland, but we can still hope for a win.

Upsets you know are fairly standard equipment in football, otherwise there would be little interest in many games.

We are sure that the team would be glad to see a large delegation of faithful Eastland fans in the stands when they take the field Friday night down in Coleman. Win or lose, they are deserving of our full support.

While we are starting with football, we may as well take a look at the district teams.

Ranger and Cisco look like the strongest title contenders. Comanche with 13 of 16 lettermen back from last year could give strong contention if their new coach can get his new system developed before the money games begin.

Dublin, DeLeon, Hamilton and Eastland are expected to be the weaker teams of the loop. It would be a great surprise if any of the four finished higher than third place.

While we are at it we may as well stick our neck out and guess the race to finish about like this: Ranger, Cisco, Comanche, Hamilton, Eastland, Dublin and DeLeon.

Maybe most of the readers will have forgotten about the prediction by the time the season is over. Please remember we are basing our opinion on the paper teams, since we had no opportunity to see play in the district last year.

At least that is a good excuse. If we can believe the pre-season prognostications on college football, those who are going to see some Southwest Conference action this fall are going to see some exceptional football.

According to the latest issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Texas is to be the cream of an excellent crop. S.M.U. is second to be second-best, with Arkansas, Baylor, Rice, Texas A. & M. and T.C.U. to have "above average" teams.

Which means there are no bad teams in the conference, and no mediocre teams. It should make for some very interesting action this fall.

With seven teams above average in the loop, picking a winner is very hazardous business. But then, it always is in that league. If you don't believe it, just try your hand at it.

Marine Recruiter To Be In Eastland

Marine Sgt. W. E. Norton, recruiter for the Marines, will be in Eastland each Wednesday from 12 noon until 2 p. m. at the post office building for the purpose of interviewing young men who desire to enlist in the Marine Corps.

Men between the ages of 17 to 28 are eligible for enlistment. Enlistments may be made for three or four years, or for the duration.

Norton said that all men accepted will be sent to Dallas for physical examination and to San Diego, Calif for basic training.

The Marine Corps is now accepting married men and men with dependents, but physical and mental standards remain the same.

Siebert Is Pessimistic Of Game

Coach Wendell Siebert was far from optimistic as the date of the first kickoff of the season for his team approached this week.

The Mavericks face the experienced Coleman team in their first game of the season Friday night in Coleman.

Siebert pointed out that Coleman is expected to have a letterman at every position, while the Mavericks will only have four lettermen in the entire fold. Some of the four saw only limited service last year.

All Maverick players are expected to be ready to start the game according to Siebert. Some men out of practice sessions for a day or two, however, greatly hampering progress at workouts. Some night workouts have been held, giving the players a chance to get somewhat accustomed to playing under the arcs and also to take advantage of more favorable temperature for workouts.

Scheduled to make the trip to Coleman Friday are Morris Lee Riggan, Jamie Jessop, Lowell Herring, Larry Miller, Harold Justice, Vern Meroney, Rodney Stephen, Doug King, Eddie Hames, James Freeman.

Alan Vermillion, Bob Womack, John Burtleson, Gerald Ables, Edwin Aaron, James Allison, Dick Ewalt, Gerald Davis, Derrell Black, Hill Gaeta, and Don Roff.

These players have been assigned uniform numbers. Some others may be assigned before Friday.

Truman Turns Jeers Into Cheers With Unexpected Appearance At Marine Corp League Convention

By Frank Eleazer, United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (UP)—President Truman called unexpectedly today on Marines in convention here and told them in person he hopes there never will be any "misunderstanding" between them again.

Truman yesterday apologized to the Marines for his "unfortunate choice of language" in describing them as the "Navy's police force."

Today he made an unscheduled visit to the convention of the Marine Corps League here.

Delegates who only yesterday were shouting criticism of the President for his statements turned in to applauding supporters today. The Chief Executive barged in unexpectedly, accompanied by Gen. Clifton B. Cates, commandant of the Marine Corps.

"We in the Marine Corps admire courage, especially personal courage," said Cates as he introduced the President to the cheering delegates.

Truman, grinning and waving his hands, charmed the once-anxious League members with his opening remark: "You succeeded in enticing me over here."

The President went on in a homey way that there are incidents sometimes that appear to be "almost the end of the world when they happen, but they turn out in the end to be good for all concerned."

Then turning to the more serious side, he said that the thing he wanted most was "a unified effort for peace."

The President said this effort seemed approaching consummation until June 25 when the North Koreans invaded the South Korean Republic.

Speaking slowly, Truman said he then faced the decision of supporting the United Nations or "backing out and surrendering."

"You know what the decision was because I don't think any other way," he said.

"I hope this organization will support the President of the United States in his effort to get peace in the world."

The applause this time was deafening.

The President then added he wanted the members of the Marine Corps League to be aware that there are many unjustified attacks being made today on men in public office and that most of these attacks finally settle on him.

The President then concluded: "I hope from now on there will be no misunderstanding between us."

Before the President arrived, League Commander Clay Nixon, without giving the reason, cautioned the delegates to "conduct themselves as Marines and Americans."

"No wisecracks will be tolerated," he said sternly. "This is no place for levity in a country at war."

Before Truman showed up at about 9:45 a. m. EDT, Secret Service Agents began to appear in the halls of the Statler hotel where the convention is in session. Roving Sergeants-At-Arms tried to shoo them into the meeting hall, thinking they were delegates.

A bugler sounded attention. The rear doors to the hall flew open. In walked the President with Cates and the applause broke.

Rising Star Gives Free Fair Again

RISING STAR—For the first time since the war, Rising Star is putting on her famous Free Fall Fair.

Dates for the fair are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 14, 15 and 16.

Opening ceremonies will be at 10 a. m. Thursday in the commodious market building on South Main. A vast array of agricultural, livestock and other exhibits are expected to be in place by Thursday morning, including the special booths for four Home Demonstration clubs, and individual farm exhibits.

Also exhibits of art and handicrafts will be made. Highlight of Thursday will be the grand street parade at 5 p. m., headed by the Old Gray Mare Band of Brownwood. Local stores are closed for the parade.

Thursday night, horseracing barrel races and comedy stunts will be given in the softball park on West College. The finale will be a grand fireworks display sponsored by the city of Rising Star.

A similar program, including judging of exhibits will be carried out Friday with the football game Friday night between Rising Star and Comanche being one of the main features. Fireworks will be given each night as a closing feature.

Large crowds are expected for the re-instatement of the Rising Star Free Fall Fair, which for many years before the war was one of the biggest annual events in this area.

Former Eastland Boy Is In Korea

By Earnest Hoberecht, United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 8 (UP)—American and South Korean defenders, squeezed into an area about half the size of Connecticut, set up new lines only seven miles from Taegu today in the face of the greatest sustained Communist drive of the war.

Taegu was within range of enemy artillery fire from both west and north.

The entire 50-mile Northern front had burst into action. United Press Correspondent Robert Bennyhoff reported from Kyongju, 17 miles below fallen Pohang, that the Reds had launched a heavy attack shortly before midnight seven to eight miles north of Kyongju.

Bennyhoff reported intense small arms fire and fighting across the rice paddies and rugged mountains which line both sides of a dry river bed three miles south of Angang. It is at that point on the eastern end of the northern front that the Americans and South Koreans have set up their new defense lines.

The defenders had been anticipating a new Red drive down the valley, as soon as they could regroup after last week-end's successful attack which threw the South Korean Capital division out of Kigye and Angang.

Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, was abandoned. Heavy mortar and artillery fire was reported all along the 100-mile front, hinting at new enemy blows.

Taegu, former provincial capital and a vital communications center, now was menaced on at least three sides.

Front dispatches said that up to two Communist regiments with about 6,000 men had penetrated the United Nations defenses between Yongchon and Kyongju. They were stabbing far behind the defense lines, and were reported in a position to envelop Taegu from the rear or encircle the American and Korean Republic troops below Pohang, on the east coast. The vital Taegu-Pusan highway apparently had been cut.

U. S. 1st Cavalry units began their withdrawal Tuesday night and completed it last (Thursday) night.

It was a heart-breaking retreat for the Americans after their bloody but unsuccessful fight to capture a height (hill 518) northeast of Waegwan which dominates the entire sector.

United Press Correspondent Robert Vermillion reported from the flaming northern front that the cavalrymen had to fight their way through North Koreans behind them to reach their new lines.

The new line is west of the Taegu-Tabu road and behind old American positions along the Naktong river. Blocking the First Cavalry's retreat had been enemy possession of a hill described on military maps as hill 464. But the cavalrymen cleared it, and also succeeded in eliminating a road block south of Tabu. On Thursday, however, the Reds again were trying to cut the road with mortar and machine-gun fire from a hill 1,000 yards to the east.

Elsewhere on the northern front, the South Korean 6th division threw back an attack on its right sector, west of Youngchon. Delayed front reports said the attack cost the Reds 1,000 men in dead or wounded.

The South Korean 8th division was attacking to the east northeast against the North Korean 15th division from a point four miles north of Yongchon. Yongchon, about midway between Taegu and Pohang on the Taegu-Pohang highway, still was in Allied hands. The enemy took it once but lost it.

American B-26s struck at an enemy tank concentration at dusk Wednesday, just west of Uihung, 20 miles north of Taegu. The Air Force said that of 21 tanks sighted in the area, three were knocked out and many damaged.

In the last two days, American Fighters and bombers have claimed 61 Communist tanks destroyed or damaged.

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 7 (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers plans to appear at the Sept. 22 opening of the good neighbor festival at San Antonio.
A delegation of San Antonio citizens extended the invitation yesterday at a ceremony in the governor's reception room.
The festival originally was scheduled to begin Sept. 23, but the governor's office said tentative arrangements have been made to advance the opening a day because of a conflict with Shivers' schedule.
SULLIVAN CITY, Sept. 7—Jeff

Spencer served 28 years as a Harris County peace officer and never suffered a wound, but he had one today.
Spencer sat quietly rocking on a chair on the front porch of his brother's home here when he heard a shot and felt a sharp pain in his chest.
Officials said he apparently was hit by a stray shot from a .22-caliber rifle.
AUSTIN, Sept. 7—Bond registrations hit a record level in Texas during the fiscal year just ended. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said today.
The bond division registered $301,292,338 in the 12-month period ending Aug. 31.
Calvert said it exceeded the previous all-time high set in the 1948-49 fiscal year by $49,292,338.
BAYTOWN, Sept. 7—Two Baytown police officers were under federal indictments today, charged with depriving a Negro of his civil rights.
Indictments against Cleve Dickens and Elmo Anderson were returned by a federal grand jury yesterday before Judge Allen B. Hannay. They were accused of arresting and unlawfully striking, beating and injuring Clifton Earnest Henderson on Nov. 24, 1949.

The indictments charged that the two officers "deprived Henderson of certain rights, privileges and immunities accorded and protected by the Constitution and Laws of the United States."
Officers admitted Henderson was arrested on an assault complaint, but when it was found that he was not the man sought he was released from jail. The Negro charged the officers beat him repeatedly.
The two officers are expected to be arrested late today.

HOUSTON, Sept. 7—Mrs. C. W. Patch, 71, believed to be the first woman to run for public office in Texas, died at her home yesterday.
Mrs. Patch was assessor-collector for the old Harrisburg Independent school district from its beginning to end. She also worked actively in Harris County politics for nearly 40 years.
Funeral services have not been announced.

The Car And Its Companion—

The automobile is useless and harmless without the driver. With the driver it may become most useful but never harmless. No operator of an automobile ever fully realizes his responsibility to the public until he has a wreck. Then it dawns on him that he is living in a world with other people, some very peculiar, who have plenty of personal and property rights. If you drive, drive carefully, but never without adequate insurance protection.

Quigg Finds That Walking In North Korean Hills For Young Not The Old

By H. D. Quigg
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea, Sept. 6 (UP)—Troops in extreme forward positions are the salt of the earth and I like them very much. But if some of them don't come down out of the hills and set up house-keeping in the valleys they're not going to see much more of me.

It. We old men stay behind and ride around in jeeps, in the valleys and get clobbered by mortar fire. Now mortar fire, when it's close by is about as nasty a thing as you can find. It's pinpointed hell. It comes in at you on a silken whisper that suddenly changes to a bellowed oath.

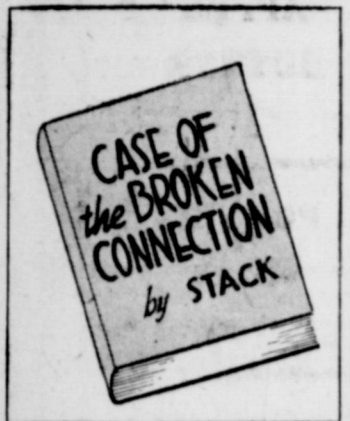

But the hills are distilled agony. Old men of more than 20 have no business on foot in the hills of Korea. It's against the laws of nature and gives leg muscles the screaming meemies.

All this is leading up to the story of a meander five of two foot across the hills to reach a forward battalion. Our jaunt turned into a sort of poor man's patrol since there were no American ended in the killing of a North Korean soldier who apparently had sneaked inside what we fluidly call our lines to cut our communication wires.

We started off along the rocky foot trail with Pfc. Mac Hilliard of San Francisco, Calif., leading the way. Behind him was Dick Tucker, correspondent for the Baltimore Sun who is an old friend of mine from Bougainville, where he served as a soldier in the last war. Dick is a native of Fort Madison, Iowa.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, depression or dietary indiscretions.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY THE BEST! GOOD YEAR TIRES are the best!

In times like these, far-sighted people naturally buy the best. And when it comes to tires, they buy the best tires. That's why more car owners today are turning to Goodyear tires.

That's why we're having a hard time keeping Goodyear tires in stock—despite the fact that Goodyear makes more tires than any other manufacturer in the world. Even if we are temporarily out of your tire size, it will pay you to place your order now for earliest possible delivery.

Trade new miles for old
90% of all tire trouble occurs in the last 10% of the life. Why take chances with worn, smooth tires? We'll trade new Goodyear miles for the remaining unsafe mileage in your present tires. Get out of the "danger zone"—go Goodyear. And for safer driving, get LifeGuard Safety Tubes.

Remember, if we don't have your tire size today, it will pay you to wait for new Goodyears—the best!

Trailing Tucker was Corp. Albert A. Peltier of Lakewood, N. J. Your correspondent moped along next, and bringing up the rear was Sgt. Russell Harrison, whose home also is in Lakewood, N. J. trek was 4,000 yards which is more than two and one-quarter miles. But that's as the crow flies. We were not crows. At about the half way point I began wishing I was one. The hills over which we labored are high. Their sides are steep. Our speed turned out to be about one mile per hour.

We moved along a footpath which linemen ahead of us had used as a route to string 12 strands of communication wire to the battalion. Hilliard set what Tucker, and I considered a brisk pace. The trail was full of sharp turns, rock outcroppings, and sudden ascents. Large blue and white birds flopped cawing through the scrub pine trees around us. Artillery shells sizzled through the air over our heads and burst on an enemy hill ahead.

The sun beat down, and the sweat ran in streams down our bodies under our green fatigues. We were panting. After a while on such a hike, your lungs seem to be tearing. You watch the combat boots of the man ahead of you. Clomp Clomp, heel-toe, heel-toe. It's a fascinating rhythm.

As I panted and struggled and watched the feet ahead of me, I began to chant in my mind in time to the footbeats of an old parody of an old song: "Peekin' 'em up; layin' 'em down; curvin' 'em in; curvin' 'em out—bye, bye blackbird."

Finally we called a break and sat down. Tucker and I were gasping, chest heaving. Small yellow butterflies zigzagged about us. Locusts chanted. One type of locust—or maybe it was a tree frog—made a sound like: You jerk, you jerk, you jerk. That's what it sounded like to me, although maybe it was saying something entirely different in Korean.

Ferguson Says Stalin Thinks US Will Collapse If It Can Be Isolated From World

By Harry Ferguson
UP Foreign News Editor

Joseph Stalin believes—or at least hopes—that Russia can conquer the United States without firing a shot. The Communists contend the collapse of a capitalistic country like the United States is inevitable and that their role in history is to speed the day.

That is what is behind today's headlines from Washington, Moscow and Lake Success. That's what all the shouting is about in connection with the shooting down of the Russian bomber off the west coast of Korea by a U. S. Naval task force. Russia wants to isolate the United States. She wants to separate us from our friends and allies, cut off our foreign trade and then wait for things to go so bad that the American Communist party will be swept into power.

In the past few days the sequence of events has gone like this: A Russian bomber made hostile motions at a U. S. task force which sent up fighters that shot down the Red plane. The body of a Russian Lieutenant was fished out of the water. Yesterday the Kremlin sent a not around to our embassy in Moscow. It referred to the shooting down of the Russian plane as a "crime" and demanded indemnity. Alan Kirk, our ambassador in Moscow refused to accept the note, insisting that any protest should be made to the United Nations rather than the United States. In short,

Kirk had no intention of allowing the Kremlin to make this a war between the United States and the Korean Communists rather than the United Nations and the Korean Communists. Jacob Malik, Russian delegate to the U. N. Security Council, put the note before the council, but objected to discussion of it on the grounds that it was an affair between Russia and the United States and no concern of the United Nations.

Malik and everybody else connected with Soviet Russia will keep right on ignoring the fact that the United States is only one of several U. N. nations arrayed against the Korean Communists. Our diplomats will keep right on insisting that this is a war—or rather a "police action"—between the United Nations and the North Korean Communists. Warren Austin, American U. N. delegate, summed it up when he said yesterday in connection with Malik's contention that this is purely an American-Russian issue: "We know this particular claim has been made in regard to all U. N. acts in Korea, not beginning with June 25, but away back in 1947."

The reason Russia wants to isolate the United States and pin the label of "aggressor" is that she considers us the biggest obstacle to the Communist conquest of the world. Our aid to Europe probably prevented the Communists from seizing the governments of Italy, France and Greece. And we hold over Moscow the constant and dreadful threat of the Atomic bomb.

Stalin is not the inventor of the theory that he can isolate a big capitalistic country and let it fall of its own weight. It has been part of the Communist creed for years. But he is still working at it at every opportunity. On the day he becomes firmly convinced that we are not going to become friendless and alone in a hostile world and that we are not going to collapse of our own weight—look out. World War III will be here.

The Grinoco River system of South America is largely navigable.

Experts Pick Oklahoma To Win Conference

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 7 (UP)—The experts pick Oklahoma to win again in the Big Seven and return to the Sugar Bowl next New Year's Day. But Coach Bud Wilkinson says they could be wrong.

The experts, if that's the proper word, have been wrong on numerous occasions. In fact, in the Big Seven they have come up with only one winner in forecasts for the past four seasons.

But it certainly looks like another Oklahoma year, despite Wilkinson's views. He says he has probably the only team in the history of collegiate football that has been selected in advance to win its conference title "despite the loss of everybody on its starting eleven save its fullback."

The fullback is Leon Heath. A lot of dopesters think he'll make everybody's All-America team this year.

There's no argument about Heath's value to the club. He is the best in the business, Oklahomans say, and he may even see duty on defense this year. Wilkinson considers him the finest Sooner linebacker since Myrtle Great-house.

Buddy Jones and Ed Lisak have shown promise as pass defenders and Wilkinson has confessed his secondary will be "almost as good as last year's."

More than one-half the players on Oklahoma's first three offensive teams this season will be sophomores. They will have to make Wilkinson's split-T work, probably with Arnold running the show.

Wilkinson has said several times he expects to lose two of his first four games, and then "I think we can have a good team in November."

The first four opponents include Boston College, Texas A.&M., Texas, and Kansas State. Later will come Iowa State, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and finally Oklahoma A.&M.
