"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. W. C. Blaine, Tuscola, Ill.: I remember when the whole family gathered in the parlor on cold winter nights. Mother would play the organ and the family would sing JUST BECAUSE YOU MADE THEM GOO-GOO EYES, PUT YOUR ARMS AROUND ME HONEY, HOLD ME TIGHT, RED WING. We would wind up the evening singing Stephen Foster songs and hymns.

From Mrs. Bessie K. Russell, Ada, Ohio: I remember when women at 40 stopped wearing hats and wore straw, silk or velvet bonnets with ribbon ties to make a bow under the chin. They wore somber clothes and never all white.

From Mrs. M. E. Stanley, Milton, Va.: I remember, when a girl, father making butter, packing it in tubs, then in early morning when cool, driving 14 miles to sell it for 15 cents a pound. Also when women and girls had high button shoes, flour sold for 75 cents for a 25-lb sack. Eggs were only 10 and 12 cents a dozen.

From Edna Marsh, Blaineville, Pa.: I remember when women wore shirtwaists with high neck and stiff collars up against their jaws. Some collars were ribbon wound around their necks. Hair was piled on top of their heads with a comb and their heads, kept out by hair "rais."

From Mrs. Ella M. Conant, Plymouth, Mo.: I remember when we slept on "beds" lined with dried corn husks. When housecleaning time came, mother would empty the husks on a clean sheet in the yard. It was my job to pick the husks up one at a time, shake out dust and put them in a clean "tick." We called them "ticks" because they were made of ticking. When washing, all white clothes were boiled in a large copper boiler placed on a wood range.

(Mail your memories to The Old Timers, Box 340, Frankfort, Ky.)

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Alford of Bonham have a new son named Timothy Lane. He was born on March 1. Mrs. Alford is the former Vera Adams. SCENES OF UNIQUE TEXAS EASTER SERVICE

1. Live-oak tree marking geographical center of Texas. 2. Site of Easter worship, audience occupying amphitheatre in front of Cross. 3. Speaker, Dr. E. R. Bertermann. 4. Chorus.

All Americans will have an opportunity to hear—and all Texans to participate in—the fourth annual Texas Easter Sunrise Worship at the generally accepted geographical center of the greatest State in the rugged, rocky hills near Mercury, McCulloch County. The program, in which Governor Allan Shivers of Texas and the Springfield Seminary Luthern Hour Chorus from Springfield, Ill., will participate—will be heard on 440 radio stations of the Mutual Network from coast to coast and the stations of the Texas State Network. The visible audience will occupy seats hewn out of the steep walls of a natural amphitheatre above an old rugged cross planted on the ranch of Fred Thormann, Mercury, president of the operating committee for the Easter Worship program. "Dedicated to the risen Christ, this program, like His saving grace, is free to all who wish to come and to those who, unable to be present in the flesh, will arise with the sun on Easter morning to worship with us beside their radios," Thormann said. Heard on the program, in addition to the Texas Governor and the famous choir, will be Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, St. Louis, Mo., director of the International Lutheran Hour radio program.

MISS SAMFORD WEDS TO MR. LINDAUER IN EASTLAND

Miss Jewel Samford and F. Lindauer, both employed at Fort Hood, were married in a single ring ceremony at 10 a. m. Sunday in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. E. Knott of Eastland.

Performing the ceremony was W. E. Moore, minister of the First Church of Christ.

Attendants were Miss Underwood of Brownwood, of honor, George Knoll of Killeen, best man, and Mrs. George and Newt Blackerby of Brownwood.

The bride wore a navy blue taffeta street length dress with light beige accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Underwood wore a gabardine dressmakers suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Betty Samford, mother of the bride, wore a tailored black crepe.

Guests attending the wedding in addition to the wedding party were Mrs. Nora Turner of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. Owenford of Coleman, Mrs. J. H. Underwood of Brownwood, Mrs. J. Samford and children of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Knott of Ranger, E. P. Kilborn of Eastland, Martha Knoll of Killeen, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Hennessey of Eastland, Mrs. Doris Cagle of Collin of Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Knott were hosts at their home, 1017 South Daugherty Street, at a dining luncheon immediately following the ceremony.

A large three-tiered wedding cake was the centerpiece of the luncheon table.

The rooms were decorated with arrangements of carnations. After a wedding trip to Brownwood, Coleman and Brownwood couple were to be at home at 417 Rancier Ave. in Killeen.

Both Mr. and Mrs. P. Grimes and their daughter were confined to their home week with flu. Grimes, who has been suffering with a back leg ailment, is somewhat better but not able to out yet.

She was accompanied to Brownwood by Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and her brother, Herby.

Telephone Lines speed Production Lines that build Defense Lines No country on earth dislikes to produce weapons of war more than America. But no country on earth can do the job as swiftly and expertly as America—when she has to. One of the reasons we can out-produce any other nation is our telephone system—the biggest and best in the world. Here in Texas millions of telephone calls tie our defense efforts together. Ideas, proposals, decisions, orders, instructions and information flash over telephone wires—and production lines move full speed ahead. It is our job at the telephone company to meet these responsibilities. We will do so, as we have tried to meet all our service obligations—with all the skill and financial strength at our command. TOPICS AT CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING MANY, VARIED

The March meeting of the Eastland Civic League and Garden Club at the clubhouse Wednesday afternoon proved to be one of the best attended and most interesting meetings of the club in the current year.

Mrs. James Horton, president, presided over the business session, followed by the interesting program, and a St. Patrick's tea party closed the afternoon.

Mrs. Jack Frost read the minutes of the last meeting in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Eugene Hickman. Mrs. Sam Gamble made a treasurer's report in the course of which she reported the league's mid-winter festival netted a profit of $116. Also, she reported that 160 members had paid their club dues.

Mrs. Earl Conner, Sr., as Civic League representative, made a report from the Club House Board. She also made a motion that the Las Leales Club be made a co-member of the board, and the motion carried.

Mrs. C. W. Hoffmann reported concerning the school hill beautification project.

Mrs. T. E. Richardson talked about the annual Eastland spring clean-up campaign which began this week and will extend through the second week in April. City trucks will be available to help pick up trash and refuse over the town, she said. Householders who are ready for pickup service should contact Mrs. Richardson or members of her committee.

Mrs. Bill Jessop reported concerning the art exhibit which the Civic League sponsored. She said over 300 persons visited the exhibit while it was on display in the club house.

Mrs. Jack Carothers reported on the welfare fund.

Mrs. John Turner made a report for the hospital committee. She took to the meeting a small scale model for a proposed hospital building, made by Ted Howard of Eastland, Texas A. & M. College architectural student.

The model is for a 15-bed hospital with two wings, that could easily be expanded to any size at a later time. Howard is to bring more detailed plans with him at Easter, and also the estimate of cost of such a hospital built of Haydite blocks on a cement foundation.

Mrs. Turner reported on a number of money making schemes for helping finance the hospital which had been thought up by people of Eastland, and said all this concrete evidence of interest was a most hopeful sign to the committee.

She said a group of business men had said they were thinking of putting up money to drill an oil test on the hospital site at Plummer, Green and Daugherty Streets. Various business people have worked up plans for siphoning money into the fund, she reported, and one group is planning an entertainment feature to raise funds for the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Horton of Horton Ceramics are making little change banks in their plant which they intend to donate to the Civic League for placing in stores to collect small change from customers who wish to donate to the fund.

J. T. Gregory Given Party On Birthday

Mrs. J. T. Gregory honored her husband with a surprise 42 party Wednesday night at their home, 211 East Conner Street, to celebrate his birthday. After games were played, gifts were displayed on the game table, and cake, ice cream and Cokes were served to the guests.

Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Wright Emfinger and Norma Gayle of Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peoples, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Emfinger and Gregory Lee of Morton Valley, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pittman and Lana Gaye, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Copeland and Cecilia and Nancy, the honoree, and his small son Layne Gregory.

It was announced at the meeting that the county club federation will meet in Gorman Saturday.

Mrs. M. S. Long had charge of the program, and presented Mrs. John Turner, who gave a talk on old homes and gardens that she and Mr. Turner visited last April in Virginia while on a vacation trip.

Mrs. Turner had brought back with her a great variety of pamphlets, books, papers, programs and pictures concerning the charming old homes and gardens, and displayed the data on a screen back of the tea table and on the tables and piano during the meeting for the members to see and enjoy.

At the close of her talk, Mrs. Turner showed colored slides with a projector of some Virginia homes and gardens, including Mount Vernon, home of George Washington, and Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson.

Mrs. Long then presented Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, who held a forum on hobbies and ideas of the different members of the club, including travel, music, art, china, and other things.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Horton presided at the tea table as tea was served with tiny cakes and nuts.

Hostesses for the day were Mesdames M. S. Long, W. H. Cooper and Frank Day.

Mrs. Joe Stephen spent the week end in a Cisco hospital recovering from an attack of flu, but was able to resume her teaching duties at Eastland Junior High School Tuesday.

CIVIL DEFENSE
Standard Training Is Needed By Civil Defense Volunteers

By Walter A. Shead

AUTHORITY in the line of command for the tremendous civil defense army needed in case of full scale war stems from the President, through Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell, to the 48 state civil defense directors and down the line to the appointed officers in cities, towns and counties throughout the nation.

National defense against atomic, biological and chemical warfare rests upon thorough training to start in a civil defense staff college to be established for top civil defense planners and administrators. The college will serve as a source of all latest information. Regional technical training centers are also planned where this information will be disseminated in the civil defense training programs in the states and local communities. The technical centers will be staffed by thoroughly trained men and women in all phases of the work and will provide means for standardization of the technical and special training necessary. Standardization is a prime factor for successful mutual aid and mobile support which require a force of uniformly trained civil defense workers.

Graduates of the federal technical training centers will train other civil defense workers and trainers within the states, who, in turn, will train the local volunteers. Under the program, two kinds of training will be provided—general and specialized. General training will consist of instruction in basic subjects to include fundamental principles of organization and operation, basic first aid and improvised rescue operations.

The American Red Cross, officials of the public health service and other organizations concerned with health services will conduct certain phases of specialized training such as first aid and nurses' aid training. Many medical officers of the military services, public health services, the veterans administration and other organizations have taken specialized courses in defenses against atomic warfare and these will be asked to assist in the training program.

Already in the atomic warfare field, 148 physicians from 38 states have taken courses given by the atomic energy commission in cooperation with the national security resources board. Similar courses for nurses have been started. Other courses either federal, state or local, will be available for dentists, veterinarians and other professional and technical people working in health services. State health officials have taken courses in radiological monitoring which included many aspects of the civil defense program.

Similar training courses will be available for biological warfare against humans and animals, against chemical warfare and against biological warfare against crops. Courses in these subjects will have three prime aspects—detection, treatment of casualties, and methods of decontamination. Training will be available for nurses aids and home nurses, radiological monitors, auxiliary sanitary personnel and auxiliary laboratory workers.

For large segments of the general public, the major type of training will be in the category of first aid—what to do first in any of the fields of civil defense. The goal is 20,000,000 trained first-aiders in a 20-hour course which will also include training in special weapons defense and in procedures for treating minor illnesses in time of emergency when physicians will be overburdened with casualties.

Every state will operate under a uniform system of organization, equipment and procedure. Establishment of control stations in strategic areas, of first aid stations and the implementation of all necessary ambulances, hospitalization, fire fighting equipment and a score of other defense mechanisms will be taught. It is estimated that approximately 35 per cent of surviving casualties in an atomic bomb burst would require transportation by litter to first-aid stations, hence the importance of first aid work. As an example, if there were 40,000 injured survivors, about 13,000 probably would have to be carried by litters. Another 27,000 could walk, or would be taken to first aid stations by other means. So the most important function is in first aid training, since even fire-fighters, rescue teams, police, engineering and other personnel, first to contact the injured, would be called upon for first aid to casualties.

So every individual should watch for announcement of establishment of regional training centers.

Mrs. Hill Tells Sorority Chapter Of Mexico

Mrs. Don Hill gave an interesting account of a recent trip to Mexico, including visits in Mexico City and Acapulco, at a meeting of the Zeta Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Frank Sayre, with Mrs. J. Ross Rucker as co-hostess.

Mrs. Hill had numerous photographs and illustrated folders for members to see.

At a business meeting, Mrs. Terry Barrett gave a report of the nominating committee. Election of officers for the coming year will be held at the next meeting.

Members were reminded of the card party for all members and their husbands to be held Friday at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Rucker, the former Miss Merle Steen, was presented with a crested crystal cake plate as a gift from the whole sorority.

Spiced tea and sandwiches were served to Mesdames Terry Barrett, Dorothy Horton, Don Hill, Oscar Avera, Jimmy Harkrider, Evelyn Gage, Jerry Halbert, Gayland Poe, Ed Hooker, Bill Stanley, R. N. Whitehead, M. D. Fox, Bill Leslie, Bill Walters, and Billy Jack Watkins.

"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

Good Fortune Smiles on Non-Worriers

HERE'S A STORY about a couple of people who started out in life as Non-worriers. It wasn't that they had conquered worry; they never had worried, says Mrs. Alan Longacre, Richmond, California. Their marriage was happy. Good fortune came to them with her choicest gifts.

It looked for a time as if they would have no children, but they didn't worry about that. Within five years came three lovely children. They had everything, but what was more important they realized it, and didn't fret their lives away over petty matters.

Then, their house burned down with all their personal belongings.

But they took advantage of having no home for George Allen to go back to school and get his degree in chemical engineering, thus turning that sour lemon into lemonade.

Suddenly their little three-year-old son developed Leukemia. The doctors gave him one week to three months life expectancy.

But the doctors at a well-known medical center asked to hospitalize him for three weeks for an important experiment which might save him. They consented and for weeks after he left the hospital they took him to the hospital daily for treatments. This meant rising at six in the morning and working until after mid-night. But hope was enshrined in their hearts.

Everything went well for six months, then the doctor said Mrs. Allen's heart would not continue to stand the pace she was going!

Their budget was already so overburdened that there was nothing to be applied to even inefficient help.

So she had to handle her relaxation herself. She spent two hours on the bus to and from the hospital. During that time she learned to absolutely relax, let her mind go blank.

Today she can carry out her daily program with no strain on her heart, and the doctors are grateful to them, the while they are grateful to the doctors, because their young son is the "star" in his group at the medical center and is responding wonderfully to treatment.

"We still believe that good fortune favors us," says Mrs. Allen.

I am proud to write in this column of people who just naturally count their blessings. They are the salt of the earth.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

THE 82ND CONGRESS has used up three months of the people's time and money and accomplished little, except to start several more probes and inquiries which likely will amount to little, or about as little as most congressional inquiries.

This far, there have been many committee hearings, but no important legislation of any nature. Most time has been spent in "the great debate" over foreign policy in the senate, and the house has maneuvered itself into a position wherein it cannot move on any legislation without the consent of about eight men on the powerful rules committee.

As Senator Tom Connally of Texas remarked, the Kefauver committee is still "out hunting craphooters"; the Monroney committee has a juicy scandal in the making over the Butler election in Maryland, which brought about the defeat of the veteran Millard Tydings; another committee promises more glamour in a renewal of the Hollywood investigation; the house un-American activities committee ostentatiously has brought a truck load of records of the old Pacific Institute, which have been stored for years on a New England farm and which have been gone over more than once by the FBI, has them under lock and key and promises more "revelations" a la Senator McCarthy.

The senate sub-committee, headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, is poking into everything from air force recruitment to training at military bases, tin and synthetic rubber shortages, powdered eggs, the army transportation system and Alaska and its fortifications.

Then Senator John Bricker of Ohio has called for an investigation of the walk-out of the labor members of the wage stabilization board; Senator Fulbright of Arkansas had things pretty much his own way in a probe of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in charging that some employees of executive department had used undue political influence in getting loans for folks back home. That is, until the executive department came up with the fact that RFC files show between 700 and 900 letters from congressmen and senators themselves, including Senators Fulbright and Douglas, members of the investigating committee, doing the same thing—using their influence, whether undue or political or what, in obtaining loans for their constituents back home.

Now, there are some who want the Fulbright committee to drop the RFC probe like a hot-potato. Anyway, the President has asked for a reorganization of the corporation, continuing it as a separate agency and setting up a loan policy board of five members, much like a bank directorate, all with a single administrator.

In the meantime over in the house, in one day's session, the members adopted resolutions providing for $100,000 for a committee to study problems of small business; $210,000 for use of the committee on expenditures in the executive departments; $75,000 for the select committee probing the use of chemicals in food; $60,000 for the select committee probing alleged abuses of the GI education and training program and $50,000 for investigations by the committee on interior and insular affairs... a total of almost a half million dollars for more probes.

During the week, the President signed the first public law of the 82nd congress. It provided an extension of two years after June 30 of the privilege of servicemen overseas to send gifts valued at not more than $50 to the U.S. without import tax.

The senate finally passed the house bill to establish a five-man board to renegotiate certain classes of defense contracts to squeeze out any excessive profits. It now goes to a conference committee, for the senate eliminated some exemptions from the bill which the house had passed, added some other permissive exemptions and liberalized the mandatory list of agricultural commodities, mineral products, etc., to include contracts with transportation and public utility service contracts.

HADACOL is Requested By Nurses

HADACOL Helps Folks Suffering Deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Registered nurses, in increasing numbers, are showing a keen interest in HADACOL and in the results that are being secured with this great modern formula. Requests have been received from many of these nurses for professional samples of HADACOL and many of them indicated that they recommend the HADACOL formula to patients who are deficient in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Mrs. L. D. Lovett, a registered nurse who lives at 2205 Walnut St., Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, says this about HADACOL:

"I was down in Florida for the past month. I had no energy so several members of my family told me to try a bottle of HADACOL. My sister, who is a nurse, was taking a bottle so I tried a bottle. I feel fine since taking HADACOL. I do private duty here. I am 50 years old."

HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today. Only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful HADACOL feeling."
