The Hazards To Ignored Thursday

Fire in Eastland business establishments will be fought before it gets a chance to start Thursday when the North Texas Field Club representatives make an inspection of the establishments and put a red tag on all fire hazards. A team of fire men will be assisted by boy scouts and members of the Eastland Volunteer Fire Department in an inspection of all the city's business houses. Purpose of the inspection is to make the business owners of the city conscious of the fire hazards in their establishments and urge them to correct those hazards. The inspection is on a completely volunteer basis and will be made at no cost to business owners of the city. A luncheon will be held at the Connellee Hotel Garden at noon, Thursday, with members of the inspection teams and anyone interested attending. Anyone interested in attending the luncheon is invited to be present.

Gets Tickets for Banquet Thursday

Persons planning to attend the Mother and Daughter Banquet, sponsored by the South Ward PTA, Thursday at 8 p. m. at the First Methodist Church, are urged to get their tickets early Wednesday so that reservations can be made.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. E. M. Pritchard, Mrs. E. J. Turner and Mrs. Jack Carrothers.

Rotary Members View Movie At Monday Meeting

A movie on Portland Cement was presented at a regular meeting of the Eastland Rotary Club at the Connellee Hotel at noon Monday.

B. F. Hana had charge of the program and presented a representative of a Portland Cement company.

A member of the North Texas Field Club which will make a fire hazard inspection in the city Thursday was also presented.

Attend Design School in Abilene

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Poe attended a design school at the Windsor Hotel in Abilene, Sunday.

R. Weber MacFarland was commentator for the school which was sponsored by Mays Wholesale Floral Company Abilene. Mothers Day designs and advance style designs were discussed and shown.

Eastland High Band Receives High Ratings At Region Meet

The Eastland High School band received a unanimous rating of Division for concert playing at the Region II Interscholastic League Music Festival at Brownwood, Saturday.

A total of 3,000 students, including bands, orchestras, ensembles, oral groups and instrumental solos, took part in the events. For the first time, the Eastland band entered Class A competition this year. Division I rating is equal to a grade of 95 or 100. The Eastland group made a Division II rating in sight reading, which is considered a distinguished performance and equals 87 to 95.

A number of students from Eastland High and Junior High schools entered solo competition and made high ratings. Students who entered solo events were Jim Ed Willigan, Jimmy Thursday's inspection will be of the city and the schools. Self inspection blanks have been passed out to all home owners in the city.

It is strictly up to the occupant of the buildings as to whether or not he corrects the hazard after it is tagged by the inspection team. The correction of hazards will make fires in Eastland less likely and in the natural course of events, lower the city's fire losses in dollars, the lower the cost of fire insurance premiums will be to Eastland purchasers of fire insurance.

The correction of fire hazards may save property owners the loss of their property by fire as well as money on their fire insurance premiums. But the most important part of the program according to representatives of the team is that perhaps a life may be saved by the inspection.

It has been pointed out that some eight persons have lost their lives in fires in Eastland in the last 15 to 20 years.

School students will see a movie which is being provided by the Field Club in connection with the fire prevention move. The group will organize into several teams for the inspection, Thursday, and spread over the business district.

Also to make an appearance will be the Fifth Horseman—Fire—who will visit business to locate fire hazards and counsel occupants to all suggestions made to reduce fire. He explains that he will be put out of business if the folks are too careful.

The cooperation of all business owners is urged in the inspection and in the correction of hazards after they are tagged.

Cotton Crops Is Acreage Short

HARLINGEN, May 1 (UP)—The Valley cotton crop this season stood just short of 1,000,000 acres today.

Cotton acreage was estimated yesterday by state and federal agriculture officials at 974,837 acres.

Carl Waibel, supervisor of the State Division of Plant Quarantine and Inspection Service, said joint federal-state figures showed Cameron County with permits for 342,850 acres; Wilacy 187,477 and Hidalgo 384,710. Waibel estimated Starr County, where permits are not required, had 60,000 more acres of cotton.

Permits are required under the Pink Bollworm Control Program. All stalks must be plowed up by August 31, Waibel said, to create a period in which insects have no host plants.

J. C. Burke Earns Honors At A&M

John C. Burke, son of Mrs. Grace I. Burke of Eastland, achieved the rank of Distinguished Student at Texas A&M College during the fall semester. Burke was also a distinguished student his freshman year, 1949-50, and was outstanding cadet of 1949-50. He is majoring in petroleum engineering.

THE WEATHER

By United Press
EAST TEXAS—Scattered thundershowers in the extreme east portion today, tonight and tomorrow. Not so warm in the interior today, and in the east portion tonight. Strong shifting winds on the coast, becoming westerly and diminishing late today and tonight.
WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy today, tonight and tomorrow, cooler in the Pecos Valley eastward.

THE FIFTH HORSEMAN—Fire—will visit in Eastland Thursday, along with the inspection team from the North Texas Field Club. As swiftly as inspectors visit businesses and locate fire hazards, the Fifth Horseman will visit the businesses and counsel occupants to disregard all suggestions made to reduce fire. "If these folks are too careful, they'll put me out of business," he moans, "so I've got to undo all this fire prevention work." The Field Club says that the Fifth Horseman is a "character to be avoided. He is ever present, nation-wide and feeds on carelessness, devouring property and human lives."

Security Agents and Armed Guards Protected Vogeler On In To NY

NEW YORK, May 1 (UP)—Robert A. Vogeler, nerve-racked by 17 months of Communist imprisonment, returns today to his homeland which paid a mighty ransom for his release.

The American businessman and his family winged toward the United States in a commercial airliner on a flight arranged by the United Department to get him quickly as far as possible from his Iron Curtain prison in Hungary. Vogeler, 39, was protected by Security Agents and armed guards from the time he left Vienna at 12:45 a. m. (7:15 p. m. EDT) yesterday through the scheduled landing at Idlewild Airport here at 10 a. m. EDT.

Imprisoned in Hungary on espionage charges in 1949, Vogeler was expected to be taken to a hospital for treatment of a nervous breakdown that followed his dramatic release from 14 months of solitary confinement last Saturday.

Willy Vogeler of New York, father of the returning assistant President of International Telephone and Telegraph Company, arose early to meet his son at the airport. But he said he could not

Should Gambling Be Legalized?

WASHINGTON, May 1 (UP)—Should gambling be legalized? asked the Senate Crime Investigating Committee. It answered itself with a big "no!"

It said gambling is bad but its by-products of crime are worse. The committee's report admitted "it is undoubtedly impossible to eradicate gambling completely." So, it said, many persons asked why not legalize it.

The committee said that suggestion was based on two false theories: 1. That crooks would get out of legal gambling and leave it to honest and upstanding businessmen. 2. That public officials who have ignored or protected illegal gambling will automatically prove incorruptible when called on to license gambling places.

The committee snorted at this. Here is what it said: Gambling is attractive to gangsters because it is big money—$20,000,000,000 a year—not because it is illegal.

Making gambling legal means more betting by small wage earners, the people least able to bear the inevitable losses.

Texan Flies to Rugged Country

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, May 1 (UP)—Berk Gann, 34, who was lost with his six-year-old daughter and a 16-year-old boy in the Alaska wilderness for eight days after his plane was forced down in a storm, took his little girl to an eye doctor today in hopes of saving her sight.

Gann, his daughter, Linda, and Alexander Hatley were flown here yesterday after they spent four days without food, wandered along a lonely river and finally found refuge in a trapper's cabin.

Doctors said the trio did not require hospitalization despite their ordeal. Gann, formerly of Denton, Texas, moved to Alaska in 1949 to teach school. He once taught school at Wichita Falls.

Gann flew over some of the territory's most rugged country, including the 10,000-foot Alaska range, although he was advised not to attempt completion of the flight.

Will Accept Bids On Construction

GALVESTON, May 1 (UP)—Army engineers announced today that they would accept bids about May 10 for construction of an extension to the seawall at Galveston.

Bids will be taken on the basis of the greatest number of linear feet of seawall that can be built for the lump sum of $2,500,000. Principal items of work will consist of excavation, treated timber piling, precast concrete sheet piling, road paving, embankment and turfing.

Monday Rainfall Totals .52 Inch

A brief, but heavy, thunderstorm dumped .52 of an inch of rain and a small amount of hail on Eastland in a short period of time Monday night.

The rainfall Monday night brought total rainfall in the city to slightly more than an inch during a three day period since 1-2 inch fell Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Allied Planes And Guns Roar As UN Have Field Day On Reds

TOKYO, May 1 (UP)—The Chinese Reds abandoned their frontal assault on Seoul today and shifted east for an apparent attempt to by-pass the ruined city and strike deep into Central Korea.

Allied planes and guns had a field day against Communist columns pouring southeast toward the deep X-shaped Chinese salient in the United Nations line near the Junction of the Han and Pukhan Rivers, 15 to 20 miles east of Seoul.

The Reds presumably had decided to aim the second round of their spring "end-the-war" offensive down the spiny center of the Korean Peninsula toward Yosu on the southward bend of the Han.

Row W. Acker Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for Roy Wayne Acker, nephew of J. L. Owens and W. D. R. Owens of Eastland, were scheduled to be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Baptist Church in Rising Star.

Acker died at 8 a. m. Monday following an illness of about 8 months in a hospital and at home. Burial will be in the Eastland cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Owens and W. D. R. Owens are to attend the funeral services at Rising Star.

Minstrel Show Rehearsal Set

A rehearsal for the minstrel to be presented Friday night at Weatherford will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at the High School auditorium, Marene Johnson Johnson, director, has announced.

All members of the minstrel cast are urged to be present for the rehearsal. Some changes are to be made in the show, Mrs. Johnson explained, and it is important that all members know of them.

Friday night's appearance is the last scheduled for the minstrel group this year.

A Communist advance to Yosu, key road junction 38 miles south-east of Seoul and 50 miles below the 38th Parallel, probably would force the 8th Army to give up the capital without a fight to protect its rear and flanks.

An 8th Army communique reported that UN patrols thrusting out from the 30-mile defense arc around Seoul for the second straight day made little or no contact with the regrouping Communists.

Patrols found a Communist minefield northwest of Seoul—further evidence that the Chinese plan no immediate attack from that direction.

Another task force encountered an estimated 200 Reds north of Seoul and called down an air strike "with excellent results," the communique said.

The air war flared briefly over northwest Korea for the first time in five days. Twenty-five American Sabrejets defeated an even greater number of Soviet-built Jet fighters 20 miles southeast of Sinuiju on the Manchuria border.

The dogfight swirled from 40,000 down to 2,000 feet and ended with four Communist MiG-15s damaged, one probably destroyed and the rest in flight toward Manchuria.

Expect Crowds To Attend the Annual Affair

Approximately 600 persons are expected to attend the annual Kiemeida Grave Yard working which will be held Friday, May 6, in the thriving Eastland County community.

Pioneers and their descendants are asked to attend and to bring a picnic lunch. There will be singing in the open air chapel after lunch. This is the oldest annual gathering in Eastland County.

Henry Mansker set aside the land for a pioneer cemetery in the settlement of Masker Lake which dates back to 1858. The general public is invited to attend.

Eastland Soldier to Participate In Alaskan Operation

FORT RICHARDSON, Alaska, — Pfc. Emilio E. Manzano of Eastland has been selected for duty with the "Aggressor Brigade" during Alaska's Operation Fire-step, according to his commanding officer.

The month-long maneuvers involve units of all branches of the armed forces in Alaska. Roving "Aggressor" troops in distinctive green uniforms, represent mythical invaders threatening America's northernmost possession.

The purpose of Operation Fire-step is to test the ground and air defense of Alaska.

Men Confess To Theft of Calf

Frankie Lee Bean, Sweetwater, and Willie O. Mathews, Ekota, are under arrest and have confessed to the theft of a calf from C. A. Johnson of Rising Star, Sheriff Frank Tucker has announced.

Tucker went to Sweetwater, Monday, where the men were being held and brought them back to Eastland where they were placed in the county jail.

The two men took the calf from Johnson's barn on his farm near Rising Star, and have admitted taking the calf to Sweetwater where it was put in Bean's yard.

YOU NAME IT

By Everett Taylor

Sure 'n tis a wee bet o' correspondence from old Ireland we received this week.

From Tipperary, Ireland, Brendon Burns writes requesting pen pals from Eastland. Following is his letter:

"I am 17 years of age and I would like to have pen-pals from Eastland about my own age and of both sexes. I would be delighted if you will help me get in touch with some. Yours truly, Mr. Brendon Burns."

The address: 1 Upper Connolly St., Nenogh Co., Tipperary, Ireland. Should be quite interesting for some Eastland youth to exchange information with Mr. Burns.

The Eastland High School band was one of the few groups at the Interscholastic League Music Festival in Brownwood Saturday to earn a division I rating.

T. R. Atwood's local musicians were awarded that division in concert playing. The Eastland group was participating for the first time in Class A at the meet which compares with the regional competition in football. Previously they had competed in Class B.

Eastland annually has a band which rates in the top division at the meet. This group is due of praise for their accomplishments. A great number of last year's fine band graduated leaving this year's group of questionable quality, but they have developed into another top band.

We have heard from several sources that the hospital drive will be taken up again, but no definite plans have been revealed by any individuals.

Mrs. John Turner of the Civic League and Garden Club hospital committee, which worked hard on the plans for a hospital, said that her committee is still willing to work with anyone who wished to continue the drive or has a plan to continue the drive.

After a week of limbering up, the Eastland footballers are to begin scrimmages this week.

Many of the boys of last year's team have picked up extra poundage which will be handy to have around when the action starts this fall.

Eastland's starting team should be able to hold its own with about any eleven of the district this fall, but a number of able reserves must develop to give the Mavericks a title threat.

Coaches are planning an inter-squad game to wind up spring training, if they can scrape enough boys to operate two elevens. The teams will be divided so as to make their ability near equal.

The North Texas Field Club will make an inspection of all business buildings of the city Thursday in an effort to make the city fire conscious.

All fire hazards will be tagged by the group. It will be up to the citizens to correct the hazards pointed out in the interest of fire prevention.

The field club is doing the city a great service in making this inspection and the full cooperation of all citizens should be given in the inspection.

A luncheon will be held at the Connellee Hotel Thursday noon. Anyone interested is urged to attend the luncheon. Those who plan to attend are asked to make reservations with E. E. Freyschlag.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Getcha Press Program Here! It Makes D. C. Fathers Pikers

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—While waiting for Gen. Douglas MacArthur to wing his way out of the west, members of the Washington press corps dreamed up what they thought would be a much more fitting and hysterical reception program than the one the D. C. Fathers arranged.

12:30 p. m.—General MacArthur wades ashore from snorkel submarine in the Potomac.

12:40—MacArthur, riding GOP elephant with Joe Martin as mahout, leads parade to the Capitol, followed by President Truman drawing ricksha containing several Marines.

12:47—Behanding of Gen. Harry Vaughan in Capitol rotunda.

1:00—MacArthur tells all about it.

1:30—Burning of the Constitution.

1:55—Lynching of Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

2:00—Twenty-one atom bomb salute for General MacArthur.

2:30—Five hundred D.A.R.'s do a parachute drop from top of Washington Monument.

3:30 and on—Basket picnic on Monument grounds.

Big riggle in Washington is what can be accomplished by a full-dress investigation of U. S. foreign policy, stirred up by General MacArthur's return? Closest parallel in recent years would seem to be the Pearl Harbor investigation at the end of the last war.

Any discussion of foreign policy is a good thing, however, if argued on fact and not on emotional appeal. Principal harm that might be done would be to force revelation of Joint Chiefs of Staff secret plans.

GREATEST tragedy in the death of Sen. Arthur A. Vandenberg of Michigan is that there is no one on Republican side of the Senate to replace him. This fact that he had no real successor was fully appreciated by Senator Vandenberg.

At one point during primary campaigns, after Governor Dewey of New York had lost several midwestern state ballots, there was a small boom for a Vandenberg-Dewey ticket. The Michigan senator scotched it. If that ticket had gone through and won, with the Michigan senator in first place, Governor Dewey as the elected vice president would today be president.

Maj.-Gen. William C. Chase, new head of U. S. military advisory mission to Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese army on Formosa, made his reputation as commander of U. S. First Cavalry in the Pacific. It operated brilliantly as an armored division.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Manpower, Anna M. Rosenberg, was on the stand before the Senate Armed Services Committee. Senator Russell of Georgia, the chairman, was questioning her about the young husbands—"the ones who get married early and immediately start raising big families so as to escape the draft."

"What do you suggest?" asked Secretary Rosenberg, "a rollback?"

THE STORY: The murderer of Lavinia Grenable was most certainly a member of her family or someone close to her. Among the suspects are: Lisa Farwell, who was engaged to Court Grenable, Lavinia's oldest son; Andrew Grenable, another son; Lisa's friend, Henry Farwell; Elizabeth Stratton, Lavinia's spinster sister; Mrs. Marion Carson, Lavinia's only daughter, and Marion's husband Philip. The only outsiders involved are a young lawyer, Angus Kent, who happened to be in the neighborhood on a visit to another neighbor, and Lavinia's secretary, Kori Palmer. However, Lisa has begun to realize that her marriage to Court would never have worked out and that she is in love with Angus Kent. Then Court took her to the hospital and she who will marry never.

XIX

THE sunshine was a warm and beautiful mantle thrown across the earth this morning. It lay in thick folds about the tall trees and floated out in golden layers across the wide dipping lawns that stretched around the house.

It wrapped itself about Lisa Farwell and fell across Court Grenable's broad shoulders as he told her insistently that she would marry him. All that Lisa could see was that same sun shining on a tall, easy figure and a wheat-colored head, and she saw the glint of sunlight again in eyes flecked with green.

Lisa sat there in the sunlight, staring at Court Grenable and seeing Angus Kent. And while part of her died inside her, she said, "Yes, Court, I'm going to marry you, of course."

Court got into the car and sat down beside her and took her hands in his. "Lisa," he said, "Andrew may make trouble. He knows too much. But you mustn't believe everything he says."

Lisa looked at him hopelessly. "You hate him, don't you? I knew it yesterday, Court, you mustn't!" He didn't seem to be listening.

"Lisa," he went on, "I've got to have some money!" "How much?" she asked tonelessly.

"Uh... three thousand would do. I need it badly," he went on hastily. "It's going to put me in a bad spot if I don't get it immediately."

"But, Court... three thousand dollars!" she gasped. "Whatever..."

"You're believing all the things Andrew wanted all of you to believe, aren't you?" he snapped. "You think I killed her just because you don't want to believe your father did it, or Elizabeth?"

His eyes were black with anger and with a shade of... yes, she thought helplessly, it is... fear. She asked herself: Court was I blind, did I never really see you before, could you change this much so quickly?

But she only said: "Do you believe my father did it?" And waited.

He answered more carefully. "I've heard things," he said sullenly. "He didn't want us to be married and everyone knows how he feels toward Elizabeth."

It wasn't an answer, it was an evasion. "I wouldn't believe it about you," she whispered. And then with an honesty she couldn't quell, "If you loved me and I loved you I couldn't believe things about you."

He looked at her sharply, and then away. "What about the money?" he demanded, with an edge of harshness in his tone. "It's so much," she said. "I... I don't have that much."

HER dismay was not wholly because of his request. How could she love him the least bit and not trust him, and how could she trust with this uneasiness inside her?

As if afraid to push her too far, he said suddenly: "All right, forget it." And he got out of the car and walked rapidly into the house.

She sat there weakly and let him go. In a moment she managed to start the car and drive home slowly. Angus Kent was waiting for her in the driveway in Tim Ellsworth's car.

"Angus," she exclaimed. The young lawyer grinned at her and suddenly the world was all right. He seemed to say everything would be all right and again that something stirred her as she looked at him and she could feel her fingertips tingle as they clung to the steering wheel.

He opened the door for her. "Get in," he said. "Your father told me who you were; I decided to wait. I want to talk to you. Let's drive down to the lake."

She leaned her head back against the upholstery and closed her eyes for a minute to coordinate her thoughts. When she opened them again Angus was watching her. "Anything you want to tell me?" he asked mildly.

She looked ahead at the road, watching him take the steep slope to the beach with his casual carelessness, not daring a glance at the way the breeze played with his thick brown hair or the way his mouth curved in generous and firm lines.

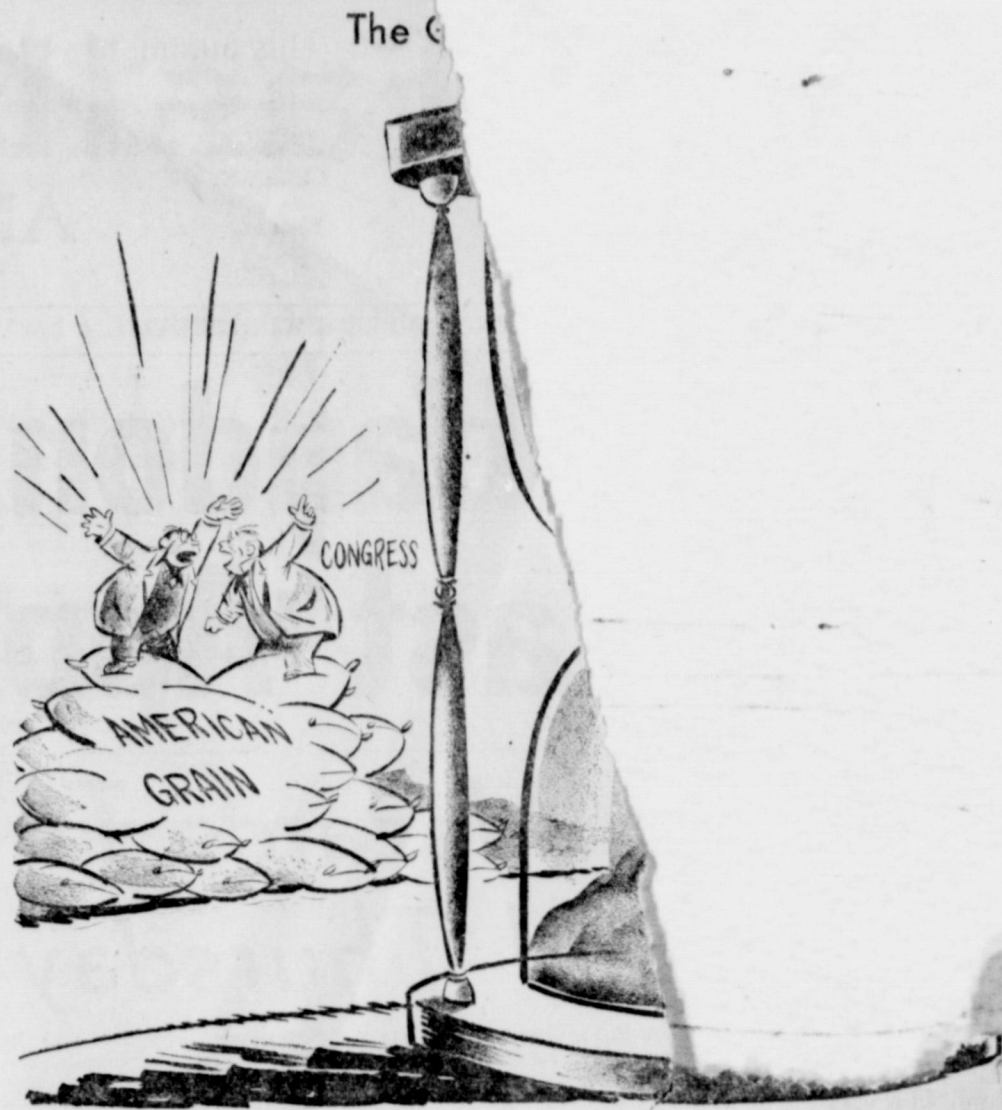

She had already memorized the two little creases at the corners of his eyes and the strength in his long hands. Suddenly, unable to bear it any longer, she covered her face with her hands.

ANGUS parked the car at the foot of the beach drive and helped Lisa get out. Almost forcibly he propelled her down to the sun-washed beach.

"Court?" he asked finally. She faced him, standing in the sand. Agreement was the safest course.

"Yes," she said. "He's in some kind of trouble." And then she blurted it all out. "If he'd just stop accusing everybody!" she protested.

Quick Start Makes Dressen Peepul's Cherce in Brooklyn

BY HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It didn't take Charles Walter Dressen long to sell himself to the Brooklyn crowd.

Charley Dressen was in like Flynn when the early-season winning streak was made sweeter by the sweeping of a three-game, week-end set with the highly publicized Giants at the Polo Grounds.

Three games were decided by one run, two in extra innings, one with the Braves going 16.

"As sure as shootin', Shotton would have lost 'em," said the incredible Flatbush fans.

There are a number of reasons why Chuck Dressen has become the new Peepul's Cherce across the bridges.

Twenty years of experience has taught the 52-year-old Dressen how to handle players.

THE DRIVER WALKED AWAY—John Maglielnicki, of Cleveland, O., a 31-year-old Erie Railroad brakeman, stopped his car at a railroad crossing gate as a 52-car freight train thundered by. His car was rammed by another from behind and driven under the barrier into the side of the train. It was dragged 29 feet and wedged into a four-foot culvert beside the roadbed. Each freight car that passed slammed into its left side. In moments it was a flame. Maglielnicki tried to get out the right-hand door but it was blocked by an arm of the crossing barrier. In a frenzy, he threw his six-foot, 215-pound body against the door and finally forced it open enough to get out. Shaken, but unhurt, he walked away from his mangled auto.

THE VERSATILE STOLE:

This Summer It's for Dress-Up, for Beach

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The stole is important again for summer dress, because it is versatile. The stole sometimes tops a sheath, sometimes serves as a cover up for a bare-top dress. It's pretty and entirely useful. It's a handy cover up, providing protection against too much sun, too sudden breezes or the chill of a summer evening. Stoles are dress up but they can also go to the beach. They're tailored for town, sophisticated for after-five. They have pockets, fringe or flower trim, and match or contrast with the costumes for which they're companions. Lavender cotton broadcloth (left) is turned into a sunback dress with slim straps by Lampl. The matching stole can be worn scarf-fashion about the shoulders, tucked into the belt or draped loosely about the arms. It has pockets. The dress is simple, its bodice pin-tucked, its belt neatly tailored. The skirt is slightly full. For an informal summer evening, broadcloth appears again (right), this time in green-and-yellow two-tone with matching stole. The dress has a fitted bodice, single strap and fly-away bow. Belt is narrow and tailored, skirt has easy lines.

Written for United Press
BOSTON (UP)—I have been asked to draw upon my varied knowledge and write experience to tell a young man what I think he should do on reaching college age at this perilous time. What course should he pursue toward a career?

My answer is very simple and at the same time very sincere. He should first of all establish guiding principles and ideals for his life. Let him look to the great leaders of the race, such as Jesus, for character ideals, and then let him live up to those ideals at any cost.

Let him never be ashamed of standing for the right against the wrong. Let him be pure in his thinking, abstemious in his practices and clean in his life. In the second place, so far as he can determine his own course, let him decide to get an education at any cost.

For Richer Life
Education is the leading out of the whole individual into an efficient and rightly integrated personality. The more full-orbed education a person has, the richer will be his personal life and the easier it will be for him to make a living while he has the abundant life.

If the government interferes by its demand for military service, let the youth accept it only as a deferment of his plan for an education and then let him plan his life and live his plan in such a way as to secure the best equipment for a life of beauty, truth and goodness.

Let the youth early learn that one does not get along well in the world without friends, but that no

Ancient Skull Rebuilt By Smithsonian

WASHINGTON (UP)—A skull believed to be 10,000 years old has been reconstructed at the Smithsonian Institution. Found near Mexico City with fossil bones of mammoths that date back 10,000 years, the skull of Tepeyan man may represent the earliest human beings in the Americas.

Reconstruction of the head from the skull was accomplished with plastics.

Some guessing was involved, particularly concerning the hair and shape of the eyes. Still, it is believed the head and face represent the man as he appeared centuries ago. He resembles a typical southwestern Indian and placed among modern Indian skulls would be hard to distinguish.

Charity Bread Continues To Grace Church Door

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (UP)—One Sunday each month a loaf of bread is placed on a table in the entrance to St. John's Episcopal Church.

The monthly loaf observes the spirit, if not the letter, of a legacy left to the poor of the parish nearly two centuries ago.

Theodore Atkinson left $1,000 to the church when he died in 1779. The income from the fund was to be used to buy bread for the poor. For more than a hundred years the bread was distributed as Sunday services.

The Atkinson bequest has since been transferred to the church's general fund. The bread is placed at the church door in memory of the 18th Century benefactor.

Harry Truman Not First Missouri President

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Harry S. Truman is not the only resident of Missouri to be president, although many people may think so.

In 1849, Sen. David R. Atchison of Missouri was president for one day.

It happened when the inauguration of President Zachary Taylor had to be postponed because the oath of office could not be taken on a Sunday.

So Sen. Atchison took office for one day because he was president pro-tem of the Senate and thereby took the powers of the president of the United States.

The president who succeeded him was James K. Polk.

Mr. and Mrs. Amis Host Rehearsal Dinner for Sneed-Amis Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Amis hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening for members of the Sneed-Amis wedding party at their home 1309 South Seaman Street.

The dinner was served buffet style, with guests seated in groups of four at game tables. The buffet held a miniature church made of mesh wire and covered with tiny red flowers, with the roof of greenery.

Placed before the church, as if leaving following their wedding, was a miniature bridal couple, which had been used on the cake for the Golden Wedding Anniversary celebration of Mrs. T. J. Amis and the late Mr. Amis, more than 18 years ago.

The table seating the honored couple was laid with an Italian cutwork linen cloth and decorated with a crystal basket of pansies.

HADACOL

HERE'S WHAT THEY ARE SAYING FROM COAST TO COAST

HADACOL Relieves The Cause of Stomach Distress, Aches and Pains, Weak, Run-Down Conditions, Poor Appetite and Nervousness When Due to a Deficiency of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron

E. A. Drumwright, 313 Main St., Nashville, Tenn., says this about today's great HADACOL: "I feel I should write you and tell you what HADACOL has done for me. I was run-down and not able to work and had no ambition. All I wanted to do was sleep. I took HADACOL and went to work and am feeling fine and have a good appetite, and sleep good. I can recommend HADACOL to anyone in a run-down condition. I am 68 years old and have taken six bottles." HADACOL is so economical—only $1.25 for trial size.

Mrs. Ardena Longaker, Rt. 5, Madras, Mo., says about her daughter, "I am a minister's wife and am 33 years old. I had an operation and just had a hard time getting back my energy. I was run-down, lost weight, and had no appetite at all. I'm on my fifth bottle now and am amazed at the results. I want to eat all the time now. Most of all, I'm glad to say, I've gained several pounds. HADACOL is so economical I believe almost anyone can afford it, and I do recommend it to my friends."

Frank W. Woche, 531 Apache, Houston, Texas, "I was so run-down and my son-in-law suggested I take HADACOL. I had lost lots of weight and was tired all the time. After the first small bottle I started feeling better right away. I have now taken four more large bottles and wouldn't be without HADACOL. HADACOL has done so much for me. It's wonderful and all of my friends saw how bad I was looking and now tell me how much better I look. I can't say enough for HADACOL."

Mrs. LaRue Unsbee, Saunemin, Illinois, My son Gary is four years old, and will be five in July. His grandfather, Mr. J. W. Simmons who lives with us, was taking HADACOL and it helped him. We had been having so much trouble getting Gary to eat. It seemed as if it would take the entire family to coax him to eat. After we started giving him HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He will eat three hearty meals a day, gets up in the morning all set for a big breakfast. HADACOL has certainly helped Gary's appetite."

Mrs. J. E. Roberts, 1516 Lincoln, Little Rock, Ark., "I am a mother with five children and with my housework I was so run-down and just couldn't seem to eat at all. I heard about HADACOL and decided to try it, to see if it would help me. I could tell from the first bottle that it was helping me. I started eating right away—my appetite picked up a lot. After that I took three more bottles of HADACOL, and really believe that HADACOL is a good product, and it has certainly helped me."

Mrs. Letha Fitzpatrick, 401 E. Elm St., Scottsville, Ky., "I couldn't sleep. I didn't have any appetite and wasn't able to do anything. Then I heard and read about HADACOL and what it had done for others. I decided to give it a trial. I have taken several bottles and I can truthfully say it has really helped me. I feel so much better. I have a lot more strength. I can eat now and I'm gaining weight. I do my work, work in my flowers, also in the garden. Now I'm putting up my fruit and vegetables. I can't thank HADACOL enough for what it's done for me."

Mrs. Thomas Fanning, Francisco, Mo., says about her daughter, "I just want to say a few words about HADACOL. I can't praise it enough for what it has done for my little seven-year-old girl. She was weak and pale, and did not eat very much. So, I decided to try HADACOL. Now, she eats more and has a better color and has gained weight. My friends and neighbors all are talking about her being so much better. I can't say enough for it. I recommend it to my friends and neighbors or anyone. I will know from now on what to get when any of my family needs help."

Mrs. Anne Franks, 431 West Seven St., Newport, Ky., "As a constant user of HADACOL—and am on my fourth bottle—I would not hesitate to acclaim it the best. I was so run-down I could hardly do my work. And that is important as I do a man's job in a shoe factory. I felt that I did not have enough energy to lift my hands. I felt so let-down everything annoyed me. But since I've taken my first bottle, I've been helped so much that now I'm up and ready and anxious to get my work done and am not tired, but am able to do my housework. I cannot praise HADACOL and its makers enough."

Mrs. Margaret Gordon, 113 Forest St., Clover, S. Car., "I didn't have the energy to do anything, and I couldn't sleep at night. I had gas pains all the time. So many friends told me how it had helped them, so I decided to try HADACOL. I have taken three bottles, and am on my fourth bottle. I can't express my gladness for all that it has done for me. Now, I can sleep well at night, and I work. I praise HADACOL very much. I will not do without HADACOL anymore. It has done wonders for me. I can eat anything I wish now, and it doesn't hurt me any more. I am 26 years of age."

Mrs. Ometha White, 1709 Bush Ave., Alexandria, La., "I am 25 years old and have lived in Alexandria all my life. I am employed by a canning company. A year ago I was nervous and run-down. I lost my appetite and couldn't sleep. A friend told me about HADACOL and I decided to try it. I have been taking one bottle a week for a year and I can report wonderful results. I am gaining weight, my nerves are OK... I have a good appetite and I can sleep nights again. One bottle a week did it and I recommend HADACOL to all who have my ailments."

Mrs. Joe Bukowski, 921 Sanborn St., Ottumwa, Iowa, "Before I started taking HADACOL it was nearly impossible for me to do my housework. I was weak, nervous, didn't sleep well, and lacked an appetite. But thanks to regular use of HADACOL, I now do all my housework, sleep well, and have a good appetite. I don't have that tired-out feeling. I'm really 100 per cent better since taking HADACOL."

Mrs. Walter Shields, Hornsbyville, Va., says about her young son: "I have a little boy who had stomach distress every time he went riding in a car. Nothing did him any good. I heard about HADACOL and have given him two bottles. He doesn't suffer from his stomach any more." HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel great with the first few bottles you take or your money back.

Mrs. Anna M. Dehlendorf, 631 E. Pope St., St. Louis 15, Mo., "I have been taking HADACOL for six months, and feel fine again. I was run-down. I am 60 years old, and do housework, laundry by the day for different parties, and I also do baby sitting in the evening. Before I started taking HADACOL, I was underweight—I only weighed 97 pounds. Now my weight is 135 pounds. I eat good, sleep good, and feel good."

Marcus Dee Starkey, 1866 Farrow St., Kansas City, Kansas, "Before taking HADACOL, I suffered such stomach distress after each meal I could hardly work. My wife bought me a bottle of HADACOL, and I will bless the day she did this for me. I took this wonderful discovery and after one week I was actually surprised at the results. I have now taken four of the large bottles, and that isn't all, I will continue taking it."

Mrs. Lula Nelson, 1702 E. 63rd Street, Huntington Park, Los Angeles, California, "I was run-down, couldn't sleep at night, had aches and pains and with seven children to care for I couldn't get my work done. After three bottles of HADACOL I felt so much better I could do more work than ever before. I've been taking HADACOL ever since and feel so good. I now give it to my children and it has helped them, too."

His silence troubled her. "You think he killed his mother?" she asked.

But it was more a statement than a question. He picked up a twig and doodled patterns in the sand before he replied.

"Do you know why he wants the money?" he countered.

"No," she said, and she had a strange impression that he did.

"Are you going to lend it to him?"

"I don't have that much. What mother left me is in trust another year, until I'm 21. To get it, I would have to ask Dad for it."

"But would you lend the money to Court?" Angus insisted.

"If it would do any good," she said. "But I . . . I'd have to know why. I mean . . ."

"If you loved Court Greenable," he told her sternly, "you'd let him have the money without any questions or reasons or logic, you know that, don't you? . . . If I asked you, would you let me have it, would you borrow it from your father?"

She answered honestly, there was no other way with him. "Yes!" she said breathlessly. "Yes."

(To Be Continued)

There was beauty all around and when she looked at Angus he smiled and the next thing she knew she was in his arms without a protest and he had kissed her.

He kissed her gently at first, and then again not so gently in a way that sent the breathless beauty of the afternoon into little startled shivers.

"Angus," she whispered, but she didn't move away.

India May Go Down Red Drain If We Play Politics With Misery

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The position of India today is sometimes likened to that of China in 1945. It can be saved from communism if the right things are done. It can be lost to communism if the wrong things are done.

It is in this latter category that the United States now has a chance to commit a major blunder in its handling of famine relief. What started out to be a simple act of charity has now become involved in the larger debate on the whole question of Truman administration policy towards communism.

Though Gen. Douglas MacArthur's firing as U. S. commander in the Far East had nothing directly to do with India, the famine relief problem has become a part of the debate which the MacArthur firing started. U. S. politics therefore has a hand in it from now on.

The common belief is that the India famine relief bill, introduced by Rep. Thomas Morgan of Pennsylvania, has been blocked by the House Rules Committee. Actually, at this writing, the House Rules Committee has never had a meeting on the bill.

The story behind that is that after the House Foreign Affairs Committee had approved the bill, the Democrats on the Rules Committee conducted an informal poll of their members. It was found that not enough Democratic votes could be mustered to clear the bill for House action. So Chairman Adolph Sabato simply refrained from calling a Rules Committee meeting to discuss the measure.

OBJECTIONS which congressmen raise against the Indian famine relief bill are many and varied. Some of the objections have little or nothing to do with India directly. It is the entire Truman foreign policy that Republicans and some Democrats are attacking.

One argument against Indian famine relief which has not come out in the open, but which congressmen talk about privately, is that this is only a starter for a much larger global relief program. If the Indian relief bill is approved, it is feared that another big relief bill for Arab refugees in Palestine will be presented.

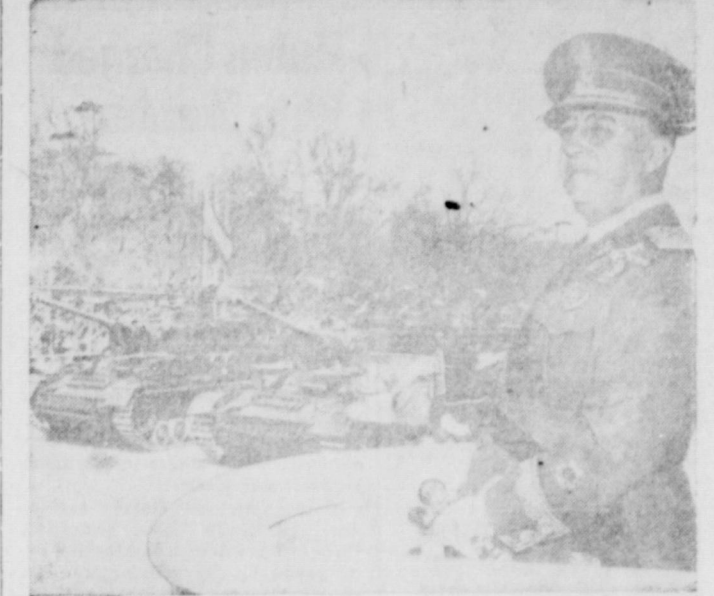

Congressmen ask: "Where is this going to stop?" The Marshall Plan and military assistance requests for next year have not yet been sent to Congress. If these separate-country relief measures are piled on them, the total will be huge and the chances for economizing small.

In addition to which, many congressmen are balking at the terms of the Truman administration's Indian relief bill. What India asked for, last December, was two million tons of grain "on special and easy terms." If the deal had been arranged on that basis, it wouldn't have had to go through Congress and might all be settled now.

INSTEAD of that, the administration sent up a bill asking for $140 million as a grant. This would give India 750 million bushels of grain over the next two years for free. To make this palatable to Congress, the old Marshall Plan restrictions were tacked on.

These would provide that the grain be sold by the Indian government in its normal trade channels. The rupees received from this sale would be put in a counterpart fund. And this would be used to build irrigation projects, or other developments to increase Indian food production. This is said to be haggling over distress-imposing conditions which would make the Indians resent the aid given.

Aside from these points, political opposition to the Indian famine relief bill seems to have no connections about hard bargaining over misery. Individual congressmen think the aid should be furnished only on a barter deal. This would involve trading food grains for burlap, manganese, or what have they. This in spite of the fact that India last year sent nearly three-fourths of her exports in these materials to the U. S.

German Missile Secrets Decoded Into English

LOS ANGELES (UP)—A University of Southern California professor has announced completion of a 1,000-page technical dictionary that translates for American aeronautical engineers the obscure scientific terms Germans used in World War II guided-missile research.

Dr. Kurt F. Leidecker, a visiting associate professor of philosophy by USC, was assigned by the Air Force to prepare the dictionary, needed for understanding of secret German documents captured by the Air Force during World War II.

Many of the documents were in code. Others used technical terms for which there was no handy English translation.

More than 100,000 scientific terms are defined in the new dictionary.

Corner Well-Policed
 ENNIS, Tex. (UP)—A columnist in the Ennis Daily News wondered why drivers of every car he saw turn a corner gave the proper hand signal and why all stopped carefully for a stop sign. Then he turned the corner and found out. There stood five highway patrolmen, one Texas Ranger, a sheriff, constable and a justice of the peace.

Hulen Charged With Murder

AUSTIN, April 30 (UP)—R. J. Hulen, charged with the bludgeon murder of his estranged wife at Amarillo, was being held here today for further questioning.
 District attorney H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo filed a murder charge against Hulen, a truck driver for a rendering plant, late Saturday, after the man "failed" a lie detector test given here by experts of the Department of Public Safety. Pipkin said also laboratory tests showed blood stains on Hulen's trousers and shoes.
 Police Chief Sid Harper arrived from Amarillo late yesterday, bringing an object which he believed might be the murder weapon. Neither Harper nor other authorities were willing immediately to identify the possible motive.
 Mrs. Hulen, who filed suit for divorce was found in her Amarillo home last Wednesday night, dead from a series of head-splitting blows. She was nude, lying under a sunlamp in her bedroom, and authorities theorized that the murderer surprised her as she was sunbathing.

 This program which will be presented at the Ranger First Methodist Church following the regular revival meetings will be free to the public and persons from neighboring towns are urged to come to the affair.
 The program will commence at 8:15 p.m. The chorus consist of 24 members.

One of the most popular of all recreational features in the general offices of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company at Dallas, Texas—and most productive of goodwill and public comment—is the T & P Women's Chorus.
 This organization came into being during September, 1946, shortly after the coming of a new president, Mr. W. G. Vollmer, to the railroad in the previous year. A strong believer in good employment relations, Mr. Vollmer and his newly-named director, Mr. J. B. Shore, instituted an em-

Twenty-Two Persons Die

By UNITED PRESS
 At least 22 persons died in accidents or gunplay throughout Texas over the week end, a United Press survey showed today.
 Traffic mishaps, as usual, accounted for the bulk of the heavy toll—10 of the deaths coming in that type of accident.
 Four persons were shot to death including a 16-year-old Dallas boy shot through the heart during a make-believe gun battle involving an "unloaded" .22 caliber rifle.
 An early morning traffic accident near Knippa killed Raymond Garrett Miller of (231 Frost St.) San Antonio and seriously injured Tom Hall of Galveston, a passenger in the car. The car got out of control and overturned two or three times on U. S. 50 east of Knippa.
