The 1951 fund raising campaign of the American Red Cross was going along somewhat spottily this week in the Eastland County Chapter, with Cisco leading the county, Ranger trailing, Eastland in the middle, and the rural areas showing a good return, Mrs. John Love, county fund chairman said.

Hoover Urges GOP To Override 'Infantry Generals' And Fight Against Sending Troops To Europe

WASHINGTON, March 14 (UP)—Former president Herbert Hoover challenged congressional Republicans today to override "infantry generals" and fight to the end against sending American troops into the Atlantic Pact Army.

Given time, Mr. Hoover said, the troops project could be licked in Congress.

He warned that sending American divisions into the international pact army would be an "unwarranted risk" which might lead to global war and "the end of civilization."

Apparently assuming personal command of the current battle against sending the troops, Mr. Hoover made the plea to key House and Senate Republicans at a secret meeting last night in a hotel dining room. Hotel attendants stuffed the transoms of the meeting room with rags to prevent his remarks from being overheard.

"The time has come for civilian control of the armed forces of the United States," Mr. Hoover said amidst bursting applause.

Mr. Hoover said "the moment" the now contemplated four additional divisions are sent abroad "the military will want to send that quota would be met easily, according to Mrs. Willard White, Cisco chairman. Ranger was lagging behind with only $44.30 reported Monday to the county office. Eastland was holding the middle ground with $627 on record so far.

Rural communities had not all reported to the county office on Monday, but the tally at that time was as follows: Pioneer, 39.10; Okra, $18.50; Word $4.50; Nimrod, $7.50; Sabanno, $9.45; Cheaney, $76.65.

Rising Star and Gorman reported they had not yet started their campaigns, but would this week, and promised that in each case, it would be wound up in plenty of time with the quota met. No reports had come in from other places at that time.

Various activities were in the process of being planned as money raising schemes over the county, most interesting of which was the double-header basketball game scheduled to be played on the night of Friday, March 23, at the Eastland high school gymnasium, Cyrus Frost, Jr., Eastland chairman said. All gate receipts will be turned over to the Eastland County Chapter.

So far the only team known for sure in the plan is the Lamb Motor Co., but announcement of the game will be made later when plans are completed.

Helpers On Senior Play Recognized

What's a play without it's script girl? Guyrene Robinson has been working very hard with the senior play cast and she deserves much recognition.

Louise Owen has been substitute actor, actress, director and designer and we all appreciate this very much. Her ideas about figures and clothes to fit the characters have been most helpful.

Poe Furnishes Play Exhibit

Poe Floral has planted geranium beds and other plants on the terrace of the Pringle home.

The background of white palms and lattice has been furnished by Wendell Siebert and Ed Hooker. See this interesting arrangement March 15 and 16 in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Colorado City Demotes Chief Of Police

Colorado City demoted its Chief of police Tuesday but the officer claims he is "still the chief of police." Reports the Abilene Reporter-News.

H. S. Hickman, the demoted policeman, indicated he did not feel City Manager Jack Tallent had the authority to separate him from the police force. The city council demoted him and suspended him for 60 days. City Manager Tallent read a report charging that Hickman had failed to cooperate in the reorganization and modernization of the police department and was suspended for helping organize sentiment for making the chief of police an elective office.

Hickman, present at the meeting, denied any connection with a petition earlier presented to the council. It contained more than 100 names and asked a change in the city charter to permit the chief of police to be elected rather than appointed.

The city council returned the petition to its sponsors after noting what it termed errors in the petition including failures to list addresses and penciled signatures. Hickman, who termed the action a "political trick", will be eligible to retire in May under the city's new retirement plan.

Ministers Form Fellowship Group

A Ministerial Fellowship was organized at a meeting held recently in the study of the First Methodist Church.

William C. Emberton was elected president of the Fellowship and Otto F. Marshall was elected secretary.

The meeting time will be the first Monday in each month at 10 a.m. The place of meeting will be left open to the call of the president.

An Easter Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. Easter Morning, March 25, will be the first action of the fellowship, with the pastors of the city taking part.

Present at the first meeting were: Lloyd Chapman, Morris Bailey, William C. Emberton, Otto F. Marshall and Truman Walker.

Carbon Monoxide Gas Kills Man

WHITEWRIGHT, Tex., March 14 (UP)—A verdict of carbon monoxide poisoning was entered today in the death of Lawrence S. Lewis, 43, of Texarkana, Ark.

Lewis was found yesterday in the rear seat of an automobile in which he and two other men had traveled here from Camden, Ark., to seek employment.

Peace Justice Ed Martin conducted an investigation and ruled that Lewis' death was accidental.

Lions-Rotary Golf Duel Is Slated Soon

Members of the Lions Club discussed their forthcoming golf match with the Rotary Club at their regular meeting Tuesday at the First Methodist Church.

Judge Milburn S. Long, president of the club, told the Lions that Hubert Westfall, president of the Rotary, had issued a challenge to the Lions Club for a golf match and that he accepted the challenge for the club.

Everett Plowman was appointed to make arrangements for the match. Judge Long said that the Rotary Club had specified that five men are to play in the match.

A date for the turf has not been set, but it was believed it would be played the latter part of this week.

A letter of appreciation from a family of a boy who the club has furnished glasses.

Following the business meeting, members of the Club went to the Majestic Theatre where they view a movie, "Why Korea," which presented reasons for the present conflict in Korea.

Corpus Christi Mayor Orders Gambling Probe

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Mar. 14 (UP)—Mayor Leslie Wasserman had ordered an investigation into charges that gamblers are operating in Corpus Christi under police protection.

One of nine men arrested yesterday on gambling charges insisted he had police permission to operate.

Police Chief Roy Law denied that gambling was going on with his permission or knowledge, but Mayor Wasserman ordered an investigation.

Desdemona Youth At Japan Base

Pfc. Jerrell J. Smith, son of Mrs. C. P. Farmer, Desdemona, is now serving in Japan with the 27th Station Medical Group.

Pfc. Smith's unit is a part of the 27th Fighter Escort Wing whose pilots have become known as the "Mig-Masters" as a result of recent successful aerial encounters against enemy jet fighters. The 27th pilots are still presently engaged in aerial combat against the Communist aggressors in Korea.

The 27th Station Medical Group to which Smith is assigned as a medical technician, recently made travel here from Camden, Ark., to seek employment. Peace Justice Ed Martin conducted an investigation and ruled that Lewis' death was accidental.

Bankline To Test Duffer In Reynolds Well

Bankline's No. 5 C. E. Reynolds in the Briggs-Owens area about four miles northwest of Eastland was drilling at the top of the Caddo Wednesday morning. The well is to be a deep test, drilling to the Duffer at about 3,800 feet.

Bankline is making a new location in the area in Section 47, Block 4, H&TC Survey on the Mize-Dulin lease.

Cooper and Hemphill's No. 1 Clatt was nearing the Lake Sand Wednesday in the Briggs-Owens area.

Bert Fields has abandoned the Kendrick's No. 1 as a dry hole.

Police Hunt 'Rock Slugger'

HOUSTON, Tex., March 14 (UP)—Police today hunted a man who used a rock wrapped in a handkerchief to slug two women in different sections of the city last night.

Officers said they were not positive the same man was responsible for both attacks, but said it appeared so. They said the description given of him by both victims tallied and his method of approach was the same.

The first incident occurred shortly before midnight. A young man followed Miss Mary Allen, 26, as she got off a bus and walked close behind her until she was within a few feet of her home.

He then remarked, "It's pretty cold outside tonight," then suddenly slugged her as she turned away, Miss Allen said.

Thirty minutes later and 30 blocks away, Mrs. Anna Kabernik 36, was passed by a man who commented on the weather. As he did, she said he whirled around and hit her on the head.

Both women were treated at Jefferson Davis Hospital for deep head cuts.

Police said there was no apparent motive for the attacks since the women were not robbed or molested.

Rare Earthquake Shakes Nations In NW Europe

LONDON, March 14 (UP)—A rare but minor earthquake today shook five countries in the northwest corner of Europe.

The three-minute tremor started at 10:49 a.m. near the Belgian-German border (4:49 a.m. CST) centered in or close to the Ardennes Forest, scene of the "battle of the bulge" in World War II.

No casualties were reported from the gentle "swaying" felt in Holland, Belgium, the Netherlands, North France and West Germany.

War ruins in small German towns toppled over and a few walls were cracked, but no major damage was reported.

At Bonn, the West German capital, the meteorological institute reported the earthquake had been caused by shifting outer surfaces of earth in the area.

Seismologists at London's famed Kew Observatory recorded a "slight" earthquake. They said records from the five nations were under study to determine the quake's epicenter.

The observatory at Strasbourg, Germany, described the quakes as "fairly sharp" and said the epicenter was in or around the Ardennes near the Rhine river valley.

Mrs. Sarah King Dies In Gatesville

Hammer Funeral Home was to bring the body here overland and are tentatively scheduled to transport the body to Oklahoma for burial.

Loveard and W. H. King of Eastland are sons of Mrs. King. She lived in Eastland for a number of years. She died at the home of a daughter in Gatesville.

ROK CAPITAL CHANGES HANDS FOR FOURTH TIME IN WAR

By Earnest Hoberecht
TOKYO, Thursday, March 15 (UP)—South Korean troops recaptured the capital city of Seoul without firing a shot Wednesday and hoisted their flag above the capitol building.

The Reds fled north from Seoul and elsewhere all along the 140-mile Korean battlefield. Allied tank patrols pursued them to within 15 miles of the 38th Parallel without catching up.

Five strong South Korean patrols of the ROK 1st Division began crossing the Han River in fishing boats at dawn Wednesday. They moved freely through the streets of the war-shattered capital and at 9:15 p.m. (7:15 a.m. EST) the fifth patrol raised the Republic of Korea flag above the capitol.

Man Wins 24 Year Fight For $452,000

CHICAGO, March 14 (UP)—William T. Hargraves, fresh from winning a $452,000 inheritance after a 24-year fight, went quietly about his duties as a $45-a-week restaurant cashier today.

"I'm going to keep working as usual until I find out how much of that money my lawyers and the government get," he said.

The 61-year-old widower won the inheritance in Illinois appellate court yesterday. The court upheld a circuit court decision granting him his late sister's share of her husband's estate.

The case had been tied up in court since 1927. Through the years Hargraves kept a scrapbook of its history. It ran to two volumes and "reads just like a novel."

"I'm closing them up as soon as I paste in the last clippings today," he said. "The feeling of relief is wonderful."

Hargraves doesn't know when he can get at his inheritance or precisely what he'll do with it.

"I'm not going on any spree or get the swell-head," he said. "I've been all through that in my younger days."

Hargraves became heir to the estate when his sister, Mrs. Florence May Jackson, died in the LaSalle Hotel fire here in 1946.

Mrs. Jackson's claim to the assets of her late husband, Arthur, of the Chicago grain brokerage firm of Jackson Brothers and Co. had been contested by his business partners.

The claim amounted to $1,288,435 at the time of her death, but subsequent litigation whittled it down to $452,000.

Judge Clears Earl Browder Of Contempt

WASHINGTON, March 14 (UP)—Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts today cleared Earl Browder, former boss of the American Communist Party, of contempt of Congress charges.

Letts granted Browder's plea for acquittal.

The onetime Communist boss was accused of contempt of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee which investigated Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's charges of Communist infiltration of the state department.

The charge was based on Browder's refusals to answer 16 questions put by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R., Ia.

Letts noted that Browder, in his appearance last April 27, answered freely 140 to 150 questions "with no attempt to evade the consequences of the information imparted."

On the occasions when Browder declined to answer, Letts said he specifically stated objections and gave explanations.

"The court," he said, "could not permit a verdict of guilty in this case."

Neta Given Award

Neta Fay Massengale, well-known in the field of design, has been given a medal from the senior class for her work in helping design the set for "A Lucky Penny." See the play March 15 and 16 at 8 p.m.

Allied recapture of Seoul came two months and 10 days after Chinese Communist troops drove UN forces out at the climax of a massive offensive that hurled the Allies back from the Yalu River boundary with Manchuria.

This was the fourth time the battered South Korean capital had changed hands in this war. North Korean forces captured it last June 29, four days after crossing the 38th Parallel. U. S. Marines and the U. S. 7th Infantry division recaptured the city last Sept. 28.

The Chinese Communists wrested it from the Allies again on the night of Jan. 4.

"The city of Seoul was entered tonight by ROK troops," a front dispatch said.

"First reports said South Korean patrols entered the abandoned city and reached the west gate at 7 p.m. (5 a.m. EST) The patrols then proceeded to the capitol building, where they raised the Republic of Korea flag."

An 8th Army memorandum issued at 11:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m. EST) said the patrols encountered no opposition.

"There will be a lapse of several hours before it will be possible to release more information on this topic," the memorandum said. "Meanwhile, nothing but what is contained above will be cleared."

The memorandum quoted En. Paik Sun-Yup, commander of the South Korean 1st Division, as entering Seoul city again.

United Press correspondent Robert Vermillion reported from the front that five patrols of the South Korean troops crossed the Han in fishing boats between dawn and 7:50 p.m. (5:50 a.m. EST) Wednesday and moved freely through Seoul's streets.

"They will stay there if they can," Vermillion quoted an 8th Army spokesman as saying.

Earlier reports said 8th Army patrols were exploring the possibility the Reds were protecting northwestern highway south of Seoul on the direct route to the Communist capital of Pyongyang.

United Press correspondent Peter Kalischer reported that some of a half dozen Allied tank patrols had reached within 15 miles of the 38th Parallel without finding the Reds. Kalischer did not specify in what areas these patrols were operating.

Communist resistance collapsed suddenly all along the Korean battlefield three days ago.

Pastor To Tell Of Gambling In Galveston

AUSTIN, Tex., March 14 (UP)—A lean, crusading pastor from La Marque appears before a state senate committee today to tell what he knows about open gambling in Galveston County.

"I'm tickled to death at the chance," said the Rev. Harry H. Burch, pastor of St. Paul's Union Church, yesterday.

The person, who said he had been invited by Sen. George Nokes of Corsicana to appear before the committee at 2 p.m., said he would tell the senators names of gambling places both on Galveston Island and the mainland.

The Rev. Burch sparked a crusade two years ago that cleaned slot machines out of La Marque, a Galveston County town of 8,000 persons.

THE LIFE STORY OF JESUS CHRIST

Copyright 1951 by Hallmark Productions, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Jesus, born to Mary, wife of Joseph in a stable at Bethlehem is saved when an angel tells Joseph of King Herod's plan to kill all infants to remove what he thinks will be his worldly rival. For several years, the Holy Family hid in Egypt, then returned to Nazareth and when Jesus was 30 years of age He set out on His Mission. He found His cousin, John the Baptist, and was baptized by him. Then he spent 40 days in fast and prayer and in temptation by the devil. He started His preaching career and found His first four apostles. They were Peter, Andrew, James and John.

CHAPTER 4

The disciples, directly or indirectly, are responsible for what the world today knows of Jesus and His teachings. It was they who wrote the story or told it to others to write. Jesus Himself left no written record of His life or teachings and the Jesus whom we read about in the gospels is the Jesus whom the disciples saw with their own eyes.

There are records of the many miracles performed by Jesus. The first of these took place when He and His four apostles left the river Jordan and went into the synagogue and performed miracles of healing. He told a leper to "be clean" and the leper was made well. Jesus asked the man to say nothing to anyone, but he was so overjoyed at what had happened to him that he spread the word everywhere and soon great crowds were following Christ wherever He went. So great were the crowds that He finally had to go out of the cities and into the open country to preach.

Moving on from city to city and town to town, Jesus finally came to His childhood home, Nazareth. On the Sabbath, when He entered the synagogue, he was invited to read from the scripture, taking the text from the book of Isaiah:

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He anointed Me to preach good tidings to the poor; He has sent Me to proclaim release to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord."

Putting aside the text, He continued: "This day as you listen, this scripture is fulfilled."

When His old family friends and neighbors realized that Jesus was referring to Himself, they developed a resentment. Yet they had heard of His ability to work miracles and they wanted proof before they would believe in Him. That was when He said: "A prophet is not without honor, but in His own country, and among His own kin and in His own house." And then, Jesus told the people of Nazareth that unless they changed, the promises of God might never be fulfilled for them, but for others on the outside.

The people became very angry and formed into a hysterical mob. They threatened to throw Him over a high cliff. But the very power of His personality overcame them and He passed out of the crowd and went on His way.

The Big Wheel In The Nation's Capital

Sultry Pictures Of Movie Stars Contain Features That Help Jet Plane Pilots Remember How To Fly

AN AIRPORT IN KOREA March 13 (UP)—Veronica Lake, Trudy Marshall, Terry Moore, Linda Darnell and Susan Hayward are young ladies who are empty endowed with mnemonic devices.

They are helping the war effort more than they know. They—through pictures, that is—have points of interest of pilots. Pilots like to look at them and study their fine points.

Anneumonic device is something which helps you remember something else. The operations officer of the 49th Fighter Bomber Group, a student, no doubt, of human nature, realized some time ago that sultry pictures of movie actresses and models might contain interesting features which, properly exploited, would help jet pilots remember how to fly and fight.

So—when you walk into the part of the operations shack where the pilots hang out, you find pictures of the aforementioned actresses and many other ripe young ladies. There are captions above the pictures referring to airplanes, and advice under the pictures about how to run airplanes. The operations officer has contrived a tie-in, in most instances, between picture and text.

A pilot, walking through the door, for instance, is likely to come face to face with Trudy Marshall reclining on a stack of hay. She has on a one piece swimsuit and is smiling and biting the end of a straw. Over her it says in big black capital letters "if my fire goes out, restart me—fire the hay."

Underneath the picture, it tells how to restart an F-80 Shooting Star in the air if its flame goes out during flight.

Then there is a luscious color picture of Susan Hayward. She has on a low cut, green evening gown. With one hand she is ruffling her cascading red hair. Above her it says "Don't panic with a red."

Underneath it tells what to do while in flight when the red light which is a fire warning comes on in the cockpit.

There's a picture of Terry Moore wearing what appears to be a strapless sweater, properly filled. The sign says, "why bust your seams?" and in small letter: "Keep your tip tanks round and firm." Then it goes into detailed advice on how to care for the wingtip fuel tanks which jet planes use.

A somewhat chilly picture of Linda Darnell sitting on a diving board is captioned "warm me up." The next tells how properly to warm up F-80 electrical instruments.

Advice to pilots to keep looking around for the enemy—"clear the sky" the airman call it—is wrapped around a picture of Veronica Lake reclining at ease in a tight dress. A big red sign over her says: "Those that don't look around never have to worry"—(Billy the Kid, 1895, 21-years of age, 21 kills) underneath it says "you can't clear the sky enough. The red pilots will use the sun. Use your eyes and the proper technique."

One picture of an outside sweater girl is captioned simply, "true, or false?" and underneath it lists some questions on bombing.

I asked a pilot if the posters were successful, if the fliers read them, and he said: "I don't know if they're read—but they're looked at, I can guarantee you that."

The 1950 census showed that females in the United States outnumbered males 100 to 98.1. In 1940 the ratio was 100 females to 100.7 males.

Beaumont Trains May Toot Whistles

BEAUMONT, Tex., March 14 (UP)—Trains soon may be allowed to blow their whistles in Beaumont after six years silence.

The city council will vote Tuesday on an ordinance to remove the "no-whistle" ban in force since 1945, when Beaumont residents complained the tooting of whistles disturbed their sleep. There have been a number of grade-crossing accidents in Beaumont recently.

By Ferd Nauheim

THE STORY: Paul Twine, seeking to correct what he believes to be an injustice, kidnaps his niece Judy from her unworthy mother and takes her to New York with May Jenkins, who believes in him. May and Judy, who separate from Paul for security, are nearly caught in the police dragnet, but escape. Paul tries to contact a sea captain friend named Martin Jabore, but is tipped off that police are waiting for him and that he is to get in touch with Captain Cross of the Dolphin. Cross tells Paul how to reach his ship. Meanwhile, May decides to leave Judy in a movie while she goes to meet Paul.

XVI
 MAY JENKINS kissed Judy and turned to leave. She remembered something and whirled around again. She took Judy to a deserted corner of the lobby and, crouching beside the little girl, whispered:

"You remember what happened in the subway this morning, don't you?"

Judy nodded.
 "Well, remember it all the time, honey. Remember what I told you about the terrible trouble it might have caused us. When you go in the movie they probably will have a newsreel. Now it just might happen that you will see something about yourself, Uncle Paul, or your mother on the screen."

"I will!" Judy's little mouth was round with wonder and her eyes alight with happy surprise.
 "You may. If you do, you won't say anything to anyone, will you? You won't do anything but sit quietly in your seat and know what a big girl you are to keep such a big secret so well. Isn't that right?"

Judy Twine's cheeks flushed with pleasure. "I know, Aunt May, I promise."

May hurried from the theater. It was almost 5 o'clock and she had to get back to the car and then drive to 106th Street. She didn't want to keep Paul waiting. As she left the lobby and turned toward 81st Street she brushed by a man looking at the stills advertising the current picture. He was slight, fairly young, and extremely swarthy. He turned and his look was long and intent.

May didn't pay much attention. Her mind was full of Judy for the moment. She was deeply concerned with her decision to send her to the movies alone. At 81st Street she turned to her left.

IN doing so she looked back toward the theater. The stranger was walking toward her. He had his hands deep in his trouser pockets. His stroll was casual. May's fear of leading the police to Paul had been supplanted by her concern over Judy, but now it came back in seething torrent. She walked faster and only by exertion of great will power did she keep herself from looking back.

The car was parked between Amsterdam and Columbus avenues. She was almost at Amsterdam. His following her might be no more than a coincidence. Since she hadn't looked back, she didn't know if he was still behind her, but she felt it.

The only way she could be certain was if she did not go right to the car but turned to her left again at the corner. It would be no much of a coincidence if he too had elected to walk around the block. She made the turn. There were stores on Amsterdam. One that she approached had a large display window with panels of glass facing her in addition to the one that faced the street. She saw her own reflection in the heavy glass. She saw him following.

There was no longer any doubt. She was being shadowed. The events of the day had done nothing to accustom and steel her to danger. The waves of panic that May had known in the subway and when she had looked down from her window in the afternoon took possession of her again.

The car was less than half a block away. She could get to it and once in the car elude him, but that was built on the predication that he alone had been watching, which she didn't believe. Even if that were the case, he was too close.

As soon as he saw her approach the car he would be able to take some action. The only thing to do was to keep walking—to keep away from Paul.

Her chin quivered. She drew a lot of air into her lungs and held it as long as she could. She didn't want to cry. That wouldn't help. It only would make matters worse. A clock struck 5 and each of the deep, resonant chimes drove into her like hard fists.

Paul was waiting. Paul whom she had been yearning to see through the whole nightmarish day. Paul was in that little park now, searching for Judy and for her with anxious eyes. Surely he had seen the papers. What would he be thinking?

"Oh, Paul!"

AT 85th Street May turned left again. Broadway was so much more crowded. Perhaps in a crowd she might be able to get away. The possibility of walking up to the park at 106th Street—just walking through and warning Paul by her expression that . . .

No, she must keep away from Paul! Eighty-fifth Street was empty. She was alone on it—she and that man. She could hear his heels clicking on the pavement behind her. Halfway up the block she heard his pace quicken. A desperate desire to run seized her, but she forced it down, made herself continue at her accustomed gait.

He was just behind her now. He was passing her! And now he had wheeled around, stood in the middle of the pavement, his legs spread, hands on hips, a funny kind of half-smile playing with his thin lips.

May was forced to stop and face him.

Aggies Defeat Texas For NCAA Tourney

AUSTIN, Tex., March 14 (UP)—Texas A&M defeated the University of Texas, 33 to 32, last night to gain the nation's final berth for the N.C.A.A. post-season basketball tournament, but the Aggies had to snap a 17-year-old jinx to turn the trick.

Sophomore Leroy Miksch sank a game winning free throw with 17 seconds to play to give A&M its first victory on the Texas campus since 1934.

Coach John Floyd warmly praised the 18-year-old forward today. "He did a fine job," Floyd said. "We're expecting even greater things of him in the western N.C.A.A. at Kansas City next week."

Sixteen teams, 10 of them conference champions, are entered in the N.C.A.A. eastern playoffs open Tuesday at Raleigh, N. C., and New York, followed by the western playoffs Wednesday at Kansas City.

Floyd was confident his Aggies would show up well.

"We'll do a lot better at Kansas City than we did last night," he said. "Understand, I'm not saying that Texas didn't have a fine team. They're a heck of a lot better than they were rated."

Texas led 15 to 9, as the first half neared an end. The crowd of 7,000 in Gregory gymnasium sensed an easy victory.

The steady-nerved Miksch, scored 15 to 15, at the intermission. The blond youngster hit two quick field goals and a free throw to quiet the partisan crowd.

The Aggies went ahead, 30 to 26, midway through the last half and tried to freeze the ball. The maneuver failed as the ball-hawking Longhorns charged in and knotted the score, 32 to 32, when Jim Dowies plunked in a field goal with a minute and a half to play.

As the timekeeper readied his gun to send the game into overtime, Miksch was fouled by George Cobb. Miksch calmly hit his vital charity shot and the Aggies were in.

Miksch scored 11 points to lead the Aggies; Dowies hit 17 for Texas.

Modern Medicine Disproves Doom Of Heart Disease

AUSTIN, March 14—Too prevalent today is the belief that heart disease is the spell of doom and that one must cease all work and activity. Modern medical knowledge easily disproves this notion, and thousands of case histories bear witness to its falsity.

Heart disease, medical science now knows, is not a single ailment. Many troubles can afflict the heart—some less serious than others. While some restrictions are necessary, it is now generally true that patients with any form of heart trouble should be active within the limits of their capacity.

Not all persons with heart ailments can continue working at their same pace. Obviously there are those who require bed rest and often a very strict limitation of physical and mental activity. But there are many who can continue working, performing some type of useful or productive activity, without fear that their hearts will suddenly give out.

A person with a mild heart disorder can in most instances perform any kind of job for which his skills qualify him.

No individual with a heart condition, it should be cautioned, should determine for himself whether he is able to work or not and how much work he can do.

Just as there are many who become cardiac invalids because of fear, there are those at the opposite extreme who ignore proper medical advice and subject their hearts to unnecessary strain and abuse by overactivity. Only a competent physician is qualified to say what are the limits of a impaired heart.

To carry the same load the same distance, trucks require 167 per cent more fuel than railroads, airlines 2900 per cent more.

Xmas Lingers On For Pvt. Alfred Pehl

FORT SILL, Okla., March 14 (Special) — Christmas lingers on for Private Alfred Pehl.

Pvt. Pehl, is the lad who landed in newspapers around the country when he had chocolate cake and coffee with the general's lady instead of having a Christmas leave. As a result of that story, Pehl has received half a dozen cakes and a bale of letters.

He's also become known among the men of Company C, 46th Engineer Construction Battalion, as a good man to be buddies with.

which is all right with Pehl, for he's a friendly guy. He's just a little bewildered by the attention that news story has brought him.

He is bewildered just as when Mrs. A. M. Harper, wife of Major General Harper, Fort Sill commanding general, presented him with the chocolate Christmas cake. Pehl's aunt and mother out in Prescott, Ariz., had written to Fort Sill urging that he be given a chocolate cake—his favorite food—when they learned he couldn't have a leave. They sent $3 with the request.

The letter landed in the office of the adjutant general at Fort Sill.

Tied tape was bypassed here and there, and Pvt. Pehl had his cake. He also had a friendly chat with Mrs. Harper, who understands what leaves can mean to soldiers and their families at Christmas-time.

Since then, it's been a little like Christmas every week for Pehl. A couple of letters from unknown friends turn up at nearly every mail call, and cakes come in frequently enough to keep Pehl and his buddies' appetite for cake satisfied.

He has also—and this is what interests his buddies in Company C—received a number of letters from a girls' school in Phoenix, Ariz. Wisely, he's mum about the number of letters he's gotten. He's also mum about their contents.

It's rumored Pehl has received a marriage proposal or two. About that, he's quite non-committal.

He has corresponded with an Indiana veteran, who was with the 46th on Leyte during the war, and who was inquiring about some of the old battalion.

Construction business is hard work, says Maurice H. Runnells, of Mabelvale, Arkansas, but he likes it. He also likes hunting with his hounds, but for a while he didn't feel like doing much of anything. He had that run-down feeling, aches and pains, and just didn't seem to have a ny appetite. Being an active man, he didn't like not feeling well, and decided to do something about it. He heard about how HADACOL had helped many folks with troubles like his due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin and decided to give it a trial. He made a good decision, for HADACOL did help him. Soon, his aches and pains were relieved, he had a good appetite, really enjoyed his food, and he rested well.

Mr. Runnells says: "I am in the construction business, which everyone knows is mighty heavy work. I was working so hard, and just didn't seem to have any appetite at all. I started having aches and pains at about the same time. Then, about that time I decided to give HADACOL a trial. Right away, my aching was greatly relieved and my appetite picked up. I started eating regular meals, sleeping well and my general condition was greatly improved. I have since continued taking HADACOL regularly, and feel that it is a wonderful product. I freely recommend HADACOL as a good product." HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today.

Recent photograph of a Texas primary highway

$115,282,344

Damaged highways, such as the Texas highway shown in this picture, are a hazard to the safe operation of automobiles, farm trucks and other motor vehicles.

It costs three times as much to build roads that will withstand the loads of big trucks now being operated over them than it does for the smaller trucks and automobiles.

Latest records show $115,282,344 was spent on Texas highways for the year ending August 31, 1950.

A bill sponsored by the big truck operators is before the Texas Legislature. This bill proposes . . .

- (1) to increase the load limit from the present 48,000 pounds to 72,000 pounds, and
- (2) to increase the maximum truck length from 45 feet to 50 feet.

Recent official highway tests at La Plata, Md., sponsored by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, the highway departments of eleven states and the District of Columbia, effectively demonstrated that as trucks increased in size and loads, roads cracked up and "died" more quickly.

We need to safeguard our highways for Civilian and Military use. "Increased heavy loading might seriously disrupt the effectiveness of essential routes in the event of an all-out war," according to T. J.

Kauer, director of the Ohio Highway Department and Chairman of the La Plata road test committee.

The big truckers want the taxpayers to continue providing expensive highways for them to use as "rights-of-way" for their own, selfish, personal gain.

THIS IS A TUG-OF-WAR BETWEEN THE BIG TRUCKERS AND THE TAXPAYERS OF TEXAS!

Automobiles and small trucks do not require extra strong, extra costly highways. The truth is, that the big truckers are putting the "pinch" on the pocket-books of the Texas taxpayers.

Only Thing Harder Than Landing A Jet On Small Strip Is To Take Off With Same Plane On Same Strip

BY H. D. QUIGG

AN AIRPORT IN KOREA, March 12 (UP)—The only thing harder than landing a jet fighter on a dirt strip one-sixth the size of a normal jet runway is taking the same plane off the same strip.

A jet pilot recently landed his F-80 Shooting Star on a 950-foot airstrip just behind the American lines.

He had to. He was out of fuel. But the man who went up to the strip a few days later to recover the plane had to sweat it out in his mind whether to try the impossible and attempt to fly it out.

He was Capt. Alex M. Sentes, 29, a veteran pilot from Cleveland, O., whose ability to fly jets is matched by his sense of humor.

Why did he decide to attempt the "impossible?"

"I didn't decide," Sentes said as he sat in the operations room of his home base. "They caught me by surprise. They came in here and asked if anyone had jato experience. I said yes. I thought they were going to ask me a question."

"They did. They said, 'how'd you like to go up and take that plane off?'"

"Since we thought that the dirt strip was 1,600 feet long, I said okay. With two jato bottles and a hard surface, you can take a jet off in 1,500 feet. When I got there I found that the light artillery-specter planes which had used the strip and abandoned it and it had shrunk—washed out at both ends.

"I paced off its length. I paced and paced, all day long. Each time, it measured only 950 feet."

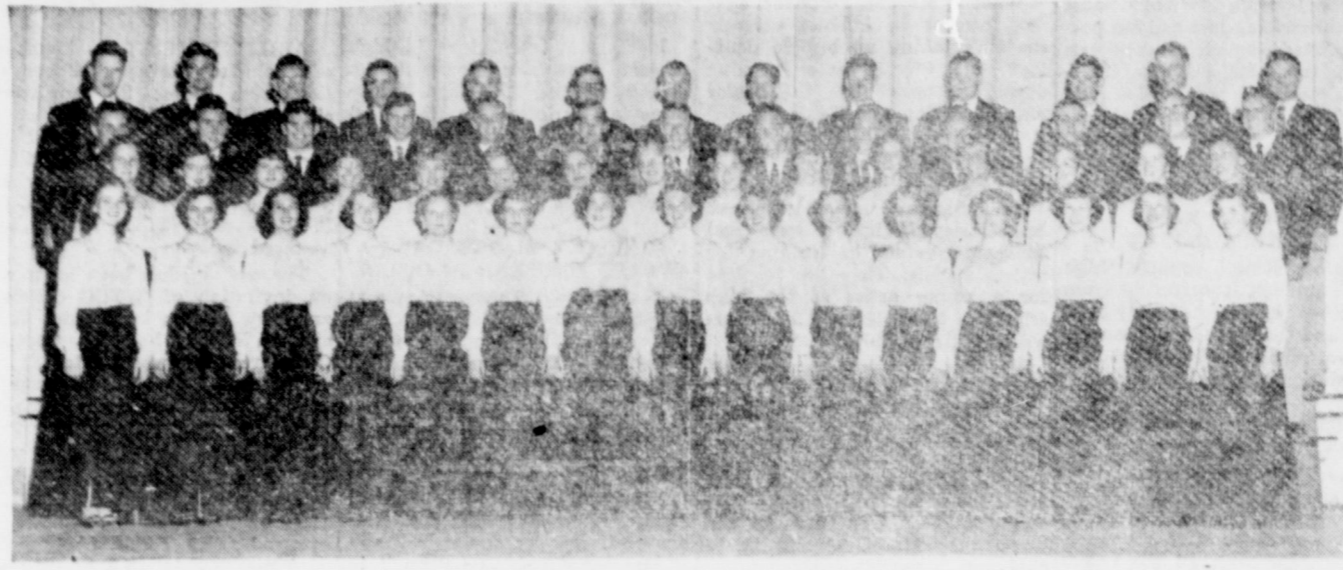

Jato—jet assisted takeoff—bottles are used for emergency takeoffs. They are attached to the fuselage, and when they are set off electrically, the thrust of their white-smoke exhaust gives a plane a tremendous boost during the few seconds before they are expended.

Sentes took two jatos along with him. Normally, planes don't use them. They fly from runways about a mile long. To Sentes, the rugged, sandy little airstrip was a shocker.

"I'll tell you how small it was—you could stand in the middle of the runway and see both ends," he said. "Of course, my eyes protruded out about this far."

He held a hand in front of his dark brown eyes.

His sharp face, shaded by the long bill of his flight cap, beamed with merriment. "There was an outfit of engineers camped at the end of the strip," he said. "They helped. We paced the field about ten times. We calculated the lightest fuel load possible. My crew chief set the acceleration up. We put up flags to mark the soft spots in the strip and lined out an S-sharped takeoff path

THE ODESSA HIGH School A Capella Choir which will present a program of Sacred Hymns at the Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m. tonight. Mr. Robert Day is the director of the Chorus which is known around the state as one of the best High School A Capella singing groups. The public is invited to attend the program which will last approximately one hour.

We worked from 9 to 11 a.m. Then we all sat down around a stove, with a bunch of curious Koreans looking on, and figured out I couldn't make it."

Sentes grinned. "It was funnier than hell. We sat there with all these figures and finally decided I couldn't make it."

"But all the engineers wanted to see me try."

"They all had color film for their cameras."

"They're a real bunch of characters. One suggested we get a cable so a little L-5 spotter plane could pull me off."

If fine corn meal, flour, conodont or sawdust is piled on the ground and a lighted match is poked into it, the match will go out for lack of sufficient oxygen. If clouds of the same material are floating in air, a lighted match will cause an explosion.
