FOOTBALL IS IN THE OFFING at Maverick Stadium both tonight and tomorrow night.

Eastland teams play both nights, with the Junior High team under coach Joe Williams clashing with Cisco tonight and the Mavericks under Coaches Wendell Siebert and Ed Hooker facing the Albany team at 8 p. m. Friday.

Starting time for the Junior game tonight will be 7:30 p. m., according to Williams. He said he hoped a lot of people would come out for the game, which was originally set for Tuesday, but was postponed because of the untimely shower which came about starting time.

It should be very interesting to observe the Juniors in action to see what kind of team Maverick teams can expect in a few years. These will be the boys who will be playing the Friday night games in a couple or three years.

ALSO ON THE DOCKET TONIGHT is a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office to discuss the possibility of strating a bowling league for Eastland.

Representatives from various civic clubs in the city will be present at the meeting and anyone who is interested in bowling may attend the meeting if they desire.

To make it a crowded Thursday night, the American Legion is electing officers and holding a Dutch lunch at the Legion Hall.

THE HOT WEATHER IS MAKING up to some extent for the cool summer. Most of the time during the past few days it has been warm enough to be uncomfortable, despite the rains and threats of rains we have been having.

Guess there is no use kicking about the situation, however, pretty soon it will be so cold we will wish for summertime again.

Dick Harris Back To North Texas

Dick Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris, returned to Denton Friday where he is a senior at North Texas State College.

At North Texas he is president of the Wesley Foundation, the college student organization of the Methodist Church which is made up of students from both North Texas State College and Texas State College for Women.

Dick returned early for the annual Wesley Foundation Council Retreat to be held at the Lake Bridgeport Methodist Camp near Bridgeport. He had recently participated in the Fall Planning Retreat of the Texas Methodist Student Movement at Camp Crucis, an Episcopal camp near Granbury.

J. R. Castleberry of Ranger was sentenced to 10 years in the state prison in district court Wednesday afternoon.

Castleberry was charged with the theft of cattle. The jury was out over two hours before returning a verdict of guilty.

District Judge Davenport read the verdict.

Pipkin's Grocers Celebrate 25 Year Anniversary Friday, Here

Pipkin's grocers are celebrating the anniversary of their 25th year of connection with Piggy-Wiggly beginning Friday of this week.

Grady Pipkin and his late brother, Jess, started in the grocery business here in 1919. They became connected with the Piggy-Wiggly chain in 1925.

Since that time Pipkin's has expanded from one store in Eastland to nine Pipkin's Piggy-Wiggly stores over a large area in West Texas. Two other stores are near completion in Odessa and Midland and will bring the total of Pipkin's Piggy-Wiggly stores to 11.

Pipkin's store here will feature a special sale beginning September 22, and continuing through September 23, 25 and 26.

Lamb, a local Chevrolet and General Motors dealer, is loaning the car to the school for use in the course.

Mavericks Challenge Huge Albany Lions Here Friday Night

The Eastland Mavericks will be trying for their first victory of the season Friday night when the Albany Lions leave their den to invade Maverick Stadium at 8 p. m.

The Lions have one victory and one defeat for the season. They lost last week to the strong Winters team which the Mavericks will play later in the season.

Maverick crimples include end Eddie Haines and tackle Genaid Lavis, both of whom are doubtful starters for Coach Wendell Siebert. There is a strong possibility that neither player will see action Friday night.

On the bright side for Siebert is the fact that next week will be an open date, giving the injured boys time to recover before opening the district play against Comanche on October 6, in Comanche.

Eastland showed a vast improvement last week on pass defense and at times put up stubborn resistance on the ground until injuries took their toll.

To replace Haines, Siebert has three light boys, James Freeman, 138, John Burleson, 130, or John Whitley, 117, to choose from. Harold Justice, 162, will probably spell Davis at the tackle position. Donald Roff, 170, is the only other reserve tackle listed in the squad.

FRENCH-RED FIGHT GOES STRONG YET

Some Germans Fight With Commie Forces

By Robert Branson
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAIGON, Indo-China, Sept. 21 (UP)—Heavy fighting between French Legionnaires and Viet Minh Communist troops has broken out in various sections of Indo-China's Tonkin province, French sources said today.

THESE SOURCES SAID French troops had inflicted "heavy casualties" on a Viet Minh battalion near the town of Thabinh, 48 miles southeast of Tonkin's chief city of Hanoi.

The new actions occurred approximately 150 miles south of the Chinese Communist border and invasion route to Indo-China, where other French troops are operating against the Communists around Dongkhe, Caobang, Moncay and Dinhlap.

LATEST REPORTS FROM the north said that French African Goums and paratroopers had driven north from the recaptured fortress of Dongkhe in pursuit of the Communists.

French sources said the routed battalion near Thabinh included a "considerable number" of Europeans.

Presumably they were captured Germans who are known to be fighting for Moscow-trained Ho Chi-Minh's Communist legions.

Lamb Presents Chevrolet For School Course

Theo Lamb, local Chevrolet and General Motors dealer presented a new 1950 Chevrolet to the High School, Monday, for use in a class in a driver education course being taught by the school. The car is loaned to the school, at no cost to the school, for a year. It is to be used only in connection with the driver education class.

Wendell Siebert is teaching the course in driver education, which is scheduled to be held each school morning. Lamb turned the keys of the automobile over to Siebert at the presentation Monday as W. G. Womack, school superintendent, looked on.

The car is equipped with a special dual control to aid in instruction in the driving course. With the dual control, the instructor is able to stop the car's motion at any time, thereby insuring greater safety in the teaching of new drivers.

Dual control means the car has two brakes and two clutches. Both the driver and the instructor can stop the car at any time. The driver is in full control of the steering wheel and operates the gears.

Womack and Siebert expressed the appreciation of the school to Lamb for the use of the car. They agreed that it would be of great aid in the driving class.

Methodist Hold Family Night

Tonight has been designated family night at the First Methodist Church where Rev. Quay Farmer is leading a revival meeting this week.

Earl Ward, evangelistic song and music leader, will direct the children's choir at 7:30 tonight. He has been working with the children each afternoon after school.

Rev. Farmer will deliver a message concerning the family at the service tonight.

Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor, stated that attendance at the meeting has grown in each service and that the spirit and attitude is fine.

A unique service will be held Saturday morning from 7 to 7:40. Rev. Bailey added.

Local Farmers To Get Awards At State Fair

Certificates of Achievement will be awarded to more than 300 Texas farmers at ceremonies to be held in the State Fair Park Auditorium on October 17, county supervisor George L. Lane announced today.

The number will include 10 or 12 farmers of Eastland County, the supervisor said. He is making plans to accompany a delegation of Eastland County families to Dallas for the event.

Ceremonies will start at 1:30 in the afternoon. Mr. Lane stated that a special bus will be chartered for the trip to Dallas if sufficient families care to go for the day's event.

Not only persons who have paid up their farm and home loans, but families whose farming operations are financed by Farmers Home Administration are to make the trip.

This will be the third annual achievement day. Of the six thousand tenant purchase loans made in Texas under the Bankhead-Jones Act one-third have been paid off and are now owned free of debt by former tenant families.

A part of the program will include radio interviews of successful farmers and awarding of prizes for outstanding accomplishments with their crops. Mr. Lane stated that in addition to this particular program for FHA paid-up borrowers there will be the Eastland County exhibit on peanuts again this year which will be of special interest to all people of Eastland County.

October 19 has been designated by the fair management as Eastland County Peanut Day at the State Fair of Texas.

Cage Gets Road Job On US 80 Into Eastland

T. C. Cage of San Antonio, made the low bid on 6,596 miles of paving on US 80, east of Cisco into Eastland.

The Texas highway department ended two days of bid opening today. Low bids totaled $7,885,076.

Cages bid of $381,509 is for grading, structures, flexible base and asphaltic concrete pavement. The paving will run from 9 miles east of Cisco, east to intersection at Hillcrest avenue in Eastland.

UN Troops Advancing In Taegu Area; KoReds Putting Up Stiff Resistance Around ROK Capital

By Ralph Teatsorth
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 22 (UP)—U. S. Marines jumped off in a two-pronged drive to capture Seoul shortly after dawn Thursday, but their advance was slowed by a hail of machinegun, mortar and anti-tank fire thrown out by desperately fighting Communists.

A dispatch filed from the fighting front by United Press Correspondent Rutherford Poats said that the northern prong of the Marine attack had knocked the Reds from hills astride a railroad three miles northwest of Seoul, but that other Marines were meeting stiff resistance in the burning industrial suburb of Yongdungpo.

There was no further word of a motorized Communist column last reported only 35 miles north of Seoul after entering Korea from Antung, Manchuria. Forty tanks were reported with the column of 200 vehicles.

Cisco-Baird Part Of US 80 To Open

The newly completed Cisco-Baird section of U.S. Highway 80 will be opened for public use at 6 p. m. today, E. M. Pritchard, residential highway engineer, said this morning.

No ceremonies are scheduled to mark the opening of the new stretch of highway which represents an expenditure of more than $1,300,000 in Callahan county alone.

Length of the new construction is 17.7 miles. Barricades will be removed from the road to allow traffic to move over the road for the first time this afternoon.

It was explained that the cost of the strip of road was higher than usual because of the cutting through hills, heavy fill-ins and one overpass.

Preliminary work on the strip was started in 1942, but completion was delayed because of World War II, when the project was abandoned, and then resumed after the finish of the war.

R. W. Demann was residential engineer for the contracts on the road.

Pritchard said that bids on the Eastland-Cisco portion of Highway 80 were let yesterday, but would not be awarded until next week.

School Girl Defines Census

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Sept. 21 (UP)—A 14-year-old school girl was asked to write an essay on the coming West German census. She wrote: "A census takes place once before a war starts to find out how many people are living and once after the war to see how many are left over."

Rhee has ample reason to be proud of the manner in which his Korean army has taken shape. Their prestige is growing daily throughout United Nations forces.

I met General Yu and General Lak, two of their top commanders. Both are products of the Japanese war college with high grades and plenty of actual combat experience since. They appear confidently and efficiently in charge of their organizations and of their troops.

But notwithstanding the fact that we are starting to see the semblance of a steady field after nearly three months on the defensive, premature to jump to the conclusion that the war is we can give our undivided attention to the world series worrying about this A

Game of the week
 L.S.U. over Kentucky—the Bayou Bengals are big, rugged and fast and have a potential All-America ace in Ebert Van Buren, brother of the great pro star, Slickin' Steve. Kentucky will have to win it in the air, and it's too early to have precision bombing at its peak.
THE EAST:
 Rutgers over Syracuse—the usual September scramble.
 Yale over Connecticut—Football kicking off.
 Villanova over Duquesne—Baseball in a foto finish.
 Boston College over Wake Forrest—And the American League in a rut.

 Also: Temple over Albright, Bucknell over Gettysburg and Lehigh over Delaware.
THE SOUTH:
 Maryland over Georgia—Consider the Yankees.
 Duke over South Carolina—They fired Bucky Harris.
 W. & M. over V.M.I.—The Harris memory would shame an elephant.
 Alabama over Chattanooga—The Yanks look like the money.
 North Carolina over N. C. State—He'd like to prove 'em counterfeiter.
 Also: Virginia over George Washington, Florida over Citadel, Auburn over Wofford, Mississippi over Memphis State, Tennessee over Mississippi State and Vanderbilt over Middle Tennessee.
THE SOUTHWEST:
 Texas over Texas Tech—There's no boggie man in Boston.
 S.M.U. over Georgia Tech—They tell kids about the Yankees.
 Arkansas over Oklahoma Aggies—Brave men flinch at the tale.
 West Texas over Arizona—And it could be the same old story.
THE MID-WEST:
 TCU over Kansas—How about the toothless Tigers?
 State over Oregon State—They're supposedly dead.
 Hardin-Simmons over Cincinnati—But those Bengals aren't stuffed yet!
 Also: Iowa State over Colorado U.—and Detroit over Hillsdale.
THE WEST:
 UCLA over Oregon—Another for the men of Red Rolfe.
 Texas A&M over Nevada—Cry a bit for Steve O'Neill.
 Baylor over Wyoming—And don't pass up Eddie Sawyer.
 Stanford over San Jose—Win, lose or draw, it looks like ulcers all around.
 Also: Washington State over Utah State, Washington over Kansas State, Tulsa over San Francisco, C.O.P. over St. Mary's, Denver over Colorado Aggies, Idaho over Utah and New Mexico over Flagstaff.
OUTSIDE HAPPY CHANDLER'S OFFICE:
 Tariko over Dana—The truth now can be told.
 Lewis & Clark over Southern Oregon—Yes, Mr. Terry.
 Ouachita over Magnolia Aggies—Brooklyn's still in the league.
 Ellenville over Sunflower—And the next selection will be by the Terry-Durocher glee club!

Good Backfield, But Texas Christian University's Football Future Arouses Doubt

FORT WORTH, (UP)—A been running in one offensive unit Bartosh, Medanich, Dunn and Floyd in another.
 Wilde and Bartosh have drawn the assignment of trying to fill Berry's shoes. So far, they are falling short.
 Up front, Meyer has a fair starting crew considering he lost five ends, four tackles, two guards and a center. But, like SMU, sophomores make up the bulk of the reserve strength and injuries to key men could prove disastrous.
 Slated for near 60-minute duty will be ends, Bob and Bill Moorman, the Odessa twins, and center Max Eubank. The latter has letterman Roy Pitcock in reserve, but end replacements are virtually all sophomores.
 Clarence (Red) Marable, the 220-pound senior tackle once figured as a doubtful candidate because of summertime injuries, has returned to the fold and appears to be able to go the route as a mainstay. Meyer has moved two lettermen backs into the slot as a safety measure. They are Frank Struska and Homer Ludiker.

 Three junior lettermen—Norman Hughes, Doug Conway and Keith Flowers—provide fair protection at the other tackle.
 Sophomore Tom Evans has about assured himself of a starting guard berth ahead of letterman Dick Lowe with right guard open between three lettermen—Alton Taylor, Bill Willingham and Herb Zimmerman.
 Meyer has installed a new system for part-time use—he calls it the "T-wing"—and he hopes it will enable him to make better use of the running ability at his command. He still plans to use the double wing and that puzzling spread which continues to baffle his foes year after year.

The Frogs may not be championship material, but they're well-equipped to pull their usual upset or two before December rolls around.

Miss Ward, Mr. Hooks Exchange Vows In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Evelyn Ward became the bride of Mr. Louis Hooks of Fort Worth, in a candlelight ceremony read Saturday, September 16th at 5 p. m. in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ward, 213 South Madera Street. Mr. Hooks is the son of Mrs. J. V. Hooks of Hattisburg, Miss.

Mrs. W. R. Brown of Santa Anna, cousin of the bride, presented the wedding music.

The Rev. Clifford Nelson, pastor of the Olden Baptist Church, officiated before an improvised altar, decorated with palms, baskets of gladiolas, flanked by tall candelabra holding white tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white wedding gown, fashioned with lace yoke, cap sleeves and was worn with long gloves fashioned of the Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried an orchid shower bouquet placed upon a white Bible.

Miss Elvera Ward attended her sister as maid of honor and Mr. C. C. Fox of Fort Worth was best man.

A reception followed the wedding and was held in the home, with only the bride's family and a few close relatives present.

Mrs. Hooks is a graduate of Eastland High School and Mr. Hooks a graduate of Hattisburg High School and Junior College, served as captain in World War II. He is presently employed at Fox's Garage in Fort Worth, where they will make their home.

Out of town relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown and Randy, Mrs. R. L. Freeman of Santa Anna, Mrs. M. G. Morris and Terry of Ranger.

Southwestern Football Gets Going Saturday

By United Press
Southwest conference football coaches sent their charges through light drills today, with teams scheduled for opening play Saturday generally in good physical condition.

Coach Blair Cherry said two of his injured University of Texas Longhorns, quarterback T. Jones and left half Bobby Dillon, probably would be in shape for action against Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Cherry confined yesterday's practice to a light drill, with substitute running back play against regular defensive players.

A gloomy noise came from College Station, where Coach Harry Stiteler announced the Texas A&M Aggies would be minus three injured members when they board a plane for Sacramento, Calif., where they meet Nevada.

Spirits soared on the Texas Christian University campus when news circulated that three ailing players may see action against Kansas Saturday.

Coach Rusty Russell's Southern Methodist Mustangs looked better defense as they worked against reserves simulating Georgia Tech's hipper-dipper attack. The Mustangs meet the Engineers in the Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

The Baylor Bears, due to meet Wyoming Saturday, held a light drill this morning before leaving for Laramie.

It was "practice without pressure" on the Rice campus at Houston. The Owls are the only conference team not seeing action Saturday.

Heavyweight Fight — Sept 27

Ezzard Charles Figures That He Could Have Beaten Louis At Top

By Oscar Fraley
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, (UP)—Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

Ezzard Charles, who fights Joe Louis for the heavyweight title at Yankee Stadium on Sept. 27, not only believes he can lick the Brown Bomber now—but thinks he could have done it when Louis was in his prime.

"I'm not like those bums of the month he used to fight," the usually quiet Charles insisted heatedly. "I think I can beat him. And if I had been around when Louis was knocking them over, I would be champion of the world today"—as it is, they are both challengers—

Red Neiderhauser, outfielder-pitcher for Hopkinsville of the Kitty League, sounds like a grand prospect for the Brooklyn Dodgers. In one game this year he singled and then stood on first twice ignoring the signal to steal second. The first base coach called time and asked Red what-the-you-know.

"To tell the truth," Red replied urbanely, "I didn't see the sign.

I was figuring up my batting average"—paging Babe Herman—

The 43 officials in the National Football League will receive a total of $75,000 this year for working the Pro games, but Bert Bell, loop prey, admits that they are underpaid— "nobody should take that kind of abuse for that kind of money," he grinned—
Conservation corner: The ant-eater's tongue is fastened to its breastbone. (What's it got on Lippy Leo Durocher?)—

Leo Deutsch, grid coach at St. Benedict College, has come up with a perfect play. "It can't help but work," he told the squad, "if the blocking is good, the pass is good, and the end catches the ball"—be'a nice day if it doesn't rain—

Howard Brown, former Indiana grid captain, had a scrimmage reunion with his former teammate, Hunchy Hoernschemeyer, who joined the Detroit Lions from the defunct All-America conference. Brown tackled Hoernschemeyer viciously and then said: "Welcome to the parent league, Hunchy, where you'll get struck harder with lasting emphasis"—Hunchy was out 10 days with a leg injury—

Stock car racing, a booming sport, introduced glamor at a Youngstown, O., race by parading a woman driver who had more curves than Bob Feller. There was at least one red face a short while later when she was hauled from a wreck—with one upstairs curve jostled up to her shoulder and the other jolted to the beltline—it was a false anatomical catastrophe even if the car wasn't wrecked badly!

Border Cities Talking Of Making Rain

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 21 (UP)—The lower Rio Grande Valley's worst drought in 35 years prompted talk today of hiring a rain maker.

Residents of Brownsville and San Benito were told to stop unnecessary use of water, as the Rio Grande virtually dried up.

Manager O. L. Johnston of the Valley Chamber of Commerce at Harlingen offered to buy silver iodide for "cloud seeding" if the Chamber directors will hire a rain maker. The Rio Grande has not flowed

Missions Down Oilers, 10-9 In Play-Offs

By United Press
Home runs accounted for almost half the scoring last night at Tulsa as the San Antonio Missions downed the Oilers, 10 to 9, to even the Texas League championship playoff at one game each.

The clubs move to San Antonio tonight. Procopio Herrera will pitch for the Padres, and Walker Cross was expected to get the nod for Tulsa.

San Antonio got off to a five-run lead in the second inning, then added four more runs in the top of the fourth, with the help of a three-run homer by Joe Frazier.

Tulsa came back strong in its half of the fourth with a five-run rally sparked by Earl York's circuit clout with two men aboard. A bases-empty homer by John Sullivan in the fifth proved to be the winning margin for San Antonio, as a late Tulsa rally produced four runs in the final two innings.

The Oilers had the tying run on base in the bottom of the ninth, but pinch-hitter Walt Wrona struck out to end the game.
Scores by innings:
San Antonio 050-410-000 10-10-0
Tulsa 000-5-0-013 9-9-2

Nash Offers New 1951 Line

Redesigned inside and out are the new Nash Ambassador and Statesman models for 1951. Featured in the new front-end styling is a grille with convex vertical bars. Appearance of greater length is attained with elongated rear fenders forming vertical fins. Tail and directional signal lamps have been moved outward to the edge of rear fenders. Numerous mechanical and interior features have also been added for greater comfort and better performance.

ENEMY IS LICKED, BUT WON'T QUIT, PREXY OF UNITED PRESS REPORTS FROM KOREA

Editor's Note: Col. Mike Michaelis' troops threw back suicide rushes which once had him fighting on tree sides at once.

North of Taegu, we have packed in the artillery four rows deep. I visited one battery of 155 millimeter howitzers, which, while I was there, fired 90 rounds, constantly raising their range as the enemy fell back.

It is a sight to see these kids serving these howitzers. When battery fire is laid on they resemble football players engaged in a complicated T-formation hipper-dipper, and when the gun commander's hand slashes down, the lanyards are pulled. Then, amid an ear-splitting noise the shells go screaming away like accidents hustling somewhere to happen.

If you get in front of the guns when they are really working, the sky is filled with obscene whisperings, as the shells slither on their way.

In Taegu, the windows rattle frequently during the night. The front is a 30 minute jeep ride from Taegu, and our extreme rear, Pusan, is a 30 minute plane flight. From Taegu to Masan is about 40 minutes. That gives an idea of the size of our bridgehead in terms of travel.

And our course, jeeping 30 minutes to the front from Taegu, is a trifle less mileage than 30 minutes on the Grand Central Parkway on the cushions.

Upon arriving at the 1st Cavalry front above Taegu, we parked our jeep on a high ridge, from which there was an excellent panoramic view of the battlefield.

On both sides of the lines today I viewed the fighting from a plane. Around Pohang, our front was plainly defined by the luminous panels which the enemy seeks to imitate. Behind the enemy lines, I saw at least 15 burning villages. I could see the artillery of both sides sitting on hillsides and high ridges and throwing spurts of dense black smoke behind our front.

Scores of villages from the air resemble honeycombs completely burned out. The city of Pohang is just one bug such honeycomb. The Pohang air strip appears intact, but deserted. There were no signs of life anywhere around.

I saw two railroad bridges destroyed. One highway bridge behind the enemy was under a strafing attack. Bright yellow bomb bursts were hitting the bridge and also all around it.

I flew over Waegwan (up here dubbed "Wigwam"). It is another honeycomb where our patrols penetrated today. It is a mystery how the enemy holds out in the "walled city", which has been thoroughly doused with napalm that must have penetrated even the deepest caves by now. But they still do.

(After this dispatch was written the Americans captured Waegwan.) A sudden, evil, rapid blinking below showed where the enemy had opened up on our plane with anti-aircraft guns, but nothing came even close.

You can not disregard an army of this kind as readily as a classical European style, or heavy duty army, as he lives off the country, has very little medical or quartermaster work to worry about, doesn't string miles and miles of wire like the American signal corps, but uses Russian-style field radios for communications, and can readily resort to guerrilla bands which will be hard to find in the deep valleys and great, precipitate mountain ridges of this somber country.

But at that, their casualties are estimated to be tremendous and as one lad remarked from a jeep, festooned with grenades, in the early twilight of dawn, "A lot of people are going to die up here today."

Plenty of smoke was showing where the Communists were catching hell, but presently a G. I. poked his head out of a foxhole and drawled:

"Say, that's a poor place to park. We are getting mortar fire so we left. We saw many tanks going up, grim, grimy faces above the hatches.

When B-29's, acting as flying artillery, concentrate on an area in front of the infantry the detonations create the feeling that you are experiencing an earthquake, and how any enemy survives after they've been on the receiving end of one of these visitations seems rather baffling.

Many commanders give credit to the Far East Air Force, commanded by Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, and the 5th Air Force, commanded by Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, saying that if it weren't for the Air, we would not be in Korea.

Everybody is waiting eagerly for the day when the enemy is flushed into the open and can be slaughtered wholesale by our airplanes. Already many have been incinerated by the deadly Napalm, also by bombs and machineguns.

For example, two planes caught a horde of enemy troops mobilizing on the bank of the Naktong river, awaiting turns to cross by barge. The pilots bombed and strafed plentifully while the enemy dumbledly headed toward a barge, trying desperately to get aboard. The aviators never sank the barge, figuring the North Koreans would continue trying to climb into it as long as it floated.

Finally some enemy commander tumbled and ordered the survivors to disperse, whereupon the pilots sank the barge and left the river bank strewn with dead and wounded.

On both sides of the lines today I viewed the fighting from a plane. Around Pohang, our front was plainly defined by the luminous panels which the enemy seeks to imitate. Behind the enemy lines, I saw at least 15 burning villages. I could see the artillery of both sides sitting on hillsides and high ridges and throwing spurts of dense black smoke behind our front.

An Indian fight was the cause of Brown County receiving its name.

The leader of the force of settlers was Capt. Henry S. Brown.

BROWNWOOD RENDERING CO.

whose son, John Henry Brown, wrote a well-known history of Texas.

Capt. Brown had a remarkable career. In 1827 while Texas of course was still a part of Mexico, he engaged in trading expeditions. While encamped on Peach Creek east of Gonzales, Brown found the body of a young stranger named Early who had left San Felipe de Austin with another stranger.

When Brown reached San Antonio, he saw Early's companion in possession of the slain man's horse and other belongings—a fact which the captain reported to the political chief and that official authorized Brown to arrest the man and take him back to San Felipe for trial, which Capt. Brown did.

There it was learned that the accused was the son of a former governor of Kentucky and that he had been convicted of killing a Southern merchant who was en route, horseback, to Philadelphia and that the governor had pardoned his son.

The man was sentenced to die for the Texas murder but, according to Brown's history, died before the date of his execution. However, later research indicates it is probable that the prisoner did not die but wrought upon the sympathy of his jailer and the latter put out the report of death and nailed up a chunk of wood about the weight of a man's body in a box and that is what was actually buried. More than 90 years later a Texan who visited an island in the Pacific reported that he met the descendants of this man, who had fled there and lived out his life.

But back to Captain Brown—He is the discoverer of the Enchanted Rock. He made the discovery of this huge solid rock mountain while leading a force in search of Indian raiders.

While he was on a trading expedition, redskins stole a large number of his horses and the captain set out in pursuit, at the head of a good sized body. He crossed the Colorado near the mouth of Pecan Creek, came up on an Indian village and there was a stubborn fight in which the savages were routed. This fight took place in what is now Brown County and the county was named in his honor.

We speak of this county and that town and seldom stop to think that in most instances they were named for some hero or pioneer who helped to build the foundations of Texas. The history of Texas, (the blood and toil and sacrifice), is recorded in the names of those noble men which have been bestowed on our counties and cities.

Russians Supply Allies With Guns Simple To Operate, But Effective

By Harry Ferguson
Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate to the United Nations Security Council, pulled a sub-machine gun out from under his desk and waved it in front of his face. He didn't specify whether it contained any bullets, but it was loaded in every other sense of the word.

The gun was stamped "1950". It was made in Russia and captured in Korea. It gave the lie to Russia's persistent denial that she currently is furnishing the Korean Communist with the weapons they are using to kill United Nations troops.

The gun was not a modern weapon. It closely resembled an old-style Thompson sub-machine gun, the weapon that the Chicago gangsters referred to as a "Tommy Gun" in the days when they were committing aggression on a local level. Austin passed the gun around the table to the other delegates and all of them examined it with interest except Jacob Malik, the Russian. He walked out of the room and stayed out until interest in the machine gun had subsided.

Austin produced the gun to dramatize one fact that covers the thinking of all the statesmen who are trying to prevent World War III.

Russia is the arsenal of aggression. She and one of her satellites—Czechoslovakia—must produce almost all the weapons the Communists need to further their plan to conquer the world. If some way could be found to cut down industrial production in Russia and Czechoslovakia, the Democracies would have won a major victory.

People already are thinking along those lines. Britain has been sending machine tools to eastern Europe, tools that are used to make rifles, cannon and tanks. In return she has been getting lumber which she needs to build houses. Yesterday the British announced they would suspend temporarily the shipment of machine tools.

They think perhaps it would be better to send them to the Atlantic Pact Nations.

Some sort of the same idea probably was running through the minds of the American Longshorem who refused to unload a cargo of Russian crabmeat. Crabmeat hardly can be a major factor in a war, but if Russia is unable to sell her products abroad, she is handicapped in importing the things she needs to build a war machine.

There aren't many major factories in North Korea, China, Hungary, Rumania or Alabama. If the Communists in those countries are going to fight they are going to do it with weapons made in the factories at Stalingrad, Leningrad and the Skoda works in Czechoslovakia. The United States Army estimates that 30 per cent of Russia's budget is being spent on armament, turning out guns similar to the one Austin hoisted to the table at the U.N.

One thing sticks out about all the Russian weapons captured in Korea: They are simple to operate. A Chinese peasant could learn to fire them effectively in a week. They may be obsolete by modern standards, but our casualty lists in Korea bear grim testimony that they still kill and wound effectively.
